Sir,

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING
THE GOVERNMENT OF THE FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Date.	Description.
7th November, 1913.	From the Imperial Institute.

(South Kensington, London, S. W.)

Regd. No. 50121

7th November, 1913.

Report on Water from the Falkland Islands.

On standing, the water deposited a small quantity of brownish sediment, but it was otherwise clear and of good colour, and devoid of odour and taste.

The unfiltered water, as received, was analysed with the following results:—

	Parts per 100,000 parts of water.
Total solids	14.3
Chlorine	4.8
Ammonia { free	0.0014
{ albuminoid	0.0156
Oxygen absorbed	0.1677
Nitrogen { as nitrite	nil
{ as nitrate	0.0143
Hardness, expressed as parts of calcium carbonate (CaCO_3):—
temporary	1.1
permanent	4.0

The foregoing results show that this water is soft and free from pollution. The amounts of albuminoid ammonia and absorbed oxygen are however rather high, and indicate the presence of organic matter which is probably derived from the peaty topsoil of the locality.

The results of the chemical analysis show that the water is suitable for drinking purposes.

(3) A copy of the regulations shall be laid before the Legislative Council without unnecessary delay.

12. Whosoever, being the owner or other person in charge or possession of any poison, leaves it in any place (whether the same is ordinarily accessible to others or not) unless the bottle or package of whatever kind in which the poison is contained is marked "Poison" and is otherwise duly labelled in the manner provided by section 8, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

REGULATIONS.

Importation and Exportation of Live Stock.

In pursuance of the powers in him vested by Section 38 of the "Live Stock Ordinance, 1901," His Excellency the Administrator, by and with the advice of the Executive Council, is pleased to make the following Regulation:

1. Any person intending to import any animal enumerated in Schedule A hereto shall give a month's notice in writing to the Chief Inspector of Stock stating the number, description, from whence imported, where purchased, and probable date of arrival in the Colony.

2. Ships carrying animals shall enter at Port Stanley for the purpose of examination, except in cases where the Master has previously obtained special permission from the Chief Inspector of Stock to enter at Fox Bay or New Island. This special permission will only be granted when a definite date of arrival is stated.

3. The proposed Port of Entry and the first port at which it is intended to land any animal should be stated in the form of Schedule B hereto. Seven days of grace will be allowed after which the permission so granted shall be cancelled and a fresh application made.

4. Every animal so imported into the Colony from a British or Colonial port shall be accompanied by a health certificate signed by a qualified veterinary surgeon of the district in which the animal was purchased, and if imported into the Colony from a foreign port shall be accompanied by a written declaration from the exporter made before a British Consular Officer to the effect that the animal is free on embarkation from any infectious or contagious disease and has not, within thirty days of shipment, been in direct or indirect contact with infected stock.

5. Any person who shall import any animal without due notice as provided in the first of these Regulations, or without a health certificate as provided in the fourth of these Regulations shall be liable, on conviction, to a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

6. Every animal imported enumerated in Schedule A hereto shall be examined by an Inspector and the Inspector shall have power:

(a) to prohibit the landing of any animal which, in his opinion, would be a source of danger to other animals in the Colony;

(b) to order any such animal to be destroyed, either on board ship or after being landed, but such order must in all cases be sanctioned by the Governor before being carried into effect;

(c) to order any animal to be conveyed or driven to and confined in any area set apart as a quarantine paddock, and such animal shall be retained in quarantine until a written order for its release has been given by him.

7. Any person who fails to take due precautions as to the landing of any animal enumerated in Schedule A hereto or permits any such animal to escape from quarantine shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 42 of the Live Stock Ordinance 1901.

8. All expenses incurred in the destruction or keeping in quarantine, by order of an Inspector, of any imported animal enumerated in Schedule A hereto shall be payable by its owner, and in no case will the Government compensate an owner for any such animal destroyed under these Regulations.

9. An Inspector shall inspect any stock-carrying vessel and shall have the power:

- (a) To order that all or any parts of the vessel be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected to his satisfaction;
- (b) To prohibit the landing of fittings, pens, hurdles, utensils or other articles which have been used for or about any animal;
- (c) To prohibit the landing of any other article which, in his opinion, may carry disease.

10. These Regulations supercede the Regulations for the "Importation of Live Stock into the Falkland Islands" published in the Gazette of 1st November 1911.

Church and School Building at Darwin Harbour.

His Excellency the Administrator directs the publication, for general information, of the following letter from the Honourable W. A. Harding.

By Command,

W. J. ROPER.

for Colonial Secretary.

14th February, 1914.

M. P. 275/1901.

Hon. W. A. Harding to Colonial Secretary.

SIR,—

I should be much obliged if you would publish in the Gazette the following statement with reference to the Church and School Building at Darwin Harbour, with a view to eliciting the views of any of the original subscribers as to the demolition of the old building and the proposed erection of a new one on the site.

The circumstances under which the existing Church and School at Darwin Harbour was originally put up are shortly as follows:—Some 40 years ago it was decided to invite a Presbyterian Minister from Scotland to take up religious work at Darwin Harbour, and the Falkland Islands Company at the same time arranged to have a School there: the Minister arrived in 1872 and the school master towards the end of the same year. For some time the services were held in the cook house, but when the School was finally decided upon it was arranged that if the Company guaranteed the Minister's stipend and provided a school master, a building more suitable than the cook house should be provided by subscription.

A fair amount was raised, and the building was sent out freight free by the Company who likewise advanced the cost of erection. The cost of material (without freight) and the expense of erection amounted together to £245. Subscriptions to the fund ceased after some years and as the total was only £165, there remained a debt of £80 which the Directors of the Company eventually wrote off.

In the course of time the place was found to be too large and a division was put up at the cost of the Company, later when the roof became leaky, the Company re-roofed the building and have always kept it painted. In fact after the subscriptions were exhausted, the maintenance and repair was undertaken by the Company who are therefore the largest contributors to the building.

It is now however past repair, and the Directors propose to replace it entirely at their own expense. The original site is by far the most convenient and from every point of view it is preferable that the new building should be erected on that site. It is probable that but very few of the original subscribers are now living but before demolishing this the Directors of the Company would be glad to receive an expression of the views of any surviving subscribers.

I may add that it is the Directors' wish that the new Building shall be used in precisely the same manner as the old one, that is to say that they would not assent to its exclusive use by any body or sect, but that it shall be set apart for the use of all religious denominations as a quiet place where any service may be held. The Directors do not desire that any moiety of collections made at any service held there shall be appropriated towards lighting or cleaning, which will be provided by the Company. The control of the Building will be in the hands of the Camp Manager to whom due notice should be given of a desire to hold a service there.

I have, etc.,

(Signed)

W. A. HARDING.

SAVINGS BANK, 1912-13

(MANAGER'S REPORT).

GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK,

STANLEY, 10th January, 1914.

SIR,

I have the honour to forward the following report on the Savings Bank for the year ended 30th September, 1913.

2. During the year 68 accounts were opened and 67 closed ; leaving a total of 495 depositors, amongst whom the balance in hand amounting to £70401 15s. 11d. is distributed. This gives an average of over £142 4s. 6d. standing to the credit of each account, or £30 10s. 11d. per head of the population of the Falklands, computing the population at 2,272.

3. Interest amounting to £1,725 10s. 7d. has been paid and credited to depositors during the year, being £138 7s. 10d. more than that credited in 1911-12. The amount of withdrawals for the year exceeded the deposits for the same period by £172 4s. 6d. The balance at the end of the Bank year shows a slight decrease as compared with the previous year, this being accounted for by the exceptionally heavy withdrawals made by depositors leaving the Colony.

4. The income earned by the Bank during the year has been £2,326 12s. 6d. and the expenses incurred £1,733 10s. 7d. leaving a profit of £593 1s. 11d. as shown in the profit and loss account for the year ended 30th September, 1913. (Enclosure C.)

5. The investments held on account of the Bank on the 30th September, 1913, amounted to £69,016 4s. 2d. leaving an uninvested balance at the end of the Bank Year of £1,385 11s. 9d.

I have, etc.,

M. CRAIGIE-HALKETT,

Manager Savings Bank.

The Colonial Secretary.

Report on the condition of the teeth in the Falkland Islands, 1913.

His Excellency the Administrator directs the publication, for general information, of the following précis of the Colonial Dental Surgeon's Report for the year ended 31st December, 1913.

By Command,

W. J. ROPER,

for Colonial Secretary.

20th March, 1914.

M.P. 74/14.

1. PREVALENCE OF CARIES.

(a) Caries is abundant both in the child and adult. Its progress is very rapid and it is seldom that one finds the pulp of the tooth reacting to the injury, viz:-Caries.

(b) Extensive decay is found in both the "Milk" and "Permanent" dentitions. In the former Caries shews itself very early, and in the latter decay progresses steadily from the time the first permanent molar erupts.

(c) All the teeth in the milk dentition are equally predisposed to the action of decay, but in the permanent dentition the teeth that are attacked first are the first permanent molars. With the exception of three cases examined out of 140 these particular teeth were all carious. The position of the Caries was in nearly all cases on the occlusal surfaces of the teeth. The incisor teeth came next in frequency, the Caries here being interstitial in nearly all cases.

2. STRUCTURE OF THE TEETH.

Ordinary macroscopical appearances show the teeth to be normal in shape. Eight cases of Rhacitic teeth were found. In consistency the teeth are undoubtedly soft, as is shewn when a cutting instrument is used; the enamel may be said to be "chalky."

The general formation of the teeth in the jaws en masse shews irregularity. There is crowding of the teeth in the Incisor regions both in the Maxilla and Mandible, the Arches shewing a distinct constriction in the pre-molar region.

3. PERIODONTAL DISEASE.

This condition is common, especially in adults. The nature of the disease is typical slow tissue necrosis ensuing with ultimate looseness of the teeth.

General symptoms were present on many occasions resulting from the absorption of the Toxins produced in the mouth.

4. CAUSES OF DECAY.

Caries is a chemico-parasitic action occurring in the mouth, bringing about liquefaction of the tooth substance and disintegration. In consequence, when the cause of this rapid and extensive decay is sought for, one must consider the growth of organisms in the mouth and what is likely to assist them in their liquefaction of the tooth substance.

For this purpose at least three important factors must be taken into account, viz:-

- (a) The cleansing of the mouth,
- (b) The types of food taken,
- (c) The feeding of the infant.

