etc.

3. (1) For the due administration of this Ordinance the Governor shall appoint a Commissioner of Income Tax, and such collectors and officers as may be necessary to collect receive and account for the income tax.

(2) The said Commissioner shall prepare assessment lists and shall generally carry out the provisions and exercise the powers delegated to or vested in him under this Ordinance.

(3) The said Commissioner shall be a person holding public office in the Government Service of the Colony.

(4) There shall be paid to such Commissioner for his services under this Ordinance such remuneration as the Governor with the approval of the Legislative Council may from time to time direct.

Official Secrecy.

4. (1) Every person having any official duty or being employed in the administration of this Ordinance shall regard and deal with all documents, information, returns, assessment lists, and copies of such assessment lists relating to the income or items of income of any such person, as secret and confidential, and shall make and subscribe a declaration in the form prescribed to that effect before a Justice of the Peace.

(2) Every person having possession of or control over any documents, information, returns, or assessment lists, or copies of such lists relating to the income or items of income of any person, who at any time communicates or attempts to communicate such information or anything contained in such documents, returns, lists, or copies to any person -

(a) Other than a person to whom he is authorized by the Governor to communicate it; or

(b) Otherwise than for the purpose of this Ordinance, shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

IMPOSITION OF INCOME TAX.

Charge of Income Tax.

5. Income Tax shall, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, be payable at the rate or rates specified hereafter for the year of assessment commencing on the first day of January, 1940, and for each subsequent year of assessment upon the income of any person accruing in, derived from, or received in the Colony in respect of -

(a) Gains or profits from any trade, business, profession or vocation, for whatever time such business, trade, profession or vocation may have been carried on or exercised.

(b) Gains or profits from any employment, including the estimated annual value of any quarters or board or residence or of any other allowance granted in respect of employment whether in money or otherwise.

(c) The annual value of land and improvements thereon used by or on behalf of the owner or used rent free by the occupier for enjoyment and not for the purpose of gain or profit such annual value being deemed to be five per centum of the capital value of such land and improvements.

(d) Dividends, interest, or discounts.

(e) Any pension charge or annuity.

- (f) Rents, royalties, premiums, and any other profits arising from property.

6. Tax shall be charged, levied and collected for each year of assessment upon the chargeable income of any person for the year immediately preceding the year of assessment.

Basis of Assessment.

7. Where the Commissioner is satisfied that any person usually makes up the accounts of his trade or business on some day other than that immediately preceding any year of assessment, the Commissioner shall permit the gains or profits of that trade or business to be computed for the purposes of this Ordinance upon the income of the year terminating on that day in the year immediately preceding the year of assessment on which the accounts of the said trade or business have been usually made up; Provided that in no case where the Commissioner has permitted the gains or profits of any trade or business to be computed on any such date as aforesaid shall any change be subsequently made without prior notice in writing to the Commissioner and subject to such adjustment of income tax as the Commissioner may determine.

Special periods of Assessment.

EXEMPTIONS.

8. There shall be exempt from the tax :-

Exemptions.

- (a) The official emoluments received by the Officer Administering the Government.
- (b) The income of any local authority in so far as such income is not derived from a trade or business carried on by the local authority.
- (c) The income of any statutory or registered building or friendly society.
- (d) The income of any ecclesiastical, charitable or educational institution of a public character in so far as such income is not derived from a trade or business carried on by such institution.
- (e) The emoluments payable to members of the permanent Consular Services of foreign countries in respect of their offices or in respect of services rendered by them in their official capacity.
- (f) The emoluments payable from Imperial Funds to members of His Majesty's Forces and to persons in the permanent service of the Imperial Government in the Colony in respect of their offices under the Imperial Government.
- (g) Wound and disability pensions granted to members of His Majesty's Forces.
- (h) Gratuities granted to members of His Majesty's Forces in respect of war services.
- (i) The income of the Government Savings Bank.

Provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to exempt in the hands of the recipients any dividends, interest, bonuses, salaries or wages paid wholly or in part out of the income so exempted.

9. The Governor may by proclamation published in the Gazette provide that the interest payable on any loan charged on the public revenue of the Colony shall be exempted from the tax, either generally or only in respect of interest payable to persons not resident in the Colony; and such interest shall as from the date and to the extent specified in the proclamation be exempt accordingly.

Government Loans.

ASCERTAINMENT OF CHARGEABLE INCOME.

Deductions allowed.

10. (1) For the purpose of ascertaining the chargeable income of any person there shall be deducted all out-goings and expenses wholly and exclusively incurred during the year preceding the year of assessment by such person in the production of the income, including:—

- (a) Sums payable by such person by way of interest upon any money borrowed by him, where the Commissioner is satisfied that the interest was payable on capital employed in acquiring the income.
- (b) Rent paid by any tenant of land or buildings occupied by him for the purpose of acquiring the income.
- (c) Where any person engaged in any trade, business, profession or vocation has expended any sum in replacing any plant or machinery which was used or employed in such trade, business, profession or vocation, and which has become obsolete, an amount equivalent to the cost of the machinery replaced, after deducting from that such sum as shall represent the total depreciation which has occurred by reason of exhaustion or wear and tear since the date of purchase of such plant and machinery and any sum realised by the sale thereof.
- (d) Any sum expended for repair of premises, plant and machinery employed in acquiring the income, or for the renewal, repair or alteration of any implement, utensil or article so employed.
- (e) Bad debts incurred in any trade, business, profession or vocation, proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have become bad during the year immediately preceding the year of assessment, and doubtful debts to the extent that they are respectively estimated to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have become bad during the said year notwithstanding that such bad or doubtful debts were due and payable prior to the commencement of the said year, provided that all sums recovered during the said year on account of amounts previously written off or allowed in respect of bad or doubtful debts shall for the purposes of this Ordinance be treated as receipts of the trade, business, profession or vocation for that year.
- (f) Such other deductions as may be prescribed by any rule made under this Ordinance.

(2) The Governor in Council may by rules provide for the method of calculating or estimating the deductions allowed or prescribed under this section.

Allowance for wear and tear.

11. In ascertaining the chargeable income of any person engaged in a trade, business, profession or vocation, there shall be allowed as a deduction a reasonable amount for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property owned by him, including plant and machinery, arising out of the use or employment of such property in the trade, business, profession or vocation during the year immediately preceding the year of assessment.

Deductions not to be allowed.

12. For the purpose of ascertaining the chargeable income of any person no deduction shall be allowed in respect of:—

- (a) Domestic or private expenses.

- (b) Any disbursements or expenses not being money wholly and exclusively laid out or expended for the purpose of acquiring the income.
- (c) Any capital withdrawn or any sum employed or intended to be employed as capital.
- (d) Any capital employed in improvements.
- (e) Any sum recoverable under an insurance or contract of indemnity.
- (f) Rent of or cost of repairs to any premises or part of premises not paid or incurred for the purpose of producing the income.
- (g) Any amounts paid or payable in respect of the United Kingdom income tax or super-tax or Empire income tax as defined by this Ordinance.

13. Where the amount of a loss incurred in the year preceding any year of assessment in any trade, business, profession or vocation carried on by any person either solely or in partnership is such that it cannot be wholly set-off against his income from other sources for the same year, the amount of such loss shall to the extent to which it is not allowed against his income from other sources for the same year be carried forward and shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be set off against what would otherwise have been his chargeable income for the next five years in succession, provided that the amount of any such loss allowed to be set-off in computing the chargeable income of any year shall not be set-off in computing the chargeable income of any other year and provided also that in no case shall such set-off be allowed to an extent which would reduce the tax payable for any year of assessment to less than one-half of the amount which would have been payable had the set-off not been allowed.

Allowance of trade losses.

14. (1) For the purpose of ascertaining the chargeable income of any individual there shall be allowed in respect of so much of the income as is earned a sum equal to one-tenth of the amount of such earned income, provided that such deduction shall not in the case of any individual exceed one hundred pounds; and provided also that where a loss arises in the exercise of any trade, business, profession or vocation or a loss is brought forward from a previous year under section 13 of this Ordinance, no deduction shall be allowed except in respect of the amount, if any, by which the earned income exceeds such loss or the aggregate amount of such losses, as the case may be.

Deductions in respect of earned income.

(2) For the purposes of this section the expression "earned income" means any income arising in respect of any gains or profits immediately derived by the individual from any trade, business, profession, employment or vocation carried on or exercised by him either as an individual or in the case of a partnership as a partner personally acting therein, or in respect of any pension, superannuation, or other allowance given in respect of past services of the individual or of the husband or parent of the individual or given to the individual in respect of the past services of any deceased person, whether the individual or husband or parent of the individual shall have contributed to such pension, superannuation or other allowance or not, after deducting the expenses referred to in sections 10 and 11 of this Ordinance, but before allowing the other deductions to be made in arriving at chargeable income.

15. In ascertaining the chargeable income of an individual who proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he had during the year of assessment his wife living with him or wholly maintained by him there shall be a deduction of fifty pounds.

Deduction for children.

16. In ascertaining the chargeable income of an individual who proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he had a child or children living and under the age of sixteen years at the commencement of the year preceding the year of assessment, there shall be allowed a deduction of twenty five pounds in respect of every such child.

The expression "child" and "children" in this section include a step-child or step-children but do not include an illegitimate child or illegitimate children.

Deduction in respect of life insurance, and contribution to a Pension Fund.

17. In ascertaining the chargeable income of any person who

- (a) shall have made insurance on his life or the life of his wife in any insurance company or
- (b) shall have made an annual contribution to a Pension Fund or such other fund as the Governor may consider as equivalent to a Pension Fund—

there shall be allowed a deduction of the annual amount of the premium paid by him for such insurance or contribution as aforesaid: Provided that no such deduction shall be allowed in respect of any such annual amount of the premium or contribution beyond an amount equal to one-sixth part of the chargeable income of such person estimated in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance before making the deductions specified in this section and in sections 15 and 16 of this Ordinance.

Special provisions as to certain companies and businesses.

(a) Insurance companies other than life insurance companies.

18. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Ordinance, it is hereby provided that:—

- (a) In the case of an insurance company (other than a life insurance company) where the gains or profits accrue in part outside the Colony, the gains or profits on which tax is payable shall be ascertained by taking the gross premiums and interest and other income received or receivable in the Colony (less any premiums returned to the insured and premiums paid on re-insurances), and deducting from the balance so arrived at a reserve for unexpired risks at the percentage adopted by the company in relation to its operations as a whole for such risks at the end of the year preceding the year of assessment, and adding thereto a reserve similarly calculated for unexpired risks outstanding at the commencement of the year preceding the year of assessment, and from the net amount so arrived at deducting the actual losses (less the amount recovered in respect thereof under re-insurance), the agency expenses in the Colony and a fair proportion of the expenses of the head office of the company.

(b) Life insurance companies.

- (b) In the case of a life insurance company, whether mutual or proprietary, the gains or profits on which tax is payable shall be the invested income less the management expenses (including commission):

Provided that where such a company received premiums outside the Colony, the gains or profits shall be the same proportion of the total investment income of the company as the premiums received in the Colony bore to the total premiums received after deducting from the amount so arrived at the agency expenses in the Colony and a fair proportion of the expenses of the head office of the company.

19. In ascertaining the chargeable income of a company registered in the Colony the majority of the shares being held by individuals who are resident in the Colony there shall be allowed a deduction of twenty per cent in respect of the amount of such income.

Income of a company.

20. The income of a married woman living with her husband, shall for the purposes of this Ordinance, be deemed to be the income of the husband and shall be charged in the name of the husband and not in her name nor in that of her trustee, provided that that part of the total amount of tax charged upon the husband which bears the same proportion to that total amount as the amount of the income of the wife bore to the amount of the total income of the husband and wife may, if necessary, be collected from the wife, notwithstanding that no assessment has been made upon her.

Wife's income.

RATE OF TAX.

21. The tax upon the chargeable income shall be charged at the following rates:—

Rates of tax.

On the first £150 of such income	...	Nil.
In respect of the excess over £150
For every pound of the first £100	...	1/-
" " " " next £250	...	1/3
For every pound on all amounts above £1,000		2/6

22. (1) Every company which is registered in the Colony shall deduct from the amount of any dividend paid to any shareholder tax at the rate paid or payable by the company as reduced by any relief granted under sections 19, 46 and 47 of this Ordinance on the income out of which such dividend is paid, provided that where tax is not paid or payable by the company on the whole income out of which the dividend is paid the deduction shall be restricted to that portion of the dividend which is paid out of income on which tax is paid or payable by the company.

Deduction of tax from dividends of companies.

(2) Every such company shall upon payment of a dividend furnish each shareholder with a certificate setting forth the amount of the dividend paid to that shareholder and the amount of tax which the company has deducted in respect of that dividend.

23. Any tax which a company has deducted under the last preceding section from a dividend paid to a shareholder, and any tax applicable to the share to which any person is entitled in the income of a body of persons assessed under this Ordinance, shall, when such dividend or share is included in the chargeable income of such shareholder or person, be set off for the purposes of collection against the tax charged on that chargeable income.

Deducted tax to be set off.

24. Tax shall not be payable in respect of any income arising out of the Colony and received therein by any person who is in the Colony for some temporary purpose only and not with any intent to establish his residence therein and who has not actually resided in the Colony at one or more times for a period equal in the whole to six months in the year preceding the year of assessment.

Temporary residents.

TRUSTEES, AGENTS, ETC.

Chargeability of trustees etc.

25. A receiver appointed by the Court, trustee, guardian, curator, or committee, having the direction, control, or management of any property or concern on behalf of any incapacitated person shall be chargeable to tax in like manner and to the like amount as such person would be chargeable if he were not an incapacitated person.

Chargeability of agent of person residing out of the Colony.

26. (1) A person not resident in the Colony (hereinafter in this section referred to as a non-resident person), whether a British subject or not, shall be assessable and chargeable in the name of his trustee, guardian, or committee, or of any attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch, or manager, whether such attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager has the receipt of the income or not, in like manner and to the like amount as such non-resident person would be assessed and charged if he were resident in the Colony and in the actual receipt of such income: Provided that in the case of any individual who is not a British subject, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of earned income or in respect of wife or child or in respect of life insurance.

A non-resident person shall be assessable and chargeable in respect of any income arising, whether directly or indirectly, through or from any attorneyship, factorship, agency, receivership, branch, or management, and shall be so assessable and chargeable in the name of the attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch, or manager.

(2) Where a non-resident person, not being a British subject, or a firm or company whose principal place of business is situated in His Majesty's Dominions or in territory under His Majesty's protection, or a branch thereof, carries on business with a resident person, and it appears to the Commissioner that owing to the close connection between the resident person and the non-resident person and to the substantial control exercised by the non-resident person over the resident person, the course of business between those persons can be so arranged and is so arranged, that the business done by the resident person in pursuance of his connection with the non-resident person produces to the resident person either no profits or less than the ordinary profits which might be expected to arise from that business, the non-resident person shall be assessable and chargeable to tax in the name of the resident person as if the resident person were an agent of the non-resident person.

(3) Where it appears to the Commissioner, or to the Judge by whom an appeal is heard, that the true amount of the gains or profits of any non-resident person chargeable with tax in the name of a resident person cannot be readily ascertained, the Commissioner or Judge may if he thinks fit, assess and charge the non-resident person on a fair and reasonable percentage of the turnover of the business done by the non-resident person through or with the resident person in whose name he is chargeable as aforesaid, and in such case the provisions of this Ordinance relating to the delivery of returns or particulars by persons acting on behalf of others shall extend so as to require returns or particulars to be furnished by the resident person of the business so done by the non-resident person through or with the resident person, in the same manner as returns or particulars are to be delivered by persons acting for incapacitated or non-resident persons of income to be charged: Provided that the amount of the percentage shall in each case be determined, having regard to the nature of the business and shall, when determined by the Commissioner, be subject to an appeal to the Judge as provided by section 43 of this Ordinance.

(4) Nothing in this section shall render a non-resident person chargeable in the name of a broker or general commission agent or other agent where such broker or general commission agent or other agent is not an authorised person carrying on the regular agency of the non-resident person, or a person chargeable as if he were an agent in pursuance of subsections (2) and (3) of this section, in respect of gains or profits arising from sales or transactions carried through such a broker or agent.

(5) The fact that a non-resident person executes sales or carries out transactions with other non-residents in circumstances which would make him chargeable in pursuance of subsections (2) and (3) of this section in the name of a resident person shall not of itself make him chargeable in respect of gains or profits arising from these sales or transactions.

(6) Where a non-resident person is chargeable to tax in the name of any attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager, in respect of any gains or profits arising from the sale of goods or produce manufactured or produced out of the Colony by the non-resident person, the person in whose name the non-resident person is so chargeable may, if he thinks fit, apply to the Commissioner or, in the case of an appeal, to the Judge, to have the assessment to tax in respect of those gains or profits made or amended on the basis of the profits which might reasonably be expected to have been earned by a merchant or, where the goods are retailed by or on behalf of the manufacturer or producer, by a retailer of the goods sold, who have bought from the manufacturer or producer direct, and on proof to the satisfaction of the Commissioner or Judge of the amount of the profits on the basis aforesaid, the assessment shall be made or amended accordingly.

27. The person who is chargeable in respect of an incapacitated person, or in whose name a non-resident person is chargeable, shall be answerable for all matters required to be done by virtue of this Ordinance for the assessment of the income of any person for whom he acts and for paying the tax chargeable thereon.

Acts, etc., to be done by trustees, etc.

28. Every person who in whatever capacity is in receipt of any money or value being income arising from any of the sources mentioned in this Ordinance or belonging to any other person who is chargeable in respect thereof or who would be so chargeable if he were resident in the Colony and not an incapacitated person shall, whenever required to do so by any notice from the Commissioner prepare and deliver within the period mentioned in such notice a list signed by him containing :-

Statement to be prepared by trustees, etc.

- (a) A true and correct statement of all such income;
- (b) The name and address of every person to whom the same shall belong and such other information as the Commissioner may deem necessary for the purposes of this Ordinance; and the provisions of this Ordinance with respect to the failure to deliver lists or particulars in accordance with a notice from the Commissioner shall apply to any such list.

29. The manager or other principal officer of every corporate body of persons shall be answerable for doing such acts, matters and things as are required to be done by virtue of this Ordinance for the assessment of such body and payment of the tax.

Manager of corporate bodies of persons.

30. Every person answerable under this Ordinance for the payment of tax on behalf of another person may retain out of any money coming to his hands on behalf of such other person so much thereof as shall be sufficient to pay such tax; and shall be and is hereby indemnified against any person whatsoever for all payments made by him in pursuance and by virtue of this Ordinance.

Deceased persons.

31. When any person dies during the year preceding the year of assessment and such person would but for his death have been chargeable to tax for the year of assessment or when any person dies during the year of assessment or within two years after the expiration thereof and no assessment has been made upon him for that year the personal representative of such person shall be liable to and charged with the payment of the tax with which such person would have been chargeable, and shall be answerable for doing all such acts, matters and things as such person if he were alive would be liable to do under this Ordinance, provided that in the case of a person dying during the year preceding the year of assessment if his personal representative distributes his estate before the commencement of the year of assessment such personal representative shall pay the tax at the rate or rates in force at the date of distribution of the estate, if the rate of tax for the year of assessment has not been fixed at that date.

Deductions of and accounting for tax on mortgage and debenture interest.

32. (1) Where any person pays mortgage or debenture interest to a person not resident in the Colony and is entitled to deduct such interest under section 10 (1) (a) of this Ordinance, he shall upon paying the interest deduct therefrom tax at the rate of two shillings on every pound of such interest, and shall forthwith render an account to the Commissioner of the amount so deducted, and every such amount shall be a debt from him to the Government of the Colony and shall be recoverable as such.

(2) In the case of a company the account aforesaid shall be rendered by the manager or other principal officer of the company.

(3) Any person who fails or neglects to render an account due under this section, shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

GENERAL POWERS OF COMMISSIONER.

Notices of chargeability and returns.

33. (1) It shall be the duty of every person chargeable with tax to give notice to the Commissioner within four months after the commencement of any year of assessment that he is so chargeable.

(2) The Commissioner may by notice in writing require any person to furnish him within a reasonable time with a return of income and such particulars as may be required for the purposes of this Ordinance with respect to the income for which such person is chargeable.

(3) Any person who fails or neglects to give such notice of chargeability or to furnish such return or particulars shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

Official information and official secrecy.

34. (1) The Commissioner may require any officer in the employment of the Government or any public body to supply such particulars as may be required for the purposes of this Ordinance and which may be in the possession of such officer, provided that no such officer shall by virtue of this section be obliged to disclose any particulars as to which he is under any statutory obligation to observe secrecy.

(2) Every employer, agent, contractor, or other person when required to do so by notice from the Commissioner shall within the time limited by the notice, prepare and deliver for any year a return containing :—

- (a) The names and places of residence of all persons employed by him; and
- (b) The payments and allowances made to those persons in respect of that employment, except persons who are not employed in any other employment and whose remuneration in the employment for the year does not exceed eighty pounds.
- (c) The names and places of residence of all persons with whom he has entered into a contract for the performance of any work or for delivery of any produce or goods and the amount advanced or paid in respect of such contract either in cash or in goods or merchandise; and
- (d) Such other information as the Commissioner may deem necessary from time to time for the purposes of this Ordinance; and the provisions of this Ordinance with respect to the failure to deliver returns or particulars in accordance with a notice from the Commissioner shall apply to any such return or returns;

Provided that an employer, agent, contractor, or other person shall not be liable to any penalty for omitting from any such return the name or place of residence of any person employed by him and not employed in any other employment if it appears to the Commissioner, on enquiry, that such person has no chargeable income.

(3) Where the employer, agent, contractor or other person is a body of persons the manager or other principal officer shall be deemed to be the employer for the purposes of this section, and any director of a company, or person engaged in the management of a company, shall be deemed to be a person employed.

35. Where a trade, business, profession or vocation is carried on by two or more persons jointly – Partnerships.

(1) The income of any partner from the partnership shall be deemed to be the share to which he was entitled during the year preceding the year of assessment in the income of the partnership (such income being ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance) and shall be included in the return of income to be made out by such partner under the provisions of this Ordinance.

(2) (a) The precedent partner, that is to say, the partner who of the partners resident in the Colony –

- (i) Is first named in the agreement of partnership; or
- (ii) If there be no agreement is named singly or with precedence to other partners in the usual name of the firm, or
- (iii) Is the precedent acting partner if the partner named with precedence is not an acting partner, shall, when required by the Commissioner, make and deliver a return of the income of the partnership for any year, such income being ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, and declare therein the names and addresses of the other partners in the firm together with the amount of the share of the said income to which each partner was entitled for that year.

(b) Where no partner is resident in the Colony, the return shall be made and delivered by the attorney, agent, manager or factor of the firm resident in the Colony.

(c) The provisions of this Ordinance with respect to the failure to deliver returns or particulars in accordance with a notice from the Commissioner shall apply to any return required under this section.

Signature of notices.

36. (1) Every notice to be given by the Commissioner under this Ordinance shall be signed by the Commissioner or by some person or persons from time to time appointed by him for that purpose, and every such notice shall be valid if the signature of the Commissioner or of such person or persons is duly printed or written thereon, provided that any notice in writing under this Ordinance to any person requiring him to furnish particulars to the Commissioner, or any notice under this Ordinance requiring the attendance of any person or witness before the Commissioner, shall be personally signed by the Commissioner or by any person duly authorised by him.

(2) A signature attached to any notice and purporting to be the signature of any person so appointed shall be taken to be the signature of that person until the contrary be shown.

Service of notices.

37. Notice may be served on a person either personally or by being sent through registered post to his last known business or private address, and shall in the latter case be deemed to have been served, not later than the tenth day succeeding the day on which the notice would have been received in the ordinary course by post, and in proving such service it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the notice was properly addressed and posted.

ASSESSMENTS.

Commissioner to make assessments.

38. (1) The Commissioner shall proceed to assess every person chargeable with the tax as soon as may be after the expiration of the time allowed to such person for the delivery of his return.

(2) Where a person has delivered a return the Commissioner may—

- (a) Accept the return and make an assessment accordingly; or
- (b) Refuse to accept the return, and, to the best of his judgment, determine the amount of the chargeable income of the person and assess him accordingly.

(3) Where a person has not delivered a return and the Commissioner is of the opinion that such person is liable to pay tax, he may, according to the best of his judgment, determine the amount of the chargeable income of such person and assess him accordingly; but such assessment shall not affect any liability otherwise incurred by such person by reason of his failure or neglect to deliver a return.

Additional assessments.

39. Where it appears to the Commissioner that any person liable to tax has not been assessed or has been assessed at a less amount than that which ought to have been charged, the Commissioner may, within two years after the expiration thereof, assess such amount or additional amount, as according to his judgment ought to have been charged, and the provisions of this Ordinance as to notice of assessment, appeal and other proceedings under this Ordinance shall apply to such assessment or additional assessment and to the tax charged thereunder.

List of persons assessed and notices of assessment.

40. (1) The Commissioner shall as soon as possible prepare lists of persons assessed to tax.

(2) Such lists (herein called the assessment lists) shall contain the names and addresses of the persons assessed to tax, the amount of the chargeable income of each person, the amount of tax payable by him, and such other particulars as may be prescribed.

41. For the purpose of facilitating the assessment of the income of persons residing in the United Kingdom the Governor may appoint an agent in the United Kingdom who shall make enquiries on behalf of the Commissioner in respect of any such person as may apply to be dealt with through such agent, and shall ascertain and report to the Commissioner the amount of the chargeable income of such person in accordance with this Ordinance and shall forward to the Commissioner the accounts and computations upon which his report is based. The Commissioner on receipt of the report shall enter the amount reported in the assessment list: Provided that if it appears to the Commissioner that any error has occurred in the accounts or computation he may refer the report back for further consideration; and provided also that nothing in this section shall prevent the appeal to the Judge conferred by section 43 of this Ordinance.

Appointment of agent in the United Kingdom.

42. (1) The Commissioner shall cause to be served personally or sent by registered post to each person whose name appears on the assessment lists a notice addressed to him at his usual place of abode or business, stating the amount of his chargeable income and the amount of tax payable by him, and informing him of his rights under the next subsection.

Power of Commissioner to revise assessments in case of objection.

(2) If any person disputes the assessment he may apply to the Commissioner by notice of objection in writing, to review and to revise the assessment made upon him. Such application shall state precisely the grounds of his objections to the assessment and shall be made within two months from the date of the service of the notice of assessment: Provided that the Commissioner upon being satisfied that owing to absence from the Colony, sickness or other reasonable cause, the person disputing the assessment was prevented from making the application within such period, shall extend the period as may be reasonable in the circumstances.

(3) On receipt of the notice of objection referred to in subsection (2) of this section, the Commissioner may require the person giving the notice of the objection to furnish such particulars as the Commissioner may deem necessary with respect to the income of the person assessed and to produce all books or other documents in his custody or under his control relating to such income, and may summon any person who, he thinks, is able to give evidence respecting the assessment to attend before him and may examine such person (except the clerk, agent, servant, or other person confidentially employed in the affairs of the person to be charged) on oath or otherwise.

(4) In the event of any person assessed, who has objected to an assessment made upon him, agreeing with the Commissioner as to the amount at which he is liable to be assessed, the assessment shall be amended accordingly, and notice of the tax payable shall be served upon such person:

Provided always that in the event of any person who, under subsection (2) of this section, has applied to the Commissioner for a revision of the assessment made upon him failing to agree with the Commissioner as to the amount at which he is liable to be assessed his right of appeal to the Judge under the provisions of this Ordinance, against the assessment made upon him, shall remain unimpaired.

43. (1) Any person who, being aggrieved by an assessment made upon him, has failed to agree with the Commissioner in the manner provided in subsection (4) of the preceding section, may appeal against the assessment to the Judge in Chambers upon giving notice in writing to the Commissioner within thirty days from the date of the refusal of the Commissioner to amend the assessment as desired.

Provided that, notwithstanding the lapse of such period of thirty days, any person may appeal against the said assessment if he shows to the satisfaction of the Judge that, owing to absence from the Colony, sickness or other reasonable cause he was prevented from giving notice of appeal within such period, and that there has been no unreasonable delay on his part.

(2) Every person appealing shall attend before the Judge in person on the day and at the time fixed for the hearing of his appeal :

Provided always that if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Judge that owing to the absence from the Colony, sickness, or other reasonable cause, any person is prevented from attending in person at the hearing of his appeal on the day and at the time fixed for that purpose, the Judge may postpone the hearing of the appeal for such reasonable time as he thinks necessary for the attendance of the appellant, or he may admit the appeal to be made by any agent, clerk, or servant of the appellant, on his behalf.

(3) Ten clear days' notice shall, unless rules made hereunder otherwise provide, be given to the Commissioner of the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal.

(4) The onus of proving that the assessment complained of is excessive shall be on the appellant.

(5) If the Judge is satisfied that the appellant is overcharged he may reduce the amount of the assessment by the amount of the overcharge, and if he is satisfied that the appellant is undercharged, he may increase the amount of the assessment by the amount of the undercharge.

(6) Notice of the amount of tax payable under the assessment as determined by the Judge shall be served by the Commissioner upon the appellant.

(7) All appeals shall be heard in camera, unless the Judge shall, on the application of the appellant, otherwise direct.

(8) The costs of the appeal shall be in the discretion of the Judge hearing the appeal, and shall be a sum fixed by the Judge.

(9) The Judge may make rules governing such appeals and providing for the method of tendering evidence.

(10) The decision of the Judge shall be final: provided that the Judge if he so desires may, and on the application of the appellant, or of the Commissioner shall state a case on a question of law for the decision of His Majesty in Council under the provisions of the Privy Council Appeals Ordinance.*

* Cap. 155.

Errors etc., in assessments and notices.

44. (1) No assessment, warrant or other proceeding, purporting to be made in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance shall be quashed, or deemed to be void or voidable, for want of form, or be affected by the reason of a mistake, defect or omission therein, if the same is in substance and effect in conformity with or according to the intent and meaning of this Ordinance or any Ordinance amending the same, and if the person assessed or intended to be assessed or affected thereby is designated therein according to common intent and understanding.

- (2) An assessment shall not be impeached or affected –
- (a) By reason of a mistake therein as to –
 - (i) The name or surname of a person liable; or
 - (ii) The description of any income; or
 - (iii) The amount of tax charged;
 - (b) By reason of any variance between the assessment and the notice thereof :

Provided that in cases of assessment the notice thereof shall be duly served on the person intended to be charged, and such notice shall contain, in substance and effect, the particulars on which the assessment was made.

45. The production of any document under the hand of the Commissioner or of any person or persons appointed by him purporting to be a copy of or extract from any return or assessment shall in all Courts and in all proceedings be sufficient evidence of the original, and the production of the original shall not be necessary; and all courts shall in all proceedings take judicial notice of the signature of the Commissioner or of any person or persons appointed by him either to the original or to such copy or extract.

Evidence.

RELIEF IN CASES OF DOUBLE TAXATION.

46. (1) Any person who has paid, by deduction or otherwise, or is liable to pay tax under this Ordinance for any year of assessment on part of his income and who proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he paid by deduction or otherwise or is liable to pay income tax in the United Kingdom for that year in respect of the same part of his income, shall be entitled to relief from tax under this Ordinance paid or payable by him on that part of his income at a rate equal to the amount by which the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance exceeds half the appropriate rate of United Kingdom tax. If, however, the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance exceeds the appropriate rate of United Kingdom tax he shall be entitled only to relief at a rate equal to half the appropriate rate of United Kingdom tax.

Relief in respect of United Kingdom
Income Tax.

(2) For the purposes of this section a certificate issued by or on behalf of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue in the United Kingdom shall be receivable in evidence to show what is the appropriate rate of United Kingdom tax in any particular case.

(3) For the purposes of this section the expression "rate of tax" when applied to tax paid or payable under this Ordinance means the rate determined by dividing the amount of tax paid or payable for the year (before the deduction of the relief granted under this section) by the amount of the income in respect of which the tax paid or payable under this Ordinance has been charged for that year except that where the income which is the subject of a claim to relief under this section is computed by reference to the provisions of section 26 of this Ordinance on an amount other than the ascertained amount of the actual profits, the rate of tax shall be determined by the Commissioner.

47. (1) If any person resident in the Colony who has paid, by deduction or otherwise, or is liable to pay, tax under this Ordinance for any year of assessment on any part of his income, proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he has paid by deduction or otherwise, or is liable to pay, Empire income tax for that year in respect of the same part of his income, he shall be entitled to relief from tax in the Colony paid or payable by him on that part of his income at a rate thereon to be determined as follows :—

- (a) If the Empire rate of tax does not exceed one-half of the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance in the Colony the rate at which relief is to be given shall be the Empire rate of tax;
- (b) In any other case the rate at which relief is to be given shall be half the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance.

(2) If any person not resident in the Colony who has paid, by deduction or otherwise, or is liable to pay, tax under this Ordinance for any year of assessment on any part of his income, proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he has paid, by deduction or otherwise, or is liable to pay Empire income tax for that year of assessment in respect of the same part of his income, he shall be entitled to relief from tax paid or payable by him under this Ordinance on that part of his income at a rate thereon to be determined as follows :—

- (a) If the Empire rate of tax appropriate to his case does not exceed the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance, the rate at which relief is to be given shall be one-half of the Empire rate of tax;
- (b) If the Empire rate of tax appropriate to his case exceeds the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance, the rate at which relief is to be given shall be equal to the amount by which the rate of tax appropriate to his case under this Ordinance exceeds one half of the Empire rate of tax.

(3) For the purposes of this section, Empire income tax means any income tax charged under any law in force in any part of His Majesty's Dominions or in any place under His Majesty's protection (other than the United Kingdom or this Colony), provided that the legislature of that part or place has provided for relief in respect of tax charged on income both in that part or place and this Colony in a manner similar to that provided in this section.

(4) For the purposes of this section the rate of tax under this Ordinance shall be computed in the manner provided by subsection (3) of the last preceding section of this Ordinance and the Empire rate of tax shall be computed in a similar manner.

(5) Where a person is for any year of assessment resident both in the Colony and in a part or place in which Empire income tax is charged, he shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be resident where during that year he resides for the longer period.

Official secrecy.

48. Where, under any law in force in any part of His Majesty's Dominions or in any place under His Majesty's protection, provision is made for the allowance of relief from income tax in respect of the payment of income tax in this Colony, the obligation as to secrecy imposed by section 4 of this Ordinance shall not prevent the disclosure to the authorised officers of the Government in that part of His Majesty's Dominions or in that place under His Majesty's protection of such facts as may be necessary to enable the proper relief to be given in cases where relief is claimed from income tax in that part or place aforesaid.

COLLECTION AND REPAYMENT OF TAX.

49. (1) The Commissioner shall from time to time deliver to the Collector certified extracts from the assessment lists containing the names and addresses of the persons assessed together with the amount payable by each person.

Extracts from assessment lists to be sent to Collector.

(2) Collection of tax shall in cases where notice of an objection or an appeal has been given remain in abeyance until such objection or appeal is determined.

Procedure in cases where objection or appeal is pending.

Provided that the Collector may in any such case enforce payment of that portion of the tax (if any) which is not in dispute.

50. Tax shall be payable within sixty days after service of a notice of assessment under section 42 of this Ordinance.

Time within which payment is to be made.

51. If any tax is not paid within the period prescribed in section 50 of this Ordinance—

Penalty for non-payment of tax; and enforcement of payment.

(a) A sum equal to five per centum of the amount of the tax payable shall be added thereto and the provisions of this Ordinance relating to the collection and recovery of tax shall apply to the collection and recovery of such sum;

(b) The Commissioner or any Collector appointed under this Ordinance shall serve a demand note upon the person assessed, and if payment is not made within thirty days from the date of the service of such demand note, the Collector may proceed to enforce payment as hereafter provided.

52. Where payment of tax in whole or in part has been held over pending the result of a notice of objection or of an appeal, the tax outstanding under the assessment as determined on such objection or appeal as the case may be shall be payable within thirty days from the receipt by the person assessed of the notification of the tax payable, and if such tax is not paid within such period the provisions of the last preceding section shall apply.

Collection of tax after determination of objection or appeal.

53. Tax may be sued for and recovered in a Court of Competent Jurisdiction by the Commissioner or any Collector in his official name with full costs of suit from the person charged therewith as a debt due to the Government of the Colony as well as by the means hereafter provided.

Suit for tax by Collector.

54. (1) If it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that any person for any year of assessment has paid tax, by deduction or otherwise, in excess of the amount with which he is properly chargeable, such person shall be entitled to have the amount so paid in excess refunded. Every claim for repayment under this section shall be made within two years from the end of the year of assessment to which the claim relates. The Commissioner shall give a certificate of the amount to be repaid and upon the receipt of the certificate the Financial Secretary shall cause repayment to be made in conformity therewith.

Repayment of tax.

(2) Except as regards sums repayable on an objection or appeal, no repayment shall be made to any person in respect of any year of assessment as regards which that person has failed or neglected to deliver a return or has been assessed in a sum in excess of the amount contained in his return, provided that he has received notice of the assessment made upon him for that year: unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such failure or neglect to deliver a true and correct return did not proceed from any fraud or wilful act or omission on the part of that person.

PROCEEDINGS FOR THE RECOVERY OF INCOME TAX.

Notice to be given to tax defaulters.

55. The Commissioner shall on such day in each year as the Governor in Council may direct cause to be inserted in three consecutive issues of the Gazette a notice to the effect that warrants will be issued for the recovery of all income tax together with the fines due thereon which may after a day set out in the said notice remain unpaid. The day set out in the said notice shall not be less than one month from the first publication of the said notice and such publication shall be a sufficient notice to all defaulters.

Collector to issue warrants against goods for recovery of taxes.

56. The Collector shall, on such day in each year as the Governor in Council may direct, issue to any person whom he may employ as bailiff for this purpose (hereinafter referred to as "bailiff") warrants directing and authorising him in manner hereinafter provided to make a levy upon the goods of all defaulters for the payment of taxes and fines thereon unpaid in the previous year. And the Collector may thereafter issue another warrant or other warrants directed to any bailiff to recover any tax and fines still outstanding and due from a defaulter named in a warrant previously issued by him.

Power for Financial Secretary to sell lands or houses chargeable.

Provided always that it shall be lawful for the Financial Secretary under the provisions of section 64 hereof, to proceed to sell or issue a praecipe authorising the sale of any land or house chargeable with the unpaid taxes and the fines and expenses thereon accrued, at any time.

Withdrawal of execution and institution of proceedings before Magistrate.

57. (1) Notwithstanding that the name of a person who has made default in the payment of the tax shall have been included in a list to any warrant or praecipe authorising a levy as provided in the last section, it shall be lawful for the Financial Secretary, at his discretion, at any time that such tax remains unpaid, to cause the operation of the said warrant or praecipe to be suspended as against such defaulter and in lieu thereof to apply to the Magistrate for a summons directing the defaulter to attend before the Magistrate, at a time to be named in the summons, to show cause why he should not be ordered to pay the amount aforesaid, as a Judgment debt, and it shall be lawful for the Magistrate in his discretion to issue such summons and cause the same to be served and to deal with the defaulter in such manner as is next hereinafter provided.

(2) Notice of any application intended to be made under this section shall be given by the Financial Secretary to the Colonial Secretary.

JUDGMENT DEBTOR PROCESS.

Magistrate may order payment of tax, etc., into Court.

58. If a summons for enabling the defaulter to show cause as mentioned in the last preceding section is issued, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate on the date named in the summons or at any other date to which the hearing may be adjourned, to order the defaulter to pay into Court the amount of the unpaid tax and fines, and such costs and expenses as may have been incurred, or to order him to pay into Court any part of such amount which the Magistrate may deem the defaulter able to pay or arrange for paying, within seven days of the order or within such extended time as may be determined by the Magistrate, and either in a lump sum or by instalments.

Imprisonment for failure to obey order.

59. (1) If the person summoned as aforesaid fails to comply with the summons without lawful excuse or if he makes default in payment into Court in the manner aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to commit such person to prison without hard labour for a term not exceeding six weeks or until payment of the sum ordered to be paid (if paid before the expiration of such term) :

Provided that no such committal shall be ordered for default in payment as aforesaid unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the person making default either has, or has had since the date of the order, the means to pay the sum in respect of which he has made default, and has refused or neglected, or refuses or neglects, to pay the same.

Proviso.

(2) Proof of the means of the person making default may be given in such manner as the Magistrate thinks just, and, for the purposes of such proof, the debtor and any witnesses may be summoned and their attendance enforced by the same processes as in cases in which the Magistrate has summary jurisdiction in criminal matters, and such debtor and witnesses may be examined on oath.

Proof as to means of defaulter.

(3) Every order of committal under this section shall be issued, obeyed, and executed in manner similar to commitments by the Magistrate in the exercise of his summary jurisdiction in criminal cases.

Order of committal.

(4) Imprisonment under this section shall not operate as a satisfaction or extinguishment of the judgment debt.

Imprisonment not to extinguish liability.

60. In any event of the defaulter paying the whole of the amount ordered to be paid as aforesaid, the Magistrate shall remit to the Treasury the amount so paid, deducting such part thereof as may represent the Court costs.

Debtor paying whole of amount ordered to be paid.

PROCEEDINGS BY WAY OF DISTRESS.

61. (1) For the purpose of levying any distress the bailiff shall execute a warrant issued to him by the Collector according to the tenor thereof, and such warrant shall be in the form set out in the First Schedule hereto.

Form and scope of warrant.

(2) On payment of the tax and fines and expenses accrued thereon, the bailiff shall give acquittances under his hand unto the persons who pay the same on numbered (counterfoil) receipt forms with which the bailiff shall be supplied by the Collector, and shall pay over to the Treasury all money received by him under this Ordinance.

Bailiff to give receipts upon payment to him of taxes, etc.

62. When any goods or chattels are distrained on, they shall, after due notice given in the Gazette be sold by the bailiff at public auction in such a manner as is usual in sales under executions issuing out of the Magistrate's Court. Until the sale, the goods shall remain in the custody of the bailiff by whom the levy is made. The money arising from the sale shall be paid over by the bailiff to the Treasury after deducting therefrom all reasonable and necessary charges and expenses attending the levy and sale which may be allowed by the Financial Secretary; and these proceeds of sale shall be applied by the Financial Secretary towards satisfaction of the unpaid tax, fines, and the surplus (if any) shall be restored on demand to the owner of the goods distrained: Provided as follows:—

Sale of goods levied on and disposal of proceeds.

- (a) Tools of trade, bedding and wearing apparel amounting in all to the value of ten pounds shall be exempted from execution.
- (b) After a levy it shall be lawful for the owner of the goods seized to redeem the same at any time before the time appointed for the sale by paying to the bailiff the full amount of the tax and fines thereon, together with all costs and expenses incurred in relation thereto by the date of such payment.

- (c) If at such public auction there shall be no bids sufficient to cover the tax, fines, costs and expense, the unsold goods shall become the property of the King for the use of the Government of this Colony.

Bailiff's fees.

63. The bailiff's fees which may be included in a claim of levy under a warrant may be in such sum and according to such scale as is fixed from time to time by the Governor in Council. All such fees shall be paid by the defaulters against whom warrants are issued, and the Governor in Council may award to any bailiff such proportion thereof as he shall think fit.

EXECUTION AGAINST LANDS OR HOUSES.

Failing to recover on goods the Financial Secretary to sell realty of defaulter.

64. (1) If the amount of the taxes due and recoverable from a defaulter and of the fines, costs and expenses chargeable as aforesaid have not been, or in the opinion of the Financial Secretary cannot be, raised by the sale of the goods of defaulter as aforesaid, the Financial Secretary may put up for sale either the whole of any lands or houses in the Colony to which the defaulter is beneficially entitled, or such part thereof as in the discretion of the Financial Secretary may be selected and marked off as sufficient to realize the required amount.

After failure to recover against goods and lands of defaulter Financial Secretary to sell the property charged which had passed out of possession.

(2) In default of satisfaction of the debt by any such sale as aforesaid, then if the lands or houses charged with the payment of unpaid income tax had passed out of the possession of the defaulter before the date of the said sale and consequently such last mentioned lands or houses had not been levied as aforesaid, the Financial Secretary may in the last instance proceed to levy and sell the lands or houses last mentioned.

Form of praecipe for sale of lands.

(3) The Financial Secretary may issue a praecipe to levy the tax by the sale of the lands or houses therein mentioned which praecipe shall be in the form set out in the Second Schedule hereto.

Notice to be served on defaulter before sale of realty.

65. (1) Before proceeding with the sale of any land or house as aforesaid the Financial Secretary or the officer conducting such sale shall serve or cause to be served on the person in default a notice in the form set out in the Third Schedule hereto.

(2) Except in cases specially sanctioned by the Financial Secretary, or the said officer, every such notice shall be served personally on the person in default.

(3) Whenever the Financial Secretary or the said officer shall have reason to think that the person in default is avoiding service of the notice, or that neither he nor his authorised agent can be found, the Financial Secretary or officer may order the notice to be affixed in some conspicuous manner to the property with respect to which the praecipe to levy has been issued.

(4) The server or bailiff serving any such notice personally shall endeavour to explain its purport fully to the person upon whom it is served.

(5) The bailiff or server of such notice shall write upon it the date when it is served by him, and shall enter upon a counter-foil of the notice or upon some other record the date and manner of service and the place where it was made.

(6) Any person duly served but failing to make such statement as aforesaid within the time and in the manner prescribed shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds unless he prove either that, previous to the notice being served, he had paid the tax or fine, or that no tax or fine was or is due from him.

66. (1) When the whole of any land or any house in respect of which levy has been made, has been offered for sale and no bid made for it equal to or in excess of the tax, fines, costs and charges thereon, the same shall be liable to forfeiture at the discretion of the Governor in Council: Provided, however, that as a condition precedent to the forfeiture the Financial Secretary shall cause to be served on the defaulter a notice that such land or house is liable to forfeiture within one month from the date of the service of the notice, if the amount due be not paid.

On abortive sale of realty and continued default in payment. property to vest in Crown.

(2) When any land or house has been declared by the Governor in Council to be forfeited the same shall vest in His Majesty, his heirs and successors for the use of the Government of this Colony.

(3) The Financial Secretary shall forward to the Registrar of the Court for the purposes of registration a statement in form to be prescribed by the Governor, which statement shall contain the particulars of the land or house, the name of the person in default, the amount due, the date of abortive sale, and the date of the service of the notice of liability to forfeiture.

(4) The registration of the statement shall constitute an indefeasible title.

67. In all cases of the sale of lands or houses under this Ordinance the following shall be the conditions of sale:—

Conditions of sale.

(1) The purchaser buys at his own risk as to the provisions of the law necessary to authorise the sale having been complied with. Those who intend to purchase shall be allowed access to all documents which show that such provisions have been complied with.

(2) The purchaser shall not require any proof (beyond the Assessment List, and the praecipe with the list of defaulters' notices with service) of the identity of the contents, dimensions, or other particulars of the "property" offered for sale with that advertised.

(3) The highest bidder for each lot may be the purchaser. Should any dispute arise as to any bidding, the property may again be put up for sale.

(4) The reserve price will be the amount of the tax, costs, and charges.

(5) The advance on the bidding may be declared by the officer conducting the sale on putting up the specific lot. No bid shall be retracted without the consent of the said officer.

(6) Immediately after the sale, the purchaser shall pay to the Treasury, or to the officer who conducts the sale, a deposit of his bid; and the balance within seven days thereafter. In default of payment of the deposit, the property shall be offered for sale immediately and any subsequent bid by the person who has made default as aforesaid, shall be ignored or refused. If the purchaser fails to complete his purchase within seven days, the deposit shall be forfeited, and the property shall be reoffered for sale, when any deficiency on the first bid may be recovered from the first bidder as a debt.

(7) Except in special cases to which the Governor may give his sanction, conveyance for lands, tenements and hereditaments will only be executed on the prescribed form.

(8) Conveyances will not be executed until one month has elapsed from the date of sale, and during this period the right is reserved for the Governor to cancel the sale.

Effect of execution sales with regard to title.

68. (1) All sales of any lands or houses charged with the payment of unpaid income tax, shall, provided that the provisions of this Ordinance have been duly complied with, operate to confer on the purchaser as indefeasible title thereto, free from all encumbrances. All sales of lands or houses other than those hereinbefore specified shall have the effect of conveying to the purchaser the right, title, and interest therein of the person who has made default in the payment of the tax :

Provisos.

Provided always that no purchaser shall have, or be capable of granting, any title to any land, house or goods purchased under the powers of this Ordinance, if the purchase shall have been made with the intent to defraud creditors, or as agent or trustee for the tax-payer in default, or for his wife or family :

Provided further that any such sale to the tax-payer in default shall be void.

Persons having a charge on properties may pay the tax and recover from the owner.

(2) Any person having a charge or debt by way of specialty or otherwise upon any property of the person named in the Assessment List may pay the tax, fines, costs and expenses properly due under this Ordinance by such person named as aforesaid, and shall be entitled to add the moneys thus paid to such charge or debt as aforesaid, and thereupon the increased charge or debt shall bear the same interest and may be enforced and recovered in the same manner as the original charge or debt.

Form of conveyance.

69. Where any land or house is sold hereunder, the Financial Secretary shall execute and deliver on completion a conveyance thereof to the purchaser in the form set out in the Fourth Schedule hereto.

Disposal of surplus proceeds of sale.

70. Any surplus moneys arising on any sales under this Ordinance, after payment of the tax, fines and costs, shall be paid by the Financial Secretary to the owner of the property sold, if known; and if not known, then they shall be at the disposal of the Governor in Council on the application of any person entitled, for six years from the day of sale, after which they shall be appropriated to the general revenue of the Colony :

Provided always that if the Financial Secretary has notice that any person other than the owner of the property sold has a claim to the said surplus moneys or any part thereof, either by way of mortgage or other legal incumbrance, the Financial Secretary may send to the said owner, by post, a letter addressed to him at his last known place of abode stating that the said moneys or some specified part thereof will be paid to such claimant, mortgagee, or incumbrancer, unless the owner informs the Financial Secretary within ten days from the date of the said letter that he does not admit the said claim. If no reply is received from the owner within the time aforesaid, the surplus moneys, or such part thereof as is specified in the said letter, may be paid to the said claimant by the Financial Secretary. If the owner denies the said claim, then the Financial Secretary shall pay the surplus moneys to the Registrar of the Supreme Court, to be placed by the latter to the credit of an account in Court, to abide the settlement by the Court of the question as to what person is entitled to the same. The Financial Secretary shall not be held responsible for any payment made by him under the provisions of this section.

CLAIMS BY THIRD PARTIES.

71. If any person (other than the person making default as aforesaid) claims that he is the owner of any goods or lands which are levied upon, as belonging to a party who is named in the Assessment List such person, or any solicitor on his behalf, may file an affidavit in the Supreme Court—

Affidavit by a person not the defaulter, claiming the property levied upon.

- (a) Specifying which of the goods or lands he claims as his property;
- (b) Stating full particulars of his title thereto; and
- (c) Stating the value of the property.

72. If any such person, either at the time of or subsequent to the filing of the affidavit as aforesaid, gives security by bond with two sureties (such bonds being hereby exempted from stamp duty) to the satisfaction of the Registrar of the Supreme Court in a sum of one hundred pounds, conditioned to secure, first, either the total amount of taxes, fines, costs, and expenses unpaid or such part thereof as may be equivalent to the value of the property claimed; and, secondly, all costs of the legal proceedings incidental to the trial of the issue hereinafter mentioned, the Registrar shall notify the Financial Secretary to discontinue his levy upon such of the goods and lands as are specified in the affidavit until the determination of the issue hereinafter mentioned.

Discontinuance of levy upon bond being given by claimant, etc.

73. (1) At any time within seven days after receipt of the notification of the levy being discontinued the Financial Secretary may abandon the levy altogether, and thereupon shall notify the Registrar and the claimant that the levy is wholly withdrawn and that no further legal proceedings will take place.

Abandonment of levy or setting cause down for trial.

(2) If no notice of abandonment is given by the Financial Secretary in the manner aforesaid, the Registrar shall set the matter down for trial at the next sitting of the Supreme Court (Summary Jurisdiction) held not later than two weeks subsequent to security being so given.

74. At the hearing the issue shall be whether or no the claimant has made out his title to the goods or lands specified in the affidavit, and whether the value thereof has been correctly stated in the affidavit; and, upon the issues being determined, the Court shall order the bond to be enforced or cancelled, as the case may be.

Issue at trial.

75. Throughout the proceedings in the case of the goods being claimed as aforesaid the bailiff by whom the levy was made, or, in the case of lands being claimed, the Financial Secretary, shall be the defendant, all steps may be taken and things done as in ordinary cases before the said Court:

Procedure to be same as in ordinary cases.

Provided that the defendant shall not be ordered to pay any costs unless the Court is of the opinion that he has been guilty of wilful neglect or misconduct.

76. No summons, process or other document issued by or for any person acting under this Ordinance shall be subject to stamp duty.

Exemption from stamp duties.

Onus probandi.

77. The burden of proof of exemption from or abatement of the tax levied under this Ordinance shall lie on the party claiming the exemption or abatement.

Prosecutions to commence within six years.

78. Any prosecutions instituted against any person for the commission of any offence against the provisions of this Ordinance shall be commenced within six years from the time of the offence committed and not afterwards.

GENERAL.Penalties for offences.

79. Any person guilty of an offence against this Ordinance shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds and in default of payment to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six months.

False statements and returns.

80. (1) Any person who, for the purpose of obtaining any deduction, rebate, reduction or repayment in respect of tax for himself or for any other person, or who in any return, account or particulars made or furnished with reference to tax, knowingly makes any false statement or representations and—

(2) Any person who aids, abets, assists, counsels, incites or induces another person:—

(a) To make or deliver any false return or statement under this Ordinance; or

(b) To keep or prepare any false accounts or particulars concerning any income on which tax is payable under this Ordinance; shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding six months.

Saving for criminal proceedings.

81. The provisions of this Ordinance shall not affect any criminal proceedings under any other Ordinance or Law.

Impeding or obstructing Commissioner or Officers.

82. Any person who obstructs or impedes or insults or molests a Commissioner, Collector or other officer lawfully authorised by this Ordinance or any amendment thereto in the discharge of his duties or in his official capacity or in the exercise of his powers shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

Transfer of property to evade taxation.

83. Any person who, after the 1st day of July, 1940, has reduced or shall reduce his income by the transfer or assignment of any real or personal, movable or immovable property to any member of the family of such person shall nevertheless be liable to be taxed as if such transfer or assignment had not been made, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that such transfer or assignment was not made for the purpose of evading the taxes imposed under this Ordinance or any part thereof.

Rules.

84. (1) The Governor in Council may from time to time make rules generally for carrying out the provisions of this Ordinance, and may, in particular, by those rules provide—

(a) For the form of returns, claims, statements and notices under this Ordinance;

(b) For the deduction and payment of tax at the source in respect of emoluments and pensions payable out of the revenue of the Colony;

(c) Any such matters as are authorised by this Ordinance to be prescribed.

(2) All rules purporting to be made in pursuance of this section shall be published in the Gazette and shall come into operation on such publication or at such other time as may be named in such rules.

(3) If any person fails to comply with or contravenes the provisions of any rule made under this Ordinance he shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

(4) All rules made under this Ordinance shall be judicially noticed.

85. The Governor in Council may remit the whole or any part of the income tax payable by any person if he is satisfied that it would be just and equitable to do so. Notice of such remission shall be published in the Gazette. Power to remit.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 28th day of December, 1939.

A. I. FLEURET,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this 30th day of December, 1939.

M. C. CRAIGIE-HALKETT,
Colonial Secretary.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Minutes of Meeting held on 28th December, 1939.

1. The minutes of the meeting held on the 5th of December, 1939, were confirmed.
2. The Honourable the Colonial Secretary moved and the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded, the first reading of the Bill "To impose a Tax upon Incomes and to Regulate the Collection thereof".

On further motion made and seconded the Standing Orders were suspended and the Bill was read a second time and committed.

Clauses 1 to 85 were agreed to.

The Schedules were agreed to.

The Enacting Clause and Title were agreed to.

The Council resumed.

The Bill was then read a third time and passed.

The Council adjourned sine die.

A Bill

To amend the Law relating to Marriage and Divorce.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as “The Matrimonial Causes Ordinance, 1938.”

Short Title.

2. (i) The Supreme Court hereinafter called “the Court” shall have jurisdiction to make decrees of divorce, of nullity of marriage and of judicial separation in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Jurisdiction.

(ii) Such jurisdiction shall extend—

- (a) in proceedings for divorce and nullity of marriage, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled in the Falkland Islands.
- (b) in proceedings for judicial separation, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled or resident in the Falkland Islands at the time of the institution of the suit.

(iii) In the exercise of such jurisdiction the Court shall subject to the provisions of this Ordinance act and give relief on principles which in the opinion of the Court are as nearly as may be conformable to the principles on which the High Court of Justice in England acts and gives relief in Matrimonial Causes.

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE.

3. A petition for divorce may be presented to the Court either by the husband or wife on the ground that the respondent—

Grounds of petition for divorce.

- (a) has since the celebration of marriage committed adultery; or
- (b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or
- (c) has since the celebration of the marriage treated the petitioner with cruelty; or
- (d) is to the satisfaction of the Court incurably of unsound mind and has been continuously under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has since the celebration of the marriage been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

Definition of "care and treatment" in relation to insanity.

4. For the purposes of the preceding section a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment while he is detained in pursuance of any order made under the provisions of the Lunacy Ordinance, 1894.

Duty of Court on presentation of petition for divorce.

5. (1) On a petition for divorce it shall be the duty of the Court to enquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to enquire into any countercharge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that -

- (i) the case for the petitioner has been proved; and
- (ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and
- (iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with either the respondent or the co-respondent;

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce, but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters it shall dismiss the petition :

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition if it finds that the petitioner has been guilty of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition or during the marriage been guilty of adultery or where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion the petitioner has been guilty of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

Husband may claim damages from adulterer.

6. (i) Any husband may, either in a petition for divorce or for judicial separation or in a petition to the Court limited to such object only, claim damages from any person on the ground of his having committed adultery with the wife of such petitioner.

(ii) Such petition shall be served on the alleged adulterer and the wife, unless the Court dispenses with such service or directs some other service to be substituted.

(iii) The damages to be recovered on any such petition shall be ascertained by the said Court, although the respondents or either of them may not appear.

(iv) After the decision has been given the Court may direct in what manner such damages shall be paid or applied.

7. (1) Whenever in any petition presented by a husband the alleged adulterer has been made a co-respondent and the adultery has been established, the Court may order the co-respondent to pay the whole or any part of the costs of the proceedings. Costs against co-respondent.

(2) The co-respondent shall not be ordered to pay the petitioner's costs –

- (a) if the respondent was at the time of the adultery living apart from her husband and leading the life of a prostitute; or
- (b) if the co-respondent had not at the time of the adultery reason to believe the respondent to be a married woman.

8. In any suit instituted for divorce in which on the petition of a husband the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which on the petition of a wife the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence for the petitioner, direct the co-respondent or the respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings if the Court is of opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her. Dismissal of co-respondent or respondent from proceedings.

9. In any suit instituted for divorce if the respondent opposes the relief sought on the ground of the adultery, cruelty or desertion without reasonable excuse of the petitioner, the Court may in such suit give the respondent, on his or her application, the same relief to which he or she would have been entitled in case he or she had presented a petition seeking such relief. Grant of relief to respondent if petition opposed.

NULLITY OF MARRIAGE.

10. Any husband or wife may present a petition to the Court praying that his or her marriage may be declared null and void. Petition for nullity of marriage.

11. (1) Such decree may be made on any of the following grounds – Grounds of decree.

- (a) that the respondent was impotent at the time of the marriage and at the time of the institution of the suit ;
- (b) that the parties are within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity or affinity, whether natural or legal ;
- (c) that the former husband or wife of either party was living at the time of the marriage and the marriage with such former husband or wife was then in force ;
- (d) that the consent of either party to the marriage was obtained by force or fraud in any case in which the marriage might be annulled by the law in England ;
- (e) that the marriage has not been consummated owing to the wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage ;
- (f) that either party was of unsound mind at the time of the marriage ;
- (g) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form ;
- (h) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage pregnant by some person other than the petitioner ;

- (j) that the marriage is invalid by the law of the Colony.

Provided that in the cases specified in paragraphs (f), (g) and (h) of this sub-section the Court shall not grant a decree, unless it is satisfied—

- (i) that the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts alleged;
- (ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year from the date of the marriage;
- (iii) that marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the grounds for a decree:

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to sections (d), (f) or (g) of the last foregoing sub-section shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided and any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to section (c) shall be a legitimate child of the parties where it is adjudged that the subsequent marriage was contracted in good faith and with the full belief of the parties that the former husband or wife was dead, notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

DECREE ABSOLUTE.

When decree is to be made absolute.

12. (1) A decree of divorce or nullity of marriage may be made absolute after the expiration of such time, not less than three months from the pronouncing thereof, as is prescribed or as is fixed by the Court in any suit.

(2) During that period any person may in such manner as is prescribed or as is directed by the Court in any suit, shew cause why the decree should not be made absolute by reason of the same having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not being brought before the Court.

(3) On cause being so shewn the Court shall make the decree absolute, or reverse the decree nisi, or require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as justice demands.

(4) The Court may order the costs arising from such cause being shewn to be paid by such parties or such one or more of them including a wife if she has separate property, as it thinks fit.

(5) When a decree nisi has been made and the petitioner fails to move within a reasonable time to have such decree made absolute, the Court may dismiss the suit.

PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.

Proceedings for decree of presumption of death and divorce.

13. (1) Any married person who alleges that reasonable grounds exist for supposing that the other party to the marriage is dead may present a petition to the Court to have it presumed that the other party is dead and to have the marriage dissolved, and the Court, if satisfied that such reasonable grounds exist, may make a decree of presumption of death and of divorce.

(2) In any such proceedings the fact that for a period of seven years or upwards the other party to the marriage has been continually absent from the petitioner, and the petitioner has no reason to believe that the other party has been living within that time, shall be evidence that he or she is dead unless the contrary be proved.

JUDICIAL SEPARATION.

14. The Court may make a decree of judicial separation on the petition of either the husband or the wife on any ground upon which it may make a decree of divorce. Grounds for judicial separation.

15. (1) The property of a wife who at the time of her death is judicially separated from her husband shall in case she dies intestate, devolve as if her husband had been then dead. Property of wife after judicial separation.

(2) Where, upon any such judicial separation, alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife and the same is not duly paid by the husband he shall be liable for necessities supplied for her use.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent the wife from joining, at any time during such separation, in the exercise of any joint power held by herself and her husband.

16. The Court shall have power on due cause being shewn to reverse a decree of judicial separation. Power to reverse a decree.

ALIMONY.

17. (1) In any suit under this Ordinance the wife may present a petition for alimony pending the suit. Alimony pendente lite.

(2) Such petition shall be served on the husband and the Court may make such order on the husband for payment to the wife of alimony as it deems just.

18. The Court may, if it shall see fit, on any decree absolute for divorce or for nullity of marriage or on any decree of judicial separation obtained by the wife order that the husband shall secure to the wife such gross sum of money, or such annual sum of money for any term not exceeding her life, as, having regard to her fortune, if any, to the ability of the husband, and to the conduct of the parties it shall deem reasonable, or the Court may make an Order on the husband for the payment to the wife during their joint lives of such monthly or weekly sum for her maintenance and support as the Court may think reasonable. Permanent Alimony.

Provided always that if the husband shall from any cause become unable to make such payments, it shall be lawful for the Court to discharge or modify the Order or temporarily to suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again to revive the same Order wholly or in part, as to the Court shall seem fit.

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN.

19. The Court after a final decree of judicial separation, nullity of marriage, or divorce, may, upon application by petition for this purpose, make from time to time all such orders and provisions with respect to the custody maintenance and education of the children, the marriage of whose parents was the subject of the decree or for placing such children under the protection of the Court, as the Court shall see fit. Custody of Children.

Provided that the term for which any sum of money is secured for the benefit of a child shall not extend beyond the date when the child will attain twenty-one years of age.

PROCEDURE.

20. Subject to the provisions herein all proceedings under Procedure.

this Ordinance shall be regulated by the Administration of Justice Ordinance, 1901.

21. The whole or any part of any proceeding under this Ordinance may be heard, if the Court thinks fit, within closed doors.

Coming into force.

22. This Ordinance shall come into force on a day to be fixed by the Governor by Proclamation in the Government Gazette.

Passed by the Legislative Council this day of , 1940.

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this day of , 1940.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands,
23rd March, 1940.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following Notes for the guidance of persons wishing to communicate with friends in enemy countries or a country in the occupation of the enemy.

By Command,

M. C. CRAIGIE-HALKETT,
Colonial Secretary.

1. Letters should be written in English or German without the address of the sender, and must contain nothing but matter of personal interest. No enclosure of the following nature is permitted - any printed matter, map, plan, sketch, drawing, print, photograph or other descriptive or pictorial representation, or postage or revenue stamp. No reference should be made to any phase of the war. No mention may be made in such letters of any office of Thos. Cook & Son, Ltd., at home or abroad.

2. Communications must be as brief as possible in order to avoid delay in censoring.

3. Letters must be placed in an open envelope fully addressed to the addressee.

4. The envelope containing the letter should be placed in an outer envelope and sent to the Chief Censor, Stanley, together with the name and full address of the sender in block letters on a separate sheet of paper, and an open addressed envelope for the forwarding of a reply, should one be received from the correspondent. The correspondent in Germany should be informed, if he wishes to send a reply, that the reply should be addressed to the sender care of Post Box 601 Amsterdam.

5. The communication must be accompanied by a fee of 2/- plus a sum sufficient to cover cost of postage to the United Kingdom. The fee of 2/- will cover

- (1) The postage of one envelope containing one communication to the neutral country from the United Kingdom.
- (2) Postage from the neutral country to the enemy country.
- (3) In case a reply is sent from the correspondent in the enemy country, the fee also includes postage from the neutral country to Messrs. Cook's Head Office.
- (4) Letters exceeding one ounce in weight will be subject to an additional charge.
- (5) Thos. Cook & Son, Ltd., undertake this transaction at the sole risk in all respects of the party requiring their services, and on the express understanding that no action will lie against them by reason of any act or default on their part or on the part of any person or agent employed by them.

(6) Money cannot be sent to Germany in letters as mentioned above, but it is possible to obtain permission from the Controller. Trading with the Enemy Branch, to send money in cases where the Authorities consider such course to be warranted. Normally such permission is only granted where the recipient is a British subject or a widow of British birth. Thos. Cook & Son, Ltd., can give information as to arrangements for obtaining licences for such remittances, and for the transmission of payments if the licence is granted.

(7) Communications for Prisoners of War (i.e. British and Allied Naval Military and Air Force Prisoners and civilian internees) must not be sent under the foregoing arrangement, but forwarded in accordance with the regulations to be obtained at any Post Office.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

M.P. P/226.

No. 28. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
4th April, 1940.

It is hereby announced that His Majesty's Government has undertaken to purchase the whole exportable surplus of Falkland Islands wool for the duration of the war and one year thereafter at the average price of 11.218 pence per pound in store at Stanley, the seller bearing all expenses including insurance up to the time at which the wool leaves the store.

The price quoted will be subject to deduction of the appraising expenses of the seller's broker and the local export duty.

The wool has to be graded and packed by the owner in accordance with established pre-war practice.

The purchases are on the same general conditions as for Australian and New Zealand producers.

The Ministry and wool producers undertake at the request of either party to exchange views on questions of the price for the following year in the light of changes in economic conditions.

Any net profit realised on raw wool sold by the Ministry will be shared equally between the Ministry and the producer after the closing of final accounts. Any loss will be borne by the Ministry. The Colonial Government accepts responsibility for the equitable division of the sellers share among Falkland Island owners.

No export licences will be granted for wool not sold to the Ministry of Supply.

By Command,
A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following leaflet which has been issued by the General Post Office, London, regarding the postal facilities available for despatching correspondence and parcels from the United Kingdom to prisoners of war and civilians interned abroad

By Command.

A. W. CARDINALL.

Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 146/39.

COMMUNICATION WITH PRISONERS OF WAR INTERNED ABROAD.

1. Subject to the restrictions set forth in the following Regulations, Letters, Post-cards and Parcels may be sent free of all postal charges to Prisoners of War (of whatever Nationality) interned abroad whether in enemy or neutral countries. In the following paragraphs the term "Prisoners of War" includes all interned persons, naval, military, air force, or civilian. The arrangements outlined in paragraphs 8 and 9 apply only to British (including Dominion and Colonial) prisoners of war.

LETTER POST.

2. Letters must have on the outside flap of the envelope the name and address of the sender except in the case of a member of His Majesty's Forces who must not give his address. Such member, if he has a relative or friend in this country to whose care a reply can be sent, must give the address of the relative or friend and arrange for letters so addressed to be forwarded to him.

3. The words "Prisoners of War Post" should be written in the top left hand corner of the cover.

4. The address of Letters and Post-cards, whether for officers, other ranks or civilians, must be in the following form and must be written distinctly in INK. The address should be written on the letter itself as well as on the cover. The place of internment, if known, should always be stated.

FORM OF ADDRESS.

- (i) Navy, Army, or Air Force number,* rank, initials and name.
- (ii) British (or French etc.) Prisoner of War.
- (iii) Prisoner of War number.
- (iv) Camp No. or place of internment.
- (v) Country.

* In the case of Naval ratings or other ranks of the Army or Royal Air Force.

EXAMPLES OF ADDRESS.

Prisoners of War Post.

No. P/J.L. 125001 A.B. J. Smith.

(or) No. 123456 Corporal T. Atkins.

(or) No. 567089 Leading Aircraftman K. Jones.

British Prisoner of War, No.....

Camp No. or place of internment.
Germany.

5. No attempt should be made to communicate with Prisoners of War through intermediaries in neutral countries.

6. Letters should not exceed two sides of a sheet of note-paper and should be clearly written; otherwise they are liable to delay and may even not be delivered by the authorities in the country to which they are addressed.

7. Letters and Post-cards must not contain any information that might be of use to the enemy. No reference to the naval, military, economic or political situation, or to naval or military movements or organisations is allowed. Photographs, picture postcards, or pictorial representations of any kind must not be sent. Any enclosure whatever in a letter may entail delay.

PARCEL POST.

8. Parcels for British (including Dominion and Colonial) Prisoners of War in Germany.

(i) Parcels containing food (except bar chocolate) cannot be sent by relatives or friends to the above mentioned prisoners. Persons desiring to send such parcels to a Prisoner of War in Germany should send money for the purpose to the Secretary, Prisoners of War Department, British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John of Jerusalem, the Lord Chamberlain's Office, St. James's Palace, London, S.W. 1. Letters addressed to the British Red Cross Society must be prepaid.

(ii) Personal Parcels.

(a) The relatives of a Prisoner of War interned in Germany are allowed to send a "personal" parcel once every three months through the British Red Cross Society. Such parcels must bear a special label, for which application should be made to the British Red Cross Society; unless they bear such a label they cannot be accepted. The address on the Red Cross label which will be completed by the Society before issue will be in the following form:—

No. P/J.I. 125001 A.B. J. Smith.

(or) No. 123456 Corporal T. Atkins.

(or) No. 567089 Leading Aircraftman K. Jones,
British Prisoner of War in Germany,
c/o Prisoners of War, Wounded and Missing Department,
St. James's Palace, (Friary Court)
London, S.W. 1.

The British Red Cross Society will repack the parcels, under the supervision of a representative of the Censorship, before despatch abroad and withdraw any prohibited articles for return to the sender.

(b) In addition the name and address of the sender must be clearly shown on the cover unless the sender is a member of His Majesty's Forces who, instead of his own address, should give that of a relative or friend in the United Kingdom to whose care any prohibited articles may be returned.

(c) A parcel may not weigh more than 11 lb. Packing in the same manner as in the inland service will suffice. Customs Declarations and Despatch Notes are not required.

(d) A list of the contents should be inserted inside the parcel.

(e) Prohibited Articles: The following articles may not be sent in a "personal" parcel to a prisoner of war in Germany.

(i) Cigarettes, cigarette papers or food (except bar chocolate) (see paragraph 8 (i)).

(ii) Photographic apparatus, field glasses, sextants, compasses, electric torches, and other instruments of use for military and naval purposes.

(iii) Medical comforts and drugs.

(iv) Any of the Articles mentioned in paragraph 9 (e) below as prohibited from despatch to prisoners of war in neutral countries.

(f) The Prisoners of War Department, British Red Cross Society, will be prepared to suggest articles which are suitable for inclusion in "personal" parcels.