(a). THE CLEANSING OF THE TEETH.

This is all important. It is the collection of foodstuffs in the mouth that is responsible for more than half the decay. Tooth brushes are very little used in the Falklands and small effort is made to keep the mouth clean, with the inevitable result that the soft foodstuffs accumulate around the teeth and subject themselves to the action of enzymes resulting in the formation of acid, which acid liquefies the tooth substance (enamel) and allows the peptonizing action of micro-organisms to take place. A definite conclusion is therefore arrived at that lack of cleanliness is undoubtedly largely responsible for the excessive decay prevalent.

(b). THE TYPES OF FOOD TAKEN.

This is a question which has received much attention. Of all the foods taken those which abound in carbo hydrates of the mono saccharid group, most readily acted on in the mouth, their fermentation causing the formation of lactic acid and water. It is the formation of this acid that is the chief source of all the trouble.

It is therefore well to study the diet of the inhabitants to see if there is an excessive amount of readily fermentable carbo hydrates imbibed. The bread eaten is of a particularly soft nature and readily clings to the teeth. Another article eaten with too much frequency is the harmful sweetmeat which contains a very inferior type of sugar, or in other words a carbo hydrate, and a very readily fermentable one.

I think it may be safely said that an abnormally large amount of sweet-eating takes place here both by adults and children, especially the latter. The habit is a pernicious one and has a direct bearing on the existing condition. A tremendous amount of biscuit-eating also goes on amongst the children.

These factors have an important bearing on the decay of teeth.

(c). THE FEEDING OF THE INFANT.

This again is an all-important point to consider, as the feeding of the infant to a marked degree must determine the structure of the tooth. During the first three years of life the permanent teeth are in a state of development and if the infant is not obtaining the proper food in proper proportions the tooth follicle, in which is the developing tooth, does not derive the necessary nourishment; there is also a deficiency in lime salts, which last is manifested by a condition known as rhacitic teeth where the enamel is lacking.

The children here are fed in a variety of peculiar ways. They are nearly all artificially fed with the tube bottle, but this type of bottle is being ousted by the more rational variety the "boat" bottle.

The food taken is nearly always condensed milk or a mixture with cows milk, but it is quite a common occurrence to find a young child without teeth sucking a piece of mutton.

The irregular way in which the children are fed in early life has to a degree a bad influence on the ultimate constitution of the teeth.

From observations therefore I attribute the bad condition of the teeth to:—

- (1) Lack of cleanliness.
- (2) Abundant eating of sweet and "pappy" foods.
- (3) Mal-Development of teeth due to bad feeding in Infancy.

THE GOVERNMENT SCHOOL CLINIC, STANLEY.

A School Clinic has been started under my guidance. All the scholars were examined with probe and mirror and the parents were notified on printed slips of the exact treatment required. The children have received the stated treatment, where desired by the parents, every Saturday morning at the Dental Surgery.

Each child on being treated receives a card on which is placed the treatment and the date for the next appointment, so that the parent can see the progress made.

The examination shewed Caries to exist in every mouth with the exception of two cases.

The children also shewed no disposition to clean the teeth at all. Tonsils and Adenoids were constant in every case.

The school children will be examined every year and the progress of the treatment against Oral Sepsis noted.

A consignment of tooth brushes and powder has been obtained for the use of the children, which they are able to purchase from the Schoolmaster at a nominal cost.

An effort is being made to obtain lantern slides in order that popular lectures may be given to the parents and children by the dentist on the care of the teeth. As this Clinic is quite a new institution a better response to it is hoped for next year. At present progress is rather slow.

(Vide copy of Message attached.)

4. Motion.

The Hon. W. A. Harding, in addressing the Council, remarked that the Colony was to be congratulated on the very high revenue of 1913. He commented particularly on the large increase under the head of Customs and said that the result for 1913 seemed to prove that the decline in revenue from this source noted in previous years was not due to insufficient means of safeguarding the revenue as had been suggested. With regard to the Item "Crown Agents Expenses" contained in Clause 16 of the Message he asked whether the sum of £44/3/4 would not be better charged to the Town Hall, in view of the fact that the over-expenditure was occasioned by the amount of orders placed for building materials for this erection. The Hon. the Colonial Treasurer explained that certain transactions were made by the Crown Agents on behalf of the Colonial Government free of commission, but on chargeable items the commission was calculated on the total amount so expended and that it would add greatly to the work of accountancy if this commission was allocated to the various votes as suggested by the Honourable Member. The Hon. W. A. Harding expressed himself satisfied with the explanation given and moved that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded to His Excellency for his Message to the Council introducing the Supplementary Estimates for the past year.

Seconded by the Hon. G. J. Felton and agreed to.

5. Bills.

1. The Hon. the Colonial Treasurer moved, that a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to appropriate certain further sums of money for the use of the Public Service of the Colony for the year ended on the 31st day of December, 1913," be introduced and read a first time.

On the motion of the Hon. the Colonial Treasurer, seconded by the Hon. W. A. Harding, the Council resolved itself into Committee of the whole Council, with His Excellency the President in the Chair, to consider the Bill, clause by clause.

Council in Committee.

Clause 1. The Hon. W. A. Harding expressed himself of the opinion that cases of lunacy should be excluded from the operation of the Ordinance. The Hon. the Colonial Treasurer read to the Meeting Clause 4 of the Lunacy Ordinance, No. 2 of 1895, which provided for the payment by the Government of any expenses incurred in this direction. The Hon. W. A. Harding desired that legal opinion might be obtained as to whether the Clause under discussion would supersede Clause 4 of the Lunacy Ordinance, and thus have the effect of throwing the liability for the cost of the removal of a lunatic from the Colony upon the employer. He did not know whether it was the intention of the Government to transfer this responsibility, but was of opinion that expenses in cases of lunacy should be met from public funds. His Excellency the President stated that he was strongly of opinion that the cost should fall upon the employer who had brought the case to the Colony. The Hon. W. A. Harding remarked that lunacy was a matter against which no precaution could be taken. The Falkland Islands Company had imported many men into the Colony and had always had them medically examined, but it was impossible for a doctor to certify that any particular person would not become a lunatic and lunacy was therefore a matter which employers could not foresee. His opinion was that such cases should not be included in the operation of the Ordinance, or that the liability of the employer for expenses should be limited to, say, £20 or £25. The cost of sending a lunatic to England would not be less than £100, which sum, he considered, was too large to make anyone liable for in a case not to be guarded against by foresight. The Hon. G. J. Felton stated that, in view of the fact that employees were constantly changing masters, he considered a period of twelve months too long a time for which to make the original employer, or importer, liable. His Excellency the President expressed his willingness that the Committee should adjourn until such time as the legal opinion desired by the Hon. W. A. Harding could be obtained.

Committee adjourned accordingly. Council resumed.

(3). The Hon. the Colonial Treasurer moved, that a Bill entitled "An Ordinance Relating to Prospecting for and Mining Metals and Other Minerals," be introduced and read a first time.

Seconded by the Hon. W. A. Harding and agreed to.

Bill read a first time accordingly.

(4). The Hon. the Colonial Surgeon moved, that a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the Registration of Medical Practitioners, Midwives and Dentists," be introduced and read a first time.

Seconded by the Hon. W. A. Harding and agreed to.

Bill read a first time accordingly.

(5). The Hon. the Colonial Surgeon moved, that a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to Regulate the Sale and Use of Poisons," be introduced and read a first time.

Seconded by the Hon. W. A. Harding and agreed to.

Bill read a first time accordingly.

Council adjourned sine die at 3.40 p.m.

Read and confirmed this 30th day of March, 1914.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES, 1913.

(MESSAGE INTRODUCING.)

Read in Council, 23rd March, 1914.

MESSAGE FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR TO THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

HONOURABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL,—

I have the honour to lay before you herewith the Supplementary Estimates for the year 1913.

REVENUE.

2. The Ordinary Revenue for the year was £32,284 12s. 4d. which is the largest in the history of the Colony, being £8,635 12s. 4d. in excess of the original estimate, and £3,940 12s. 4d. in excess of the revised estimate. The receipts exceeded the estimate under every head.

The increase in the receipts from Customs is due principally to the growth of the population and to the increase in shipping owing to the whaling industry in the Colony and Dependencies. Of the amount of £13,050 4s. 5d. received under this head £5,989 2s. 4d. was received from the Falklands, £4,109 14s. 4d. from South Georgia and £2,951 7s. 9d. from the other Dependencies. The increased revenue under this head was £9,469 11s. 10d. in excess of the revenue derived in 1912.

EXPENDITURE.

3. The Ordinary Expenditure for 1913 amounted to £20,648 2s. 10d. or £11,636 9s. 6d. less than the Ordinary Revenue. The Extraordinary Expenditure was £4,591 17s. 10d. (Public Works Extraordinary £3,965 7s. 5d. and Stock Fund £626 10s. 5d.) as against an Extraordinary Revenue of £10,644 18s. 3d. including the amount loaned from Land Sales Fund. The Annual Account which has been laid on the table shews the estimated and actual Revenue and Expenditure under the various heads.

4. The Council has already approved of the items of over-expenditure referred to in the Governor's Minutes Nos. 1 and 2 of 1913 and my Minute No. 3 of 1913, and I have now to invite the Members to pass the 1913 Supplementary Appropriation Ordinance 1914 and thereby give their sanction to the several sums, amounting in the aggregate to £3,339 16s. 0d. payable for the year 1913.

5. Before submitting any explanation with regard to the items of over-expenditure I desire to draw the attention of the Council to the unprecedented prosperity of the Colony. At the same time it is well to bear in mind that this prosperity is derived from two sources only, the whaling and sheep-farming industries. The former industry is likely to last for only a limited number of years, and I have strong reason to believe that it is only the very high price of wool at the present time that accounts for the prosperity of the latter, and that on some at least of the sheep runs in the Colony the pasture is deteriorating.

6. Division II.—The Governor, £19 : 7 : 11.—Item 9, Books; this vote was exceeded owing to the purchase of necessary works for the Governor's library.

Item 7, Temporary Officers, £61 : 19 : 3; employed in the Colony and Dependencies. Item 8, Refund of Fees, £126 : 18 : 0; the total amount of £226 : 18 : 0 voted was recovered from Shipping. Item 17, Interest on Loans, £166 : 6 : 8; caused through loans required owing to deficit of revenue in 1912.

17. Division XIV.—Post Office £33 : 6 : 7.—Item 3, Deputy Postmaster, New Island £1 : 6 : 2, and Item 4, Clerk, £5 : 5 : 11; through change in holders of offices. Item 5, Lady Assistant £5; and Item 8, Stamps, etc., £5 : 11 : 1; were underestimated. Item 13, Telephones, £16 : 3 : 3; owing to additional subscribers to telephone service.

18. Division XV.—Colonial Engineer £14:16:3.—Item 21, Forage, £9:12:9; caused through increased price in horse fodder. Item 23, Lathe for shop, £4:10:0; a lathe was required. Item, Launch, 13s. 6d.; oil used during 1912.

19. Division XVI.—Savings Bank £76:5:0.—Item 1, Audit, £4; Auditor's fees for the years 1912 and 1913 were paid in 1913. Item 2, Interest, £72:5:0; owing to the closing of some large accounts.

20. Division XVIII.—Refunds £209:12:10.—This was occasioned by the adjustments of the payments for wireless telegrams, originally paid by postage stamps, and also a refund of a whaling license of £100.

21. Division XIX.—Public Works Recurrent, £661:4:10. Item 1, Roads, £138:13:4; this expenditure was caused by the very necessary construction of roads to the peat banks. Item 2, Repairs, £476:16:2; the excess was principally owing to the condition of the Police Cottages, which warranted immediate attention. A further large sum will be required to place several of the Government buildings in Stanley in a habitable condition and to replace those past repair, but it is not possible to consider any large measure of repairs or renewals of buildings at present as all available mechanics are required for the Town Hall. Item 5, Wireless Installation, £45:15:4; the upkeep of the station was underestimated and an apprentice has been engaged to enable the Station to be kept open for longer hours, and hence be in more constant touch with stations and vessels, especially those in the South Shetlands when atmospheric conditions render it possible to effect communication with the whaling factories there.

22. Division XX.—Public Works Extraordinary, £2662:6:3.—Item 4, Town Hall, £2,090:4:0; the excess under this vote has been caused through the original estimate of £6,500 being so much exceeded. The expenditure for the year has been £3,140:4:0, and the total expenditure to 31st December, 1913, £8,788:8:3. Item 7, Magistrates House, South Georgia, £391; being the amount expended to complete building, the total cost of which was £796:12:3. Item 8, Naval pump, etc., £20; pump etc., purchased from Admiralty. Item 9, Dentist's Surgery, £161:9:0; a surgery was required to enable the Colonial Dentist to carry out his duties in a satisfactory manner.

23. Division XXI.—Live Stock Ordinance £91:2:9.—Item 1, Chief Inspector of Stock £1:4:8; underestimated. Item 6, Repairs, £20:16:2; a new dipping tank at the Quarantine Station was required. Item 10, Geese beaks, £69:1:11; vouchers not received in Stanley until 1913.

Females	-	-	-	-	27	18	9	5
Total	-	-	-	-	50	38	22	12

Birth Rate per 1,000 for 1913: 23·10 as compared with 31·09 per 1,000 for 1912.

Death Rate per 1,000 for 1913: 7·30 as compared with 13·68 per 1,000 for 1912.

POPULATION.

The estimated population for the East Falklands for 1913 was 1643, an increase of 35 over 1912 when the population was 1608.

BIRTHS.

The Birth Rate for the year was 38, or 23·10 per 1,000, against 50 or 31·09 per 1,000, showing a decrease of 12 or 7·99 per 1000.

I understand that in the camp the birth rate is rapidly decreasing. This is due to the employment of single men only on the different stations, and the migration to Stanley of the married people for the purpose of educating their children.

DEATHS.

The Death Rate for the year was 12 or 7·30 per 1,000, a very satisfactory decrease over 1912, when the Death Rate was 22 or 13·68 per 1,000.

Of the twelve deaths recorded for 1913, two were accidental and two still births, which reduces the mortality from disease to 8, or 4·80 per 1,000.

The eight deaths are accounted for as follows:—

Three from Tuberculosis.

One from Chronic Suppuration Otitis Media in an infant.

Two deaths in elderly men from Carcinoma. In one case the liver and rectum were affected; in the other the caecum and colon were the seat of the disease.

One death from Septicaemia and Pelvic Cellulitis, and lastly one infantile death from General Debility.

NOSOLOGICAL RETURNS.

I have been struck during my sojourn in the Falklands with the readiness in which Falkland Islanders call upon medical help for even minor complaints.

It is a conclusive proof of the good financial status of the people. From the 7th February 1913, to the 31st December 1913, 1891 visits were paid, and 1931 prescriptions prescribed.

There was a very severe epidemic of Influenza in Stanley in the month of June. Intense frontal headache with backache and a high temperature characterised this epidemic. In the spring months there was also an epidemic of Acute Tonsillitis among the children.

There were no deaths from either of these epidemics.

Chronic Gastritis is very prevalent among the native born Falkland Islander, due in most cases to Oral Sepsis and the monotonous diet of mutton, bread and tea. I have been astonished when witnessing the different meals in the cook-house at the rapidity with which the men consume their food. This rapid eating alone will account for a considerable number of the cases of Gastritis.

Tonsils and Adenoids are very prevalent among the children, but not to the same extent as is found in children in the same station of life at home. The physique of the children is decidedly below the average, this however I think can be explained by the inbreeding which must take place in a small isolated community, and by the lack of outdoor games and sports indulged in by the Falkland Island children.

QUARANTINE AND SANITATION.

Fifty vessels were given free pratique during the year. The Colony was fortunate in not being visited during the year by any serious outbreak of quarantinable disease. There were a few isolated cases of Scarletina at North Arm during the Autumn months, which however were not followed by any general outbreak of this disease.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Nine meetings were held during the year, and several useful Bye-Laws were discussed by the Board and passed by the Governor-in-Council.

The sanitary condition of Stanley leaves at present much to be desired. The open drainage system which is at present in vogue is not only very unsatisfactory from want of efficiency, but is also very unhealthy. In my opinion the periodic epidemics of sore throat which attack the settlement are due to the present drainage system. I feel sure that if it were not for the strong winds which prevail practically all the year round some virulent epidemic would result.

THE VICTORIA COTTAGE HOME.

This small Institution, although by no means all that can be desired as a Hospital, has been exceedingly useful during the year.

Twenty-three patients were admitted and received treatment.

WATER SUPPLY.

Water supply is in Stanley an uncertain factor, both in quantity and quality. This question will continue to be unsatisfactory until the present unreliable and unhealthy system of storing, for domestic use, rain water collected from the roofs in tanks is abolished, and a pipe borne water system introduced. Samples taken from a spring situated about two miles to the west of Stanley were sent home during the year, for examination at the Imperial Institute. The satisfactory result of the analysis was published in the Gazette of 1st January, 1914.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

The Colonial Surgeon arrived in the Colony on the 6th February, 1913, and immediately took over the duties of his office.

On the 16th April the Assistant Colonial Surgeon left Stanley and the nursing staff resigned and left by the same mail.

From the mail of the 16th April until the arrival of Miss M. E. Brookfield as District Nurse on 20th August, I was without nursing or medical help.

Miss L. Blaber arrived by the mail of 10th September and took up her duties as Nurse-Matron, Victoria Cottage Home.

I wish to draw attention here to "The School Dental Clinic" and to the inestimable benefit it will be to the community, not only now, but in the future. In taking care of the teeth of the child we aid and assist nature in building up a sturdy stock. Every child's mouth should be examined and treated at the beginning of school life and subsequently at least once a year or oftener. At present there are 36 children undergoing treatment, and 142 children have been examined.

Colonial Surgeon.

In the Report for 1912 it was calculated that the Decennial Increase Rate of the population for the previous intercensal period was 6·41 per cent. This was arrived at by deducting from the Census returns the number of the "tidal population," i.e. those persons not domiciled in the Colony who arrive and depart with the whaling season, and whose numbers were included in the Census. Utilising this co-efficient, it is calculated that the population of West Falkland is 668.

BIRTHS.

During the year, there were 8 births as compared with 9 for 1912 and 10 for 1911, the Relative Birth Rates being 11·97 (1913), 13·55 (1912), and 15·05, (1911). These figures shew a progressive decrease of a Birth Rate which is always disproportionately low on account of the large proportion of unmarried males employed on the various stations. I attribute it to the fact that there certainly is a growing tendency for stations to employ single men rather than married ones. Four houses at least which were occupied within the last two years by families of the child-bearing age are now occupied by single men. One firm with about 26,000 sheep now employs no married men at all. This is against the best social and industrial interests of the Colony, which is so situated that no working man can become his own master, except in the rarest instances, unless he emigrates.

DEATHS.

During the year there were 7 deaths as compared with 5 for 1912, and 1 in 1911 giving Death Rates of 10·48 (1913), 7·5 (1912), and 1·5 (1911) respectively. This increase in the Death Rate is explained by two deaths by accident in connection with the whaling industry, two deaths of old people in the ninth decennium, and three infantile deaths at or shortly after childbirth.

Of the infantile deaths, two occurred in camp houses whilst the mothers were confined alone and without help or attention. The third was a case of induction of labour for puerperal eclampsia, with interlocking of twins and instrumental delivery, one of the twins dying within two days of birth.

By contributing two deaths, the whaling industry is responsible for a death rate of 2·99 per 1,000.

The Infantile Death Rate is equivalent to 4·64 per 1,000 of the population.

Since the last report was issued a number of persons from the West Falkland have emigrated to Australia and other Colonies, the majority of whom were native born Falkland Islanders. Signs are not wanting that such emigration is likely to increase.

The question of inter-marriage has a direct bearing on the Vital Statistics, and a further reference is made to the subject in Section 2.

II. REMARKS UPON THE NOSOLOGICAL RETURNS.

Hitherto the outstanding features of the Nosological Returns have been:—

- i. Entire absence of all forms of Tuberculosis.
- ii. Entire absence of Malignant Disease.
- iii. Entire absence of Rheumatic Fever and its sequelae.
- iv. Freedom from Infectious Disease.
- v. Prevalence of Disorders of the Digestive Apparatus.