9. Parcels for British (including Dominion and Colonial) Prisoners of War in neutral countries.

(a) Parcels for Prisoners of War in neutral countries must be forwarded through the Prisoners of War Department, British Red Cross Society, where they will be repacked before despatch abroad and any prohibited articles withdrawn for return to the senders. A parcel should bear on the cover the complete address of the prisoner as for letters (see paragraph 4) with the addition of the words:—

c/o Prisoners of War, Wounded and Missing Department, British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John,
St. James's Palace (Friary Court),
London, S.W. 1.

(b) In addition the name and address of the sender must be clearly shown on the cover unless the sender is a member of His Majesty's Forces who, instead of his own address, should give that of a relative or friend in the United Kingdom to whose care any prohibited articles may be returned.

(c) A parcel may not weigh more than 11 lb. Packing in the same manner as in the inland service will suffice. Customs Declarations and Despatch notes are not required.

(d) A list of the contents should be inserted inside the parcel.

(e) Prohibited Articles: The following articles must not be included in a parcel for a prisoner of war interned in a neutral country:—

(i) Written communications (letters must be sent separately by letter post).

(ii) Printed matter (except authorised forms of acknowledgment sent by a British Red Cross packing organisation.)

(iii) Pictorial illustrations and photographs.

(iv) Money.

(v) Stationery, stamps, playing cards.

(vi) Tins or other receptacles which cannot conveniently be opened for inspection.

(vii) Spirits or solidified spirit for cooking stoves, matches, or other inflammable material.

MISCELLANEOUS.

10. Printed Matter: Members of the public desiring to have books, packs of cards or games sent to Prisoners of War in enemy or neutral countries may give orders for their despatch to holders of special permits issued by the Censorship (in most cases publishers or newsagents). Newspapers and periodicals may be ordered in the same way for despatch to Prisoners of War in neutral countries, but not to prisoners of war in Germany. Holders of permits can accept only orders for despatch: they can in no case accept printed matter for forwarding.

11. Customs Duty is not normally levied on parcels addressed to Prisoners of War.

Stanley,

21st April, 1940.

M.P. 176/39.

Falkland Islands Defence (Amendment) Regulations, 1940.

H. HENNIKER HEATON,

Governor.

His Excellency the Governor, under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:-

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Defence (Amendment) Regulations, 1940, and shall come into operation forthwith. Citation and date of coming into operation.

2. The Defence Regulations 1939 (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Regulations") shall have effect as if there were made therein the amendments which by the following provisions of this order are directed to be made in the Regulations.

3. Regulation 17 of the principal Regulations is hereby revoked and replaced by the following Regulations:- Replacement of Reg. 17 of the principal Regulations.

Detention orders.

"17. (1) If the Governor has reasonable cause to believe any person to be of hostile origin or associations or to have been recently concerned in acts prejudicial to the public safety or the defence of the realm or in the preparation or instigation of such acts and that by reason thereof it is necessary to exercise control over him, he may make an order against that person directing that he be detained.

(2) At any time after an order has been made against any person under this Regulation, the Governor may direct that the operation of the order be suspended subject to such conditions -

- (a) prohibiting or restricting the possession or use by that person of any specified articles;
- (b) imposing upon him such restrictions as may be specified in the direction in respect of his employment or business, and in respect of his association or communication with other persons;

as the Governor thinks fit; and the Governor may revoke any such direction if he is satisfied that the person against whom the order was made has failed to observe any condition so imposed, or that the operation of the order can no longer remain suspended without detriment to the public safety or the defence of the realm.

(3) For the purposes of this Regulation, there shall be one or more advisory committees consisting of persons appointed by the Governor; and any person aggrieved by the making of an order against him, by a refusal of the Governor to suspend the operation of the order, by any condition attached to a direction given by the Governor or by the revocation of any such direction, under the powers conferred by this Regulation, may make his objections to such a committee.

(4) It shall be the duty of the Governor to secure that any person against whom an order is made under this Regulation shall be afforded the earliest possible opportunity of making to the Governor representations in writing with respect thereto and that he shall be informed of his right, whether or not such representations are made, to make his objections to such an advisory committee either in person or with the leave of the committee by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

(5) Any meeting of an advisory committee held to consider such objections as aforesaid shall be presided over by a chairman nominated by the Governor and it shall be the duty of the chairman to inform the objector of the grounds on which the order has been made against him and to furnish him with such particulars as are in the opinion of the chairman sufficient to enable him to present his case.

(6) The Governor shall report to the Secretary of State as to the action taken under this Regulation (including the number of persons detained under orders made thereunder) and as to the number of cases, if any, in which he has declined to follow the advice of any such advisory committee as aforesaid.

(7) If any person fails to comply with a condition attached to a direction given by the Governor under paragraph (2) of this Regulation that person shall, whether or not the direction is revoked in consequence of the failure, be guilty of an offence against this Regulation.

(8) Any person detained in pursuance of this Regulation shall be deemed to be in lawful custody and shall be detained in such place as may be authorised by the Governor and in accordance with instructions issued by him.

Prisoners of war, etc.

17A. (1) No person shall –

- (a) knowingly assist a prisoner of war to escape from custody, or knowingly harbour an escaped prisoner of war; or
- (b) give an escaped prisoner of war any assistance with intent thereby to prevent, hinder or interfere with the apprehension of the prisoner.

(2) The Governor may by order provide –

- (a) for regulating access to, and the conduct of persons in, places in the Colony where prisoners of war are detained, and for prohibiting or regulating the despatch or conveyance from outside such places to or for prisoners of war therein, of any such articles as may be specified in the order;
- (b) for prescribing conditions to be observed in connection with the employment of, or the provision of board and lodging for, prisoners of war in the Colony while elsewhere than in places for the detention of prisoners of war.

(3) This Regulation shall apply in relation to any person in respect of whom there is in force an order for his detention made under this part of these Regulations or in exercise of the prerogative of the Crown as it applies in relation to a prisoner of war.

(4) No proceedings shall be taken by virtue of this Regulation, against a person in respect of any act done by him when he is himself a prisoner of war.

(5) The operation of the Prisoners of War (Escape) Act of the United Kingdom 1812, shall be suspended during the continuance in force of this Regulation."

4. Regulation 21 of the principal Regulations is hereby amended by the deletion of the words "endeavour to cause disaffection among any" in the first line and the substitution therefor of the words "endeavour to seduce from their duty".

Amendment of Reg. 21 of principal Regulations.

5. After Regulation 22 (1) of the principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following :-

Amendment of Reg. 22 of the principal Regulations.

(2) The Governor may make provision by order for preventing or restricting the publication in the Colony of matters as to which he is satisfied that the publication, or, as the case may be, the unrestricted publication, thereof would or might be prejudicial to defence or the efficient prosecution of the war, and an order under this paragraph may contain such incidental and supplementary provisions as appear to the Governor to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of the order (including provisions for securing that documents, pictorial representations, photographs or cinematograph films shall, before publication, be submitted or exhibited to such authority or person as may be specified in the order).

(3) Where any person is convicted by a superior court of an offence against this Regulation by reason of his having published a newspaper, the Governor may by order direct that, during such period as may be specified in the order, that person shall not publish any newspaper in the Colony.

(4) In this Regulation -

- (a) the expression "public opinion" includes the opinion of any section of the public;
- (b) The expression "cinematograph film" includes a sound track and any other article on which sounds have been recorded for the purpose of their being reproduced in connection with the exhibition of such a film;
- (c) The expression "publication" means, in relation to a cinematograph film, the exhibition of the film to the public, and includes the mechanical or electrical reproduction of any sounds in connection with the exhibition of the film as aforesaid; and
- (d) The expression "newspaper" includes any journal, magazine or other periodical publication.

flags &c.

22A. The Governor may by order prohibit the display by any person in public of any flag, banner or emblem as to which the Governor is satisfied that the display thereof as aforesaid would be likely to cause a disturbance of the public order or to promote disaffection; and any such order may be made so as to apply either generally or to a specified area.

Replacement of Reg.
24 of principal Regulations.

6. Regulation 24 of the principal Regulations is hereby revoked and replaced by the following Regulation:-

Sabotage.

24. (1) No person shall do any act with intent to impair the efficiency or impede the working or movement of any vessel, aircraft, vehicle, machinery, apparatus or other thing used or intended to be used in His Majesty's service or in the performance of essential services, or to impair the usefulness of any works, structure or premises used or intended to be used as aforesaid:

Provided that a person shall not be guilty of an offence against this Regulation by reason only of his taking part in, or peacefully persuading any other person to take part in a strike.

(2) The preceding provisions of this Regulation shall apply in relation to any omission on the part of a person to do anything which he is under a duty, either to the public or to any person to do, as they apply in relation to the doing of any act by a person.

(3) Any person convicted on indictment of an offence against this Regulation shall be liable to penal servitude for any term not exceeding fourteen years or to a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds or to both such penal servitude and such fine.

(4) The operation of the Dockyards &c., Protection Act of the United Kingdom, 1772, shall be suspended during the continuance in force of this Regulation.

7. After Regulation 33 of the principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following Regulations:-

Employment in British ships and aircraft.

33A. (1) The competent authority, if it appears to that authority to be necessary or expedient in the interests of the defence of the realm or the efficient prosecution of the war so to do, may, as respects any class of British ships other than Dominion ships, make provision by order -

- (a) for securing that, subject to any exemptions for which provision may be made by the order, any such class of persons as may be specified in the order shall not be employed on board ships to which the order applies;
- (b) for prohibiting the employment of any persons or class of persons on board such ship unless they are holders of certificates of identity issued in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the order, and for determining the circumstances in which certificates of identity may be granted and revoked under the order;

and an order under this Regulation may be made so as to restrict the employment of persons either in any capacity or in such capacity as may be specified in the order, and so as to restrict the employment of persons on such British ships as aforesaid either wherever they may be or while in such waters, or engaged in such trades or on such voyages, as may be so specified.

(2) The preceding provisions of this Regulation shall apply in relation to aircraft as they apply in relation to ships, except that any reference in those provisions to the competent authority shall be construed as a reference to the Governor.

(3) In this Regulation and in Regulations 33 and 33B, the expression "competent authority" means an officer duly authorised by the Governor.

Employment abroad of agents for

33B. (1) The competent authority, with a view to preventing the employment abroad, in connection with the management of British ships, of enemy aliens, or persons connected with an enemy, may by order direct that, as from such date as may be specified in the order, the owner, manager or charterer of any British ship being a person resident in the Colony or a corporation incorporated under the law of the Colony, shall not employ in any foreign country or territory, in connection with the management of the ship, any person other than a person approved for the purpose by the competent authority; and an order under this Regulation may be made so as to apply either generally to employment in all foreign countries or territories or to employment in such foreign countries or territories, or such class of foreign countries or territories, as may be specified in the order.

(2) The preceding provisions of this Regulation shall apply in relation to aircraft, as they apply in relation to ships, except that any reference in those provisions to the competent authority shall be construed as a reference to the Governor.

8. After Regulation 60 of the principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following :

Amendment of Reg.
60 of principal Regulations.

(2) Rules made under this Regulation shall make provision for securing:—

- (a) that no photograph of a person taken in pursuance of the powers conferred by this Regulation shall be published except for the purpose of tracing that person, and that no copy of any such photograph shall be shown to any person except a person officially authorised to see it; and
- (b) that all photographs (both negatives and copies) and all documents relating to the measurement and identification of any person taken or made in pursuance of the said powers shall, unless that person has been convicted of an offence to which this Part of these Regulations applies, be destroyed as soon as may be after the expiration of the Emergency Powers Defence Act of the United Kingdom, 1939.

9. After the word "examine" in the last line of Regulation 61 of the principal Regulations there shall be added the words "and if any person fails to furnish or produce any information or article in his possession in pursuance of a request duly made to him under this Regulation he shall be guilty of an offence against this Regulation", and after this Regulation there shall be inserted the following :—

Amendment of Reg.
61 of principal Regulations.

(2) A prosecution in respect of an offence against this Regulation shall not be instituted except by, or with the consent of, the Governor.

Applying Section 10

10. (1) Section 10 of the Interpretation and General Law Ordinance No. 3 of 1900, shall apply with respect to the revocation by this order of any provisions of any previous order as it applies to the repeal by any Ordinance passed after the commencement of that Ordinance or any other enactment.

(2) Any order, rules or appointments made, permit granted, warrant issued or directions or authority given, by virtue of any provisions of any order revoked by this order which is in force at the date of coming into operation of this order shall continue in force and have effect as if made, granted, issued or given by virtue of this order; but if or in so far as any such order, rule, appointment, permit, warrant direction or authority is inconsistent with the provisions of this order it shall be revoked as soon as may be after the coming into operation of this order.

By Command,

M. C. CRAIGIE-HALKETT,

Colonial Secretary.

29th March, 1940.

A Bill

To amend the Law relating to Marriage and Divorce.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as "The Matrimonial Causes Ordinance, 1940."

Short Title.

2. (i) The Supreme Court hereinafter called "the Court" shall have jurisdiction to make decrees of divorce, of nullity of marriage and of judicial separation in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Jurisdiction.

(ii) Such jurisdiction shall extend—

- (a) in proceedings for divorce and nullity of marriage, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled in the Falkland Islands.
- (b) in proceedings for judicial separation, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled or resident in the Falkland Islands at the time of the institution of the suit.

(iii) In the exercise of such jurisdiction the Court shall subject to the provisions of this Ordinance act and give relief on principles which in the opinion of the Court are as nearly as may be conformable to the principles on which the High Court of Justice in England acts and gives relief in Matrimonial Causes.

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE.

3. (1) No petition for divorce shall be presented to the Court unless at the date of the presentation of the petition three years have passed since the date of the marriage :

Restriction on petitions for divorce during first three years after marriage.

Provided that a judge of the Court may, upon application being made to him in accordance with rules of court, allow a petition to be presented before three years have passed on the ground that the case is one of exceptional depravity on the part of the respondent, but if it appears to the court at the hearing of the petition, that the petitioner obtained leave to present the petition by any misrepresentation or concealment of the nature of the case, the court may, if it pronounces a decree nisi, do so subject to the condition that no application to make the decree absolute shall be made until after the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, or may dismiss the petition, without prejudice to any petition which may be brought after the expiration of the said three years upon the same, or substantially the same, facts as those proved in support of the petition so dismissed.

(2) In determining any application under this section for leave to present a petition before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, the judge shall have regard to the interests of any children of the marriage and to the question whether there is reasonable probability of a reconciliation between the parties before the expiration of the said three years.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the presentation of a petition based upon matters which have occurred before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage.

Grounds of petition for divorce.

4. A petition for divorce may be presented to the Court either by the husband or wife on the ground that the respondent –

- (a) has since the celebration of marriage committed adultery; or
- (b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or
- (c) has since the celebration of the marriage treated the petitioner with cruelty; or
- (d) is to the satisfaction of the Court incurably of unsound mind and has been continuously under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has since the celebration of the marriage been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

Definition of "care
relation to insanity.

5. For the purposes of the preceding section a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment while he is detained in pursuance of any order made under the provisions of the Lunacy Ordinance, 1894.

Duty of Court on presentation of petition for divorce.

6. (1) On a petition for divorce it shall be the duty of the Court to enquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to enquire into any countercharge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that –

- (i) the case for the petitioner has been proved; and
- (ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and

- (iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with either the respondent or the co-respondent;

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce, but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters it shall dismiss the petition :

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition if it finds that the petitioner has been guilty of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition or during the marriage been guilty of adultery or where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion the petitioner has been guilty of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

7. (i) Any husband may, either in a petition for divorce or for judicial separation or in a petition to the Court limited to such object only, claim damages from any person on the ground of his having committed adultery with the wife of such petitioner.

Husband may claim damages from adulterer.

(ii) Such petition shall be served on the alleged adulterer and the wife, unless the Court dispenses with such service or directs some other service to be substituted.

(iii) The damages to be recovered on any such petition shall be ascertained by the said Court, although the respondents or either of them may not appear.

(iv) After the decision has been given the Court may direct in what manner such damages shall be paid or applied.

8. (1) Whenever in any petition presented by a husband the alleged adulterer has been made a co-respondent and the adultery has been established, the Court may order the co-respondent to pay the whole or any part of the costs of the proceedings.

Costs against co-respondent.

(2) The co-respondent shall not be ordered to pay the petitioner's costs -

- (a) if the respondent was at the time of the adultery living apart from her husband and leading the life of a prostitute; or
- (b) if the co-respondent had not at the time of the adultery reason to believe the respondent to be a married woman.

9. In any suit instituted for divorce in which on the petition of a husband the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which on the petition of a wife the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence for the petitioner, direct the co-respondent or the respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings if the Court is of opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her.

Dismissal of co-respondent or respondent from proceedings.

10. In any suit instituted for divorce if the respondent opposes the relief sought on the ground of the adultery, cruelty or desertion without reasonable excuse of the petitioner, the Court may in such suit give the respondent, on his or her application, the same relief to which he or she would have been entitled in case he or she had presented a petition seeking such relief.

Grant of relief to respondent if petition opposed.

NULLITY OF MARRIAGE.

Petition for nullity of marriage.

11. Any husband or wife may present a petition to the Court praying that his or her marriage may be declared null and void.

Grounds of decree.

12. (1) Such decree may be made on any of the following grounds –

- (a) that the respondent was impotent at the time of the marriage and at the time of the institution of the suit ;
- (b) that the parties are within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity or affinity, whether natural or legal ;
- (c) that the former husband or wife of either party was living at the time of the marriage and the marriage with such former husband or wife was then in force ;
- (d) that the consent of either party to the marriage was obtained by force or fraud in any case in which the marriage might be annulled by the law in England ;
- (e) that the marriage has not been consummated owing to the wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage ;
- (f) that either party was of unsound mind at the time of the marriage ;
- (g) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form ;
- (h) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage pregnant by some person other than the petitioner ;
- (j) that the marriage is invalid by the law of the Colony.

Provided that in the cases specified in paragraphs (f), (g) and (h) of this sub-section the Court shall not grant a decree, unless it is satisfied –

- (i) that the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts alleged ;
- (ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year from the date of the marriage ;
- (iii) that marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the grounds for a decree ;

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to sections (d), (f) or (g) of the last foregoing sub-section shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided and any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to section (c) shall be a legitimate child of the parties where it is adjudged that the subsequent marriage was contracted in good faith and with the full belief of the parties that the former husband or wife was dead, notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

DECREE ABSOLUTE.

When decree is to be made absolute.

13. (1) A decree of divorce or nullity of marriage may be made absolute after the expiration of such time, not less than three months from the pronouncing thereof, as is prescribed or as is fixed by the Court in any suit.

(2) During that period any person may in such manner as is prescribed or as is directed by the Court in any suit, shew cause why the decree should not be made absolute by reason of the same having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not being brought before the Court.

(3) On cause being so shewn the Court shall make the decree absolute, or reverse the decree nisi, or require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as justice demands.

(4) The Court may order the costs arising from such cause being shewn to be paid by such parties or such one or more of them including a wife if she has separate property, as it thinks fit.

(5) When a decree nisi has been made and the petitioner fails to move within a reasonable time to have such decree made absolute, the Court may dismiss the suit.

PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.

14. (1) Any married person who alleges that reasonable grounds exist for supposing that the other party to the marriage is dead may present a petition to the Court to have it presumed that the other party is dead and to have the marriage dissolved, and the Court, if satisfied that such reasonable grounds exist, may make a decree of presumption of death and of divorce.

Proceedings for decree of presumption of death and divorce.

(2) In any such proceedings the fact that for a period of seven years or upwards the other party to the marriage has been continually absent from the petitioner, and the petitioner has no reason to believe that the other party has been living within that time, shall be evidence that he or she is dead unless the contrary be proved.

JUDICIAL SEPARATION.

15. The Court may make a decree of judicial separation on the petition of either the husband or the wife on any ground upon which it may make a decree of divorce.

Grounds for judicial separation.

16. (1) The property of a wife who at the time of her death is judicially separated from her husband shall in case she dies intestate, devolve as if her husband had been then dead.

Property of wife after judicial separation.

(2) Where, upon any such judicial separation, alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife and the same is not duly paid by the husband he shall be liable for necessaries supplied for her use.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent the wife from joining, at any time during such separation, in the exercise of any joint power held by herself and her husband.

17. The Court shall have power on due cause being shewn to reverse a decree of judicial separation.

Power to reverse a decree.

ALIMONY.

18. (1) In any suit under this Ordinance the wife may present a petition for alimony pending the suit.

Alimony pendente lite.

(2) Such petition shall be served on the husband and the Court may make such order on the husband for payment to the wife of alimony as it deems just.

19. The Court may, if it shall see fit, on any decree absolute for divorce or for nullity of marriage or on any decree of judicial separation obtained by the wife order that the husband shall secure

Permanent Alimony.

Provided always that if the husband shall from any cause become unable to make such payments, it shall be lawful for the Court to discharge or modify the Order or temporarily to suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again to revive the same Order wholly or in part, as to the Court shall seem fit.

Custody of Children.

Provided that the term for which any sum of money is secured for the benefit of a child shall not extend beyond the date when the child will attain twenty-one years of age.

A Bill

To provide for the prevention of cruelty and exposure to moral and physical danger to children and young persons.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Children and Young Persons Ordinance, 1940.

Short Title.

2. (1) If any person who has attained the age of sixteen years and has the custody, charge, or care of any child or young person under that age, wilfully assaults, ill-treats, neglects, abandons, or exposes him to be assaulted, ill-treated, neglected, abandoned, or exposed, in a manner likely to cause him unnecessary suffering or injury to health (including injury to or loss of sight or hearing or limb, or organ of the body, and any mental derangement), that person shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable—

Cruelty to persons under sixteen.

- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, or alternatively, or in default of payment of such a fine, or in addition thereto, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years;
- (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds, or alternatively, or in default of payment of such a fine, or in addition thereto, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months.

(2) For the purposes of this section —

- (a) a parent or other person legally liable to maintain a child or young person shall be deemed to have neglected him in a manner likely to cause injury to his health if he has failed to provide adequate food, clothing, medical aid or lodging for him, or if, having been unable otherwise to provide such food, clothing, medical aid or lodging, he has failed to take steps to procure it to be provided;

- (b) where it is proved that the death of an infant under three years of age was caused by suffocation (not being suffocation caused by disease or the presence of any foreign body in the throat or air passages of the infant) while the infant was in bed with some other person who has attained the age of sixteen years, that other person shall, if he was, when he went to bed, under the influence of drink, be deemed to have neglected the infant in a manner likely to cause injury to its health.

(3) A person may be convicted of an offence under this section -

- (a) notwithstanding that actual suffering or injury to health, or the likelihood of actual suffering or injury to health, was obviated by the action of another person;
- (b) notwithstanding the death of the child or young person in question.

(4) Upon the trial of any person who has attained the age of sixteen years and is indicted for infanticide or for the manslaughter of a child or young person under the age of sixteen years of whom he had the custody, charge or care, it shall be lawful for the jury, if they are satisfied that he is guilty of an offence under this section to find him guilty of that offence.

(5) If it is proved that a person convicted under this section was directly or indirectly interested in any sum of money accruing or payable in the event of the death of the child or young person, and has knowledge that that sum of money was accruing or becoming payable, then -

- (a) in the case of a conviction on indictment, the maximum amount of the fine which may be imposed under this section shall be two hundred pounds, and the court shall have power, in lieu of awarding any other penalty under this section, to sentence the person convicted to penal servitude for any term not exceeding five years; and
- (b) in the case of a summary conviction, the court in determining the sentence to be awarded shall take into consideration the fact that the person was so interested and had such knowledge.

(6) For the purposes of the last foregoing sub-section :-

- (a) a person shall be deemed to be directly or indirectly interested in a sum of money if he has any share in or any benefit from the payment of that money, notwithstanding that he may not be a person to whom it is legally payable; and
- (b) a copy of a policy of insurance, certified to be a true copy by an officer or agent of the insurance company granting the policy, shall be evidence that the child or young person therein stated to be insured has in fact been so insured, and that the person in whose favour the policy has been granted is the person to whom the money thereby insured is legally payable.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the right of any parent, teacher, or other person having the lawful control or charge of a child or young person to administer punishment to him.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 1 of 1940.

I ASSENT,

H. HENNIKER HEATON,

Governor.

22nd May, 1940.

An Ordinance

To amend the Law relating to Marriage and Divorce.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as "The Matrimonial Causes Ordinance, 1940."

Short Title.

2. (i) The Supreme Court hereinafter called "the Court" shall have jurisdiction to make decrees of divorce, of nullity of marriage and of judicial separation in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Jurisdiction.

(ii) Such jurisdiction shall extend—

- (a) in proceedings for divorce and nullity of marriage, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled in the Falkland Islands.
- (b) in proceedings for judicial separation, to cases in which the parties to the marriage are domiciled or resident in the Falkland Islands at the time of the institution of the suit.

(iii) In the exercise of such jurisdiction the Court shall subject to the provisions of this Ordinance act and give relief on principles which in the opinion of the Court are as nearly as may be conformable to the principles on which the High Court of Justice in England acts and gives relief in Matrimonial Causes.

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE.

3. (1) No petition for divorce shall be presented to the Court unless at the date of the presentation of the petition three years have passed since the date of the marriage:

Restriction on petitions for divorce during first three years after marriage.

Provided that a judge of the Court may, upon application being made to him in accordance with rules of court, allow a petition to be presented before three years have passed on the ground that the case is one of exceptional depravity on the part of the respondent, but if it appears to the court at the hearing of the petition, that the petitioner obtained leave to present the petition by any misrepresentation or concealment of the nature of the case, the court may, if it pronounces a decree nisi, do so subject to the condition that no application to make the decree absolute shall be made until after the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, or may dismiss the petition, without prejudice to any petition which may be brought after the expiration of the said three years upon the same, or substantially the same, facts as those proved in support of the petition so dismissed.

(2) In determining any application under this section for leave to present a petition before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, the judge shall have regard to the interests of any children of the marriage and to the question whether there is reasonable probability of a reconciliation between the parties before the expiration of the said three years.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the presentation of a petition based upon matters which have occurred before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage.

Grounds of petition
for divorce.

4. A petition for divorce may be presented to the Court either by the husband or wife on the ground that the respondent –

- (a) has since the celebration of marriage committed adultery; or
- (b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or
- (c) has since the celebration of the marriage treated the petitioner with cruelty; or
- (d) is to the satisfaction of the Court incurably of unsound mind and has been continuously under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has since the celebration of the marriage been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

Definition of "care
relation to insanity.

5. For the purposes of the preceding section a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment while he is detained in pursuance of any order made under the provisions of the Lunacy Ordinance, 1894.

Duty of Court on
tion for divorce.

6. (1) On a petition for divorce it shall be the duty of the Court to enquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to enquire into any countercharge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that –

- (i) the case for the petitioner has been proved; and
- (ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the

- petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and
- (iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with either the respondent or the co-respondent;

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce, but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters it shall dismiss the petition :

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition if it finds that the petitioner has been guilty of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition or during the marriage been guilty of adultery or where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion the petitioner has been guilty of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

7. (i) Any husband may, either in a petition for divorce or for judicial separation or in a petition to the Court limited to such object only, claim damages from any person on the ground of his having committed adultery with the wife of such petitioner.

Husband may claim damages from adulterer.

(ii) Such petition shall be served on the alleged adulterer and the wife, unless the Court dispenses with such service or directs some other service to be substituted.

(iii) The damages to be recovered on any such petition shall be ascertained by the said Court, although the respondents or either of them may not appear.

(iv) After the decision has been given the Court may direct in what manner such damages shall be paid or applied.

8. (1) Whenever in any petition presented by a husband the alleged adulterer has been made a co-respondent and the adultery has been established, the Court may order the co-respondent to pay the whole or any part of the costs of the proceedings.

Costs against co-respondent.

(2) The co-respondent shall not be ordered to pay the petitioner's costs -

- (a) if the respondent was at the time of the adultery living apart from her husband and leading the life of a prostitute; or
- (b) if the co-respondent had not at the time of the adultery reason to believe the respondent to be a married woman.

9. In any suit instituted for divorce in which on the petition of a husband the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which on the petition of a wife the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence for the petitioner, direct the co-respondent or the respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings if the Court is of opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her.

Dismissal of co-respondent or respondent from proceedings.

10. In any suit instituted for divorce if the respondent opposes the relief sought on the ground of the adultery, cruelty or desertion without reasonable excuse of the petitioner, the Court may in such suit give the respondent, on his or her application, the same relief to which he or she would have been entitled in case he or she had presented a petition seeking such relief.

Grant of relief to respondent if petition opposed.

NULLITY OF MARRIAGE.

Petition for nullity of marriage.

11. Any husband or wife may present a petition to the Court praying that his or her marriage may be declared null and void.

Grounds of decree.

12. (1) Such decree may be made on any of the following grounds—

- (a) that the respondent was impotent at the time of the marriage and at the time of the institution of the suit ;
- (b) that the parties are within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity or affinity, whether natural or legal ;
- (c) that the former husband or wife of either party was living at the time of the marriage and the marriage with such former husband or wife was then in force ;
- (d) that the consent of either party to the marriage was obtained by force or fraud in any case in which the marriage might be annulled by the law in England ;
- (e) that the marriage has not been consummated owing to the wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage ;
- (f) that either party was of unsound mind at the time of the marriage ;
- (g) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form ;
- (h) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage pregnant by some person other than the petitioner ;
- (j) that the marriage is invalid by the law of the Colony.

Provided that in the cases specified in paragraphs (f), (g) and (h) of this sub-section the Court shall not grant a decree, unless it is satisfied—

- (i) that the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts alleged ;
- (ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year from the date of the marriage ;
- (iii) that marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the grounds for a decree ;

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to sections (d), (f) or (g) of the last foregoing sub-section shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided and any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to section (c) shall be a legitimate child of the parties where it is adjudged that the subsequent marriage was contracted in good faith and with the full belief of the parties that the former husband or wife was dead, notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

DECREE ABSOLUTE.

When decree is to be made absolute.

13. (1) A decree of divorce or nullity of marriage may be made absolute after the expiration of such time, not less than three months from the pronouncing thereof, as is prescribed or as is fixed by the Court in any suit.

(2) During that period any person may in such manner as is prescribed or as is directed by the Court in any suit, shew cause why the decree should not be made absolute by reason of the same having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not being brought before the Court.

(3) On cause being so shewn the Court shall make the decree absolute, or reverse the decree nisi, or require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as justice demands.

(4) The Court may order the costs arising from such cause being shewn to be paid by such parties or such one or more of them including a wife if she has separate property, as it thinks fit.

(5) When a decree nisi has been made and the petitioner fails to move within a reasonable time to have such decree made absolute, the Court may dismiss the suit.

PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.

14. (1) Any married person who alleges that reasonable grounds exist for supposing that the other party to the marriage is dead may present a petition to the Court to have it presumed that the other party is dead and to have the marriage dissolved, and the Court, if satisfied that such reasonable grounds exist, may make a decree of presumption of death and of divorce.

Proceedings for decree of presumption of death and divorce.

(2) In any such proceedings the fact that for a period of seven years or upwards the other party to the marriage has been continually absent from the petitioner, and the petitioner has no reason to believe that the other party has been living within that time, shall be evidence that he or she is dead unless the contrary be proved.

JUDICIAL SEPARATION.

15. The Court may make a decree of judicial separation on the petition of either the husband or the wife on any ground upon which it may make a decree of divorce.

Grounds for judicial separation.

16. (1) The property of a wife who at the time of her death is judicially separated from her husband shall in case she dies intestate, devolve as if her husband had been then dead.

Property of wife after judicial separation.

(2) Where, upon any such judicial separation, alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife and the same is not duly paid by the husband he shall be liable for necessities supplied for her use.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent the wife from joining, at any time during such separation, in the exercise of any joint power held by herself and her husband.

17. The Court shall have power on due cause being shewn to reverse a decree of judicial separation.

Power to reverse a decree.

ALIMONY.

18. (1) In any suit under this Ordinance the wife may present a petition for alimony pending the suit.

Alimony pendente lite.

(2) Such petition shall be served on the husband and the Court may make such order on the husband for payment to the wife of alimony as it deems just.

19. The Court may, if it shall see fit, on any decree absolute for divorce or for nullity of marriage or on any decree of judicial separation obtained by the wife order that the husband shall secure to the wife such gross sum of money, or such annual sum of money for any term not exceeding her life, as, having regard to her fortune, if any, to the ability of the husband, and to the conduct of the parties it shall deem reasonable, or the Court may make an Order on the husband for the payment to the wife during their joint lives of such monthly or weekly sum for her maintenance and support as the Court may think reasonable.

Provided always that if the husband shall from any cause become unable to make such payments, it shall be lawful for the Court to discharge or modify the Order or temporarily to suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again to revive the same Order wholly or in part, as to the Court shall seem fit.

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN.

Custody of Children.

20. The Court after a final decree of judicial separation, nullity of marriage, or divorce, may, upon application by petition for this purpose, make from time to time all such orders and provisions with respect to the custody maintenance and education of the children, the marriage of whose parents was the subject of the decree or for placing such children under the protection of the Court, as the Court shall see fit.

Provided that the term for which any sum of money is secured for the benefit of a child shall not extend beyond the date when the child will attain twenty-one years of age.

PROCEDURE.

Procedure.

21. Subject to the provisions herein all proceedings under this Ordinance shall be regulated by the Administration of Justice Ordinance, 1901.

Sittings in camera.

22. The whole or any part of any proceeding under this Ordinance may be heard, if the Court thinks fit, within closed doors.

Coming into force.

23. This Ordinance shall come into force on a day to be fixed by the Governor by Proclamation in the Government Gazette.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 16th day of May, 1940.

[L.S.]

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 2 of 1940.

I ASSENT,

H. HENNIKER HEATON,

Governor.

22nd May, 1940.

An Ordinance

To provide for the prevention of cruelty and exposure to moral and physical danger to children and young persons.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :-

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Children and Young Persons Ordinance, 1940.

Short Title.

2. (1) If any person who has attained the age of sixteen years and has the custody, charge, or care of any child or young person under that age, wilfully assaults, ill-treats, neglects, abandons, or exposes him to be assaulted, ill-treated, neglected, abandoned, or exposed, in a manner likely to cause him unnecessary suffering or injury to health (including injury to or loss of sight or hearing or limb, or organ of the body, and any mental derangement), that person shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable -

Cruelty to persons under sixteen.

(a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, or alternatively, or in default of payment of such a fine, or in addition thereto, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years;

(b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds, or alternatively, or in default of payment of such a fine, or in addition thereto, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months.

(2) For the purposes of this section -

(a) a parent or other person legally liable to maintain a child or young person shall be deemed to have neglected him in a manner likely to cause injury to his health if he has failed to provide adequate food, clothing, medical aid or lodging for him, or if, having been unable otherwise to provide such food, clothing, medical aid or lodging, he has failed to take steps to procure it to be provided;

- (b) where it is proved that the death of an infant under three years of age was caused by suffocation (not being suffocation caused by disease or the presence of any foreign body in the throat or air passages of the infant) while the infant was in bed with some other person who has attained the age of sixteen years, that other person shall, if he was, when he went to bed, under the influence of drink, be deemed to have neglected the infant in a manner likely to cause injury to its health.

(3) A person may be convicted of an offence under this section –

- (a) notwithstanding that actual suffering or injury to health, or the likelihood of actual suffering or injury to health, was obviated by the action of another person;
- (b) notwithstanding the death of the child or young person in question.

(4) Upon the trial of any person who has attained the age of sixteen years and is indicted for infanticide or for the manslaughter of a child or young person under the age of sixteen years of whom he had the custody, charge or care, it shall be lawful for the jury, if they are satisfied that he is guilty of an offence under this section to find him guilty of that offence.

(5) If it is proved that a person convicted under this section was directly or indirectly interested in any sum of money accruing or payable in the event of the death of the child or young person, and has knowledge that that sum of money was accruing or becoming payable, then –

- (a) in the case of a conviction on indictment, the maximum amount of the fine which may be imposed under this section shall be two hundred pounds, and the court shall have power, in lieu of awarding any other penalty under this section, to sentence the person convicted to penal servitude for any term not exceeding five years; and
- (b) in the case of a summary conviction, the court in determining the sentence to be awarded shall take into consideration the fact that the person was so interested and had such knowledge.

(6) For the purposes of the last foregoing sub-section :–

- (a) a person shall be deemed to be directly or indirectly interested in a sum of money if he has any share in or any benefit from the payment of that money, notwithstanding that he may not be a person to whom it is legally payable; and
- (b) a copy of a policy of insurance, certified to be a true copy by an officer or agent of the insurance company granting the policy, shall be evidence that the child or young person therein stated to be insured has in fact been so insured, and that the person in whose favour the policy has been granted is the person to whom the money thereby insured is legally payable.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the right of any parent, teacher, or other person having the lawful control or charge of a child or young person to administer punishment to him.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 16th day of May, 1940.

A. I. FLEURET,

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Circular telegram which has been received from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

By Command.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 163/39.

Telegram received from Secretary of State for the Colonies by His Excellency the Governor on 5th June, 1940.

1. The deepening gravity of the situation with which the whole Empire is faced today calls for greatest possible effort from all its people. The response made so far by the Colonial Empire to the war leaves no doubt in the minds of H.M. Government that co-operation and help from every part of it will be readily forthcoming in the common task which still lies ahead. The anxiety of those overseas at present is, in fact, to know how they can most effectively make their contribution.

2. I will try to show in this telegram the general direction in which Colonial effort can now best be applied. In doing so I realise general remarks made in a brief space cannot apply with equal generality to individual territories.

3. My predecessor in a communication to Colonial Governments dated September 15th, 1939, suggested a general line of policy to be pursued in conditions then obtaining. He expressed the hope that subject to certain overriding considerations existing activities of the various Governments would be continued: and he emphasized his anxiety to see social services and development activities disturbed as little as possible and to avoid retrenchment of personnel.

4. The development of German blitzkrieg has now transformed the perspective in which these matters must be regarded. The former policy must be reviewed in the light of the new situation. We must now envisage a supreme effort in the next few months: and we must therefore concentrate more exclusively than hitherto on whatever will contribute to our effective war strength in immediate future.

5. In economic sphere the general aim of policy should be to bring the maximum positive contribution of the Colonies to immediate war effort in the way of supplies: and to reduce to the minimum their demands on resources in men, material and money which are or might be made available either at home or overseas.

In particular:—

- (a) Colonies of which raw materials are of importance to war efforts, including of course those for "Hard" currencies, should aim at maintenance production at whatever level may be indicated from time to time as being that necessary to Allied requirements. It will be appreciated that owing to ever changing circumstances optimum level of production of individual commodities for war purposes may alter rapidly.

- (b) Most Colonies can give substantial assistance by refraining from making demands for non-essential imports of every kind from sterling or non sterling sources but especially of imports involving use of iron and steel unless they are required for production in immediate future of material of essential war-time value to this country.

- (c) The maximum development of the production of foodstuffs to meet local demands for consumption should continue to be vigorously pursued.

- (d) It may no longer be possible for market or shipping to be provided to the same extent as formerly for Colonial commodities which are not of the first degree of importance to the United Kingdom.

6. Colonies can help from the Military as well as economic standpoint by reducing as far as possible any diversion, direct or indirect, of manpower from war effort in this country. As far as Government personnel is concerned, this end has in many colonies been served by release of civilian officers for local military duties which would otherwise have to be performed by officers sent from this country. The resulting deficiency of staff can in some degree be counteracted, as in this country, by curtailment of leave and longer hours of work. I hope to send you at an early date a further telegram regarding personnel and man power.

7. These changes in direction of our effort must inevitably affect proposals for Colonial development and welfare contained in the statement of policy issued by H.M. Government last February (Cd. 6175). The Colonial development Bill has already received its second reading in the House of Commons. But it is clear in the present circumstances it will not be possible to make any substantial progress in this policy. It must be assumed that assistance would for the present be given only for urgent purposes and for schemes which can be carried out from local resources of personnel and materials. Many Colonial Governments will not at present be in a position to prepare development programmes: though I am anxious where this can be done without detriment to war effort the preparation of plans for the future should be continued.

8. It is inevitable that the new conditions must entail not only postponement of progress but some curtailment in existing social and other services. But I should greatly deplore it if war were made the occasion for closing down services which can consistently with above principle be kept in being. Every effort should therefore be made to maintain them, provided that they do not detract from the maximum war effort.

9. In Colonies where the only reason for curtailing these services would be difficulty in providing money the possibility of imposing or increasing direct taxation, as in this country, upon those best able to bear it, will be examined. In many Colonies the response to new war taxation has been most public-spirited; and I have no doubt the same spirit will be shown in assuring further burden which present grave situation may entail.

No. 67. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands,
18th June, 1940.

The question of civil servants of all classes joining the armed forces of His Majesty has recently been reviewed and reconsidered by the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The conclusion reached is that in general there is at present no difficulty in obtaining in the United Kingdom all the men that can be equipped and absorbed in the fighting services. In these circumstances it would be contrary to the public interest to reduce the efficiency of the Colonial Service or to deplete potential reserves of power in Colonies by releasing men for the armed forces in Great Britain.

It is emphasised that the first duty of men who can be spared from their several civil occupations in the Colonies is to service with such local forces as there exist. Although these local forces may have little chance at present of active service they fulfil essential purposes (a) defence, including discouragement to potential raiders (b) internal security and (c) training and provision of reinforcements when required. They must not overlook the possibilities of operations having to be undertaken in tropical or semi-tropical climates and in that event there would be an urgent need of personnel accustomed to such climates and with colonial experience. In the meantime by remaining in their various colonies they can make considerable contribution to the common effort.

So far as is possible therefore it is considered that all essential public services should be maintained and that the capacity of colonies to support and defend themselves as well as to produce raw materials of importance to war effort should not be jeopardised by diversion of personnel whether official or unofficial. In each case the decision as to where a man should serve must be determined by the public interest and not by preference of the individual concerned; the desires of so many men, who are called upon to remain at their civil post for duty and cannot share in the war, command the fullest appreciation and sympathy of the Secretary of State but he appeals to them to carry on in the assurance that they are of service where they are most needed and that if occasion arises they will be called upon for other duties.

Several civil officers on leave (especially medical officers) have applied for permission to join the armed forces but the Secretary of State has informed them that their duty is to return to their Colony.

Rules made by the Governor in Council under the powers conferred by section 84 of the Income Tax Ordinance No. 20 of 1939.

H. HENNIKER HEATON

Governor.

1. Every person liable to pay income tax shall on or before the 31st day of August, 1940, and on or before the 30th day of April in each subsequent year deliver to the Income Tax Commissioner a true and correct return of all income from all sources in the form hereinafter prescribed.

2. The following forms shall be the forms used by the Commissioner in pursuance of the duties under the Income Tax Ordinance No. 20 of 1939.

3. The tax on mortgage or debenture interest as provided for by Section 32 shall be payable to the Financial Secretary within seven days from the date of rendition of the account to the Commissioner.

4. All allowances in respect of wear and tear under sections 10 (1) (c) and 11 shall be calculated on the written down or diminished value of the machinery or plant. Such written down value shall be arrived at by deducting year by year from the original cost of the machinery or plant, the annual wear and tear, calculated at the percentage rates allowed by the Commissioner which has occurred since the purchase of such machinery or plant, and the allowance for wear and tear when so arrived at shall be included as a trade expense of the year the profits and gains of which are chargeable under this Ordinance, and in which year such machinery or plant were in actual use.

5. No deduction for wear and tear shall be allowed for any year if the deduction, when added to the deductions allowed on that account for any previous years to the person by whom the business or trade is carried on, will make the aggregate amount of the deductions exceed the actual cost of such person or lessor of the machinery or plant, including in that actual cost any expenditure in the nature of capital expenditure on the machinery or plant, by way of renewal, improvement or re-instatement. If for the purpose of any allowance under this section the Commissioner is satisfied that, owing to the absence of full records, the precise date or dates of the original purchase or the cost price of any machinery or plant cannot be furnished, he may to the best of his judgment and from such information as is available, make an approximate estimate of the present written down or diminished value from cost on which to make the percentage allowance.

6. For the purpose of ascertaining the chargeable income of any person there shall be a deduction allowed for annuities (Section 10 (1) (f)).

7. Where any mortgage or debenture interest forms part of the chargeable income of any person resident out of the Colony and the tax provided by section 32 of the Ordinance has been deducted and paid to the Financial Secretary by the person paying such mortgage or debenture interest, the amount so paid to the Financial Secretary shall be set off for the purposes of collection against the tax charged on that chargeable income.

8. It shall be lawful for the Financial Secretary to deduct from any emoluments or pensions payable out of the revenue of the Colony, Income Tax due and payable by any person entitled to receive such emoluments or pension provided that it shall be lawful for the Governor to authorise that such deduction may be made by such monthly deductions as he thinks fit.

Falkland Islands Defence Regulations.

Order for Detention and Control of Enemy Subjects.

H. HENNIKER HEATON,
Governor.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Regulation 17 (1) of the Falkland Islands Defence Regulations, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

1. That the enemy subject whose name is set out below shall be detained until this Order is rescinded or otherwise varied :—

From Weddell Island, West Falkland.

Otto Ripp.

2. That the said enemy subject shall be detained under the command and control of the Officer Commanding the Falkland Islands Defence Force.

By Command,
A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

Stanley,

29th May, 1940.

M.P. 176/39.

Falkland Islands Defence (Amendment) (No. 1) Regulations, 1940.

H. HENNIKER HEATON,
Governor.

His Excellency the Governor under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

Citation and date of coming into operation.

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Defence (Amendment) (No. 1) Regulations, 1940, and shall come into operation forthwith.

2. The Defence Regulations, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Regulations) shall have effect as if there were made therein the amendments which by the following provisions of this Order are directed to be made in the Regulations.

Amendment of Regulation 5 of Principal Regulations.

3. After paragraph (4) of Regulation 5 of the Principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following paragraph

“(5) Postal packets of any description whatsoever which may be in course of, or intended for transmission to, from, or through, the Colony shall bear on their outside cover the name and address of the sender.”

Amendment of Regulation 17 of Principal Regulations.

4. After paragraph (1) of Regulation 17 of the Principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following paragraph “(1A) If the Governor has reasonable cause to believe any person to have been or to be a member of or to have been or to be active in the furtherance of objects of any such organization as in hereinafter mentioned, and that it is necessary to exercise control over him, he may make an order against that person directing that he be detained.

The organizations hereinbefore referred to are any organizations in respect of which the Governor is satisfied either that

(a) the organization is subject to foreign control or influence, or

(b) the persons in control of the organization have or have had association with persons concerned in Governments of or in sympathy with the system of the Government of any powers with which His Majesty is at war, and in either case that there is danger of the utilization of the organization for purposes prejudicial to public safety, the defence of the realm, the maintenance of public order, the efficiency of the prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged, or the maintenance of supplies or services essential to the life of the community”.

Amendment of Regulation 22 of Principal Regulations.

5. Regulation 22 (1) of the Principal Regulations is hereby amended by the deletion of the words “Attorney General” in lines 10 and 11 and the substitution therefor of the words “Legal Adviser”.

By Command,

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

29th May, 1940.

Defence (Finance) (Amendment) Regulations, 1940.

H. HENNIKER HEATON,
Governor.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, United Kingdom, 1939, the Governor is pleased to make the following regulations :—

1. These Regulations may be cited as the “Securities (Restrictions and Returns) Regulations, 1940”.

2. No person being an owner of securities of the classes to which these regulations apply shall on or after the date of these regulations unless permission has previously been granted by or on behalf of the Treasury, sell transfer or do anything which involves the creation of a charge on any securities of the said classes.

3. The owners of any securities of the said classes shall before the expiration of 30 days from the date of these regulations make a return to the Treasury (on a form which may be obtained from that Department) giving the following particulars with respect to those securities, that is to say,

- (a) the full name and address of the owner by whom or on whose behalf the Return is made,
- (b) a description of the security in full,
- (c) the nominal amount of the security,
- (d) the place where the security is deposited,
- (e) the full name and address of the person for whose account the security is held (if other than the owner making the return.)

4. The classes of securities to which these regulations apply are the following, that is to say, Securities in respect of which the principal, interest or dividends, are payable in the currency of any of the following countries

Argentina
Belgium
Canada
France
Holland and the Dutch East Indies Norway
Sweden
Switzerland
United States of America

or in respect of which the holder has an option to require the payment of principal, interest or dividends in the currency of any of those countries.

Dated this thirtieth day of May, 1940.

By Command,

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Minutes of Meeting held on 26th June, 1940.

1. The minutes of the meeting held on the 16th of May, 1940, were confirmed.
2. The Honourable the Colonial Secretary moved and the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded the adoption of the following Resolution :-

“WHEREAS the Colony of the Falkland Islands is desirous of sharing in the burdens cast upon the Imperial Government by the War;

“NOW, THEREFORE, this Council resolves, on behalf of the people of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, that Stock to the redemption value of £50,000 shall be transferred from the Colony to the Imperial Government as a contribution towards the purchase of aircraft for use in His Majesty's Forces”.

The Honourable D. W. Roberts stated that he was fully in favour of the transfer but asked whether it would not be possible for a like amount to be transferred from “Discovery” funds.

His Excellency replying said that money in the Research and Development Fund could not be drawn upon in this manner as it had been collected for the specific purpose of Research work and investigation in connection with the whaling industry.

The Honourable V. A. H. Biggs, on behalf of the public said that he wished to support whole-heartedly the motion and had hoped that a larger sum could have been offered to the Imperial Government. He realized, that that was not possible on account of the financial position of the Colony. He added that the public heartily supported the proposed transfer.

The Resolution was agreed to unanimously.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Report on the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December. 1939.

—:~::~:—

Colonial Treasury,
Stanley,
27th June, 1940.

The Honourable,
The Colonial Secretary,
Stanley.

Sir,

In accordance with Section 4 (6) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1938, I have the honour to submit a report on the transactions of the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1939.

Appended are the following statements of account :—

- (i) Abstract of Revenue and Expenditure, Deposits and withdrawals, Investments, Investments Adjustment, Capital, and statement of Assets and Liabilities.
- (ii) Nominal value, cost and market value of investments at the 31st December, 1939.

During the period under review compulsory deposits, including arrears, amounted to £1,896 : 11 : 8, voluntary deposits to £71 : 8 : 0, and accrued interest to £94 : 15 : 3, which with bonus equivalent to compulsory deposits, resulted in a total credit of £3,959 : 6 : 7 to depositors. Withdrawals totalled £136 : 13 : 9.

The amount standing to the credit of depositors at the close of the year is shewn in the following statement :—

Balance 1st January, 1939	£2,864 : 19 : 10.
Add credits as detailed above	3,959 : 6 : 7.
		Total credits	£6,824 : 6 : 5.
Deduct withdrawals (closed accounts)	136 : 13 : 9.
Balance due to depositors at 31st December, 1939			£6,687 : 12 : 8.

Investments, of a redemption value of £6,165 : 7 : 1 and costing £6,250 : 13 : 9 made and held by the Crown Agents for the Colonies for and on behalf of the Fund, are detailed in the statement forwarded herewith. The revenue from investments was £131 : 18 : 10.

In conformity with C.R. 275 the Fund's investments were re-valued at the prices quoted in the London market at the close of the year. Depreciation amounted to £42 : 7 : 2, and this sum was charged direct to the Fund, thereby reducing the assets to a figure less by £5 : 3 : 7 than the liabilities.

Four accounts were closed leaving 101 accounts current at the close of the year.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

X Report on Education in the Colony for 1939

—:O:—

Preface

The population of the Falkland Islands is all-British and numbers about 2400, and educational provision is correspondingly limited. Nearly half the people live in the one town of Stanley, the rest being scattered either in small settlements or isolated shepherds' houses over an area nearly the size of Yorkshire. The whole country outside Stanley is called the camp. Education is compulsory between the ages of five and fourteen. The educational facilities fall under three groups:

- (1) Schools in Stanley
- (2) A school at Darwin, the largest settlement outside Stanley
- (3) Itinerant tuition in the camp.

(1) STANLEY. A Government school is maintained from public funds. The curriculum and time table are much the same as in an English primary school, including religious instruction, and in addition there is a full-time Continuation Class which provides a two-year course of further education. In 1924 a scheme was instituted to assist parents in the camp to send their children to Stanley for schooling. The children were boarded and lodged in a Government hostel and taught in the school at an inclusive charge of ten shillings a month: or, if accommodated in private houses, the Government made a grant towards the cost. In 1929 the hostel was closed owing to lack of support. The maintenance grants still remain, averaging about twenty a year, with a tendency to increase.

There is also a Convent School taught by Roman Catholic Sisters. It is not under Government control or inspection and receives no grant from public funds.

(2) DARWIN. The Falkland Islands Company maintains a school for the children of its employees. It is not assisted or inspected by Government.

(3) THE CAMP. Five itinerant teachers are provided by Government, two on the East Falkland and three on the West. The teachers travel on horseback from house to house, usually staying a fortnight at each. The houses are isolated, and the teacher may have to travel for several hours before he reaches the next place where his services are required. Each man has a district which he covers three or four times a year. He sends a fortnightly report to Stanley giving a detailed account of the work done, a list of books or materials wanted, and so on. The Headmaster of the Government School makes tours of inspection during the school summer holidays, normally visiting every child under tuition once every two years. In addition to the Government staff, the Falkland Islands Company maintains three camp teachers for work on its extensive farms on the East Falkland: as with the Company's school at Darwin, their work is not subject to Government inspection.

Administration and Staffing

1. The authorised teaching establishment of the Government school for 1939 was as follows:

A Headmaster	} Certificated by the Board of Education or the Scottish Education Department
An Assistant Master
Two Assistant Mistresses
A Second Assistant Master	} Locally Trained
An Assistant Teacher
Three Supplementary Teachers

2. There were the following changes in staff during the year:

- (1) Mr. T. D. Evans, the new Headmaster, arrived early in February ready for the opening of the school year.

- (2) A travelling teacher was appointed locally in February to make up the full complement of three teachers for the West Falkland.
- (3) The travelling teacher on the East Falkland left in June owing to ill-health.

3. The number of travelling teachers authorised for the East Falkland was raised from one to two for 1939. It was not found possible to fill the second appointment during the year, and as stated above the teacher who had been working on the East Falkland had to leave the service. Two teachers arrived from England to fill the vacancies in February 1940.

4. In February 1939 nearly all the farm managers from the West Falkland were in Stanley for a Stock Show. They all attended a meeting presided over by the Director of Education to discuss means of improving the provision of education for camp children. The newly appointed Headmaster was also present. The meeting unanimously agreed on a body of constructive proposals, which were afterwards approved by Government. They involved a considerable increase in expenditure and have not yet been put into operation.

Government School

7. All the pupils were medically and dentally examined during the year. A free daily issue of two halfpints of milk and a dose of cod liver oil was given to about 35 pupils.

8. Carpentry, cookery and gardening were taught. The physical training was in accordance with the current Board of Education syllabus, and included apparatus work and folkdancing. Football, hockey and netball were played regularly. Lessons in hygiene were given to the senior boys and girls separately.

9. An open day and exhibition of work was held in November at which more than two hundred parents and friends attended.

Report on the Government Savings Bank for the period 1st October, 1938 - 31st December, 1939.

Colonial Treasury,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
2nd July, 1940.

The Honourable,
The Colonial Secretary,
Stanley,

Sir,

In accordance with the provisions of the Savings Bank Ordinance, 1936, and the Amendment thereto enacted in 1939, which was designed to bring the Bank's and the Colony's financial year into coincidence, I have the honour to submit a report covering the period 1st October, 1938 - 31st December, 1939, inclusive.

2. During the 15 months there were 1397 deposits and 619 withdrawals. The average monthly deposits amounted to £2,327 : 0 : 2 against average monthly withdrawals of £2,166 : 16 : 11.

3. The number of depositors increased during the period of account by 50 as follows :—

Number of depositors on 30/9/38.	1085
Accounts opened	101
Accounts closed	51
Number of depositors on 31st Dec., 1939	1135.

On 31st December, 1939, the average amount standing to the credit of each depositor was £184 : 1 : 3, or about £86 per head of the population.

4. Accrued interest totalled £6,049 : 4 : 10. The deposits and accrued interest exceeded withdrawals by £8,451 : 13 : 9, leaving a balance of £208,912 : 4 : 10 due to depositors as detailed hereunder :—

Amount standing to credit of depositors 30/9/38.	...	£200,460 : 11 : 1.
Deposits received	...	34,905 : 2 : 9.
Interest credited to depositors' accounts	...	6,049 : 4 : 10.
	Total	£241,414 : 18 : 8.
Less withdrawals	...	32,502 : 13 : 10.
Balance due to depositors on 31st December, 1939	...	£208,912 : 4 : 10.

5. The total sum expended by the Crown Agents, from time to time, under Section 11 (i) of the Ordinance in the purchase of approved securities of a face value of £207,644 : 7 : 8 amounted to £203,590 : 9 : 9. Income from this source amounted to £9,995 : 9 : 11.

6. Appended are statements showing :—

- (i) Nominal value, cost and market value of Investments, held on behalf of the Savings Bank Fund on 31st December, 1939.
- (ii) Monthly summary of transactions.
- (iii) Abstract of Revenue and Expenditure, Deposits and Withdrawals, Investment Adjustment Account, Reserve Account, and statement of Assets and Liabilities at the close of the financial period.

7. It will be observed that the assets of the Savings Bank exceed the liability to depositors by £17,047 : 17 : 7 or 8.16%

8. In accordance with instructions the contingent liability of £4,596 : 17 : 11, appearing in a footnote to the 1938 accounts, was liquidated by transfer of an equivalent sum to Falkland Islands funds

EXPERIMENTS AND DEVELOPMENTS.

The number of men employed by the Department was considerably reduced and work was consequently curtailed and was restricted almost entirely to the care of the various vegetable plots under cultivation. Owing to the extremely cold spring and wet summer the crops of vegetables were very disappointing on all but a few plots such as the hospital garden and the plot in front of the Agricultural Adviser's house. Government House lawn, which was put into potatoes, yielded a total crop of only 25 cwts. i.e. about 4 tons per acre, but this was considerably better than other potato patches such as a plot near Hutchinson's slaughter house which yielded only about 4 cwts. of saleable potatoes from an area of one acre, and a plot of newly broken ground at the quarantine station which yielded still less.

Vegetables have been sold to the total value of £63. 2s. 4d. much of this total being accounted for by sales to the various ships that have visited Stanley. The local demand for fresh vegetables in summer time appears to be very small indeed.

powers enabling Him in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

1. Any person committing an offence against any Defence Regulation in force in any country to which this Order applies, being a Regulation — Reciprocal enforcement of Defence Regulations.

- (a) imposing or providing for the imposition of prohibitions, restrictions or obligations in relation to ships or vessels; or
- (b) authorising the doing of anything in relation to ships or vessels; or
- (c) imposing or providing for the imposition of prohibitions, restrictions or obligations on the owner, charterer, master or person having the possession or management of a ship or vessel, or on a person on board or lawfully engaged to serve on board a ship or vessel ;

may be apprehended, tried and punished for that offence in any other country to which this Order applies as if he had committed an offence against the corresponding Defence Regulation in force in that other country, or if there is no corresponding Regulation in force in that other country, as if he had committed an offence against a Defence Regulation in force in that other country which contains no special provisions as respects the trial and punishment thereof.

2. This Order applies to the United Kingdom and every other country in which Defence Regulations are for the time being in force by virtue of subsection (i) of section four of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939. Countries to which Order applies.

3. (1) This Order may be cited as the Defence Regulations (Reciprocal Enforcement) Order, 1940. Short title and interpretation.

(2) In this Order the expression "country" includes a territory, and the expression "ship or vessel" includes a ship or vessel under construction.

(3) The Interpretation Act, 1889, shall apply to the interpretation of this Order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

BY THE KING

A Proclamation

Specifying the Articles to be treated as Contraband of War in the War with Italy.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS, by reason of a declaration of War by Italy against Us, a state of War exists between Us and Italy :

AND WHEREAS it is necessary to specify the articles which it is Our intention to treat as Contraband of War :

NOW, THEREFORE, We do hereby Declare, by and with the advice of our Privy Council, that during the continuance of the War, or until We do give further public notice, the Proclamation issued on September 3rd, 1939, wherein were specified the articles which it is Our intention to treat as Contraband of War during the continuance of the War with Germany, shall be deemed to specify the articles which it is our intention to treat as Contraband of War during the continuance of the War with Italy.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this eleventh day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty, and in the fourth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

No. 88.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
23rd August, 1940.

The importation of English Bank Notes has been prohibited into the United Kingdom from other parts of the sterling area (except Eira); but notes bought within a Colonial Dependency may be imported when forwarded by the Colonial Control, which in the Falkland Islands is the Financial Secretary.

As a result of the foregoing restriction it is hereby notified that it will be an offence against the Defence Regulations of the Falkland Islands to import into the Falkland Islands Bank of England, Scottish and Northern Ireland Bank notes excepting under licence of the Competent Authority (Financial Secretary).

There are however exempted from this order the import into the Falkland Islands of such notes from Uruguay and Chile and by H.M. Ships.

By Command,
A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

No. 104. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands
14th October, 1940.

It is hereby notified for general information that intimation has been received from the Secretary of State to the effect that His Majesty's Government have been deeply gratified by the many generous financial gifts for the prosecution of the war which are being made from all parts of the Colonial Empire. Such gifts range from sums remitted by Colonial Governments to those sent by small communities and private persons and they present to the world a striking picture of generosity, loyalty and firmness of purpose.

Experience has disclosed some diversity of method in remitting these gifts from the Colonies. For example, some are remitted by the donors via banks to His Majesty's Treasury, and some through Colonial Governments to the Crown Agents.

Some uniformity is desirable in order to lessen and simplify the work entailed and to expedite the sending of telegrams acknowledging the gifts.

The most convenient method is by remittance through the Crown Agents, not only in the case of sums contributed by Colonial Governments, but also, so far as may be found possible, in the case of gifts from private bodies or persons. This arrangement will also make it easier to keep a complete official record of such gifts. The Falkland Islands Government would be grateful therefore if gifts of money from private sources in the Colony (whether for the general prosecution of the war or for specific purposes such as purchase of aircraft) could be paid to the Colonial Government for remittance via the Crown Agents.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that several instances have occurred in recent years in which members of the public have been invited to subscribe towards a presentation to a Government official on his leaving the Colony finally.

Officers are prohibited by Regulation from receiving such presents without the special permission of the Secretary of State previously obtained. The Regulation applies not only to officers themselves but also to members of their families.

As a general rule it is desirable to discourage the collection of subscriptions for a presentation to an officer. Ample recognition can be extended by a memorial or address if the public so desire.

3. After Regulation 33B of the Principal Regulations there shall be inserted the following Regulation :—

“Detention of ships under foreign flags.”

“33C. (1) The Competent Authority, if it appears to that “authority to be necessary or expedient so to do in the interests of “public safety, the defence of the realm or the efficient prosecution “of the war or for maintaining supplies and services essential to the “life of the community, may give directions

“(a) as respects any class of ships or aircraft in the Col“ony, that no ship or aircraft of that class shall leave “any port or place in the Colony at which it may be.

“(b) as respects any particular ships or aircraft at any “port or place in the Colony that the ships or aircraft “shall not leave that port or place, except with per“mission granted by such authority or person as may “be specified in the directions.

“(2) If any ship or aircraft leave or attempts to leave any “port or place in contravention of an order made under this Regula“tion the master of the ship or the pilot of the aircraft, as the case “may be, shall be guilty of an offence against this Regulation.

“(3) Any person acting on behalf of His Majesty may, in “relation to any ship or aircraft, take such steps and use such force,
“as may appear to that person to be reasonably necessary for securing “compliance with any order under this Regulation relating to the “ship or aircraft, or, where an offence against this Regulation has “occurred in the case of the ship or aircraft, for enabling proceedings “in respect of the offence to be effectually taken.”

4. For Regulation 36 of the Principal Regulations there shall be substituted the following Regulation :—

“Desertion from ships.
&c.”

“36. (1) No person lawfully engaged to serve on board “any ship to which this Regulation applies shall —

“(a) neglect or refuse without reasonable cause to join his “ship or to proceed to sea in his ship; or “(b) desert or be absent without leave from his ship; or “(c) be absent without leave from his duty at any time.

“(2) Nothing in the foregoing provisions of this Regulation “shall be taken to prejudice the provisions of section two hundred “and twenty-one of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, relating to “forfeiture of effects or wages for desertion or absence without leave.

“(3) Where an authorised officer has reason to believe that any person has, in the Colony, contravened the provisions of paragraph (1) of this Regulation, that person may be conveyed on board his ship by or under the direction of that officer.

“(4) For the purpose of the last foregoing paragraph the following persons shall be authorised officers, that is to say, the master of the ship, any mate of the ship, the person having the management of the ship, any constable, any commissioned officer in His Majesty’s forces and any superintendent within the meaning of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

“(5) In relation to ships to which this Regulation applies, the last two foregoing paragraphs shall have effect –

“(a) in the case of a British ship, in substitution for the provisions of section two hundred and twenty-one of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894; and

“(b) in the case of a ship belonging to a subject of a foreign country to which section two-hundred and thirty-eight of that Act for the time being applies, in substitution for the provisions of subsections (2) and (3) of that section.

“(6) No person lawfully engaged to serve on board any ship to which this Regulation applies, shall join his ship, or be whilst on board his ship, in a state of drunkenness so that the performance of his duties or the navigation of the ship is thereby impeded.

“(7) The ships to which this Regulation applies are –

“(a) every ship belonging to His Majesty and every ship, whether British or foreign, chartered or requisitioned by or on behalf of His Majesty; and

“(b) every ship in respect of which there is for the time being in force a licence granted in pursuance of an order made under Regulation forty-six of these Regulations.”

Dated this fourth day of October, 1940.

By Command,

A Bill

To amend the Income Tax Ordinance, 1939, as amended by the Income Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Income Tax (Amendment, No. 2) Ordinance, 1940, and shall be read and construed as one with the Income Tax Ordinance, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance) as amended by the Income Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940.

Short Title.

2. Sub-section (1) of Section 4 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of the word "such" in line 5.

Amendment of Section 4 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

3. Section 8 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of sub-section (a) and the substitution therefor of the following subsection.

Amendment of Section 8 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

"(a) The official emoluments received by the Officer Administering the Government during the period in which he is administering the Government and the emoluments drawn by the Governor himself while on leave".

4. Section 18 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the insertion of the following additional sub-sections:—

Amendment of Section 18 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

"(c) In the case of a shipowner, the gains or profits of his business as a shipowner, shall, if he produces or causes to be produced to the Commissioner the certificate mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section, be taken to be a sum bearing the same ratio to the sums payable in respect of fares or freight for passengers, goods or mails shipped in the Colony as his total profits for the relevant accounting period shown by that Certificate bear to the gross earnings for that period.

- (d) The certificate shall be a certificate by the Taxing Authority of the place in which the principal place of business of the shipowner is situated and shall state-
- (1) that the shipowner has furnished to the satisfaction of that Authority account of the whole of his business; and
 - (2) the ratio of the gains or profits for the relevant accounting period as computed according to the Income Tax law of that place (after deducting interest on any money borrowed and employed in acquiring the gains and profits) to the gross earnings of the shipowner's fleet or vessel for that period.
- (e) If the gains or profits of a shipowner have for the purpose of assessment in the Colony under this Ordinance been computed on any basis other than the ratio of the gains or profits shown by a Certificate as aforesaid and an assessment has been made accordingly, the shipowner shall upon production of such a certificate at any time within two years from the end of the year of assessment be entitled to such adjustment as may be necessary to give effect to the said certificate and to have any tax paid in excess refunded.
- (f) In this section the expression "shipowner" means means an owner or charterer of ships whose principal place of business is situated outside the Colony, but in a part of His Majesty's protection."

Amendment of Section 43 of Ordinance No. 20 of 1939.

5. Section 43 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the insertion of the following additional sub-section:-

"(11) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) of Section 49 of this Ordinance if the Judge is satisfied that tax in accordance with his decision upon the appeal may not be recovered the Judge may require the appellant forthwith to furnish such security for payment of the tax, if any, which may become payable by the appellant as may seem to the Judge to be proper. If such security is not given the tax assessed shall become payable forthwith and shall be recoverable in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance."

Addition of new Section.

6. The following section shall be inserted in the Principal Ordinance as Section 47a :-

"Time limit for repayment of clauses.

47a. A claim for relief under Section 46 or Section 47 of this Ordinance shall be made within two years from the end of the year of assessment to which it relates:

Provided that such a claim, though not made within the said period of two years, shall be admitted if made within six years from the end of the said year and within six months from the date upon which the relevant amount of United Kingdom income tax or of Empire income tax, as the case may be, has been ascertained."

7. The following Section shall be inserted in the Principal Ordinance as Section 54A:—

Addition of new Section.

"Fugitive"
tax-payers.

54A. (1) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that a person who has been assessed to tax may leave the Colony before such tax becomes payable under the provisions of Section 50 or Section 52 of this Ordinance without having paid such tax he may by notice in writing to such person demand payment of such tax within the time to be limited in such notice. Such tax shall thereupon be payable at the expiration of the time so limited and shall in default of payment unless security for payment thereof be given to the satisfaction of the Commissioner be recoverable forthwith in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance.

(2) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that tax upon any chargeable income may not be recovered he may at any time and as the case may require:—

- (a) forthwith by notice in writing require any person to make a return and to furnish particulars of any such income within the time to be specified in such notice.
- (b) make an assessment upon such person in the amount of the income returned or if default is made in making such return or the Commissioner is dissatisfied with such return in such amount as the Commissioner may think reasonable;
- (c) by notice in writing to the person assessed require that security for the payment of the tax assessed be forthwith given to his satisfaction.

(3) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that tax upon any income which would upon the issue of a proclamation imposing tax for any year of assessment become chargeable to such tax may not be recovered he may at any time:—

- (a) by notice in writing to the person by whom the tax would be payable determine a period for which tax shall be charged and require such person to render within the time specified therein returns and particulars of such income for that period;
- (b) make an assessment upon such person in the amount of the income returned or if default is made in making a return or the Commissioner is dissatisfied with such return in such amount as the Commissioner may think reasonable. Such assessment shall be made at the rate of tax imposed by the past preceding proclamation.

(4) Notice of any assessment made in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall be given to the person assessed, and any tax so assessed (in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section) shall be payable on demand made in writing under the hand of the Commissioner and shall in default of payment unless security for the payment thereof be given to the satisfaction of the Commissioner be recoverable forthwith in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance.

(5) Any person who has paid the tax in accordance with a demand made by the Commissioner or who has given security for such payment under sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall have the rights of objection and appeal conferred by Sections 42 and 43 of this Ordinance and the amount paid by him shall be adjusted in accordance with the result of any such objection or appeal.

(6) The provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall not affect the powers conferred upon the Commissioner by Section 39 of this Ordinance."

Passed by the Legislative Council this day of 1940.

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public
Seal of the Colony this day of 1940.

Colonial Secretary.

A Bill

To amend the Pensions Ordinance, 1937.

Enacting Clause.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

Short Title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as "The Pensions (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940" and shall be read and construed as one with the Pensions Ordinance, 1937, hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.

Repeal of Section 19
1937.

2. Section 19 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby repealed and in place thereof the following Section shall have effect:—

Pensions to dependants when an officer is killed
on duty.

19. (1) Where an officer dies as a result of injuries received :—

- (a) in the actual discharge of his duty, and
- (b) without his own default, and
- (c) on account of circumstances specifically attributable to the nature of his duty, while in the service of the Government of the Colony, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to grant, in addition to the grant, if any, made to his legal personal representative under Section 16 of this Ordinance :

- (i) if the deceased officer leaves a widow, a pension to her, while unmarried and of good character, at a rate not exceeding ten sixtieths of his annual pensionable emoluments at the date of the injury or fifteen pounds a year, whichever is the greater;
- (ii) if the deceased officer leaves a widow to whom a pension is granted under the preceding paragraph and a child or children, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of an amount not exceeding one eighth of the pension prescribed under the preceding paragraph;

- (iii) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children, but does not leave a widow or no pension is granted to the widow, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of double the amount prescribed by the preceding paragraph;
- (iv) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children and a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (i) of this subsection, and the widow subsequently dies, a pension in respect of each child as from the date of the death of the widow until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of double the amount prescribed in paragraph (ii) of this subsection;
- (v) if the deceased officer does not leave a widow, or if no pension is granted to his widow, and if his mother was wholly or mainly dependent on him for her support, a pension to the mother, while of good character and without adequate means of support, of an amount not exceeding the pension which might have been granted to his widow;

Provided that—

- A. pension shall not be payable under this paragraph at any time in respect of more than six children; and
- B. in the case of a pension granted under paragraph (v) of this subsection if the mother is a widow at the time of the grant of the pension and subsequently remarries such pension shall cease as from the date of re-marriage; and if it appears to the Secretary of State at any time that the mother is adequately provided with other means of support, such pension shall cease as from such date as the Secretary of State may determine;
- C. a pension granted to a female child under this section shall cease upon the marriage of such child under the age of eighteen years;
- D. No pension shall be granted under this section in cases where the dependants of a deceased officer receive compensation under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Ordinance, 1937;

(2) In the case of an officer not holding a pensionable office, the expression "pensionable emoluments" in the preceding subsection shall mean the emoluments enjoyed by him which would have been pensionable emoluments if the office held by him had been a pensionable office.