Although the same satisfactory conditions still obtain, as regards Tuberculosis, etc., two cases of Malignant Disease have been chronicled during the year. The Alimentary Tract site was concerned in each instance, and both growths were Epithelial in origin. In the first case the growth originated in the gum around a diseased tooth; whilst in the second the growth involved the Caecum, and the ascending and transverse Colon. One patient was a native of the Falklands and the other came from England (Surrey), the former being in the fifth decade and the latter in the ninth. No conclusions with respect to the relative liability or immunity of native Falkland Islanders and those of British Falkland Islander I have seen affected with the Disease as against three (2 English and 1 Norwegian) Europeans.

Concerning Disorders of The Digestive System, of which the mouth constitutes a part, there is a marked decrease. Only five cases of Chronic Dyspepsia have been under treatment during the year.

There have only been two cases of Asthma under treatment, but the condition still continues to be fairly prevalent. Most of the sufferers have become so accustomed to the disease that they rarely seek advice, but use one or other of the patent asthma cures made from powdered Stramonium and Lobelia with a little saltpetre in varying proportions. Quite a number of young children suffer from asthma, and it is important that their parents should bring them early for treatment. Its prevalence is a very disquieting sign, for Asthma is a Neurosis, and the Colony has only a small community. The relation between Asthma, Epilepsy and Diabetes is well known, and these three conditions occur more frequently in the children of neurotic parents than in the children of the neurologically robust. In all small communities marriages between persons of varying degrees of cousinship are unavoidable and inbreeding takes place progressively. Given time, the persons of such a community are bound to undergo both physical and mental degeneration. The Colony is only a comparatively young one, the native-born fathers and mothers representing perhaps not more than the third or fourth generation of colonists, if that. There are innumerable examples of marriages between first cousins, and in one of the instances known to me both the contracting parties come of neurotic stock and are themselves highly neurotic. All the possibilities of the mentally degenerate lie before the descendants of such persons. I am of opinion that sooner or later the question of intermarriage will have to receive serious consideration and that first cousins should be placed within the proscribed degrees of consanguinity.

III. GENERAL SANITARY CONDITION OF THE DISTRICT.

The sanitary organization of the district leaves much to be desired. The Medical Officer of Health is and always must be the expert in Sanitary matters, and, as such, act as adviser to the Board of Health. Publicity and Public Opinion are the two great factors which determine disinterested action on the part of the members of public bodies. When there is no publicity, and therefore no chance for the public to form its own opinion on matters in which its welfare is concerned, there is no deterrent to persons entrusted with the discharge of public duties from acting in a self interested manner; particularly when such a body is limited to two or three members, and is non-elective. That personal considerations should be allowed to interfere with the discharge of duty is intolerable.

DWELLINGS.

As in previous years, most inhabited houses are in good order, and are maintained in repair. Certain dwellings, however, are dilapidated, so much so that in winter time they are not fit for occupation. Cookhouses remain in the same unsatisfactory condition on the whole, and no improvement may be looked for until such time as it may be necessary to rebuild the faulty ones. During the past year even more persons than usual have complained of catching cold. It is pointed out that with adequate ventilation in living and bedrooms there is far less susceptibility to this annoying malady, to which nothing predisposes so much as the overheated and vitiated air of a badly ventilated room. It is possible to effect efficient ventilation without the production of a draught.

WATER.

In a country where domestic water has to be procured from an adjacent well, spring or stream, or collected from roofs and stored, it is always necessary to keep close observation on the source of supply. Whether in consequence of the water analyses made last year and the reports and recommendations furnished thereon or not, no cases of illness attributable to water supply have come under notice during the year. Some of the galvanized tanks used for storing rain water have lost, to a greater or less extent, their protecting coating of zinc because the contained water has been acid in reaction. Water obtained from such a tank deposits a reddish sediment of iron oxide, and destructively attacks the interior of kettles etc., in which it is boiled. Once the protective coating of zinc has been eaten through, helped no doubt by electrical currents generated by the acid water and the two dissimilar metals, the iron is attacked with comparative rapidity. Iron dissolved in water may be beneficial, but zinc, especially in any quantity, is harmful. I have found as much as '04 grs. per gallon of zinc in water from a galvanized tank. It is easy to protect the outside of a tank by painting, but paint must not be used on the inside. For all tanks, old or new, no matter of what material, I recommend that they be painted over on the inside with cement. Pure cement is mixed with water until it is of the same consistency as paint, and then applied with a new paint-brush over the interior of the tank. When it is dry, a second coat should be put on and allowed to dry for a day or two. It may then be well rinsed out with two or three changes of water, when it is ready for use. Tanks treated in this way will last longer than when the bare metal is left in contact with the water. The cement may be renewed from time to time if necessary. There is much less risk of tank water becoming contaminated by sediment if the service tap be fitted internally with a pipe running half way across the tank, the end of which is turned up at right angles, for six or eight inches. All tanks should be cleaned regularly and frequently. The analyses made last year show that tank water is more frequently contaminated than well or spring water. Water for drinking purposes should never be collected from roofs much frequented by sea-birds, or near try-works. In such situations contamination is almost certain to occur.

FOOD.

Food is plentiful and of good quality, and its lack of variety is probably not noticed by the public. It has the great advantage of (for the most part) not passing through the hands of the "food-faker." It is a pity that means are not adopted for preserving some of the very excellent fish which abound round the coast, not only for personal consumption, but also as a commercial commodity.

With a scattered population occupying isolated dwellings, sanitary arrangements depend upon individual commonsense rather than upon prescribed method. Any transgression of the elementary laws of sanitation leads to an offence which constitutes its own punishment, and it is rare. High winds and wild birds, perhaps the two best scavengers in the world, are most valuable allies. With certain exceptions the sanitary condition of the district may be regarded as good.

MARINE SANITATION.

No reports upon the sanitary condition of the district would be complete without some remarks upon marine sanitation. Attention was drawn in the report for 1912 to the increasing tonnage entering at New Island, and to the risk of infectious diseases gaining entrance there. The whaling factories carry large crews, and upon arrival there are nearly always a large number of men upon the sick list. Many of these ships call at Monte Video which is only three to five days distant, and it is worth bearing in mind that the incubation period of various diseases varies from twenty-four hours to three weeks.

It would be possible for a man to contract Enteric Fever at Monte Video, and to sow the organisms broadcast at New and Weddell Islands. With our hap-hazard system of water supply, (safe enough, doubtless, for the ordinary requirements of the district) one case of Enteric might be the means of overwhelming the whole colony with such an epidemic as would be beyond our medical resources.

VACCINATION.

During 1913, eight vaccinations have been performed. The remarks made in the report for 1912 as to the degree of immunity prevailing among the population of West Falkland still hold good. Re-vaccination is never sought by adults. All persons coming to the West Falkland from Great Britain, have, as far as can be ascertained, been vaccinated, and at least two of them re-vaccinated. The occurrence of small-pox from time to time on board mail steamers coming to the Falklands shews how near the brink of an infectious volcano we stand. There is a distinct doubt as to the extent to which the adult population is protected by vaccination, and they are the ones who would be first brought in contact with infection should it occur.

Assistant Colonial Surgeon.

(South Kensington, London, S. W.)

Report on Penguin Guano from the Falkland Islands.

The five samples of penguin guano from the Falkland Islands which are the subject of this report were forwarded to the Crown Agents for the Colonies by the Colonial Secretary at Stanley with letter No. 379/380/13 dated the 30th August, 1913, and were transferred to the Imperial Institute for examination.

It was stated that the samples had been obtained from Cochon and Kidney Islands, and it was desired to ascertain their commercial value and the best method of preparing the guano for export.

DESCRIPTION OF SAMPLES.

The Samples were as follows:—

Nos. 1, 2 and 3 from Cochon Island. Weight about 2 lb each.

These three samples consisted of black, wet, slimy masses, containing much organic matter together with some fibrous material. A few small bones of birds and a small quantity of sand were also present.

Nos. 4 and 5 from Kidney Island. Weight about 1½ lb each.

These two samples were similar to those from Cochon Island, but No. 4 contained, in addition to the constituents mentioned above, about 7 per cent. of fine gravel.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION.

The samples were submitted to preliminary examination at the Imperial Institute with the following results:—

	From Cochon Island.			From Kidney Island.
	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.	No. 4.	No. 5.

Ash ...	11·31	9·14	12·23	14·58	7·80

Chemical analysis of the samples as received at the Imperial Institute showed them to contain the following proportions of manurial and other constituents:—

Commercial Value.

The commercial value of these samples in the United Kingdom, based on the average current values per unit, per cent, for the constituents, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, would be approximately as follows (March 1914):—

Sample.	Value per ton c.i.f. United Kingdom Ports.

„ 2.	-	-	-	24s.

„ 4.	-	-	-	21s.
„ 5.	-	-	-	20s.

Remarks.

It is evident that at the prices, quoted above, it would not be remunerative to export guanos of the composition of the present samples to any considerable distance. The results of the analyses show however, that the samples contained an excessive quantity of water, varying from 64 to 80 per cent. and if this could be reduced to say 20 per cent, these materials from Cochon and Kidney Islands would be comparable with certain commercial guanos.

The following table shows the results of re-calculating the amounts of the valuable constituents of these guanos, assuming the amount of moisture present to have been reduced to 20 per cent. Analyses recorded by Fritsch for another sample from the Falkland Islands and for three samples of Peruvian Guano are added for comparison.

Guanape Island	-	-	25.88	11.00	2.50	12.25
Ballestas Island	-	-	14.87	12.50	2.50	12.23

It will be seen from these figures that as compared with good Peruvian guano the present samples from the Falkland Islands contained much less nitrogen and potash, and the phosphoric acid is also much lower in the case of samples 3 and 4. Samples 1, 2 and 5 are better as regards nitrogen and phosphoric acid than the guano from the Falkland Islands previously examined (No 6 in table).

It is possible that the present samples are from the top layers of the deposits and may have been exposed to rain; in that case the guano situated at a short distance below the surface will probably prove to be richer in manurial constituents than these samples.

The Peruvian guanos of commerce, being obtained from a very dry region, are not specially dried before export, but if it is desired to prepare material similar to the present samples from the Falkland Islands for export the percentage of water should be reduced, in order to minimise freight charges and to render the guano easier to handle. On exposure to the air for six days it was found that sample No. 5. lost 70 per cent of moisture, thus showing that under suitable conditions simple air-drying would suffice for the purpose.

The "Spanish Swindle."

With reference to Gazette Notice No. 78 of 8th May, 1908, His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that a despatch has been received from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies intimating that the perpetrators of the fraud commonly known as the "Spanish Swindle" are still endeavouring to victimise residents in British Colonies.

This fraud, which is practised upon the unwary by a gang of ingenious swindlers established in Madrid and other Spanish towns, is almost invariably carried out on the lines previously published, which are as follows:—

"A Spanish prisoner who is dying in a military prison desires to provide for his only daughter. He possesses a large fortune secreted somewhere, and offers to transfer it to his correspondent if the latter will maintain and educate the child. Certain obligations, however, must first be discharged, and for this purpose about £100 is to be forwarded in bank-notes to a given address where the prison chaplain will receive the sum and escort the girl to England. The fortune will then be handed over. The story is usually supported by forged documents and newspaper cuttings."

Auditor's Report on the Transactions of the Commissioners of Currency for the Year 1913.

STANLEY,

March 30th, 1914.

SIR

I have the honour to report that I have this day examined the books of the Commissioners of Currency for the year ending December 31st, 1913, and find as follows:—

2. At the end of 1912 there were in circulation notes of the following numbers and denominations, viz:—

£5	£1	5/-	Value
603	4372	452	£7,500

During 1913 the following Notes were withdrawn from circulation, cancelled and destroyed by fire in my presence, viz:—

£5	£1	5/-	Value
35	351	60	£541

To replace these, Notes of similar denominations were issued, the numbers of the various denominations remaining in circulation being thus maintained.

3. The total face value of notes received by the Commissioners is £21,750, and and is accounted for as follows:—

In Circulation	...	£7,500 : 0 : 0
Destroyed	...	11,296 : 5 : 0
Unissued	...	2,953 : 15 : 0
		<hr/> £21,750 : 0 : 0 <hr/>

4. Notes of the "A" issue are being withdrawn from circulation as fast as possible, but there are still a considerable number for which the Commissioners are liable, viz:—

£5	£1	5/-	Value
84	150	45	£581 : 5 : 0

but it is probable that not all of these will be presented for payment.

5. The Profit and Loss account for the year 1913 shews a net profit of £122 : 6 : 4; as compared with £85 : 19 : 3 in 1912. This amount has been carried to the credit of the general revenue of the Colony. The expenses for management and audit amounted to £9 : 7 : 8.

6. No investments were made on behalf of the Commissioners during the year under review.

7. The Depreciation Fund remains at £388 : 6 : 10, and is in excess of the 10 % of the investment portion of the Note Guarantee Fund provided for by Order in Council dated March 7th, 1899.

8. The sum of £3,750 in gold is deposited in the Government Vault, and an equal amount is invested in various stocks, these together covering the face value of Notes in circulation.

9. The total amount invested by the Commissioners, consisting of the above-mentioned £3,750 and the Depreciation Fund Balance, £388 : 6 : 10, amounts to £4,138 : 6 : 10. But the value of the Stocks so held, like that of all other Trustee Stock, has of recent years fallen so much that at the end of 1913 the market value of the Securities held by the Commissioners was estimated to be not more than £3,650, or £100 less than the £3,750 for which they are responsible. It appears, therefore, desirable that the Commissioners should deal with this question with a view to bringing up their investments to at least the £3,750 required by the Order in Council.

10. I have this day examined a statement of Assets and Liabilities, and finding the same correct have signed my name to it. This statement will, I understand, be forwarded to you by the Colonial Treasurer.

Socket for flag on extreme top;

Appears to have been painted red with eight perpendicular black ribs tapering to the top;

Order of His Majesty the King in Council.

His Excellency the Governor, under instructions from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, directs the publication of the following Order in Council.

By Command,

W. J. ROPER,

for Colonial Secretary.

6th August, 1914.

Order of His Majesty in Council for the Granting of “Days of Grace.”

His Majesty being mindful, now that a state of war exists between this Country and Germany, of the recognition accorded to the practice of granting “days of grace” to enemy merchant ships by the Convention relative to the Status of Enemy Merchant Ships at the outbreak of hostilities, signed at the Hague, on the 18th October, 1907, and being desirous of lessening, so far as may be practicable, the injury caused by war to peaceful and unsuspecting commerce, is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. From and after the publication of this Order, no enemy merchant ship shall be allowed to depart, except in accordance with the provisions of this Order, from any British port or from any ports in any Native State in India, or in any of His Majesty's Protectorates, or in any State under His Majesty's protection or in Cyprus.

2. In the event of information reaching one of our Principal Secretaries of State not later than midnight on Friday the seventh day of August that the treatment accorded to British merchant ships and their cargoes which at the date of the outbreak of hostilities were in the ports of the enemy or which subsequently entered them is, in his opinion, not less favourable than the treatment accorded to enemy merchant ships by Articles 3 to 7 of this Order, he shall notify the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty accordingly, and the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury shall forthwith give public notice thereof in the “Gazette,” and Articles 3 to 8 of this Order shall thereupon come into full force and effect.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Order, enemy merchant ships which

- (i) at the date of the outbreak of hostilities were in any port in which this Order applies; or
- (ii) cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and, after the outbreak of hostilities, enter a port to which this Order applies, with no knowledge of the war:

shall be allowed up till midnight (Greenwich mean time), on Friday the 14th of August for loading or unloading their cargoes, and for departing from such port:

Provided that such vessels shall not be allowed to ship any contraband of war, and any contraband of war already shipped on such vessels must be discharged.

4. Enemy merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and which with no knowledge of the war arrive at a port to which this Order applies after the expiry of the time allowed by Article 3 for loading or unloading cargo and for departing, and are permitted to enter, may be required to depart either immediately, or within such time as may be considered necessary by the Customs Officer of the port for the unloading of such cargo as they may be required or specially permitted to discharge.

Provided that such vessels may, as a condition of being allowed to discharge cargo, be required to proceed to any other specified British port, and shall there be allowed such time for discharge as the Customs Officer of that port may consider to be necessary.

Provided also that, if any cargo on board such vessel is contraband of war or is requisitioned under Article 5 of this Order, she may be required before departure to discharge such cargo within such time as the Customs Officer of the port may consider to be necessary; or she may be required to proceed, if necessary under escort to any other of the ports specified in Article 1 of this Order, and shall there discharge the contraband under the like conditions.

5. His Majesty reserves the right recognised by the said Convention to requisition at any time on payment of compensation enemy cargo on board any vessel to which Articles 3 and 4 of this Order apply.

6. The privileges accorded by Articles 3 and 4 are not to extend to cable ships or to sea-going ships designed to carry oil fuel, or to ships whose tonnage exceeds 5,000 tons gross, or whose speed is 14 knots or over, regarding which the entries in Lloyd's Register shall be conclusive for the purposes of this Article. Such vessels will remain liable on adjudication by the Prize Court to detention during the period of war, or to requisition, in accordance, in either case, with the Convention aforesaid. The said privileges will also not extend to merchant ships which show by their build that they are intended for conversion into warships, as such vessels are outside the scope of the said Convention, and are liable to adjudication by the Prize Court to condemnation as prize.

7. Enemy merchant ships allowed to depart under Articles 3 and 4 will be provided with a pass indicating the port to which they are to proceed, and the route they are to follow.

8. A merchant ship which, after receipt of such a pass, does not follow the course indicated therein will be liable to capture.

9. If no information reaches one of our Principal Secretaries of State by the day and hour aforementioned to the effect that the treatment accorded to British merchant ships and their cargoes which were in the ports of the enemy at the date of the outbreak of hostilities, or which subsequently entered them, is, in his opinion, not less favourable than that accorded to enemy merchant ships by Articles 3 to 8 of this Order, every enemy merchant ship which, on the outbreak of hostilities, was in any port to which this Order applies, and also every enemy merchant ship which cleared from its last port before the declaration of war, but which, with no knowledge of the war, enters a port to which this Order applies, shall, together with the cargo on board thereof, be liable to capture, and shall be brought before the Prize Court forthwith for adjudication.

10. In the event of information reaching one of our Principal Secretaries of State that British Merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, but are met with by the enemy at sea after the outbreak of hostilities, are allowed to continue their voyage without interference with either the ship or the cargo, or after capture are released with or without proceedings for adjudication in the Prize Court or are to be detained during the war or requisitioned in lieu of condemnation as prize he shall notify the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty accordingly, and shall publish a notification thereof in the "Gazette" and in that event, but not otherwise, enemy merchant ships which cleared from their last port before the declaration of war, and are captured after the outbreak of hostilities and brought before our Prize Courts for adjudication, shall be released or detained or requisitioned in such cases and upon such terms as may be directed in the said notification in the "Gazette."

11. Neutral cargo, other than contraband of war, on board an enemy merchant ship which is not allowed to depart from a port to which this Order applies, shall be released.

12. In accordance with the provisions of Chapter III of the Convention relative to certain Restrictions on the Exercise of the right of Capture in Maritime War, signed at the Hague on the 18th October, 1907, an undertaking must, whether the merchant ship is allowed to depart or not, be given in writing by each of the Officers and members of the crew of such vessel, who is of enemy nationality, that he will not, after the conclusion of the voyage for which the pass is issued, engage while hostilities last in any service connected with the operation of the war. If any such officer is of neutral nationality, an undertaking must be given in writing that he will not serve, after the conclusion of the voyage for which the pass is issued, on any enemy ship while hostilities last. No undertaking is to be required from members of the crew who are of neutral nationality.

Officers or members of the crew declining to give the undertakings required by this Article will be detained as prisoners of war.

And the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and each of our Principal Secretaries of State, and all Governors, Officers, and authorities whom it may concern are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Prince of Wales National Relief Fund.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following particulars in connection with the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund:

(i) On the 7th September a wireless telegram was received from the Secretary of State as follows;

"4th September. I have received enquiries from certain Colonial Governments as to the scope and object of the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund. This Fund will be applied to the relief of persons in the British Isles who are dependents of men at the front and those men who suffer from unemployment caused by interruption and dislocation of trade and industry or are otherwise plunged into poverty and distress in consequence of the war."

(ii) The following Public Circular was issued on the 9th September:

"His Excellency the Governor has received a telegram from the Secretary of State intimating that the Prince of Wales has inaugurated a National Relief Fund for the purpose of helping the relatives and dependents of men now at the front and also those who are thrown out of employment as a consequence of the war.