(3) For the purposes of this section the word "child" shall include:

- (a) a posthumous child;
- (b) a step-child or illegitimate child born before the date of the injury and wholly or mainly dependent upon the deceased officer for support, and

- (c) an adopted child, adopted in a manner recognised by law, before the date of the injury, and dependent as aforesaid.

(4) If an officer proceeding by a route approved by the Governor to or from the Colony at the commencement or termination of his service therein or of a period of leave therefrom, dies as the result of damage to the vessel or vehicle in which he is travelling or of any act of violence directed against such vessel or vehicle, and the Governor is satisfied that such damage or act is attributable to circumstances arising out of war which His Majesty may be engaged, such officer shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have died in the circumstances described in subsection (1) of this section.

Passed by the Legislative Council this day of , 1940.

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public
Seal of the Colony this day of , 1940.

Colonial Secretary.

A Bill

To amend the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Trading with the Enemy (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940, and shall be read and construed as one with the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.)

Short Title.

2. (1) In subsection (1) of Section 2 of the Principal Ordinance after the words "any person who trades with" there shall be inserted the words "or attempts to trade with," and after paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of that Section there shall be inserted the words "And any reference in this Ordinance to an attempt to trade with the enemy shall be construed accordingly."

Trading with the enemy.

(2) Proceedings in respect of an offence of trading with the enemy alleged to have been committed by any person may be taken before the appropriate court in the Colony having jurisdiction in the place where that person is for the time being.

(3) The following subsection shall be inserted after subsection (3) of Section 2 of the Principal Ordinance:—

"(3a) In any proceedings for an offence of trading with the enemy, the fact that any document has been despatched addressed to a person in enemy territory shall, unless the contrary is proved, be evidence, as against any person who was a party to the despatch of the document, that the person to whom the document was despatched was an enemy."

Amendment of Section 3 of Ordinance No. 18 of 1939.

3. Subsection (1) of Section 3 of the Principal Ordinance shall be amended as follows:-

- (a) At the end of paragraph (c) the word "or" shall be omitted and after paragraph (d) there shall be inserted the following words:-

"and

(e) as respects any business carried on in enemy territory, any individual or body of persons (whether corporate or unincorporate) carrying on that business;"

- (b) for the words "does not include any person by reason only that he is an enemy subject" there shall be substituted the words "does not include any individual by reason only that he is an enemy subject."

Control of Businesses.

4. After Section 4 of the Principal Ordinance there shall be inserted the following Section:-

"Power to control and wind up businesses."

4a. (1) Where any business is being carried on in the Colony by, or on behalf of, or under the direction of, persons all or any of whom are enemies or enemy subjects or appear to the Governor to be associated with enemies, the Governor may, if he thinks it expedient so to do, make-

- (a) an order (hereafter in this section referred to as a "restriction order") prohibiting the carrying on the business either absolutely or except for such purposes and subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order; or
- (b) an order (hereafter in this section referred to as a "winding up order") requiring the business to be wound up, and the making of a restriction order as respects any business shall not prejudice the power of the Governor if he thinks it expedient so to do, at any subsequent date to make a winding up order as respects that business.

(2) Where an order under subsection (1) of this section is made as respects any business, the Governor may, by that or a subsequent order, appoint a controller to control and supervise the carrying out of the order, and in the case of a winding up order, to conduct the winding up of the business, and may confer on the controller any such powers in relation to the business as are exercisable by a liquidator in the voluntary winding up of a company in relation to the company (including power in the name of the person carrying on the business or in his own name, and by deed or otherwise, to convey or transfer any property, and power to apply to the court to determine any question arising in the carrying out of the order), and may by the order confer on the controller such other powers as the Governor thinks necessary or convenient for the purpose of giving full effect to the order.

(3) Where a restriction order or a winding up order is made as respects any business, the distribution of any assets of the business which are distributed while the order is in force shall be subject to the same rules as to preferential payments as are applicable to the distribution of the assets of a company which is being wound up, and the said assets of the business shall, so far as they are available for discharging unsecured debts be applied in discharging unsecured debts due to creditors of the business who are not enemies in priority to unsecured debts due to any other creditors, and any balance, after providing for the discharge of all liabilities of the business, shall be distributed among the persons interested in the business in such manner as the Governor may direct:

Provided that the provisions of this subsection shall, in their application to the distribution of any money or other property which would, in accordance with those provisions, fall to be paid or transferred to an enemy, whether as a creditor or otherwise, have effect subject to the provisions of section eight of this Ordinance (which relates to the collection of enemy debts and the custody of enemy property) and of any order made under that section.

(4) Where any business for which a controller has been appointed under this section has assets in enemy territory, the controller shall, if in his opinion it is practicable so to do, cause an estimate to be prepared—

- (a) of the value of those assets;
- (b) of the amount of any liabilities of the business to creditors, whether secured or unsecured who are enemies;
- (c) of the amount of the claims of persons who are enemies to participate, otherwise than as creditors of the business, in any distribution of assets of the business made while an order under subsection (1) of this section is in force as respects the business;

and, where such an estimate is made, the said liabilities and claims shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been satisfied out of the said assets of the business in enemy territory, or to have been satisfied thereout so far as those assets will go, and only the balance (if any) shall rank for satisfaction out of the other assets of the business:

(5) Where an estimate has been prepared under the last preceding subsection, a certificate of the controller as to the value or amount of any assets, claims or liabilities to which the estimate relates shall be conclusive for the purpose of determining the amount of the assets of the business available for discharging the other liabilities of the business and for distribution amongst other persons claiming to be interested in the business.

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall affect the rights of creditors of, and other persons interested in the business against the assets of the business in enemy territory.

(6) The Governor may, on an application made by the controller appointed under this section, after considering the application and any objections which may be made by any person who appears to him to be interested, by order grant the controller a release, and an order of the Governor under this subsection shall discharge the controller from all liability in respect of any act done or default made by him in the exercise and performance of his powers and duties as controller; but any such order may be revoked by the Governor on proof that it was obtained by fraud or by suppression or concealment of any material fact.

(7) If any person contravenes, or fails to comply with, the provisions of any order made under subsection (1) of this section, he shall be guilty of an offence of trading with the enemy.

(8) Where an order under subsection (1) of this section has been made as respects a business carried on by any individuals or by a company, no bankruptcy petition, or petition for sequestration or summary sequestration against the individuals, or petition for the winding up of the company, shall be presented, or resolution for the winding up of the company passed, or steps for the enforcement of the rights of any creditors of the individuals or company taken without the consent of the Governor, but where the business is carried on by a company the controller may present a petition for the winding up of the company by the court, and the making of an order under this section shall be a ground on which the company may be wound up by the court.

(9) Where an order is made under this section appointing a controller for any business, any remuneration of, and any costs, charges and expenses incurred by, the controller, and any other costs, charges and expenses incurred in connection with the control and supervision of the carrying out of the order, shall, to such amount as may be certified by the custodian of enemy property, be defrayed out of the assets of the business, and as from the date of the certificate, be charged on those assets in priority to any other charges thereon."

Provisions as to custodians.

5. (1) The rights, powers, duties and liabilities which may be conferred and imposed by the Governor on custodians of enemy property under subsection 1 of section 8 of the Principal Ordinance shall, where it appears to the Governor that it is expedient that any business should be carried on or continue to be carried on in or from the Colony, include such rights, powers, duties and liabilities as respects the property and money mentioned in paragraph (d) of the said subsection (1) as, in the opinion of the Governor, are necessary or expedient in order to enable that business so to be carried on.

(2) The power of the Governor under the said subsection (1) shall include power, where a custodian dies or for any other reason ceases to hold office as such, by order to vest in his successor any property or right which was vested in the first mentioned custodian at the time of his dying or ceasing to hold office.

Repeal of Sections 6
and 9 of Ordinance.
No. 18 of 1939.

6. Sections 6 and 9 of the Principal Ordinance which relate to (a) transfer and allotment of securities and (b) provisions with respect to money payable to, or received by, a Clearing Office, are hereby repealed.

Certain areas to be treated as enemy territory.

7. After subsection 1 of Section 14 of the Principal Ordinance there shall be inserted the following subsection:-

"(1a) The Governor may, by order direct that the provisions of this Ordinance shall apply in relation to any area specified in the order as they

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following order made by His Majesty in Council, under Sections 5 and 6 of the Visiting Forces (British Commonwealth) Act, 1933.

By Command,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 169/40.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 24th day of July, 1940

Present.

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by subsections (1) and (2) of Section 5 of the Visiting Forces (British Commonwealth) Act, 1933 (hereinafter called "the Act"), it is provided that His Majesty may as regards any Colony by Order in Council direct that the provisions of sections one to three of the Act, or such of those provisions as may be specified in the Order, shall, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be so specified, apply in that Colony in relation to forces visiting that Colony and in relation to deserters and absentees without leave, as they apply in the United Kingdom; and that His Majesty may as regards any Colony by Order in Council direct that the provisions of section four of the Act shall, with such exceptions and subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the Order, apply in relation to all or any of the forces raised in that Colony, and in relation to officers and members thereof, as they apply in relation to home forces and officers and members thereof:

AND WHEREAS by virtue of subsection (3) of section five and section six of the Act the powers aforesaid may likewise be exercised in respect of any territory which is under His Majesty's protection, including any territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations is being exercised by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom:

NOW, THEREFORE, His Majesty, in pursuance of sections five and six of the Act and of all other powers enabling Him in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. This Order may be cited as the Visiting Forces (British Commonwealth) (Application to the Colonies, etc.) Order in Council, 1940. Short Title.

2. (1) In this Order—

Interpretation, etc.

“Territory” means a territory mentioned in the First Schedule to this Order; and in the application of the Act under this Order to any territory “the territory” means that territory;

“Governor”, in relation to any territory, means the person administering the government of the territory or, in the case of Zanzibar, the British Resident or the person lawfully discharging his functions;

“Colonial forces” means, in relation to any territory any naval, military, or air forces raised in the territory, including any police force or other body raised therein which, by virtue of any law in force in the territory, has become a naval, military or air force; and “Colonial force” includes any body, contingent or detachment of any Colonial forces, wherever serving:

Provided that where any Colonial forces or force raised in one territory shall be present in some other territory, such forces or force shall, for the purposes of this definition in so far as it relates to sections one to three of the Act as applied by this Order, be deemed to have been raised in that other territory.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Order, sections one to four of the Act as applied by this Order shall be construed in accordance with the provisions of section eight of the Act, except that—

- (a) the definition of “visiting force” shall have effect as if for the words “with the consent of His Majesty’s Government in the United Kingdom lawfully present in the United Kingdom” there were substituted the words “lawfully present in the territory”; and
- (b) the definition of “member” shall have effect as if the word “territory” were substituted for the words “United Kingdom”.

(3) An Order under the Act as applied by this Order may be revoked or varied by a subsequent Order.

(4) The Interpretation Act, 1889, shall apply for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. Sections one, two and three of the Act shall, subject to the adaptations and modifications specified in Article 2 and the Second Schedule to this Order, apply in each territory in relation to forces visiting the territory and in relation to deserters and absentees without leave, as they apply in the United Kingdom.

Application of Sections 1 to 3 of the Act.

4. Section 4 of the Act shall, subject to the adaptations and modifications specified in Article 2 and the Third Schedule to this Order, apply in relation to Colonial forces raised in any territory and in relation to officers and members thereof, as they apply in relation to home forces as defined in the Act and officers and members thereof.

Application of Section 4 of the Act.

Nett result of Year's working - Decrease of Assets	£19,132 : 1 : 9
--	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----------------

3. It will be observed that Ordinary Revenue was less than Ordinary Expenditure by £1429 : 3 : 6. Total expenditure chargeable to revenue, however, created a nett deficit of £16,170 : 4 : 3. Details thereof are given later in this report.

4. The decrease in the Surplus of Assets is accounted for in the main by (i) the extraordinary expenditure (£11,986) on Military & War services during the period September - December, 1939, and (ii) the depreciation of Investments amounting to £6,614.

5. DEPENDENCIES. Ordinary Revenue amounted to £13,737 : 15 : 6, or £1,917 : 4 : 6 less than estimated, expenditure corresponds with the actual revenue.

6. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES PROVIDENT FUND. At the close of the year the assets of the Government Employees' Provident Fund amounted to £6,682 : 9 : 1 against liabilities (amount due to depositors) of £6,687 : 12 : 8; the excess of liabilities, viz £5 : 3 : 7 is explained in the detailed report already submitted to you.

7. GEORGIA MARINE INSURANCE FUND. The balance of the Fund stood at £392 : 19 : 0, an increase of £199 : 16 : 0 on the figure for 1938, and is accounted for by the annual credit of £187, plus the capitalised interest on investments.

8. GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK. A detailed report of the transactions of the Savings Bank Fund has been rendered. The period of accounting was altered by Savings Bank (Amendment) Ordinance, 1939, to coincide with the Colony's Financial year, and this was effected during 1939.

The balance on the 31st December, 1939, was £225,960 : 2 : 5 made up as follows:—

Due to depositors	£208,912 : 4 : 10
Reserve	17,047 : 17 : 7
	£225,960 : 2 : 5

The Reserve it will be noted represents approximately 8% of the sum due to depositors.

9. NOTE SECURITY FUND. The Fund's assets were £28,000 at the close of the year and fully covered the note issue amounting to £25,000, as well as contingent liabilities. A detailed report of the Commissioner's transactions has been rendered in conformity with the Currency Notes Ordinance, 1930.

10. THE DEPENDENCIES RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT FUND. The balance of the Fund was £176,205 : 12 : 7 as detailed hereunder:—

Balance — 1st January, 1939 £200,666 : 17 : 5

Receipts.

Interest on Investments 8,323 : 12 : 0

£208,990 : 9 : 5

Improvement of Grasslands (Honorarium, Report and Incidental Expenses) £ 314 : 3 : 11

Stock Investigation 3,300 : 0 : 0

Refund of land purchase 50 : 0 : 0

£ 3,664 : 3 : 11

Balance 31/12/39. £268,918 : 3 : 10

13. FARM AND BUILDING LOANS. On the 1st January, 1939 the balance outstanding was £3,357 : 13 : 4. Repayments during the year amounted to £856 : 6 : 8, leaving a balance of £2,501 : 6 : 8. Interest received and credited to Revenue totalled £128 : 9 : 9.

14. INVESTMENTS. In accordance with Col. Reg. 275 the Colony's investments were revalued at the current middle market prices in London at the close of the year, and resulted in a total depreciation of £6,614 : 9 : 8. This sum was debited to General Revenue Balance Account.

Similarly investments held on behalf of the Funds were written down by £9,386 : 2 : 9, the respective Funds bearing the charge.

The following table summarises the depreciation and the Funds affected :—

Colony's Investments.

Land Sales Fund	£5,543 : 14 : 7
Georgia Marine Insurance Fund	11 : 0 : 9
Reserve Fund	1,059 : 14 : 4
		£6,614 : 9 : 8

Note Security Fund	697 : 11 : 8
		£9,386 : 2 : 9

Total depreciation	£16,000 : 12 : 5
--------------------	-----	-----	-----	-----	------------------

Statements of the nominal and market value of all investments accompany this report.

15. COLONIAL DEVELOPMENT FUND. There was received during the year the sum of £145 to complete the free grant made from the Colonial Development Fund towards the cost of "Improvements to Grasslands" and the published report thereon.

The charges in respect of the report, including incidental expenses, amounted to £314 : 3 : 11 and were debited direct to Land Sales Fund; the grant quoted above was therefore credited to the latter as a reimbursement.

A detailed statement of the expenditure on the above service, from its inauguration in 1937 to date, is submitted herewith.

16. Appended is an abstract of Falkland Islands and Dependencies Expenditure for the year 1939. Comparative Statements of Revenue and Expenditure have already been furnished, while the statements required by Colonial Regulations 323 and 354 are submitted herewith.

17. The following table shows the trend of the Colony's Revenue and Expenditure during the past five years:—

Head IX. MISCELLANEOUS. Over by £1,627 : 3 : 1. The principal excesses and the causes thereof are as follows :—

Sub-head 7. Savings Bank — over by £971 : 17 : 11. Due to the repayment of advance of £4,596 : 17 : 11 made in 1937.

Sub-head 17. Profit on Sale of Stock — £907 : 14 : 5. A new item due to profits £421 : 17 : 7 and £485 : 16 : 10 on sales of stock ex Land Sales and Reserve Funds respectively.

The total excess on this Head was £2,046 : 4 : 3, reduced to £1,627 : 3 : 1 by yields less than the Estimates on other sub-heads.

Head X. CONTRIBUTION FROM DEPENDENCIES. Over by £570 : 18 : 2. This excess was occasioned by the payment in 1939 of the shortfall of £2,851 : 9 : 5 in 1938. It should be noted, however, that the Dependencies' Revenue was insufficient to meet the approved contribution for 1939 by the sum of £2,280 : 11 : 3.

"UNDER" THE ESTIMATES.

Head I. CUSTOMS — Under by £1,330 : 6 : 4. (a) Under Import Duties shortfalls were recorded as follows :—

(i) Wine £120 : 15 : 8; (ii) Malt £126 : 13 : 3; (iii) Spirits £794 : 12 : 4. and are due in the cases of (i) and (iii) to a diminution in importations of approximately 50% as compared with the previous year. With regard to (ii) a shipment of beer which arrived at the end of the year was not cleared until 1940; the duty thereon would have resulted in the Estimate being exceeded by nearly £70.

(b) Export duties. Under by £558 : 12 : 1.

(i) Wool — Under by £406 : 5 : 0. The shortfall can be attributed to the fact that the usual shipment in the last quarter of the year was not made in 1939.

(ii) Seal Oil — Under by £152 : 7 : 1. The estimate was unrealisable on two counts (a) the disappointing oil yield, and (b) the unavoidable curtailment of the sealing season.

Actually the total shortfall under the Head was £1,600 : 13 : 4, which was reduced by an excess on "Tobacco" of £270 : 7 : 0 to the figure quoted above.

Head III. INTERNAL REVENUE – Under by £253 : 16 : 11. The principal shortfall is £207 in respect of “Stanley Rates” over-estimated at £1,080.

Head IV. FEES, &c. – Under by £691 : 17 : 10. Due mainly to shortfalls of £413 : 11 : 2 and £185 : 7 : 5 under “Supreme Court” and “Hospital & Medical” respectively. The latter is a consequence of the increased number of people entitled to free medical treatment.

Head V. INTEREST. Under by £409 : 7 : 7. Revenue under Sub-head 1, Land Sales Fund yielded £1,127 : 3 : 4 less than estimated, in consequence of the redemption of stocks and the re-investment of the proceeds at lower rates of interest.

Excesses of £187 : 15 : 10 and £597 : 1 : 3 on sub-heads “Note Security Fund” and “Joint Colonial Fund” respectively reduced the shortfall to the figure given above.

Head VI. POST OFFICE – Under by £1,311 : 16 : 1. The shortfall is more than accounted for by sub-head 1, “Sale of Stamps” which realised £1,319 : 16 : 11 less than the Estimate of £2,500.

20. EXPENDITURE. Expenditure totalled £70,758 : 15 : 6 or £15,638 : 15 : 6 more than the Estimate as follows :—

21. The following explanations of the main excesses and savings are submitted :—

I. PENSIONS – Excess £388 : 10 : 10. Unestimated amounts of gratuities and pensions of officers retired during the year.

V. AUDIT. Nett Excess £103 : 18 : 7. An excess of £105 : 8 : 7 represents half the cost of the visit of the Assistant Director of Colonial Audit – unestimated, and is reduced to the nett excess by a saving of £1 : 10 : 0 on Contribution to Central Audit Office.

VII. ELECTRICAL & TELEGRAPHS – Excess £262 : 17 : 7. Excesses due to war requirements were recorded on the following sub-heads :— 2, Maintenance of W/T Station £204 : 19 : 3; 3, Telephones £152 : 1 : 11 and Extra Operating Assistance £70 : 12 : 3. A saving of £152 : 16 : 10 under 5, Electric Lighting, reduced the total excess to the figure of £262 : 17 : 7.

IX. LEGAL. Excess £127 : 2 : 7. Due to unforeseen transport charges under sub-head "2 Court & Coroner's expenses".

XVI. AGRICULTURE. Excess £2,104 : 16 : 9. The main excesses occur under sub-heads '6 Labour' £2268 : 14 : 9; and 'Purchase of Stock' (new item - unestimated) £210 : 0 : 6, and are in pursuance of the Government's approved agricultural policy, as well as providing full time employment of labour. Sundry savings of £488 : 0 : 7 reduced the over-expenditure of £2,592 : 17 : 4 to the nett figure of £2104 : 16 : 9.

XVII. MISCELLANEOUS. Excess £1,316 : 2 : 10. Over-expenditure on this Head amounted to £1,953 : 10 : 7 with savings of £637 : 7 : 9. The main contributory causes are as follows:-

Sub-head.		Cause.
Telegrams	£ 225 : 7 : 2	Generally increased traffic during the last quarter of the year.
Charitable Relief	177 : 7 : 5	Increased grants & additional charges.
Provident Fund	480 : 15 : 10	Bonus on unforeseen payments of arrears of contributions.
Note Security Fund	874 : 2 : 8	To provide legal cover for Note Issue as a consequence mainly of depreciation of investments.

XX. PUBLIC WORKS EXTRAORDINARY. Nett Excess £692 : 10 : 3 caused (i) by additional provision for 'Improved sanitation of workmens dwellings' £212 : 5 : 9, and 'Secretariat' £513 : 15 : 0; (ii) new works undertaken in the last quarter of the year, 'Roads to Peat Banks' £366 : 5 : 6, 'Alterations to W/T Station' £78 : 4 : 0, 'Erection of Canopus Hut' £250.

Savings on works partly undertaken or abandoned during the course of the year amounted to £748 : 14 : 9 and so reduced the over-expenditure of £1441 : 5 : 0 to £692 : 10 : 3.

XXI. MILITARY & WAR. New Head. Expenditure £11985 : 10 : 6.

Occasioned by the outbreak of hostilities. An analysis of the expenditure is given hereunder:-

Transport	£ 779 : 3 : 0
Buildings	1,446 : 16 : 10
Pay & allowances	6,990 : 14 : 9
Defence Works	883 : 5 : 2
Miscellaneous Stores	1,328 : 13 : 5
Evacuation Service	556 : 17 : 4
Total	£11985 : 10 : 6

SAVINGS.

III. COLONIAL SECRETARY. Nett. £181 : 0 : 5 Savings mainly under "Personal Emoluments" in consequence of the employment of Officers on military service.

IV. TREASURY AND CUSTOMS. Nett. £319 : 18 : 3 Gross savings on this Vote amounted to £579 : 9 : 5, of which the greater portion represented "Personal Emoluments" a consequence of the vacancy in the post of Financial Secretary. An excess of £259 : 11 : 2 on sub-head "Customs Drawbacks", due to refunds of duty on stores shipped for H. M. service, reduced the savings to the figure given above.

XI. MEDICAL. Nett £275 : 2 : 3. Gross Savings amounted to £563 : 15 : 8; the principal item being £443 : 4 : 11 under sub-head "Nutrition". Excesses on sundry sub-heads reduced the savings to £275 : 2 : 3.

XVII. PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT. Nett £225 : 5 : 8. Savings effected as a result of vacancy in post of Executive Engineer not filled until late in the year.

XIX. PUBLIC WORKS RECURRENT. Nett Saving £372 : 10 : 0. Excesses on this vote totalled £615 : 17 : 0, against actual savings of £148 : 0 : 8. The principal excesses and savings are as follows:—

EXCESSES. 1 Roads Bridges and Drains £108 : 9 : 6, Repairs Govt. Buildings £112 : 12 : 1, Furniture Govt. Buildings £117 : 4 : 4, Upkeep of Motor transport £75 : 6 : 0, Peat Supply £50, Light and fuel Govt. Buildings £115 : 15 : 1.

SAVINGS. Sanitary Service £11 : 17 : 3, Furniture Govt. House, £32 : 2 : 9, Upkeep of Navigation Lights £18 : 12 : 5, and Purchase of Stores £50,. A credit to 20. Purchase of Stores, of £840 : 6 : 4, being the value of stores purchased in previous years and issued in the year under review converted an over expenditure of £467 : 16 : 4 into a nett saving on the vote of £372 : 10 : 0.

Dependencies.

22. REVENUE. Estimated £15,655 – Actual £13,737 : 15 : 6. Shortfalls exceeded Excesses by £1917 : 4 : 6. The principal shortfalls and excesses are given hereunder:—

SHORTFALLS.

EXPORT DUTIES. Whale and Seal oil £2,942 : 15 : 1; Guano £740 : 12 : 5; Internal Revenue – Whaling licences £600, Rents (Crown Lands) £700.

EXCESSES. Imports Tobacco £68 : 15 : 9; Tonnage dues £80; Shipping £110 : 14 : 2; Receipt from Research Fund (Arrears of Contribution from Dependencies to cost of Central Administration 1938) £2,851 : 9 : 5. In general, excluding the receipt from the Research Fund in respect of Arrears in 1938 of the Contribution to the Central Administration, it would seem that conditions in the Dependencies changed little from those obtaining in 1938 as is evidenced by the following comparative statement:—

I. CUSTOMS DUTIES.

(a) Imports.	582 : 15 : 5	548 : 11 : 7
(b) Exports.	8,116 : 12 : 6	8,326 : 7 : 2
2. Port Duties.	280 : 0 : 0	200 : 0 : 0
3. Internal Revenue.	557 : 15 : 0	510 : 15 : 0
4. Fees & c.	549 : 3 : 2	528 : 10 : 6
5. Rents.	800 : 0 : 0	502 : 0 : 0
	£10,886 : 6 : 1	£10,616 : 4 : 3

EXPENDITURE. The estimated expenditure was £13,024 as against Actual £13,737 : 15 : 6. Ignoring the contra entry of £2,851 : 9 : 5 above referred to actual expenditure on general services in 1939 was £10,886 : 6 : 1 as compared with £10,616 : 4 : 3 in 1938, or equivalent to actual revenue.

Over expenditures on the several Heads exceeded shortfalls by £713 : 15 : 6 as shewn by the following table:—

It will be observed that the principal item in "Over" and "Under" concerns the contribution to the Central Administration, reference has already been made to the former, while the latter is due to the insufficiency of revenue to meet the charge. Legislation for the appropriation of this sum (£2,280 : 11 : 3) has been introduced.

23. Detailed statements of Revenue and Expenditure, together with explanations of excesses, have already been furnished.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. D. A. JONES,

for Financial Secretary.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 8 of 1940.

I ASSENT,

H. HENNIKER HEATON,

Governor.

28th November, 1940.

An Ordinance

To amend the Income Tax Ordinance, 1939, as amended by the Income Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Income Tax (Amendment, No. 2) Ordinance, 1940, and shall be read and construed as one with the Income Tax Ordinance, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance) as amended by the Income Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940.

Short Title.

2. Sub-section (1) of Section 4 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of the word "such" in line 5.

Amendment of Section 4 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

3. Section 8 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of sub-section (a) and the substitution therefor of the following subsection.

Amendment of Section 8 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

"(a) The official emoluments received by the Officer Administering the Government during the period in which he is administering the Government and the emoluments drawn by the Governor himself while on leave".

4. Section 18 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the insertion of the following additional sub-sections:—

Amendment of Section 18 of Ordinance. No. 20 of 1939.

"(c) In the case of a shipowner, the gains or profits of his business as a shipowner, shall, if he produces or causes to be produced to the Commissioner the certificate mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section, be taken to be a sum bearing the same ratio to the sums payable in respect of fares or freight for passengers, goods or mails shipped in the Colony as his total profits for the relevant accounting period shown by that Certificate bear to the gross earnings for that period.

- (d) The certificate shall be a certificate by the Taxing Authority of the place in which the principal place of business of the shipowner is situated and shall state-
 - (1) that the shipowner has furnished to the satisfaction of that Authority account of the whole of his business; and
 - (2) the ratio of the gains or profits for the relevant accounting period as computed according to the Income Tax law of that place (after deducting interest on any money borrowed and employed in acquiring the gains and profits) to the gross earnings of the shipowner's fleet or vessel for that period.
- (e) If the gains or profits of a shipowner have for the purpose of assessment in the Colony under this Ordinance been computed on any basis other than the ratio of the gains or profits shown by a Certificate as aforesaid and an assessment has been made accordingly, the shipowner shall upon production of such a certificate at any time within two years from the end of the year of assessment be entitled to such adjustment as may be necessary to give effect to the said certificate and to have any tax paid in excess refunded.
- (f) In this section the expression "shipowner" means an owner or charterer of ships whose principal place of business is situated outside the Colony, but in a part of His Majesty's protection."

Amendment of Section 43 of Ordinance No. 20 of 1939.

5. Section 43 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the insertion of the following additional sub-section:-

"(11) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) of Section 49 of this Ordinance if the Judge is satisfied that tax in accordance with his decision upon the appeal may not be recovered the Judge may require the appellant forthwith to furnish such security for payment of the tax, if any, which may become payable by the appellant as may seem to the Judge to be proper. If such security is not given the tax assessed shall become payable forthwith and shall be recoverable in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance."

Addition of new Section.

6. The following section shall be inserted in the Principal Ordinance as Section 47a :-

"Time limit for repayment of claims.

47a. A claim for relief under Section 46 or Section 47 of this Ordinance shall be made within two years from the end of the year of assessment to which it relates:

Provided that such a claim, though not made within the said period of two years, shall be admitted if made within six years from the end of the said year and within six months from the date upon which the relevant amount of United Kingdom income tax or of Empire income tax, as the case may be, has been ascertained."

7. The following Section shall be inserted in the Principal Ordinance as Section 54A:—

Addition of new Section.

“Fugitive”
tax-payers.

54A. (1) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that a person who has been assessed to tax may leave the Colony before such tax becomes payable under the provisions of Section 50 or Section 52 of this Ordinance without having paid such tax he may by notice in writing to such person demand payment of such tax within the time to be limited in such notice. Such tax shall thereupon be payable at the expiration of the time so limited and shall in default of payment unless security for payment thereof be given to the satisfaction of the Commissioner be recoverable forthwith in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance.

(2) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that tax upon any chargeable income may not be recovered he may at any time and as the case may require:—

- (a) forthwith by notice in writing require any person to make a return and to furnish particulars of any such income within the time to be specified in such notice.
- (b) make an assessment upon such person in the amount of the income returned or if default is made in making such return or the Commissioner is dissatisfied with such return in such amount as the Commissioner may think reasonable;
- (c) by notice in writing to the person assessed require that security for the payment of the tax assessed be forthwith given to his satisfaction.

(3) If in any particular case the Commissioner has reason to believe that tax upon any income which would upon the issue of a proclamation imposing tax for any year of assessment become chargeable to such tax may not be recovered he may at any time:—

- (a) by notice in writing to the person by whom the tax would be payable determine a period for which tax shall be charged and require such person to render within the time specified therein returns and particulars of such income for that period;
- (b) make an assessment upon such person in the amount of the income returned or if default is made in making a return or the Commissioner is dissatisfied with such return in such amount as the Commissioner may think reasonable. Such assessment shall be made at the rate of tax imposed by the past preceding proclamation.

(4) Notice of any assessment made in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall be given to the person assessed, and any tax so assessed (in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section) shall be payable on demand made in writing under the hand of the Commissioner and shall in default of payment unless security for the payment thereof be given to the satisfaction of the Commissioner be recoverable forthwith in the manner prescribed by Section 53 of this Ordinance.

(5) Any person who has paid the tax in accordance with a demand made by the Commissioner or who has given security for such payment under sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall have the rights of objection and appeal conferred by Sections 42 and 43 of this Ordinance and the amount paid by him shall be adjusted in accordance with the result of any such objection or appeal.

(6) The provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of this Section shall not affect the powers conferred upon the Commissioner by Section 39 of this Ordinance."

Passed by the Legislative Council this 26th day of November, 1940.

A. I. FLEURET,

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this 28th day of November, 1940.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 11 of 1940.

I ASSENT,

H. HENNIKER HEATON,

Governor.

28th November, 1940.

An Ordinance

To amend the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Trading with the Enemy (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940, and shall be read and construed as one with the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.)

Short Title.

2. (1) In subsection (1) of Section 2 of the Principal Ordinance after the words "any person who trades with" there shall be inserted the words "or attempts to trade with," and after paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of that Section there shall be inserted the words "And any reference in this Ordinance to an attempt to trade with the enemy shall be construed accordingly."

Trading with the enemy.

(2) Proceedings in respect of an offence of trading with the enemy alleged to have been committed by any person may be taken before the appropriate court in the Colony having jurisdiction in the place where that person is for the time being.

(3) The following subsection shall be inserted after subsection (3) of Section 2 of the Principal Ordinance:—

"(3a) In any proceedings for an offence of trading with the enemy, the fact that any document has been despatched addressed to a person in enemy territory shall, unless the contrary is proved, be evidence, as against any person who was a party to the despatch of the document, that the person to whom the document was despatched was an enemy."

Amendment of Section 3 of Ordinance No. 18 of 1939.

3. Subsection (1) of Section 3 of the Principal Ordinance shall be amended as follows:—

- (a) At the end of paragraph (c) the word "or" shall be omitted and after paragraph (d) there shall be inserted the following words—

"and

(e) as respects any business carried on in enemy territory, any individual or body of persons (whether corporate or unincorporate) carrying on that business;"

- (b) for the words "does not include any person by reason only that he is an enemy subject" there shall be substituted the words "does not include any individual by reason only that he is an enemy subject."

Control of Businesses.

4. After Section 4 of the Principal Ordinance there shall be inserted the following Section:—

"Power to control and wind up businesses."

4a. (1) Where any business is being carried on in the Colony by, or on behalf of, or under the direction of, persons all or any of whom are enemies or enemy subjects or appear to the Governor to be associated with enemies, the Governor may, if he thinks it expedient so to do, make—

- (a) an order (hereafter in this section referred to as a "restriction order") prohibiting the carrying on the business either absolutely or except for such purposes and subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order; or
- (b) an order (hereafter in this section referred to as a "winding up order") requiring the business to be wound up, and the making of a restriction order as respects any business shall not prejudice the power of the Governor if he thinks it expedient so to do, at any subsequent date to make a winding up order as respects that business.

(2) Where an order under subsection (1) of this section is made as respects any business, the Governor may, by that or a subsequent order, appoint a controller to control and supervise the carrying out of the order, and in the case of a winding up order, to conduct the winding up of the business, and may confer on the controller any such powers in relation to the business as are exercisable by a liquidator in the voluntary winding up of a company in relation to the company (including power in the name of the person carrying on the business or in his own name, and by deed or otherwise, to convey or transfer any property, and power to apply to the court to determine any question arising in the carrying out of the order), and may by the order confer on the controller such other powers as the Governor thinks necessary or convenient for the purpose of giving full effect to the order.

(3) Where a restriction order or a winding up order is made as respects any business, the distribution of any assets of the business which are distributed while the order is in force shall be subject to the same rules as to preferential payments as are applicable to the distribution of the assets of a company which is being wound up, and the said assets of the business shall, so far as they are available for discharging unsecured debts be applied in discharging unsecured debts due to creditors of the business who are not enemies in priority to unsecured debts due to any other creditors, and any balance, after providing for the discharge of all liabilities of the business, shall be distributed among the persons interested in the business in such manner as the Governor may direct:

Provided that the provisions of this subsection shall, in their application to the distribution of any money or other property which would, in accordance with those provisions, fall to be paid or transferred to an enemy, whether as a creditor or otherwise, have effect subject to the provisions of section eight of this Ordinance (which relates to the collection of enemy debts and the custody of enemy property) and of any order made under that section.

(4) Where any business for which a controller has been appointed under this section has assets in enemy territory, the controller shall, if in his opinion it is practicable so to do, cause an estimate to be prepared—

- (a) of the value of those assets;
- (b) of the amount of any liabilities of the business to creditors, whether secured or unsecured who are enemies;
- (c) of the amount of the claims of persons who are enemies to participate, otherwise than as creditors of the business, in any distribution of assets of the business made while an order under subsection (1) of this section is in force as respects the business;

and, where such an estimate is made, the said liabilities and claims shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been satisfied out of the said assets of the business in enemy territory, or to have been satisfied thereout so far as those assets will go, and only the balance (if any) shall rank for satisfaction out of the other assets of the business:

(5) Where an estimate has been prepared under the last preceding subsection, a certificate of the controller as to the value or amount of any assets, claims or liabilities to which the estimate relates shall be conclusive for the purpose of determining the amount of the assets of the business available for discharging the other liabilities of the business and for distribution amongst other persons claiming to be interested in the business.

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall affect the rights of creditors of, and other persons interested in the business against the assets of the business in enemy territory.

(6) The Governor may, on an application made by the controller appointed under this section, after considering the application and any objections which may be made by any person who appears to him to be interested, by order grant the controller a release, and an order of the Governor under this subsection shall discharge the controller from all liability in respect of any act done or default made by him in the exercise and performance of his powers and duties as controller; but any such order may be revoked by the Governor on proof that it was obtained by fraud or by suppression or concealment of any material fact.

(7) If any person contravenes, or fails to comply with, the provisions of any order made under subsection (1) of this section, he shall be guilty of an offence of trading with the enemy.

(8) Where an order under subsection (1) of this section has been made as respects a business carried on by any individuals or by a company, no bankruptcy petition, or petition for sequestration or summary sequestration against the individuals, or petition for the winding up of the company, shall be presented, or resolution for the winding up of the company passed, or steps for the enforcement of the rights of any creditors of the individuals or company taken without the consent of the Governor, but where the business is carried on by a company the controller may present a petition for the winding up of the company by the court, and the making of an order under this section shall be a ground on which the company may be wound up by the court.

(9) Where an order is made under this section appointing a controller for any business, any remuneration of, and any costs, charges and expenses incurred by, the controller, and any other costs, charges and expenses incurred in connection with the control and supervision of the carrying out of the order, shall, to such amount as may be certified by the custodian of enemy property, be defrayed out of the assets of the business, and as from the date of the certificate, be charged on those assets in priority to any other charges thereon."

Provisions as to
custodians.

5. (1) The rights, powers, duties and liabilities which may be conferred and imposed by the Governor on custodians of enemy property under subsection 1 of section 8 of the Principal Ordinance shall, where it appears to the Governor that it is expedient that any business should be carried on or continue to be carried on in or from the Colony, include such rights, powers, duties and liabilities as respects the property and money mentioned in paragraph (d) of the said subsection (1) as, in the opinion of the Governor, are necessary or expedient in order to enable that business so to be carried on.

(2) The power of the Governor under the said subsection (1) shall include power, where a custodian dies or for any other reason ceases to hold office as such, by order to vest in his successor any property or right which was vested in the first mentioned custodian at the time of his dying or ceasing to hold office.

Repeal of Sections 6
and 9 of Ordinance.

An Ordinance To amend the Pensions Ordinance, 1937.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as "The Pensions (Amendment) Ordinance, 1940" and shall be read and construed as one with the Pensions Ordinance, 1937, hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.

Short Title.

2. Section 19 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby repealed and in place thereof the following Section shall have effect:—

Repeal of Section 19
of Ordinance No. 5 of 1937.

Pensions to dependants
when an officer is killed
on duty.

19. (1) Where an officer dies as a result of injuries received:—

- (a) in the actual discharge of his duty, and
- (b) without his own default, and
- (c) on account of circumstances specifically attributable to the nature of his duty, while in the service of the Government of the Colony, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to grant, in addition to the grant, if any, made to his legal personal representative under Section 16 of this Ordinance:

- (i) if the deceased officer leaves a widow, a pension to her, while unmarried and of good character, at a rate not exceeding ten sixtieths of his annual pensionable emoluments at the date of the injury or fifteen pounds a year, whichever is the greater;
- (ii) if the deceased officer leaves a widow to whom a pension is granted under the preceding paragraph and a child or children, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of an amount not exceeding one eighth of the pension prescribed under the preceding paragraph;

- (iii) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children, but does not leave a widow or no pension is granted to the widow, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of double the amount prescribed by the preceding paragraph;
- (iv) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children and a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (i) of this subsection, and the widow subsequently dies, a pension in respect of each child as from the date of the death of the widow until such child attains the age of eighteen years, of double the amount prescribed in paragraph (ii) of this subsection;
- (v) if the deceased officer does not leave a widow, or if no pension is granted to his widow, and if his mother was wholly or mainly dependent on him for her support, a pension to the mother, while of good character and without adequate means of support, of an amount not exceeding the pension which might have been granted to his widow;

Provided that –

- A. pension shall not be payable under this paragraph at any time in respect of more than six children; and
- B. in the case of a pension granted under paragraph (v) of this subsection if the mother is a widow at the time of the grant of the pension and subsequently remarries such pension shall cease as from the date of re-marriage; and if it appears to the Secretary of State at any time that the mother is adequately provided with other means of support, such pension shall cease as from such date as the Secretary of State may determine;
- C. a pension granted to a female child under this section shall cease upon the marriage of such child under the age of eighteen years;
- D. No pension shall be granted under this section in cases where the dependants of a deceased officer receive compensation under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Ordinance, 1937:

(2) In the case of an officer not holding a pensionable office, the expression "pensionable emoluments" in the preceding subsection shall mean the emoluments enjoyed by him which would have been pensionable emoluments if the office held by him had been a pensionable office.

(3) For the purposes of this section the word "child" shall include:

- (a) a posthumous child;
- (b) a step-child or illegitimate child born before the date of the injury and wholly or mainly dependent upon the deceased officer for support, and

- (c) an adopted child, adopted in a manner recognised by law, before the date of the injury, and dependent as aforesaid.

(4) If an officer proceeding by a route approved by the Governor to or from the Colony at the commencement or termination of his service therein or of a period of leave therefrom, dies as the result of damage to the vessel or vehicle in which he is travelling or of any act of violence directed against such vessel or vehicle, and the Governor is satisfied that such damage or act is attributable to circumstances arising out of war in which His Majesty may be engaged, such officer shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have died in the circumstances described in subsection (1) of this section.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 26th day of November, 1940.

No. 1.

GOVERNMENT NOTICES.

No. 114. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
27th November, 1940.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information, of the following resolution adopted at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 26th of November, 1940 :—

"Be it resolved that under the provisions of the "Stanley Rating Ordinance, 1928, this Council hereby "sanctions the following rate to be charged for the "year 1941, on house property in the Town of Stanley, namely, Two shillings for every Twenty Shillings of the annual value of such house property".

By Command,

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 209/38.

No. 115. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
12th December, 1940.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that with a view to relieving anxiety which many people in the Falkland Islands must feel regarding the safety of their relatives in Great Britain whilst air raids continue, the Secretary of State for the Colonies has now made it possible for people to be notified if a near relative becomes a serious Air Raid casualty.

It is impractical to make any automatic arrangements, but if information is given in at the Colonial Office that a relative of any person in this Colony has become a casualty the Secretary of State would at once notify the person concerned by telegraph, free of charge, through this Government.

Members of the Public in Great Britain have been advised to carry about with them with their identity cards the name and address of some person whom they would wish to be notified in the event of their becoming an Air Raid casualty. It is suggested that the people here should ask their relatives in Great Britain to arrange with the person so named that if the event occurs they should inform the Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office, London, giving their full name, address and relationship to the casualty, when they will be notified by telegram as above stated.

By Command,

A. W. CARDINALL,
Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 162/40.

No. 116. Colonial Secretary's Office,
Stanley, Falkland Islands,
17th December, 1940.

On the occasion of the anniversary of His Majesty's Accession to the Throne and of his birthday on December 11th and December 14th, respectively, the following telegrams were exchanged :—

To the Secretary of State for the Colonies from His Excellency the Governor.

People of the Falkland Islands wish to submit to the King an expression of their loyalty and love for His Majesty.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor.

Your telegram 10th December has been laid before the King who has commanded me to request you to convey to the people of the Falkland Islands an expression of His sincere thanks for the message of loyalty and devotion.

By Command.

Proclamation.

1941.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINALL.

By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Acting Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by the fourteenth clause of the Letters Patent passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, dated the 25th February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, it is provided that "whenever the office of Governor is vacant, or if the Governor "become incapable or be absent from the Colony, Our Lieutenant Governor of the Colony, or "if there be no such Officer therein, then such person or persons as we may appoint under "Our Sign Manual and Signet, and in default of any such appointment the Senior Member "for the time being of the Executive Council of the Colony, shall, during Our pleasure, "administer the Government of the Colony, first taking the Oaths hereinbefore directed to be "taken by the Governor and in the manner herein prescribed; which being done, We do hereby "authorize, empower, and command Our Lieutenant Governor or any other such Administrator "as aforesaid to do and execute during Our pleasure all things that belong to the office of "Governor and Commander-in-Chief, according to the tenour of these Our Letters Patent, "and according to Our Instructions as aforesaid, and the Laws of the Colony".

AND WHEREAS His Excellency SIR HERBERT HENNIKER HEATON, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, has this day left the Colony on leave of absence;

AND WHEREAS there is no such officer as Lieutenant Governor in this Colony and no person has been appointed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet to administer the Government of this Colony in the absence of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Colonial Secretary of the Falkland Islands, the Senior Member of the Executive Council aforesaid, do hereby proclaim and make known that, in pursuance of the said clause of the said Royal Letters Patent and having taken the oaths prescribed by law, I have this day assumed the Administration of the Government of this Colony and its Dependencies.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Proclamation

1941.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINALL.

*By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL,
ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Acting Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies &c., &c., &c.*

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the 25th day of February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands, it was amongst other things declared that there should be an Executive Council in and for the said Colony which should consist of such persons as should be directed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet,

AND WHEREAS by Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date the 28th day of February, 1920, it was declared that if in the opinion of the Governor the number of members of the Executive Council available for business may at any time be likely to prove insufficient, the Governor may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal, appoint some fit person to be provisionally a member of the said Council for such period as shall be specified in such Instrument:

NOW THEREFORE, I, being of the opinion that the number of members of the Executive Council available for business is likely to prove insufficient, do hereby provisionally appoint to be a member of the Executive Council for a period of one year with effect from the 28th of January, 1941.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 27th day of September, 1940

Present.

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

Lord Privy Seal Lord Snell
Viscount Caldecote Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer.

WHEREAS by section three of the Prize Courts Act, 1894, it is provided that if any Colonial Court of Admiralty within the meaning of the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890, is authorised under the Prize Courts Act, 1894, or otherwise to act as a prize court, all fees arising in respect of prize business transacted in the court shall be fixed, collected, and applied in like manner as the fees arising in respect of the Admiralty business of the court under the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890 :

AND WHEREAS the Supreme Court of the Colony of the Falkland Islands (hereinafter called the Court) is a Colonial Court of Admiralty authorised to act as a prize court :

AND WHEREAS by virtue of section seven of the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890, the fees arising in respect of the Admiralty business of the Court under that Act are regulated by rules of court made by the same authority and in the same manner as rules touching the fees in the said Court in the exercise of its ordinary civil jurisdiction are made, provided that such rules may not, save as provided by that section, come into operation until they have been approved by His Majesty in Council, but on coming into operation are to have full effect as if enacted in the Act :

AND WHEREAS the Rules of Court mentioned in the Schedule hereto, providing for the fees to be taken in prize matters in the Court, have been made by the proper authority and in the proper manner in accordance with the above mentioned provisions :

NOW THEREFORE, His Majesty, by virtue of the powers by the Prize Courts Act, 1894, and the Colonial courts of Admiralty Act, 1890, or otherwise in Him vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

1. This Order may be cited as the Falkland Islands Prize Court (Fees) Order in Council, 1940.

2. The Rules of Court mentioned in the Schedule hereto are approved.

The territories included in these arrangements are: Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Danzig, Denmark, France (German-occupied), Germany, Holland, Italy and Italian Possessions, Luxembourg, Norway and Poland (German occupied).

1. Communications must be brief, clearly written or typed on one side of the paper only, and writers should request their correspondents to observe the same rules and not put more than one letter in the same envelope. Erasures and corrections or mutilated stationery and additions by other people are not permitted.

2. Letters and envelopes must omit the sender's address. They may be in English or in the language of the country for which they are intended (except Czech and Hebrew), and must contain nothing but matters of personal interest.

(a) No reference may be made to any town, village, locality or journey, or to the Censorship or to any other phase of the war, or to Thos. Cook & Son, Ltd., or any of their offices, or to the means by which the letter is sent. No enclosure of the following nature is permitted: printed matter, map, plan, sketch, drawing, print, photograph, or other pictorial representation, or postage or revenue stamp.

(b) Business letters and letters containing directions about property or money matters must not be sent to the Chief Censor, Stanley, but should be submitted by the sender to the Competent Authority for Finance.

3. Each letter must be placed in an open unstamped envelope fully inscribed to the addressee, who should be asked to address and reply to your full name, care of Post Box 506, LISBON (Lissabon in the case of letters from Germany or German-occupied territory), Portugal. Poste Restante addresses are not accepted. The use of titles or Naval, Military or Air Force rank is forbidden.

4. The open envelope containing the letter should be placed in an outer stamped but unaddressed envelope and sent to the Chief Censor, Stanley, together with a separate piece of paper plainly written, containing in block characters the name (Christian name first) and full address of the sender. A married woman should give her own as well as her husband's initials.

5. The communication to the Chief Censor, Stanley, must be accompanied by a Postal Order value of 2/- (stamps or International Coupons cannot be accepted), which fee will cover the postage of one envelope containing one communication to the neutral country, and from the neutral country to the addressee, also of a reply (if any) from the neutral country to Messrs. Cook's Head Office in London, and from that office to the intended recipient. The fee does not include the cost of postage of the reply from enemy territory to the neutral country.

Thos. Cook & Son, Ltd., undertake this transaction at the sole risk in all respects of the party requiring their services, and on the express understanding that no action will lie against them by reason of any act or default on their part or on the part of any person or agent employed by them.

6. Letters under this scheme may not cover remittances, directly or indirectly, to enemy territory, for which a licence of the Competent Authority for Finance is necessary. (See paragraph 2 (b) above).

7. Communications for Prisoners of War, i.e., British and Allied Naval, Military, and Air Force prisoners and Civilian internees, must not be sent under the foregoing arrangements but forwarded in accordance with the regulations of which particulars may be obtained at the Post Office, Stanley.

NOTE. The unaddressed stamped envelope referred to in paragraph 4 would be used for sending on the letter to the United Kingdom.

Parcels cannot be dealt with under the foregoing scheme.

Stanley, Falkland Islands,
31st March, 1941.

The attention of the public is drawn to the Defence (Finance) Amendment Regulations, 1940, issued on the 29th of March, 1941, prohibiting the importation into the Colony of the Falkland Islands of any One pound (£1) Falkland Islands Currency Note bearing the numbers C. 44,001 to C. 54,000 inclusive.

In September, 1940, an order was placed with the Crown Agents for the Colonies by this Government for 10,000 £1 Currency Notes. While these notes were still in the hands of the Printers awaiting transshipment they were destroyed by fire. It is possible, therefore, that while the fire was being fought some of the finished notes may have been taken by unauthorised persons and may eventually get into circulation and be presented for redemption.

It has been considered advisable to prohibit the importation into the Colony of the notes in the series in question and members of the public are warned that such notes are valueless.

(1) Where any person has been lawfully ordered to “be detained in the United Kingdom or in any country or territory “to which the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939, has been “extended by any Order in Council made under section four of that “Act, the Governor may if it appears to him that it is expedient in “the interests of public safety or defence that that person should be “detained but that his detention in the United Kingdom or that “country or territory, as the case may be, is impracticable or in- “expedient, make arrangements with the authority in the United King- “dom or the said country or territory by which that person has been “ordered to be detained (in this Regulation called “the detaining “authority”) for the removal of that person to the Colony, and may “make an order against that person directing that while on board “any British ship not being a Dominion ship and after his arrival in “the Colony shall be detained.

“(2) Any person detained in pursuance of this Regulation:—

“(a) shall be deemed to be in lawful custody;

“(b) shall be under the joint control of the Governor and “the detaining authority;

“(c) shall be detained in accordance with instructions “issued by the Governor with the concurrence of the “detaining authority;

“(d) after arrival in the Colony shall be detained in such “place as may be authorised by the Governor with the “concurrence of the detaining authority;

“(e) shall be returned to the United Kingdom or the “country or territory, as the case may be, where he “was originally retained, if the detaining authority so “requests; and

“(f) shall be released if his release is ordered by the “Governor:

“Provided that, if the Governor is satisfied that there is “urgent necessity for issuing instructions regarding the control or “detention of any such person without consulting the detaining “authority, he may issue such instructions accordingly, and any “instructions so issued shall have effect pending agreement after “such consultation as aforesaid and, if concurred in by the detaining “authority, thereafter.”

3. Regulation 17A of the Principal Regulations shall be renumbered 17B.

4. The Defence (Amendment) (No. 4) Regulations, 1940, are hereby repealed.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Additional Instructions passed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet to the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Falkland Islands.

Dated 1st February, 1941. GEORGE R.I.

ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTIONS to Our Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over Our Colony of the Falkland Islands, or other Officer for the time being administering the Government of Our said Colony.

WHEREAS on the Twenty-eighth day of February, 1920, Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet were issued to the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Falkland Islands:

AND WHEREAS We are minded to amend the said Instructions in the manner following :—

NOW THEREFORE. We do, by these Our Additional Instructions under Our Sign Manual and Signet, direct and enjoin and declare Our will and pleasure as follows :—

1. As from a date to be fixed by the Governor, by notification in the Falkland Islands Government Gazette, the said Instructions shall be amended in the manner following :—

(1) In Clauses Four and Fifteen, the words "Financial Secretary" and "Senior Medical Officer" shall be substituted for the words "Treasurer" and "Colonial Surgeon" respectively.

(2) In Clauses Six and Seventeen, the words "for Our confirmation or disallowance" shall be deleted.

(3) In Clauses Seven and Twenty-two the word "definitively" shall be substituted for the word "definitely".

(4) The following paragraph shall be added at the end of Clause Seven :—

"Where a member has been re-appointed immediately on the termination of his term of office, his appointment for the purposes of this Clause shall be that by virtue of which he became a member at the beginning of the period during which he has been continuously a member of the Council".

(5) In Clause Ten, the words "in default of such appointment or in the absence of the member so appointed" shall be substituted for the words "in the absence of such member".

(6) In Clause Eighteen, the word "definitive" shall be substituted for the word "definite"; the words "by Instrument" shall be substituted for the words "by an Instrument"; and the words "for a further period or periods each period not exceeding five years" shall be substituted for the words "for a further period not exceeding five years".

(7) In Clause Twenty-nine, the words "Every Bill not being a Government measure, intended" shall be substituted for the words "Every Bill intended"; and the words "not being a Government measure" appearing in the second sentence thereof shall be deleted.

(8) In Clause Thirty-two, the words "for the preceding half year" shall be deleted.

(9) In Clause Thirty-four, the words from "and whenever the Governor" to the end of the Clause shall be deleted.

(10) In Clause Thirty-six, the words "at a meeting of the Executive Council" shall be substituted for the words "at the first meeting of the Executive Council which may be conveniently held thereafter".

(11) In Clause Thirty-seven, the word "Defence" shall be deleted.

2. As from the date aforesaid, Clause Thirty-five of the said Instructions shall be revoked, but without prejudice to anything lawfully done thereunder.

Given at Our Court at Saint James's, this First day of February, 1941, in the Fifth year of Our Reign.

No. 58. M.P. 136/32. 6th May, 1941.

It is hereby notified for general information that British subjects must before proceeding from the Colony of the Falkland Islands to any British country either directly or indirectly, apply for a special passport endorsement which will be given gratis.

Persons failing to obtain such an endorsement may be subject to delay in travelling and possibly prohibited from landing.

By Command.

A. I. FLEURET,

9th May, 1941.

With reference to the Order issued from this office on March 6th 1941, instituting a system of licensing for foodstuffs imported from the United Kingdom, it is hereby notified that:—

1. The following essential foodstuffs may not be imported from any source without a Special Import Licence from the Competent Authority:—

Butter.	Beans.	Bacon.	Cheese.
Coffee.	Cocoa.	Flour.	Jams.
Lard.	Tinned Milk.	Margarine.
Onions.	Potatoes.	Rice.	Sugar.
Tea.

2. These Special Import Licences will not be issued henceforth for importations from the United Kingdom, but will be granted to enable the specified foodstuffs to be obtained from South American sources.

3. Properly licensed Importers will be given the necessary financial facilities through the Special Account System.

4. Importations already approved and licensed will not be in any way affected by this order.

9th May, 1941.

W A R N I N G .

It is hereby notified that there is a possibility that rationing of certain articles of human consumption may have to be instituted in the near future.

It is hoped that this step may be avoided, provided the Public co-operate as heretofore by not hoarding, and provided Importers maintain sufficient stocks to cover at least three months' requirements.

9th May, 1941.

All wholesale and Retail Importers of foodstuffs are hereby required to register with the Competent Authority within seven days of the above date, stating in addition to their names and/or trading names, the amount of storage space available for foodstuffs in their warehouses.

- (a) All products referred to in the Schedule will be subject to the granting of Import Licences.
- (b) No Import Licence will be granted except for material vitally and urgently required for purposes essential to the War effort. The expression "essential to the War effort" may be interpreted to cover besides service and defence requirements, minimum pro rata for the maintenance of essential public services and communications, and the maintenance of production and trade of value to the War effort or necessary for the subsistence of the population.
- (c) All orders should as a rule be placed through normal trade channels in the United Kingdom with instructions to apply for the necessary Supply and Export Licences to the Iron and Steel Control through the Colonial Office, London, quoting the number of the Import Licence which has been granted. If the application is approved it will then be decided whether the order should be placed in the United Kingdom or elsewhere.
- (d) In every application the precise purpose for which the material will actually be used must be stated in detail and no general purpose will be accepted as sufficient evidence of the need for importation.
- (e) Import Licences will be issued by the Competent Authority.

NOTICES.

No. 60. M.P. 163/31. 27th May, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following telegram received from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the 24th of May, 1941.

"I cannot let Empire Day pass without sending you a message of greeting. I should like all peoples of Colonies, Protectorates and Mandated territories to know what a real source of encouragement it has been to us to be assured of their goodwill and support.

"It has not been given to everybody to take as active a part in the war as they would wish; those in the African campaign may be counted as fortunate; Malta too a shining example to us all, has shown by her bearing that she is proud to be in the front line. But all overseas territories have played their part and all from the moment war began have made us in this country feel we have true friends all over. War has given a new strength and meaning to Empire unity. We have been through dark and terrible days together; the road may be a long and hard one but we can all feel steady confidence at the end it is victory."

No. 61. M.P. S/43A/39. 27th May, 1941.

With reference to Government Notice, No. 32 of the 10th of March, 1941, it is hereby notified, for general information, that:—

1. The procedure regarding gifts of food sent to the United Kingdom from abroad has been reviewed and in order to conserve shipping space for more urgent supplies such gifts will be allowed only subject to the following conditions.

2. Bona fide unsolicited gifts whether they include rationed food or not may be received from abroad by parcel post addressed to individuals. No parcel may exceed 5 lbs. gross weight or contain more than 2 lbs. of any one foodstuff. The maximum of 5 lbs. will also be applied by the Board of Trade in the case of non-foodstuffs. No permit or licence is required in such cases and all parcels must be clearly marked as gifts.

3. A gift cannot be regarded as "unsolicited" where it has been received as a result of some prior communication sent by the recipient to the donor. Moreover, the receipt of gifts at frequent intervals cannot be permitted.

4. Licences which have been granted to importers to receive gifts in bulk for distribution through parcel post on arrival in the United Kingdom will not be renewed or any further licences of this type approved. Existing licences and those recently expired and under consideration for renewal will be held to cover consignments despatched from abroad by June 28th.

5. Where it is desired to send larger quantities of foodstuffs (which must not include rationed food) arrangements must first be made for some responsible organisation in the United Kingdom formed for charitable or similar purposes, to be recipients of such gifts. Application for a licence must then be made to the Ministry of Food by the organisation which will be required to give an undertaking that the goods will be consumed within that organisation. For example, if the recipient is a hospital the food would be supplied to the patients or members of the staff.

6. No money will be allowed to leave the United Kingdom in respect of gifts of food contained either in parcels or in larger consignments.

7. Regulations will be applied in respect of all gifts despatched from abroad after the 28th of June, 1941.

No. 62. M.P. 45/41. 28th May, 1941.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that it is considered expedient in the interests of public safety and defence to obtain from householders and members of the general public in Stanley certain statistical information.

Under the authority of Regulation No. 61 of the Falkland Islands Defence Regulations, 1939, such persons are requested to furnish the information required in a questionnaire to be circulated throughout the town, to one of the following gentlemen :—

No. 64. M.P. 41/37. 4th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that on the occasion of the official celebration of His Majesty's Birthday a Ceremonial Parade will be held at 11.0 a.m. on Thursday the 12th of June, 1941.

The Parade which will be inspected by His Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief will form up on Ross Road outside the Town Hall facing South and will comprise the Falkland Islands Defence Force. His Excellency will afterwards take the salute from Victory Green.

It is desired that all Government officials and as many members of the public as possible should be present.

No. 65. M.P. 72/26. 5th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following Order made by His Majesty the King in Council on the 14th of March, 1941.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 14th day of March, 1941.

Present.

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

Lord President.	Lord Woolton.
Earl Marshal.	Mr. Duff Cooper.
Viscount Galway.	Sir Arthur Salter.

WHEREAS in pursuance of powers conferred on Him by section six of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925, His Majesty was pleased to make the Merchant Shipping (Colonies) (Amendment) Order, 1927, and the Merchant Shipping (Colonies) (Amendment) Order, 1939, amending the first mentioned Order (which Order as so amended is hereinafter referred to as "the principal Order") applying the provisions of the Act, subject to the modifications and adaptations specified in the principal Order, to ships registered in the territories mentioned in the Order:

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the provisions of the Act should, subject to the modifications and adaptations specified in the principal Order, apply to ships registered in the territories mentioned in the Schedule to this Order.

NOW, THEREFORE, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to direct, and it is hereby directed, as follows :—

1. The principal Order shall have effect as if there were added to the Schedule to that Order the names of the territories mentioned in the Schedule to this Order.

2. This Order may be cited as the Merchant Shipping (Colonies) (Amendment) Order, 1941, and the principal Order and this Order may be cited together as the Merchant Shipping (Colonies) Orders, 1927 to 1941.

3. This Order shall come into operation in respect of each of the territories mentioned in the Schedule on the date of its publication in the Official Gazette of the territory.

No. 66. M.P. 51/41. 6th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that His Majesty the King in Council has ordered that the provisions of sub sections (1) and (2) of Section 2 of the Evidence and Powers of Attorney Act, 1940, shall extend to the Colony of the Falkland Islands subject to the following adaptation, that is to say :—

For the words "United Kingdom" wherever they occur in sub-section (2) of Section 2 of the said Act there shall be substituted the words "Falkland Islands".

No. 67. M.P. 46/41. 17th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that no parcels arriving from abroad through the Post Office will be issued to addressees until the Customs Authorities have examined and passed them. Parcels addressed to the "Camp" will also be examined and addressees are advised to appoint an Agent in Stanley otherwise there may be considerable delay over and above that at present experienced in their delivery.

An Officer of Customs will be in attendance at the Post Office at mail times during ordinary office hours while parcels are being issued so that delivery may be effected without delay.

No. 68. M.P. S/43A/39. 17th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that the Jute supply available in the United Kingdom for export is for the time being most limited and necessitates severe restriction of the export of Jute manufactures (including carpets backed with jute and linoleum). Under the present conditions Jute yarn, piece goods, sacks, bags and wrappers can only be exported to Colonial Dependencies in exceptional cases. Essential requirements should be obtained from India so far as is practicable and this may mean that buyers will have to bulk their orders or combine in placing them and be prepared to accept the standard Indian type of goods in place of specialised requirements.

2. It has been decided that used sacks and bags should normally be retained in the United Kingdom instead of being returned overseas and should be replaced in overseas countries from stocks or by new Indian bags wherever possible.

No. 69. M.P. 41/37. 18th June, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following telegrams regarding the celebration of His Majesty the King's Birthday :-

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

I should be grateful if you would convey to His Majesty the King on the occasion of his official birthday the most loyal greetings and humble duty of every single person in this Colony.

*From the Secretary of State for the Colonies
to His Excellency the Governor.*

Your telegram has been laid before His Majesty the King who desires an expression of his sincere thanks for the message contained therein may be conveyed to you and the peoples of the Falkland Islands.

No. 72. M.P. 46/41. 24th June, 1941.

With reference to Schedule 2, Class VII, of Proclamation, No. 6 of 1941, His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that the importation of candles is permitted provided that they are the usual household variety and not fancy or coloured but candles for use in churches may be imported whether coloured or not.

S.C. 12/41.

No. 70.

18th June, 1941.

Importation and Exportation of Cash and/or Currency.

The Public are requested to note the following restrictions at present in force controlling the importation into and the exportation from the Colony of the Falkland Islands of cash and currency.

1. Persons entering the Colony of the Falkland Islands will not be permitted to import sterling notes whether on the person or otherwise.
2. Passengers leaving the Colony of the Falkland Islands for a non-sterling port will be permitted to have in their possession, and to export, a sum not exceeding ten shillings in coin. No notes of any description may be exported, except in cases where the vessel is proceeding direct to a sterling area, when cash up to ten pounds in value, of which not more than ten shillings may be in coin, may be exported by each passenger.
3. Passengers leaving the Colony of the Falkland Islands for a non-sterling port will be permitted, on depositing the necessary funds with the Shipping Company prior to leaving, to draw from the Shipping Company's Agents abroad currency of the port to which they are travelling up to a value of ten pounds for immediate expenses. Permission to obtain foreign currency in excess of this sum must be obtained from the Colonial Treasury in the usual way.
4. Members of ships' crews may take with them out of the Colony no money whatsoever, and any member of a ship's crew found on board in possession of money after clearance of the vessel has been granted, will be liable to prosecution, and to forfeiture of the money.
5. Members of the crews of vessels who have money in their possession should deposit it, prior to sailing, with the Master who will issue a certificate covering the amount. The money so deposited may be issued to the seaman at the Master's discretion, in sterling area ports only.
6. These restrictions do not apply to visiting H.M. ships and naval auxiliaries, for which special arrangements have been made.

: : : : : :

The Public will, it is hoped, realise the urgent need for controlling both the importation of sterling notes and the exportation of all money from the Colony. The primary object of the import prohibition is to prevent the enemy's benefiting from the large stocks of sterling notes (particularly those of high denominations) which are known to have been held in countries now in enemy occupation.

The restrictions on the exportation of money from the Colony are made largely in the interests of travellers themselves. Sterling notes and coin can only be changed in the open market in foreign countries at rates based on unauthorised and irregular dealing in exchange, which prove detrimental to the interest of the British Empire by lowering the value of sterling in the eyes of the foreign public, and thus encouraging Nazi propaganda. It is, therefore, imperative to restrict to the absolute minimum the amount of sterling carried from the Falkland Islands, or any other part of the British Empire to a foreign port. Moreover in sterling area ports an amount up to £10 only is allowed entry.

NOTICE TO PASSENGERS.

You may not take out of the Falkland Islands more than Ten Shillings in coin if proceeding to a foreign country, but if proceeding direct to a port in the sterling area you may take up to Ten Pounds in cash, not more than Ten shilling of which may be in coin.

You should ask your travel agency if you can obtain currency of the country to which you are bound, and if so you will be permitted to purchase this up to the value of Ten Pounds on production or purchase of your ticket: and you should ensure that the Agent includes the details of the disbursement on the Ship's Form E. 1.

In the case of your requiring more than £10 you must apply for the necessary permission, which may or may not be granted, to the Treasury at Stanley.

SEAMAN'S CERTIFICATE.

Date 194

I hereby declare that the sum of £ has been handed by me to the Master, and that the said amount represents all the money at present in my possession.

Signature of Seaman.

I hereby certify that I have received from the Seaman the above sum, which will not be issued except in sterling area ports or, should the Seaman be left behind at a foreign port, to the proper Consular Officer.

Signature of Master.

By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

In virtue of the powers in me vested by Section 2 of the Exports and Imports (Emergency Powers) Ordinance, 1939, I, ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, do hereby proclaim and order and it is hereby proclaimed and ordered that the following rules regarding the importation of all goods without exception come into force forthwith:—

1. No article whatsoever may be imported without an import licence.

This regulation applies to all articles brought into the Falkland Islands including those through the mail, in Passengers' luggage or in the personal effects of crews.

2. All general import licences for goods from non-sterling areas are cancelled.
3. No general import licence will be granted for goods from sterling sources excepting with the prior approval of the Secretary of State for the Colonies and no recommendations therefor will be forwarded save in exceptional circumstances.
4. Only in cases of extreme urgency will an import licence be granted for an article from a non-sterling area when that article or a similar article is obtainable from a sterling area.

N.B. Articles which are clearly proved to have been ordered before these rules were published will be permitted entry.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

In virtue of the powers in me vested by Section 2 of the Exports and Imports (Emergency Powers) Ordinance, 1939, I, ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, do hereby proclaim and order and it is hereby proclaimed and ordered as follows :

- (1) That the importation into the Colony from South America, of the goods classified in Schedule 1 hereto is permitted up to the value of a limited amount in sterling which has been fixed by the Secretary of State for the Colonies; and subject to the granting of an import Licence as required by Proclamation No. 5 of 1941;
- (2) That the importation into the Colony from both sterling and non-sterling areas of the goods classified in Schedule 2 hereto is prohibited;
- (3) That the list of articles in Schedule 2 may be modified, amended, added to or otherwise altered from time to time;
- (4) That nothing in the above order will affect the entry into the Colony of articles specifically ordered prior to this Proclamation but in the case of standing orders or renewals, this Proclamation will have effect thereon;
- (5) That unsolicited gifts of articles whether in Schedule 1 or Schedule 2 will be granted entry on proof of their non-solicitation by the addressee at the discretion of the Competent Authority;
- (6) That goods imported or attempted to be imported in contravention of this Proclamation shall be re-exported at the expense of the consignee by the vessel importing the same.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given under my hand and the Public Seal of the Colony at Government House, Stanley, this nineteenth day of June, in the Year of Our Lord One thousand Nine hundred and forty-one.

*By Command,A. I. FLEURET,for Colonial Secretary.NOTICES.Office of the Competent Authority, 15th July, 1941.TRANSHIPMENT OF GOODS IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Hitherto goods have been transhipped in the United Kingdom subject only to economic consideration. This has resulted in shipping space required for United Kingdom imports being used for goods destined elsewhere, and it has therefore been decided to use as from July 15th Import Licence machinery to control transhipment in the United Kingdom more closely.

2. Such transhipments will only rarely be allowed. But so far as is consistent with the object of reducing volume of transhipment endeavour will be made to avoid unnecessary interference with Colonial exports especially if it appears impossible for goods to be sent by alternative route avoiding the United Kingdom.

3. Exporters are hereby warned that after July 15th no arrangements should be made to despatch goods to the United Kingdom for transshipment in the United Kingdom Ports or for exportation after transit through the United Kingdom until they are satisfied that a special Import Licence for transshipment has been granted by the United Kingdom Import Licence Department. Failure to comply with this requirement will render the goods liable to seizure on arrival at the United Kingdom. Where however goods not already covered by a Special Transshipment Licence arrive in the United Kingdom, transshipment application may be made as heretofore to the Customs Authorities. Such application will however be granted only in exceptional circumstances.

4. No licence will be required for goods proved to the satisfaction of His Majesty's Customs to have been despatched to the United Kingdom before the 15th July.

5. The Scheme will not affect goods remaining on board ships entering United Kingdom Ports for onward carriage in the same ship, or ships' surplus stores which are transferred under Customs Transshipment Regulations to other ships for use as stores.

15th July, 1941.

IMPORTATION FROM NON-STERLING SOURCES.

In accordance with the provisions of the Defence Regulations, 1939, Part VI, section 41 (1) (a), importers are hereby required to declare on their applications for Import Licences, the approximate value f.o.b. Montevideo of all goods required from non-sterling sources.

24th July, 1941.

It is hereby announced that the following maximum prices for essential articles have been fixed by the Competent Authority. Such prices will remain in force until further notice.

It must be remembered that these prices are maximum, and that retailers may sell below them.

In pursuance of the powers vested in him by Section 3 (2) of the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. Each of the persons specified in the Schedule to the United Kingdom Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 2) Order, 1941, as varied by the Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 3) Order, 1941 and the Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 4) Order, 1941, shall be deemed to be an enemy during such period as this Order shall in relation to such persons remain in force.

2. The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (No. 1) Order, 1941, of the 26th of March, 1941, is hereby revoked.

3. This Order may be cited as "The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (No. 2) Order, 1941", and shall come into operation on the 23rd day of June, 1941.

NOTICES.

No. 81. M.P. S/43/40. 26th July, 1941.

1. His Excellency the Governor by virtue of the powers conferred in Regulation 3A of the Defence (Finance) Regulations, 1939, hereby prohibits, except with permission granted by or on behalf of the Governor, the carrying out of any order given by or on behalf of (a) any of the States named in paragraph 2 hereof or any person resident therein, or (b) any body corporate which is under the control of any of them or of any person resident therein, in so far as the Order (1) requires the person to whom the order is given to make any payment or to part with any gold or securities, or (2) requires any change to be made in the person to whose credit any sum is to stand or to whose order any gold or securities are to be held.

2. The States referred to in paragraph 1 are :- The Empire of Japan (Japan proper, Korea, Formosa, Karafuto, Kwantung, leased territory, islands in the Pacific Ocean under Japanese mandate) and the Republic of China.

3. The Governor hereby grants permission to Bankers: (a) to honour their obligations under confirmed credits opened prior to the 26th July, 1941, on account of any State, person or body corporate, referred to in paragraph 1 (a) or 1 (b) hereof: (b) to accept Bills or Drafts and to pay Cheques, Bills or Drafts drawn by or for any State, person or body corporate referred to in paragraph 1 (a) or 1 (b) hereof and presented by or on behalf of any person who being in possession thereof became a holder before the 26th of July, 1941. (c) to carry out orders received before the 26th of July, 1941, for the making of any payment or transfer of gold or securities in or within the Colony.

Nothing in the foregoing authorizes any transaction prohibited by or under the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, or any order made thereunder or by or under any other regulation.

NOTE—All unconfirmed credits opened on account of any of the States above-mentioned or for account of any person resident therein or any body corporate referred to in paragraph 1 (b) therein (including branches or subsidiaries wherever carrying on business) should be cancelled forthwith. But provided no other regulation of the Defence (Finance) Regulations is infringed there is no objection to sums which may be received for credit of accounts blocked under these directions being credited to such accounts.

No. 82. M.P. 70/40. 6th August, 1941.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that Finland was declared on August 2nd territory in enemy occupation and Enemy Territory for the purpose of Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939.

No. 85. M.P. 70/41. 13th August, 1941.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that announcements have been made in the United Kingdom to the effect that the whole of the territories formally known as Italian East Africa are areas in occupation by His Majesty.

2. Persons are hereby authorised so far as the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, is concerned to trade with any body of persons (whether corporate or unincorporate) carrying on business in these territories. This authorization does not of course absolve persons from complying with other regulations in force in the Colony of the Falkland Islands and in the said territories. Enquiries from individual local firms may be addressed through their agents direct to the Deputy Chief Political Officer in the territory concerned.

No. 88. M.P. 492/27. 19th August, 1941.

Report on the prevalence of Tuberculosis in Cattle in Stanley.

Several countries, notably the U.S.A., Great Britain and Denmark, have developed methods of eradicating bovine tuberculosis. These methods consist essentially of the application of a tuberculin test to animals within a herd, or to all cattle within a specified area. Animals that are or have been infected are identified by their reactions to the test, and are slaughtered or otherwise disposed of. The objects of such tests are, (1) Maintenance of the health of the herd, and (2) Safeguarding the public from the possibility of contracting the disease through drinking infected milk. Not all reacting cows pass the organism responsible for the disease in their milk. This is only possible when the mammary glands are infected with the disease. Different research workers using Post Mortem examinations and biological tests of milk have found that from 0 to 20 per cent of reacting (infected) cows actually pass the tubercle bacilli in the milk.

Several tests are available none of which indicate the location of the infection in the body, but merely that the animal is or has been diseased. The test which has received endorsement by the British Medical Research Council and the American Medical Association is the double intradermal test.

In U.S.A. the incidence of tuberculosis in cattle was reduced from 4% in 1922 to .6% in 1935, some twenty five million cattle being tested annually.

This method of testing has been adopted in Stanley by the Department of Agriculture, and during the last three months 86 cattle have been tested including the entire milking herds of all three registered dairies. Of these 86 animals 6 gave positive reactions and were slaughtered. Post Mortem showed no infection of the mammary glands nor of the associated lymph glands. Two cows were slightly infected in the mesenteric lymph glands, only one animal could be classed as a moderately severe pulmonary case, and the others showed only slight infection of the lungs.

These six animals are apparently the only reactors found since Dr. Cheverton's tests some five years ago, and the incidence of the disease can be considered fairly low. During the last sixteen months only two cows have died on the Common, both deaths were due to accidents and post mortems failed to show any disease of the internal organs.

The conditions under which cattle are kept in the Falklands, i.e., depastured the whole of the year on very large areas, are not favourable to the spread of a disease such as this. By systematic testing of all cattle in or near Stanley and those brought in from the camp the disease could be completely eradicated with very little trouble. The same applies to the Camp, although this would entail rather more work on account of the number of cattle involved. It should be possible to establish herds free from the disease comparatively quickly. Milk from cows in a tubercle free herd is safe and cannot be a source of infection of this disease.

Report on Tuberculin testing of Stanley Cattle - June, 1941.

The second bi-annual tuberculin test of Stanley cattle was carried out from June 3rd to 25th. No reactors were found. The total number of cattle tested was 169, including all the cattle on Stanley Common and within the town of Stanley, with the exception of 5 very young bull calves. The number of cattle tested for each registered dairy was as follows :-

Hansen's Dairy	-	-	-	-	41.
Waghorn's Dairy	-	-	-	-	30.
Agricultural Department	-	-	-	-	24.

The remainder were cattle belonging to various Town's people.

The double intradermal test was employed using the neck site. At the first test 3 gave doubtful reactions and were immediately subjected to retesting both with the double intradermal and opthalmic. All three failed to react to these tests. These three animals were again retested 8 weeks later together with 4 more animals which had given an increase in their skin measurement of more than 4 m.m. at the first test. Both the double intradermal test in the neck site and a single injection in the caudal fold were employed. The results in all cases were negative.

Report on Education in the Colony for 1940.

Preface.

Vide for prefatory notes Annual Report for 1939 to which no alteration is necessary.

Administration & Staffing.

1. No alteration.

2. There were the following changes of staff during the year :

- (1) The Assistant Master left the School in January on being seconded for duty as a Cypher Officer in the Royal Navy.
- (2) Two new Travelling Teachers arrived in February, one was kept in the Government School to replace, temporarily, the Assistant Master.
- (3) The new Travelling Teacher on the East Falkland left the service in June.

3. Of the two new Travelling Teachers who arrived from the U.K. in February one, as stated above, was kept in the Government School Stanley, whilst the second proceeded to the "Camp" in March but his contract was terminated in June. It was not found possible to find a substitute locally, but one was sought for from the United Kingdom.

4. The proposals for improving the provision of Education for Camp Children, approved by Government in 1939, have, owing to war-time economy, not been put into operation.

Government School.

6. All pupils were medically and dentally examined during the year. A free daily issue of two half pints of milk and a dose of cod liver oil was given to about 30 pupils.

7. Carpentry, cookery and gardening were taught. The physical training was in accordance with the current Board of Education Syllabus and included apparatus work and folkdancing. Rugby and Association Football, hockey and netball were played regularly. The introduction of cricket was fairly successful, several of the boys gaining a place in the newly formed town side.

8. The Government School Library was extended to include the Camp, boxes of books were sent to the Travelling Teachers who organised a small circulating library in each settlement. The boxes were changed every four months.

9. The annual open day and exhibition of work was held in November and the display and prizegiving in December, both events were attended by many hundreds of parents and friends.

No. 99. M.P. 164/39. 13th September, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following telegraphic correspondence between His Excellency and the Secretary of State for the Colonies :-

From the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the 3rd September, 1941.

Upon this occasion of the third anniversary of the outbreak of War please accept from the people of this Dependency the firm assurance of their loyalty and faith that ere long the foulness that has spread over the World will be completely cleansed away through the valorous energy of our kith and kin.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to the Governor on the 11th of September, 1941.

Your telegram has been laid before H. M. the King who desires that an expression of his warm appreciation of the message contained therein may be conveyed to the people of the Falkland Islands.

No. 100. M.P. P/7. 13th September, 1941.

It is with deep regret that His Excellency the Governor announces the death on the 2nd of September, 1941, of Mr. William Barlas, M.B.E., J.P., Magistrate, South Georgia.

Mr. Barlas entered the Government service in 1908 as a Travelling Teacher and during a long and faithful career held many appointments: he had a very wide and varied experience in the civil service having served in almost every Government department at some time or another. He became Magistrate, etc., at South Shetlands in 1913 and from 1916 to 1919 was Deputy Collector of Customs at New Island. Mr. Barlas was appointed Deputy Magistrate, South Georgia, in 1920, and was promoted subsequently to Magistrate, a post he had held since the 27th September, 1928.

He was awarded the King's Jubilee Medal in 1935 and was appointed a Member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in 1941.

By the death of Mr. Barlas the Colony has lost a most loyal and valuable officer whom it will be difficult adequately to replace.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET,

for Colonial Secretary.

Financial Report for the Year 1940.

Colonial Treasury,
Stanley, Falkland Islands.
15th September, 1941.

The Honourable,
The Colonial Secretary,

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the following report on the financial transactions of the Colony and its Dependencies, for and in respect of the year ended 31st December, 1940 :—

The Falkland Islands.

2. The year's account, summarised, is as follows :—

Excess of Assets over Liabilities, 1st January, 1940	£261,676 : 17 : 4
Revenue.
Total Ordinary	£65,142 : 10 : 0
Land Sales Fund.
Land purchases	1,292 : 12 : 7
General Revenue Balance.
Appreciation of Investments	10,308 : 8 : 5
			£ 76,743 : 11 : 0
			£338,420 : 8 : 4
Expenditure.
Ordinary	£81,939 : 6 : 10
Extraordinary	1,707 : 8 : 1
			£ 83,646 : 14 : 11
Excess of Assets at 31st December, 1940	£254,773 : 13 : 5
Nett result of year's working – Decrease of Assets	...		£ 6,903 : 3 : 11

3. It will be observed that Ordinary Revenue was less than Ordinary Expenditure by £16,796 : 16 : 10. Total expenditure chargeable to revenue, however, created a nett deficit of £18,504 : 4 : 11. Details thereof are given later in this report.

4. The decrease in the Surplus of Assets of £6,903 : 3 : 11 is accounted for by increased extraordinary expenditure on Military and War services during the year. This decrease of assets is very much lower this year than last year, on account of a windfall of £10,308 : 8 : 5, being the amount of the Appreciation of Investments, which correspondingly increased revenue.

5. DEPENDENCIES. Ordinary revenue amounted to £13,877 : 0 : 8, or £1,964 : 19 : 4 less than estimated. Expenditure corresponds with the actual revenue, with the final result that, after making good out of this year's revenue, the sum outstanding for arrears of contribution for the year 1939, the sum of £707 : 13 : 1 is still in arrears to complete this year's contribution of £6,000.

6. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES PROVIDENT FUND. At the close of the year the assets of the Government Employees Provident Fund amounted to £9,390 : 2 : 7, against liabilities, (amount due to depositors) of £9,175 : 3 : 11, the excess of liabilities, viz. £214 : 18 : 8 is explained in the detailed report already submitted to you.

7. GEORGIA MARINE INSURANCE FUND. The balance of the Fund stood at £596 : 0 : 4, an increase of £203 : 1 : 4 on the figure for 1939, and is accounted for by the annual credit of £187, plus the capitalized interest on investments.

8. GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK. A detailed report of the transactions of the Savings Bank Fund has been rendered.

The balance on the 31st December, 1940, was £250,292 : 14 : 0, made up as follows :—

Due to Depositors	...	£223,542	: 0	: 8
Reserve	26,750	: 13	: 4
		£250,292	: 14	: 0

The Reserve, it will be noted represents approximately 11.96% of the sum due to Depositors.

9. NOTE SECURITY FUND. The Funds assets were £40,117 at the close of the year, and fully covered the note issue amounting to £34,000, as well as contingent liabilities. A detailed report of the Commissioner's transactions has been rendered in conformity with the Currency Notes Ordinance 1930.

10. THE DEPENDENCIES RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT FUND. The balance of the Fund was £176,930 : 7 : 2 as detailed hereunder :—

Balance, 1st January, 1940	£176,205	: 12	: 7
Receipts :
Transfer from Discovery Committee		£ 100	: 0	: 0
Interest on Investments	...	7,846	: 11	: 7
Appreciation of Investments	...	3,160	: 9	: 6
		£ 11,107	: 1	: 1
		£187,312	: 13	: 8
Payments :
Discovery Committee	£10,380	: 11	: 3
Sundry Expenses	1	: 15	: 3
		£ 10,382	: 6	: 6
Balance at 31st December, 1940	...	£176,930	: 7	: 2

11. RESERVE FUND. The balance of £50,000 standing to the credit of this account at the beginning of the year was reduced to £3,360 : 3 : 10 at 31st December last, the difference of £46,639 : 16 : 2 being the cost of £50,000 in stock donated to the Imperial Government during the year under review.

12. LAND SALES FUND. At the close of the year the balance of the Fund was £270,210 : 16 : 5, as shewn by the following summary :—

Balance at 1st January, 1940	£268,918	: 3	: 10
Receipts : Land Purchases	1,292	: 12	: 7
		Total	£270,210	: 16 : 5
Payments :
		Balance as at 31st December, 1940	£270,210	: 16 : 5

13. FARM AND BUILDING LOANS. On January 1st, 1940, the balance outstanding was £2,501 : 6 : 8. Repayments during the year amounted to £619 : 16 : 8, leaving a balancing of £1,881 : 10 : 0. Interest received during the year and credited to Revenue totalled £193 : 7 : 8.

14. INVESTMENTS. In accordance with Col. Reg. 275, the Colony's investments were re-valued at the close of the year, and resulted in a total appreciation of £21,621 : 1 : 10, in addition to which a profit of £375 : 5 : 6 was realized on the sale of Reserve Fund investments, making a total of £21,521 : 1 : 10, which sum was credited to General Revenue Balance Account.

The following table summarises the appreciation of the Funds affected :

Colony's Investments.

Land Sales Fund	£ 9,914	: 0	: 3
Georgia Marine Insurance Fund		21	: 6	: 1
Reserve Fund	373	: 2	: 1
		£10,308	: 8	: 5

Brought Forward ...	£10,308 : 8 : 5
Profit on sale of Reserve
Fund investments ...	375 : 5 : 6
		£10,683 : 13 : 11
Funds.
Savings Bank Fund ...	£ 6,800 : 6 : 11

	Total "Under" Head III.		£5,816 : 2 : 2

The appreciable difference under this head is principally due to the under estimation of Stanley Rates. As regards Income Tax, the estimated revenue of £10,500 was purely a calculation, since the collections this year were the first under the new Income Tax Ordinance, consequently there was no definite information on which to base an estimate, with any degree of correctness.

Head V. INTEREST. Under by £1,324 : 3 : 2, and made up of the following items :-

21. The following explanations, will cover the items of "over" and "under" spent:—

I. PENSIONS. Excess £169 : 0 : 4 principally due to payment made to S. H. Hooley on his retirement which was not provided for in the estimates, and to the under payment of the amount estimated for M. C. Craigie-Halkett, O.B.E.

II. THE GOVERNOR. Excess £81 : 4 : 5. Excess of expenditure on Coal and Oil, more than offsetted the savings on Books for Library, Incidentals and Uniforms, producing the above excess.

III. COLONIAL SECRETARY. Saving of £100 : 10 : 6, brought about by less expenditure for Assistant Colonial Secretary, Clerk Grade III and Financial Secretary, which savings were reduced to the above figure by increased expenditure for Colonial Secretary, Printing material, etc.

IV. TREASURY & CUSTOMS. Excess £422 : 15 : 6, caused by increased refunds for Customs Drawbacks and payment of commission to Commissioner of Income Tax, which was not provided for in the years estimates.

V. AUDIT. Excess of £1, due to increase of a like amount for Contribution to Central Office.

VI. POST OFFICE. Excess £92 : 19 : 10, due to increased cost of Carriage of Mails, and Sorting and Delivery Charges, which more than offset the economies under Personal Emoluments.

VII. ELECTRICAL & TELEGRAPHS. Excess £1,475 : 17 : 11, a saving of £121 : 3 : 4 was effected under Personal Emoluments, but, increased expenditure was incurred for Maintenance £870 : 12 : 5, Telephones £67 : 2 : 7, Broadcasting £9 : 8 : 0, Electric Lighting £327 : 8 : 7 and £266 : 17 : 5 for extra assistance and £53 : 8 : 8 Fuel & House allowance not estimated for, and Incidental Expenses £2 : 3 : 7, which brings about the nett result above indicated.

VIII. HARBOUR. Excess £16 : 7 : 4, brought about by Apprentice £59 : 3 : 11, Purchase of Dinghy £20, not provided for in the Estimates, which was reduced to the nett figure above indicated, by various small savings.

IX. LEGAL. Saving of £5 : 13 : 1 due to a reduction of Court & Coroners' Expenses.

X. POLICE & PRISONS. Saving of £28 : 9 : 2, the principal item being economy under Uniforms, Bedding, etc.

XI. MEDICAL. Excess £725 : 18 : 9. Under sub-head "b", other charges, the excess was £1,102 : 1 : 3, due to increased expenditure for Drugs, Maintenance of Staff and Patients, Clothing, Bedding, etc., Instruments and Equipment, Fuel, Scavenging Service, V. A. D. Service (for which no provision was made in the Estimates), which sum was reduced to the nett figure above indicated, by a saving of £376 : 2 : 6 under the head Personal Emoluments.

XII. EDUCATION. Saving of £22 : 2 : 8, made up of a total saving of £324 : 11 : 2 under Personal Emoluments. Under the head "b" other charges, expenditure exceeded estimate by £302 : 8 : 6, comprised of excess expenditure, £241 : 12 : 7 for Materials and Requisites, £50 : 8 : 11 for Travelling Teachers Expenses and Allowances, £51 : 3 : 6 for Board and Lodging children in Stanley, which reduced the actual nett saving, as above.

XIV. NATURALIST. Excess £15 : 6 : 7 due to overspending on the estimate for Incidental Expenses.

XV. MILITARY. Excess £3,520 : 15 : 1, brought about by excesses of expenditure over estimate under Personal Emoluments £50, Signal Stores £116 : 11 : 11, Uniforms & Equipment £1,375 : 5 : 10, Ammunition for Gun Defences £1,611 : 1 : 8, Transport £744 : 5 : 9 and Field Equipment £163 : 17 : 11, while no provision was made in the Estimates for expenditure for Summer Training Camp £115 : 18 : 7, Buildings, etc. £800 : 5 : 6, and Fuel & Light £524 : 13 : 0. However, there was a saving of £932 : 1 : 1 under Arms and Small Arms Ammunition, and £125 : 15 : 4 under Military Pay and Allowances. Estimated items of £25 for Expenses Bisley Competitions, £5 for Upkeep of Gymnastic Apparatus and £500 for Purchase of Four Bren Guns, totalling £530 in all, under which no expenditure whatsoever was incurred. The nett result is the Excess above indicated, due to the continuance of hostilities.

XVI. AGRICULTURE. Saving of £39 : 18 : 2, the saving under Personal Emoluments being £35 : 16 : 0, and £4 : 2 : 2 under other charges, the principal item overspent being Labour, with £108 : 15 : 0 while the rest of the items were fairly evenly balanced, the small amounts saved were practically wiped out by such expenditure items as £27 : 10 : 0, Compensation to Stock Owners, £23 : 12 : 8 Stock & Agricultural Show, £100 Horses & Harness for which amounts no provision was made in the Original Estimates.

XVII. MISCELLANEOUS. Excess £3,520 : 15 : 1, brought about principally by over-spending under Crown Agents Expenses £238 : 15 : 2, Telegrams £254 : 9 : 3, Stationery £310 : 13 : 6, Passages £1,953 : 18 : 3, Charitable Relief £164 : 10 : 4, Provident Fund £110 : 5 : 5, also to the items Supplementary Pay £314 : 0 : 9, Censorship £114 : 15 : 0, Medical Treatment U.K. for D. McAtasney £50 and subsidy to Sealing Co. Fund £351 : 8 : 5, for which no provision was made in the Estimate. Many of the above items may be attributed generally to increased expenditure occasioned by the continuance of hostilities, which undoubtedly affects the normal expenditure. Some items, of course, are due to under estimation.

XVIII. PUBLIC WORKS. Saving of £296 : 16 : 0, which is made up principally of a saving of £257 : 13 : 6 under Personal Emoluments, and a saving of £39 : 2 : 6 under "b" other charges, the chief factor being the underspending of £42 : 18 : 4 for Casual Labour.

XIX. PUBLIC WORKS RECURRENT. Excess £965 : 19 : 8, made up of savings under Roads, Bridges & Drains £1,210 : 0 : 4, Sanitary Service £5 : 2 : 10, Repairs & Maintenance Government House £95 : 9 : 1, Repairs & Maintenance Govt. Buildings £513 : 15 : 10, Furniture Govt. House £27 : 17 : 7, Minor Works £93 : 2 : 11, Upkeep Public Baths £10 : 18 : 1, Upkeep Carts & Horses £10 : 13 : 10, Extension Sea Wall £45 : 12 : 0, Upkeep Fences £4 : 9 : 7, Upkeep Jetties £7 : 13 : 8, Upkeep Navigation Lights £110 : 15 : 5, Tools £31 : 7 : 9 and Drainage of Peat Banks £10 : 9 : 4. On the other hand, Excesses were made up of, Water Service £181 : 12 : 1, Furniture Govt. Buildings £530 : 12 : 3, Upkeep Motor Transport £20 : 4 : 2, Peat Supply £406 : 5 : 10, Light & Fuel Govt. Buildings £64 : 11 : 0 and Purchase of Stores £1,940 : 2 : 7, making this nett excess as above mentioned.

XX. PUBLIC WORKS EXTRAORDINARY. Saving £637 : 11 : 11. Savings were effected on Alterations to Post Office £92 : 17 : 11, Reconditioning Cottage Allardyce Street £46 : 12 : 3, Heating Printing Office £196, and Purchase of Motor Roller £194 : 15 : 10, while no expenditure was incurred, for which provision had been made in the Estimates for Reconditioning Masts Stanley & Fox Bay W/T. Stations £320, Improved Heating W/T. Station £70, Water Pump & Engine £225, Heating Appliances Town Hall £150. Excess was incurred under Extension of Electric Light £236 : 9 : 9, while the cost of Medical Officers Quarters £223 : 15 : 1 and Agricultural Cottage £197 : 9 : 3 were not covered by provision in the Estimates.

			Difference, under the Estimate	£1,964 : 19 : 4

The considerable decline in revenue when compared with the estimated amount under the heads of Whale & Seal Oil and Guano Exports, also Whaling licences, Shipping Fees, and rents of Crown Lands, is the principal cause of the nett shortage of £1,964 : 19 : 4, however the gross shortage was decreased somewhat by an excess of £1,060 : 3 : 0 for duties on Tobacco, £102 : 19 : 9 on matches, and the sum of £2,280 : 11 : 3 received from the Research Fund. Deducting this latter amount from the total appearing in this statement as having been received the actual nett revenue was only really £11,596 : 9 : 5, or £4,245 : 10 : 7 less than that originally estimated.

EXPENDITURE. The approved estimated expenditure was £12,323, while the actual expenditure incurred was £13,877 : 0 : 8, but from this amount, the sum of £2,280 : 11 : 3 already appearing on the Revenue side as a contribution from the Research Fund, and which represents the arrears of Contribution to Central Administration at 31st of December, 1939, should be deducted, in consequence thereof, the actual expenditure was £11,596 : 9 : 5, compared with the estimate of £11,323 the consequent actual saving being £726 : 10 : 7. The sum of £707 : 13 : 1 is still owing to complete the Contribution to Central Administration for the year 1939.

Report on the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1940.

Colonial Treasury,

Stanley,

31st August, 1941.

The Honourable,
The Colonial Secretary,
Stanley.

Sir,

In accordance with Section 4 (6) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1938, I have the honour to submit a report on the transactions of the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1940.

Appended are the following statements of account:—

- (i) Abstract of Revenue and Expenditure, Deposits and Withdrawals, Investments, Investment Adjustment, Capital, and statement of Assets and Liabilities.
- (ii) Nominal value, cost and market value of investments at 31st December, 1940.

During the period under review compulsory deposits, including arrears, amounting to £1,149 : 15 : 9, voluntary deposits to £74 : 8 : 0, and accrued interest to £149 : 11 : 10, which with bonus equivalent to compulsory deposits, resulted in a total credit of £2,523 : 7 : 10, to depositors. Withdrawals totalled £36 : 0 : 1.

The amount standing to the credit of depositors at the close of the year is shewn in the following statement:—

Balance 1st January, 1940	£6,687 : 12 : 8
Add credits as detailed above	2,523 : 11 : 4
			<hr/>
Total credits	£9,211 : 4 : 0
Deduct Withdrawals (closed a/c's)	36 : 0 : 1
Balance due to depositors at 31st December, 1940			£9,175 : 3 : 11

Investments of a redemption value of £8,741 : 8 : 2, and costing £8,803 : 12 : 10, made and held by the Crown Agents for the Colonies for and on behalf of the fund, are detailed in the statement forwarded herewith. The revenue from investments was £274 : 7 : 11.

In conformity with C.R. 275 the Fund's Investments were revalued at the prices in the London market at the close of the year. Appreciation amounted to £95 : 19 : 0, and this sum was credited direct to the Fund, thereby increasing the assets to £214 : 18 : 8, more than the liabilities.

One account was closed leaving 103 accounts current at the close of the year.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. KING PRIME,

for Financial Secretary.

NOTICES.

No. 106. M.P. 93/41. 14th October, 1941.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that the present rules laid down in Colonial Regulations provide that when a Governor or other Officer Administering a Government is embarked in a boat or other vessel he flies a special flag, namely, the Union flag with the arms or badge of the Dependency emblazoned in the centre thereof on a white ground surrounded by a green garland; but that on all other occasions he uses the Union Flag without distinctive marks which is flown daily at Government House from sunrise to sunset.

It can only be at comparatively rare intervals that a Governor has occasion to go on board ship, and consequently to fly the specially charged ensign. On the other hand, the Union Flag is in constant evidence on the flag-staff at Government House and in some territories at least, it has come to be regarded as closely associated with the person of the Governor. The result has been to create a certain reluctance among private bodies and individuals to display the Union Flag, the apprehension being apparently that in so doing they might be encroaching, or have the appearance of encroaching, upon the Governor's personal prerogatives. It is most important that all such apprehensions should be dispelled and any persons who desire to fly the national flag are encouraged to do so. Indeed it is the right flag to fly since the Red Ensign is exclusively the flag of the Merchant Service.

In future Governors in Colonial Dependencies will fly on all occasions on land as well as afloat, the special ensign at present used only on board ship, namely, the Union Flag charged with the arms or badge of the territory; and this will be done here as soon as the necessary flags are obtained.

No. 108. M.P. 320/31. 24th October, 1941.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified for general information that in accordance with the wishes of His Majesty the King no public ceremony will be held on Armistice Day the 11th of November this year and the two minutes silence will not be observed.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET,
for Colonial Secretary.

Office of the Competent Authority.

In pursuance of the powers vested in him by Section 3 (2) of the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. Each of the persons specified in the Schedule to the United Kingdom Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 11) Order, 1941, as varied by the Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 12) Order, 1941, and the Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 14) Order, 1941, shall be deemed to be an enemy during such period as this Order shall in relation to such persons remain in force.

2. The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 4.) Order, 1941, of the 3rd of October, 1941, is hereby revoked.

3. This Order may be cited as "The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (No. 5) Order, 1941", and shall come into operation on the 28th of November, 1941.

Dated this 28th day of November, 1941.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET,

for Colonial Secretary.

M.P. S./10/39.

Annual Report of the Department of Agriculture for the year ending 30th June, 1941.

The Department of Agriculture was formed in 1936. The first director was the then Agricultural Adviser, Mr. D. S. A. Wier. No annual report was prepared prior to June 1940 and none has yet been published. The purpose of the Department is to administer such Ordinances and regulations as relate to agricultural matters, and to accumulate and distribute within the Colony useful information on agricultural subjects, in the widest sense of that phrase.

This involves the collection of statistics; acquisition of a library and technical equipment; introduction and testing of new varieties and types of plants; investigations of methods of establishing shelter plants and shelter plantations; prosecution of practical and fundamental experiments designed to improve stock, forage plants, soil conditions and soil fertility; study of the methods of preparing primary products for market with a view to their modification and improvement; and the distribution of information obtained in these and similar matters by publication and by practical demonstration to the people of the Colony.

Staff.

The staff of the Department is as follows:—

Director	-	-	J. G. Gibbs, M. Ag. Sc., Ph.D. (Minn.), Dip. Agr. (Linc.).
Stock Inspector	-	-	T. Beaty, B.Sc., (Agric).
Chief Clerk	-	-	E. Enestrom.
Ranger	-	-	B. Fleuret.
Assistant Clerk	-	-	C. A. Newing.

There have been no changes of staff during the year. The Common Ranger is still absent on active service.

Finance.

The authorised expenditure by the Department for the year ending 31st December 1940 was £4,160, the actual expenses being £4,157 : 3 : 11. Revenue collected through the Department exceeded the estimate of £263 by £97. This increase was due largely to the sale of milk and cream to the public, and to the sale of vegetables produced by the Department on vacant sections in Stanley. The agricultural vote amounted to 4.92 per cent of the total Government expenditure as against 12.0 per cent. for the previous financial year (including war expenditure) or 7.0 per cent. and 14.3 per cent. of ordinary expenditure respectively.

Tours.

The Director made the following tours:— 30th September to 23rd October; all stations on West Falkland returning via San Carlos, Darwin and Fitzroy. 7th December to 15th December; Teal Inlet and Douglas. 6th February to 26th April; Teal Inlet, Douglas, Salvador, San Carlos, Port San Carlos, Pebble Is., Carcass Is., West Point Is., all stations on West Falkland except Port Stephens, and returning to Stanley via North Arm, Darwin and Fitzroy.

Tours of the camp were made by the Stock Inspector as follows:— 15th July to 26th July; tour on s.s. "Fitzroy" calling at all ports on West Falkland and Islands. 30th December to 20th February; all stations on West Falkland, Pebble Is., Carcass Is., West Point Is., Port San Carlos, Douglas, Teal Inlet. 16th March to 21st March: Teal Inlet. 11th April to 30th April; Fitzroy and Darwin.

Dairy Inspection.

The registered dairies in Stanley were visited frequently. Two samples of milk were taken from each during the year and found to be up to standard in keeping qualities and fat content. Several samples were submitted privately but only one was found to be slightly low in fat content. It is doubtful whether this was a truly representative sample.

Stanley Common.

Stanley Common covers approximately 4,760 acres and bounds the town of Stanley. It is controlled by the Department of Agriculture assisted by an advisory committee of five stock owners. Since 1937 the Common which was previously ring fenced, has been divided into four sections and several small paddocks. The latter have been planted with tussock (Poa flabellata) or Marram grass (Arundo arenaria). Some of the tussock plantings have failed (though there is evidence that an application of whale guano might bring about a recovery) but about half is satisfactory and part of this has been cut for the last three years.

The fencing has enabled grazing on the Common to be controlled and has resulted in a marked improvement in the pasturage, and in the health of stock. During the year only three cattle died or had to be killed after becoming bogged. On the average 120 cattle were on the Common throughout the year, in addition to 92 horses during the summer and 5 during the winter. The revenue from the grazing fees amounted to £116 : 2 : 0 for the Financial year (1940).

During the Autumn Eliza Cove section was closed for seeding. One hundred pounds of Yorkshire fog seed was sown on the East section and two areas, in all about 17 acres, were fenced to provide winter fodder for stock and ground for experiments on pasture establishment.

General Conditions.

In general, the weather during the year has been favourable to stock. No losses of note were reported during the winter, and, though a spring storm killed a number of lambs, the ewes were strong and the lambing of 68 per cent. is well above the average.

A dry spring hindered germination of seeds thus causing a failure of some crops about Stanley. On several stations the hay crops did not come up to expectations. April brought the winter with killing frosts about the twentieth, and heavy rains that made this month one of the wettest recorded in the Islands, but no serious loss following dipping was reported.

Stock Importations.

During the year 5 Romney Rams were imported from England, 16 Corriedale cross rams from Patagonia, 71 horses and mares (including 2 stallions) from South America, 3 pigs, and 2 dogs. One ram was condemned in Quarantine on account of dermatitis.

Stock Returns.

The sheep in the Islands increased by 4,196 during the year ending 30th June 1940, making the total at that date 605,359. During the same period the number of cattle decreased by 6 to a total of 9,765 and horses increased by 59 to 3,382. The returns as for June 1941 are still incomplete, but it seems likely that the sheep will number more than 623,000; the increase may be attributed to the open winter, high lambing and the inability to dispose of surplus sheep to freezing works in Chile this season.

Frozen Mutton 1940.

During the autumn of 1940, 13,088 live sheep were exported to Chile for freezing. The returns concerning those sheep are now to hand. Sixty per cent. were accepted for export. The nett returns to the producers averaged 5/9d and 2/7d for sheep accepted for export and for those condemned respectively. The rejected sheep were classified as follows:—

	Total.	Poverty.	Caseous Lymph.	Bruised.	Victual- ling.	Colour.	Pleurisy.	Peritonitis.
Wethers	27.5	14.6	3.5	4.6	1.6	1.8	1.1	.3

Government Livestock.

The pedigree Friesian Bulls sired 87 calves during the year, 52 in Stanley and 35 in the camp. The heifer calves born in Stanley are being reared. Five bull calves were sold to the camp. Five yearling cross-bred heifers, the progeny of the imported bulls are being backcrossed to their sires. The service fees received amounted to £25 : 0 : 0, £10 : 0 : 0 being outstanding.

On the average five cows were milked at the Government dairy during the year and yielded 29,757 lbs of milk, (2,889 gallons). Fifteen hundred gallons were sold as milk, 567 were converted to cream or butter, and the remainder was fed to calves. Eight Friesian cross heifer calves were reared and three heifers were purchased during the year. The herd now numbers 7 cows, 5 heifers, 8 heifer calves and two imported Friesian bulls.

Three plough horses were bought from Montevideo during the year.

The flock of 31 ewes produced 34 lambs by an imported Romney ram. Ten ram lambs were sold for breeding, 15 ewe and 2 ram lambs were retained and the remaining culs killed.

A large white gilt donated to H. E. the Governor by Messrs. Salvasen Ltd., has been mated and produced a litter of nine. One pig was raffled for the Red Cross, two gilts and a boar were retained, the remainder being sold.

A demonstration intensive poultry house with a capacity of 75 fowls has been erected. Forty white leghorn pullets were ordered but only sixteen could be obtained. To the end of June 45 dozen eggs had been obtained.

Diseases of Stock.

Bovine Tuberculosis: The Stock Inspector tested all the milking cattle in Stanley with tuberculin by the double intradermal method during November, and in June all the cattle about the township except 5 very young calves. Of 86 animals submitted to the first test 6 gave positive reactions and were destroyed, compensation being paid to the owners. In the second test 169 animals were tested. No reactors were found. Regulations have been passed by the Governor in Council requiring the testing of all cattle introduced to the town before they may be released on the Common, thus making the town and Common virtually a tuberculosis free area.

Tests of 121 cows at seven Stations in the camp revealed four reactors. These cows were not in all cases destroyed by the owners.

Mastitis: Four cases of mechanical injury to the udder were examined. No case of contagious mastitis was observed.

Milk Fever: Two cases were treated successfully by inflation.

Ringworm: Infected cattle were observed on two stations on the East Falkland. Eradication is hampered by insufficient care in disinfecting buildings and rubbing posts. These should be painted with creosote or tar during the winter when no infected animals are being handled. Infected animals should be dressed with 2 per cent. mercuric iodide ointment and isolated from other cattle.

Osteoporosis: One case was observed in a two year colt on Pebble Island, the maxillary bones being affected. This disease has been reported on one or two farms on West Falkland. It is associated with deficient calcium metabolism and may be avoided by the provision of good feed supplemented if necessary by calcium phosphate and cod liver oil.

Lice: Lice are common on calves but have not been observed on sheep for more than two years.

Keds or Ticks: Keds are fairly common on some stations. On these gathering and dipping must be done more carefully. It is suggested that, failing the provision of adequate boundary fences on Wickham Heights, organised simultaneous gathering should be enforced on this area.

Caseous Lymphadinitis: This appears to be one of the most common diseases of sheep in the Islands. Six per cent. of cull wethers and ten per cent of cull ewes at Darwin, were infected in the mesenteric glands, and four per cent. of the ewes were infected in the body glands.

Internal parasites of sheep: Examinations were made of the entrails of wethers in the Stanley slaughter houses and of ewes in the killing shed at Darwin. No intestinal parasites were found in the wethers, but six per cent. of the ewes were infected with a tape worm. Tape worm cysts were found in the mesentery of ten per cent. of the wethers and fourteen per cent. of the ewes, but T. echinococcus cysts were not observed.

The Stock Inspector identified Haemonchus contortus in the stomach, and observed tape worms in the intestines of pinner lambs on Carcass Island. A nicotine-copper sulphate drench was supplied and deaths among the lambs are now negligible.

Fifty four visits were made by the Stock Inspector to sick animals in Stanley during the year. No infectious diseases were observed the cases being due to wounds, strains, colic or impaction of the stomach.

Stock Feeding Experiments.

Many of the dairy cows grazing on Stanley Common have 'starey' coats and unthrifty appearance, rather similar to symptoms of 'bush sickness' in New Zealand. An empirical experiment was carried out in which limonite or potassium iodide was fed to groups of three cows for two months. Two cows, fed in the same manner but without the additional chemicals served as checks. All cattle were slightly below normal blood count throughout the test but no significant differences occurred as a result of treatment. The coats of both the treated groups of animals improved so that the untreated animals could be distinguished, but the difference was slight. The experiment will be repeated, using pure cobalt salts.

By feeding two cast wethers for nine weeks on tussock after calculating (on the analysis in Davies' report*) that the food value of 100 lbs of tussock was 13 lbs of starch equivalent, the Stock Inspector showed that this figure was a close approximation to the actual food value. This means that 20 lbs of tussock (Poa flabellata) is equivalent to 7 lbs of hay, and that the maintenance ration for a cow is 50 lbs per day. A cow would require an additional 20 lbs of tussock for each gallon of milk produced, if no concentrate is provided.

Agricultural returns.

The Colony consists of 2,955,823 acres of which all but some 12,000 acres of outlying islands are occupied. The grazing is mainly native vegetation. According to returns submitted this year only 772 acres have been ploughed since the Colony was formed. Of this about 600 acres are on one property, the remaining 172 acres being spread over 13 properties. Approximately 1,093 acres are in English grasses of which 450 acres are predominantly Yorkshire fog. Five hundred acres of the remainder are on one property. Only 46 acres have been recorded as supporting clover (but to this may be added approximately 250 acres at Port Howard from whence the returns were incomplete). During the year 3,070 lbs of Yorkshire fog seed, 399 lbs of other English grass seeds and 60 lbs of clover seeds were sown throughout the Colony.

Hay was made from 145 acres of oats at an estimated average yield of 1.27 tons per acre, and from 84 acres of English grass pastures which yielded on the average approximately 19 cwt. per acre. Approximately 1,000 lbs of grass seeds were saved from English pastures or threshed from hay.

The acreage in Poa flabellata is not known. This crop is reserved for the wintering of horses and for fattening steers. On three properties fenced areas of tussock provide winter fodder for the sheep. Apart from this, 6 acres of oats or grass and 2 acres of turnips were provided as supplementary feed for sheep.

It will be observed that little supplementary fodder is provided for stock. What is available is fed to horses, milking cows and to a few stud sheep. Kelp washed on the beaches is freely eaten during the winter and must provide a source of minerals in which the native pastures are low. There is a belief that sheep do not thrive unless they have access to the coasts, but it seems pertinent to remark that the station with the greatest coastline has difficulty in breeding sufficient lambs for normal replacements.

The fact that a large proportion of the wool is tender indicates a need of better nutrition. There can be no real improvement in the stock, the wool, or the carrying capacity of the Islands until more or better quality food can be grown, and the development of a frozen meat trade must hinge on the ability to produce fat lambs, and to fatten wethers at eighteen months. All this points to the necessity to develop supplementary forage crops, and to improve the pasturage.

The native tussock, Poa flabellata, is undoubtedly the best supplement to the native pastures that can be grown. The denuded black coastal areas should be fenced and replanted with tussock. Within two or three years these areas would produce a greater return than any other investment that could be made in the Islands. Planting and fencing would be done by normal station labour during winter when little stock work is done, and when demands for labour throughout the Colony are at a minimum. Economies may be achieved by the use of electric fences which, though untried locally, have been found satisfactory for holding run sheep in other countries.

At Port Howard and elsewhere it has been shown that pasture equal in quality to the best in Britain can be maintained though the yield here is less. The establishment of such pastures necessitates fencing and cultivation. On the better land timothy, crested dogtail, rough stalked meadow grass, brown top, red fescue, cocksfoot, white clover and alsike clover should form the basis of such pastures. On white grass and wet peat types Yorkshire fog, red top, lotus major and red clover should be tried. I would urge every station to establish areas from which seeds of these grasses can be harvested, and to plan the establishment of at least 100 acres of English grass pastures annually. It is not too much to expect that such pastures will carry at least one sheep per acre throughout the year.

At present the method of establishing these pastures is somewhat costly. Investigations in which the Stock Inspector has taken an active part have been commenced to ascertain the best and cheapest methods of pasture establishment and the details of these are described below.

Research Activities.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT: Approximately 50 small packets of grass and legume seeds have been donated by Professor Johnston-Wallace of Cornell University and others by E. B. Levy, Esq., N.Z. Grasslands Division. Pure plots of each grass with white clover and of each legume with either timothy or Poa pratensis, have been sown at Stanley and at Pebble Island, to obtain information concerning the suitability of the strains and species for local conditions. The legume seeds were inoculated with cultures of Pseudomonas radiculicola. Both sowings suffered severely in the storms of April 1940.

A series of 11 mixtures of seeds, in which different grasses or clovers dominated, was sown in duplicate plots on harrowed ground from which the diddle dee had been burnt six days previously. Yorkshire fog (Holcus lanatus), timothy (Phleum pratense), perennial ryegrass (Lolium perenne), Poa trivialis, red clover (Trifolium pratense) and subterranean clover (T. subterranea) have struck satisfactorily. Some of these mixtures were sown very lightly, with the intention of allowing them to seed themselves down during summer, in the hopes that a cheap method of establishing pastures of English grasses might result. No fertilizers have been applied to either of the above experiments.

Three experiments were laid down during the late autumn at Pebble Island, on native vegetation of three types. The experiments consisted of four treatments with carbonate of lime at 0, 2, 10, and 20

* Wm. Davies, 1939. The Grasslands of the Falkland Islands.

cwt. per acre applied as a latin square and broadcast with inoculated white clover (Trifolium repens) seed at the rate of 2 pounds per acre. The ecological types chosen were short fern, open diddle dee and mountain berry, and white grass.

About four ounces of inoculated white clover seed was scattered along the track from Roy Cove to Fox Bay East during the autumn, especially on bare patches and in diddle dee bushes.

One and a half tons of a variety of grass, clover and cruciferous seeds are at present in transit from New Zealand.

Equipment and materials for culturing legume nodule bacteria have been obtained and cultures of the strains on lucerne and Tagusaste have been made. Trouble is being experienced in securing satisfactory growth of the white clover organism. Experimental sowings on virgin soil have shown that the skim milk method of seed inoculation is satisfactory with white clover and lucerne seeds; but the seeds must be sown soon after inoculation.

The plots laid down in 1935 and 1936 at the instigation of the Welsh Plant Breeding Station have revealed that on raw, freshly cultivated peat without fertilizer, no grass other than red fescue appeared, and that but sparsely. Where basic slag or rock phosphate was applied on this ground and stock had access to the plots Yorkshire fog, a little red fescue and an occasional cocksfoot plant has become established.

Better results were secured on scarified ground (not ploughed). The results vary somewhat according to the different ecological types on which the experiments were placed. On white grass plots crested dogstail, fog and cocksfoot may be found when basic slag or rock phosphate was applied even though stock have had continuous access to the plots. In general, no imported grasses have established on the superphosphated or untreated plots. Where stock were fenced off on Aria associations or consolidated ground, fog, cocksfoot, crested dogstail, red fescue, yarrow and occasional timothy and ryegrass plants have become established. With three exceptions white clover has become established only on the plots treated with basic slag, usually only on the heavier dressed plot (10 cwt per acre), but it is not present in all of these plots. In two cases clover became established on the rock phosphate plots and once on a superphosphate plot in addition to the basic slag plots. It seems noteworthy that both the Yarrow (used only in 1935 experiments) and the Yorkshire fog which, in general have become prominent in their respective experiments were sown at only 4 ounces per acre. The best strikes for surface sowing on unploughed ground occurred on Aria and native fescue associations on plots dressed with basic slag or rock phosphate. Very little grass has struck even here on the unfertilized plots.

In the majority of cases ryegrass does not appear to be successful and tends to blue off even in summer. At present the most satisfactory species for pasture establishment in these Islands are Agrostis tenuis, red fescue (Festuca rubra), crested dogstail (Cynosurus cretatus), timothy, Yorkshire fog, yarrow (Achillea millefolium), Poa pratensis, white clover, alsike clover (Trifolium hybridum) and Trifolium dubium. Further investigations will no doubt give cause to modify and increase this list.

CEREAL CROPS: A randomised plot experiment to compare six varieties of oats, two varieties of rye and a six-row barley did not yield any definite information because of soil heterogeneity. There is evidence that experiments on this subject should be continued.

An experiment to determine the best rate of seeding for oats was also ruined by soil variability.

A randomised block experiment to test the value of manurial dressings for oat hay crops revealed no significant difference between whale guano, basic slag, superphosphate, superphosphate and carbonate lime mixture (1:1) and rock phosphate all applied at the rate of 2 cwt of the phosphatic ingredient per acre, or between these and no fertilizer.

2. The application of 1 ton of carbonate of lime per acre with a phosphate produced a significantly better yield than did the phosphate alone. (The increase due to lime averaged 12½ cwt per acre.)

3. The application of lime alone produced a significantly better yield than did basic slag, superphosphate, or superphosphate-carbonate of lime mixture. The yield on the lime plots (15 cwt per acre) was almost double that produced by whale guano and rock phosphate but this difference is not statistically significant.

4. Applications of sulphate of potash or nitrate of soda at 1 cwt per acre each did not produce a significant increase in yield.

ROOT CROPS: Swedes and turnips are grown in vegetable gardens where they do well and survive the winter frosts without pitting. So far very few have been grown for stock fodder.

During the past year, six acres were sown about Stanley to swedes or turnips. Part of this area was laid down in two randomised variety trials. Two manurial experiments were also included, but on only one small area, which had previously been in clover pasturage, did a crop develop. The crop here was estimated at about 25 tons per acre. Dry weather following sowing hindered germination and growth was further handicapped in most areas by the lack of previous cultivation and fallowing.

Trial plots of marrow stem kale, thousand headed kale, sheep kale and rape were sown in small garden plots in 1939 and yielded at the rate of 38, 29, 35 and 33 tons per acre respectively. This suggests that these crops should be tried in the camp as autumn and winter supplements.

FENCING: Since sub-division must precede pasture improvement and fencing costs are heavy through the lack of local timber etc., an electric fencing unit was imported for experimental use. A small paddock has been prepared for holding pigs. The fence of three No. 8 wires holds cattle (including the bulls) and horses but young pigs seemed to enjoy the shocks and rubbed on the lowest wire. Nor did the fence hold these pigs when they were five months' old though it held the sow at all times. Other electric units are on order for experimental fencing.

SHELTER: Published reports suggest that trees will not thrive in the Islands on account of the high winds or soil conditions. Actually some trees, usually Cupressus macrocarpa have become established in garden or cultivated soil, and have grown well above the shelter in which they started growth. Though wind-swept in appearance, they have usually grown vertically, and show little evidence of serious wind injury. At Port Stephens C. macrocarpa seedlings planted in 1926 are now 15 to 18 feet high, and a second planting made in 1929 is 12 feet high. These trees are well supplied with mycorrhizal growths.

At Hill Cove approximately an acre of Pinus sylvestris that was planted about 1926, is now 9 to 10 feet high but badly parasitised with woolly scale. The branches are meeting at the base and shelter within the plantation is complete. Practically no misses have occurred in this planting. Sitka spruce, planted at the same time, does not appear so well suited to the conditions, but, of the planted trees, it alone survives in the areas to which stock have had access.

At Teal Inlet, is a healthy plantation of willow and poplar, which gives complete shelter to the vegetable garden. Other young plantations of mountain ash, Pinus sylvestris and Cupressus macrocarpa have been planted and are thriving.

The Uruguayan Department of Agriculture has donated about 500 trees of 28 species for experimental purposes and also a variety of tree seeds. Seeds were also furnished for experimental work by the Scottish Forest Research Officer, Edinburgh, the U.S. Forest Service and the N.Z. State Forest Service.

Of the seedlings presented by the Uruguayan authorities Cupressus lambertiana (= macrocarpa), C. glauca and C. blanca appear better suited to local conditions than C. horizontalis. Certain poplars Alamo blanco, and A. rosado show promise but the oaks and elms have made very little progress during the summer. Acacias and eucalypts appear quite unsuited to the local conditions.

Of the seeds which were planted locally Pinus pinaster is outstanding. C. macrocarpa, C. glauca and Thuja orientalis have grown less rapidly but have provided sturdy plants which have so far survived the winter frosts. P. laricio does not appear sufficiently hardy and tree lucerne (Tagosaste) grew well until killed by winter frosts. Seed of P. ponderosa, P. contorta, Picea sitchensis and Larix europaeae have been received but have not yet been sown.

Vegetable Production.

During the year instructions were received to make the Colony as nearly self supporting as possible with regard to vegetables. An appeal was made to the townspeople to cultivate all the ground they had available and grow vegetables, and to the camp to provide potatoes and other vegetables, the Government guaranteeing a price of 1½d and 2d per lb for produce arriving in Stanley in good condition. Owing to shortage of labour in the camp only three tons of potatoes have been forthcoming. These have been produced by the smaller properties.

The townspeople responded enthusiastically and additional land was turned over. Vacant sections and other land amounting to three acres was lent gratuitously to the Department for vegetable production. Sufficient green vegetables were produced by the townspeople and the Department for local requirements and the visiting ships. The actual quantities produced by the Department were :-

Cabbage	5,069 lbs	Turnips, Swedes	2,654 lbs	Lettuce	1,384 lbs
Cauliflower	912 lbs	Carrots	762 lbs	Tomatoes	137 lbs
Parsnips	80 lbs	Kale	58 lbs	Onions	42 lbs
Broad beans	16 lbs	Radish & Cress	68 bundles.

The revenue from vegetables for the year under review totalled £189 : 9 : 8.

Government House Garden.

The administration of the vote for the upkeep of Government House Gardens is placed with the Director of Agriculture. During the year the Gardener Mr. H. R. Evans had the assistance of two men in the garden and glasshouses. He also accepted the responsibility of carrying out the Department's scheme of vegetable production, and for this purpose took over the glasshouse at Sullivan House. Besides the upkeep of the grounds and the maintenance of flowers in the conservatory, 3,181 pounds of vegetables and 2,497 pounds of potatoes were produced in the vegetable garden. The gardener has also undertaken the care of trees, and the production of tree seedlings, giving up his private flower beds for this purpose. The success and interest of the senior boys of the public school in their school vegetable gardens is a tribute to the Government House Gardener who has been supervisor and instructor since 1939.

Finally I would like to place on record my appreciation of the enthusiastic support and conscientious work of all members of the staff; the collaboration of Government officials and departments, and business organisations; and the help and hospitality so freely given by the Camp to the Stock Inspector and myself.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINAL L. By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

[L.S.]

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the 25th day of February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands, it was amongst other things declared that there should be an Executive Council in and for the said Colony which should consist of such persons as should be directed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet.

AND WHEREAS by Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date the 28th day of February, 1920, it was declared that if in the opinion of the Governor the number of members of the Executive Council available for business may at any time be likely to prove insufficient, the Governor may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal, appoint some fit person to be provisionally a member of the said Council for such period as shall be specified in such Instrument :

NOW THEREFORE, I, being of the opinion that the number of members of the Executive Council available for business is likely to prove insufficient, do hereby provisionally appoint to be a member of the Executive Council for a period of three years with effect from the 8th of December, 1941.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given at Government House, Stanley, this 12th day of December, in the Year of Our Lord One thousand Nine hundred and Forty-one.

NOTICES.

No. 124. M.P. S/12/41. 17th December, 1941.

The following despatch has been received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies outlining the policy to be followed in the future for the nomination of unofficial members of the Executive Council and Legislative Council.

The applicability of this policy to each Colony depends on the Colony's constitution. This is realized by the Secretary of State and does not affect possible future alterations in any constitution.

Circular (A).

Downing Street,

22nd May, 1941.

Sir,

I have the honour to address you on the subject of the re-appointment of unofficial members of Executive and Legislative Councils who have already served for one or more terms in that capacity.

2. As a matter of principle it appears to me to be undesirable that unofficial members of these Councils should be repeatedly re-appointed on the expiration of their term of office until in practice the appointment comes to be looked upon as one for life. I appreciate the fact that a Governor would wish to retain the services of a tried and trusted councillor, and might, for this reason, recommend the re-appointment of such a person for several terms; and I am not unmindful of the difficulty, in a small colony, of finding a sufficient number of advisers who are both capable and willing to serve on the Councils.

3. There are, however, obvious disadvantages in a practice by which unofficial representation in the Executive Council, and unofficial (nominated) representation in the Legislative Council, is left for prolonged periods in the same hands, however capable.

4. The object of appointing unofficial members of Executive Council is to bring the Government into closer touch with the community as a whole. Where there are no elected members of the Legislative Council the same reason exists for the appointment of unofficial members of that Council. Even where there are elected members, nominated unofficial members of Legislative Council are generally required to represent minority interests which would not otherwise be represented, or to secure the services of those who by reason of their financial or commercial knowledge and experience would be of particular value in the conduct of public business; such persons, while they might be willing to serve on the Council if appointed thereto, might be unable to spare the time necessary to secure election. I am, of course, aware that many of those who by their character and abilities are well qualified for public service on those Councils are reluctant, in any circumstances, to enter the arena of local politics.

5. In spite of all the difficulties I feel that more frequent changes are desirable in unofficial representation on the Executive and Legislative Councils than has been customary in the past.

6. Generally speaking, I should not have any objection to one re-appointment of a member, provided that the total period of his service does not exceed eight consecutive years, but the re-appointment of a member for a third term should be treated as an exceptional measure.

7. I desire that my views in this matter should be generally known, and it should be made clear that in formulating these views I have been influenced solely by the consideration that more frequent changes in the appointed personnel of these Councils is desirable. It should be understood that if a member who has served continuously for eight years is not re-appointed for yet a further term, this is in accordance with general policy and in no way a reflection on the individual concerned.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient,
humble servant,

(Sgd.) MOYNE.

The Officer Administering the Government of the
FALKLAND ISLANDS.

No. 125. M.P. 291/33. 17th December, 1941.

With reference to Government Notice, No. 117 of the 17th of December, 1940, it is hereby notified for general information, that Saturday the 27th of December, 1941, has been withdrawn from the list of Public Holidays and that the Public Offices will not be closed on that date.

No. 127. M.P. 41/29. 17th December, 1941.

With reference to Government Notice, No. 69 of the 25th June 1940, it is hereby notified for general information, that N. K. Cameron, Esquire, J.P., has resigned his appointment as a member of the Legislative Council and that his resignation has been accepted as from the 7th of November, 1941.

No. 129. M.P. 41/37. 22nd December, 1941.

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 13th December, 1941.

I should be grateful if you would convey to His Majesty on the occasion of his birthday the deepest affection and most sincere loyalty of the Falkland Islands people.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Majesty the Governor 18th December, 1941.

Your telegram of December 13th has been laid before His Majesty who desires that an expression of his sincere thanks for the message of affection and loyalty from the Falkland Islands people may be conveyed to you.

No. 130. M.P. 105/39. 22nd December, 1941.

With reference to Government Notice of the 11th of September, 1939, it appears necessary once more to repeat the warning given against the spreading of false rumours to alarm people.

A report has been circulated that the Norwegian vessel which recently called at Stanley has since been identified as a German Raider, that her crew consisted of Norwegian speaking Germans, and that she had on board a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition stored beneath her deck cargo of timber.

The Government wishes the general public to understand that there is no truth whatever in the rumour, and that if the author of such a story can be found he will be severely dealt with. Furthermore it should be clearly understood that those persons who spread such rumours without due enquiry are also liable to punishment.

No. 132. M.P. 291/33. 31st December, 1941.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that on the following dates in 1942 the Public Offices will be closed :-

New Year's Day	...	Thursday, 1st January.
Good Friday	...	Friday, 3rd April.
Easter Monday	...	Monday, 6th April.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Minutes of Meeting held on 26th November, 1941.

1. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser and Magistrate, after taking the prescribed oaths assumed his seat at the Council.

2. The minutes of the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 26th of November, 1940, were confirmed.

3. The Governor delivered to the Council the following Message :

"Honourable Members of the Legislative Council,

"I had wished at this my first budget meeting of the Council to have arranged a "full dress appearance together with the customary guard of honour and therefore with "as much dignity and ceremony as you on this occasion are entitled to and most right- "fully might expect. But apart from the war there is the paucity in your numbers, "only one unofficial member being available, and the important fact that I hope at no "distant date to call a meeting when matters of great importance will have to be dis- "cussed and decided upon.

"Moreover at this meeting there are but few questions to be dealt with, and "apart from the Estimates themselves are almost affairs of routine. These are the usual "resolutions and technical amendments to a few ordinances, none of which are contro- "versial nor indeed require debate.

"The Estimates too introduce nothing new. They are as in last year's budget "and except in a few details remain unaltered.

"You will observe, however, that our War Expenditure is mounting steadily and "is a financial burden not disproportionate to that of other parts of the Empire. In "1939 we spent £11,986, in 1940 £23,839, this year the revised estimate is £21,241 "and for 1942 the expenditure anticipated amounts to £19,875, so that by January "1943 our total expenditure for our defence will be in the neighbourhood of £77,000 "and when brought into the General Revenue Account will represent a deficit of approx- "imately £216,000. That is by no means unsatisfactory, especially when one considers "the enormous sacrifices made elsewhere.

"I cannot at this juncture give details of how I hope to arrange the liquidation "of this deficit but I think it can be done; and that, when the final figures are reached, "the financial figure will actually show a favourable balance of some £295,000.

"But all this is in the future and is a question intimately bound up with a pro- "gramme of development and progress which I am anxious to introduce. Obviously I "cannot enlarge upon this policy today but I can say that it will not only cover develop- "ment and progress in material matters but most certainly reforms, social and constitu- "tional.

"We welcome here today a new appointment which the Secretary of State has "approved and that is that of our Legal Adviser. He will among his other duties "revise our laws and prepare a new consolidated edition, thus fulfilling a long needed "want, asked for by many sections of the community. The appointment is in the first "instance for three years.

"The question of filling the office of Colonial Secretary has almost been answered "and it is hoped that an officer of very high qualifications will arrive in the Colony "before the winter.

"I should like too to mention that after prolonged negotiations the post of "Dentist will soon be filled. The gentleman chosen through the good offices of the "Canadian Authorities is a very highly qualified surgeon lately of the Alberta Govern- "ment Service.

"Finally I am sure you would like me to give public expression of our sympathy "with the widow of the late Mr. W. Barlas who died on duty in South Georgia. The "Government lost in him a very loyal and most faithful servant, whose work was only "recently recognised by His Majesty.

"And now, gentlemen, let us begin our deliberations and, as is meet, ask God to "give us in them His help and guidance".

4. With reference to the contribution of £50,000 voted at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 26th of June, towards the purchase of aircraft for use in His Majesty's Forces, His Excellency informed the members that a plaque bearing the following inscription had been received from the Ministry of Aircraft Production :

"In the hour of peril the Legislative Council of the Falkland Islands earned the "gratitude of the British Nations sustaining the valour of the Royal Air Force and "fortifying the cause of freedom by the gift of ten fighter aircraft.

"They shall mount up with wings as eagles.

"Issued by the Ministry of Air Production. 1940."

The Council agreed that the Plaque should be placed in the glass case on the first floor of the Town Hall.

5. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser, by command, laid on the Table the following papers :

- (i) Copies of all Regulations, Proclamations, Orders and Bye-laws made or approved by the Governor in Executive Council since the last meeting of the Legislative Council.
- (ii) Copies of despatches received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, intimating the non-disallowance by His Majesty of Ordinances Nos. 2, 4, 7, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15, of 1940.
- (iii) Comparative Statements of Revenue and Expenditure for the Colony and the Dependencies for the periods 1st January to 31st December, 1940, and 1st January to 30th June, 1941.
- (iv) Comparative Statement of Revenue and Expenditure for the 'Discovery' Investigations for the year ended the 31st of December, 1940.
- (v) Estimate of the 'Discovery' Committee's expenditure for the year 1941.
- (vi) Financial Secretary's Report and Statements for the year ended the 31st of December, 1940.
- (vii) Annual Report by the Local Auditor on the Revenue and Expenditure of the Colony for the year 1939.

6. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser, moved and the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded, the adoption of the following Resolution :

"WHEREAS additional provision is required for the service of the Colony and its Dependencies for the year ended the 31st of December, 1940.

"BE IT RESOLVED -

"This Council hereby sanctions the expenditure from public funds of the "sum of NINETEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED AND THREE "POUNDS THIRTEEN SHILLINGS AND THREEPENCE, (£19,403 : "13 : 3) to meet the several charges itemized in the accompanying schedule."

The Resolution was adopted.

7. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser, moved the adoption of the following Resolution :

"WHEREAS additional provision is required for the service of the Colony "for the year ending the 31st of December, 1941.

"BE IT RESOLVED -

"This Council hereby sanctions the expenditure from public funds of the "sum of TWO THOUSAND AND NINETY-ONE POUNDS THIRTEEN "SHILLINGS (£2,591 : 13 : 0) to meet the several charges itemized in the "accompanying Schedule."

8. On the motion of the Honourable B. Austin Cathie, seconded by the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer, the following Resolution was adopted :

"WHEREAS the revenues of the Dependencies for the year 1940 have not sufficed to meet expenditure in the sum of SEVEN HUNDRED AND SEVEN POUNDS, THIRTEEN SHILLINGS AND ONE PENNY (£707 : 13 : 1).

"NOW, THEREFORE, this Council resolves and it is hereby resolved in pursuance of the provisions of Section 3 of the Dependencies Research and Development Fund (Amendment) Ordinance, 1936, that the aforesaid sum of SEVEN HUNDRED AND SEVEN POUNDS, THIRTEEN SHILLINGS AND ONE PENNY (£707 : 13 : 1) being the amount of the excess of the Expenditure over the Revenue of the Dependencies in respect of the year 1940 shall be paid out of the Dependencies Research and Development Fund into the general revenue of the Dependencies."

9. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie moved and the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded the adoption of the following Resolution :

"WHEREAS this Council by Resolution passed on the fifth day of December, 1939, increased the rate to be charged on house property in the town of Stanley, from One Shilling and Ninepence to Two Shillings for every Twenty Shillings of the annual value of such house property :

"AND WHEREAS the aforesaid increase of threepence provided specifically for the removal of garbage in the town of Stanley by the Government;

"AND WHEREAS the scheme for the removal of such garbage was inoperative from the 1st of January to the 30th of June, 1941, and it became necessary for the general public to make provision for and bear the cost of the removal of garbage;

"NOW, THEREFORE, this Council resolves and it is hereby resolved that a refund of the aforementioned increase of Threepence charged on house property for the year 1941, proportionate to the period in which the said garbage scheme was inoperative, shall be made from the revenues of the Colony to the General public."

The Resolution was adopted.

No. 4. M.P. 48/41. 6th January, 1942.

ALLIED FORCES.

The Allied Forces (Application of Acts to Colonies, &c.) (No. 1) Order, 1941.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 15th day of January, 1941.

Present,

The King's Most Excellent Majesty.

Lord President.	Captain Crookshank.
Lord Snell.	Colonel Clifton Brown.
Mr. Secretary Morrison.	Sir Walter Womersley.

WHEREAS by the Allied Forces (Application of 23 Geo. 5. c. 6) (No. 1) Order, 1940 (a) hereinafter called "the United Kingdom Order") made in pursuance of subsection (3) of section one of the Allied Forces Act, 1940, it is provided that such of the provisions of the Visiting Forces (British Commonwealth) Act, 1933 (hereinafter called "the Act of 1933") as are contained in the Schedule to that Order shall have effect, as therein set out with adaptations and modifications, in relation to the naval, military and air forces of the following Powers allied with His Majesty, that is to say :- Belgium, the Czechoslovak Republic, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland : which Powers are hereinafter called "Allied Powers".

AND WHEREAS by sections five and six of the Act of 1933 as applied by the United Kingdom Order His Majesty is empowered, as regards any Colony or any territory under His Majesty's protection, including any territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations is being exercised by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, to direct by further Order in Council that the provisions of subsection (1) of section one of the Allied Forces Act, 1940, together with the provisions, as applied by the United Kingdom Order, of sections one to three of the Act of 1933 or such of those provisions as may be specified in such further Order in Council, shall, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be so specified, apply in that colony or territory in relation to the forces of Allied Powers and in relation to deserters and absentees without leave, as they apply in the United Kingdom :

NOW, THEREFORE, His Majesty, in exercise of the said powers, and of all other powers enabling Him in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows :—

1. The provisions of subsection (1) of section one of the Allied Forces Act, 1940, and the provisions of sections one to three of the Act of 1933 as set out in the Schedule to the United Kingdom Order and as interpreted by sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 2 of that Order, shall apply in each territory in relation to the forces of Allied Powers and in relation to deserters and absentees without leave, as they apply in the United Kingdom, subject to the adaptations and modifications specified in the Second Schedule to this Order :

Provided that for the purposes of this Order the definition of the expression "Allied force" in paragraph 2 of the United Kingdom Order shall have effect as if for the words "lawfully present in the territory" were substituted for the words "with the consent of His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, lawfully present in the United Kingdom or on board any of His Majesty's ships or aircraft".

2. (1) In this Order and in the provisions mentioned in paragraph 1 of this Order as applied by this Order, unless the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the meanings hereby assigned to them, that is to say :—

"Territory" means a territory mentioned in the First Schedule to this Order; and in the application of the said provisions under this Order to any territory "the territory" means that territory :

"Governor" in relation to any territory, means, the person administering the Government of the territory or, in the case of Zanzibar, the British Resident or the person lawfully discharging his functions :

"Colonial forces" means, in relation to any territory any naval, military, or air forces raised in the territory including any police force or other body raised therein which, by virtue of any law in force in the territory, has become a naval, military or air force; and "colonial force" includes any body, contingent or detachment of any colonial forces, wherever serving :

Provided that where any colonial forces or force raised in one territory shall be present in some other territory, such forces or force shall, for the purpose of this definition, be deemed to have been raised in that other territory.

(2) Any power conferred by the provisions mentioned in paragraph 1 of this Order, as applied by this Order, to make an Order in Council or an Order shall be construed as including a power to revoke or vary the Order in Council or Order.

(3) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies to the interpretation of this Order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. This Order may be cited as the Allied Forces (Application of Acts to Colonies, &c.) (No. 1) Order, 1941.

Order by His Excellency the Governor regarding measures for the safety of vessels in port.

No. 1 of 1942.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows.

1. After Regulation 33c of the Defence Regulations, 1939, there shall be inserted the following Regulations :-

"Measures for safety of vessels in port.

33d. (1) Any person authorised by the Governor to act under this Regulation (hereinafter in this Regulation referred to as "an authorised person") may give directions to the owner or master of any vessel which is for the time being at the port of Stanley requiring him -

- (a) to take such steps as may be specified in the directions for the purpose of securing that, while the vessel remains at the port, fires occurring in the vessel as the result of hostile attack will be immediately detected and combated;
- (b) to secure that, while the vessel remains at the port, either at all times or during such periods as may be so specified
 - (i) in a case where the vessel is equipped with a gun or other instrument or device capable of being used to defend the vessel against hostile attack, that the gun, instrument or device will be manned; and
 - (ii) in a case where the vessel is a ship propelled by mechanical power, that she is capable of being moved under her own power immediately when ordered to do so;
- (c) for the purpose of taking such steps or securing such matters as aforesaid, to secure that such number of persons, or such number of persons of such class or description, as may be so specified shall be on board the vessel, either at all times while she remains at the port or during such periods while she so remains as may be so specified;
- (d) to do or not to do such other things as may appear to the authorised officer to be necessary or expedient to do or not to do for the purpose of securing the safety of the vessel or preventing her endangering other vessels or property at the port in the event of hostile attack.

(2) Any person acting on behalf of the Governor may, in relation to any vessel, take such steps and use such force as may appear to that person to be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with any directions under this Regulation relating to a vessel, or, where an offence against this Regulation has occurred in the case of a vessel for enabling proceedings in respect of the offence to be effectually taken.

(3) The cost of taking any steps under the last foregoing paragraph in relation to a vessel for securing compliance with directions under this Regulation shall be a debt due from the owner of the vessel to the Crown, and without prejudice to any other remedy may be recovered by an authorised person summarily as a civil debt.

(4) In this Regulation the expression 'owner', in relation to a vessel, includes the person having the management of the vessel.

Control over visitors to ships.

33E. (1) Any person authorised by the Governor to act under this Regulation may, by directions given to the master of any ship which is for the time being at the port of Stanley, prohibit any person going on board the ship without the consent in writing of the person so authorised so long as the ship remains at the port, or during such periods while she so remains as may be specified in the directions.

(2) Any such directions may be given either generally with respect to all persons, not being officers or members of the crew of the ship or constables or servants of the Governor acting in the course of their duty as such, or with respect to any particular person or class or description of persons.

(3) If any person goes on board a ship in contravention of directions given under this Regulation, the master of the ship shall be guilty of an offence against this Regulation."

Dated this 24th day of January, 1942.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET.

for Colonial Secretary.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Minutes of Meeting held on 8th December, 1941.

1. The Governor delivered to the Council the following address :

"Honourable Members of the Legislative Council,

"The declaration of war by Japan upon His Majesty is of so great a seriousness that it cannot be exaggerated. That it has long been foreshadowed in no way detracts from its gravity; and although one had hoped common-sense and logic would have prevailed, one has all along feared these would not for there is a madness in the world, an insanity that has become an epidemic.

"The position here in the Falkland Islands has now become considerably more acute than had been anticipated, when the possibility of war with Japan was envisaged. The Empire has to deal with a new type of foe, whose character is in many ways different to that of the Germans. He is of an island race, very hardy and a natural sailor. He is imbued with a spirit of enterprise and initiative incomparably greater than the German and his bravery and contempt of death is well known. Therefore one can expect from him attack and surprise in every theatre of action.

"Already this has been shown by his treacherous assaults on Honolulu, Manila, Singapore, and Hong Kong. And the invasion of Thailand and Malaya is most clear evidence of his preparedness and the thoroughness of his plans.

"Here in the Falklands we are directly affected and may reasonably presume that the importance of our position has not been overlooked. There are only two ways for our Navies, the American and our own stationed in the Atlantic, to reach the Pacific. As you know they are the Panama Canal and the route round Cape Horn. We command the latter and therefore our obliteration would be of great service to the enemy.