The Governor and Members of the Executive and Legislative Councils feel that an opportunity is hereby afforded to all Colonists and Residents in the Falkland Islands to show their patriotism and sympathy by helping this Fund. They cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that the whole of the British Empire is passing through a crisis of unparalleled gravity in which our national existence is threatened, and that this is an occasion when all loyal Britishers, and those who are living under the British Flag, should come forward and help.

The Governor and the Members of the Legislative Council feel so strongly that the present crisis calls for contributions on a liberal scale that they have unanimously voted to this object from Public Funds the sum of £2,250, representing an amount equal to £1 a head of the estimated population of the Islands.

Briefly the occasion is one which demands a personal sacrifice, and the measure of that sacrifice should be in proportion to the gravity of the situation and not limited to just whatever one can conveniently afford.

(iii) Wireless telegrams were then despatched and received as under:

Governor to Secretary of State:

"9th September. With reference to your telegraphic despatch, Prince of Wales National Relief Fund, vote of £2,250 unanimously carried by Legislative Council equivalent to £1 per head of the population of the Falkland Islands; in addition £750 has been collected privately, giving a total of £3,000, which should be paid to the Fund by Crown Agents chargeable to Falkland Islands. Further instalment will follow shortly."

Secretary of State to Governor:

"10th September. With reference to your telegram of the 9th September, His Majesty's Government appreciate highly very generous and patriotic gifts offered to Prince of Wales Fund both by Legislative Council on behalf of the Colony and by private contributors."

(List of subscriptions received will be published in detail at a later date).

Stock Inspector's Report.

STOCK DEPARTMENT,

STANLEY,

August 29th, 1914.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit herewith the Report of this Department for the Season 1913-14.

Previous Reports have been drawn up to the end of December in each year but for many reasons this system was unsatisfactory, for parts of two separate seasons were thereby included, instead of one entire season.

Sheep.

2. The general health of the flocks is extremely satisfactory. To some extent this is due to the enforcement of stringent Importation Regulations. Lice are at present our worst enemy among sheep, but I have great hopes of seeing the Colony free from this pest within the next few years. Many of the farmers apparently did not realise the extent to which their stock and wool were damaged by this parasite, dipping and gathering being carried on in a more or less careless manner, and it is suspected that in some cases attempts were made to conceal infection. The result is that it has become necessary to enforce Section 16 of the Stock Ordinance, which gives the owner of infected sheep twelve months to clean his flock under a penalty of a fine. Once again I should like to remind stock owners that they will find a poisonous powder dip far more effectual and reliable than the non-poisonous preparations and also that two dippings at least are absolutely necessary if good and lasting results are to be expected. On some stations this important work has been carried on in a desultory manner, sheep being hurried through the trough, many without total immersion, apparently the one object in view being speed. Thoroughness being quite a secondary consideration.

It appears that some of the stock owners do not realize that the majority of the dips at present on the market are sold specifying to kill parasites within a stated time of immersion and when the dip is at a certain strength. Few professing to be effectual with a thirty seconds swim which leaves parts of the sheep quite untouched by the fluid, yet it is a fact that quite a number of the sheep are hurried through the trough in a few seconds, whilst the strength of the preparation is the same as, or more often less than, is recommended for a thorough dipping with an immersion of three times as long as that actually given. The result is obvious.

Specific Ophthalmia.

3. A disease known as Specific Ophthalmia, one of the chief symptoms of which was temporary blindness, showed itself on the East Falklands during the late summer and autumn, but with no serious results, the mortality being practically nil, and the disease disappearing with the advent of the wet weather. Specific Ophthalmia is not contagious, and is always liable to be seen after a spell of dry weather, but the results are not in any way serious.

Lambing.

4. The lambing percentage was slightly lower than that of last year, being 67·34% as compare with 68·82% for the year 1912.

The lambs on the whole improve yearly and on some farms are of a very good type. In some stud flocks there are ram lambs which would compare very favourably with many young rams I have seen imported into the Colony.

Statistics.

5. It is gratifying to note that the death rate has been reduced from 12% in 1912 to 11% this season. Many stations have reduced their death rate considerably by judicious ditching, culling and stocking. On the East Falklands there was some mortality among the ewes at lambing and shearing times. The clip during the season was somewhat lighter than in the previous year, probably to some extent due to the exceptionally dry spring and summer. The price of all exports from the farm remained high, wool making as much as 1/2 per pound. As predicted in my last report the price of sheep has risen considerably and there is every prospect of a further good demand for sheep of good weight and quality during the coming season.

The Annual returns for 1914 show the number of sheep in the Colony to be 698,072 or 4,789 less than in the previous year. The number is now less than it has been for the last five years. This reduction may be accounted for by the large number of sheep exported.

Cattle.

6. A number of cattle were subjected to the tuberculin test, but in no single case was there a reaction. Examination of the mammary glands or udders of a large number of milk cows revealed less than 2% of suspected cases of tuberculosis, whilst no cases of this disease were seen after death in animals slaughtered either for food or other purposes. Tuberculosis in the sheep may be said to be practically non-existent. The conclusions which may be drawn from the above remarks are highly satisfactory to the Colony. About 1,000 head of cattle were canned during the season at the Goose Green Works. This is the first time that cattle have been utilised for this purpose in the Colony, and every encouragement should be given to the industry.

Horses.

7. The total number in the Colony is 3,528, a slight increase on previous returns. The general health of the horses has been extremely good during the season. The percentage of foals is considerably above that of last year, being 61.89% compared with 48.52%.

Cultivation.

8. Much progress has been made in this respect during the last few years, the weather last season being especially favourable for good crops. Hay crops were particularly heavy and well saved, and sufficient hay is now probably grown in the Colony to supply its own needs. Lucerne or alfalfa was tried on a small scale as an experiment, but beyond establishing itself fairly well in the ground, did not give good results. Good crops of oat hay were raised on the East and West Falklands, some attaining a height of four feet. Green oat hay is a highly nutritious food for either horses or cattle, but should be given chopped. New hay is known to be unsuitable for feeding purposes, being liable to set up severe abdominal and skin troubles. Farmers would therefore be well advised not to cut their stack for at least six months if they can possibly avoid doing so.

Imports.

9. The number of live stock imported was slightly in excess of that of the previous season. The rams on the whole were of a much better quality and type than many of the shipments of foregoing seasons. I am informed by the P. S. N. Co's Agent, that arrangements have been made for a cargo boat to leave England in October in each year. This being after the Ashford sales will be a great convenience to importers of Stock. The inconvenience and expense of transshipping at Monte Video will be avoided and the risk of introducing disease into the Colony considerably reduced. During the season the Department received notices of intending importations of nearly 500 horses, which were to arrive at various Ports of Entry. Out of this number only 116 duly arrived, the majority of these reaching the Colony months after the date specified on the notices received. Since it was very inconvenient and almost impossible to arrange to meet these shipments for the purpose of examination, it was found necessary to enforce new Importation Regulations whereby all live stock must come through Port Stanley, except when special permission to do otherwise is granted. Since the introduction of the above Regulations, it has been deemed advisable, owing to the risk of introducing contagious disease into the Colony, to issue a Proclamation prohibiting the importation of all live stock from South America. Probably there are some stock owners who may think this order unnecessarily severe, but I can assure them that what has been done is entirely in their own interest, for should the disease, from which the Government is doing its utmost to keep the Colony free, once get established here, many farms would be badly crippled in consequence, if not absolutely ruined.

Quarantine [Station.

10. All imported sheep are dipped and quarantined for thirty days as usual. A new dip was found to be necessary and has been erected, and at an early date it is hoped to put the station in thorough repair, and in a more hygienic condition.

Exports.

11. Over 38,000 live sheep were exported to South America during the season. This is the largest number yet exported from the Falklands but in all probability will be exceeded next year, for it is possible that in the near future negotiations will be entered into, with certain Companies in South America, for exporting sheep of a suitable weight in a frozen condition.

All the stock exported was free from disease and of good quality. Some discontent arose among the farmers about the prices offered; it appears that in some cases as much as 12/- per head was offered for 60 lb. wethers, while other farmers were offered three or four shillings less per head for sheep of the same weight. In a Colony of this size it seems a pity that a standard price cannot be arranged for sheep of a uniform weight. Until something in this way is done I feel sure there will always be a certain amount of discontent which will not be beneficial to either buyer or seller. The general opinion amongst farmers is that next year a sheep of 60 lbs. will not be sold for less than 10/-

Geese.

12. Certain farmers on the West Falklands petitioned the Government asking that the payment for geese beaks be continued. The request was considered by the Governor-in-Council, the communication in reply being in the negative. Some of the farmers on the West Island now pay 10/- per 100 for beaks obtained on their own stations. The purchase of turkey, carrancho and rook beaks is still continued.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. W. TOWNSON, M.R.C.V.S., Lond.

Post Office Report, 1912 and 1913.

POST OFFICE, STANLEY,
August 25th 1914.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the following report on the Post Office Department for the year 1913, and the preceding year.

I have &c.,
M. CRAIGIE-HALKETT.

The Honble,
The Colonial Secretary.
&c., &c., &c.,
M.P. 266/1914.

Post Office Receipts.

The receipts for the year 1913, amounted to £2691/17/3, or a decrease of £676/18/10 as compared with the receipts in the preceding year. The decrease of receipts in the year, 1913, is accounted for by the unusually large sales of postage stamps in 1912, consequent on a new issue of postage stamps being put on sale. The amount received for Stamp Sales in 1912 was £2927/4/2 as compared with £2144/0/3 in 1913.

An increase of receipts is shown in respect of the following sub-heads, namely—

3. Parcel Post.

6. Telephones.

while a slight decrease is shewn under—

2. Commission Money Orders.

4. Poundage Postal Orders.

For details of receipts in 1913, and the preceding year see Appendix A.

Expenditure.

The expenditure for the year amounted to £3776/4/2 or a decrease of £363/8/5, as compared with the expenditure in 1912.

The principal increase in expenditure in 1912, is shown under the following sub-heads, namely—

8. Bureau, &c.

12. West Falkland Mail.

The large expenditure under item 8 was due to the cost of the new King George V. series of postage stamps.

The amount of £850 shown under item 12., as against £600 in 1913, is accounted for by the payment in 1912 for mail services performed in 1911, and not paid during that year.

Post Offices.

The post offices at New Island and South Georgia have proved a boon to persons engaged in the Whaling Industry. This is shown by the quantity of mail matter handled.