"The canal is of course well protected but the fact that the Republics of Costa Rica and Nicaragua immediately entered the war shows how greatly they feared the seizure of their country and the use of air bases therein for the attack on that waterway. But there are great numbers of Germans in Guatemala and Columbia as well as in Haiti and San Domingo. The Canal is therefore in great danger and vulnerable.

"The Cape Horn route will assume the greatest importance and we are the sentinels at that gate. It may be indeed that we are destined to play no small part in the salvation not only of our Empire but of civilisation.

"You might be inclined to think that we are still too remote. But we are definitely not so. In the last war a German fleet operated here with its nearest home base in the Carolines and Marshall Islands; the Japanese own these islands today; in 1914 the German fuelled off the Chilean Coast; and there is no reason why the Japanese cannot, even may have already, done the same; since 1914 the lands of the Antarctic have been explored, and a secret fuelling base in Graham's Land or nearby might well have been laid down; and though Tahiti has declared itself for Free France we do not know what the rest of the vast archipelago of the Paumotu has done, nor to what extent facilities have been obtained there by the Japanese - half-way between the old German base and Cape Horn, 1500 miles nearer to ourselves.

"The complete preparedness for their entry into the war has been shown and distance discounted. Therefore we must be ready to meet any onslaught; we are now important, and a very possible target.

"We all know how short of man-power we are. There is only one step to take and that is to increase the age limit for military service. In order to do so legislation is necessary and that is why we are assembled here today. A short bill is being presented to you to increase the age limit from 41 to 51 years, which means that from now on all men born in 1890 or later are liable for duty in defence of this country and this eminently valuable strategic point. We are proposing to do no more than what has been done at home and elsewhere in the Empire; and I submit the necessary Bill with full confidence that you will accept it not only in loyalty to our King and Motherland but in solemn dedication to the greater service of our Faith, which is now so direfully threatened. May God be the guide in our decision.

2. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser and Magistrate, moved the first reading of the Bill "To amend the Defence Force Ordinance, 1920."

The Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded.

On further motion made and seconded the Standing Orders were suspended and the Bill was read a second time and committed.

Clauses 1 and 2 were agreed to.

The Enacting Clause and Title were agreed to.

The Council resumed.

The Bill was then read a third time and passed.

The Council adjourned sine die.

A Bill

To make provision for the fixing of a Minimum Wage for Labour.

Enacting Clause.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

Short Title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Labour (Minimum Wage) Ordinance, 1942.

Fixing of minimum wage.

2.—(1) Whenever the Governor in Council is satisfied that the wages paid in the Colony or any part of the Colony for any occupation are unreasonably low, he may by proclamation fix a minimum rate of wage for that occupation.

(2) Where a minimum rate of wages is fixed in respect of a part of the Colony the boundaries thereof shall be set out in the proclamation.

(3) The Governor in Council may by proclamation vary or cancel a minimum rate of wage.

(4) The Governor in Council may by proclamation revoke any proclamation made under this section.

(5) Any such minimum rate as aforesaid or the cancellation or variation of any such rate shall become effective as from the date specified in that behalf in the proclamation.

(6) All proclamations under this section shall be published in the Gazette.

Appointment of Advisory Boards.

3.—(1) The Governor in Council may where he considers it desirable appoint advisory boards to consider the wages paid for any occupation.

(2) The Governor in Council may make regulations as to the constitution, appointment and duties of advisory boards.

Penalty for not paying wages in accordance with minimum rate which is effective.

4.—(1) Where a minimum rate of wage fixed by the Governor in Council has become effective an employer shall in cases to which the minimum rate is applicable, pay wages to the person employed at not less than the minimum rate clear of all deductions and if he fails to do so shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds and to a fine not exceeding five pounds for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction therefor.

Meaning of "deductions."

(2) In sub-section (1) of this section the expression "deductions" shall not apply to loans free of premium or interest advanced on account of wages or to payments in respect of tools or implements supplied to and used by a labourer in his occupation as such, but shall include deductions which could otherwise lawfully be made from wages.

(3) On the conviction of an employer under sub-section (1) of this section the Court may by the conviction adjudge the employer convicted to pay, in addition to any fine, such sum as appears to the Court to be due to the person employed on account of wages, the wages being calculated on the basis of a minimum rate, but the power to order the payment of wages under this provision shall not be in derogation of any right of the person employed to recover wages by any other proceedings.

(4) Where an offence for which an employer is by virtue of this section liable to a fine has in fact been committed by some agent of the employer or other person, that agent or other person shall be liable to be proceeded against for the offence in the same manner as if he were the employer, and either together with, or before or after the conviction of the employer, and shall be liable on conviction to the same fine as that to which the employer is liable.

Offences by agents.

(5) Where an employer who is charged with an offence against this section proves to the satisfaction of the Court that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of this Ordinance, and that the offence was in fact committed by his agent or some other person without his knowledge, consent, or connivance, he shall, in the event of the conviction of that agent or other person for the offence, be exempt from any fine in respect of the offence, without prejudice, however to the power of the Court under sub-section (3) of this section to adjudge him to pay any sum which appears to the Court to be due to the person employed on account of wages.

Savings as to employer when agent convicted.

(6) It shall be the duty of every employer in an occupation to which a minimum rate is applicable, to keep such records of wages as are necessary to show that the provisions of this Ordinance are being complied with as respects persons in his employment, and if he fails to do so he shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding two pounds and also to a fine not exceeding one pound for every day during which the default continues after conviction.

Record of wages to be kept.

(7) On any prosecution of a person for failing to pay wages at not less than the minimum rate, it shall lie on that person to prove that he has not paid wages at less than the minimum rate.

Burden of proof.

5.—(1) The Governor in Council may appoint such officers as he may think necessary for the purpose of investigating any complaints and otherwise securing the proper observance of the provisions of this Ordinance.

Appointment of officers and power of entry and inspection.

(2) Any such officer shall have power to enter at all reasonable times upon the premises of any employer in an occupation to which a minimum rate is applicable and to require the production of wages sheets or other record of wages by any such employer and to inspect and examine the same and copy any material part thereof.

(3) If any person hinders or molests any officer in the exercise of the powers given by this section or fails or refuses to produce any wages sheet or other record of wages, that person shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding Five pounds; and if any person makes or causes to be made or knowingly allows to be made any wages sheet or record of wages or record of payments which is false in any material particular or produces or causes to be produced or knowingly allows to be produced any such sheet or record to any officer acting in exercise of the powers given by this section knowing the same to be false, he shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

6. Any agreement for the payment of wages in contravention of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be void.

Agreement in contravention of this Ordinance void.

Repeal of Ordinance
No. 6 of 1932.

7. The Minimum Wage Fixing Machinery Ordinance 1932 is hereby repealed.

Passed by the Legislative Council this day of , 1942.

A Bill

To enable the Governor to issue Commissions of Inquiry with special powers.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :-

Short title and application.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as The Commissions of Inquiry Ordinance, 1942.

Power to issue commissions of inquiry into matters of public nature, etc.

2. It shall be lawful for the Governor, whenever he shall deem it advisable, to issue a Commission appointing one or more Commissioners, and authorising such Commissioners, or any quorum of them therein mentioned, to inquire into the conduct of any officer in the public service in the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, the conduct or management of any department of the public service or of any public or local institution, or into any matter in which any inquiry would, in the opinion of the Governor, be for the public welfare. Each such Commission shall specify the subject of inquiry, and may, in the discretion of the Governor, if there is more than one Commissioner, direct which Commissioner shall be chairman, and direct where and when such inquiry shall be made, and the report thereof rendered, and prescribe how such Commission shall be executed, and may direct whether the inquiry shall or shall not be held in public. In the absence of a direction to the contrary, the inquiry shall be held in public, but the Commissioners shall nevertheless be entitled to exclude any particular person or persons for the preservation of order, for the due conduct of the inquiry, or for any other reason.

Particulars of commissions.

Mode of holding inquiry and as to preservation of order.

Power to appoint fresh Commissioners and to alter and revoke commissions.

3. In case any Commissioner shall be or become unable or unwilling to act, or shall die, the Governor may appoint another Commissioner in his place; and any Commission issued under this Ordinance may be altered as the Governor may deem fit by any subsequent Commission issued by the Governor, or may be revoked altogether by a notification to that effect published in the Gazette.

Commissions not affected by change of
Governor.

4. No Commission issued under this Ordinance shall lapse by reason of, or be otherwise affected by the death, absence, or removal of the Governor issuing the same.

As to oath of office by Commissioners.

5. It shall be the duty of each Commissioner appointed under this Ordinance to make and subscribe an oath that he will faithfully, fully, impartially, and to the best of his ability discharge the trust, and perform the duties devolving upon him by virtue of such Commission, which oath may be taken before the Governor, or before such person as the Governor may appoint, and shall be deposited by the Commissioner with the Colonial Secretary.

6. The Governor may appoint a secretary to attend the sittings of the Commission to record their proceedings, to keep their papers, summon, and minute the testimony of witnesses, and generally to perform such duties connected with such inquiry as the Commissioners shall prescribe.

Power to appoint secretary : his duties.

7. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners, after taking such oath, to make a full, faithful, and impartial inquiry into the matter specified in such Commission, and to conduct such inquiry in accordance with the directions (if any) in the Commission; and, in due course, to report to the Governor, in writing, the result of such inquiry; and also when required, to furnish to the Governor a full statement of the proceedings of such Commission, and of the reasons leading to the conclusions arrived at or reported.

Duties of Commissioners defined.

8. If the Commissioners shall, in any case, be equally divided on any question that arises during the proceedings of the Commission, the chairman of the Commission shall have a second or casting vote.

Division of opinion of Commissioners.

9. The Commissioners acting under this Ordinance may make such rules for their own guidance, and the conduct and management of proceedings before them, and the hours and times and places for their sittings, not inconsistent with their Commission, as they may from time to time think fit, and may from time to time adjourn for such time and to such place as they may think fit, subject only to the terms of their Commission.

Commissioners' powers for regulating proceedings.

10. Commissioners acting under this Ordinance shall have the powers of the Supreme Court to summon witnesses, and to call for the production of books, plans, documents, and to examine witnesses and parties concerned on oath, and no Commissioner shall be liable to any action or suit for any matter or thing done by him as Commissioner. All summonses for the attendance of witnesses, or other persons, or the production of documents, may be in the form or any form to the like effect, given in the Schedule to this Ordinance, and shall be signed by one of the Commissioners, and oaths may be administered by one of the Commissioners or by their secretary.

Power to summon and examine witnesses, and protection of Commissioner from suit.

Schedule.

11. Any witness who shall wilfully give false evidence in any such inquiry concerning the subject matter of such inquiry shall be guilty of perjury, and be liable to be prosecuted and punished accordingly.

False evidence.

12. All persons summoned to attend and give evidence, or to produce books, plans, or documents at any sitting of any such Commission, shall be bound to obey the summons served upon them as fully in all respects as witnesses are bound to obey subpoenas issued from the Supreme Court, and shall be entitled to like expenses as if they had been summoned to attend at such Court on a criminal trial, if the same shall be allowed by the Commissioners, but the Commissioners may disallow the whole or any part of such expenses in any case if they think fit. Orders for the payment of such witnesses shall be made as nearly as may be as orders are made for the payment of witnesses in the Supreme Court, and shall be paid in such manner as the Governor may direct. Every person refusing or omitting without sufficient cause to attend at the time and place

Duty of witnesses summoned.

Expenses of witnesses.

Penalty for contumacy, insult, or interruption of proceedings.

Indemnity to witnesses.

mentioned in the summons served on him, and every person attending, but leaving the Commission without the permission of the Commissioners, or refusing without sufficient cause to answer, or to answer fully and satisfactorily to the best of his knowledge and belief, all questions put to him by or with the concurrence of the Commissioners, or refusing or omitting without sufficient cause to produce any books, plans, or documents in his possession or under his control, and mentioned or referred to in the summons served on him, and every person who shall at any sitting of the Commission wilfully insult any Commissioner, or the secretary, or wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the Commission, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, to be recovered in a summary manner before a Magistrate: Provided always that no person giving evidence before the Commission shall be compellable to criminate himself, and every such person shall, in respect of any evidence given by him before the Commission, be entitled to all the privileges to which a witness giving evidence before the Supreme Court is entitled in respect of evidence given by him before such Court.

Appearance of counsel.

13. Any person whose conduct is the subject of inquiry under this Ordinance, or who is in any way implicated or concerned in the matter under inquiry, shall be entitled to be represented by counsel at the whole of the inquiry, and any other person who may consider it desirable that he should be so represented may, by leave of the Commission, be represented in manner aforesaid.

Constables detailed to attend Commissioners: their duties.

14. The Chief Constable shall detail constables to attend upon any such Commissioners, to preserve order during the proceedings of the Commission, and to serve summonses on witnesses, and to perform such ministerial duties as such Commissioners shall direct.

Remuneration to Commissions, etc.

15. Commissioners appointed under this Ordinance shall not be entitled to any remuneration, unless such remuneration shall be specially voted by the Legislative Council, beyond the actual expenses incurred in holding the inquiry, but the Governor may direct what remuneration, if any, shall be paid to the secretary, and to any other persons employed in or about any such Commission, and may direct payment of any other expenses attendant upon the carrying out of any such Commission, or upon any proceedings for any penalty under this Ordinance. Such sums, so directed to be paid, shall be defrayed out of the public revenue of the Colony upon the warrant of the Governor.

Commissions etc., to be published in Gazette.

16. All Commissions under this Ordinance, and all revocations of any such Commission, shall be published in the Gazette, and shall take effect from the date of such publication.

As to proceedings for penalties.

17. No proceedings shall be commenced for any penalty under this Ordinance except by the direction of the Commissioners. The Commissioners may direct their secretary, or such other person as they may think fit, to commence and prosecute the proceedings for such penalty.

Repeal of Ordinance No. 3 of 1900 section 27.

18. Section 27 of the Interpretation and General Law Ordinance, 1900, (which relates to the appointment of a Commission of Inquiry) is hereby repealed.

A Bill

To regulate Trade Unions and Trade Disputes.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :— Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Trade Unions and Trade Disputes Ordinance. Short Title.

PART I.

2. "Trade Union" means any combination whether temporary or permanent, the principal purposes of which are under its constitution the regulation of the relations between workmen and masters, or between workmen and workmen, or between masters and masters whether such combination would or would not if this Ordinance had not been enacted have been deemed to have been an unlawful combination by reason of some one or more of its purposes being in restraint of trade: Meaning of trade union.

Provided that nothing in this Ordinance

(a) shall affect

(1) Any agreement between partners as to their own business;

(2) Any agreement between an employer and those employed by him as to such employment;

(3) Any agreement in consideration of the sale of the goodwill of a business or of instruction in any profession, trade or handicraft; or

(b) shall preclude any trade union from providing benefits for its members.

"Registered" means Registered under this Ordinance.

"Registrar" means the Registrar of Trade Unions.

Trade unions not criminal.

3. The purposes of any trade union shall not, by reason merely that they are in restraint of trade, be deemed to be unlawful so as to render any member of such trade union liable to criminal prosecution for conspiracy or otherwise.

Trade union not unlawful for civil purposes.

4. The purposes of any trade union shall not, by reason merely that they are in restraint of trade, be unlawful so as to render voidable any agreement or trust.

Trade unions prohibited from carrying on business unless registered.

5. (1) No trade union or any member thereof shall perform any act in furtherance of the purposes for which it has been formed unless such trade union has first been registered.

(2) Any trade union or any officer or member thereof who contravenes the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

Registrar of trade unions.

6. The Governor may appoint such person as he may think fit to be the Registrar of Trade Unions.

Registration of trade unions.

7. Any seven or more members of a trade union may, by subscribing the names to the rules of the union and otherwise complying with the provisions of this Ordinance with respect to registration, register such trade union under this Ordinance;

Provided that if any one of the purposes of such trade union be unlawful such registration shall be void.

Compulsory registration.

8. (1) Every trade union shall be registered in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance or be dissolved within three months of the date

(a) of its formation, or

(b) of any notification by the Registrar that he has refused under section 10 to register the trade union, or

(c) of the commencement of this Ordinance whichever is the later date.

(2) Every trade union which is not registered or dissolved within the period prescribed in the preceding sub-section and every officer thereof shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding five pounds for every day it remains unregistered after the expiration of such period.

Rules for registry.

9. With respect to the registry under this Ordinance of a trade union, and of the rules thereof, the following provisions shall apply :—

(1) An application to register the trade union and its rules shall be sent to the Registrar with copies of the rules and a list of the titles and names of the officers of the trade union.

(2) The Registrar upon being satisfied that the trade union has complied with the rules respecting registry in force under this Ordinance shall, subject to the provisions of section 10 register the trade union and rules.

(3) No trade union shall be registered under a name identical with that by which any other existing trade union has been registered or so nearly resembling such name as to be likely to deceive the members or the public.

- (4) The Registrar upon registering a trade union shall issue a certificate of registration.

10. (1) if the Registrar is satisfied that :—

Refusal of registration.

- (a) the applicants have not been duly authorised to apply for registration; or
- (b) the purposes of the trade union are unlawful; or
- (c) the application is not in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance; he may refuse registration.

(2) When the Registrar refuses to register a trade union he shall forthwith inform the applicants in writing of the grounds of his refusal.

(3) An appeal shall lie to the Supreme Court from a refusal of the Registrar to register a trade union and on such appeal the Supreme Court may make any such order as it thinks proper, including any directions as to the costs of the appeal. Any such order of the Supreme Court shall be final.

(4) The Supreme Court may make rules governing such appeals, providing for the method of giving evidence, prescribing the time within which such appeals shall be brought, the fees to be paid, the procedure to be followed and the manner of notifying the Registrar of the appeal.

(5) The Registrar shall be entitled to be heard on any appeal.

11. (1) It shall be lawful for the Registrar to cancel the registration of any trade union

Cancellation of registration.

- (a) at the request of the trade union, to be evidenced in such manner as he may direct;
- (b) on proof to his satisfaction that a certificate of registration has been obtained by fraud or mistake, or that such trade union has wilfully, and after notice from the Registrar, violated any of the provisions of this Ordinance or has ceased to exist.

(2) Not less than two months' previous notice specifying briefly the grounds of the proposed cancellation, except where the trade union has ceased to exist in which case notice of cancellation may be given forthwith, shall be given by the Registrar to the trade union before such cancellation is effected.

(3) An appeal from the decision of the Registrar under this section shall lie to the Supreme Court subject to the same conditions as are provided for an appeal against the refusal of the Registrar to register a trade union, and the Supreme Court may make rules providing for the same matters for which rules may be made in respect of such appeal. The decision of the Supreme Court shall be final.

12. (1) Every treasurer or other officer of a registered trade union at such times as by the rules thereof he should render such accounts as hereinafter mentioned, or having been required so to do, shall render to the members thereof, at a meeting of the trade union, a just and true account of all moneys received and paid by him since he last rendered the like account, and of the balance then remaining in his hands, and of all bonds and securities of such trade union.

Officers of trade union to account.

(2) Such account shall be audited by some fit and proper person or persons to be appointed by the trade union.

(3) Upon the account being audited the treasurer or other officer as the case may be shall, if thereupon required, hand over to the trade union the balance which on such audit appeared to be due from him, and shall also if required hand over to the trade union all securities and effects, books, papers and property of the trade union in his hands or custody.

(4) If the treasurer or other officer fails to hand over such things and documents as in sub-section (3) required, the Committee of Management of the trade union or any member for and on behalf of the trade union may sue him in any competent court for the balance appearing to have been due from him upon the account last rendered by him, and for all moneys since received by him on account of such trade union and for the securities and effects, books, papers and property in his hands or custody, leaving in such action the sums, if any, which he may have received on account of such trade union; and in any such action he shall be entitled to recover full costs of suit to the solicitor and client.

Audited accounts to be sent to registrar.

13. (1) Every registered trade union shall send to the Registrar the account prepared and audited in accordance with section 12 within one month of its submission to the members of the union.

(2) Every officer of a registered trade union which fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

Rules of registered trade unions.

14. With respect to the rules of a registered trade union, the following provisions shall have effect:—

(1) The rules of every such trade union shall contain provisions in respect of the several matters mentioned in the Schedule.

(2) A copy of the rules shall be delivered by the trade union to every person on demand on payment of a sum not exceeding one shilling.

Alteration of rules of trade unions.

15. (1) Every alteration of the rules of a registered trade union shall be registered with the Registrar and shall take effect from the date of registration unless some later date is specified in the rules.

(2) The rules of a registered trade union shall not be altered so that they cease to contain provisions in respect of the several matters in the Schedule.

Rules by Governor in Council.

16. (1) The Governor-in-Council may make rules respecting registry under this Ordinance and in particular but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power with respect to:—

(a) The seal, if any, to be used by the Registrar for the purpose of registration under this Ordinance;

(b) The forms to be used for such registry;

(c) The inspection of registers and documents kept by the Registrar and the making of copies of any entries therein;

(d) The fees to be charged for registration and inspection and any other service or matter prescribed or permitted by this Ordinance; and

(e) Generally for carrying this part of this Ordinance into effect.

PART II.

17. (1) In this part:—

Definitions.

“To intimidate” means to cause in the mind of a person a reasonable apprehension of injury to him or to any member of his family or to any of his dependants or of violence or damage to any person or property.

“Injury” includes injury to a person in respect of his business occupation, employment or other source of income, and includes any actionable wrong.

“Trade dispute” means any dispute between employers and workmen or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or with the terms of the employment, or with the conditions of labour of any person.

“Workmen” means all persons employed in trade or industry, whether or not in the employment of the employer with whom a trade dispute arises.

18. (1) An action against a trade union, whether of workmen or masters, or against any members or officials thereof on behalf of themselves and all other members of the trade union in respect of any tortious act alleged to have been committed by or on behalf of the trade union shall not be entertained by any Court.

Immunity of trade unions from actions of tort.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the liability of a trade union or any official thereof to be sued in any Court touching or concerning the property or rights of a trade union, except in respect of any tortious act committed by or on behalf of the union in contemplation or in furtherance of a trade dispute.

19. (1) An agreement or combination of two or more persons to do or procure to be done any act in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute shall not be triable as a conspiracy if such act committed by one person would not be punishable as a crime.

Conspiracy in relation to trade disputes.

(2) An act done in pursuance of an agreement or combination by two or more persons shall, if done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute, not be actionable unless the act, if done without any such agreement or combination, would be actionable.

(3) Nothing in this section shall exempt from punishment any person guilty of a conspiracy for which a punishment is awarded by any law in force in the Colony.

(4) Nothing in this section shall affect the law relating to riot, unlawful assembly, breach of the peace or sedition or any offence against the State or the Sovereign.

(5) A crime for the purposes of this section means an offence for the commission of which the offender is liable to be imprisoned either absolutely or at the discretion of the Court as an alternative for some other punishment.

(6) Where a person is convicted of any such agreement or combination as aforesaid to do or procure to be done an act which is punishable on summary conviction, and is sentenced to imprisonment, the imprisonment shall not exceed three months, or such longer time, if any, as may have been prescribed by the law for the punishment of the said act when committed by one person.

Removal of liability for interfering with another person's business.

20. An act done by a person in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute shall not be actionable on the ground only that it induces some other person to break a contract of employment or that it is an interference with the trade, business, or employment of some other person, or with the right of some other person to dispose of his capital or his labour as he wills.

Intimidation or annoyance.

21. (1) Every person who, with a view to compel any other person to abstain from doing or to do any act which such other person has a legal right to do or abstain from doing, wrongfully and without legal authority :—

- (a) uses violence to or intimidates such other person or his wife or children, or injures his property; or
- (b) persistently follows such other person about from place to place; or
- (c) hides any tools, clothes or other property owned or used by such other person, or deprives him of or hinders him in the use thereof; or
- (d) watches or besets the house or other place where such other person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be or the approach to such house or place; or
- (e) follows such other person with two or more other persons in a disorderly manner in or through any street or road, shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or with imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

(2) Attending at or near any house or place in such numbers or in such manner as is by sub-section (2) of section 22 declared to be unlawful shall be deemed to be a watching and besetting of that house or place within the meaning of this section.

Peaceful picketing and prevention of intimidation.

22. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Ordinance:—

- (1) It shall be lawful for one or more persons acting on their own behalf or on behalf of a trade union or of an individual employer or firm in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute, to attend at or near a house or place where a person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be, if they so attend merely for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or of peacefully persuading any person to work or abstain from working.

Picketing in such numbers, etc., as to be calculated to intimidate.

- (2) It shall not be lawful for one or more persons (whether acting on their own behalf or on behalf of a trade union or of an individual employer or firm, and notwithstanding that they may be acting in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute) to attend at or near a house or place where a person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be, for the purpose of obtaining or communicating information or of persuading or inducing any person to work or to abstain from working if they so attend in such numbers or otherwise in such manner as to be calculated to intimidate any person in that house or place, or to obstruct the approach thereto or egress therefrom, or to lead to a breach of the peace; and any person who acts in contravention of this sub-section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or with imprisonment with or without hard labour for a period not exceeding three months.

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this day of , 1942.

for Colonial Secretary.

A Bill

To provide for compensation in respect of action taken on behalf of the Governor in the exercise of certain emergency powers. and for purposes connected with the matter aforesaid.

Enacting Clause.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Short Title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be cited as the Compensation (Defence) Ordinance, 1942.

(2) This Ordinance shall be deemed to have come into operation on the twenty-sixth day of August, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine.

RIGHT TO AND MEASURE OF COMPENSATION.

Compensation for action taken in the exercise of emergency powers.

2. (1) Where, in the exercise of emergency powers during the period beginning with the twenty-sixth day of August, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and ending on the day on which the Emergency Powers (Colonial Defence) order in Council 1939, expires

- (a) possession of any land has been taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or
- (b) any property other than land has been requisitioned or acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or
- (c) any work has been done on any land on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, otherwise than by way of measures taken to avoid the spreading of the consequences of damage caused by war operations.

then, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance compensation assessed in accordance with those provisions shall be paid, out of the revenues of the Colony, in respect of the taking possession of the land, the requisition or acquisition of the property, or the doing of the work, as the case may be.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a requirement that any space or accommodation in a ship or an aircraft be placed at the disposal of any authority shall be deemed to be a requisition of property.

Compensation in respect of taking possession of land.

3. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the taking possession of any land shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

- (a) a sum equal to the rent which might reasonably be expected to be payable by a tenant in occupation of the land, during the period for which possession of the land is retained in the exercise of emergency powers, under a lease granted immediately before the beginning of that period, whereby the tenant undertook to pay all usual tenant's rates and taxes and to bear the cost of the repairs and insurance and the other expenses, if any, necessary to maintain the land in a state to command rent, and

- (b) a sum equal to the cost of making good any damage to the land which may have occurred during the period for which possession thereof is so retained (except in so far as the damage has been made good during that period by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony), no account being taken of fair wear and tear or of damage caused by war operations, and
- (c) in a case where the land is agricultural land a sum equal to the amount (if any) which might be reasonably have been expected to be payable in addition to rent by an incoming tenant, in respect of things previously done for the purpose of the cultivation of the land, and respect of seeds, tillages, growing crops and other similar matters, under a lease of the land granted immediately before possession thereof was taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and
- (d) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the taking possession of the land:

Provided that

- (i) in computing for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection the rent which might reasonably be expected to be payable in respect of any land, and in computing for the purposes of paragraph (c) of this subsection any amount which might reasonably have been expected to be payable in addition to rent by an incoming tenant, no account shall be taken of any appreciation of values due to the emergency; and
- (ii) there shall not, by virtue of paragraph (b) of this subsection, be payable in respect of damage to any land a sum greater than the value of the land at the time when possession thereof was taken in the exercise of emergency powers, no account being taken of any appreciation in the value thereof due to the emergency.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the possession of the land is taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who for the time being would be entitled to occupy the land but for the fact that possession thereof is retained in the exercise of such powers; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than three months.

For the purposes of the enactments relating to income tax and in particular for the purposes of such of those enactments as relate to the deduction of tax from rent, any compensation under the said paragraph (a) shall be deemed to be rent payable for the land, the Crown shall be deemed to pay it as tenant occupier, and the person receiving it shall be deemed to receive it as landlord.

(3) Any compensation under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the end of the period for which possession of the land is retained in the exercise of emergency powers, and shall be paid to the person who is then the owner of the land.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when possession of the land is taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and shall be paid to the person who, immediately before that time, was the occupier of the land.

(5) Any compensation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

Compensation in respect of the doing of work on land.

4. (1) Compensation under this Ordinance in respect of the doing of any work on any land shall be payable only if the annual value of the land is diminished by reason of the doing of the work.

(2) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the doing of any work on any land shall, in the first instance, be a sum calculated by a reference to the diminution of the annual value of the land ascribable to the doing of the work, and shall be paid in instalments, quarterly in arrear, to the person who for the time being is entitled to occupy the land.

Any compensation under this subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day, and shall be apportionable in respect of time accordingly.

(3) If, at any time after compensation under the preceding subsection has become payable by reason of the doing of any work on any land, a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony

(a) causes the land to be restored, so far as practicable, to the condition in which it would be but for the doing of the work, or

(b) serves on the person for the time being entitled to occupy the land a written notice of intention to discharge the liability for the compensation by making, not earlier than a date specified in the notice, payment of a lump sum in accordance with the following provisions of this section,

the period in respect of which compensation is payable under the preceding subsection by reason of the doing of the work shall end with the date immediately preceding the date on which the restoration is completed or, as the case may be, the date specified in the notice.

(4) Where, by virtue of the operation of the last preceding subsection in relation to any work done on any land, the period in respect of which compensation under subsection (1) of this section is payable by reason of the doing of the work comes to an end, then if, at the expiration of that period the value of any estate or interest which a person then has in the land is less than it would be but for the doing of the work, there shall be paid to him, by way of compensation under this Ordinance, a sum equal to the amount of the said depreciation in the value of the estate or interest; and that compensation shall be taken to accrue due at the expiration of the said period.

(5) As soon as may be after effecting any restoration or serving any notice in pursuance of subsection (3) of this section, the person by whom the restoration was effected or the notice was served shall cause the fact of the restoration or the contents of the notice, as the case may be, to be published in such manner as he thinks best adapted for informing persons affected.

(6) In determining for the purposes of this section whether the annual value of any land is diminished by reason of the doing of any work thereon, and assessing any compensation under this section in respect of the doing of any work on any land, it shall be assumed that the land cannot be restored to the condition in which it would be but for the doing of the work.

(7) For the purposes of this section, no account shall be taken of any diminution or depreciation in value ascribable only to loss of pleasure or amenity.

(8) No compensation under this section shall, in relation to any land, be payable in respect of any period for which possession of that land is taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers.

(9) In this section

- (a) the expression "annual value" means, in relation to any land, the rent at which the land might reasonably be expected to let from year to year if the tenant undertook to pay all usual tenant's rates and taxes and to bear the costs of the repairs and insurance and the other expenses, if any, necessary to maintain the land in a state to command that rent; and
- (b) the expression "diminution of the annual value" means, in relation to the doing of any work on land, the amount by which the annual value of the land is less than it would be if the work had not been done.

5. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

Compensation in respect of requisition or acquisition of vessels, vehicles and aircraft.

- (a) a sum equal to the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable by a person for the use of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during the period of the requisition, under a charter or contract of hiring whereby he undertook to bear the cost of insuring, maintaining and running the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, and
- (b) if an agreement is made on behalf of the Governor of the Colony for the running of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during the said period by the person who, but for the requisition, would be entitled to possession of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, or who is the owner thereof, a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred by that person in connection with the maintenance and running of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during that period, not being expenses taken into account for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection, and
- (c) a sum equal to the cost of making good any damage to the vessel, vehicle or aircraft not resulting in a total loss thereof, which may have occurred during the said period (except in so far as the damage has been made good during that period by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony), no account being taken of fair wear and tear, and
- (d) in a case where, during the period of the requisition, a total loss of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft occurs, a sum equal to the value of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft immediately before the occurrence of the damage which caused the loss, and

- (e) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the requisition:

Provided that

- (i) in computing for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable for the use of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft, no account shall be taken of any appreciation in the value thereof due to the emergency; and
- (ii) no compensation shall by virtue of this subsection be payable in respect of any loss of, or damage to, any vehicle or aircraft arising in consequence of war operations, unless it is shown that, at the time when the loss or damage occurred, the risk of the vehicle or aircraft being lost or damaged in consequence of war operations was materially increased by reason of the requisition thereof in the exercise of emergency powers; and
- (iii) no compensation shall by virtue of paragraph (c) of this subsection be payable in respect of any damage, if compensation in respect of expenses incurred for the purpose of making good that damage has accrued due by virtue of paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is requisitioned in the exercise of emergency powers, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who, at the time when compensation accrues due, is the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than one month.

(3) Where, on the day on which any compensation accrues due by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section, a person other than the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is, by virtue of a subsisting charter or contract of hiring, the person who would be entitled to possession of, or to use the vessel, vehicle or aircraft but for the requisition, the person to whom the compensation is paid shall be deemed to receive it as a trustee for the first mentioned person.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (b) or paragraph (e) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than one month.

(5) Any compensation under paragraph (c) or paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the end of the period of the requisition, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, the expression "total loss" shall have the same meaning as it has for the purposes of the law relating to insurance, and accordingly shall be construed as including constructive total loss; and upon the payment to any person of any compensation which has become payable by virtue of paragraph (d) of that subsection in respect of any loss, the Crown shall have the same right to take over an interest in whatever remains of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, and the same rights and remedies in and in respect of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, as it would have if the payment had been made by the Crown as the insurer under a contract insuring that person against the loss.

(7) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the acquisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be a sum equal to the value of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft immediately before the acquisition, no account being taken of any appreciation due to the emergency, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

For the purpose of assessing any compensation under this subsection in respect of the acquisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft, no account shall be taken of any compensation under paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section which may have become payable in respect of the requisition of that vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

(8) Where, at any time during the period for which a vessel, vehicle or aircraft is requisitioned on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers

- (a) a written notice stating that the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is to be treated as acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony is served on the owner thereof by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or
- (b) the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is sold on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, then, for the purposes of this section, the vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be deemed to have been acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers immediately before the day on which the said notice was served or, as the case may be, the day on which the vessel, vehicle or aircraft was so sold, and the period of requisition shall be deemed to have ended at the time when the acquisition of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft as aforesaid is deemed by virtue of this subsection to have been effected.

(9) Where there is effected such a sale of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft as is referred to in paragraph (b) of the last preceding subsection, the person by whom the sale was effected shall, as soon as may be thereafter, serve a written notice of the sale on the person who for the time being would be the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft but for the sale thereof as aforesaid.

6. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of any requirement that any space or accommodation in a ship or an aircraft be placed at the disposal of any authority shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

- (a) a sum equal to the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable for the use of that space or accommodation during the period for which it is at the disposal of the authority by virtue of that requirement, no account being taken of any appreciation of values due to the emergency, and
- (b) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the

Compensation in respect of taking space or accommodation in ships and aircraft.

Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the said requirement.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the space or accommodation remains at the disposal of the authority at whose disposal it was required to be placed, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who, at the time when compensation accrues due, is the owner of the ship or aircraft; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of any payment before the end of the said period.

(3) Where, on the day on which any compensation accrues due by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section, a person other than the owner of the ship or aircraft is, by virtue of a subsisting charter or contract of hiring, entitled to possession of, or to use, the ship or aircraft, or is, by virtue of a subsisting contract, the person who would be entitled to use the space or accommodation but for the requirement in respect of which the compensation is payable, the person to whom the compensation is paid shall be deemed to receive it as a trustee for the first mentioned person.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

Compensation in respect of requisition or acquisition of goods other than vessels, vehicles and aircraft.

7. (1) Subject to the provisions of the next following subsection, the compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of any goods shall be a sum equal to the price which the person who, immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was the owner of the goods might reasonably have been expected to obtain upon a sale of the goods effected by, regard being had to the condition of the goods at the time and no account being taken of any appreciation in the value of the goods due to the emergency.

(2) Any compensation under the preceding sub-section shall not

- (a) in a case where the owner of the goods immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was a person who had produced the goods with a view to the sale thereof, exceed the aggregate of
 - (i) the cost reasonably incurred by that person in producing the goods, and
 - (ii) the profit which he might reasonably have been expected to make on a sale of the goods effected by him immediately before the requisition or acquisition, or
- (b) in a case where the owner of the goods, immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was some person other than the producer of the goods, and the goods had been bought by that person with a view to the sale thereof, exceed the aggregate of
 - (i) the price which it was reasonable for him to pay for the goods when they were so bought by him, and
 - (ii) the profit which he might reasonably have been expected to make on a sale of the goods effected by him immediately before the requisition or acquisition;

and, in assessing such compensation in any other case, no account shall be taken of any profit which might be expected to be made on a sale of the goods :

Provided that if, at the time when any goods are requisitioned or acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers, the price or maximum price at which such goods may be sold is fixed by law, this subsection shall not be taken to authorise the assessment, by way of compensation under the preceding subsection in respect of the requisition or acquisition, a sum exceeding that price or maximum price, as the case may be.

In the preceding provisions of this subsection the reference to a person who had produced the goods with a view to the sale thereof, and the reference to the producer of the goods, shall be construed as including a reference to his personal representative or any person carrying on business in succession to him by virtue of any assignment or transmission by operation of law.

(3) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of any goods shall include a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the requisition or acquisition.

(4) Any compensation under subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time of the requisition or acquisition of the goods, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the goods.

(5) Any compensation under subsection (3) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

TRIBUNALS FOR DETERMINING DISPUTES.

8. Any dispute as to whether any compensation is payable under this Ordinance, or as to the amount of any compensation so payable, shall, in default of agreement, be referred to, and determined by, the appropriate tribunal constituted under the following provisions of this Ordinance, and the decision of that tribunal shall be final :

Determination of claims by tribunals in default of agreement.

Provided that at any stage in proceedings before it the tribunal may, and, if so directed by the Supreme Court, shall, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of that Court any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings.

9. (1) For the purpose of determining disputes as to the payment of compensation under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of vessels or the taking of space or accommodation therein, there shall be a Shipping Claims Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "the Shipping Tribunal"), consisting of a president and two other members appointed by the Governor.

Constitution of tribunals.

(2) The president and one of the other members of the Shipping Tribunal shall be members who appear to the Governor to have a special knowledge of commercial and admiralty law; and the third member of the Tribunal shall be a person appearing to the Governor to have a special qualifications as an average adjuster or accountant.

(3) For the purpose of determining disputes as to the payment of compensation under this Ordinance, other than disputes which by virtue of the preceding provisions of this Ordinance are to be determined by the Shipping Tribunal, there shall be a General Claims Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "the General Tribunal"), consisting of not less than five persons appointed by the Governor.

Incidental powers of tribunals.

10. (1) Each of the tribunals constituted under this Ordinance shall have the following powers, that is to say

- (a) to make, with the concurrence of the Governor rules prescribing the procedure for notifying, presenting and hearing claims and all matters incidental thereto;
- (b) to order persons to attend and give evidence and to produce and give discovery and inspection of documents, in like manner as in proceedings in the Supreme Court;
- (c) to award and assess, or direct the assessment of, such sums by way of costs as the tribunal in its discretion thinks just, and in particular to award costs to an unsuccessful claimant where such an award appears to the tribunal to be justified on the merits of the case;
- (d) to call in the aid of one or more assessors specially qualified, and hear any claim wholly or partly with their assistance;
- (e) to appoint an expert or experts to report on any matter material to the hearing of any claim;
- (f) to determine, subject to the approval of the Governor, the remuneration, if any, of such assessors and experts.

(2) Rules made in pursuance of paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection may contain provisions authorising a tribunal to take into consideration any matter which the tribunal considers relevant to the subject of the inquiry before it, notwithstanding that the matter is not admissible in evidence under the law relating to evidence.

(3) The Supreme Court shall have, for the purposes of and in relation to any proceedings under this Ordinance, the same power of making orders in respect of any of the matters specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section as it has for the purpose of and in relation to any action or matter in that Court.

GENERAL AND SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS.

Interest on Compensation.

11. Any compensation under this Ordinance shall carry interest, as from the date on which it accrues due until payment, at such rate not exceeding five per cent per annum as the Governor may from time to time by order prescribe.

Limitation of time for claiming compensation.

12. No claim for any compensation under this Ordinance shall be entertained unless notice of the claim has, in such form and manner as may be prescribed been given to the prescribed authority within the period of six months, or such longer period as the Governor may, either generally or in relation to any particular claim or class of claims, allow, beginning in either case with the date on which the compensation accrues due or the date of the passing of this Ordinance, whichever is the later.

Exclusion of compensation under the Ordinance in certain cases.

13. (1) No person shall, by virtue of this Ordinance be entitled to compensation in respect of the acquisition on behalf of the Governor of the Colony of any currency, gold or securities.

(2) No compensation shall, by virtue of this Ordinance be payable to any person in respect of any loss of, or damage to property, if and so far as that person has become entitled, apart from the provisions of this Ordinance, to recover any sum by way of damages or indemnity in respect of that loss or damage or is, at the time of the occurrence of the loss or damage, required under any contract with the Crown to be insured in respect thereof.

14. In a case where any property in respect of the requisition or acquisition of which compensation is required by the preceding provisions of this Ordinance to be paid to the person who is the owner of the property immediately before the requisition or acquisition, is then in the possession of some other person by virtue of a hire-purchase agreement that person may, by a notice given in the prescribed form and manner to the prescribed authority, within the period limited by this Ordinance in relation to the making of any claim by the owner for payment of the compensation, make a claim to have apportioned to him such part of the compensation as may be specified in his claim; and, in default of agreement between the parties, the last mentioned claim shall be referred to the tribunal constituted under this Ordinance which has jurisdiction in the matter of any such claim by the owner, and thereupon that tribunal may apportion the compensation between the owner and the other person in such manner as appears to it to be just.

Provisions as to property subject to hire-purchase agreements.

15. Where any sum by way of compensation is paid in accordance with any provisions of this Ordinance requiring compensation to be paid to the owner of any property, then if at the time when the compensation accrues due, the property is subject to any mortgage, pledge, lien or other similar obligation, the sum so paid shall be deemed to be comprised in that mortgage, pledge, lien or other obligation.

Provisions as to property subject to mortgages.

16. The provisions of this Ordinance shall be without prejudice to any agreement for the making of any payment (whether by way of compensation or otherwise) in respect of the doing of anything on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers; but, where compensation in respect of the doing of anything as aforesaid would, apart from this section, be payable both under this Ordinance and under some other enactment or rule of law, then, subject to any such agreement as aforesaid, the compensation shall be payable in accordance with this Ordinance and not otherwise.

Compensation payable apart from the Ordinance.

17. Any notice which by this Ordinance is required or authorised to be served on any person may be served by post.

Service of notices.

18. (1) In this Ordinance the following expressions have the meanings hereby respectively assigned to them, that is to say

Interpretation.

“agricultural land” means any land used as arable meadow or pasture land, land used for a plantation or land used for the purpose of poultry farming, market gardens, nursery grounds, or allotments, including allotment gardens within the meaning of the Allotments Act, (United Kingdom), 1922;

“aircraft” means any flying machine, glider or airship or any balloon (whether fixed or free);

“the emergency” means the emergency that was the occasion of the passing of this Ordinance;

“emergency powers” means any power conferred by

(a) regulations made under the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, (United Kingdom), 1939, as part of the law of the Colony.

(b) section two of the Lighting Control Ordinance, 1938, or

(c) section two (1) of the Emergency Powers Ordinance, 1939. or

(d) section two (1) of the Export and Imports (Emergency Powers) Ordinance, 1939, or any power exercisable by virtue of the prerogative of the Governor;

“exercise” includes purported exercise;

“fair wear and tear”, in relation to any property possession of which is taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony or which is requisitioned on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, means such wear and tear as might have been expected to occur but for the fact that possession of the property was so taken or that the property was so requisitioned, as the case may be;

“goods” means chattels other than vessels, vehicles and aircraft;

“the Supreme Court” means Supreme Court of the Colony of the Falkland Islands;

“hire-purchase agreement” has the same meaning as in the Hire Purchase Act, United Kingdom, 1938;

“land” includes (without prejudice to any of the provisions of section twenty-eight of the Interpretation and General Law Ordinance, 1900) land covered with water, and parts of houses or buildings;

“owner” means –

(a) in relation to land, the person who is receiving the rackrent of the land, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the rackrent of the land if it were let at a rackrent, or

(b) in relation to any property other than land, the person entitled to sell the property, it being assumed not to be subject to any mortgage, pledge, lien or other similar obligation;

and in this definition the expression “rackrent” has the same meaning as in the Public Health Act, (United Kingdom), 1936;

“prescribed” means prescribed by rules made by the Governor;

“requisition” means, in relation to any property, take possession of the property or require the property to be placed at the disposal of the requisitioning authority;

“ship” and “vessel” have respectively the same meanings as in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894; and

“war operations” means action taken by an enemy, or action taken in combating an enemy or in repelling an imagined attack by an enemy.

(2) For the purposes of this Ordinance, the doing of work shall, in relation to any land, be deemed to include the demolition, pulling down, destruction or rendering useless of anything placed in, on or over that land the maintenance of any work or thing in, on or over the land, and the removal from the land of anything so placed, demolished or pulled down in the exercise of emergency powers.

A Bill

To amend the Live Stock Ordinance, 1901.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Live Stock (Amendment) Ordinance, 1942, and shall be read and construed with the Live Stock Ordinance, 1901, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance).

Short Title.

2. Section 28 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby repealed and replaced by the section following:—

Amendment of Section 28 of Ordinance No. 6 of 1901.

"Annual dipping compulsory".

28. Between the 1st day of March and the 30th day of June in every year, every owner shall dip or cause to be dipped with an insecticidal dip approved by an Inspector all sheep running on land whereof he is the occupier:

Provided that for purposes previously approved in writing by the Inspector, the Inspector may advance or extend the period during which sheep must be dipped but so that all sheep, excepting those used for experimental dipping, must be dipped before the 31st October or before they are mixed with another flock that has been dipped since the 1st of March, whichever is the earlier.

Any person who contravenes the provisions of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two shillings for every sheep.

NOTICES.

No. 6.

M.P. 146/39.

14th January, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following leaflet which has been issued by the General Post Office, London, regarding the postal facilities available for despatching correspondence and parcels from the United Kingdom to prisoners of war and civilians interned abroad.

COMMUNICATION WITH PRISONERS OF WAR INTERNED ABROAD.

1. This leaflet applies primarily to British (including Dominion and Colonial) prisoners of war interned in enemy and neutral countries; but paragraphs 2-4 as regards the letter post are also applicable to letters and postcards addressed to prisoners of war of other nationalities interned abroad. The term "Prisoners of War" includes all interned persons, naval, military, air force and civilian.

British Service men who are in the hands of the French (Vichy) Government do not come into the same category as prisoners of war, and relatives should apply to the Foreign Relations Department, British Red Cross and St. John War Organisation, Warwick House, St. James's, London, S.W. 1., for information regarding communications with these men.

LETTER POST.

2. Letters and postcards may be sent post free by ordinary post (for air mail facilities see paragraph 5). They should be posted in the ordinary way and should not be sent to the British Red Cross Society to be forwarded. They should be clearly written or typed, and letters should not exceed two sides of a normal sized sheet of notepaper; otherwise they are liable to delay and may even not be delivered by the authorities in the country to which they are addressed.

In the interests of the prisoners, relatives should limit their letters to one or two a week; the more that are sent the more they are likely to be delayed by the censorship abroad. For the same reason letters from strangers are to be deprecated.

Letters and postcards must only deal with purely personal matters, and care should be taken that no information of any kind which might be of use to the enemy is given. No references to naval, military, aerial, economic or political matters are allowed, and movements of any members of His Majesty's Forces or any warship or merchant ship must not be mentioned.

3. Enclosures. - No enclosures are allowed in the air letter card (see paragraph 5).

Any enclosure in a letter may cause delay. Snapshots or unmounted photographs of a personal nature are, however, allowed and simple bank statements (not pass books) may be sent. International reply coupons must not be sent; their use for the repayment of air letters is unnecessary and is not permitted. Picture postcards, birthday or greeting cards bearing pictorial illustrations and pictorial matter of any kind are forbidden. The Letter Post may be used only for letters and postcards and must on no account be used for sending small articles such as packets of razor blades, chocolate, etc.; such items may be sent only in the next of kin parcel (see paragraph 14).

4. Method of Address. - It is of the utmost importance that the details of the address should be correct and correspondents should make sure that they use the latest address supplied by the prisoner. In the case of prisoners in German hands the address is usually given on the back of their letter cards or postcards, in particular the Camp number is shown after the words "Lager - Bezeichnung". The address should be clearly written in INK both on the envelope and on the letter itself. The use of adhesive address labels or previously used envelopes is strictly forbidden.

(i) For prisoners whose prisoner of war number and camp address are known. - No mention should be made either in the address or in the letter of the unit or regiment in which the prisoner of war was serving at the time of his capture. The following particulars should be given :—

- (a) Rank (unless the addressee is an interned civilian), initials and surname (preferably in block letters).
- (b) British Prisoner of War (or British Interned Civilian).
- (c) Prisoner of War Number. (For prisoners in German hands this number is a most important element of the address. Care should be taken to quote it correctly; it should not be confused with the service number given him by the British authorities. Prisoners in Italian hands are not given a prisoner of war number and the British service number should be quoted.)
- (d) Camp address. (It is important that the camp address should be complete, e.g., in the specimen address on page 1 "Stalag" means "permanent camp" and is insufficient without the addition of the appropriate number, including any subsidiary lettering or numbers giving perhaps details of a working Camp subordinate to the parent Camp. e.g., Stalag XXa (2a).
- (e) Country.

The top left-hand corner of the envelope should bear the words "Prisoner of War post", and if addressed to a prisoner of war in German hands, the equivalent word "KRIEGSGEFANGENENPOST" should be added, or if addressed to a prisoner of war in Italian hands the words "service des prisonniers de guerre". The name and address of the sender should be written on the back of the envelope. If, however, the sender is serving in His Majesty's Forces, whether at home or abroad, he must on no account give the address of his unit; instead he should state the address of a relative or friend in this country, who would be willing to send on any letters received from the prisoner.

(ii) For prisoners in German hands whose prisoner of war number and/or camp address have not yet been announced. Letters may be addressed to such prisoners of war as follows :—

Regtl. No..... Rank..... Name.....
(Block Letters).

British Prisoner of War,
P/W Number (if known).
C/o. Agence Centrale des prisonniers de guerre,
Comite International de la Crois-Rouge,
Geneva,
Switzerland.

(iii) For prisoners in Italian hands whose camp address has not yet been announced. Letters may be addressed to such prisoners of war as follows :—

Regtl. No..... Rank..... Name.....
(Block letters).

British Prisoner of War,
C/o Croce Rosse Italiana,
6 Via Puglie,
Rome.

It should, however, be particularly noted that as soon as the prisoner of war number and the camp address have been received for prisoners in German hands, and as soon as the camp address has been received for prisoners in Italian hands, letters should be addressed directly to the camp (as under 4 (1)). Failure to do so will cause delay.

5. Air Mail. - (a) An air letter card specially designed for writing to prisoners of war is on sale at most Post Offices. It costs 3d., and goes all the way to Germany or Italy by air. No enclosures may be sent.

(b) Letters and postcards may be prepaid at the rate of 5d for the first ounce and 3d for each additional ounce (postcards 2½d). They should bear a blue air mail label in the top left hand corner. They go by air all the way to Germany or Italy.

(c) All letters and postcards from prisoners of war in Germany and Italy are brought by air from Lisbon to this country free of charge. Those from Germany travel by air from Germany to Lisbon free of charge. It is hoped shortly to arrange for similar facilities for letters from Italy.

N.B. - No attempt should be made to communicate with Prisoners of War through people in neutral countries; letters forwarded by prisoners through intermediaries in neutral countries do not receive the privilege of free air mail transmission from Lisbon.

PARCEL POST.

PARCELS FOR PRISONERS OF WAR IN ENEMY (OR ENEMY OCCUPIED) COUNTRIES.

6. Parcels cannot be despatched by relatives direct to a prisoner of war. Food, clothing, soap and tobacco are sent regularly to prisoners in enemy countries by the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John of Jerusalem (see paragraph 9), and "next-of-kin" parcels for prisoners in enemy countries may be sent under the arrangement explained in paragraph 12 of this leaflet. A card of acknowledgement for signature and return by the prisoner is enclosed in every parcel despatched. For parcels for prisoners of war in neutral countries see paragraphs 17-19.

7. In addition to the parcels sent by the Red Cross, orders may be given to firms holding special permits for the direct despatch of parcels containing books, music, packs of cards, games, tobacco and cigarettes (see paragraphs 20 and 22). Parcels may not be sent by air mail.

8. Customs duty is not normally charged on parcels sent to prisoners; and the Customs Declarations and Despatch Notes which usually have to be prepared by the senders of foreign parcels are not required.

Note. Parcels or packets posted otherwise than in accordance with these notes will be returned to the sender.

PARCELS SENT BY THE BRITISH RED CROSS.

9. Food and, except as set out in paragraph 22, Tobacco cannot be sent by relatives to a prisoner of war. Food, soap, cigarettes and tobacco at the cost of 10s. per parcel are sent to British, Dominion and Colonial prisoners of war in enemy territory by the British Red Cross and St. John War Organization. Contributions towards defraying this expenditure will be gratefully accepted. Such contributions should be sent to the Accountant, Prisoners of War Department, St. James's Palace, London, S.W. 1. or to the Scottish Red Cross, 206, Bath Street, Glasgow, C. 2. These contributions will be paid into the funds of the Prisoners of War Department to defray the cost of the food parcels sent to all prisoners. (Postage must be paid on letters addressed to the Red Cross Society.)

10. Invalid Comforts. - The Invalid Comforts Section despatches consignments of ordinary household drugs together with such things as cod liver oil and malt, invalid food and comforts addressed to the Camp Leader of the Prisoners of War Camps, in order that in the case of illness or minor injuries, that are not sufficiently severe for hospital treatment, remedies may be at hand when needed.

Relatives may, in certain circumstances, send an invalid comforts parcel every twelve weeks, but they must first communicate with the Hon. Secretary, Invalid Comforts Section, 14, Carlton House Terrace, London, S.W. 1, for authorisation, as each case is considered on its merits. At the request of the relatives or the Senior Officer of the Camp, individual food parcels can be arranged for serious or chronic cases requiring special diet, in place of the standard food parcels. Invalid Comforts food parcels are sent to all hospitals where it is known there are British Prisoners of War. Surgical appliances such as spectacles, dentures and other urgently needed requisites can be sent through the Invalid Comforts Section.

11. Clothing. - The British Government supplies all clothing for Prisoners of War (i.e., great-coats, battledress or uniform, boots, underclothing, towels, etc). The British Red Cross Society arranges for its packing and despatch.

"NEXT OF KIN" PARCELS FOR PRISONERS IN ENEMY (OR ENEMY-OCCUPIED) COUNTRIES.

12. Once every three months the next of kin of a prisoner in enemy territory is allowed to send him a "next of kin" parcel. The parcel must not weigh more than 10 lb. when packed, so that when repacked it comes within the international limit of weight. Each parcel must bear a special tie-on label which will be sent quarterly direct to the next of kin by the British Red Cross Society. The sender must fill in the label, which will then bear an address in the following form:—

Prisoner of War NEXT OF KIN PARCEL.

Regimental No..... Prisoner of War No.....
Rank..... Name.....
Camp.....

C/o British Red Cross Society & Order of St. John, 14, Finsbury Circus,
London, E.C. 2.

The address must also be copied in ink on the cover of the parcel. Unless the parcel bears the special label, it will not be accepted at a Post Office. No postage is required. If the sender requires an acknowledgement of the receipt of the parcel at Finsbury Circus, a stamped addressed postcard should be enclosed.

13. Packing. - The parcels should be packed as for the inland post. The name and address of the sender must be clearly written on the cover of the parcel, except that if the sender is serving in His Majesty's Forces he must not write his own address but must give the address of a relative or friend and may request the relative or friend to forward any acknowledgement received in respect of the parcel. A duplicate list of the contents must be put inside the parcel: forms for this purpose are sent with the tie-on label by the British Red Cross Society.

14. Permissible Articles. - Among the articles which may be sent are the following:—

Attaché cases.
Blankets. Boots, boot laces; gum boots. Brilliantine in tins. Brushes of all kinds.
Button-cleaning outfits (solid, not liquid polish).
Chewing gum. Solid Chocolate in slabs (no filling).
Cigarette filter tips and cigarette rolling machine but NOT cigarettes or cigarette papers.
Clothing, including underwear, civilian or Service shirts, any footwear, knitted comforts or uniform. (See paragraph 15 for prohibited articles.)
Coloured silks and cottons, plain linen or canvas for embroidering.
Dentifrice (solid or powder but NOT in tubes).
Frames with talc or unbreakable glass.
Hussifs containing usual items.
Kit bags (without locks or metal eye holes). Knitting needles and wool.

Pencils. Pipes and tobacco pouch.
 Safety razors and blades. Safety tin openers.
 Shoe polish (solid, not liquid or in tubes). Shoe leather and nails for mending; metal studs for toes and heels.
 Small musical instruments.
 Soap of all kinds. Towels, face cloths and sponges.

15. Prohibited Articles. — The following articles may not be enclosed :—

- (i) Written communications (letters must be sent separately).
- (ii) Printed matter.
- (iii) Pictorial illustrations and photographs.
- (iv) Money, stamps, stationery and playing cards.
- (v) Articles in tubes, tins and other receptacles which cannot easily be opened for inspection.
- (vi) Candles, spirits or solidified spirit for cooking stoves, matches or any other inflammable material.
- (vii) Photographic apparatus, field glasses, sextants, compasses, electrical torches and other instruments of use for naval and military purposes.
- (viii) Haversacks.
- (ix) Complete suits, coloured or grey flannel trousers, corduroy trousers, black or coloured shirts normally worn without coats, sports coats or blazers, mackintoshes, or any kind of overcoat. (These items of clothing, however, may be sent to civilians).
- (x) Food, tobacco, cigarettes. (See paragraphs 9 & 22).
- (xi) Medical comforts. This includes medicines of all kinds, drugs and bandages.
- (xii) Watches: Scissors (except small or nail scissors); knives and tools.
- (xiii) Pen nibs and fountain pens.

16. Return of prohibited articles. — On receipt in London of a next of kin parcel it will be re-packed under the supervision of a representative of the Censorship, and any prohibited articles will be withdrawn and returned to the sender.

PARCELS FOR PRISONERS OF WAR IN NEUTRAL COUNTRIES.

17. Address. — Parcels for prisoners of war in neutral countries must be forwarded through the British Red Cross Society. No special label is necessary and parcels should be addressed in the same way as letters (see paragraph 4) with the addition of the following :—

c/o British Red Cross Society,
 14, Finsbury Circus,
 London, E.C. 2.

No postage is required.

18. Packing. — Parcels when packed must not weigh more than 10 lb. each and should be packed as for inland post. A list of the contents should be put inside.

19. Contents. — Neither the articles numbered (i) to (ix) in paragraph 15 nor food may be sent. In order that any prohibited article may be returned to the sender his name and address should be written on the cover, as described in paragraph 13.

PARCELS AND PACKETS SENT BY PERMIT HOLDERS.

20. Books, Music, Packs of Cards, Games and Sports Equipment. — Many of the leading publishers and newsagents, etc., hold a special permit from the Censorship Department, which enables them to execute and despatch orders for books, music, packs of cards and games for prisoners of war in enemy or neutral countries. Holders of permits can accept only orders for despatch direct: they can in no case accept books, etc., for forwarding to prisoners.

21. Newspapers and Periodicals. — These may be sent in the same way as books to prisoners of war in neutral countries but not to prisoners of war in enemy territory.

22. Tobacco and Cigarettes. — These may be sent to prisoners of war and interned civilians in enemy and enemy occupied countries and prisoners of war in neutral countries by firms who hold a special permit from the Censorship Department. Orders should be placed with these firms by relatives desiring to take advantage of the arrangement. The minimum quantity which may be sent free of duty in one parcel is 4 oz. net.

23. Parcels (but not packets) despatched to neutral countries by permit holders must be accompanied by the appropriate number or Customs Declarations and Despatch Notes. The maximum limit of weight for parcels despatched to neutral or enemy countries is 11 lb.

EDUCATIONAL BOOKS.

24. The Education Book Section of the British Red Cross Society arranges for prisoners of war to continue their preparations for examinations, and enables them to undertake vocational training with a view to preparing themselves for the after-war period. The Society gives advice, and arranges for books to be sent to any prisoner wishing to read a special subject. Forms of request for these books are sent to the prison camps. Financial contributions from relatives and friends are invited, but when these cannot be given the Society undertakes the whole cost. Correspondence courses cannot be sent direct to prisoners of war, but on application to the Society help will be given as to possible means of despatch.

TELEGRAMS.

25. Telegrams making inquiry regarding the welfare or whereabouts of prisoners of war cannot be sent to countries abroad. Such inquiries must be addressed to the British Red Cross Society, The Lord Chamberlain's Office, St. James's Palace, London, S.W. 1.

There is no telegraph service to prisoners of war, but in cases of grave emergency only it is sometimes possible for the British Red Cross Society to send a message to the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva for them to pass on to their representative in Berlin or Rome to send to the prisoner concerned. Inquiries regarding the despatch of messages in such cases should be addressed to the British Red Cross Society at the address shown above.

GENERAL POST OFFICE.

No. 18. M.P. C/19/36. 24th February, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified for general information that His Majesty the King has approved a recommendation that any person to whom the British Empire Medal has been, or may be, awarded may, on all occasions when the use of such letters is customary, place after his or her name the letters "B.E.M." This includes recipients of the Medal of the Order of the British Empire awarded prior to 29th December, 1922, as well as those who received the Medal of the Order of the British Empire, for Meritorious Service, after that date.

No. 20. M.P. 29/42. 24th February, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified for general information, that His Majesty the King has been pleased to entrust to the care of the Right Honourable The Viscount Cranborne, as one of the Principal Secretaries of State, the seals of the Colonial Department.

No. 24. M.P. 9/41. 26th February, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified for general information, that it has been announced that as from Thursday the 12th of February, 1942, all contributions sent to the Lord Mayor's Air Raid Distress Fund the scope of which was until now confined to the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland, will be placed in a separate "Empire Account" unless donors instruct otherwise. This Account will be available for Air Raid Distress not only in the United Kingdom but also in the Dominions and Colonies wherever need arises.

2. His Majesty's Government are greatly appreciative of the whole-hearted support given in the past to the Lord Mayor's Fund for relief of Air Raid Distress in the United Kingdom and feel sure that the wider scope of the Fund will commend itself to the public generosity of the Falkland Islands.

By Command

A. I. FLEURET.

for Colonial Secretary.

30th January, 1942.

The Public are notified that the planes stationed in these Islands are here for naval and military purposes only. In no circumstances whatsoever can they be used for civilian transport.

The Public must realise that these planes are here on essential and continuous war work and therefore, in so far as civilians are concerned are not in the Colony: the position as regards communication being precisely as hitherto.

The same rule applies to His Majesty's Ships based in the Falkland Islands. Intensification of war risks and dangers necessitates the strictest enforcement of this regulation.

In accordance with the provisions of the Defence Regulations 1939, Part VI, section 41 (1) (a), it is hereby ordered that Order C.A. 3, dated October 29th 1941, as amended by Order C.A. 6, dated 1st December, 1941, instituting a system of rationing for Matches, be rescinded as from 1st February, 1942.

10th February, 1942.

IMPORT LICENCES.

All Importers are asked to note that from today applications for Import Licences should be submitted in duplicate instead of in triplicate as heretofore.

26th February, 1942.

It is hereby announced that the following maximum prices for essential articles have been fixed by the Competent Authority. Such prices will remain in force until further notice.

It must be remembered that these prices are maximum, and that retailers may always sell below them.

I, ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief and Vice Admiral of the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, do hereby proclaim that a state of war exists between His Majesty the King and Thailand, and do hereby notify, declare and make known that the Supreme Court of the Falkland Islands is a Prize

Court to take cognizance of and judicially to proceed upon all and all manner of Captures, Recaptures, Seizures, Prizes and reprisals of all Ships, Vessels and Goods seized and taken which are or shall be brought within the limits of the said Court.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given under my hand and the Public Seal of the Colony at Government House, Stanley, this 12th day of February, in the Year of Our Lord One thousand Nine hundred and forty-two.

By His Excellency's Command,

A. I. FLEURET,

for Colonial Secretary.

No. 5.

Proclamation

1942.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINAL L.

By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINAL, Esquire, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the 25th day of February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands, it was amongst other things declared that there should be an Executive Council in and for the said Colony which should consist of such persons as should be directed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet.

AND WHEREAS by Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date the 28th day of February, 1920, it was declared that if in the opinion of the Governor the number of members of the Executive Council available for business may at any time be likely to prove insufficient, the Governor may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal, appoint some fit person to be provisionally a member of the said Council for such period as shall be specified in such Instrument :

NOW THEREFORE, I, being of the opinion that the number of members of the Executive Council available for business is likely to prove insufficient, do hereby provisionally appoint to be a member of the Executive Council for a period of one year with effect from the 18th of February, 1942.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given at Government House, Stanley, this 18th day of February, in the Year of Our Lord One thousand Nine hundred and Forty-two.

By His Excellency's Command,

A. I. FLEURET,

for Colonial Secretary.

M.P. P/235.

Order by His Excellency the Governor amending the Defence Regulations, 1939.

No. 3 of 1942.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. The following Regulation shall be substituted for Regulation 16 of the Defence Regulations, 1939 (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Regulations).

Power of Governor to terminate Military appointments.

16. If it appears to the Governor necessary or expedient so to do in the interests of the public safety, the defence of the Colony or the efficient prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged it shall be lawful for the Governor at any time with or without prior notice or reason assigned to terminate any engagement or appointment of any person under the Defence Force Ordinance, 1920, as amended by subsequent enactments or any other engagement or appointment made by him or on his authority of a person to perform military duties in the Colony."

2. Regulation 16 of the Principal Regulations shall be re-numbered 16A.

Dated this twenty-fourth day of February, 1942.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET,
for Colonial Secretary.

M.P. 8/7/39.

The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 3) Order, 1942.

No. 4 of 1942.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

In pursuance of the powers vested in him by Section 3 (2) of the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. Each of the persons specified in the Schedule to the United Kingdom Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 19) Order, 1941, as varied by the Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 20) Order, 1941, shall be deemed to be an enemy during such period as this Order shall in relation to such persons remain in force.

2. The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 2) Order, 1942, of the 27th of January, 1942, is hereby revoked.

3. This Order may be cited as "The Trading with the Enemy (Specified Persons) (Amendment) (No. 3) Order, 1942", and shall come into operation on the 24th day of February, 1942.

Dated this 24th day of February, 1942.

By Command,

A. I. FLEURET,
for Colonial Secretary.

Ordinance No. 2 of 1942.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

13th March, 1942.

An Ordinance

To make provision for the fixing of a Minimum Wage for Labour.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Labour (Minimum Wage) Ordinance, 1942.

Short Title.

2.—(1) Whenever the Governor in Council is satisfied that the wages paid in the Colony or any part of the Colony for any occupation are unreasonably low, he may by proclamation fix a minimum rate of wage for that occupation.

Fixing of minimum wage.

(2) Where a minimum rate of wages is fixed in respect of a part of the Colony the boundaries thereof shall be set out in the proclamation.

(3) The Governor in Council may by proclamation vary or cancel a minimum rate of wage.

(4) The Governor in Council may by proclamation revoke any proclamation made under this section.

(5) Any such minimum rate as aforesaid or the cancellation or variation of any such rate shall become effective as from the date specified in that behalf in the proclamation.

(6) All proclamations under this section shall be published in the Gazette.

3.—(1) The Governor in Council may where he considers it desirable appoint advisory boards to consider the wages paid for any occupation.

Appointment of Advisory Boards.

(2) The Governor in Council may make regulations as to the constitution, appointment and duties of advisory boards.

Penalty for not paying wages in accordance with minimum rate which is effective.

4.—(1) Where a minimum rate of wage fixed by the Governor in Council has become effective an employer shall in cases to which the minimum rate is applicable, pay wages to the person employed at not less than the minimum rate clear of all deductions and if he fails to do so shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds and to a fine not exceeding five pounds for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction therefor

Meaning of "deductions."

(2) In sub-section (1) of this section the expression "deductions" shall not apply to loans free of premium or interest advanced on account of wages or to payments in respect of tools or implements supplied to and used by a labourer in his occupation as such, but shall include deductions which could otherwise lawfully be made from wages.

(3) On the conviction of an employer under sub-section (1) of this section the Court may by the conviction adjudge the employer convicted to pay, in addition to any fine, such sum as appears to the Court to be due to the person employed on account of wages, the wages being calculated on the basis of a minimum rate, but the power to order the payment of wages under this provision shall not be in derogation of any right of the person employed to recover wages by any other proceedings.

Offences by agents.

(4) Where an offence for which an employer is by virtue of this section liable to a fine has in fact been committed by some agent of the employer or other person, that agent or other person shall be liable to be proceeded against for the offence in the same manner as if he were the employer, and either together with, or before or after the conviction of the employer, and shall be liable on conviction to the same fine as that to which the employer is liable.

Savings as to employer when agent convicted.

(5) Where an employer who is charged with an offence against this section proves to the satisfaction of the Court that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of this Ordinance, and that the offence was in fact committed by his agent or some other person without his knowledge, consent, or connivance, he shall, in the event of the conviction of that agent or other person for the offence, be exempt from any fine in respect of the offence, without prejudice, however to the power of the Court under sub-section (3) of this section to adjudge him to pay any sum which appears to the Court to be due to the person employed on account of wages.

Record of wages to be kept.

(6) It shall be the duty of every employer in an occupation to which a minimum rate is applicable, to keep such records of wages as are necessary to show that the provisions of this Ordinance are being complied with as respects persons in his employment, and if he fails to do so he shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding two pounds and also to a fine not exceeding one pound for every day during which the default continues after conviction.

Burden of proof.

(7) On any prosecution of a person for failing to pay wages at not less than the minimum rate, it shall lie on that person to prove that he has not paid wages at less than the minimum rate.

Appointment of officers and power of entry and inspection.

5.—(1) The Governor in Council may appoint such officers as he may think necessary for the purpose of investigating any complaints and otherwise securing the proper observance of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(2) Any such officer shall have power to enter at all reasonable times upon the premises of any employer in an occupation to which a minimum rate is applicable and to require the production of wages sheets or other record of wages by any such employer and to inspect and examine the same and copy any material part thereof.

(3) If any person hinders or molests any officer in the exercise of the powers given by this section or fails or refuses to produce any wages sheet or other record of wages, that person shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding five pounds; and if any person makes or causes to be made or knowingly allows to be made any wages sheet or record of wages or record of payments which is false in any material particular or produces or causes to be produced or knowingly allows to be produced any such sheet or record to any officer acting in exercise of the powers given by this section knowing the same to be false, he shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

6. Any agreement for the payment of wages in contravention of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be void.

Agreement in contravention of this Ordinance void.

7. The Minimum Wage Fixing Machinery Ordinance 1932 is hereby repealed.

Repeal of Ordinance No. 6 of 1932.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 10th day of March, 1942.

A. I. FLEURET,

Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this 13th day of March, 1942.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 3 of 1942.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

13th March, 1942.

An Ordinance

To enable the Governor to issue Commissions of Inquiry with special powers.

Enacting Clause.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as The Commissions of Inquiry Ordinance, 1942.

Power to issue commissions of inquiry into matters of public nature. etc.

2. It shall be lawful for the Governor, whenever he shall deem it advisable, to issue a Commission appointing one or more Commissioners, and authorising such Commissioners, or any quorum of them therein mentioned, to inquire into the conduct of any officer in the public service in the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, the conduct or management of any department of the public service or of any public or local institution, or into any matter in which any inquiry would, in the opinion of the Governor, be for the public welfare. Each such Commission shall specify the subject of inquiry, and may, in the discretion of the Governor, if there is more than one Commissioner, direct which Commissioner shall be chairman, and direct where and when such inquiry shall be made, and the report thereof rendered, and prescribe how such Commission shall be executed, and may direct whether the inquiry shall or shall not be held in public. In the absence of a direction to the contrary, the inquiry shall be held in public, but the Commissioners shall nevertheless be entitled to exclude any particular person or persons for the preservation of order, for the due conduct of the inquiry, or for any other reason.

Particulars of commissions.

Mode of holding inquiry and as to preservation of order.

Power to appoint fresh Commissioners and to alter and revoke commissions.

3. In case any Commissioner shall be or become unable or unwilling to act, or shall die, the Governor may appoint another Commissioner in his place; and any Commission issued under this Ordinance may be altered as the Governor may deem fit by any subsequent Commission issued by the Governor, or may be revoked altogether by a notification to that effect published in the Gazette.

4. No Commission issued under this Ordinance shall lapse by reason of, or be otherwise affected by the death, absence, or removal of the Governor issuing the same.

Commissions not affected by change of Governor.

5. It shall be the duty of each Commissioner appointed under this Ordinance to make and subscribe an oath that he will faithfully, fully, impartially, and to the best of his ability discharge the trust, and perform the duties devolving upon him by virtue of such Commission, which oath may be taken before the Governor, or before such person as the Governor may appoint, and shall be deposited by the Commissioner with the Colonial Secretary.

As to oath of office by Commissioners.

6. The Governor may appoint a secretary to attend the sittings of the Commission to record their proceedings, to keep their papers, summon, and minute the testimony of witnesses, and generally to perform such duties connected with such inquiry as the Commissioners shall prescribe.

Power to appoint secretary : his duties.

7. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners, after taking such oath, to make a full, faithful, and impartial inquiry into the matter specified in such Commission, and to conduct such inquiry in accordance with the directions (if any) in the Commission; and, in due course, to report to the Governor, in writing, the result of such inquiry; and also when required, to furnish to the Governor a full statement of the proceedings of such Commission, and of the reasons leading to the conclusions arrived at or reported.

Duties of Commissioners defined.

8. If the Commissioners shall, in any case, be equally divided on any question that arises during the proceedings of the Commission, the chairman of the Commission shall have a second or casting vote.

Division of opinion of Commissioners.

9. The Commissioners acting under this Ordinance may make such rules for their own guidance, and the conduct and management of proceedings before them, and the hours and times and places for their sittings, not inconsistent with their Commission, as they may from time to time think fit, and may from time to time adjourn for such time and to such place as they may think fit, subject only to the terms of their Commission.

Commissioners' powers for regulating proceedings.

10. Commissioners acting under this Ordinance shall have the powers of the Supreme Court to summon witnesses, and to call for the production of books, plans, documents, and to examine witnesses and parties concerned on oath, and no Commissioner shall be liable to any action or suit for any matter or thing done by him as Commissioner. All summonses for the attendance of witnesses, or other persons, or the production of documents, may be in the form or any form to the like effect, given in the Schedule to this Ordinance, and shall be signed by one of the Commissioners, and oaths may be administered by one of the Commissioners or by their secretary.

Power to summon and examine witnesses, and protection of Commissioner from suit.

Schedule.

11. Any witness who shall wilfully give false evidence in any such inquiry concerning the subject matter of such inquiry shall be guilty of perjury, and be liable to be prosecuted and punished accordingly.

False evidence.

12. All persons summoned to attend and give evidence, or to produce books, plans, or documents at any sitting of any such Commission, shall be bound to obey the summons served upon them as fully in all respects as witnesses are bound to obey subpoenas issued from the Supreme Court, and shall be entitled to like expenses as if they had been summoned to attend at such Court on a criminal trial, if the same shall be allowed by the Commissioners, but the Commissioners may disallow the whole or any part of such expenses in any case if they think fit. Orders for the payment of such witnesses

Duty of witnesses summoned.

Expenses of witnesses.

Penalty for contumacy, insult, or interruption of proceedings.

shall be made as nearly as may be as orders are made for the payment of witnesses in the Supreme Court, and shall be paid in such manner as the Governor may direct. Every person refusing or omitting without sufficient cause to attend at the time and place mentioned in the summons served on him, and every person attending, but leaving the Commission without the permission of the Commissioners, or refusing without sufficient cause to answer, or to answer fully and satisfactorily to the best of his knowledge and belief, all questions put to him by or with the concurrence of the Commissioners, or refusing or omitting without sufficient cause to produce any books, plans, or documents in his possession or under his control, and mentioned or referred to in the summons served on him, and every person who shall at any sitting of the Commission wilfully insult any Commissioner, or the secretary, or wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the Commission, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, to be recovered in a summary manner before a Magistrate: Provided always that no person giving evidence before the Commission shall be compellable to criminate himself, and every such person shall, in respect of any evidence given by him before the Commission, be entitled to all the privileges to which a witness giving evidence before the Supreme Court is entitled in respect of evidence given by him before such Court.

Indemnity to witnesses.

Appearance of counsel.

13. Any person whose conduct is the subject of inquiry under this Ordinance, or who is in any way implicated or concerned in the matter under inquiry, shall be entitled to be represented by counsel at the whole of the inquiry, and any other person who may consider it desirable that he should be so represented may, by leave of the Commission, be represented in manner aforesaid.

Constables detailed to attend Commissioners: their duties.

14. The Chief Constable shall detail constables to attend upon any such Commissioners, to preserve order during the proceedings of the Commission, and to serve summonses on witnesses, and to perform such ministerial duties as such Commissioners shall direct.

Remuneration to Commissions, etc.

15. Commissioners appointed under this Ordinance shall not be entitled to any remuneration, unless such remuneration shall be specially voted by the Legislative Council, beyond the actual expenses incurred in holding the inquiry, but the Governor may direct what remuneration, if any, shall be paid to the secretary, and to any other persons employed in or about any such Commission, and may direct payment of any other expenses attendant upon the carrying out of any such Commission, or upon any proceedings for any penalty under this Ordinance. Such sums, so directed to be paid, shall be defrayed out of the public revenue of the Colony upon the warrant of the Governor.

Commissions etc., to be published in Gazette.

16. All Commissions under this Ordinance, and all revocations of any such Commission, shall be published in the Gazette, and shall take effect from the date of such publication.

As to proceedings for penalties.

17. No proceedings shall be commenced for any penalty under this Ordinance except by the direction of the Commissioners. The Commissioners may direct their secretary, or such other person as they may think fit, to commence and prosecute the proceedings for such penalty.

Repeal of Ordinance No. 3 of 1900 section 27.

18. Section 27 of the Interpretation and General Law Ordinance, 1900, (which relates to the appointment of a Commission of Inquiry) is hereby repealed.

SCHEDULE. (Section 10.)

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 4 of 1942.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

13th March, 1942.

An Ordinance

To regulate Trade Unions and Trade Disputes.

Enacting Clause.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Short Title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Trade Unions and Trade Disputes Ordinance.

PART I.

Meaning of trade union.

2. "Trade Union" means any combination whether temporary or permanent, the principal purposes of which are under its constitution the regulation of the relations between workmen and masters, or between workmen and workmen, or between masters and masters whether such combination would or would not if this Ordinance had not been enacted have been deemed to have been an unlawful combination by reason of some one or more of its purposes being in restraint of trade:

Provided that nothing in this Ordinance

(a) shall affect

- (1) Any agreement between partners as to their own business;
- (2) Any agreement between an employer and those employed by him as to such employment;
- (3) Any agreement in consideration of the sale of the goodwill of a business or of instruction in any profession, trade or handicraft; or

(b) shall preclude any trade union from providing benefits for its members.

"Registered" means Registered under this Ordinance.

"Registrar" means the Registrar of Trade Unions.

3. The purposes of any trade union shall not, by reason merely that they are in restraint of trade, be deemed to be unlawful so as to render any member of such trade union liable to criminal prosecution for conspiracy or otherwise.

Trade unions not criminal.

4. The purposes of any trade union shall not, by reason merely that they are in restraint of trade, be unlawful so as to render voidable any agreement or trust.

Trade union not unlawful for civil purposes.

5. (1) No trade union or any member thereof shall perform any act in furtherance of the purposes for which it has been formed unless such trade union has first been registered.

Trade unions prohibited from carrying on business unless registered.

(2) Any trade union or any officer or member thereof who contravenes the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

6. The Governor may appoint such person as he may think fit to be the Registrar of Trade Unions.

Registrar of trade unions.

7. Any seven or more members of a trade union may, by subscribing their names to the rules of the union and otherwise complying with the provisions of this Ordinance with respect to registration, register such trade union under this Ordinance :

Registration of trade unions.

Provided that if any one of the purposes of such trade union be unlawful such registration shall be void.

8. (1) Every trade union shall be registered in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance or be dissolved within three months of the date

Compulsory registration.

(a) of its formation, or

(b) of any notification by the Registrar that he has refused under section 10 to register the trade union, or

(c) of the commencement of this Ordinance whichever is the later date.

(2) Every trade union which is not registered or dissolved within the period prescribed in the preceding sub-section and every officer thereof shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding five pounds for every day it remains unregistered after the expiration of such period.

9. With respect to the registry under this Ordinance of a trade union, and of the rules thereof, the following provisions shall apply :-

Rules for registry.

(1) An application to register the trade union and its rules shall be sent to the Registrar with copies of the rules and a list of the titles and names of the officers of the trade union.

(2) The Registrar upon being satisfied that the trade union has complied with the rules respecting registry in force under this Ordinance shall subject to the provisions of section 10 register the trade union and rules.

(3) No trade union shall be registered under a name identical with that by which any other existing trade union has been registered or so nearly resembling such name as to be likely to deceive the members or the public.

- (4) The Registrar upon registering a trade union shall issue a certificate of registration.

Refusal of registration.

10. (1) if the Registrar is satisfied that
- (a) the applicants have not been duly authorised to apply for registration; or
 - (b) the purposes of the trade union are unlawful; or
 - (c) the application is not in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance; he may refuse registration.

(2) When the Registrar refuses to register a trade union he shall forthwith inform the applicants in writing of the grounds of his refusal.

(3) An appeal shall lie to the Supreme Court from a refusal of the Registrar to register a trade union and on such appeal the Supreme Court may make any such order as it thinks proper, including any directions as to the costs of the appeal. Any such order of the Supreme Court shall be final.

(4) The Supreme Court may make rules governing such appeals, providing for the method of giving evidence, prescribing the time within which such appeals shall be brought, the fees to be paid, the procedure to be followed and the manner of notifying the Registrar of the appeal.

(5) The Registrar shall be entitled to be heard on any appeal.

Cancellation of registration.

11. (1) It shall be lawful for the Registrar to cancel the registration of any trade union

- (a) at the request of the trade union, to be evidenced in such manner as he may direct;
- (b) on proof to his satisfaction that a certificate of registration has been obtained by fraud or mistake, or that such trade union has wilfully, and after notice from the Registrar, violated any of the provisions of this Ordinance or has ceased to exist.

(2) Not less than two months' previous notice specifying briefly the grounds of the proposed cancellation, except where the trade union has ceased to exist in which case notice of cancellation may be given forthwith, shall be given by the Registrar to the trade union before such cancellation is effected.

(3) An appeal from the decision of the Registrar under this section shall lie to the Supreme Court subject to the same conditions as are provided for an appeal against the refusal of the Registrar to register a trade union, and the Supreme Court may make rules providing for the same matters for which rules may be made in respect of such appeal. The decision of the Supreme Court shall be final.

Officers of trade union to account.

12. (1) Every treasurer or other officer of a registered trade union at such times as by the rules thereof he should render such accounts as hereinafter mentioned, or having been required so to do, shall render to the members thereof, at a meeting of the trade union, a just and true account of all moneys received and paid by him since he last rendered the like account, and of the balance then remaining in his hands, and of all bonds and securities of such trade union.

(2) Such account shall be audited by some fit and proper person or persons to be appointed by the trade union.

(3) Upon the account being audited the treasurer or other officer as the case may be shall, if thereupon required, hand over to the trade union the balance which on such audit appeared to be due from him, and shall also if required hand over to the trade union all securities and effects, books, papers and property of the trade union in his hands or custody.

(4) If the treasurer or other officer fails to hand over such things and documents as in sub-section (3) required, the Committee of Management of the trade union or any member for and on behalf of the trade union may sue him in any competent court for the balance appearing to have been due from him upon the account last rendered by him, and for all moneys since received by him on account of such trade union and for the securities and effects, books, papers and property in his hands or custody, leaving him to set off in such action the sums, if any, which he may have since paid on account of such trade union; and in any such action the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover full costs of suit to be taxed as between solicitor and client.

13. (1) Every registered trade union shall transmit to the Registrar the account prepared and audited in accordance with section 12 within one month of its submission to the members of the trade union.

Audited accounts to be sent to registrar.

(2) Every officer of a registered trade union which fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

14. With respect to the rules of a registered trade union, the following provisions shall have effect:—

Rules of registered trade unions.

- (1) The rules of every such trade union shall contain provisions in respect of the several matters mentioned in the Schedule.
- (2) A copy of the rules shall be delivered by the trade union to every person on demand on payment of a sum not exceeding one shilling.

15. (1) Every alteration of the rules of a registered trade union shall be registered with the Registrar and shall take effect from the date of registration unless some later date is specified in the rules.

Alteration of rules of trade unions.

(2) The rules of a registered trade union shall not be altered so that they cease to contain provisions in respect of the several matters in the Schedule.

16. (1) The Governor-in-Council may make rules respecting registry under this Ordinance and in particular but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power with respect to Rules by Governor in Council.

- (a) The seal, if any, to be used by the Registrar for the purpose of registration under this Ordinance;
- (b) The forms to be used for such registry;
- (c) The inspection of registers and documents kept by the Registrar and the making of copies of any entries therein;
- (d) The fees to be charged for registration and inspection and any other service or matter prescribed or permitted by this Ordinance; and
- (e) Generally for carrying this part of this Ordinance into effect.

PART II.

Definitions.

17. (1) In this part:—

“To intimidate” means to cause in the mind of a person a reasonable apprehension of injury to him or to any member of his family or to any of his dependants or of violence or damage to any person or property.

“Injury” includes injury to a person in respect of his business, occupation, employment or other source of income, and includes any actionable wrong.

“Trade dispute” means any dispute between employers and workmen or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or with the terms of the employment, or with the conditions of labour of any person.

“Workmen” means all persons employed in trade or industry, whether or not in the employment of the employer with whom a trade dispute arises.

Immunity of trade unions from actions of tort.

18. (1) An action against a trade union, whether of workmen or masters, or against any members or officials thereof on behalf of themselves and all other members of the trade union in respect of any tortious act alleged to have been committed by or on behalf of the trade union shall not be entertained by any Court.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the liability of a trade union or any official thereof to be sued in any Court touching or concerning the property or rights of a trade union, except in respect of any tortious act committed by or on behalf of the union in contemplation or in furtherance of a trade dispute.

Conspiracy in relation to trade disputes.

19. (1) An agreement or combination of two or more persons to do or procure to be done any act in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute shall not be triable as a conspiracy if such act committed by one person would not be punishable as a crime.

(2) An act done in pursuance of an agreement or combination by two or more persons shall, if done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute, not be actionable unless the act, if done without any such agreement or combination, would be actionable.

(3) Nothing in this section shall exempt from punishment any person guilty of a conspiracy for which a punishment is awarded by any law in force in the Colony.

(4) Nothing in this section shall affect the law relating to riot, unlawful assembly, breach of the peace or sedition or any offence against the State or the Sovereign.

(5) A crime for the purposes of this section means an offence for the commission of which the offender is liable to be imprisoned either absolutely or at the discretion of the Court as an alternative for some other punishment.

(6) Where a person is convicted of any such agreement or combination as aforesaid to do or procure to be done an act which is punishable on summary conviction, and is sentenced to imprisonment, the imprisonment shall not exceed three months, or such longer time, if any, as may have been prescribed by the law for the punishment of the said act when committed by one person.

20. An act done by a person in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute shall not be actionable on the ground only that it induces some other person to break a contract of employment or that it is an interference with the trade, business, or employment of some other person, or with the right of some other person to dispose of his capital or his labour as he wills.

Removal of liability for interfering with another person's business.

21. (1) Every person who, with a view to compel any other person to abstain from doing or to do any act which such other person has a legal right to do or abstain from doing, wrongfully and without legal authority

Intimidation or annoyance.

- (a) uses violence to or intimidates such other person or his wife or children, or injures his property; or
- (b) persistently follows such other person about from place to place; or
- (c) hides any tools, clothes or other property owned or used by such other person, or deprives him of or hinders him in the use thereof; or
- (d) watches or besets the house or other place where such other person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be or the approach to such house or place; or
- (e) follows such other person with two or more other persons in a disorderly manner in or through any street or road, shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or with imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

(2) Attending at or near any house or place in such numbers or in such manner as is by sub-section (2) of section 22 declared to be unlawful shall be deemed to be a watching and besetting of that house or place within the meaning of this section.

22. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Ordinance:—

Peaceful picketing and prevention of intimidation.

- (1) It shall be lawful for one or more persons acting on their own behalf or on behalf of a trade union or of an individual employer or firm in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute, to attend at or near a house or place where a person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be, if they so attend merely for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or of peacefully persuading any person to work or abstain from working.
- (2) It shall not be lawful for one or more persons (whether acting on their own behalf or on behalf of a trade union or of an individual employer or firm, and notwithstanding that they may be acting in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute) to attend at or near a house or place where a person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be, for the purpose of obtaining or communicating information or of persuading or inducing any person to work or to abstain from working if they so attend in such numbers or otherwise in such manner as to be calculated to intimidate any person in that house or place, or to obstruct the approach thereto or egress therefrom, or to lead to a breach of the peace; and any person who acts in contravention of this sub-section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a fine not exceeding twenty pounds or with imprisonment with or without hard labour for a period not exceeding three months.

Schedule.

[L.S.]

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 5 of 1942.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

13th March, 1942.

An Ordinance

To provide for compensation in respect of action taken on behalf of the Governor in the exercise of certain emergency powers, and for purposes connected with the matter aforesaid.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

Enacting Clause.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be cited as the Compensation (Defence) Ordinance, 1942.

Short Title and commencement.

(2) This Ordinance shall be deemed to have come into operation on the twenty-sixth day of August, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine.

RIGHT TO AND MEASURE OF COMPENSATION.

2. (1) Where, in the exercise of emergency powers during the period beginning with the twenty-sixth day of August, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and ending on the day on which the Emergency Powers (Colonial Defence) order in Council 1939, expires

Compensation for action taken in the exercise of emergency powers.

- (a) possession of any land has been taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or
- (b) any property other than land has been requisitioned or acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or
- (c) any work has been done on any land on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, otherwise than by way of measures taken to avoid the spreading of the consequences of damage caused by war operations, then, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance compensation assessed in accordance with those provisions shall be paid, out of the revenues of the Colony, in respect of the taking possession of the land, the requisition or acquisition of the property, or the doing of the work, as the case may be.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a requirement that any space or accommodation in a ship or an aircraft be placed at the disposal of any authority shall be deemed to be a requisition of property.

Compensation in respect of taking possession of land.

3. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the taking possession of any land shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

- (a) a sum equal to the rent which might reasonably be expected to be payable by a tenant in occupation of the land, during the period for which possession of the land is retained in the exercise of emergency powers, under a lease granted immediately before the beginning of that period, whereby the tenant undertook to pay all usual tenant's rates and taxes and to bear the cost of the repairs and insurance and the other expenses, if any, necessary to maintain the land in a state to command rent, and
- (b) a sum equal to the cost of making good any damage to the land which may have occurred during the period for which possession thereof is so retained (except in so far as the damage has been made good during that period by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony), no account being taken of fair wear and tear or of damage caused by war operations, and
- (c) in a case where the land is agricultural land a sum equal to the amount (if any) which might reasonably have been expected to be payable in addition to rent by an incoming tenant, in respect of things previously done for the purpose of the cultivation of the land, and in respect of seeds, tillages, growing crops and other similar matters, under a lease of the land granted immediately before possession thereof was taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and
- (d) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the taking possession of the land:

Provided that

- (i) in computing for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection the rent which might reasonably be expected to be payable in respect of any land, and in computing for the purposes of paragraph (c) of this subsection any amount which might reasonably have been expected to be payable in addition to rent by an incoming tenant, no account shall be taken of any appreciation of values due to the emergency; and
- (ii) there shall not, by virtue of paragraph (b) of this subsection, be payable in respect of damage to any land a sum greater than the value of the land at the time when possession thereof was taken in the exercise of emergency powers, no account being taken of any appreciation in the value thereof due to the emergency.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the possession of the land is taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who for the time being would be entitled to occupy the land but for the fact that possession thereof is retained in the exercise of such powers; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than three months.

For the purposes of the enactments relating to income tax and in particular for the purposes of such of those enactments as relate to the deduction of tax from rent, any compensation under the said paragraph (a) shall be deemed to be rent payable for the land, the Crown shall be deemed to pay it as tenant occupier, and the person receiving it shall be deemed to receive it as landlord.

(3) Any compensation under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the end of the period for which possession of the land is retained in the exercise of emergency powers, and shall be paid to the person who is then the owner of the land.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when possession of the land is taken in the exercise of emergency powers, and shall be paid to the person who, immediately before that time, was the occupier of the land.

(5) Any compensation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

4. (1) Compensation under this Ordinance in respect of the doing of any work on any land shall be payable only if the annual value of the land is diminished by reason of the doing of the work.

Compensation in respect of the doing of work on land.

(2) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the doing of any work on any land shall, in the first instance, be a sum calculated by a reference to the diminution of the annual value of the land ascribable to the doing of the work, and shall be paid in instalments, quarterly in arrear, to the person who for the time being is entitled to occupy the land.

Any compensation under this subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day, and shall be apportionable in respect of time accordingly.

(3) If, at any time after compensation under the preceding subsection has become payable by reason of the doing of any work on any land, a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony

- (a) causes the land to be restored, so far as practicable, to the condition in which it would be but for the doing of the work, or
- (b) serves on the person for the time being entitled to occupy the land a written notice of intention to discharge the liability for the compensation by making, not earlier than a date specified in the notice, payment of a lump sum in accordance with the following provisions of this section, the period in respect of which compensation is payable under the preceding subsection by reason of the doing of the work shall end with the date immediately preceding the date on which the restoration is completed or, as the case may be, the date specified in the notice.

(4) Where, by virtue of the operation of the last preceding subsection in relation to any work done on any land, the period in respect of which compensation under subsection (1) of this section is payable by reason of the doing of the work comes to an end, then if, at the expiration of that period the value of any estate or interest which a person then has in the land is less than it would be but for the doing of the work, there shall be paid to him, by way of compensation under this Ordinance, a sum equal to the amount of the said depreciation in the value of the estate or interest; and that compensation shall be taken to accrue due at the expiration of the said period.

(5) As soon as may be after effecting any restoration or serving any notice in pursuance of subsection (3) of this section, the person by whom the restoration was effected or the notice was served shall cause the fact of the restoration or the contents of the notice, as the case may be, to be published in such manner as he thinks best adapted for informing persons affected.

(6) In determining for the purposes of this section whether the annual value of any land is diminished by reason of the doing of any work thereon, and assessing any compensation under this section in respect of the doing of any work on any land, it shall be assumed that the land cannot be restored to the condition in which it would be but for the doing of the work.

(7) For the purposes of this section, no account shall be taken of any diminution or depreciation in value ascribable only to loss of pleasure or amenity.

(8) No compensation under this section shall, in relation to any land, be payable in respect of any period for which possession of that land is taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers.

(9) In this section

- (a) the expression "annual value" means, in relation to any land, the rent at which the land might reasonably be expected to let from year to year if the tenant undertook to pay all usual tenant's rates and taxes and to bear the costs of the repairs and insurance and the other expenses, if any, necessary to maintain the land in a state to command that rent; and
- (b) the expression "diminution of the annual value" means, in relation to the doing of any work on land, the amount by which the annual value of the land is less than it would be if the work had not been done.

Compensation in respect of requisition or acquisition of vessels, vehicles and aircraft.

5. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

- (a) a sum equal to the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable by a person for the use of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during the period of the requisition, under a charter or contract of hiring whereby he undertook to bear the cost of insuring, maintaining and running the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, and

- (b) if an agreement is made on behalf of the Governor of the Colony for the running of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during the said period by the person who, but for the requisition, would be entitled to possession of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, or who is the owner thereof, a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred by that person in connection with the maintenance and running of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft during that period, not being expenses taken into account for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection, and
- (c) a sum equal to the cost of making good any damage to the vessel, vehicle or aircraft not resulting in a total loss thereof, which may have occurred during the said period (except in so far as the damage has been made good during that period by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony), no account being taken of fair wear and tear, and
- (d) in a case where, during the period of the requisition, a total loss of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft occurs, a sum equal to the value of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft immediately before the occurrence of the damage which caused the loss, and
- (e) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the requisition:

Provided that

- (i) in computing for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this subsection the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable for the use of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft, no account shall be taken of any appreciation in the value thereof due to the emergency; and
- (ii) no compensation shall by virtue of this subsection be payable in respect of any loss of, or damage to, any vehicle or aircraft arising in consequence of war operations, unless it is shown that, at the time when the loss or damage occurred, the risk of the vehicle or aircraft being lost or damaged in consequence of war operations was materially increased by reason of the requisition thereof in the exercise of emergency powers; and
- (iii) no compensation shall by virtue of paragraph (c) of this subsection be payable in respect of any damage, if compensation in respect of expenses incurred for the purpose of making good that damage has accrued due by virtue of paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is requisitioned in the exercise of emergency powers, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who, at the time when compensation accrues due, is the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than one month.

(3) Where, on the day on which any compensation accrues due by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section, a person other than the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is, by virtue of a subsisting charter or contract of hiring, the person who would be entitled to possession of, or to use the vessel, vehicle or aircraft but for the requisition, the person to whom the compensation is paid shall be deemed to receive it as a trustee for the first mentioned person.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (b) or paragraph (e) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of payments at intervals of less than one month.

(5) Any compensation under paragraph (c) or paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the end of the period of the requisition, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, the expression "total loss" shall have the same meaning as it has for the purposes of the law relating to insurance, and accordingly shall be construed as including constructive total loss; and upon the payment to any person of any compensation which has become payable by virtue of paragraph (d) of that subsection in respect of any loss, the Crown shall have the same right to take over an interest in whatever remains of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, and the same rights and remedies in and in respect of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft, as it would have if the payment had been made by the Crown as the insurer under a contract insuring that person against the loss.

(7) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the acquisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be a sum equal to the value of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft immediately before the acquisition, no account being taken of any appreciation due to the emergency, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

For the purpose of assessing any compensation under this subsection in respect of the acquisition of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft, no account shall be taken of any compensation under paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section which may have become payable in respect of the requisition of that vessel, vehicle or aircraft.

(8) Where, at any time during the period for which a vessel, vehicle or aircraft is requisitioned on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers

(a) a written notice stating that the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is to be treated as acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony is served on the owner thereof by a person acting on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, or

(b) the vessel, vehicle or aircraft is sold on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, then, for the purposes of this section, the vessel, vehicle or aircraft shall be deemed to have been acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers immediately before the day on which the said notice was served or, as the case may be, the day on which the vessel, vehicle or aircraft was so sold, and the period of requisition shall be deemed to have ended at the time when the acquisition of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft as aforesaid is deemed by virtue of this subsection to have been effected.

(9) Where there is effected such a sale of any vessel, vehicle or aircraft as is referred to in paragraph (b) of the last preceding subsection, the person by whom the sale was effected shall, as soon as may be thereafter, serve a written notice of the sale on the person who for the time being would be the owner of the vessel, vehicle or aircraft but for the sale thereof as aforesaid.

6. (1) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of any requirement that any space or accommodation in a ship or an aircraft be placed at the disposal of any authority shall be the aggregate of the following sums, that is to say

Compensation in respect of taking space or accommodation in ships and aircraft.

(a) a sum equal to the amount which might reasonably be expected to be payable for the use of that space or accommodation during the period for which it is at the disposal of the authority by virtue of that requirement, no account being taken of any appreciation of values due to the emergency, and

(b) a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the said requirement.

(2) Any compensation under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection shall be considered as accruing due from day to day during the period for which the space or accommodation remains at the disposal of the authority at whose disposal it was required to be placed, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, and shall be paid to the person who, at the time when compensation accrues due, is the owner of the ship or aircraft; but this subsection shall not operate so as to require the making of any payment before the end of the said period.

(3) Where, on the day on which any compensation accrues due by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section, a person other than the owner of the ship or aircraft is, by virtue of a subsisting charter or contract of hiring, entitled to possession of, or to use, the ship or aircraft, or is, by virtue of a subsisting contract, the person who would be entitled to use the space or accommodation but for the requirement in respect of which the compensation is payable, the person to whom the compensation is paid shall be deemed to receive it as a trustee for the first mentioned person.

(4) Any compensation under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred, and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

7. (1) Subject to the provisions of the next following subsection, the compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of any goods shall be a sum equal to the price which the person who, immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was the owner of the goods might reasonably have been expected to obtain upon a sale of the goods effected by, regard being had to the condition of the goods at the time and no account being taken of any appreciation in the value of the goods due to the emergency.

Compensation in respect of requisition or acquisition of goods other than vessels, vehicles and aircraft.

(2) Any compensation under the preceding sub-section shall not

- (a) in a case where the owner of the goods immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was a person who had produced the goods with a view to the sale thereof, exceed the aggregate of
 - (i) the cost reasonably incurred by that person in producing the goods, and
 - (ii) the profit which he might reasonably have been expected to make on a sale of the goods effected by him immediately before the requisition or acquisition, or
- (b) in a case where the owner of the goods, immediately before the requisition or acquisition, was some person other than the producer of the goods, and the goods had been bought by that person with a view to the sale thereof, exceed the aggregate of
 - (i) the price which it was reasonable for him to pay for the goods when they were so bought by him, and
 - (ii) the profit which he might reasonably have been expected to make on a sale of the goods effected by him immediately before the requisition or acquisition;

and, in assessing such compensation in any other case, no account shall be taken of any profit which might be expected to be made on a sale of the goods :

Provided that if, at the time when any goods are requisitioned or acquired on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers, the price or maximum price at which such goods may be sold is fixed by law, this subsection shall not be taken to authorise the assessment, by way of compensation under the preceding subsection in respect of the requisition or acquisition, a sum exceeding that price or maximum price, as the case may be.

In the preceding provisions of this subsection the reference to a person who had produced the goods with a view to the sale thereof, and the reference to the producer of the goods, shall be construed as including a reference to his personal representative or any person carrying on business in succession to him by virtue of any assignment or transmission by operation of law.

(3) The compensation payable under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of any goods shall include a sum equal to the amount of any expenses reasonably incurred, otherwise than on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, for the purpose of compliance with any directions given on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in connection with the requisition or acquisition.

(4) Any compensation under subsection (1) of this section shall accrue due at the time of the requisition or acquisition of the goods, and shall, subject to the following provisions of this Ordinance, be paid to the person who is then the owner of the goods.

(5) Any compensation under subsection (3) of this section shall accrue due at the time when the expenses in respect of which the compensation is payable are incurred and shall be paid to the person by whom or on whose behalf those expenses were incurred.

TRIBUNALS FOR DETERMINING DISPUTES.

8. Any dispute as to whether any compensation is payable under this Ordinance, or as to the amount of any compensation so payable, shall, in default of agreement, be referred to, and determined by, the appropriate tribunal constituted under the following provisions of this Ordinance, and the decision of that tribunal shall be final :

Determination of claims by tribunals in default of agreement.

Provided that at any stage in proceedings before it the tribunal may, and, if so directed by the Supreme Court, shall, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of that Court any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings.

9. (1) For the purpose of determining disputes as to the payment of compensation under this Ordinance in respect of the requisition or acquisition of vessels or the taking of space or accommodation therein, there shall be a Shipping Claims Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "the Shipping Tribunal"), consisting of a president and two other members appointed by the Governor.

Constitution of tribunals.

(2) The president and one of the other members of the Shipping Tribunal shall be members who appear to the Governor to have a special knowledge of commercial and admiralty law; and the third member of the Tribunal shall be a person appearing to the Governor to have a special qualifications as an average adjuster or accountant.

(3) For the purpose of determining disputes as to the payment of compensation under this Ordinance, other than disputes which by virtue of the preceding provisions of this Ordinance are to be determined by the Shipping Tribunal, there shall be a General Claims Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "the General Tribunal"), consisting of not less than five persons appointed by the Governor.

10. (1) Each of the tribunals constituted under this Ordinance shall have the following powers, that is to say

Incidental powers of tribunals.

- (a) to make, with the concurrence of the Governor rules prescribing the procedure for notifying, presenting and hearing claims and all matters incidental thereto;
- (b) to order persons to attend and give evidence and to produce and give discovery and inspection of documents, in like manner as in proceedings in the Supreme Court;
- (c) to award and assess, or direct the assessment of, such sums by way of costs as the tribunal in its discretion thinks just, and in particular to award costs to an unsuccessful claimant where such an award appears to the tribunal to be justified on the merits of the case;
- (d) to call in the aid of one or more assessors specially qualified, and hear any claim wholly or partly with their assistance;
- (e) to appoint an expert or experts to report on any matter material to the hearing of any claim;
- (f) to determine, subject to the approval of the Governor, the remuneration, if any, of such assessors and experts.

(2) Rules made in pursuance of paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection may contain provisions authorising a tribunal to take into consideration any matter which the tribunal considers relevant to the subject of the inquiry before it, notwithstanding that the matter is not admissible in evidence under the law relating to evidence.

(3) The Supreme Court shall have, for the purposes of and in relation to any proceedings under this Ordinance, the same power of making orders in respect of any of the matters specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section as it has for the purpose of and in relation to any action or matter in that Court.

GENERAL AND SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS.

Interest on Compensation.

11. Any compensation under this Ordinance shall carry interest, as from the date on which it accrues due until payment, at such rate not exceeding five per cent per annum as the Governor may from time to time by order prescribe.

Limitation of time for claiming compensation.

12. No claim for any compensation under this Ordinance shall be entertained unless notice of the claim has, in such form and manner as may be prescribed been given to the prescribed authority within the period of six months, or such longer period as the Governor may, either generally or in relation to any particular claim or class of claims, allow, beginning in either case with the date on which the compensation accrues due or the date of the passing of this Ordinance, whichever is the later.

Exclusion of compensation under the Ordinance in certain cases.

13. (1) No person shall, by virtue of this Ordinance be entitled to compensation in respect of the acquisition on behalf of the Governor of the Colony of any currency, gold or securities.

(2) No compensation shall, by virtue of this Ordinance be payable to any person in respect of any loss of, or damage to property, if and so far as that person has become entitled, apart from the provisions of this Ordinance, to recover any sum by way of damages or indemnity in respect of that loss or damage or is, at the time of the occurrence of the loss or damage, required under any contract with the Crown to be insured in respect thereof.

Provisions as to property subject to hire-purchase agreements.

14. In a case where any property in respect of the requisition or acquisition of which compensation is required by the preceding provisions of this Ordinance to be paid to the person who is the owner of the property immediately before the requisition or acquisition, is then in the possession of some other person by virtue of a hire-purchase agreement that person may, by a notice given in the prescribed form and manner to the prescribed authority, within the period limited by this Ordinance in relation to the making of any claim by the owner for payment of the compensation, make a claim to have apportioned to him such part of the compensation as may be specified in his claim; and, in default of agreement between the parties, the last mentioned claim shall be referred to the tribunal constituted under this Ordinance which has jurisdiction in the matter of any such claim by the owner, and thereupon that tribunal may apportion the compensation between the owner and the other person in such manner as appears to it to be just.

Provisions as to property subject to mortgages.

15. Where any sum by way of compensation is paid in accordance with any provisions of this Ordinance requiring compensation to be paid to the owner of any property, then if at the time when the compensation accrues due, the property is subject to any mortgage, pledge, lien or other similar obligation, the sum so paid shall be deemed to be comprised in that mortgage, pledge, lien or other obligation.

Compensation payable apart from the Ordinance.

16. The provisions of this Ordinance shall be without prejudice to any agreement for the making of any payment (whether by way of compensation or otherwise) in respect of the doing of anything on behalf of the Governor of the Colony in the exercise of emergency powers; but, where compensation in respect of the doing of anything as aforesaid would, apart from this section, be payable both under this Ordinance and under some other enactment or rule of law, then, subject to any such agreement as aforesaid, the compensation shall be payable in accordance with this Ordinance and not otherwise.

17. Any notice which by this Ordinance is required or authorised to be served on any person may be served by post. Service of notices.

18. (1) In this Ordinance the following expressions have the meanings hereby respectively assigned to them, that is to say Interpretation.

“agricultural land” means any land used as arable, meadow or pasture land, land used for a plantation or land used for the purpose of poultry farming, market gardens, nursery grounds, or allotments, including allotment gardens within the meaning of the Allotments Act, (United Kingdom), 1922;

“aircraft” means any flying machine, glider or airship or any balloon (whether fixed or free);

“the emergency” means the emergency that was the occasion of the passing of this Ordinance;

“emergency powers” means any power conferred by

(a) regulations made under the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, (United Kingdom), 1939, as part of the law of the Colony.

(b) section two of the Lighting Control Ordinance, 1938, or

(c) section two (1) of the Emergency Powers Ordinance, 1939, or

(d) section two (1) of the Export and Imports (Emergency Powers) Ordinance, 1939.

or any power exercisable by virtue of the prerogative of the Governor;

“exercise” includes purported exercise;

“fair wear and tear”, in relation to any property possession of which is taken on behalf of the Governor of the Colony or which is requisitioned on behalf of the Governor of the Colony, means such wear and tear as might have been expected to occur but for the fact that possession of the property was so taken or that the property was so requisitioned, as the case may be;

“goods” means chattels other than vessels, vehicles and aircraft;

“the Supreme Court” means the Supreme Court of the Colony of the Falkland Islands;

“hire-purchase agreement” has the same meaning as in the Hire Purchase Act, United Kingdom, 1938;

“land” includes (without prejudice to any of the provisions of section twenty-eight of the Interpretation and General Law Ordinance, 1900) land covered with water, and parts of houses or buildings;

“owner” means –

(a) in relation to land, the person who is receiving the rackrent of the land, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the rackrent of the land if it were let at a rackrent, or

(b) in relation to any property other than land, the person entitled to sell the property, it being assumed not to be subject to any mortgage, pledge, lien or other similar obligation:

and in this definition the expression "rackrent" has the same meaning as in the Public Health Act, (United Kingdom), 1936;

"prescribed" means prescribed by rules made by the Governor;

"requisition" means, in relation to any property, take possession of the property or require the property to be placed at the disposal of the requisitioning authority;

"ship" and "vessel" have respectively the same meanings as in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894; and

"war operations" means action taken by an enemy, or action taken in combating an enemy or in repelling an imagined attack by an enemy.

(2) For the purposes of this Ordinance, the doing of work shall, in relation to any land, be deemed to include the demolition, pulling down, destruction or rendering useless of anything placed in, on or over that land the maintenance of any work or thing in, on or over the land, and the removal from the land of anything so placed, demolished or pulled down in the exercise of emergency powers.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Minutes of Meeting held on 10th March, 1942.

1. The minutes of the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 8th of December, 1941, were confirmed.

2. The Governor delivered to the Council the following address :

"Gentlemen,

"The business before the Council this morning will not delay you long but it is of more than usual importance as it marks a definite advance in the relationship between labour and employees. In this respect it is a meeting of progress and one cannot miss the opportunity of remarking how in spite of the worries and uncertainties of the war we are so confident of final victory that we are anxious to undertake reform without delay.

"But before considering the legislation there are two resolutions to be determined upon. The first is to meet the cost of the evacuation of the school-children and the second seeks your approval of the sale of the launch "Georgia".

"The evacuation of the school-children was at first to have been compulsory, but the response of the parents was such that no compulsion was necessary, the whole proceedings being voluntary. And it is gratifying to note that almost 100% of the parents showed sufficient civic sense and true love for their children to accept the parting loyally and patiently. Of course there is no particular affection for such a measure but its necessity was recognised, and in spite of the temporary loss of the children in house-help, laundry help, peat work, message running and so on and in spite too of the absence of their laughter and their play the parents have willingly obeyed the dictates of common sense.

"It is hoped too that most parents who can afford the cost will repay the expense of their offspring and not accept the charity of their fellow citizens.

"The second resolution is to approve the sale of the 'Georgia'. She cost you £3,563 : 1 : 6 and so far as I have learned she was never a popular acquisition, being considered both unsuitable and uneconomical. There were from time to time offers to take her off our hands at prices between £400 and £800, but I did not feel justified in accepting or even considering so great a loss. This was fortunate as I have now been offered £2,500. It is admittedly a loss; but in these days that seems a very fair price. The money will have to be invested until after the war. I do not have it in mind as yet to replace her.

"The legislation is covered by six bills. The first establishes on a proper legal basis a Labour Advisory Board. This enactment is in accord with the modern idea of conciliation in labour matters and therefore insuperably preferable to compulsion. It is to be hoped that our common British love for compromise and getting together will make the work of the Board a success.

"The third is an amplification of a clause in our Interpretation and General Law and is actually the re-introduction of a measure which that clause had revoked. It covers the paraphernalia of a court of enquiry and enables the Commissioners to call for evidence, the production of documents etc., whilst giving them powers to enforce these summonses. Actually without these powers the clause in our law was useless. Incidentally the policy behind it is almost the reverse of the first bill establishing Advisory Boards, but with them both on our Statute Book, we shall possess all the machinery of inquisition and compromise.

"The second bill amplifies an act passed by you in 1932 entitled the Minimum Wage Fixing Machinery Ordinance. This will be repealed if you agree to the bill before you. It requires no explanation as that is embodied in its short title "The Labour (Minimum Wage) Ordinance", but it is the natural result of the 1932 law, and a law which has been somewhat delayed.

"Then comes a bill to regulate Trade Unions and Trade Disputes - a measure which obviously should be the law in every British Colony and which, once on our Statutes, enables us to qualify for recognition as a Colony worthy of consideration

"under the Colonial Development and Welfare Schemes. It is a bill that I think will be welcomed by every fair-minded person and is definitely one of progress.

"Fifthly there is a bill providing for the machinery by which compensation can be obtained in certain circumstances for damage and loss incurred by any action of this Government in the execution of its powers during this period of emergency. No one will question the advisability of this enactment.

"Finally there is an amending bill to the Live Stock Ordinance which is in general accordance with the feelings of those interested.

"May we have God's guidance in our deliberations".

3. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser, by command, laid on the Table the following papers :

Copies of all Regulations, Proclamations, Orders and Bye-laws made or approved by the Governor in Executive Council since the last meeting of the Legislative Council.

4. The Honourable B. Austin Cathie, Legal Adviser, moved and the Honourable the Senior Medical Officer seconded, the adoption of the following Resolution :

"WHEREAS a state of emergency exists, and whereas it has become necessary to provide funds to cover the expenses of the evacuation of children from Stanley.

"NOW THEREFORE, this Council resolves that the sum of FOUR THOUSAND POUNDS (£4,000) may be expended on this service during the year 1942, over and above the sums provided in the Estimates of Expenditure for the year 1942."

The Resolution was adopted.

NOTICES.

No. 54. M.P. 492/27. 15th May, 1942.

With reference to Gazette Notice No. 88 of the 19th of August, 1941, it is hereby notified, for general information, that the period determined for Daylight Saving will expire at Midnight on Saturday the 23rd of May, 1942, when Stanley time will revert to the local mean.

No. 56. M.P. 163/31. 23rd May, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following telegrams exchanged between His Excellency and the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the occasion of Empire Day, 24th May, 1942:

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor.

"The year that has passed since Empire Day, 1941, has seen many dangers and some greivous losses. But it has also seen great exertion and a steady mounting of the power and resources of the Allied Nations; and it has brought us to a stage where we can not only face the future with unshaken confidence - but can discern perhaps as yet only faintly and in the distance the promise of victory to come.

"In this wholehearted effort the people of the Colonial Empire have shared and are sharing in full measure.

"Their devotion and their services have not only been of great material help to the cause which we are "fighting but are an unfailing source of inspiration and encouragement to all of us here. To those people which are this day facing the enemy in the front line of his aggression the heroic example of Malta must be a shining lamp and we all share the pride of that great little Island in the award of the George Cross with which His Majesty the King has honoured its people and its Garrison. To all of you I send from Britain an Empire Day message of good wishes and high confidence".

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

"Your message for Empire Day greatly appreciated. On this occasion we should like to record our intense admiration of the heroism of our fellow subjects throughout the Empire and a hope that if occasion arise we shall prove worthy of our relationship to them.

No. 59. M.P. 46/41. 30th May, 1942.

With reference to Schedule 2, Class 1 of Proclamation No. 6 of 1941, His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that the importation of macaroni, in packets, is permitted.

Falkland Islands Defence (Amendment) Regulations, 1942.

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

His Excellency the Governor under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:-

Citation and date of coming into operation.

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Defence (Amendment) Regulations, 1942, and shall come into operation forthwith.

2. The Defence Regulations 1939 (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Regulations") shall have effect as if there were made therein the following amendment.

Replacement of Regulation 68 of principal Regulations.

3. Regulation 68 of the principal Regulations is hereby revoked and replaced by the following Regulation:-

Billeting.

68.—(1) Any person acting under the authority of the Governor may serve upon the occupier of any premises a written notice (hereinafter referred to as "a billeting notice") requiring the occupier of the premises to furnish therein, while the notice remains in force, such accommodation by way of lodging or food or both, and either with or without attendance, as may be specified in the notice for such persons as may be so specified.

(2) Where a room in any premises is required by a billeting notice to be devoted exclusively to the accommodation of any person, then, notwithstanding anything in any contract, no other person shall be entitled to occupy the room so long as that requirement is in force.

(3) Any person having power to serve a billeting notice is hereinafter referred to as "a billeting officer".

(4) The occupier of any premises shall, if ordered so to do by a billeting officer, furnish to such authority or person as may be specified in the request such information with respect to the accommodation contained in the premises and with respect to the persons living therein as may be so specified.

(5) The price payable in respect of any accommodation furnished in any premises to any person in accordance with a billeting notice shall be such as may be determined by order of the Governor, and shall be paid to the occupier of the premises by the Governor or by such other authority as he may designate.

(6) A billeting officer may revoke a billeting notice relating to any premises, without prejudice to the service of a further billeting notice relating to those premises; and the Governor may by order direct that all billeting notices for the time being in force shall cease to have effect, either generally or as respects premises in a particular area.

(7) Where—

(a) a billeting notice is revoked or ceases to have effect under the last preceding paragraph, or

(b) accommodation required by a billeting notice to be provided for any person ceases to be provided, the occupier of the premises to which the billeting notice relates shall forthwith surrender it to a billeting officer, who shall cancel or amend the notice, as the case may require.

(8) If any person contravenes or fails to comply with requirements of a billeting notice or with any of the requirements of this Regulation he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both such fine and such imprisonment.

(9) For the purposes of hearing complaints in respect of billeting notices there shall be a tribunal consisting of not less than six persons nominated by the Governor, four of whom shall form a quorum; and any person who is aggrieved by the service upon him of a billeting notice, or by the operation of a billeting notice served upon him, may, make a complaint to the tribunal constituted under this paragraph; and upon hearing the complaint the tribunal may cancel or vary the billeting notice as the tribunal thinks fit.

(10) A billeting notice relating to any premises may, if it is not practicable to deliver it to the occupier of the premises, be served by delivering it to any person on the premises.

(11) If any order is contravened or not complied with in the case of any premises, any persons acting under the authority of the Governor may enter the premises and take in relation thereto all such steps as may be reasonably necessary for the enforcement of the order.

(12) Where the owner or lessee of any unoccupied premises is not readily accessible any person acting under the authority of the Governor may enter the premises using such force as is reasonably necessary for the purpose.

Dated this 22nd day of May, 1942.

By Command,

L. W. ALDRIDGE,

for Colonial Secretary.

Order by His Excellency the Governor amending the Defence Regulations, 1939.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 7 of 1942.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

1. The following Regulation shall be substituted for Regulation 17A of the Defence Regulations, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Regulations).

Deportation of Aliens.

2. The Governor may, if he thinks fit, make an Order (in this Regulation referred to as a deportation Order) requiring an alien to leave and to remain thereafter out of the Colony.

3. Where a deportation Order has been made with respect to any alien, and, in the opinion of the Governor

(a) the deportation of the alien would be impracticable or prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged, and

(b) the detention of the alien is necessary or expedient for securing the public safety, the defence of the realm or the maintenance of public order, the Governor may direct that the alien be detained; and an alien detained in pursuance of any such direction shall be deemed to be in legal custody and shall be detained in such manner as the Governor may direct.

4. Regulation 17A of the Principal Regulations shall be re-numbered 17B.

Dated this 23rd day of May, 1942.

No. 65. M.P. 56/42. 16th June, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following message issued by the Prime Minister on the occasion of United Nations Day, Sunday the 14th of June, 1942, and read over the local Broadcast System by His Excellency on that day.

"In a Proclamation to the people of the United States our great friend President Franklin D. Roosevelt has reminded them that for many years it has been the American custom to set aside June 14th in honour of their flag, the emblem of their freedom, their strength and their unity as an independent nation under God. He has told them that as a Nation they are fighting not alone but shoulder to shoulder with valiant peoples of the United Nations, the massed, armed forces of common humanity; and he has asked them on their Flag Day, June 14th, they should honour not only their own colours but also the flags and through the flags the peoples of the United Nations. Outside the United Kingdom these are the peoples whose names today make up that great role of honour: the United States of America, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia, The Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Free France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, India, Luxemburg, Mexico, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Poland, The Union of South Africa, and Yugoslavia.

"I join my voice to his in honouring today the forces of the United Nations. Let us pay this tribute to the valour and sacrifice of those who have fallen and to the courage and endurance of those who fight today. Let us remember everyone, man, woman, and child, who in the oppressed and tortured countries works for the day of Liberation that is coming.

"In this ceremony we pledge to each other not merely support and succour till victory comes, but that wider understanding, that quickened sense of human sympathy, that recognition of the common purpose of humanity without which the suffering and striving of the United Nations would not achieve its full reward."

No. 66. M.P. 61/42. 23rd June, 1942.

All owners of gardens or plots in Stanley are asked to make a special effort this coming season to grow more and more vegetables, potatoes and rhubarb.

There is every likelihood of there being a very heavy demand for garden produce and the Government agrees to take over all sound vegetables, potatoes and rhubarb at the price prevailing today, no matter how great the quantity.

The question of seeds is a serious one, but arrangements are being made to obtain sufficient by the Government and these will be distributed either as seeds or seedlings. Arrangements for this will be decided later.

For further information apply to the Department of Agriculture.

No. 67. M.P. 41/37. 23rd June, 1942.

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

10th June, 1942.

I should be grateful if you would, on behalf of the people of the Falkland Islands and myself, convey to His Majesty the most sincere expression of our humble affection and loyalty on the occasion of his official birthday, and our fervent wishes for many returns thereof in happier days of peace after the final overthrow of the powers of evil.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor.

22nd June, 1942.

Your telegram of June 10th has been laid before His Majesty the King who desires that an expression of his sincere thanks for the message contained therein may be conveyed to you and to the people of the Falkland Islands.

M.P. 8/7/39.

22nd July, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Emergency Powers (Defence) (No. 2) Act, 1940, passed in the United Kingdom on the 1st of August, 1940, and extended to all Colonial Dependencies by the Emergency Powers (Colonial Defence) (Explanation) Order in Council, 1942, made on the 19th day of March, 1942.

By Command.

KENNETH BRADLEY.

Colonial Secretary.

An Act to remove doubts as to the extent of the powers which may be exercised by His Majesty under the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939.

1st August, 1940.)

WHEREAS by the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939, His Majesty was enabled to exercise certain powers for the purpose of meeting the emergency existing at the date of the passing of that Act, but the said powers did not enable provision to be made for the trial by courts martial of persons not being subject to the Naval Discipline Act, to military law, or to the Air Force Act:

And Whereas by reason of the development of hostilities since that date it has become expedient to remove doubts as to the extent of the said powers in order to secure that provision for the trial of such persons by special courts may be made where necessary.

Now, therefore, be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Power to provide for trial of offences by special courts in certain areas.

1. — (1) It is hereby declared that the powers conferred on His Majesty by the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Act") to make by Order in Council such Defence Regulations as appear to him to be necessary or expedient for securing the public safety, the defence of the realm, the maintenance of public order, and the efficient prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged, include power to make provision for securing that, where by reason of recent or immediately apprehended enemy action the military situation is such as to require that criminal justice should be administered more speedily than would be practicable by the ordinary courts, persons, whether or not subject to the Naval Discipline Act, to military law, or to the Air Force Act, may, in such circumstances as may be provided by the Regulations, be tried by such special courts, not being courts martial, as may be so provided.

(2) After paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section one of the principal Act there shall be inserted the following paragraph —

"(aa) make provision for the apprehension and punishment of offenders and for their trial by such courts, not being courts martial, and in accordance with such procedure as may be provided for by the Regulations, and for the proceedings of such courts being subject to such review as may be so provided for, so, however, that provision shall be made for such proceedings being reviewed by not less than three persons who hold or have held high judicial office, in all cases in which sentence of death is passed, and in such other circumstances as may be provided by the Regulations:"

and in the said paragraph (a) the words "for the apprehension trial and "punishment of persons offending against the Regulations and" are hereby repealed.

Short title and citation.

2. This Act may be cited as the Emergency powers (Defence) (No. 2) Act, 1940, and shall be included among the Acts which may be cited together as the Emergency Powers (Defence) Acts, 1939 and 1940.

Order by His Excellency the Governor amending the Defence Regulations, 1939.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 10 of 1942.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. Paragraph 4 of Regulation 17A of the Defence Regulations, 1939, is amended by the addition of the words “and Regulation 17B shall be renumbered 17C” after the words “shall be renumbered 17B”.

2. Regulation 17A of the Defence Regulations, 1939, is amended by the addition of the following paragraph:—

5. Where the Governor has reason to believe or cause to believe any alien on board an alien vessel or aircraft arriving in the Colony has recently been concerned in acts prejudicial to public safety, to Defence, or to efficient prosecution of the war, or in preparation or instigation of such acts, he may order such alien to be removed from such vessel or aircraft and detained. Whilst so detained such alien shall be deemed to be in lawful detention.

Dated this 30th day of June, 1942.

By Command,
 L. W. ALDRIDGE,
for Colonial Secretary.

Order by His Excellency the Governor amending the Defence Regulations, 1939.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 11 of 1942.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

1. The following Regulation shall be substituted for Regulation 17 of the Defence Regulations, 1939, as amended by the Defence (Amendment) Regulations, 1940.

Detention orders.

17. (1) If the Governor has reasonable cause to believe any person to be of hostile origin or associations, or to have been recently concerned in acts prejudicial to the public safety or the defence of the realm, or in the preparation or instigation of such acts, and that by reason thereof it is necessary to exercise control over him, he may make an order against that person directing that he be detained.

(1A). If the Governor has reasonable cause to believe any person to have been or to be a member of, or to have been or to be active in the furtherance of the objects of, any such organisation as is hereinafter mentioned, and that it is necessary to exercise control over him, he may make an order against that person directing that he be detained.

The organisations hereinbefore referred to are any organisation as respects which the Governor is satisfied that either

- (a) the organization is subject to foreign influence or control, or
- (b) the persons in control of the organisation have or have had associations with persons concerned in the government of, or sympathies with the system of government of, any Power with which His Majesty is at war, and in either case that there is danger of the utilisation of the organisation for purposes prejudicial to the public safety, the defence of the realm, the maintenance of public order, the efficient prosecution of any war in which His Majesty may be engaged, or the maintenance of supplies or services essential to the life of the community.

(1B). If the Governor has reasonable cause to believe :—

- (a) that the recent conduct of any person for the time being in an area to which this paragraph applies, or any words recently written or spoken by such a person expressing sympathy with the enemy, indicates or indicate that that person is likely to assist the enemy; and
- (b) that by reason thereof it is necessary to exercise control over that person;

he may make an order against that person directing that he be detained.

The Governor may by order apply this paragraph to any area to which he thinks it necessary or expedient that this paragraph should apply, having regard to any actual or immediately apprehended enemy action.

(2) At any time after an order has been made against any person under this Regulation, the Governor may direct that the operation of the order be suspended subject to such conditions :—

- (a) prohibiting or restricting the possession or use by that person of any specified articles;
- (b) imposing upon him such restrictions as may be specified in the direction in respect of his employment or business, in respect of the place of his residence, and in respect of his association or communication with other persons;
- (c) prohibiting him from being out of doors between such hours as may be so specified, except under the authority of a written permit granted by such authority or person as may be so specified;
- (d) requiring him to notify his movements in such manner, at such times, and to such authority or person as may be so specified;
- (e) prohibiting him from travelling except in accordance with permission given to him by such authority or person as may be so specified, as the Governor thinks fit; and the Governor may revoke any such direction if he is satisfied that the person against whom the order was made has failed to observe any condition so imposed, or that the operation of the order can no longer remain suspended without detriment to the public safety or the defence of the realm.

(3) For the purposes of this Regulation, there shall be one or more advisory committees of persons appointed by the Governor; and any person aggrieved by the making of an order against him, by a refusal of the Governor to suspend the operation of such an order, by any condition attached to a direction given by the Governor or by the revocation of any such direction under the powers conferred by this Regulation may make his objections to such a committee.

(4) It shall be the duty of the Governor to secure that any person against whom an order is made under this Regulation shall be afforded the earliest practicable opportunity of making to the Governor representations in writing with respect thereto and that he shall be informed of his right, whether or not such representations are made, to make his objections to such an advisory committee as aforesaid.

(5) Any meeting of an advisory committee held to consider such objections as aforesaid shall be presided over by a chairman nominated by the Governor, and it shall be the duty of the chairman to inform the objector of the grounds on which the order has been made against him and to furnish him with such particulars as are, in the opinion of the chairman, sufficient to enable him to present his case.

(6) The Governor shall make a report to the Secretary of State for the Colonies at least once in every three months as to the action taken under this Regulation (including the number of persons detained under Orders made thereunder) and as to the number of cases, if any, in which he has declined to follow the advice of any such advisory Committee as aforesaid.

(7) If any person fails to comply with a condition attached to a direction given by the Governor under paragraph 2 of this Regulation, that person shall, whether or not the direction is revoked in consequence of the failure, be guilty of an offence against this Regulation.

(8) Any person detained in pursuance of this Regulation shall be deemed to be in lawful custody and shall be detained in such place as may be authorised by the Governor and in accordance with instructions issued by him.

Dated this 25th day of July, 1942.

By Command,

KENNETH BRADLEY,

Colonial Secretary.

No. 88. M.P. 164/39. 9th September, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following telegraphic correspondence between His Excellency and the Secretary of State for the Colonies :-

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 3rd September, 1942.

As we enter upon the fourth year of war I would ask you to convey to His Majesty the humble duty of myself and the people of this Colony, and assurance of their steadfast loyalty and affection towards himself and the Royal Family and complete confidence in our final victory.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor, 8th September, 1942.

His Majesty has commanded me to convey to you and to the people of the Falkland Islands his sincere thanks for the message of loyalty and affection to the King and Royal Family.

No. 90. M.P. 164/39. 17th September, 1942.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication of the following correspondence exchanged upon the occasion of the third Anniversary of the outbreak of War :-

From His Excellency the Governor to the Naval Officer-in-Charge, Falkland Islands.

Please accept from me and also the people of this Colony a message of gratefulness and love for all that the Royal Navy has done for us and all the world in the past three years. While thanking you, we pray that God may be with you in the coming months and lead you to triumph of victory which is undoubtedly assured.

At the same time I should like you to greet our great Mercantile Marine which in reality is a part of your Service and whose intrepid valour and wonderful heroism have done and are doing so much towards the coming glorious issue.

From the Naval Officer-in-Charge, Falkland Islands, to His Excellency the Governor.

On behalf of the Royal Navy and the Mercantile Marine, I thank Your Excellency for your gracious message which I am forwarding to the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic Station.

From the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic Station, to His Excellency the Governor.

I deeply appreciate your message as also do every member of South Atlantic Command. I am particularly pleased you included in your message the Mercantile Marine whose sustained courage is exciting the admiration of us all. Please convey to the people of the Colony our thanks for their kind thoughts of us at this time. From myself I send greetings to the many friends I made during my visit to the Falkland Islands in 1930.

From His Excellency the Governor to the Force Commander, Falkland Islands Force.

On the occasion of the Third Anniversary of the war, I should like to convey to yourself and all in your command, the affection and confidence of the Falkland Islands people and myself. The heroism and self-sacrifice of our Army need no words of mine, and the records of the past three years are outstanding in that Army's history. The days to come may be heavy and sad, but the outcome is certain. Of that there is no doubt, and we know that our trust in you could never be too great.

From the Force Commander, Falkland Islands Force, to His Excellency the Governor.

On behalf of all ranks of the Falkland Islands Force, and on my own behalf, I thank you most sincerely for the very kind message of confidence and trust from yourself and the Falkland Islands people on the occasion of the Third Anniversary of the War.

I am speaking for all ranks when I say how much every one of us appreciate the very kindly welcome we have received from you all, and the warmth of that welcome has done much to alleviate the hardships incidental to our undertaking.

Come what may, the ultimate victory of our armed forces is certain, and I hope that if ever the opportunity comes, we, here, shall fully justify the confidence and trust you have reposed in us.

From His Excellency the Governor to the Officer Commanding, Falkland Islands Defence Force.

Please convey to all the members of the Falkland Islands Defence Force the thanks and gratitude of myself and the Colony for the patient endurance in the hard work of Coast Watching. Through three long years they have stood sentry uncomplainingly and most devotedly. There are, I am afraid, many more months of this same watching ahead, but we know their steadfastness and determination and in that knowledge our confidence and trust becomes complete.

From the Officer Commanding, Falkland Islands Defence Force, to His Excellency the Governor.

Your very kind message on this the Third Anniversary of the outbreak of war has been conveyed to the members of the Defence Force.

May I, on their behalf, express our deep sense of gratitude for Your Excellency's appreciation of our efforts, the knowledge of which will hearten us to continue to do our best until the whole world enjoys the same freedom as our own Empire.

I ask Your Excellency to accept the loyal greetings of the Defence Force.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

His Excellency the Governor under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Defence (Amendment No. 2) Regulations, 1942, and shall come into operation forthwith. Citation and date of coming into operation.

2. The Defence Regulations, 1939, (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Regulations" shall have effect as if there were made therein the following amendment.

3. Regulation 14 of the principal Regulations is hereby revoked and replaced by the following Regulation:— Replacement of Regulation 14 of Principal Regulations.

14.—(1) Subject to any exemptions for which provision may be made by order of the Governor, no person shall, except under the authority of a written permit:— Control of Photography.

(a) Make any photograph, sketch, plan or other representation of any area, or of any part of or object in such area, which may be specified by the Governor being an area in relation to which the restriction of photography appears to him to be expedient in the interests of public safety or of defence.

(b) No person shall, unless in possession of the necessary permit, make any photograph, sketch, plan or other representation of any object of the descriptions following, that is to say:—

- (i) any fortification, battery, searchlight, listening post, or other work of defence;
- (ii) any aerodrome or seaplane station;
- (iii) any assembly of any of His Majesty's forces;
- (iv) any barracks, encampment, or building occupied or in course of preparation for occupation by any of His Majesty's forces;
- (v) any arsenal, factory, magazine or store for ammunitions of war, arms, equipment, or supplies for any of His Majesty's forces, whether completed or in course of construction;
- (vi) any wireless, telegraph, telephone, signal or cable station;
- (vii) any dock, caisson, dockyard, harbour, shipbuilding works or loading pier;
- (viii) any vessel of war either complete or under construction, or any vessel or vehicle engaged in the transport of supplies or personnel;
- (ix) any aircraft or the wreckage of any aircraft;
- (x) any building structure, vessel or other object damaged by enemy action or as a result of steps taken to repel enemy action;
- (xi) any hospital, or station at which casualties, whether civil or otherwise are treated: any ambulance or convoy of injured persons, or any injured person;

(xii) any electricity, gas or water works, or any gasometer or reservoir, or any oil store;

(xiii) any assembly of persons for the purpose of transport of evacuation, or any temporary camp or other accommodation or transport vehicles used for the purpose of evacuation;

(xiv) any riotous or disorderly assembly, or premises, or other objects damaged in the course of such an assembly;

(xv) any roads or railways exclusively connected with works of defence;

(xvi) any beaches or other part of the coast.

(2) Permits for the purpose of this Regulation and for the making of photographs, sketches, plans or other representations of or in the premises declared to be protected places for the purposes of the Defence Regulations, may be granted by the Officer Commanding, Falkland Islands Force and the Naval Officer-in-Charge, Falkland Islands Base.

(3) No person shall publish in any manner any photograph, sketch, plan or other representation made in pursuance of a permit granted under this Regulation, unless and until it has been submitted to and approved for publication by the authority or person by whom the permit was granted; and approval may be given subject to such restrictions as may be thought necessary in the interests of public safety or of defence.

(4) This Regulation shall not apply to anything done by any servant of His Majesty or Police Constable acting in the course of his duty as such.

Dated this 27th day of August, 1942.

By Command,

KENNETH BRADLEY,

Colonial Secretary.

Order made under Regulation 57 of the Defence Regulations, 1939.

Proclamation

1942.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINAL L.

By His Excellency ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, ESQUIRE, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the 25th day of February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands, it was amongst other things declared that there should be an Executive Council in and for the said Colony which should consist of such persons as should be directed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet.

AND WHEREAS by Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date the 28th day of February, 1920, it was declared that if in the opinion of the Governor the number of members of the Executive Council available for business may at any time be likely to prove insufficient, the Governor may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal, appoint some fit person to be provisionally a member of the said Council for such period as shall be specified in such Instrument :

NOW THEREFORE, I, being of the opinion that the number of members of the Executive Council available for business is likely to prove insufficient, do hereby provisionally appoint

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL JAMES AUSTEN WOODGATE, A.R.I.B.A., to be a member of the Executive Council for a period of one year with effect from the 1st of December, 1942.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Minutes of meeting held on the 26th November, 1942.

1. The Honourable K. G. Bradley, Colonial Secretary, after taking the prescribed oath, assumed his seat at the Council.

2. The minutes of the meeting held on the 10th of March, 1942, were confirmed.

3. The Governor delivered to the Council the following message :

"Honourable Members of the Legislative Council.

"The principal business before the Council today is the passing of the Estimates for 1943.

"There are a few other Bills of more or less a routine nature, which call for little comment.

"But before dealing with these I think you would like me to extend on your behalf a welcome "to our new Colonial Secretary and to wish him a successful and happy tenure of his important office.

"At the beginning of this year the statement of our Assets and Liabilities showed an estimated credit balance in the Land Sales Fund of £237,563 : 13 : 5, but when the accounts for the year 1941 were finally adjusted this balance amounted to £245,881 : 15 : 7. This comparatively satisfactory result is analysed in the statement which has been laid before you.

"The present year will unfortunately continue to show a deficit which was estimated at the Budget Session last year to be some £22,500. The revised figures are an improvement and it is hoped the deficit will only amount to £13,000.

"This latter amount added to the previous adverse balances will make a total deficit of £38,078. As you know this sum is due entirely to expenditure connected with the War.

"The following table shows the position of that account and includes the estimated 1943 figures :-

1939	£11,986
1940	£23,839
1941	£18,639
1942 revised	£24,385
1943	£27,005	- Total £105,854.

"One may assume that at least a further two years, that is to say until December 31st.

"1945, will elapse before a return to peace conditions can reasonably be expected, and "averaging our expenditure at £25,000 a year, we shall have faced a total war expenditure of some £150,000 to £160,000.

"As I stated in the Budget address of last year, there is nothing frightening in this and there are ways and means of financing the expenditure. So far I have heard nothing concerning my proposals, but they are not novel and moreover have a precedent in the finances of the Isle of Man.

"Apart from this war expenditure the 1943 estimates call for little comment. They remain itemized as for last year; but they include provision for the cost of living bonus conceded last August. The gross total of this bonus is estimated to amount to £5,519 including the Military.

"If one looks to each Head of Expenditure comparing this year's with the 1942 Budget there is little change. One could not in time of war expect otherwise, for fresh developments cannot take place without man-power, and that as you know is here almost wholly engaged on work essential to the purpose of victory.

"The actual increase in the total amount of the proposed expenditure is some £12,200 of which £7,130 is for direct military purposes and the cost of living bonus exclusive of military payments totals £2,355, making a straight unavoidable sum of £9,485.

"This leaves an amount of £2,715 to be accounted for and you will note a sum of £1,040 under the Agricultural Department for the purchase of produce for re-sale. That sum appears as a cross-entry for the same amount under Revenue.

"Of the remaining £1,675, there is a sum of £270 for Scholarships to be held by two Falkland Islands children in Montevideo. This marks a first step towards secondary education. The scheme, which has the sanction and approval of the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, provides for six scholarships two being allotted annually to boys and girls tenable each for three years. The Government will pay the school fees, passages, boarding and hospital expenses if necessary. The children will return for their holidays round about Christmas time each year. The Superintendent of Education recently visited Montevideo especially to satisfy himself and my Government that everything possible should be provided for, to inspect the school itself and more particularly the boarding arrangements. He was also able to see His Majesty's representatives in Uruguay and to interview the Governors of the School.

"Parents of children at our school will be fully informed of the details of the scheme, which, of course, is open to the children in the "Camp".

"If as I sincerely hope and believe, the scheme is successful, we shall in this Budget have set up a definite mark in the progress of education. But one must not be content with this move. It is a mere short step, and the problem of secondary education is one that must be more firmly tackled. I propose to do so, but for many obvious reasons the war situation prevents any present definite step from being taken.

"The balance of £1,405 is made up chiefly of annual increments and general rise of maintenance materials. It calls for no comment.

"I have just referred to the problem of education in its post-war aspect. There are many such problems which I do not at the moment propose to enumerate. But there is one that I think ought to be studied at once for although not actually in front of us today its importance and its intricacies are most serious. This is the question of post-war employment and disbandment. Fortunately I have at my use the services of the Labour Advisory Board, set up under recent enactment by you. To that Board I shall shortly refer this question.

"Of the other Bills there are the usual Supplementary Appropriation and the Whale Export Duty Bills, whilst of the two others before you, one is an amendment to the Conspiracy Ordinance of 1896, made necessary by the Trade Unions Ordinance passed earlier this year by you, and the other clarifies a point in the 1882 Licensing Ordinance. It enables the Magistrate at his discretion to grant occasional licences. It is experimental and designed solely to decrease the abuse of alcohol which unfortunately has been so much in evidence at our dances, especially among the young women. If the Magistrate thinks fit he will now be able to licence a bar inside the hall, which ought, since the hirer of the hall would be the licensee, to help control the bringing in of bottles and flasks and so govern the consumption of intoxicants. If the scheme is unworkable or proves to be ineffective, automatically the Magistrate uses his discretion in the reverse manner.

"In last year's address to you at this time I foreshadowed reforms. Steps have been taken to redeem my promise, but they must in matters constitutional inevitably be slow, for they must be firmly and soundly based.

"As elsewhere in the Empire we have passed through a very anxious year, anxious at times for ourselves and always anxious for our kith and kin at home in the foreground of dire happenings.

"Our own anxiety has been greatly removed and thereby our duty made clearer. That is to work as much as we can in the common purpose, hard and unceasing work, not with the eye on the clock nor with the hand and foot dawdling to prolong a job. Such is not the spirit of our folk at home; it must not be ours here. There is not much opportunity given us to help, but we can see to it that we load and unload ships faster, build, repair, maintain our essential services cheerfully without slackening, put every bit of muscle and thought into our work. That is very little - but it is the only right thing to do - for we could not face the years ahead free of shame nor look our fellows fairly in the face if we have slacked and lazed, failed to work as fast and as strongly as we were able.

"Members, I feel sure, would like me to record our sympathy with the Honourable Member Mr. V. A. H. Biggs at his illness and wish him an early and complete recovery and that he will soon be able to resume his place in our deliberations.

"That is the business before you, Gentlemen. In its furtherance and execution, may God be our Guide".

4. The Honourable the Colonial Secretary, by command, laid on the Table the following papers :

- (i) Copies of all Regulations, Proclamations, Orders and Bye-laws made or approved by the Governor in Executive Council since the last meeting of the Legislative Council.
- (ii) Copies of despatches received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, intimating the non-disallowance by his Majesty of Ordinances, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 9 of 1941, and 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 of 1942.
- (iii) Annual Abstract Account Statement of Receipts and Payments for the Colony and Dependencies for the period 1st July to 31st December, 1941.

Report on the Government Employees Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1941.

Colonial Treasury.

The Honourable

The Colonial Secretary.

Stanley, Falkland Islands

31st August, 1942.

Sir,

In accordance with Section 4 (6) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1938, I have the honour to submit a report on the transactions of the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1941.