South Georgia. In 1912 the quantity received and despatched was 36,622 and in the year, 1913, 42,209.

The total number of registered articles handled in 1912 was 742 and in 1913, 829.

Postal.

The total number of postal packets of every description received and despatched in 1913 was 168939 or a slight decrease of 339 as compared with the figures for 1912 (vide Appendix C).

Inter-Insular Mail Service.

The inter-insular mail service was performed for part of the year 1913, by the R. M. S. Columbus. This vessel however was unable to continue the service and was succeeded, as a temporary measure, by one of Messrs. Salvesen's steam whalers. The change did not interfere with the regular carriage of mails, inward mails were at all times received in time to despatch to Europe by the homeward mail steamer. The S. S. "Falkland", belonging to the Falkland Islands Transport Company, arrived in the Colony early this year and is now performing the Inter-insular mail service.

The present system of distribution of mails to outlying districts gives general satisfaction to Colonists. The average number of bags despatched each mail was 31.

That the service works in a smooth and satisfactory manner is evidenced by the fact that notwithstanding the large amount of postal matter handled no loss has been reported.

The creation of a mail service between the Colony and the Dependency of South Georgia would be an immense advantage both from an administrative and a postal point of view. At present mails to and from South Georgia have to be transmitted via Buenos Aires.

Ocean Mail Service.

The Mail Packet Service was performed throughout the year by the P.S.N.Co., Ltd., 13 calls outward and 13 calls homeward being made. In some instances mail steamers arrived under the contract time of 27 days. Intermediate mails were despatched by cargo steamers whenever opportunity offered.

South Georgia. Mails to and from Europe and South Georgia are sent via Buenos Aires. Closed mails are received and sent to Norway in this manner. Mails to Buenos Aires are carried by vessels of the Cia Argentina de Pesca. As opportunity offers mails are despatched by various transports trading to and from the Dependency. The total number of bags of mail handled in 1913, was 139.

Wireless Telegraphy.

The hitherto isolated state of the Colony was terminated by the completion of a 5 K.W. Wireless Station at the latter part of 1912. The Station immediately proved its usefulness on the occasion of the wreck of the P.S.N.Co's S: S. "Oravia" in November, 1912, and it was undoubtedly through its medium that all lives were saved.

During the period October, 1912, to 31st December, 1913, a total of 836 messages were dealt with consisting of 10,085 words (Vide Appendix D). During the month of November, 1912, an unusual press of telegrams had to be dealt with resulting on the wreck of the "Oravia". The Argentine Government kindly assisted by allowing their Warship "SAN MARTIN" to receive messages from the Stanley Station and re-transmit them to country of destination. Later, telegrams were received and sent via the Rio Grande do Sul Station (Juncacao) belonging to the Brazilian Govt., this Station though some 1300 miles distant maintained good communication with the Stanley Station. From October, 1913, almost all telegrams received and sent have been transmitted through the Cerrito Station, Monte Video, owned by the Uruguayan Government. Vessels approaching via Cape Horn usually communicate with the Stanley Station.

During the hours of night some remarkable results have been obtained. In many instances signals have been heard over 2,000 miles away. Cape St. Thome Station in Brazil is often heard quite distinctly, as also the high power station at Lima, Peru.

Vessels are constantly heard on the West Coast of S. America. H. M. Battle Cruiser "NEW ZEALAND" while on her passage home was heard some distance west of Cape Horn.

Wireless communication was held periodically with Whaling Factories at the South Shetlands during the whaling season. Communication was not continuously maintained owing in part to the geographical configuration of Deception Harbour in relation to the Falklands. In many instances where the S.S. "HECTORIA" could not get in touch with the Falkland Station, she was able to get in touch with steamers on the West Coast of S. America or vessels approaching Cape Horn; this would seem to show that the high land surrounding the harbour to the north and east affects communication with Stanley.

The Wireless Station erected at Punta Arenas, Chile, was communicated with during the latter part of the year but no satisfactory service has so far been arranged. A regular daylight service with Punta Arenas would be of immense advantage to the Colony as it would overcome the difficulty frequently experienced at night from severe atmospherics. Daylight tests have been made with Punta Arenas and found to be satisfactory.

In the near future the Government propose to erect a small Station at Fox Bay, West Falkland. This Station while breaking down the isolation of the West Falklands will be found of great advantage to Colonists and should result in a fair amount of traffic.

Telephones.

The Stanley Telephone Exchange was completed and opened for public service in May, 1912, during that year the number of paid calls amounted to 870. During the year 1913, the number of paid calls was 1182.

The inauguration of the Telephone System has been found to be a general benefit to the community in Stanley and to those persons residing in Camp districts connected by telephone.

The Revenue received for telephones services in 1912 was £58/2/11 and in 1913, £95/15/4.

The number of private instruments rented in Stanley at the end of 1913 totalled 15 (including extensions).

The long distance lines connected with the Exchange are shown below—

Darwin.	}	South side of East Falklands.
Goose Green.
Mt. Pleasant.
Fitzroy North.
Port Harriett.
Murrel.	}	North side of East Falkland.
Long Island.
Port Louis South.
Wireless Station.	}	Suburban.
Cape Pembroke Lighthouse.

There is every indication that other Stations on the East Falkland will shortly become connected by telephone.

The completion of the Telephone Exchange and the Wireless Station in 1912, mark two of the most important events in the history of the Colony.

Postage Stamps.

Details of the sales of postage stamps and other stamped postal matter during the years 1912 and 1913 will be found in Appendix E.

The total value of stamps, post cards, etc., sold was £2155/5/8½ or a decrease of £753/11/7 as compared with the figures for 1912. The large sales in 1912 are accounted for by the new issue of stamps bearing the effigy of H. M. King George V.

The 1d. stamp commanded the largest sale followed successively by the ½d, 2½d, 2d, 1s/- and 6d denominations. Sales of higher value stamps such as 5s/- and 3s/- hold well. The sale of post cards in 1913, shows a considerable increase over the number sold during the previous year.

Money Orders.

Issued. The total value of money orders issued during 1913, was £10350/17/2 as against £10159/10/11, in 1912, showing a very slight difference in this particular class of business.

Paid. The total value of money orders paid during 1913, was £570/6/7 as against £1037/5/6 paid during the preceding year.

(For list of Countries see Appendices F. & G.)

Postal Orders.

The sales of postal orders during the years under review have increased considerably. The number sold in 1912 was 2687 and the number in 1913, 2744. Although there is a difference in the numbers of Orders sold the values for each year are only slightly different. The value sold in 1912, was £1320/15/6, and that in 1913, £1321/9/0.

The denomination commanding largest sale was the £1 postal order followed successively by the 10/-, 5/- and 2s/6d.

The number of postal orders issued and repaid in the Colony only amounted to 11.

The value of postal orders issued on the Colony averages about £18 a month.

Parcel Post.

The total number of parcels received from and despatched to the United Kingdom during the year, 1912, was 5786, value £8650/16/3, and the number dealt with during the year, 1913, was 5517 parcels value £9526/9/1.

The revenue received from this source in 1912, was £274/9/0, and the amount received in 1913, £289/6/11, showing a slight increase of £14/17/11.

A few parcels were lost in the wreck of the R. M. S. "ORAVIA" in November, 1912: senders filed their claims for compensation at the office of origin in England.

It is satisfactory to note that, notwithstanding the large number of parcels handled locally, and the many places in the Colony to which they were despatched, no claims for loss were received.

Personal.

On completion of the Telephone Exchange in May, 1912, Miss N. Aldridge was appointed operator. During the year Mr Albert Newing, Postal Clerk, was transferred to South Georgia as Customs Officer. Mr. N. C. Watt at present Acting Deputy Collector, New Island, was appointed Postal Clerk vice Mr. Newing. Miss I. Atkins, Lady Assistant, was appointed temporarily and provisionally to act as Postal Clerk. Miss E. M. Pearce was appointed temporarily and provisionally to act as Lady Assistant. Bertram Sedgwick was appointed Post Boy and Messenger in place of Henry Aldridge resigned.

From May to October Mr. E. Binnie was appointed to act as Postmaster during the time I was acting as Colonial Treasurer. At the end of October I again resumed my postal duties in addition to those of acting Treasurer and continued to control both Departments until I handed over the Treasury on the 9th December.

Miscellaneous.

A Post Office and Savings Bank Guide, which it is hoped will be of use to Colonists, has been completed and is now being printed in England.

Imperial Institute.

Reports for Private Individuals on Technical Subjects.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified for general information that he has been informed by the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies that yearly increasing demands are being made on the Imperial Institute by private individuals and firms for reports on technical subjects.

In the past it has generally been impossible to accede to such requests owing to the pressure of other work, but at the same time the Secretary of State is of opinion that the conduct of such investigations may be regarded as a legitimate function of the Institute. Authority has accordingly been given for researches, investigations, analyses, etc., required by private individuals and firms in His Majesty's overseas dominions to be undertaken in consideration of an appropriate fee.

It is, however, undesirable that the Imperial Institute should compete with the professional expert and it will be left to the authorities of the Institute to decide in the case of each application whether or no the request for researches, etc., is one that can properly be complied with.

The following are some of the more important matters with which the Imperial Institute is in a special position to deal:

- (a) Investigations as to the value of new or little known raw materials for commercial purposes.
- (b) Chemical analyses, assays and valuations of raw materials such as food-stuffs, essential and fixed oils, drugs, soils, minerals, ores, waters, fuels, etc., etc.
- (c) The technical testing of timbers fibres cements and other materials.
- (d) Identifications of vegetable and mineral substances.

Any reports which may be supplied under this arrangement will become the property of those who pay for them and will not be communicated either by the Imperial Institute or by any Government to other persons, or published without the consent of those concerned.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

LETTERS PATENT passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom providing for the appointment of a Deputy to the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands.

Dated 19th September, 1914.

George the Fifth by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India: To all whom these presents shall come, Greeting.

Recites Letters Patent of 25th February, 1892.