Appended are the following statements of accounts :-

- (i) Abstract of Revenue and Expenditure, Deposits and Withdrawals, Investments, Investment Adjustment, Capital, and statement of Assets and Liabilities.
- (ii) Nominal value, cost and market value of investments at 31st December, 1941.

During the period under review compulsory deposits, including arrears, amounting to £941 : 2 : 3, voluntary deposits to £77 : 14 : 5, and accrued interest to £192 : 7 : 6, which with bonus equivalent to compulsory deposits, resulted in a total credit of £2,151 : 2 : 3, due to depositors. Withdrawals totalled £434 : 14 : 2.

The amount standing to the credit of depositors at the close of the year is shown in the following statement :-

Balance 1st January 1941	£8,175 : 3 : 11.
Add credits as detailed above	2,151 : 3 : 6.
Total credits	£11,326 : 7 : 5.
Deduct Withdrawals (closed a/cs.)	434 : 14 : 2.
Balance due to depositors at 31st December, 1941	£10,891 : 13 : 3.

Investments of a redemption value of £10,223 : 16 : 9, made and held by the Crown Agents for the Colonies for and on behalf of the fund, are detailed in the statement forwarded herewith. The revenue from investments was £328 : 10 : 11.

In conformity with C.R. 275 the Fund's Investments were revalued at the prices in the London market at the close of the year. Appreciation amounted to £101 : 3 : 2, and this sum was credited direct to the Fund, thereby increasing the assets to £452 : 5 : 5 more than the liabilities.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. KING-PRIME.

for Financial Secretary.

M.P. 64/39.

R. KING-PRIME,

for Financial Secretary.

Financial Report for the Year 1941.

Colonial Treasury,

Stanley, Falkland Islands,

15th October, 1942.

The Honourable

The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the following report on the financial transactions of the Colony and its Dependencies, for and in respect of the year ended 31st December, 1941 :—

The Falkland Islands.

2. The year's account, summarised, is as follows :—

Excess of Assets over Liabilities, 1st January, 1941	£254,773 : 13 : 5
Revenue.
Total Ordinary	£69,988 : 0 : 2
Land Sales Fund.
Land purchases	1,550 : 17 : 6
General Revenue Balance.
Appreciation of Investments	397 : 15 : 10
			£ 71,936 : 13 : 6
			£326,710 : 6 : 11
Expenditure.
Ordinary	£53,492 : 3 : 11
Extraordinary	19,596 : 17 : 3
Land Sales Fund	1,025 : 0 : 0
Depreciation of Investments	104 : 12 : 11
Dependencies Deficit	6,609 : 19 : 3
			£ 80,828 : 13 : 4
Excess of Assets at 31st December, 1941	£245,881 : 13 : 7
Nett result of year's working – Decrease of Assets	...		£ 8,891 : 19 : 10

Although the above figures shew a shrinkage of Assets of £8,891 : 19 : 10 during the year, the real deficit on the year's transactions was only £2,282 : 0 : 7, because incorporated in the year's expenditure is the item of £6,609 : 19 : 3, being the deficit incurred during the year by the Dependencies, and which sum will be reimbursed to the Falkland Islands Revenue, during the year 1942, from the Discovery Research Fund.

3. It will be observed that Ordinary Revenue exceeded Ordinary Expenditure by £16,495 : 16 : 3, but Extraordinary Expenditure amounting to £19,596 : 17 : 3 converted this favourable balance into a nett deficit of £3,101 : 1 : 0. Details thereof are given later in this Report.

4. The decrease in the Surplus of Assets of £8,891 : 19 : 10 is accounted for by increased extraordinary expenditure on Military and War services incurred during the year, which amounted to £18,638 : 14 : 9. In addition there is a further item of £6,609 : 19 : 3 being the deficit incurred by the Dependencies, which amount, as mentioned under paragraph 2, is recoverable and will eventually benefit the 1942 Revenue.

Under normal conditions, and excluding the abnormal expenditure referred to above, the year's transactions would have been most satisfactory, and would have resulted in a nett Increase of Assets of £15,537 : 13 : 9.

5. DEPENDENCIES. Ordinary Revenue amounted to £8,255 : 4 : 9 or £4,227 : 15 : 3 less than estimated. Ordinary Expenditure amounted to £13,662 : 18 : 11 or £1,241 : 18 : 11 more than estimated, while Military and War expenditure, amounting to £1,202 : 5 : 1, for which no provision had been made in the Estimate, increased the total expenditure to £14,865 : 4 : 0, the nett result being a deficit of £6,609 : 19 : 3, which amount has been incorporated in the Falkland Islands accounts.

6. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES PROVIDENT FUND. At the close of the year the assets of this Fund amounted to £11,343 : 18 : 8, against liabilities (amount due to Depositors) of £10,891 : 13 : 3, the excess of Assets over Liabilities of £452 : 5 : 5 is explained in the detailed report already submitted to you.

7. GEORGIA MARINE INSURANCE FUND. The balance of this Fund is £804 : 5 : 7, being an increase of £208 : 5 : 3 during the year 1941, and which is accounted for by the annual credit of £187 from VIII. Harbour 9, plus £21 : 5 : 3 capitalized interest on investments.

8. GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK. A detailed report of the transactions of the Savings Bank Fund has been rendered.

The Balance on the 31st December, 1941, was £285,014 : 3 : 10, made up as follows:—

Due to Depositors	£254,849 : 3 : 1
Reserve	30,165 : 0 : 9
			<hr/> £285,014 : 3 : 10

It will be noted that the total Funds of the Bank have increased by £34,721 : 9 : 10 during the year, being the equivalent of 13.88%.

Deposits for the same period increased by £31,307 : 2 : 5, and the Reserve has also increased by £3,414 : 7 : 5. The Reserve represents 11.84% of the sum due to Depositors, and which, added to the market value of the investments, means that every pound deposited is covered to the extent of £1 : 2 : 4.

9. NOTE SECURITY FUND. The Funds Assets were £41,250 at the close of the year, and which fully covered the note issue amounting to £37,500; as well as contingent liabilities. New notes issued during the year amounted to £3,500.

A detailed report of the Commissioner's transactions has been rendered in conformity with the Currency Notes Ordinance, 1930.

10. THE DEPENDENCIES RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT FUND. The balance of the Fund was £190,596 : 2 : 4, being an increase of £13,665 : 15 : 2 during the year, as detailed hereunder:—

Balance, 1st January, 1941	£176,930 : 7 : 2
Receipts :
Transfer from Discovery Committee	£7,465 : 14 : 9
Interest on Investments	7,829 : 2 : 9
			<hr/> 15,294 : 17 : 6
			<hr/> £192,225 : 4 : 8
Payments :
Discovery Committee	£1,200 : 0 : 0

			<hr/> 1,629 : 2 : 4
			<hr/> Balance at 31st December, 1941
			£190,596 : 2 : 4

11. RESERVE FUND. The balance of £3,360 : 3 : 10 standing to the credit of this account, remains unchanged, at December 31st last. This amount is covered by investments, which at 31st December last were valued at £3,407 : 7 : 10, there being a surplus of £47 : 4 : 0.

12. LAND SALES FUND. At the close of the year the balance to the credit of the Fund was £270,736 : 13 : 11, as shown by the following summary:—

Balance at 1st January, 1941	£270,210 : 16 : 5
Receipts :
Land Sales Instalments	1,550 : 17 : 6
			<hr/> £271,761 : 13 : 11

			<hr/> £ 1,025 : 0 : 0
			<hr/> Balance, as at 31st December, 1941
			£270,736 : 13 : 11

13. FARM AND BUILDING LOANS. On January 1st, 1941, the balance outstanding was £1,881 : 10 : 0. Repayments during the year totalled £639 : 16 : 8 leaving a balance still outstanding at the end of the year of £1,241 : 13 : 4.

Interest received during the year and credited to Revenue amounted to £67 : 5 : 9.

14. INVESTMENTS. In accordance with Col. Reg. 275, the Colony's investments were re-valued at the close of the year, and resulted in a total appreciation of £1,911 : 7 : 1, being credited to General Revenue Balance Account.

The following table summarises the appreciation of the Funds affected :—

			Less over the Estimate	£2226 : 19 : 10
			Difference under the Estimate	£4227 : 15 : 3

The decline in revenue is approximately 33.87% below the estimated amount, which is, in principal, due to a very considerable reduction in Export Duties on Whale Oil (£5,671 : 18 : 3). This is due to restricted whaling operations during the year under review, other less important declines are, Export duties on Guano £167 : 17 : 4, Tonnage dues £110, Whaling Licences £200, and Shipping Fees £267 : 14 : 6, which all contribute to swell the total under estimated of £6,454 : 15 : 1. Fortunately, the revenue derived from increased imports of Spirits, Tobacco and Matches, and two other small items, amounting in all to £2,226 : 19 : 10, reduced the total Shortfall to £4,227 : 15 : 3 as previously stated. The sum of £707 : 13 : 1 to complete the Contribution to Central Administration for the year 1939, was not unfortunately included in the 1941 Revenue, owing to a delay in receiving the necessary authorization. This amount has now been credited in the 1942 accounts.

EXPENDITURE. The approved estimated Expenditure was £12,241, while the total actual expenditure incurred was £14,865 : 4 : 0, which exceeded the Estimate by the sum of £2,444 : 4 : 0 and also exceeded the total Revenue of £8,255 : 4 : 9 by the sum of £6,609 : 19 : 3. This deficit was transferred to the Falkland Islands Surplus and Deficit Account, in order to close the Dependencies accounts, and will be reimbursed from the Research Fund in the 1942 accounts.

The following are details of the year's expenditure under the various headings :—

No. 15. M.P. 30/28. 8th February, 1943.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint

THE HONOURABLE JAMES GORDON GIBBS,

M.Agr., Sc. Ph.D., Dip. Agr.,

to be a Justice of the Peace for the Colony, with effect from the 8th of February, 1943.

No. 16. M.P. 20/43. 17th February, 1943.

It has been thought appropriate to mark the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of the reconstruction of the Russian Army by showing our appreciation of that army's wonderful victories. There can be no more fitting manner for doing so than by our saluting their heroic dead.

A parade for this purpose will be held on Sunday next, the 21st of February, after Morning Service outside the Cathedral on Whale-bone Arch Green.

The parade, which will be representative of all services, will be under the command of Major E. S. Geldard.

No. 17. M.P. P/258. 26th February, 1943.

It is hereby notified, for public information that

CAPTAIN THE HONOURABLE

KENNETH GRANVILLE BRADLEY,

Colonial Secretary, was temporarily appointed Deputy Registrar-General from the 26th of January, 1943, to the 7th of February, 1943, both dates inclusive.

No. 18. M.P. 492/27. 1st March, 1943.

It is hereby notified, for public information, that Government clocks will be put back one hour at midnight, Saturday/Sunday, the 20th/21st March, 1943, reverting to local mean time.

Stanley,

18th February, 1943.

M.P. C/4/42.

Instrument under the Public Seal of the Colony of the Falkland Islands appointing CAPTAIN KENNETH GRANVILLE BRADLEY, to be the Deputy for the Governor of the said Colony.

A. W. CARDINALL.

[L.S.]

His Excellency SIR ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies to KENNETH GRANVILLE BRADLEY, Colonial Secretary of the said Colony, Greeting.

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom and bearing date the 19th day of September, 1914, it is provided that in the event of the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies having occasion at any time to be temporarily absent for a short period from the seat of Government, or to leave the Colony for the purpose of visiting any Dependency thereof, he may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal of the Colony, appoint any person to be his deputy during such temporary absence, and in that capacity to exercise, perform, and execute for and on behalf of the Governor during such temporary absence, but no longer, all such powers and authorities by the said Letters Patent or otherwise vested in the Governor as shall in and by such Instrument be specified and limited, but no others ;

AND WHEREAS, I shall have occasion to leave Stanley on the 2nd of March, 1943, for the purpose of visiting certain places on the East Falkland Island.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, SIR ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, do hereby appoint you KENNETH GRANVILLE BRADLEY, Colonial Secretary of the said Colony, to be my deputy within the said Colony during my temporary absence from Stanley as aforesaid and in that capacity to exercise, perform and execute for me and on my behalf during such temporary absence, all such powers and authorities by the above recited Letters Patent or otherwise vested in me, but subject always to the provisions of the said Letters Patent and to such instructions as you shall receive from me from time to time for your guidance.

Given under my hand and the Public Seal of the Colony this first day of March, 1943.

By His Excellency's Command,

KENNETH BRADLEY,

Colonial Secretary.

No. 1.

Proclamation

1943.

IN THE NAME of His Majesty GEORGE VI., by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, &c., &c., &c.

A. W. CARDINALL.

By His Excellency SIR ALLAN WOLSEY CARDINALL, Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by certain Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date at Westminster the 25th day of February, 1892, constituting the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of the Falkland Islands, it was amongst other things declared that there should be an Executive Council in and for the said Colony which should consist of such persons as should be directed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet.

AND WHEREAS by Instructions under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date the 28th day of February, 1920, it was declared that if in the opinion of the Governor the number of members of the Executive Council available for business may at any time be likely to prove insufficient, the Governor may, by an Instrument under the Public Seal, appoint some fit person to be provisionally a member of the said Council for such period as shall be specified in such Instrument:

NOW THEREFORE, I, being of the opinion that the number of members of the Executive Council available for business is likely to prove insufficient, do hereby provisionally appoint to be a member of the Executive Council for a period of one year with effect from the 18th of February, 1943.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Given under my hand and the Public Seal of the Colony at Government House, Stanley, this 18th day of February, in the Year of Our Lord One thousand Nine hundred and forty-three.

By His Excellency's Command,

KENNETH BRADLEY,

Colonial Secretary.

No. 27. M.P. 163/31. 24th May, 1943.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for public information, of the following telegrams exchanged between His Excellency and the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the occasion of Empire Day, 24th May, 1943 :

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor.

"I send you on this Empire Day a message of confidence and good cheer. This year has had its hardships of which the people of the Colonial Empire have had their share.

"But it has also brought a steady improvement in our fortune and prospects. We have just won a great battle in Africa. We have still to pass through many dangers and the end will not be yet, but we can now see more clearly the road to victory. Just as we have fought together and as we together made the sacrifices demanded of us, so we shall rejoice together when the day of victory comes, a victory, which, though it has still to be fought for, cannot in the end be denied us".

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

"Your Empire Day message greatly appreciated by the people of this Colony on whose behalf I send you an assurance that until the day of victory there will be no relaxation in the determination of every person in the Falkland Islands to contribute all he can to the defence of that freedom on which the might of our Empire is so surely founded".

The King Edward Hospital Ordinance, 1916.

Regulations made by the Governor in Council under Section 8 of Ordinance No. 2 of 1916.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 1 of 1943.

In pursuance of the powers in him vested by Section 8 of the King Edward Hospital Ordinance, 1916. His Excellency the Governor by and with the advice of the Executive Council, is pleased to make the following Regulations :—

1. These Regulations may be cited as the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital Regulations, 1943.

2. The Nurse Matron of the Hospital shall be responsible to the Senior Medical Officer for the proper nursing care of the inmates; for the domestic cleanliness of the Hospital and for the general observance of the rules by every nurse, servant, patient and visitor.

3. Every patient shall be admitted to and discharged from the Hospital by the Senior Medical Officer. The Senior Medical Officer may grant applications for admission to Hospital at his discretion.

4. Visitors to the inmates of general wards of the Hospital, unless by the express permission of the Senior Medical Officer, shall not be admitted save on such days and between such hours as the Senior Medical Officer may from time to time permit.

Patients who occupy a private ward may receive visitors between certain hours on every day of the week provided always that this does not inconvenience the Hospital staff in the nursing care of the patient.

The Senior Medical Officer may at his discretion forbid all visitors or limit the number of visitors or the length of visits to patients whether in general or private wards.

5. Any patient who in the opinion of the Senior Medical Officer misbehaves or breaks the Regulations or refuses the medical treatment ordered may be discharged from the Hospital.

6. Any person who enters the King Edward Memorial Hospital, Rock Cottage or the adjacent premises without just or reasonable cause commits an offence.

7. Any person who, having gained admission to the Hospital, Rock Cottage or the adjacent premises, refuses to leave immediately when requested to do so by the Senior Medical Officer or Nursing Sister on duty at the time, commits an offence.

8. Any patient, visitor or other person who refuses to leave the Hospital when requested to do so by the Senior Medical Officer or Nursing Sister on duty may be convicted.

9. Any patient or visitor who carries food or drink into the Hospital without the previous consent of the Nurse-Matron commits an offence.

10. Any person who conceals food or drink while in the Hospital commits an offence.

11. Anyone who commits an offence under these Regulations shall be liable to prosecution before a Court of Summary Jurisdiction.

12. The Regulations made on the 21st day of September, 1916, are hereby revoked.

Made by the Governor in Executive Council at a Meeting held on the 17th day of May, 1943.

L. W. ALDRIDGE,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

No. 33. M.P. P/165. 10th June, 1943.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint

EDWARD FRANCIS LELLMAN, ESQUIRE, to act as Supervisor & Accountant, in the Treasury Department, with effect from the 10th of June, 1943.

No. 34. M.P. 55/41. 14th June, 1943.

The following information is published for the guidance of those who may, for some reason, be contemplating travelling to the United Kingdom.

(1) The British Authorities ask that nobody should go the United Kingdom who cannot be of direct assistance to the war effort.

(2) There is considerable pressure on the available passage accommodation from Montevideo and private individuals cannot obtain any priority in the booking of passages and must be prepared for a considerable delay at Montevideo.

The position in regard to woman going to the United Kingdom as volunteers for war work is as follows :-

Every able-bodied woman in Stanley who is a member of the Civil Defence Organization or is performing other voluntary war work is already filling an essential need. While, therefore, the Government will not stand in the way of volunteers wishing to go to the United Kingdom, it must be clearly understood that Exit Permits from the Colony are only granted to those who can satisfy the Colonial Secretary that they have deposited their full fares to the United Kingdom with the local shipping agents and also have a sufficient sum in cash to cover incidental expenses. Volunteers will usually experience less difficulty in obtaining passages from Montevideo than normal passengers, but they too must be prepared to remain in Montevideo for a considerable period at their own expense. It is not fair to expect the British Patriotic Society at Montevideo to provide passages or other financial assistance for Falkland Islands volunteers and the Society has been informed that such assistance will not be essential.

Defence Force Ordinance, 1920.

Regulations defining efficiency.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 4 of 1943.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 37 (1) (b) of the Defence Force Ordinance, 1920, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows :

1. For the purpose of Regulation, No. 4 (1) of the Regulations relating to the award of the Efficiency Medal made by His Excellency the Governor on the 21st of August, 1935 : a soldier, who had qualified for the medal in length of service on or before the 2nd day of September, 1939, shall be deemed to be efficient if he is granted a certificate of efficiency by the Officer Commanding, Falkland Islands Defence Force.

Made by the Governor in Executive Council at a Meeting held on the 3rd day of June, 1943.

L. W. ALDRIDGE,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Explanatory Note. Regulation 4 (1) of the Regulations relating to the award of the Efficiency Medal states that the requisite standard of efficiency shall be as laid down by His Excellency-in-Council by Regulations under the Defence Force Ordinance. The object of the Regulations published above is to lay down such a standard of efficiency as at the outbreak of war. It is not proposed at present to consider the cases of men who have, by length of service, qualified for the medal since that date in view of the fact that no instructions have yet been received from the Secretary of State as to how war service is to be regarded or as to how the question is affected by the introduction of conscription.

Lord Mayor of Bristol.*

Next week end we are celebrating in Port Stanley Centenary of "Great Britain" launched at Bristol 19th July, 1843, and still existing as hulk here. Naval personnel and Imperial troops will join Falkland Islanders in festivities in aid of Red Cross and King George V. Fund for Sailors. Will you accept silver replica of medallion struck on occasion of launching also illustrated brochure giving history of the Great Britain which has been specially written for the Centenary. Mindful of the ordeal through which you have passed the people of the Falkland Islands and I on this memorable occasion send you and the citizens of Bristol our most cordial greetings and best wishes for the future.

From the Lord Mayor of Bristol to His Excellency the Governor.

Delighted to receive your message and to accept on behalf of Bristol a replica of medallion and illustrated brochure of Bristol's "Great Britain", a pioneer steamship whose sailing opened up period of expanding travel and commerce. Today its lineal successors are landing Canadian, American and British soldiers on beaches of Sicily. Bristol has many historical connections with your Islands and happy recollections of two great personalities

Sir James O'Grady and Bishop Norman de Jersey so closely associated both with your Islands and our City. You are much in our thoughts and we send warm thanks and greetings.

Financial Report for the Year 1942.

Colonial Treasury,

Stanley, Falkland Islands,

31st May, 1943.

The Honourable

The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the following report on the financial transactions of the Colony and its Dependencies, for and in respect of the year ended 31st December, 1942 :—

The Falkland Islands.

2. The year's account, summarised, is as follows :—

Excess of Assets over Liabilities, 1st January, 1942	£245,881 : 13 : 7
Revenue.
Total Ordinary	£89,778 : 19 : 11
Land Sales Fund.
Land purchases	2,347 : 12 : 8
General Revenue Balance.
Appreciation of Investments	723 : 15 : 4
			<hr/> £ 92,850 : 7 : 11
			<hr/> £338,732 : 1 : 6
Expenditure.
Ordinary	£66,487 : 6 : 7
Extraordinary	32,123 : 17 : 9
Land Sales Fund	800 : 0 : 0
Depreciation of Investments	5 : 4 : 6
Dependencies Deficit	6,537 : 12 : 1
			<hr/> £105,954 : 0 : 11
Excess of Assets at 31st December, 1942	£232,778 : 0 : 7
Nett result of year's working – Decrease of Assets	<hr/> £ 13,103 : 13 : 0

Although the above figures show a shrinkage of Assets of £13,103 : 13 : 0, the real deficit on the year's transactions amounted to £13,176 : 0 : 2, which figure is arrived at by reconciling the sum of £6,609 : 19 : 3, Dependencies 1941 Deficit, received into Revenue this year, with the charge to Expenditure of the sum of £6,537 : 12 : 1 this year's (1942) Dependencies deficit, the difference being £72 : 7 : 2. The sum of £6,537 : 12 : 1 will be reimbursed to Falkland Islands Revenue in the current year of 1943 from the Research Development Fund.

3. It will be observed that the Ordinary Revenue exceeded Ordinary Expenditure by the sum of £23,291 : 13 : 4, but Extraordinary Military War Expenditure amounting to £32,123 : 17 : 9 converted this favourable balance into a deficit of £8,832 : 4 : 5. Details thereof are given later in this Report.

4. The decrease in the Surplus of Assets of £13,103 : 13 : 0 is accounted for by increased Extraordinary Expenditure on Military and War services incurred during the year, which amounted to £32,123 : 17 : 9, together with a further small amount reconciling the Dependencies deficit for the year with the amount received for last year's deficit as mentioned under paragraph 2.

Under normal conditions and excluding abnormal Extraordinary Expenditure, referred to in paragraph 3, the year's transactions would have been most satisfactory, and would have resulted in a nett increase of Assets amounting to £24,839 : 6 : 0.

5. DEPENDENCIES. Ordinary Revenue amounted to £8,802 : 17 : 3, or £5,265 : 2 : 9 less than estimated, while Ordinary Expenditure was £12,514 : 14 : 0 or £897 : 6 : 0 less than the estimated amount. Military War Expenditure amounted to £2,825 : 15 : 4 or £3,174 : 4 : 8 less than the estimated amount, which resulted in a total deficit on the year's transactions of £6,537 : 12 : 1 which amount has been incorporated in the Falkland Islands accounts and will be reimbursed during the current year from the Research Development Fund.

6. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES PROVIDENT FUND. At the close of the year the assets of this Fund amounted to £13,263 : 5 : 3, against liabilities (amount due to Depositors) of £12,696 : 1 : 11 and the Funds' surplus amounting to £567 : 3 : 4. A detailed report has already been submitted to you.

7. GEORGIA MARINE INSURANCE FUND. The balance of this Fund is £3,523 : 14 : 9, being an increase of £2,719 : 9 : 2 during the year 1942, and which is accounted for by the annual credit of £187 from V.I.I. Harbour, plus £32 : 9 : 2 capitalized interest on investments, and the value of the Motor Launch "Georgia" disposed of during the year for £2,500. Market value of investments in guarantee of this Fund is £3,530 : 19 : 7, there being a surplus of £6 : 14 : 10.

8. GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK. A detailed report of the transactions of the Savings Bank Fund has been rendered.

The balance on 31st December, 1942, was £339,442 : 14 : 6, being an increase in the Bank's Funds of £54,428 : 10 : 8 during the year under review, made up as follows:—

Due to Depositors at 31st December, 1942	...	£306,661 : 19 : 6
Reserve	...	32,780 : 15 : 0
		<hr/> £339,442 : 14 : 6

The increase in the Bank's Funds represents 12.1% when compared with the previous year's figures. During the year 1942, deposits exceeded withdrawals by £45,345 : 8 : 10, while this year's deposits were £27,112 : 3 : 0 more than last year. The Reserve of £32,780 : 15 : 0 represents 10.7% of the sum due to Depositors, and which together with the Fund's investments at market value represents the sum of £1 : 2 : 2 for every pound deposited.

9. NOTE SECURITY FUND. The Fund's assets £70,218 : 13 : 0 at the close of the year, and which fully covered the note issue amounting to £62,296 : 10 : 0 as well as contingent liabilities. New notes issued during the year amounted to £24,796 : 10 : 0.

A detailed report of the Commissioner's transactions has been rendered in conformity with the Currency Notes Ordinance, 1930.

10. THE DEPENDENCIES RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT FUND. The balance of the Fund was £190,956 : 3 : 2, having increased by £360 : 0 : 10 during the year, as detailed hereunder:—

			Less over the Estimate	£1125 : 17 : 0
			Difference under the Estimate	£11265 : 2 : 9

The decline in actual Revenue of £11,265 : 2 : 9 is 43.87% below the estimated amount, which is due in principal to a considerable drop in Export Duties on Whale Oil £5,019 : 18 : 6, Export Duties on Guano £1,155 : 12 : 6, and also the Contribution of £6,000 for Defence purposes, which amount was not transferred from the Research Fund, as anticipated in the Estimates. These declines are again due to restricted whaling operations during the year. Excesses of Revenue over Estimates amounted, in all, to £1,125 : 17 : 0, which included a "windfall" of £707 : 13 : 1 received from the Research Fund, to complete the Contribution to Central Administration, corresponding to the year 1939, and only credited to this year's accounts.

EXPENDITURE. The approved estimated Expenditure was £19,412, while the total actual Expenditure incurred during the year was £15,340 : 9 : 4, consequently the amount underspent was £4,071 : 10 : 8, due principally to the fact that Military War Expenditure was actually £3,124 : 4 : 8 less than estimated. The total actual Expenditure of £15,340 : 9 : 4, exceeded the actual Revenue of £8,802 : 17 : 3, by £6,537 : 12 : 1. This deficit was transferred to the Falkland Islands Surplus and Deficit Account in order to close the Dependencies accounts and will be reimbursed from the Research Fund in the 1943 Colony accounts.

The following are details of the year's expenditure under the various headings :—

Report on the Government Employees Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1942.

The Honourable
The Colonial Secretary.

Colonial Treasury,
Stanley, Falkland Islands
31st May, 1943.

Sir,

In accordance with Section 4 (6) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1938, I have the honour to submit a report on the transactions of the Government Employees' Provident Fund for the year ended 31st December, 1942.

Appended are the following statements of accounts :-

- (i) Abstract of Revenue and Expenditure, Deposits and Withdrawals, Investments, Investment Adjustment, Capital, and statement of Assets and Liabilities.
- (ii) Nominal value, cost and market value of investments at 31st December, 1942.

During the period under review compulsory deposits, together with voluntary contributions amounted to £1,089 : 7 : 7 accrued interest £230 : 11 : 4, which with bonus amounting to £1,035 : 4 : 1 resulted in a total credit of £2,355 : 3 : 0 due to depositors. Withdrawals totalled £550 : 14 : 4.

The amount standing to the credit of depositors at the close of the year is shown in the following statement :-

Balance 1st January, 1942	£10,891 : 13 : 3
Add credits as detailed above	2,355 : 3 : 0
Total credits				£13,246 : 16 : 3
Deduct Withdrawals (closed a/cs.)	550 : 14 : 4
Balance due to depositors at 31st December, 1942				£12,696 : 1 : 11

Investments of a redemption value of £11,848 : 18 : 6 made and held by the Crown Agents for the Colonies for and on behalf of the fund, are detailed in the statement forwarded herewith. The revenue from investments was £324 : 13 : 11.

In conformity with C.R. 275 the Fund's Investments were revalued at the prices in the London market at the close of the year. Appreciation amounted to £20 : 15 : 4, and this sum was credited direct to the Fund, thereby increasing the assets to £567 : 3 : 4 more than the liabilities.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. KING-PRIME.

for Financial Secretary.

31st May, 1943.

The Honourable
The Colonial Secretary.

Sir,

In conformity with the provisions of the Falkland Islands Currency Notes Ordinance, 1930, I have the honour to submit a statement of transactions during the period 1st January to 31st December, 1942, inclusive.

2. The year commenced with a currency note circulation amounting to £37,500, and ended with a nett increase of £24,796 : 10 : 0. The transactions are summarised in the following table :—

3. The value of currency notes lodged with the Commissioner during the year by persons desiring to receive sterling in London was £22,557 : 17 : 2, yielding a commission of £172 : 16 : 8.

4. The total dividends earned by investments amounted to £1,235 : 13 : 10 which was credited direct to Revenue.

5. On the 31st December, 1942, the sum of £11 : 6 : 10 was debited to the Fund in respect of depreciation of investments held on behalf of the Fund at that date.

6. At the close of the year the sum of £3,699 : 15 : 11 was charged to Falkland Islands Expenditure, being the amount required to bring the Fund to 110% of the Note Issue.

7. Statements of Receipts and Payments and of the Investments held at the end of the period under review are appended.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. KING PRIME,

for Financial Secretary.

Stanley, Falkland Islands.

23rd August, 1943.

Report on Education in the Colony for the year 1942.

PART I.

Preface.

1. The population of the Falkland Islands is all-British and numbers about 2,500, and educational provision is correspondingly limited. About half the people live in the one town of Stanley, the rest being scattered either in small settlements or isolated shepherds' houses over an area about the size of Yorkshire. The whole country outside Stanley is called the "Camp". Education in Stanley is compulsory between the ages of five and fourteen but this cannot be enforced in the "Camp".

2. The Educational facilities fall under three groups :

- (a) Schools in Stanley.
- (b) Schools at Darwin and North Arm controlled by the Falkland Islands Co.
- (c) Itinerant tuition in the "Camp".

Stanley.

3. A Government School is maintained from Public Funds. The curriculum and time table are much the same as in an English primary school, and in addition there is a full time Continuation Class which provides a two year course of further education. A scheme to assist "Camp" parents to send their children to Stanley for schooling has been in operation for many years. There is also a Convent School taught by Roman Catholic Sisters. It is not under Government control or inspection and receives no grant from Public Funds. This school was closed in January 1942 and has not been reopened.

Darwin and North Arm.

4. The Falkland Islands Company maintain schools at these two settlements for the children of its employees. They are not assisted or inspected by Government.

The "Camp".

5. Five itinerant teachers are provided by Government, two on the East Falkland and three on the West. The teachers travel on horseback from house to house, usually staying a fortnight at each. The houses are isolated, and the teacher may have to travel for several hours before he reaches the next place where his services are required. Each man has a district which he covers three or four times a year. He sends a fortnightly report to Stanley giving a detailed account of the work done, a list of books or material wanted, and so on. The Superintendent of Education makes tours of inspection during the school summer holidays, normally visiting every child under tuition once every two years.

6. In addition to the Government staff, the Falkland Islands Company maintains three camp teachers for work on its extensive farms on the East Falkland; as with the Company's school at Darwin, their work is not subject to Government inspection.

PART II.

Evacuation of Stanley Children, January 1942.

7. On the entry of Japan into the war it was decided to evacuate voluntarily to the "Camp" all Stanley Children of school age.

8. The Superintendent of Education was instructed to proceed to the "Camp" and make arrangements for accommodating approximately 250 children. Accompanied by the Assistant Mistresses Miss P. F. Ryder and Miss H. Brown, who had spent two years on evacuation work in England, departure was made from Stanley at 6.0 p.m. on Sunday 28th December. The S.S. "Fitzroy" was joined en route for Darwin.

9. It was realized that the type of evacuation organisation most appropriate to the Falklands must naturally differ in many respects from those functioning in England. It was possible, however, from analysis and comparison of experience in England of members of the staff to detect the fundamental principles in efficient evacuation schemes, and draw valuable lessons for a plan of operation in this country.

10. Accommodation. The managers at Darwin and Fox Bay were interviewed and telephonic communication was established with North Arm, Port Howard and San Carlos. These settlements promised accommodation for almost 200 children, another 50 were to be quartered in the "Cookhouse" at Walker Creek, kindly put at the Government's disposal by the Camp manager of the Falkland Islands Company. San Carlos was to be used in case of necessity as a reserve centre for accommodating mothers and infants. The accommodation offered at Port Stephens, Chartres and Roy Cove was not accepted owing to difficulty of transport.

11. In all there was accommodation available for about 400 children. The Salvador and Berkeley Sound ports were left for people who desired to make their own arrangements. The Superintendent of Education arrived back in Stanley on Tuesday December 30th.

12. Allocation of Children. As already stated five large centres were prepared for the reception of children, outside shepherds' houses were not used. This arrangement enabled the Education Department to organise schools and place a qualified teacher in charge of each centre. It was felt that this plan would ensure supervision of the children's activities both in and out of school hours, and minimise the possibility of interference with work on the farms. The ideal thing, and certainly the easiest plan, would have been to centre the children according to classes or age groups, but this was not found possible.

13. In order to ease the position of parents, foster-parents and children it was decided to

- (a) Keep families together.
- (b) Where possible quarter the children with relatives or friends.
- (c) Place a senior girl or woman in every house with more than four children. This would relieve the housewife of some domestic and supervisory duties.
- (d) Take into consideration the bedroom capacity of each house and allocate boys and girls accordingly.

15. In addition to the above, thirty Stanley children of school age were already in the "Camp" on holiday. Three families numbering 12 children remained in Stanley. There was only one case of a parent refusing to allow his children to go to "Camp".

16. Detailed instructions were issued to parents and children, and a printed list of minimum requirements was given to each child. This included clothing and necessary toilet requisites, bedding and bedclothes.

1. Luggage was collected on the eve of sailing.
2. No child or adult was allowed on board without a ticket. In order to avoid confusion the tickets for each destination were of a distinctive colour, each bore the name of port of landing, name of householder receiving child and date and time of sailing.
3. Food and drink were provided during each voyage.
4. The Government School Office was open for enquiries and tickets daily from 10.0 a.m. to 10.0 p.m.

17. Provision for continuance of Education in the Camp. A schoolroom was arranged for in each of the large centres. Teachers in charge of each centre selected adequate supplies of text books, stationery, handwork and sports requisites, and these were shipped to their respective destinations.

18. The curricula of individual camp schools often differed in points of detail, but the broad group of subjects, health and physical training, games, music, art and crafts, mathematics, history, geography and English subjects were represented. The curriculum of each school was varied and flexible, and provided for opportune use of unforeseen happenings. Difference in age and sex was the chief factor in determining the formation of time-tables. It was decided to curtail holidays and commence school on Monday 19th January.

19. Each centre forwarded to the Superintendent of Education a weekly report on childrens' health and general progress. Provision was made for each child to write to parents in Stanley. The teachers wrote for infants and any others unable to do so. A weekly "Camp" bulletin was broadcast over the Stanley radio.

20. Walker Creek. The cookhouse consisting of 16 bedrooms, 2 kitchens, large commonroom and outhouse was fitted up to receive 44 children, 3 women helpers and 3 teachers. This centre was run entirely by the Education Department. Stores, fuel, water and lighting were provided. Eight milking cows and a small flock of mutton sheep were kept.

21. It was interesting to note the progress of this self contained unit, it being the country's first experience of a "boarding school". The delegation of some measure of authority to the senior children was used as a means of training them in social responsibilities. Moreover, in so far as many essential tasks called for combined effort and prompt co-operation on the part of all children, they were of value to the community in promoting and fostering a healthy public spirit.

22. For the first fortnight it was "hard going". Children and staff slept on the floor, cooking arrangements were unsatisfactory and washing and bathing facilities were primitive. That conditions soon became satisfactory reflects great credit on Mr. Baker, the master in charge, and his staff. Mrs. Baker, who had dental experience, remained at the hostel throughout the evacuation period and rendered excellent voluntary services, professionally and otherwise. There was no case of illness or serious accident during the childrens' stay at the hostel, all increased in weight and were in excellent health when they returned to Stanley in October.

23. Other Centres. The children were accommodated in the settlement houses and the teachers boarded with the managers. School in each settlement opened on January 19th, the daily hours of tuition being the same as in Stanley.

24. In certain instances there was overcrowding but this was rectified by moving some of the children to other accommodation. In all cases camp children were allowed to attend the Schools provided for evacuees.

25. The managers and camp householders did all they could to make the children happy and comfortable. There was no case of serious illness or accident and the general health of the children was good. All gained in weight and were extremely fit when they returned to Stanley in October.

26. Children accommodated in settlements where there were no schools, or in shepherds' houses, were taught by Travelling Teachers.

27. The Superintendent of Education made periodical tours of the Evacuation centres, and generally acted as liaison officer between Stanley and the Camp.

28. The weather was favourable during most of the outward and inward voyages. Although many of the children were two nights on board the steamer, and seasickness was common, they were all quite recovered and happy on landing.

29. It was decided in September that it was safe to bring the children back to Stanley. Although the bulk of the Evacuees had returned by early October the Evacuation did not officially end until December 31st.

Administration and Staffing.

30. The authorised establishment of the Education Department for 1942 was as follows :

Superintendent of Education & Headmaster, Govt. School	}	Certificated by the Board of Education.
Assistant Master
Assistant Mistress
Infant Mistress
Second Assistant Master	}	Uncertificated with experience in U.K.
One Assistant Teacher
Four Supplementary Teachers	}	Locally Trained.
One Travelling Teacher
Four Travelling Teachers	}	Certificated by the Board of Education.
One Temporary Teacher
	}	Locally Trained.

There were the following changes in Staff during the year :

One locally trained Assistant Mistress resigned in April, the vacancy being filled by a new appointment in December.

One Travelling Teacher resigned in December but a successor was not appointed until 1943.

The Staffing of the Government School is adequate but "Camp" Education is severely handicapped by the size of the Travelling Teachers' "Beats". Suitable locally appointed Travelling Teachers are unobtainable, and efforts to recruit staff in the United Kingdom has been unsuccessful.

Recommendations for improving "Camp" education are dealt with in the Educational Survey of the Colony submitted in 1943.

Finance.

32. The expenditure under Head XII Education of the annual estimates of expenditure was £3266 : 3 : 9 as compared with £3131 in 1941. The revenue collected in 1942 amounted to £22 : 9 : 10 as against £168 : 8 : 7 in 1941. Details of expenditure and revenue in 1942 are as follows :

EXPENDITURE.	£	s.	d.	REVENUE	£	s.	d.
1. Personal Emoluments	2645	15	0	1. School Fees	10	5	9
2. Other Charges	620	8	9	2. Sale of School Material	12	4	1

Government School.

33. Although the majority of the Stanley evacuees returned from the "Camp" at the beginning of October the military occupation of the School postponed its opening until December 7th.

34. As a result of this enforced inactivity it was decided to reduce the usual seven week's summer holiday to ten days and re-open the School for the new year on January 4th, 1943.

35. The absorption of the pupils of St. Mary's Roman Catholic School meant that additional accommodation had to be found for about eighty children. The Continuation Class was accommodated in the Public Library and the Gymnasium of St Mary's School was fitted up to take the Infants.

36. The "Open Day" and "Prizegiving" normally held at the end of the School year were cancelled.

37. In view of the conditions obtaining during the year it was not possible to hold the usual annual medical and dental inspections. The Government dentist made a short tour of the evacuation centres and the "camp" doctors paid periodical visits to the centres in their area.

38. The first two pupils to be awarded Overseas Scholarships to the British School, Montevideo, were selected in December. The award was made by a Standing Selection Committee, under His Excellency's Chairmanship, the other members of the committee being the Honourable the Colonial Secretary, the Superintendent of Education and the Reverend G. K. Lowe.

39. The Scholarships will normally be awarded on the results of a competitive examination. As this was impracticable in 1942 they were given on records of School work, character and conduct over a period of five years.

40. The Scholarships will be open to boys and girls of any School in the Colony, and will be for a period of three years, providing free education and board and lodging at the British School, Montevideo. A yearly return steamship passage is to be provided so that the children can return to their homes for the long summer vacation.

41. Scholarships will not be awarded if there are no satisfactory candidates, and will be liable to withdrawal if conduct or progress at the School are unsatisfactory.

42. The British School is co-educational and is British Staffed and administered. It provides the usual secondary course up to the University of Cambridge School Certificate.

T. D. EVANS,

Superintendent of Education.

No. 47. M.P. 137/43. 22nd September, 1943.

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

"On this great occasion of victory over the Italians may I be permitted to submit to His Majesty the humble congratulations of the Falkland Islanders and myself and a fresh expression of our loyalty and affection".

*From the Secretary of State for the Colonies
to His Excellency the Governor.*

"Your telegram has been laid before the King who desires that an expression of his sincere thanks for the message contained therein may be conveyed to you and the people of the Falkland Islands".

2. The following are the texts of telegrams received on the same occasion from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty and the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic, in reply to a message of congratulations sent by His Excellency to the Forces :—

From the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

"Request you will express to His Excellency Their Lordships appreciation of his kind message which will be promulgated in Fleet Orders."

From the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic.

"Your message of congratulations to the Navy on the occasion of the surrender of Italy is much appreciated by all on the South Atlantic Station.

"Although actual fighting has not reached the Falklands we know the great contributions the Islands are making towards the war effort and we admire the fortitude with which the Islanders have faced the isolation and difficulties which the war has brought upon them".

No. 48. M.P. 146/39. 22nd September, 1943.

The following announcement by the Postmaster General is published for general information :—

"The Postmaster General announces that after careful consideration Government Departments concerned in the welfare of British Prisoners of War and Internees in enemy hands have regretfully come to the conclusion that circumstances will not permit of despatch to them this year of Christmas and New Year Greeting Cards or Calendars. Accordingly the Censorship Regulations will not be relaxed as in former years to permit Greeting Cards to be posted in the ordinary way to Prisoners of War and Interned Civilian neither will despatch of Greeting Cards and Calendars through holders of censorship permits be allowed. The reason for this decision is that after last Christmas some British Camp Leaders represented that large numbers of Greeting Cards and Calendars sent last year had caused congestion in enemy censorship and in consequence ordinary letters had been greatly delayed over the Christmas period. This had caused disappointment to Prisoners who preferred not to receive Greeting Cards and Calendars at the expense of delay to letters.

"Relatives and friends of Prisoners of War and Internees will appreciate from this explanation that the decision is in the interests of the Prisoners and Internees and that for the same reason also it will be important not to send additional letters during the Christmas Season in the place of Greeting Cards".

2. Persons desiring to send letters or parcels to Prisoners of War or Internees in Italian or Japanese hands are advised to seek advice from this office before doing so.

Order by the Governor requiring performance of services in ships.

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

No. 7 of 1943.

Under the authority of the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of the United Kingdom, 1939, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. After Regulation 33A of the Defence Regulations, 1939, there shall be inserted the following Regulation:—

33AB. (1) The Governor or any person authorised by him to act under this Regulation may direct any British subject or British protected person in the Colony to perform such services in any British ship, not being a Dominion ship, as may be specified by or described in the direction, being services which that person is, in the opinion of the Governor or person authorised as aforesaid, capable of performing.

Power to require performance of services in ships.

(2) Any such direction shall, except so far as the contrary intention appears therefrom, continue in force until the direction is varied by a subsequent direction or withdrawn by the Governor or a person authorised as aforesaid.

(3) Any services required by a direction given under this Regulation to be performed shall be performed on such terms as to remuneration and conditions of service as the Governor or a person authorised as aforesaid may, in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation, direct:

Provided that in determining the terms upon which any such services are to be performed regard shall be had to any rates of salary, fees or wages for the performance of those services which appear to be usual, and in particular to any determination of the National Maritime Board of the United Kingdom relating to the remuneration and conditions of service of persons employed in the capacity in which the person to whom the direction relates is to serve.

(4) Section two hundred and forty of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, shall have effect as if there were included among the matters to be entered in the official log book the following matters, so far as they are known to the master of the ship:—

(a) the name of every person to whom a direction has been given under this Regulation to perform services as a member of the crew of that ship;

(b) the date on which and the place at which he joined the ship, or, if he failed to join the ship, the circumstances of his failure;

(c) if he fails in any other respect to comply with the direction, particulars of his failure.

(5) No British subject or British protected person who has been the master or a member of the crew of any ship at any time since the twenty-eighth day of April, nineteen hundred and forty-one, shall, except with the consent of the Governor or person authorised to act under this Regulation, accept any employment (other than an employment under a contract in operation at the date of this Regulation) except as the master or a member of the crew of a British ship.

Dated this 21st day of September, 1943

By Command,
KENNETH BRADLEY,
Colonial Secretary.

DUTIES, PROHIBITIONS, DRAWBACKS AND REFUNDS OF DUTY.

Customs Duties.

5. It shall be lawful for the Legislature from time to time to impose import or export duties of customs upon any goods whatsoever which may be imported into or exported from the Colony, and to revoke, reduce, increase or alter any such duties, and to provide for the importation or exportation of any goods without payment of customs duty thereon. Provided that all duties of customs and all exemptions from duties of customs which are by law in force at the commencement of this Ordinance shall continue in force until revoked, reduced, increased or altered in the manner provided in this Ordinance.

Governor in Executive Council may remit duties.

6. It shall be competent for the Governor in Executive Council, upon application by the importer or exporter, to remit or refund in whole or in part any customs duty whenever he shall deem it expedient so to do.

British Preferential & General Tariffs.

7. Any order or resolution made or passed in accordance with section 5, may impose different rates of import duty upon goods which are shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been (1) consigned from a part of the British Empire and (2) either (a) to be the produce of the British Empire or (b) to have been manufactured in the British Empire (such duties to be distinguished in the order or resolution as duties imposed under the British Preferential Tariff), and upon goods not shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been so consigned and produced or manufactured (such duties to be distinguished as duties imposed under the General Tariff).

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding section, no goods shall be admitted under the British Preferential Tariff unless the importer shall comply with regulations which the Governor in Executive Council is hereby authorised to make in relation thereto.

Regulations.

9. All goods deposited in any warehouse without payment of duty on the first importation thereof, or which may be imported or exported, and shall not have been entered for use within the Colony, or for exportation, as the case may be, shall, upon being entered for use within the Colony, or for exportation, as the case may be, be subject to such duties as may be due and payable on the like sort of goods under the customs laws in force at the time when the same are entered, save in cases where special provision shall be made to the contrary.

Time of entry to govern duty payable.

10. (1) Where by entry, bond, removal of goods, or otherwise, any obligation has been incurred for the payment of duties of customs, such obligation shall be deemed to be an obligation to pay all duties of customs which may become legally payable, or which are made payable or recoverable under the customs laws, and to pay the same as the same become payable.

Effect of obligation to pay debts.

(2) When any duty has been short levied or erroneously refunded, the person who should have been paid the amount short levied, or to whom the refund has erroneously been made, shall pay the amount short levied, or repay the amount erroneously refunded, on demand being made by the Collector.

11. Where any goods, being of a class or description liable to any import duty of customs, are re-imported into and entered for use within the Colony after exportation therefrom, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector that any duty of customs chargeable in respect of the goods prior to their exportation was duly paid, either prior to exportation or at any subsequent time, and either that no drawback of any such duty was allowed on exportation, or that any drawback so allowed has been repaid to the Collector, then -

Duty on goods re-imported.

- (a) if it is further shown as aforesaid that the goods have not been subjected to any process abroad, the goods shall be exempt from any such duty when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation, unless the rate of duty of customs chargeable on goods of the same class or description at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation shall exceed the rate paid on the said goods on first importation and entry, in which case such goods shall be chargeable with duty at a rate equal to the difference between the rate at which the duty previously paid was calculated and the rate in force at the date when such goods are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation;
- (b) if the goods at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation are of a class or description liable to an import duty ad valorem, and it is further shown as aforesaid that the goods have been subjected to a process of repair, renovation or improvement abroad, but that their form or character has not been changed, such goods shall be chargeable with duty as if the amount of the increase in the value of the goods attributable to the process were the whole value thereof, and, where any sum has been contracted to be paid for the execution of the process, the sum shall be prima facie evidence of that amount, but without prejudice to the powers of the Collector under the customs laws as to the ascertainment of the value of the goods for the purpose of assessing duty thereon ad valorem.

Provided that if the rate of duty of customs chargeable on the goods of the same class or description at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation shall exceed the rate paid on the said goods on first importation and entry, then in such case, in addition to the ad valorem duty chargeable hereunder according to the amount of the increase in the value of the goods attributable to the process, such goods shall be chargeable with additional customs duty calculated in the manner set out in paragraph (a) of this section, as if such goods had not been subjected to any process of repair, renovation or improvement abroad.

In case of dispute, importer to deposit the duty demanded.

12. (1) If any dispute shall arise as to the proper rate or amount of duty payable on any goods imported into or exported from the Colony, the importer, consignee, or exporter, or his agent, shall deposit in the hands of the Collector the duty demanded by him, which shall be deemed and taken to be the proper duty payable, unless proceedings shall be commenced by the importer or exporter of such goods, within three months after such deposit, against the Collector, to ascertain whether any and what duty is payable on such goods; and on payment of such deposit, and on the passing of a proper entry or shipping bill for such goods by the importer, exporter, consignee, or agent, the Collector shall cause delivery or permit shipment thereof, as the case may be.

(2) All such deposits shall be paid by the Collector to the Treasurer, and, in case no such proceedings shall be brought within the time limited for that purpose, such deposit shall be retained and applied to the use of the Colony in the same manner as if it had been originally paid and received as the duty due on such goods; and in case of such proceedings, if it shall be determined that the duty so deposited was not the proper duty, but that a less duty was payable, the difference between the deposit and the duty found to be due, or the whole deposit, as the case may require, shall be returned to such importer or exporter.

(3) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained in this section, it shall be lawful for the importer, after having made the deposit as aforesaid, to request the Governor in Executive Council to decide the dispute on such terms and conditions as the Governor in Executive Council shall deem equitable, in which event the decision of the Governor in Executive Council shall have effect and be final.

Value.

13. (1) For the purpose of any enactment for the time being in force whereunder a duty of customs is chargeable on goods by reference to their value, the value of any imported goods shall be taken to be the price which they would fetch on a sale in the open market in the Colony at the time of importation.

(2) For the purpose of computing the price aforesaid it shall be assumed -

(a) that the goods to be valued are to be delivered to the buyer at the port or place of importation, freight, insurance, commission and all other costs, charges and expenses incidental to the making of the contract of sale and the delivery of the goods at that port or place (except any duties of customs payable in the Colony and buying commission not exceeding five per centum of the total value which is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been paid to an agent) having been paid by the seller; and

(b) that in converting the selling price of the said goods from foreign currency to sterling, the rate of exchange is the selling rate for sight drafts at the principal port of the Colony first quoted on or after the date of importation; and

- (c) that any portion of any charge for primage which is refundable on the performance by the buyer of any specified conditions is not paid by the buyer, whether the buyer intends to fulfil such conditions or not; and
- (d) that the price is the sole consideration for the sale of the said goods; and
- (e) that neither the seller nor any person associated in business with him has any interest, direct or indirect, in the subsequent re-sale or disposal of the said goods; and
- (f) that there has not been and will not be any commercial relationship between the seller and the buyer, whether created by contract or otherwise, other than that created by the sale of the said goods.

(3) For the purposes of this section two persons shall be deemed to be associated in business with one another if, whether directly or indirectly, either of them has any interest in the business or property of the other, or both have a common interest in any business or property, or some third person has any interest in the business or property of both of them.

(4) The value of any exported goods for the purpose of assessing duty ad valorem shall be determined in accordance with regulations which the Governor in Executive Council is hereby authorised to make in relation thereto.

14. If any article is enumerated in the tariff or can reasonably be classified under two or more names, headings or descriptions, and there is a difference of duty, the highest duty provided shall be charged and collected thereon.

Duty payable on classification at highest rate.

15. Goods containing any article liable to duty as a part or ingredient thereof shall be liable to duty at the rate payable on such part or ingredient, and any goods composed of more than one article liable to duty shall be liable to duty at the rate payable on the article charged with the highest rate of duty: Provided that the highest rate shall not be exacted in cases where the Collector in his discretion decides that the goods contain only a negligible proportion of the article liable to the highest rate. Provided also that in no case shall any less duty be charged on any such goods than the duty due thereon when considered as a whole without regard to their contents.

Duty on composite goods.

16. If any article subject to the payment of specific duty is imported in any package intended for sale, or of a kind usually sold with the goods when the same are sold retail, and marked or labelled, or commonly sold, as containing, or commonly reputed to contain, a specific quantity of such article, then such package shall be deemed to contain not less than such specific quantity.

Duty chargeable on reputed quantity.

17. If any article subject to the payment of duty according to the weight thereof is imported in any package intended for sale, or of a kind usually sold with the goods when the same are sold retail, and such package is not marked or labelled, or is not in the opinion of the Collector commonly sold as containing, or commonly reputed to contain, a specific quantity of such article, and the importer is not able to satisfy the Collector as to the correct nett weight, the duty thereon shall be calculated according to the gross weight of such package and its contents.

On gross weight in certain cases.

18. It shall be lawful for the Governor by notice in the Gazette to specify, in gallons and fractions of a gallon, standard capacities for packages containing goods liable to duties according to the liquid measurement thereof, in all cases where, in his absolute discretion, he shall consider that such packages, being of sizes within limits to be specified in the notice, are reputed to be, or are sold as packages of standard sizes, whether or not any statement of the actual contents is contained on any label or other attachment to or part of such package, and thereupon all packages having capacities within the limits specified in any notice shall be deemed to contain the standard capacity in the notice in each case.

Governor may fix standard contents for packages containing liquids.

Duties, etc. to be proportionate to quantity or value.

19. All duties, rates, charges and drawbacks imposed and allowed according to any specified quantity, or any specified value, or any particular description of package, shall be deemed to apply in the same proportion to any greater or less quantity or value or any other description of package, and shall be paid and received in any currency being legal tender in the Colony, and according to the weights and measures established by the laws of the Colony.

Abatement of duty.

20. No claim for any abatement of duty in respect of any goods imported into the Colony shall be allowed on account of damage, unless such claim shall be made on the first examination thereof, nor unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that such damage was sustained before the delivery thereof out of the care of the Collector.

Derelict, etc. goods liable to full duty unless damaged.

21. All goods derelict, jetsam, flotsam and wreck brought or coming into the Colony, and all droits of Admiralty sold in the Colony, shall at all times be subject to the same duty as goods of the like kind on importation into the Colony are subject, unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector that such goods are damaged.

Damage to be assessed by Collector.

22. Subject to the provisions of sections 20, 23 and 24, the damage sustained by any goods shall be assessed by the Collector, who shall allow abatement of the duty in proportion to such damage.

No abatement on certain goods.

23. No claim for abatement of duty on account of damage shall be allowed in respect of tobacco, cigars, cigarillos, cigarettes, wine or spirits.

Qualification as to abatement.

24. No claim for abatement of duty on account of damage shall be allowed in respect of imported goods (not being goods derelict, jetsam, flotsam, or wreck brought or coming into the Colony, or droits of Admiralty sold in the Colony) except on proof to the satisfaction of the Collector that the carrier or insurer of the goods has made an allowance to the importer in respect of the damage. In any such case the abatement shall not exceed such proportion of the duty as the amount of the allowance made bears to the value of the goods undamaged, calculated in accordance with section 13.

Limitations as to wine and beer.

25. No liquor containing more than forty-two per centum of proof spirit shall be deemed wine; and no liquor containing more than twenty per centum of proof spirit shall be deemed beer, ale, stout or porter. All liquor containing more than forty-two per centum of proof spirit, and all liquor, other than wine, containing more than twenty per centum of proof spirit, shall be deemed spirits.

Strength of spirits.

26. (1) In ascertaining the strength of any spirits, any obscuration shall be determined and allowed for.

(2) The certificate of the Collector of Customs as to the strength of any liquid containing alcohol shall be prima facie evidence of the strength thereof.

Goods used contrary to purpose for which imported.

27. If any goods which are ordinarily liable to duty at a given rate are allowed by law to be, and are in fact, entered at a lower rate of duty, or free of duty, on any special conditions, or for use for some special purpose, or because they are the property of or intended for use by some particular person or functionary, and if such conditions are not observed, and the goods are at any time within two years of the date of importation thereof used for any other than the specified purpose, or, being goods entered as aforesaid because they are the property of or intended for use by some particular person or functionary, are sold or transferred to any other person, such goods, unless the full duties thereon shall have been paid, shall be forfeited and the importer and any person who shall be knowingly concerned in the use of such goods contrary to such conditions, or for some purpose other than that specified or in any way contrary to this section, shall each incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

28. The importer of any such goods as aforesaid shall, on demand, produce them to any Officer, or otherwise account for them to the satisfaction of the Collector, within such period of two years aforesaid, and if he shall fail to produce such goods, or otherwise account for the same as aforesaid, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for not producing goods.

29. The provisions of sections 27 and 28 shall not apply to goods imported by or for use of the Government, and sold or transferred by Government order.

Saving as to goods of Government.

30. The Collector may give permission to any person to import any goods without payment of duty thereon, upon being satisfied that such goods are so imported for temporary use only. Such permission shall be subject to the provisions of section 32 and to the following conditions :

Goods imported for temporary use.

- (a) that such goods shall be exported within three months of the date of such permission, and
- (b) that the person to whom such permission is given shall deposit in the hands of the Collector the amount of the duty on such goods, or else give security therefor, at the election of the Collector.

31. If any goods imported under the provisions of section 30 are not exported within three months of the date of the said permission, the deposit in the hands of the Collector shall be forfeited, or, if security has been given as aforesaid, then the importer shall pay to the Collector the full duties on such goods. If such goods are exported as aforesaid, such deposit shall be refunded, or the security cancelled. Provided that the Collector may, in his discretion, and on provision of additional security where he so requires, allow any additional period where he is satisfied that the articles are the bona fide property or bona fide in the use of any person on a temporary visit to the Colony.

Disposal of deposit.

32. The Governor in Executive Council may by notice in the Gazette declare that any goods named by him shall not be imported under the provisions of section 30 and may also declare that any goods which are permitted to be brought in under the said section shall be subject to such proportion of the duty thereon as he shall specify in such notice.

Certain goods may be excepted.

33. (1) Where any new import duty of customs is imposed, or where any import duty of customs is increased, and any goods in respect of which the duty is payable are delivered on or after the day on which the new or increased duty takes effect in pursuance of a contract made before that day, the seller of the goods may, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, recover, as an addition to the contract price, a sum equal to any amount paid by him in respect of the goods on account of the new duty or increase of duty, as the case may be.

Contract prices of imported goods may be adjusted to meet change in duty.

(2) Where any import duty of customs is repealed or decreased, and any goods affected by the duty are delivered on or after the day on which the duty ceases or the decrease in the duty takes effect in pursuance of a contract made before that day, the purchaser of the goods, in the absence of agreement to the contrary may,

if the seller of the goods has had, in respect of those goods, the benefit of the repeal or decrease of the duty, deduct from the contract price a sum equal to the amount of the duty or decrease of duty, as the case may be.

(3) Where any addition to or reduction from the contract price may be made under this section on account of any new or repealed duty, such sum as may be agreed upon, or, in default of agreement, determined by the Collector as representing, in the case of a new duty, any new expenses incurred, and, in the case of a repealed duty, any expenses saved, may be included in the addition to or deduction from the contract price, and may be recovered or deducted accordingly.

Governor may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation.

34. It shall be lawful for the Governor from time to time by proclamation to prohibit the importation, carriage coastwise or exportation of any goods whatsoever, and any such proclamation may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation until the renovation thereof, or during such period as may be specified therein, and may either absolutely prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation, or may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation except on compliance with any conditions which may be specified in the proclamation, or importation from or exportation to any particular place named in the proclamation.

Goods prohibited to be imported.

35. Until revoked by proclamation under section 34 the importation of the following goods is prohibited :—

- (a) All goods which if sold would be liable to forfeiture under the Merchandise Marks Ordinance, 1889, and all goods of foreign manufacture bearing any name or trade mark being or purporting to be the name or trade mark of any manufacturer, dealer or trader in the British Empire, unless such name or trade mark is accompanied by a definite indication of the country in which the goods were made or produced.
- (b) All goods of a kind prohibited to be imported into the United Kingdom by order made under the Anthrax Prevention Act, 1919.
- (c) Arms and ammunition, except with the written permission of the Colonial Secretary.
- (d) Clocks and watches or any other article of metal impressed with any mark or stamp representing or in imitation of any legal British Empire assay mark, or stamp, or purporting by any mark or appearance to be of the manufacture of any part of the British Empire, such clocks, watches or other articles not being of the manufacture of such part of the British Empire.
- (e) Coin — viz.:- base or counterfeit coin of any country.
- (f) Coin, imitation and foreign, of a kind which is prohibited by law to be imported into the United Kingdom.
- (g) Coin, silver of the realm, or any money purporting to be such, not being of the established standard in weight and fineness.
- (h) Extracts, essences or other concentrations of tobacco, or any admixture of the same, tobacco stalks and tobacco-stalk flour, except under such conditions as the Collector may with the approval of the Governor either generally or in any particular case allow.
- (i) Fictitious stamps as defined in section 2 of the Post Office (Amendment) Ordinance, 1930, and any die, plate, instrument or materials capable of making any such stamps.
- (j) Indecent or obscene prints, paintings, photographs, books, cards, lithographic or other engravings, or any other indecent or obscene articles.

- (k) Mechanical games or devices set in operation wholly or partly by the insertion of a coin or coins, and so constructed as to return to the person inserting the coin or coins, in certain circumstances, a coin or coins of greater total value than that of the coin or coins inserted.
- (l) Spirits (not being cordials or perfumed or medicinal spirits), and wine, unless specifically reported as such, and unless in aircraft, or in ships of thirty tons burden at least, and in casks or other vessels capable of containing liquids, each of such casks or other vessels being of the size or content of nine gallons at the least, or unless in glass or stone bottles, properly packed in cases, or in demijohns, each case or demijohn containing not less than one gallon.
- (m) Saccharin, except with the written permission of the Senior Medical Officer.
- (n) Tobacco, cigars, cigarillos and cigarettes, unless specifically reported as such and unless in aircraft, or in ships of thirty tons burden at least, and unless in whole and complete packages, each containing not less than twenty pounds net weight of tobacco, cigars, cigarillos or cigarettes.

36. It shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the importation of spirits, wines, tobacco, cigars, cigarillos and cigarettes in smaller ships and in smaller quantities than are prescribed in section 35 or any proclamation made thereunder under such conditions and subject to such regulations as he may prescribe, and subject to such additional duties (if any) as may be fixed by the Legislature.

Saving as to spirits and tobacco.

37. Goods imported in transit or as bona fide stores of any aircraft or ship shall not be deemed to be goods prohibited to be imported or exported unless such goods –

Saving as to transit goods and stores.

- (a) being in transit, are of a description included in paragraphs (a), (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (i), (j), (l), (n) of section 35, or
- (b) being the bona fide stores of any aircraft or ship, are of a description included in paragraphs (a), (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (i) or (j) of section 35, or
- (c) are expressly prohibited to be imported in transit or as aircraft's or ship's stores, in any proclamation made under the customs laws, or in any Ordinance prohibiting the importation of any goods.

38. The provisions of sections 34 to 37 shall be additional to the provisions of section 134 of this Ordinance, and to any provisions of any other Ordinance prohibiting the importation, carriage coast-wise or exportation of any goods.

Prohibitions elsewhere provided.

39. (1) It shall be lawful for the Governor in Executive Council from time to time by regulation to direct on what goods a drawback of the whole or any part of the duties paid on the importation thereof may be granted, and the conditions under which such drawbacks shall be allowed.

Governor in Executive Council may direct granting of drawbacks.

(2) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained in this section, all drawbacks payable under any former Ordinance shall be paid or allowed under this Ordinance until cancelled by direction of the Governor in Executive Council under this section.

40. Every sum of money which shall be due upon any debenture, certificate or other instrument for the payment of money out of the duties of customs shall be paid by the Treasurer on the proper debenture certified by the Collector.

Certification of debenture.

Declaration by owners of goods exported on drawback.

41. The owner of any goods on which drawback is claimed shall make and subscribe a declaration on the debenture that the conditions under which drawback is allowed have been fulfilled, and, in the case of goods exported or put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores, that such goods have been actually exported or put on board for use as stores, as the case may be, and have not been returned and are not intended to be returned to the Colony, and that such owner at the time of entry of such goods was, and continues to be entitled to the drawback thereon.

Evidence of disposal of goods.

42. The Collector may require the owner to produce satisfactory evidence of the landing or disposal of any goods before certifying any debenture.

Time limit for debenture payment.

43. No debenture for any drawback shall be paid after the expiration of one year from the date of entry of any goods for drawback, or, in the case of goods exported or put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores, from the date of putting the same on board the exporting or using aircraft or ship.

Refund of duties paid in error.

44. The Treasurer shall return any money which shall have been overpaid as duties of customs at any time within two years after such overpayment, on the proper document for such overpayment being certified by the Collector.

ARRIVAL AND REPORT OF AIRCRAFT AND SHIPS, LANDING OF PASSENGERS AND UNLOADING, REMOVAL AND DELIVERY OF GOODS.

Procedure on arrival.

45. If any aircraft or ship arriving in the Colony or the waters thereof (a) shall not come to some port therein, or such other place as may be allowed by the Collector in any special circumstances, without touching at any other place in the Colony, or (b), on arriving at any such port or place, shall not come as quickly up to the proper place of mooring or unloading as the nature of the port or place will admit, without touching at any other place, or (c), in proceeding to such proper place, shall not bring to at the station appointed by the Governor by notice in the Gazette for the boarding of aircraft or ships, or (d), after arriving at such proper place shall depart therefrom except directly to some other place of mooring or unloading approved of by the proper Officer, or, with the authority of the proper Officer, directly to some other port or to some place allowed by the Collector in any special circumstances as aforesaid in the Colony, or directly on any flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony in accordance with the provisions of the customs laws, or, (e), after departing as aforesaid on any flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony shall bring to within the Colony or the waters thereof, unless in accordance with the customs laws, or with the permission of the proper Officer, or for some cause which the master shall explain to the satisfaction of the Collector. then in every such case the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Collector may direct mooring and discharge.

46. The Collector may, subject to any other authority provided by law, direct at what particular part of any port or other place aircraft or ships shall moor or shall discharge their cargo.

Officer may board aircraft or ship.

47. Any Officer on duty may board any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, and stay on board for any period, and shall have free access to every part, with power to secure any part by such means as he shall consider necessary, and to examine any goods, and to require any goods to be unloaded, and removed for examination, or for the security thereof, or to unload and remove such goods at the expense of the master or owner, or the agent of either, and to examine any goods in course of being unloaded or removed, or when unloaded or removed, and to lock up, seal, mark or otherwise secure any goods on board such aircraft or ship.

Officer may open if access not free.

48. If any Officer acting under the provisions of section 47 shall find that there be not free access to any place or to any box or chest, or if the keys of any such place, box or chest, if locked, be withheld, such Officer may open any such place, box or chest in any manner; and if any goods be found concealed on board, they shall be forfeited.

49. If the Officer shall place any lock, mark or seal upon any goods on board an aircraft or ship, or upon any place or package in which the same may be, and such lock, mark or seal be wilfully opened, altered or broken before due delivery of such goods, or within the Colony or the waters thereof, except with the authority of the proper Officer, or if any of such goods be secretly conveyed away, or if any goods, place or package, after having been secured by the Officer, be opened within the Colony or the waters thereof, except with the authority of the proper Officer, or if the Officer shall require any goods to be unloaded and removed for examination or for the security thereof, and such goods shall not be unloaded and removed forthwith as required by the Officer, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for interfering with seal, etc.

50. If any Officer shall board any aircraft or ship and find any goods thereon, and, after leaving such aircraft or ship, such Officer, or any other Officer, shall board such aircraft or ship, and such or any part of such goods shall no longer be on board, and the master is unable to give a due account of the lawful discharging of the same, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Goods unlawfully discharged.

51. If any Officer shall be informed or have reason to suppose that any person on an aircraft or ship, or any person who shall have landed from an aircraft or ship, or any person who the Officer may suspect has received any goods from any such person, is carrying or has any uncustomed or prohibited goods about his person, such Officer may search such person; and if any such person shall, upon being questioned by any Officer whether he has any goods obtained outside the Colony about his person, or in his possession, or in his baggage, refuse to answer or deny having the same, and any such goods shall be discovered to be or to have been upon his person, or in his possession, or in his baggage, such goods shall be forfeited. No Officer shall be liable to any prosecution or action at law on account of any search made in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Search of persons.

52. Before any person shall be searched he may require to be taken with all reasonable despatch before a Magistrate, or the Collector or other superior Officer, who shall, if he see no reasonable cause for search, discharge such person, but if otherwise, direct that he be searched.

Certain officers may not search without special authority.

53. A female shall not be searched except by a female.

Search of female.

54. If upon boarding any ship any Officer shall find any goods of which the master shall not be able to give a satisfactory account, and if such Officer shall suspect that such goods are being or have been or are intended to be dealt with in any way contrary to the customs laws, he may arrest and detain such master, and take him before a Magistrate, and if such master shall fail to satisfy the Magistrate that such goods had not been, were not being, and were not intended to be dealt with contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited, and the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Control of small craft.

55. The Governor in Executive Council may from time to time make general regulations in respect of ships not exceeding one hundred tons burden prescribing, with reference to the tonnage, build or general description of such ships, the limits within which the same may be used or employed, the mode of navigation, the manner in which such ships shall be so used or employed, and such other terms, particulars, conditions and restrictions as the Governor in Executive Council may think fit, and also from time to time to revoke, alter or vary such regulations.

General regulations for small craft.

Penalty for infringement of regulations re small craft.

56. Every ship which shall be used or employed contrary to any regulations made under section 55 shall be forfeited unless the same shall have been specially licensed by the Collector to be so used or employed, as next hereinafter provided.

Licences for small craft.

57. The Collector may, if he thinks fit, grant licences in respect of any ships not exceeding one hundred tons burden upon such terms and conditions, and subject to such restrictions and stipulations as in such licences mentioned, notwithstanding any general regulations made as aforesaid, whether the said regulations shall be revoked or not; and if any ship so licensed shall not comply with the conditions imposed by or expressed in any such licence, or if such ship shall be found without having such licence on board, such ship shall be forfeited. The Collector may revoke, alter or vary any licence granted as aforesaid.

Accommodation of Officer.

58. If the master of any ship on board of which any Officer is stationed shall neglect or refuse to provide every such Officer with proper and sufficient food and suitable bedding accommodation under the deck, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Report.

59. The master of every aircraft or ship, whether laden or in ballast, or his agent, shall (except as otherwise provided in any regulations made under this Ordinance) within twenty-four hours after arrival from any place outside the Colony at any port, or at any place specially allowed by the Collector, make report of such aircraft or ship, and its stores and cargo, to the Collector on the prescribed form in the prescribed manner, and giving the prescribed particulars.

Certain goods to be separately reported.

60. Every report required by section 59 shall show separately any goods which are to be transferred to another aircraft or ship for re-exportation, and shall state whether there be any goods which are to remain on board for exportation in the same aircraft or ship; and such report shall, except where otherwise specially allowed by the Collector, give a particular account of all goods remaining on board for exportation, and shall be made before bulk be broken.

Certain goods to be reported before breaking bulk.

61. The master of any aircraft or ship shall make report of any packages or parcels for which no bill of lading has been issued, before bulk be broken, unless the Collector shall otherwise allow.

Penalty for not making due report.

62. If the master of any aircraft or ship, or his agent, shall fail to make due report, or if any of the particulars contained in such report be false, such master, or his agent, shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and all goods not duly reported shall be forfeited, unless the omission is explained to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Penalty for not accounting for package reported.