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent passed under the Great Seal of our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the Twenty-fifth day of February 1892, Her Majesty Queen Victoria did declare that there should be a Governor and Commander-in-Chief (therein and hereinafter called "the Governor") in and over our Colony of the Falkland Islands (therein and hereinafter called "the Colony"):

And whereas by the Fourteenth Clause of the aforesaid Letters Patent certain provision was made for the administration of the Government of the Colony during the absence therefrom of the Governor:

And whereas we are minded to make further provision for the administration of the Government during the temporary absence of the Governor from the seat of Government or from the Colony:

Now therefore We do hereby ordain and declare
Our will and pleasure as follows:—

I. In the event of the Governor having occasion at any time to be temporarily absent for a short period from the seat of Government, or to leave the Colony for the purpose of visiting any Dependency thereof, he may by an instrument under the Public Seal of the Colony appoint any person resident in the Colony to be his Deputy during such temporary absence, and in that capacity to exercise, perform, and execute for and on behalf of the Governor during such absence, but no longer, all such powers and authorities vested in the Governor as shall in and by such instrument be specified and limited, but no others. Every such Deputy shall conform to and observe all such instructions as the Governor shall from time to time address to him for his guidance. Provided nevertheless that by the appointment of a Deputy as aforesaid the power and authority of the Governor shall not be abridged, altered or in any way affected otherwise than We may at any time hereafter think proper to direct.

Appointment of Deputy to Governor.

The Governor, during his passage by sea to or from any Dependency of the Colony, shall not, if he shall have appointed a Deputy, be considered absent from the Colony within the meaning of the Fourteenth Clause of the above-recited Letters Patent of the Twenty-fifth day of February 1892.

II. And We do hereby reserve to Ourselves, Our heirs and successors, full power and authority from time to time to revoke, alter or amend these Our Letters Patent as to Us or them shall seem fit.

Power reserved to His Majesty to revoke, alter, or amend the present
Letters Patent.

III. And We do further direct and enjoin that these Our Letters Patent shall be proclaimed at such place or places within the Colony as the Governor may think fit.

Proclamation of Letters Patent.

In witness whereof we have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent. Witness Ourselves at Westminster the Nineteenth day of September in the Fifth Year of Our Reign.

By Warrant under the King's Sign Manual.

Education Report for 1913 by the Deputy Government Inspector of Schools.

Progress in the "Camp" Districts has been well maintained during the past year: the advent of new school-masters has been very much welcomed, and they have already created very favourable impressions both with parents and children.

This is a very difficult work, and I am glad to say there has been a greater co-operation by the parents.

The children I have examined in the "Camp" Districts, both private pupils and ordinary school children, have shewn up distinctly good work, which is the outcome of systematic teaching. A re-arrangement of "beats" on the West Falklands has taken place, and this move will no doubt prove beneficial to the children.

Appended is the Report from the Head Master of the Government School, Stanley, on the years work at the School:—

"During the past year there has been steady progress in the Government School, attested by the three periodical examinations. The number on the roll is 158, and the attendance through the year has been quite satisfactory.

New features in the year's work include a Dental Clinic, and quite a number of scholars have had their teeth attended to by the Government Dentist. An extension of the Inter-School Correspondence—by which quite a number of the children are now writing to others in England, Tasmania, New Zealand, and different parts of Canada—has also taken place.

Hygiene is also taught to the children as a part of the curriculum in as practical a way as possible."

I may add that I have seen some of the needlework done by the elder girls. This reflects the very highest credit upon Mrs. Souter and those who teach it. Three new Pupil Teachers have joined the staff this past year, and are, I believe, doing very well.

Legislative Council.
FALKLAND ISLANDS.

ESTIMATES, 1915.

(MESSAGE INTRODUCING.)

Read in Council, 10th November, 1914.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR TO THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

HONOURABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL,—

I have the honour to lay before you the Estimates for the year 1915. Owing to the existence of a state of war between His Majesty the King and the Emperors of Germany and Austria-Hungary it has been found impossible to prepare them at an earlier date. The same cause materially interferes with the reliability that usually attaches to estimates of Revenue and Expenditure for the succeeding year.

REVENUE.

2. The Ordinary Revenue has been estimated at £21,073, representing a decrease of £6,652 on the corresponding estimate for the year 1914. The above is based on the supposition that hostilities will continue throughout 1915. A falling off is anticipated under all Divisions except those of Rent and Interest which are likely to remain stationary.

EXPENDITURE.

3. The Ordinary Expenditure (exclusive of Public Works Extraordinary—which will be dealt with later—and payments under Live Stock Ordinance, £685) is £43,704, as compared with an approved expenditure for 1914 of £23,181, and a revised expenditure of £29,773.

4. Division I. Pensions. The Appendix shews that pensions amounting to £763 12s. 8d. have already been sanctioned, and that a further sum of £165 14s. 5d. has been provided on account of pensions which are likely to become due during 1915.

5. Division II. Governor. Item 9. A sum of £20 has been inserted on account of oil for use in the public rooms at Government House.

6. Division III. Colonial Secretary. Item 12. The telegram vote has been increased by £20.

7. Division IV. Treasury and Customs. Items 6 and 7. It has been found necessary to station a second Customs Officer, temporarily and provisionally, at South Georgia, and provision has been made for a Customs Officer to accompany the whaling expeditions to the South Orkneys and for additional assistance at New Island.

8. Division VII. Legal. Items 2, 5 and 6. For the purpose of more efficient administration it has been decided to revive the appointment of Stipendiary Magistrate, West Falkland. The officer appointed will require to accompany the annual whaling expeditions to the South Shetlands, and will have his headquarters at Deception Island for a period of approximately four months during the whaling season. The coal and oil for the Stipendiary Magistrate's office at South Georgia has not hitherto been shewn on the annual Estimates. It is essential that the Magistrate should be provided with a typewriter.

9. Division XIII. Miscellaneous. Item 4. The duties of Storekeeper have hitherto been performed by the Chief Constable who was likewise Outdoor Foreman, but the arrangement was not entirely satisfactory. As the new Drill Instructor is also to be Chief Constable it has been considered advisable to put the Government Store in charge of the Harbour Master and to allow the latter a small salary of £18 per annum on this account. For the past twelve months he has been performing these additional duties gratis. Item 6. The increase of Government buildings, including the new Town Hall, has necessitated an advance of £35 under Fire Insurance. Item 9. A sum of £25 has been added to the Imperial Institute vote for the purpose of assisting the new organization of the Technical Information Bureau. Item 10. It has been thought advisable to make an annual contribution of £100 to the Anglo-Swedish Scientific Station in Graham's Land, in return for which the Colony will be supplied with all information obtained by the expedition regarding whales.

10. Division XIV. Military. Items 2 and 8. Provision has been made at a cost of £15,600, for keeping the Volunteers on active service during the whole year. Item 4. In order to maintain and increase the efficiency of the Volunteer Corps arrangements have been made to meet the expense of additional arms and ammunition. Item 7. Some new uniforms are badly needed. The details of this Division shew that there is an increased estimated expenditure for the year of £17,755 caused by the outbreak of hostilities in Europe.

11. Division XVI. Post Office. Item 11. The growing importance and the extreme isolation of our Dependency of South Georgia renders a direct Mail Service highly desirable. A sum of £3,600 has been provided on this account, and Tenders for a monthly service between King Edward Cove and Stanley have been invited in the English and Norwegian papers. Item 12. A small addition has been made to the local Interinsular subsidy.

12. Division XVII. Colonial Engineer. Item 1. The Secretary of State has been pleased to confirm the appointment of Mr. R. B. Baseley as Colonial Engineer. The increasing importance of the Works Department necessitated the appointment of a permanent official, and the Colony is to be congratulated on securing an officer who has already shewn his capabilities and qualifications for the post by the results obtained during the last three years. Item 2. Provision has been made for an apprentice at the Wireless Station at a salary of £50. Items 10 and 13. The Carters and the Scavenger at present receive a wage rather less than that paid to the ordinary labourer. The salary of the former (of whom there are two) is now raised by £6, while the Scavenger will receive an additional £7. Item 11. A difficulty has been experienced in obtaining a boy for the sanitary carter at the wage of £18, and the remuneration has therefore been raised to £24. Item 18. The forage vote has been found to be inadequate and has therefore been increased by £50.

13. Division XVIII. Savings Bank. The satisfactory condition of this institution, and the marked increase of business in late years, in conjunction with the profits earned, warrant the payment to the Manager of a small salary. This officer has hitherto received no remuneration. A sum of £50 has therefore been inserted on this account.

14. Division XX. Public Works Recurrent. Item 2. The vote for Repair of Buildings has been raised to £500, the figure at which it stood for many years before 1914.

15. In approaching the question of Public Works Extraordinary it is desirable again to call attention to the fact that the estimated ordinary Revenue for 1915 is £21,073 and that the estimated ordinary Expenditure, exclusive of the special Military Expenditure of £17,755 already referred to, is £25,949, shewing a debit balance as against Revenue, of £4,876. Should hostilities cease next year, or should the naval situation permit of the Volunteer Corps being no longer needed for active service, local finances would thereby be at once very sensibly relieved. Indeed in the case of the former, the estimate of Revenue would undoubtedly be exceeded and a modified Public Works Programme could be undertaken.

16. In these circumstances I have thought it expedient to insert a number of items involving a total expenditure of £4,850 which I would invite the Council to approve subject to the following condition, i.e., should the Governor-in-Council consider it feasible to undertake the works in question with due regard to the revenue and to local conditions, they will be undertaken; but not otherwise. The matter is one which, with your concurrence, might very well be left to the discretion of the Executive.

17. Notwithstanding a heavy expenditure £5,298 under "Military," and a donation of £2,250 to the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund, the total Expenditure for 1914 should not exceed the ordinary Revenue, but unfortunately there will be no available balance to carry forward to meet the very heavy Expenditure for next year. It follows therefore that either our accumulated assets, i.e., the Land Sales Fund, which is our Capital, must be drawn upon and consequently reduced, or some new method must be found for making good the deficit of Revenue for 1915.

18. After careful consideration of the subject I consider that the most equitable manner of meeting that deficit, when the amount is definitely ascertained, would be the introduction hereafter of a graduated land war tax, extending over one or more years. Meanwhile such monies as may be required in 1915 should be borrowed from Land Sales Fund and paid back later with interest.

19. Before closing this message I desire to avail myself of the opportunity of placing on record my appreciation, first, of the way in which so many of the Colonists at once came forward and enlisted as Volunteers on the outbreak of hostilities, and second, of the loyalty and patriotism of those who have supported and assisted me in this national crisis. The generous contributions which have been made to the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund, which now total over £4,000, alone indicate, were further proof wanted, the intense loyalty and sympathy, coupled with the keenest desire to help the Motherland.