63. If any package or parcel reported (except as remaining on board as stores or for re-exportation or, with the permission of the Collector, for direct transfer to another aircraft or ship for use as stores or for re-exportation) shall not be duly unloaded, removed and deposited in a customs area or other place approved by the Collector, and shall not be duly entered and cleared therefrom in accordance with the customs laws, or else shall not be produced to the proper Officer for deposit or be deposited in the King's warehouse in accordance with the provisions of section 82, the master or his agent shall pay the duty thereon, and, in addition, a penalty of five pounds in respect of each such package or parcel, unless he shall explain the failure to unload, remove and deposit or produce such package or parcel as aforesaid to the satisfaction of the Collector.

64. No goods may be imported as aircraft's or ships' stores except such as are required for consumption or use by or for the aircraft or ship, its officers, crew and passengers, and any goods not so required (other than the bona fide baggage of passengers) shall for all purposes be deemed to be the cargo of such aircraft or ship.

What is cargo.

65. The master or agent shall (a) answer immediately all such questions relating to the aircraft or ship, its cargo, stores, baggage, crew, passengers and flight or voyage as shall be put to him by the proper Officer and (b) produce all such books and documents in his custody or control relating to the aircraft or ship, its cargo, stores, baggage, crew, passengers and flight or voyage as the proper Officer may require and (c) before any person (unless permitted by the proper Officer) disembarks, deliver to the Officer who boards such aircraft or ship on arrival at any port or place a list containing the names of each passenger on board such aircraft or ship, and also, if required by such Officer the names of the master, and of each officer and member of the crew; and if such list be not correct and complete, unless the inaccuracy or omission is explained to the satisfaction of the Collector, or if he shall not observe any of the provisions of this section, the master or his agent shall in respect of every such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Master to answer questions.

66. If after arrival within the Colony or the waters thereof bulk shall be broken contrary to section 60 or section 61, or any alteration made in the stowage of the cargo of any aircraft or ship so as to facilitate the unloading of any part of such cargo before such aircraft or ship shall have arrived at her proper place of unloading, or, not being an aircraft or ship specially allowed so to do, before report of such aircraft or ship shall have been made as hereinbefore provided, or if at any time after arrival as aforesaid any goods be staved, destroyed or thrown overboard, or any package be opened without the knowledge and consent of the proper Officer, in every such case the master or his agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, unless cause be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Penalty for wrongly breaking bulk.

67. The master of every aircraft or ship or his agent shall, if required, deliver to the Collector at the time of making report the clearance of such aircraft or ship, if any, from the port or ports from which such aircraft or ship shall have arrived.

Master to deliver previous clearance.

68. The master of every vessel arriving from any port out of the Colony at any port of the Colony other than Stanley, for the purpose of landing or receiving cargo, shall, upon being admitted to entry inwards, pay to the Officer at such port a duty of one shilling per ton on the registered tonnage of such vessel: Provided that no vessel shall be liable to a payment of a larger amount than ten pounds in respect of the aforesaid duty on each entry, and no vessel shall be suffered to clear out until the said duty has been paid, and the same and other duties collected by such Officer, shall be transmitted with all convenient speed by such Officer to the Treasurer at Stanley. All vessels liable to the payment of tonnage duties shall be liable to the same only for the first two voyages after the first day of January in any one year, and after payment of tonnage duties on such two voyages, shall be exempt from any further duties during the remainder of such year.

Tonnage dues.

69. Any Officer may seize any aircraft or ship found abandoned within the Colony or the waters thereof, and such aircraft or ship shall be forfeited, unless the owner shall claim the same within one month of the date of seizure, and satisfy the Collector that the requirements of the customs laws have been complied with.

Ship abandoned may be seized.

70. All inward cargo, shall be examined and cleared by the proper Officer in Stanley or, in the case of goods consigned to the Dependencies, by the proper Officer in the Dependency concerned, before delivery. The Collector shall, however, in circumstances which, in his opinion, so merit, have power to authorise the landing (subject to the approval of the Agricultural Advisor) of livestock at ports or places other than Stanley, without prior examination by the Customs Authorities in Stanley.

Unloading, entry, removal and delivery of goods.

71. Save in accordance with any regulation made under this Ordinance, or with the written permission of the Collector -

- (a) No goods shall be unloaded from any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony unless authority for unloading the same has been given by the proper Officer.
- (b) No goods shall be unloaded from any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony, except at an approved place of unloading or sufferance wharf approved for the purpose and all goods when so unloaded, and all goods which shall have been put into a vessel to be landed shall immediately upon being unloaded or landed be conveyed in the care of the proper Officer into the customs area, or to a King's warehouse if the Collector shall so require.
- (c) No goods shall be removed from any part of the customs area or from the King's warehouse into which the same shall have been conveyed unless such goods shall have first been duly reported and entered, and authority for the removal or delivery of the same has been given by the proper Officer.
- (d) Goods entered to be warehoused shall be removed by the importer by such ways, in such manner and within such time as the proper Officer shall direct to the warehouse for which the same are entered, and delivered into the care of the Officer in charge of the warehouse; provided that, if the Collector shall so require, the importer shall first enter into a bond for the due warehousing of such goods.

As to goods other than cargo.

72. The provisions of section 71 shall apply to the cargo of the aircraft or ship only. No goods whatsoever other than cargo, duly reported as such, shall be taken out of any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony or delivered to any person aboard such aircraft or ship other than for the consumption or use of the crew or passengers thereof except under such conditions (which conditions may vary the procedure as to reporting the aircraft or ship as required by this Ordinance) as may be prescribed in any regulations made under this Ordinance or directed by the Collector in any particular case. The term "goods" in the expression "no goods whatsoever" shall include passengers' baggage, stores, and any goods which may be taken on board any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony while such aircraft or ship is within the Colony or the waters thereof.

Forfeiture.

73. If any goods shall be unloaded, removed or dealt with contrary to the provisions of section 71 or section 72, or to the terms and conditions contained in any written permission given by the Collector, they shall be forfeited.

Delivery of bullion and coin.

74. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the delivery to the importer of any bullion or coin under the authority of the proper Officer without entry thereof, but if such importer shall not within forty-eight hours after the same shall have been removed from the importing aircraft or ship deliver to the proper Officer a full and true account thereof, including its weight and value, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Entry in absence of documents.

75. If the importer of any goods shall not be able to furnish full particulars of such goods for want of any documents or information concerning them (other than documents or information relating to the origin of such goods required by regulations made under section 8) he shall make and subscribe a declaration in the prescribed form to that effect before the Collector or proper Officer, and the Collector shall thereupon permit the importer to examine and enter the said goods, notwithstanding that there shall not be satisfactory documentary evidence regarding the same, and may allow delivery of the said goods, provided that the Collector is satisfied that the description of the goods for tariff and statistical purposes is correct and also, in the case of goods liable to duty ad valorem, that the value declared on the entry is approximately correct and in the case of goods liable to duty according to the weight or measurement thereof, that the weight or measurement declared on the entry is correct.

76. In the case of goods liable to duty ad valorem the entry made in accordance with section 75 shall be deemed provisional. The amount estimated as the duty for the purpose of making such provisional entry shall be held on deposit; and the importer shall also deposit with the Collector, in addition to the amount deposited as the estimated duty on the said goods, such sum as the Collector may require, not being less than one-half of the amount deposited as the estimated duty.

Entry provisional.

77. The sum deposited as the estimated duty as aforesaid shall be brought to account as duty, and the additional sum deposited shall be forfeited, unless the importer shall within three months, or such further period as the Collector may in any special circumstances allow, produce to the Collector satisfactory evidence of the value, and make final entry of such goods, in which case so much of the sums deposited as shall be necessary shall be brought to account as duty and the balance returned to the person who deposited the same.

Disposal of deposit.

78. The Collector may retain such samples of the goods entered under section 75 for such period up to the final entry of such goods as he shall require, and the proper Officer shall make inventory of the said goods.

Samples to be retained.

79. If the importer, having made a declaration in accordance with section 75, shall not make entry as therein provided, or if the Collector is not satisfied as aforesaid (in which case any entry which shall have been made shall be ipso facto void), the Collector shall cause the goods referred to in such declaration to be deposited in a King's warehouse and dealt with as provided in section 83.

Goods not entered after declaration.

80. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, if the Collector is satisfied, whether before or after the warehousing under section 79 of any goods liable to duty ad valorem, that it is impossible for the importer to obtain satisfactory documentary evidence of the value of such goods, or if in any case the documentary evidence relating to such goods, though not complete, is in the opinion of the Collector sufficient to enable a reliable estimate of the value to be made, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit such goods to be entered according to a value which two Officers to be appointed by the Collector for the purpose are satisfied is, as nearly as may be estimated, and not less than, the correct value of such goods.

Power to waive production of documents.

81. Where the Collector permits any goods to be entered in the absence of any document under the provisions of section 80, it shall be lawful for him to require the person entering the goods to deposit with him such additional sum as he shall require, not exceeding one-half of the duty paid upon such goods. Any sum so deposited shall be forfeited unless the person entering the goods shall produce the required document within three months of the date of entry, or unless he shall explain his failure to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Deposit in certain cases.

Goods not entered or delivered to be deposited in King's Warehouse.

82. If any goods imported in any aircraft or ship shall remain on board such aircraft or ship, or having been unloaded, shall not be entered and also delivered from the customs area within ten days from the date of importation, or such further period as the Collector may in any special circumstances allow, then such goods shall be deposited in such King's warehouse as the Collector shall direct by the agent of such aircraft or ship, or by the Collector, if there be no agent, or if the agent shall not act forthwith as herein required. Such goods shall be subject to rent and other charges as if they were goods warehoused in a King's warehouse in pursuance of an entry for warehousing.

Goods warehoused may be sold.

83. (1) Where under the provisions of this Ordinance any goods are required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and such goods are of a perishable nature, then it shall be lawful for the Collector, notwithstanding such provisions, to sell the same forthwith by public auction; and if such goods, though not perishable, are of a kind not permitted, by any other provision of law, to be deposited in a King's warehouse, it shall be lawful for the Collector, notwithstanding such provisions, to sell the same by public auction after fourteen days' notice by publication in the Gazette.

(2) Where any goods are deposited in a King's warehouse under the provisions of this Ordinance, and the same are not entered for warehousing or delivery from such King's warehouse within three months after such deposit, or within such further period as the Collector may direct, and all charges for removal, freight, and rent, and all other expenses incurred in respect thereof, duly paid, such goods may be sold by public auction after one month's notice being given by publication in the Gazette.

(3) In all cases where goods are sold under the provisions of this section, the proceeds shall be applied first in discharge of duties (if any), of the expenses of removal and sale, and of rent and charges due to the Government, and then of freight and other charges; and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the goods on his application for the same, if such application be made within two years from the time of the sale of such goods, but otherwise shall be paid into the general revenue of the Colony.

Goods not sold on being offered for sale.

84. If any goods on being offered for sale as aforesaid cannot be sold for a sum to pay all duties, expenses, rent and charges, the same may be destroyed, or otherwise disposed of as the Governor may direct.

Goods warehoused may be examined.

85. It shall be lawful for the Collector to cause any goods required to be removed under this Ordinance to a King's warehouse to be opened for examination by any Officer, as often as may be required, at the expense of the owner of such goods.

Goods may be entered by shipowner.

86. Where the owner of any goods imported in any ship into the Colony fails to make entry thereof, or having made entry, fails to land the same or to take delivery thereof by the times severally hereinafter mentioned, the shipowner or master or the agent of either, may make entry of the said goods at the times, in the manner, and subject to the conditions following, that is to say:—

- (a) If a time for the delivery of the goods is expressed in the charter party, bill of lading or agreement, then at any time after the time so expressed; and
- (b) If no time for delivery of the goods is expressed in the charter party, bill of lading or agreement, then at any time after the expiration of seventy-two hours, exclusive of a Sunday or public holiday, after the report of the ship:

Provided that if at any time before the goods are landed or unshipped, the owner of the goods is ready and offers to land or take delivery of the same, he shall be allowed to do so, and his entry shall, in such case, be preferred to any entry which may have been made by the shipowner or master, or the agent of either.

87. The periods of time mentioned in sections 82 and 86 shall be computed from the time at which the aircraft or ship and goods shall have been released from any quarantine to which they may have been subjected.

Computation of time.

88. On the arrival of any vessel from any port out of the Colony at any port in the Colony it shall be lawful for the Collector to send one or more Officers on board of such vessel to remain on board at the discretion of the Collector till all goods are landed from such vessel, and the duties (if any), shall have been paid or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, and there shall be paid for the services of every Officer so proceeding or remaining on board, as aforesaid, by the master or consignee of such vessel to the Treasurer for the purposes of general revenue, the sum of ten shillings for every day or part of a day during which such Officer shall be so employed.

Officer may remain on board at discretion of Collector: charge for Officers' services.

89. No person whether a passenger or not, shall disembark or go ashore from, or go on board any aircraft or ship that shall have arrived within the Colony or the waters thereof, save at such times, by such means, and by such ways as may be prescribed in any regulations made under this Ordinance, or otherwise as the Collector may allow.

Restrictions as to passengers and other persons.

WAREHOUSED GOODS AND GOODS DEPOSITED IN A CUSTOMS AREA.

90. It shall be lawful for the Governor from time to time by notice in the Gazette to declare what kind of goods, shall or may be warehoused upon first importation, without payment of duty thereon; and any such goods, while in any warehouse, and all goods whatsoever while in any customs area, shall be subject to such regulations as may be made under this Ordinance, and, in the case of goods deposited in a King's warehouse or customs area in the occupation or use of the Government, to the payment by the owner of such goods, at the prescribed times, of such rent and other charges as the Governor shall from time to time direct by notice in the Gazette; and if at any time any such rent or other charges shall not be paid to the Collector when due and payable on any goods in any such King's warehouse or customs area, such goods may, without prejudice to any other lawful method of recovery, be sold, or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied, as if they were goods which might be sold, or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of sections 117 and 118.

Warehouse.

91. No compensation shall be payable by Government to any importer, owner or consignee of any goods deposited in a King's warehouse or in a customs area in the occupation or use of Government, save when loss or damage occurs as the direct result of the wilful act or negligence of Government or of an Officer.

Compensation for damage to goods deposited in King's Warehouse.

92. Where under the customs laws any goods are or may be required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and for any reason the Collector may in his discretion decide that it is undesirable or inconvenient to deposit such goods in a King's warehouse, such goods shall for all purposes be deemed to be deposited in a King's warehouse as from the time that the same are required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and shall also be chargeable with such expenses for securing, watching and guarding, and of removing the same from the original to some other place or deposit (if the Collector shall so require) as the Collector shall deem reasonable, and neither the Collector nor any Officer shall be liable to make good any damage which such goods may sustain by reason or during the time of their being so deposited and dealt with as aforesaid.

Goods deemed to be in King's Warehouse.

Private warehouses
and customs areas.

93. No building or place may be used as a private warehouse, or, save with the written permission of the Collector, as a customs area, until a bond, in such sum as may from time to time in each case be required by the Collector, is given by the warehouse-keeper, or by the owner or occupier of the customs area, as the case may be, with one or more sufficient sureties, conditioned on due payment of all duties and the due observation of the provisions of the customs laws.

Hulk warehouse.

94. In all cases where it may be expedient to constitute a hulk a warehouse such hulk shall be fitted with a secure store room, and the key of such store room shall be in the custody of an Officer, who shall keep a correct account of all dutiable goods removed from the importing vessel and placed therein, but no goods shall be kept on board any such hulk for a longer period than seven days, unless by special permission in writing of the Collector, and any such goods received on board any hulk without being placed in such secure store room as aforesaid, shall be liable to forfeiture; and the owner of such hulk shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for each offence. The removal of any such goods to and from such hulk shall be carried out in the presence of one or more Officers, and there shall be paid by the owner of such hulk the sum of ten shillings per day for the services of each Officer so employed and the Collector may send one or more Officers on board such hulk there to remain during the time any dutiable goods shall be on board and the owner of such hulk shall pay for the service of each Officer at the above mentioned rate.

Officers not liable for wrong delivery.

95. No action shall be brought against the Government or any of its Officers for loss or damage sustained by goods while in any private warehouse or private customs area or hulk warehouse or for any wrong or improper delivery of goods therefrom.

Warehouse-keeper,
etc. not to enter warehouse without permission.

96. The owner or occupier of any customs area or a warehouse-keeper shall not by himself or by any person in his employ open or gain access to any building in a customs area or transit shed or private warehouse except in the presence or with the knowledge and consent of an Officer acting in the execution of his duty.

Owner of warehouse,
etc. to provide facilities.

97. The owner of any private warehouse or customs area shall provide such office accommodation and weights, scales, measures and other facilities for examining and taking an account of goods and for securing the same as the Collector may require.

Revocation of order
approving warehouse.

98. On the revocation of the appointment of any private warehouse, the duties on all the goods warehoused therein shall be paid or the goods shall be exported or removed to another warehouse within such time, not less than three months, as the Collector may direct. Notice in writing of such revocation addressed to the warehouse-keeper of the private warehouse, and left thereat, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons interested in the goods.

Disposal of goods on revocation.

99. If any goods shall not be duly exported or removed in conformity with section 98 such goods shall be taken to a King's warehouse by an Officer, and may be sold, or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied as if they were goods which might be sold or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of section 83.

Procedure as to warehousing.

100. Upon the delivery of any goods entered to be warehoused into the care of the Officer in charge of any warehouse, such Officer shall, subject to any other direction of the Collector, whether account has been taken of such goods on the quay or elsewhere, or not, take a particular account of such goods, and shall enter in a book prepared for that purpose the name of the importing aircraft or ship, and of the person in whose name such goods are entered, the number of packages, the mark and number of each package, and the description of the goods; and when the same shall have been deposited in the warehouse, with the authority of such Officer, he shall certify at the foot of the account that the entry and warehousing of the goods is complete, and such goods shall from that time be considered goods duly warehoused.

101. All goods warehoused shall be deposited in the packages in which they are imported, except such goods as are permitted to be skipped on the quay, or bulked, sorted, lotted, packed or repacked in the warehouse, in which case they shall be deposited in the packages in which they are contained when the account thereof is taken by the proper Officer on the completion of such operation.

Goods to be warehoused in packages in which imported.

102. If in the case of goods warehoused in a private warehouse any alteration shall afterwards be made in the goods or packages so deposited, or in the packing thereof in the warehouse, or in the marks or numbers of such packages, or if the same shall be removed from the part of the warehouse in which they were deposited, without the presence and sanction of the proper Officer, except for delivery after they have been duly entered, and under the authority of the proper Officer, such goods shall be forfeited.

Penalty for interfering with storage of goods in a private warehouse.

103. The Collector may direct in what different parts or divisions of any warehouse or customs area and in what manner any goods shall be deposited therein, and if any goods are deposited contrary to such directions, the occupier of such warehouse or customs area shall in respect of every package so deposited incur a penalty of five pounds, together with a further penalty of one pound for each day during which any such package shall remain so deposited.

Collector may direct stowing of goods.

104. If the occupier of any warehouse or customs area or any part thereof shall neglect the goods deposited therein so that easy access may be had to every package and parcel thereof, he shall, for every such neglect, incur a penalty of five pounds, together with a further penalty of one pound for each day during which such neglect continues.

Penalty for neglect to stow goods properly.

105. If the occupier of any warehouse or customs area, or any part thereof, shall not produce to any Officer, on his request, any goods deposited in such warehouse or customs area, or any part thereof, which shall not have been duly entered and delivered therefrom, such occupier shall, for every such neglect, incur a penalty of five pounds in respect of every package or parcel not so produced, and shall pay the duties due thereon.

Warehoused goods to produced to Officer.

106. If any goods entered to be warehoused shall not be duly warehoused by the importer in pursuance of such entry, or if any goods whatsoever, being duly warehoused or deposited in a customs area, shall be in any way concealed in or removed from the warehouse or customs area, or abstracted from any package, or transferred from one package to another, or otherwise, for the purpose of illegal mixing, removal, or concealment, they shall be forfeited.

Penalty for not warehousing etc.

107. If any person shall clandestinely open any warehouse or transit shed or, except in the presence of the proper Officer acting in the execution of his duty, gain access to the goods therein, he shall for every such offence, incur a penalty of one hundred pounds; and if any person shall enter any warehouse or any part of a customs area when forbidden by any Officer, or refuse to leave any warehouse or any part of a customs area when requested to do so by any Officer, he shall incur a penalty of ten pounds.

Penalty for illegally opening warehouse or customs area.

108. If any goods required to be previously entered shall be taken out of any warehouse or customs area without being duly entered (except as permitted by the customs laws), the warehouse-keeper or the occupier of any part of a customs area where such goods shall have been deposited shall forthwith pay the duties due upon such goods; and every person taking out any goods from any Penalty for embezzling warehoused goods etc.

warehouse or customs area, without the same having been duly entered (except as aforesaid), or who shall aid, assist, or be concerned therein, and every person who shall destroy or embezzle any goods duly warehoused or deposited in a customs area shall be guilty of an offence, and shall, on conviction, on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two years; but if such person shall be an Officer not acting in the due execution of his duty, and shall be prosecuted to conviction by the importer, consignee, or owner of such goods, no duty shall be payable for or in respect of such goods, and the damage occasioned by such destruction or embezzlement shall, with the sanction of the Governor in Executive Council, be repaid or made good to such importer, consignee, or owner by the Treasurer.

Collector may do reasonable acts to warehoused goods.

109. The Collector shall have power at the expense of the owner of goods warehoused in a King's warehouse, or deposited in a customs area in the occupation or use of the Government, to do all such reasonable acts as may by him respectively be deemed necessary for the proper custody and preservation of such goods, and shall have a lien on the said goods for expenses so incurred; but no such acts shall be done until the expiration of twenty-four hours after the owner of such goods has been notified that such acts are required, unless the Collector shall in his discretion decide that immediate action is necessary for the proper custody or preservation of the goods as aforesaid.

Owner to pay cost of action taken under section 109.

110. The importer or owner of any such goods shall pay any expenses incurred in respect thereof under section 109 at such times and in such manner as the Collector shall either generally or in any particular case direct, and if any such expenses be not paid in accordance herewith, such goods may be sold or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied as if they were goods which might be sold or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of section 118.

Removal of warehoused goods to another warehouse.

111. The removal of warehoused goods from a warehouse to any other warehouse shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance and to such other conditions as the Collector may direct.

Procedure on delivery.

112. On the delivery of any goods for removal as aforesaid, an account containing the particulars thereof shall be transmitted by the proper Officer of the port or place of removal to the proper Officer of the port or place of destination, and the person requiring the removal thereof shall enter into a bond, with such security or securities as the Collector shall require, in a sum equal at least to the duty chargeable on such goods, for the due arrival and re-warehousing thereof at the port or place of destination within such time as the proper Officer may direct; and such bond shall not be discharged unless such goods shall have been produced to the proper Officer and duly re-warehoused at the port or place of destination within the time directed by the proper Officer as aforesaid, or unless the full duties of customs shall have been paid thereon as provided in section 114, or unless such goods shall have been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, nor until the full duties due upon any deficiency of such goods not so accounted for shall have been paid.

Goods removed subject to warehouse regulations.

113. Upon the arrival of such goods at the port or place of destination, they shall be entered and warehoused, as nearly as may be subject to the laws, rules and regulations, which apply to the entry and warehousing of goods on first importation.

May be entered for use in the Colony or exportation.

114. If, upon the arrival of goods so removed as aforesaid at the port or place of destination, the parties shall be desirous forthwith to export the same, or to pay duty thereon for use within the Colony, without actually lodging the same in the warehouse for which they have been entered and examined to be re-warehoused, the Officer at such port or place may permit the same to be entered and delivered for home use, or, after all the formalities of entering and examining such goods for re-warehousing have been duly performed, to be entered and loaded for exportation, as if such goods had been actually lodged in such warehouse.

115. If any goods taken from a warehouse for removal or for exportation or use as aircraft's or ships' stores shall be removed or put on board an aircraft or ship, except with the authority or under the care of the proper Officer, and in accordance with any regulations made under this Ordinance, and in such manner, by such persons and within such time, and by such roads or ways, as such Officer shall permit or direct, such goods shall be forfeited; and if any such goods shall be illegally removed or carried away prior to being put on board the exporting or removing aircraft, ship or carriage, or from any exporting or removing aircraft, ship or carriage, in or on which the same shall have been put, the bond given in respect thereof shall be forfeited, and may forthwith be put in suit for the penalty thereof, although the time prescribed in such bond for putting the goods on board the exporting aircraft or ship, or re-warehousing such goods at the place of destination, shall not have expired; and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Removal, etc. to be subject to certain conditions.

116. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may, if in his discretion he shall decide that such action is advisable, remove goods at the cost of Government from one King's warehouse to another in any manner he may deem reasonable.

Collector may remove goods warehoused in King's warehouse.

117. All warehoused goods shall be entered and delivered either for use within the Colony, or as aircraft's or ships' stores, or for exportation not later than two years after the day on which the same were warehoused, or within such further period and in such cases as the Collector shall direct unless the owner of such goods shall be desirous of re-warehousing the same, in which case the same shall be examined by the proper Officer, and the duties due upon any deficiency or difference between the quantity ascertained on importation and the quantity found to exist on such examination, together with the necessary expenses attendant thereon, and any charges incurred in respect of the said goods, shall, subject to such allowances as are by law permitted in respect thereof, be paid to the Collector; and the quantity so found shall be re-warehoused in the name of the then owner in the same manner as on first importation; Provided that if the owner shall, with the concurrence of the warehouse-keeper, desire to re-warehouse the same according to the account taken at the importation thereof, without re-examination, such re-examination may be dispensed with, the Officer being satisfied that the same are still in the warehouse, and that there is no reason to suspect that there is any undue deficiency; but the warehouse-keeper shall be liable to make good the duty on any deficiency not allowed by law which may be discovered in the goods at the time of delivery thereof, or any earlier time.

Re-warehousing.

118. If any warehoused goods shall not be duly entered for use within the Colony, or as aircraft's or ships' stores, or exported or re-warehoused, and the duties ascertained to be due on the deficiencies as aforesaid and any charges and expenses shall not be paid at the expiration of two years from the previous entry and warehousing thereof or within such further period as shall be directed as aforesaid the same shall, after one month's notice by advertisement in the Gazette, with all convenient speed be sold by public auction, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied to payment of the duties, expenses of the sale, and of any rent and charges due to the Government, then in discharge of any lien for freight and other charges, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of such goods on his application for the same within two years from the time of sale, but otherwise shall be paid into the general revenue of the Colony;

Disposal of goods not re-warehoused.

and if such goods, on being so offered for sale, cannot be sold for a sum to pay all duties, expenses, rent and charges due to the Government, then the same may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Governor may direct; and the duties due upon any deficiency in any warehoused goods not allowed by law shall be forthwith paid by the warehouse-keeper.

Freight on goods
warehoused.

119. Any Officer having the custody of any goods which shall have come into his hands under this Ordinance shall refuse delivery thereof from a King's warehouse or other place of deposit until proof be given to his satisfaction that the freight due on such goods has been paid; provided that this section shall not apply to goods which shall have been warehoused in pursuance of an entry for warehousing.

Warehouse goods entered or sold must be removed within 14 days.

120. If any goods shall remain in any warehouse for a period of fourteen days after being entered for use within the Colony, or after being sold by public auction under the customs laws, they shall be forfeited and disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct, unless the failure to remove the same shall be explained to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Delivery in special circumstances.

121. The Collector may permit any goods to be taken out of any warehouse or customs area without payment of duty for such purpose and for such period as to him may appear expedient, and in such quantities, and under such regulations and restrictions, and with such security by bond for the due return thereof, or the payment of the duties due thereon, as he may direct or require; and if any such goods shall be dealt with in any way contrary to the terms of such permission or to such regulations or restrictions, the same shall be forfeited.

Stores.

122. The Collector may permit warehoused goods to be delivered as stores for a ship of not less than thirty tons burden, or an aircraft, in accordance with section 148; and if any goods taken from a warehouse for use as stores shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered, or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, or shall be dealt with in any way contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited.

Duty to be paid according to original account.

123. The duties to be paid when warehoused goods are entered for use within the Colony shall not be less in amount than would have been payable according to the value or quantity thereof at the time of importation except as to the following goods, namely, tobacco in leaf, oil in casks, wine in casks, malt liquor in casks, and spirits in casks, the duties whereon, when cleared from the warehouse for use within the Colony, shall be chargeable upon the quantity of such goods ascertained by weight, measure, or strength at the time of actual delivery thereof, unless there is reasonable ground to suppose that any portion of any deficiency has been caused by illegal abstraction.

Goods entered for
from import duty.

124. Subject to the observance by the exporter of all the provisions of the customs laws and of the conditions of any bond, no import duty shall be charged in respect of any goods entered under bond for the due exportation and landing thereof in a place outside the Colony, or for use as aircraft's or ships' stores in accordance with section 148, and delivered from any warehouse or customs area, unless the Collector has reasonable grounds to suppose that any deficiency in any such goods, or any part thereof, has arisen from illegal abstraction, in which case duty shall be paid on such deficiency by the owner of such goods.

LOADING AND EXPORTATION OF GOODS.

Entry Outwards.

125. The master of every ship, in which any goods are to be exported, or his agent, shall, before any goods be taken on board, deliver to the proper Officer at the port at which such ship shall have first arrived an entry outwards of such ship, verified by his signature, in the prescribed form, and containing the several particulars indicated in or required thereby, and in such entry outwards the master or his agent shall declare that no imported goods are left on board such ship other than such goods and stores as shall be specified in the entry outwards.

126. The master of every ship to which provisions of section 125 apply shall if required obtain from the proper Officer a certificate of rummage in the prescribed form. If he desires to obtain such certificate before the whole of the inward cargo of the ship has been discharged, he shall remove and stow the inward cargo remaining on board such ship in such manner as such Officer shall direct in order to enable him to rummage the ship, and after the ship has been rummaged, shall stow the inward cargo remaining on board separately and keep it separate to the satisfaction of the proper Officer from any coastwise or any outward cargo that may subsequently be put into such ship.

Rummage certificate may be granted before completion of discharge.

127. Before any aircraft or ship required to report at any port in the Colony shall depart therefrom to load cargo at another port or place in the Colony, the master or his agent shall, in respect of each port or place at which he desires to load cargo, obtain from the proper Officer a loading licence in duplicate in the prescribed form, and containing the prescribed particulars, and signed by such Officer, and, before leaving the port at which such licence is issued, shall enter on both copies of the licence particulars of the cargo and of any stores loaded or remaining on board from the inward voyage at such port.

Loading Licence.

128. After the loading of any goods under the authority of a loading licence shall have been completed, the master shall proceed with such aircraft or ship forthwith to an approved port, where all the provisions of the customs laws shall be complied with, as nearly as may be, as if such goods had been loaded at such port, unless the proper Officer shall otherwise direct.

Procedure after loading under loading licence.

129. When loading has been completed at any port or place for which a loading licence has been issued, before the aircraft or ship departs from such port or place, the master or his agent shall enter on both copies of the licence particulars of the cargo loaded and of any stores taken on board at such port or place, showing the number of packages loaded and the quantity and description of the goods, and shall sign the same and deliver one copy to the proper Officer at the port of loading before leaving the port, or, if the goods have been loaded at a place other than a port, then at such place and to such person as shall be named in the licence; and the master or his agent shall deliver the remaining copy of the licence together with the content required to be delivered to the proper Officer in accordance with section 151.

Completion and delivery of licence after loading.

130. If any goods shall be taken on board any aircraft or ship at any port or place contrary to the provisions of sections 125 to 129, or if any of the requirements of the said sections 125 to 129 shall not be observed, the master of such aircraft or ship or his agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for breach of sections 125 to 129.

131. Nothing contained in sections 125 to 129 shall be deemed to authorise the loading of goods except from an approved place of loading, unless specially allowed by the Collector under section 137.

Limitation of authority granted as aforesaid.

132. The Governor may by notice to the Collector in writing under his hand direct that any or all of the provisions of sections 125 to 130 shall not apply to aircraft, either generally, or in any particular case, during any period specified in the notice.

Non application to aircraft.

133. On arrival at any port or place in the Colony of any ship, about to deliver cargo at more than one port or place in the Restrictions as to carriage coastwise.

Colony, or having on board any goods duly reported for exportation in the same ship, it shall be lawful, subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, or to such conditions as the Collector may deem necessary to allow the entry outwards of such ship, and to permit the loading of goods for exportation in such ship or for carriage coastwise as provided in section 161, before the whole of the goods imported in such ship shall have been discharged therefrom, the complete separation of such goods from the inward cargo and from any cargo remaining on board for exportation being effected to the satisfaction of the proper Officer.

Restriction on exportation of certain goods.

134. No person shall export or attempt to export any warehoused goods, or goods liable to duties of customs transferred from an importing aircraft or ship, or goods entitled to drawback on exportation (not being wines, spirits, tobacco, cigars, cigarillos or cigarettes), nor shall enter or attempt to enter any such goods for exportation in any ship of less burden than five tons.

Penalty.

135. Any person who shall export or enter or attempt to export or enter, any goods contrary to section 134 or place any goods on board a ship of less size than is thereby permitted for exportation shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds, and such goods shall be forfeited.

General provisions as to loading and exportation of goods.

136. Except as provided in section 137, no goods shall be put on board any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, or be put into any vessel to be water-borne, or be water-borne, to be put on board any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores from any port or place in the Colony without the authority of the proper Officer, nor before any due entry outwards of the exporting aircraft or ship, if the same is by law required to be entered outwards, nor before such goods are duly entered, and no goods having been put into any vessel to be waterborne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, shall be put on board the exporting aircraft or ship outside the limits of any port; and it shall be lawful for any Officer to open and examine all goods put on board any aircraft or ship or brought to any place in the Colony to be put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or for use as stores.

Collector may relax conditions of shipment.

137. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 136, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit any goods to be put on board any aircraft or ship under such conditions as he may either generally or in any particular case direct, and in like manner the Collector may direct what goods need not be entered by the exporter until after the departure of any aircraft or ship, but if any such goods must be entered within twenty-four hours of such departure, unless the Collector shall otherwise allow; provided that where any goods are permitted to be entered after being put on board, the Collector may in such case require the agent of the master or owner of the aircraft or ship to give security for the payment of any export duties of customs on any goods liable thereto under such conditions, and subject to such charges to be paid to the agent by the exporter of any such goods, as the Governor in Executive Council may prescribe.

Vessels loading goods into ship to proceed direct.

138. Any goods which have been put into any vessel to be water-borne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores shall be taken directly and without delay to the aircraft or ship in which the same are to be exported or used as stores, and put on board forthwith.

Permission required to discharge goods loaded.

139. No goods having been put on board any aircraft or ship in accordance with section 150, or for exportation, or as stores, shall be discharged in any part of the Colony without the written permission of the proper Officer, and except in accordance with such conditions as the Collector shall impose.

Forfeiture on breach of sections 136 to 139.

140. If any person shall put or attempt to put any goods on board any aircraft or ship or discharge, or attempt to discharge, or deal with any goods in any way contrary to the provisions of sections 136 to 139 such goods shall be forfeited.

141. If any Officer shall place any lock, mark or seal upon any goods or stores taken on board any aircraft or ship in the Colony, and such lock, mark or seal be wilfully opened, altered or broken, or if such goods or stores be secretly conveyed away either while such aircraft or ship remains in the Colony, or on her passage from one port or place in the Colony to another before the final departure of such aircraft or ship on a flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony, the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and such goods or stores shall be forfeited.

Penalty for interfering with goods secured by Officer.

142. If any person shall put on board any aircraft or ship, or put off or put into any vessel to be water-borne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, or bring to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or any place whatever in the Colony for exportation or use as stores, or export any goods prohibited to be exported, or any goods the exportation of which is restricted, contrary to such restriction, or attempt to perform or be knowingly concerned in the performance of any of the aforesaid acts, he shall (except as otherwise provided in section 135) incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector; and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Penalty for attempting to ship prohibited goods.

143. Before any warehoused goods, or goods entitled to any drawback on being put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores or for exportation, or goods exportable only under particular rules, regulations or restrictions, or goods liable to duties of customs intended for transfer from an importing to an exporting aircraft or ship shall be permitted to be entered for use as stores, or for exportation or for transfer as aforesaid, the exporter shall give such security by bond as the Collector may require that such goods shall be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered and shall be used as stores (if so entered) or else exported to and discharged at the place for which they are entered within such time as the Collector may deem reasonable, or be otherwise accounted for to his satisfaction.

Bond to be given in certain cases.

144. If any goods for which bond is required under section 143, or any goods liable to export duties of customs be put on board any aircraft or ship, or brought to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or other place to be put on board an aircraft or ship and shall on examination by the proper Officer be found not to agree with the entered particulars thereof, or being goods on which drawback shall be claimed or allowed shall be found to be goods not entitled to drawback, all such goods shall be forfeited; and the exporter of such goods shall in every such case incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the amount of the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Offences relating to bonded goods.

145. If any goods for which bond is required under section 143, after being entered and put on board an aircraft or ship, shall be used otherwise than as stores (if so entered) or shall not be duly exported to and discharged at the declared destination (such goods not having been discharged in the Colony with the permission of the proper Officer as provided in section 139 or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector) the same shall be forfeited; and the master of the aircraft or ship in which such goods shall have been put shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for not exporting.

146. If any person who shall have entered any goods for which bond is required under section 143 shall fail, in case such goods or any of them shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same shall have been entered, to attend the proper Officer within twenty-four hours of the time of clearance of the air-

Short loading of bonded goods.

craft or ship, or such further period as the Collector may allow, and notify such Officer of the short loading of such goods, and re-warehouse or re-enter for exportation or use as stores in some other aircraft or ship within such period of twenty-four hours any such goods which shall have been removed from a warehouse for exportation or use as stores, any such goods entered as aforesaid shall be forfeited.

Exporter to notify short loading of non-bonded goods.

147. If any exporter who shall have entered any goods, not being goods for which bond is required, for exportation in any aircraft or ship shall fail, in case such goods or any of them shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered, to attend the proper Officer within twenty-four hours after the departure of such aircraft or ship, or such period as the Collector may allow and notify such Officer of the short loading of such goods, he shall incur a penalty of five pounds.

Collector may allow shipment of stores.

148. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the customs laws, and subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, the Collector may, upon due request being made, permit the master of any aircraft or ship departing from any port in the Colony upon a flight or voyage to any place outside the Colony to take on board stores (not being goods prohibited to be exported) for the use of such aircraft or ship, and of the master, crew and passengers, upon payment of any export duty leviable on the like kind of goods exported, and upon such other terms and conditions as the Collector may direct, and in such quantities as the Collector in his discretion shall deem reasonable; and every such request shall be made on the prescribed form and contain the particulars required thereby or indicated therein, and shall be signed by the master or his agent; and no stores shall be put on board for the use of any aircraft or ship, nor shall any articles taken on board any aircraft or ship be deemed to be stores, except such as shall be or have been put on board such aircraft or ship in accordance with the provisions hereof.

Drawback and transshipment of goods.

149. The provisions of the customs laws with reference to the exportation of warehoused goods, so far as they are applicable, shall be deemed to apply to and include goods liable to duties of customs transferred from an importing to an exporting aircraft or ship, and goods exported on drawback.

Loading of goods other than cargo or stores.

150. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of the customs laws, and subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the loading of passengers' baggage, and also to permit any person to take on board any aircraft or ship any goods for sale or delivery to the passengers, officers, or crew of such aircraft or ship, or for such other purpose as the Collector shall allow, under such conditions as he may either generally or in any particular case direct; but if any goods, not being part of the cargo or authorised stores of any aircraft or ship, shall be taken on board any aircraft or ship which is about to proceed to any place outside the Colony or which has any goods remaining on board thereof from a voyage from a place outside the Colony, or if any attempt shall be made to put any such goods on board any such aircraft or ship without the permission of or contrary to any conditions directed as aforesaid by the Collector, or otherwise contrary to the customs laws, the same shall be forfeited.

DEPARTURE AND CLEARANCE OF AIRCRAFT AND SHIPS.

Clearance of aircraft or ships

151. The master of every aircraft or ship shall immediately before leaving the Colony on any flight or voyage to any place outside the Colony attend before the proper Officer, and shall answer all such questions as shall be demanded of him by such Officer concerning the aircraft or ship, the cargo, the stores, the baggage, the officers, crew and passengers and the flight or voyage, and shall deliver to and sign in the presence of the proper Officer an account of all cargo and stores on board such ship within the Colony, as well as of any cargo and stores which shall have been brought to the Colony in such ship, and shall have remained on board for exportation or for use as stores; and such account shall be in the prescribed form and shall contain the names of all passengers, and of the master, officers and crew of such ship, and, when signed by the proper Officer, shall be the clearance and authority for the departure of such ship from the Colony.

152. If any such aircraft or ship shall depart from the Colony to any place outside the Colony without the delivery of such content in accordance with section 151 or if any ship as aforesaid shall so depart without authority having been granted under section 151 the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, and if any of the particulars contained in any such content or account as aforesaid be false, or if any of the required particulars be omitted therefrom and such omission be not explained to the satisfaction of the Collector, the master or agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for not clearing.

153. If any ship shall depart in ballast from the Colony to any place outside the Colony, not having any goods on board except stores duly shipped as such, nor any goods reported inwards for exportation in such ship, the Collector shall, on the application of the master or his agent, clear such ship in ballast; and the master of such ship or his agent shall comply with the customs laws as if such ship had cargo on board except that the words "in ballast" shall be written on the prescribed forms in the places which are provided for particulars of cargo.

Clearance in ballast.

154. For the purposes of section 153, ships having only passengers with their bona fide baggage on board, in addition to stores as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be in ballast.

Ships with passengers and baggage deemed in ballast.

155. Any Officer may go on board any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, and demand the clearance of such ship, and if the master shall not produce the same, or if the master of any aircraft or ship whatsoever which may be boarded as aforesaid by an Officer shall not answer or shall not truly answer such questions concerning the aircraft or ship, the cargo, stores, baggage, officers, crew, passengers and intended flight or voyage as may be demanded of him, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Clearance etc. to be produced to Officer on demand.

156. If there be any goods or stores on board any aircraft or ship which may have been boarded by an Officer within the Colony or the waters thereof not contained in the content or account required to be signed as the clearance of such aircraft or ship (if any) such goods or stores shall be forfeited, and the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or of treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Goods not contained in account forfeited.

157. If any Officer having boarded any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof after clearance, shall discover that any goods which were loaded within the Colony on board thereof as stores or for exportation or which at the time of clearance remained on board from the inward voyage, be no longer on board such aircraft or ship (unless the same shall have been discharged in the Colony, with the permission of the proper Officer, as provided in section 139 or, being stores remaining on board from the inward voyage, shall in the opinion of the proper Officer not exceed the quantity which might fairly have been consumed, having regard to the period which such aircraft or ship shall have been within the Colony or the waters thereof), the master shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds for every package or parcel of such goods not on board, or a penalty of treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for failure to produce goods.

Deficiency in stores.
etc.

158. If any aircraft or ship, having departed from the Colony on a flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony and having returned within the Colony or the waters thereof, is boarded by an Officer, and if such Officer shall discover any deficiency in the stores of such aircraft or ship which in his opinion shall be in excess of the quantity which might fairly have been consumed, having regard to the period which has elapsed between the departure of such aircraft or ship and the discovery of the deficiency, the master shall pay the duties on such deficiency at the rate chargeable on similar goods imported, and in addition shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Officers to be set down
by departing aircraft
or ship. etc.

159. If any aircraft or ship departing from the Colony shall not bring to at the proper boarding station for setting down Officers, or for any other purpose required by the customs laws, or shall depart on a flight or voyage with any Officer on board without the assent of such Officer, the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

COASTING TRADE.

Definition.

160. Except as provided in section 161, all trade by sea or by air from any one part of the Colony to any other part thereof shall be deemed to be coasting trade, and all aircraft and ships while employed therein shall be deemed to be coasting aircraft and coasting ships, and if any doubt shall at any time arise as to what, or to or from what parts of the Colony shall be deemed a passage by sea, the Governor may determine and direct in what cases the trade by water from one port or place in the Colony to another of the same shall or shall not be deemed a trade by sea within the meaning of the customs laws.

Exception in regard to aircraft and ships from places outside the Colony.

161. Notwithstanding any provisions in the customs laws to the contrary, it shall be lawful for the proper Officer, on the arrival from a place outside the Colony of any aircraft or ship having on board cargo intended to be delivered at more than one port or place in the Colony, to permit such aircraft or ship to convey goods from any port at which such aircraft or ship shall partially discharge her cargo to any other port or place in the Colony for delivery there, upon the complete separation of such goods from the inward cargo still on board being effected to the satisfaction of the proper Officer, but such conveyance of goods from one port or place to another shall not constitute the aircraft or ship a coasting aircraft or coasting ship within the meaning of the customs laws. The loading, unloading and conveyance of goods under this section shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance and to such conditions as the Collector may impose, and if any goods shall be loaded, unloaded, conveyed or dealt with contrary to such regulations or conditions, the goods shall be forfeited, and the master of the aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Licence for coasting ship.

162. No ship shall trade coastwise within the Colony unless she is provided with a licence in the prescribed form to be issued by the Collector, which licence shall expire on the thirty-first day of December in each year. Every ship trading contrary to this section shall be forfeited, and the master of the ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Coasting aircraft or ship to take only
coastwise cargo.

163. No goods shall be carried in any coasting aircraft or ship except such as shall be loaded to be carried coastwise at some port or place in the Colony.

Offences.

164. If any coasting aircraft or ship shall deviate from its flight or voyage, unless forced by unavoidable circumstances, whereof the proof shall lie on the master of such aircraft or ship, or if the master of any coasting aircraft or ship which shall have deviated from its flight or voyage, or shall have taken on board any wrecked or other goods or discharged any goods in the course of a flight or voyage from one part of the Colony to another shall not enter an account of the circumstances and of any goods so taken on board or discharged in the cargo book hereinafter referred to, and proceed forthwith direct to the nearest port in the Colony, and declare and explain the same to the satisfaction of the proper Officer, and deliver all goods so taken on board into his care, such master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

165. Tobacco, cigars, cigarillos, cigarettes, wines and spirits shall not be put on board any aircraft or ship for carriage coastwise except at an approved place of loading or sufferance wharf and in the presence or with the authority of an Officer, and if any such goods shall be put on board contrary hereto, or if any attempt is made so to put them, such goods shall be forfeited.

Special conditions as to certain goods.

166. If any goods shall be discharged from any aircraft or ship arriving coastwise, or from any vessel into which the same shall have been put to be landed, or be put on board or be put into any vessel to be water-borne, or be water-borne to be put on board any aircraft or ship for carriage coastwise on Sundays or public holidays, or except between half past seven in the morning and half past four in the afternoon on any other day, save with the written permission of the Collector, the same shall be forfeited, and the master of the aircraft, ship or vessel shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds, and the aircraft, ship or vessel may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Coastwise cargo not to be put on board on Sunday, etc.

167. If any person shall put on board any coasting aircraft or ship, or put off, or put into any vessel to be put on board any coasting aircraft or ship, or bring to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or any place whatever in the Colony for carriage coastwise or carry coastwise any goods prohibited to be carried coastwise, or any goods the carriage of which is restricted contrary to such restriction, or attempt to perform, or be knowingly concerned in the performance of any of the aforesaid acts, he shall incur a penalty of two hundred pounds, and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Prohibited goods.

168. The master of every coasting aircraft or ship shall keep, or cause to be kept, a cargo book, stating the name of the aircraft or ship, the master, and the port to which the aircraft or ship belongs, and of the port or place to which it is bound on each flight or voyage, and, unless the Collector otherwise directs, shall at every port or place of loading, enter in such book the name of such port or place, and an account of all goods there taken on board such aircraft or ship, stating the descriptions of the packages, and the quantities and descriptions of any goods stowed loose, and the names of the respective consignors and consignees, and shall at every port or place of discharge of such goods note the respective days on which the same, or any of them, are delivered out of such aircraft or ship, and the respective times of departure from every port or place of loading and of arrival at every port or place of discharge.

Master to keep cargo book.

169. The master of every coasting aircraft or ship shall, on demand, produce the cargo book for the inspection of any Officer, who shall be at liberty to make any note or remark therein; and if upon examination any package entered in the cargo book as containing imported goods shall be found not to contain such goods, such package with its contents shall be forfeited; or if any package shall be found to contain imported goods not entered in such book, such goods shall be forfeited.

Master to produce cargo book on demand.

170. If such master shall fail correctly to keep or cause to be correctly kept such cargo book, or to produce the same, or if at any time there be found on board such aircraft or ship any goods not entered in such book as loaded, or any goods noted as delivered, or if any goods entered as loaded and not noted as delivered be not on board, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Penalty for failure to keep cargo book correctly.

Governor may impose special conditions.

171. Notwithstanding any other provisions contained in this Ordinance, it shall be lawful for the Governor, by notice in the Gazette, to require the masters or agents of all or any coasting aircraft or ship or ships to deliver to the Collector, prior to the departure from any port or place of such aircraft or ship or ships, an account of all cargo and stores taken on board, in such manner as may be specified in the said notice; and if any coasting aircraft or ship shall depart contrary to the provisions of any such notice the master and owner shall each incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Form of cargo book.

172. The cargo book shall be in the prescribed form, and shall contain such particulars in addition to, or in lieu of the particulars required by sections 168 to 171 as the form prescribed as aforesaid shall indicate or require; and if such cargo book is not in the form prescribed as aforesaid, the master of the aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of ten pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Coastwise passengers, etc.

173. The carriage of passengers, officers and crew coastwise, whether in a coasting aircraft or ship or not, shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance.

Master to deliver cargo book to Officer before departure.

174. Before any coasting aircraft or ship shall depart from her port or place of loading, her cargo book containing the several particulars required by this Ordinance, and signed by the master shall be delivered to the proper Officer, who shall return it dated and signed by him, and such cargo book shall be the clearance of the aircraft or ship for the voyage; and if the master shall fail to deliver such cargo book he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Procedure where no Officer is stationed.

175. Any coasting aircraft or ship taking cargo on board at a place where no Officer is stationed to be carried coastwise may depart from such place without delivering such cargo book, on condition that the master of the aircraft or ship shall produce the cargo book to the proper Officer at the first place where an Officer is stationed at which such aircraft or ship arrives after loading, and the Officer shall thereupon sign such book, if satisfied as to its correctness.

Master to deliver cargo book on arrival.

176. Immediately after the arrival of any coasting aircraft or ship at her port or place of discharge and before any goods be unloaded, the cargo book with the name of the place or wharf where the cargo is to be discharged noted thereon shall be delivered to the proper Officer, who shall note thereon the date of delivery; provided that a coasting aircraft or ship having cargo duly loaded to be carried coastwise may discharge at a place where no Officer is stationed without delivering the cargo book as herein required, on condition that the cargo book, containing an account of the cargo so discharged is produced to the proper Officer at the first place where an Officer is stationed at which the aircraft or ship arrives after discharging; and if any goods are unloaded or if any goods are loaded on board any aircraft or ship and carried coastwise, or be brought to any port or place in the Colony for that purpose, contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited.

Collector may vary procedure.

177. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may permit the loading and clearance and the entry and unloading of any coasting aircraft or ship and goods under such regulations or conditions as he may make or direct.

Cargo book, etc. to be delivered to Officer on demand.

178. Any Officer may go on board any coasting aircraft or ship in any port or place in the Colony or on any coasting ship at any period of her voyage, and search such aircraft or ship and examine all goods on board, and all goods then being loaded or unloaded, and demand all books or documents which ought to be on board such aircraft or ship, and may require all or any such books or documents to be brought to him for inspection, and the master shall answer all such questions concerning the aircraft or ship and its cargo, officers, crew, passengers and the flight or voyage as may be put to him by such Officer; and if the master shall refuse to produce such books and documents on demand, or to bring the same to such Officer when required, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

179. It shall be lawful for the Collector, subject to such conditions as he may require to be observed, to permit the master of any aircraft or ship bringing any goods coastwise to an approved port to enter such aircraft or ship and goods or any of them outwards for exportation without first discharging the same.

Coasting aircraft or ship may be entered outward in certain cases.

PREVENTION OF SMUGGLING.

180. If any aircraft or ship shall be found or discovered to have been within the waters of the Colony, or within or over the Colony, which has any secret or disguised place adapted for concealing goods, or any device adapted for running goods, or which has on board or in any manner attached thereto, or which has had on board or in any manner attached thereto, or which is conveying or has conveyed in any manner any goods imported contrary to the customs laws, or from which any part of the contents of such aircraft or ship shall have been thrown overboard to prevent seizure, or on board which any goods shall have been staved or destroyed to prevent seizure, then in every such case every person who shall be found or discovered to have been on board any such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and all such goods shall be forfeited; provided that no person shall be liable to conviction under this section unless there shall be reasonable cause to believe that such person was concerned in or privy to the illegal act or thing proved to have been committed.

Penalty on persons found on board smuggling ships.

181. Every ship of less than 250 tons burden on board which, or in respect of which, any offence against section 180 shall be committed shall be forfeited.

Smuggling ships under 250 tons forfeited.

182. (1) With regard to aircraft or any ship of or exceeding two hundred and fifty tons burden, on board or in respect of which any offence against section 180 shall be committed, such aircraft or ship shall not be forfeited for such offence, but the following provisions shall apply :—

Penalty on smuggling aircraft and ships of 250 tons or more.

- (a) The Collector shall have power, subject to appeal to the Governor, to fine any such aircraft or ship in any sum not exceeding fifty pounds, in any case where in his opinion a responsible Officer (as hereinafter defined) of such aircraft or ship is implicated either actually or by neglect;
- (b) For the purpose of enforcing such fine, the Collector shall have power to require the deposit in his hands, at the port where such aircraft or ship shall be, of such sum, not exceeding fifty pounds, as he may think right, pending the ultimate decision, and in default of payment of such deposit the Collector shall have power to withhold clearance and to detain the said aircraft or ship;
- (c) If in any case the Collector shall consider that the fine of fifty pounds aforesaid will not be an adequate penalty against any such aircraft or ship for the offence committed thereon, it shall be lawful for him to take proceedings for condemnation of the said aircraft or ship in a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds at the discretion of the Court. And for this purpose the Collector may, as to any aircraft or ship referred to in this section, require the deposit in his hands as aforesaid of a sum not exceeding five hundred pounds, to abide the decision of the Court, and in default of payment of such deposit the Collector may withhold clearance and detain such aircraft or ship;

- (d) No claim shall be made against the Collector for damages in respect of the payment of any deposit, or for the detention of any aircraft or ship under this section.

(2) The expression "responsible Officer" in this section shall include the master, mates and engineers of any ship, and in the case of a ship carrying a passenger certificate, the purser or chief steward, and where the ship is manned by Asiatic seamen, the serang or other leading Asiatic Officer, and, in the case of an aircraft, the pilot, navigator, chief steward or chief engineer. The expression "neglect" in this section shall include cases where goods unowned by any of the crew are discovered in a place or places in which they could not reasonably have been put or remained if the responsible officer or officers having supervision of such place or places had exercised proper care at the time of loading of the aircraft or ship or subsequently.

Ship forfeited for offence during chase.

183. If any ship within the waters of the Colony, shall not bring to upon the proper signal made by any vessel or boat in His Majesty's service or in the service of the customs, whereupon chase shall be given, and any person on board such ship shall during chase or before such ship shall bring to, or upon bringing to throw overboard any part of her contents, or shall stave or destroy any part thereof to prevent seizure, such ship shall be forfeited.

Penalty for not bringing to.

184. If any aircraft or ship liable to seizure or examination under the customs laws shall not bring to when required so to do and so remain for such period as the boarding Officer shall require, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Offences by smugglers, etc. against Officers.

185. (1) If any person shall maliciously shoot at any aircraft or ship in the service of the customs, or shall maliciously shoot at, maim or wound any Officer in the execution of his office or duty, or with violence commit any of the offences mentioned in sub-section (4) of this section, every person so offending, and every person aiding, abetting or assisting therein shall, upon conviction on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be adjudged guilty of felony, and shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding fifteen years.

(2) If any person engaged, or who shall have been engaged, in the commission of any offence against the customs laws, be armed with firearms or other offensive weapons, or, whether so armed or not, be disguised in any way, or being so armed or disguised shall be found with any goods liable to forfeiture under the customs laws, he shall, on conviction on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three years.

(3) If any person shall by any means procure or hire, or shall depute or authorize any other person to procure or hire any person to assist in any evasion of the customs laws, he shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding twelve months.

(4) If any person shall stave, break, or destroy any goods to prevent seizure thereof by an Officer or other person authorized to seize the same, or shall rescue, or stave, break or destroy to prevent the securing thereof any goods seized by an Officer or other person authorized to seize the same, or rescue any person apprehended for any offence punishable by a pecuniary penalty or imprisonment under the customs laws, or prevent the apprehension of any such person, or obstruct any Officer going, remaining or returning from on board an aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, or in searching an aircraft or ship, or in searching a person liable to be searched under the customs laws, or in seizing any goods liable to forfeiture, or otherwise acting in the execution of his duty, or attempt or endeavour to commit, or aid, abet or assist in the commission of any of the offences mentioned in this subsection, he shall for each such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

(5) If any person, not being an Officer, takes or assumes the name, designation, appearance or character of an Officer for the purpose of thereby obtaining admission into any aircraft or ship, house or other place, or of doing or procuring to be done any act which he would not be entitled to do or procure to be done of his own authority, or for any other unlawful purpose, he shall in addition to any other punishment to which he may be liable for the offence, be liable, on conviction, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three months.

(6) In this section "violence" means any criminal force or harm to any person, or any criminal mischief to any property, or any threat or offer of such force, harm or mischief, or the carrying or use of deadly, dangerous or offensive weapons in such manner as that terror is likely to be caused to any person, or such conduct as is likely to cause in any person a reasonable apprehension of criminal force, harm or mischief to them or to their property.

186. (1) No person shall make or cause to be made, or aid, or assist in making any signal in or on board or from any aircraft or ship, or on or from any part of the Colony, for the purpose of giving notice to any person on board any smuggling aircraft or ship, whether any person so on board of such aircraft or ship be or be not within distance to notice any such signal; and if any person shall make or cause to be made, or aid or assist in making any such signal, he shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding twelve months.

Penalty for signalling to smuggling aircraft or ship.

(2) If any person be charged with having made or caused to be made, or with aiding or assisting in making any such signal as aforesaid, the burden of proof that such signal so charged as having been made with intent and for the purpose of giving such notice as aforesaid was not made with such intent and for such purpose shall be upon the defendant against whom such charge is made.

(3) Any person whatsoever may prevent any signal being made as aforesaid, and may go upon any lands for that purpose, without being liable to any indictment, suit or action for the same.

(4) For the purposes of this section any ship to which a signal is made as aforesaid, and which changes its course, or, if at anchor, weighs anchor, or from which any signal is made, following any signal made from an aircraft or ship or any part of the Colony as aforesaid, shall, for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a smuggling ship, unless the contrary be proved.

187. Every person who shall cut away, cast adrift, remove, alter, deface, sink or destroy, or in any other way injure or conceal any aircraft, ship, buoy, anchor, chain, rope or mark in the charge of or used by any person for the prevention of smuggling, or in or for use of the service of the customs, shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Penalty for interfering with customs gear.

188. If any person, not being an Officer, shall intermeddle with or take up any spirits or any goods prohibited to be imported or exported, being in packages found floating upon or sunk into the sea, such spirits or goods prohibited to be imported or exported shall be forfeited, and every such person shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Intermeddling with goods found floating.

Writs of assistance.

189. All writs of assistance issued from the Supreme Court (which is hereby authorized and required to grant such writs upon application by the Collector) shall continue in force during the reign for which they were granted and for six months afterwards; and any Officer having such writ of assistance may, by day or by night, enter into and search any house, shop, cellar, warehouse, room or other place, and in case of resistance break open doors, chests, trunks, and other packages, and seize and bring away any uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating thereto, and put and secure the same in a King's warehouse.

Search warrant.

190. If any Officer shall have reasonable cause to suspect that any uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating to uncustomed or prohibited goods, are harboured, kept or concealed in any house or other place in the Colony, and it shall be made to appear by information on oath before the Magistrate or Justice of the Peace in the Colony, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Justice of the Peace by special warrant under his hand to authorize such Officer to enter and search such house or other place, by day or by night, and to seize and carry away any such uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating to uncustomed or prohibited goods, as may be found therein; and it shall be lawful for such Officer, in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other impediment or obstruction to such entry, search or seizure as aforesaid.

Officer may stop carriage.

191. Any Officer may upon reasonable suspicion stop and examine any carriage to ascertain whether any uncustomed or prohibited goods are contained therein; and, if none shall be found, the Officer shall not on account of such stoppage and examination be liable to any prosecution or action at law; and any person driving or conducting such carriage refusing to stop or allow such examination when required by any Officer shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Officer may patrol freely, etc.

192. Any Officer, when on duty, and having the authority of the Collector, may patrol upon and pass freely either on foot or otherwise along and over and enter any part of the Colony other than a dwelling house or other building and any such Officer so proceeding shall not be liable to any indictment, action or suit for so doing.

Officer may moor patrol craft.

193. The Officer in charge of any aircraft or ship employed for the prevention of smuggling may land or haul any such aircraft or ship upon any part of the Colony which shall be deemed most convenient for that purpose, and moor any such aircraft or ship on any part of the Colony, and continue such aircraft or ship so moored as aforesaid for such time as he shall deem necessary and proper; and such Officer shall not be liable to any indictment, action or suit for so doing.

GENERAL.

General Penalty.

194. Save as otherwise provided in section 195 any person who shall be convicted of any offence against the customs laws for which no specific penalty is provided shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Penalty in cases of forfeiture.

195. Where any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods become liable to forfeiture under the customs laws, any person who shall be knowingly concerned in the act or omission which renders the same liable to forfeiture shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance, and shall incur the penalty provided by this Ordinance in respect of such offence, or, where no such penalty is provided, shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of any goods seized, at the election of the Collector; and any such person may be arrested and detained by any Officer, and taken before a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law. Provided that no person shall be arrested whilst actually on board any aircraft or ship in the service of a foreign state or country.

196. If any person shall in any matter relating to the customs, or under the control or management of the Collector, make and subscribe, or cause to be made and subscribed, any false declaration, or make or sign, or cause to be made or signed any declaration, certificate or other instrument, required to be verified by signature only, the same being false in any particular, or if any person shall make or sign any declaration made for the consideration of the Collector on any application presented to him, the same being untrue in any particular, or if any person required by the customs laws to answer questions put to him by an Officer shall refuse to answer such questions, or if any person shall answer untruly any questions put to him by any Officer acting in the execution of his duty, or if any person shall counterfeit, falsify or wilfully use when counterfeited or falsified any document required by the customs laws, or by or under the directions of the Collector, or any instrument used in the transaction of any business or matter relating to the customs, or shall alter any document or instrument after the same has been officially issued, or counterfeit the seal, signature, initials or other mark of or used by any Officer for the verification of any such document or instrument, or for the security of goods, or any other purpose in the conduct of business relating to the customs or under the control or management of the Collector, or shall on any document or instrument required for the purpose of the customs laws counterfeit or imitate the seal, signature, initials or other mark of or made use of by any other person whatsoever, whether with or without the consent of such person, every person so offending shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds.

Penalty for false declaration, etc.

197. Every person who shall import or bring or be concerned in importing or bringing into the Colony any prohibited goods, or any goods the importation of which is restricted, contrary to such prohibition or restriction, whether the same be unloaded or not, or shall unload, or assist or be otherwise concerned in unloading any goods which are prohibited, or any goods which are restricted and imported contrary to such restriction, or shall knowingly permit or suffer, or cause or procure to be harboured, kept or concealed, any prohibited, restricted or uncustomed goods, or shall knowingly acquire possession of or be in any way knowingly concerned in carrying, removing, depositing, concealing, or in any manner dealing with any goods with intent to defraud His Majesty of any duties due thereon, or to evade any prohibition or restriction of or applicable to such goods or shall be in any way knowingly concerned in any fraudulent evasion or attempt at evasion of any import or export duties of customs, or of the laws and restrictions of the customs relating to the importation, unloading, warehousing, delivery, removal, loading and exportation of goods, shall for each such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of the goods, at the election of the Collector; and all goods in respect of which any such offence shall be committed shall be forfeited.

Penalty for evading customs laws regarding imported or exported goods.

198. If any person shall import or export, or cause to be imported or exported, or attempt to import or export any goods concealed in any way, or packed in any package or parcel (whether there be any other goods in such package or parcel or not) in a manner calculated to deceive the Officers of customs, or any package containing goods not corresponding with the entry thereof, such package and the goods therein shall be forfeited, and such person shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of the goods contained in such package at the election of the Collector.

Penalty in relation to concealed goods, etc.

Power of Collector to purchase goods in certain cases.

199. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 198, if, upon the examination of any imported goods, which are chargeable with duty upon the value thereof, it appears to the Collector that the value of such goods as declared by the importer and according to which duty has been or is sought to be paid is not the true value thereof, it shall be lawful for the Collector to detain the same, in which case he shall give notice in writing to the importer of the detention of such goods, and of the value thereof as estimated by him, either by delivering such notice personally, or by transmitting the same by post to such importer, addressed to him at his place of abode or business, as stated in his entry.

(2) The Collector shall, within fifteen days after the detention of such goods, determine either that the goods are or may be correctly entered according to the value declared by the importer and permit the same to be delivered, or to retain the same for the public use of the Colony, in which latter case he shall cause the value at which the goods were declared by the importer, together with an addition of ten per centum, and the duties already paid to be paid to the importer in full satisfaction for such goods; or he may permit such person, on his application for that purpose, to enter the goods according to such value and on such terms as he may direct.

(3) Such goods, if retained shall be disposed of for the benefit of the Colony, and if the proceeds arising therefrom, in case of sale, exceed the sums so paid, and all charges incurred by the Colony, such surplus shall be disposed of as the Governor may direct.

Officer taking unauthorised fees, etc.

200. If any Officer shall accept any fee, perquisite or reward, whether pecuniary or otherwise, directly or indirectly from any person on account of anything done or to be done by him, or omitted to be done by him, or in any way relating to his said office or employment, except such as he shall receive with the approval of the Governor or Collector, such Officer so offending shall, on proof thereof to the satisfaction of the Governor, be dismissed from his office; and if any person shall give, offer or promise to give any such fee, perquisite or reward, such person shall for every such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Collusive seizure, bribery, etc.

201. If any Officer shall make any collusive seizure, or deliver up, or make any agreement to deliver up or not to seize any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods liable to forfeiture, or shall take any bribe, gratuity, recompense or reward for the neglect or non-performance of his duty, or conspire or connive with any person to commit an offence against the customs laws for the purpose of seizing any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods, and obtaining any reward for such seizure or otherwise, every such Officer shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, and be rendered incapable of holding any office under the Government of the Colony, and every person who shall give or offer, or promise to give or procure to be given, any bribe, recompense or reward to, or shall make any collusive agreement with any such Officer to induce him in any way to neglect his duty, or to do, conceal or connive at any act whereby any provisions of the customs laws may be evaded, shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds.

Offering goods for sale under pretence that they are smuggled.

202. If any person shall offer for sale any goods under pretence that the same are prohibited, or have been unloaded and removed without payment of duties, all such goods (although not liable to any duties, or prohibited) shall be forfeited.

General provision as to forfeiture.

203. Subject to the provisions of section 182, all aircraft, ships and carriages, together with all animals and things made use of in the importation, attempted importation, landing, removal, conveyance, exportation or attempted exportation of any uncustomed, prohibited or restricted goods, or any goods liable to forfeiture under the customs laws shall be forfeited; and all aircraft, ships, carriages and goods together with all animals and things liable to forfeiture, and all persons liable to be detained for any offence under the customs laws or under any Ordinance whereby Officers are authorized to make seizures or detentions, shall or may be seized or detained in any place either upon land or water, by any person duly employed for the prevention of smuggling, or by any person having authority from the Collector to seize or detain the same, and all aircraft, ships, carriages and goods, together with all animals and things so seized shall forthwith be delivered into the care of the Collector; and the forfeiture of any aircraft, ship, carriage, animal or thing shall be deemed to include the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof, and the forfeiture of any goods shall be deemed to include the package in which the same are found and all the contents thereof.

204. (1) Whenever any seizure shall be made, unless in the possession of or in the presence of the offender, master or owner, as forfeited under the customs laws, or under any Ordinance by which Officers are empowered to make seizures, the seizing Officer shall give notice in writing of such seizure and of the grounds thereof to the master or owner of the aircraft, ship, carriage, goods, animals or things seized, if known, either by delivering the same to him personally, or by letter addressed to him, and transmitted by post to, or delivered at, his usual place of abode or business, if known, and all seizures made under the customs laws or under any Ordinance by which Officers are empowered to make seizures shall be deemed and taken to be condemned, and may be sold or otherwise disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct, unless the person from whom such seizure shall have been made, or the master or owner thereof, or some person authorized by him shall within one calendar month from the day of seizure give notice in writing to the Collector that he claims the same, whereupon proceedings shall be taken for the forfeiture and condemnation thereof: provided that if animals or perishable goods are seized, they may by direction of the Collector be sold forthwith by public auction, and the proceeds thereof retained to abide the result of any claim that may legally be made in respect thereof.

Procedure on seizure.

(2) Where proceedings are taken as aforesaid for forfeiture and condemnation, the Magistrate may order delivery of such aircraft, ship, carriage, goods, animals or things seized to the claimant, on security being given for the payment to the Collector of the value thereof in case of condemnation.

205. All seizures whatsoever which shall have been made and condemned under the customs laws, or any other Ordinance by which seizures are authorized to be made by Officers, shall be disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct.

Disposal of seizure.

206. Where a penalty is prescribed for the commission of an offence under this Ordinance, such offence shall be punishable by a penalty not exceeding the penalty so prescribed; provided that where by reason of the commission of any offence the payment of any customs duty has or might have been evaded, the penalty imposed shall, unless the Court for special reasons thinks fit to order otherwise, and without prejudice to the power of the Court to impose a greater penalty, be not less than treble the amount of duty payable.

Limit of penalty.

207. When any seizure shall have been made, or any fine or penalty incurred or inflicted, or any person committed to prison for any offence against the customs laws, the Governor may direct restoration of such seizure, whether condemnation shall have taken place or not, or waive or compound proceedings, or mitigate or remit such fine or penalty, or release such person from confinement, either before or after conviction, on any terms and conditions, as he shall see fit.

Governor may restore seizure, etc.

Collector may mitigate penalty.

208. Subject to the approval of the Governor (which approval may be signified by general directions to the Collector), and notwithstanding anything contained in section 206, the Collector may mitigate or remit any penalty, or restore anything seized under the customs laws, at any time prior to the commencement of proceedings in any Court, against any person for an offence against the customs laws, or for the condemnation of any seizure.

Rewards.

209. The Collector may, with the approval of the Governor, reward any person who informs him of any offence against the customs laws or assists in the recovery of any fine or penalty.

Documents, Form of

210. Every document submitted to the Collector or his Officers for the purposes of the customs laws shall be in such form as may be prescribed, if any, and shall contain the particulars required by such form or indicated therein.

Documents, Production of

211. (1) The importer, exporter or any person concerned in the importation or exportation of any goods shall, on the request of any Officer made at any time within three years of the date of importation or exportation, as the case may be, or of the date of delivery to the proper Officer of an entry for such goods, if the same have been entered, produce, for the inspection of such Officer the invoices, books of account and any other documents of whatever nature relating to such goods which the Officer shall require, and shall answer such questions and make and subscribe such declarations regarding the weight, measure, strength, value, cost, selling price, origin and destination of such goods, and the name of the place whence or where any imported goods were consigned or transferred from one aircraft or ship to another, as shall be put to him by the Officer, and shall produce such evidence as the Officer may consider necessary in support of any information so furnished; and if the importer or exporter or other person concerned as aforesaid shall neglect or refuse to carry out any of the provisions of this section, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and the Collector may, on such neglect or refusal, refuse entry or delivery or prevent shipment of the goods, or may allow entry, delivery or shipment of the goods upon such terms and conditions, and upon deposit of such sum, pending the production of the proper documents and declarations, as he shall see fit to impose or require.

(2) The deposit made in accordance with sub-section (1) of this section shall be forfeited unless within three months of the time of deposit or such further period as the Collector may allow the person making the deposit shall produce the required documents or declarations to the Collector.

Copies of documents
to be submitted.

212. Where any person is required to submit any report, entry, declaration or other form for the purpose of the customs laws, the Collector may require such person to submit as many copies thereof as he may deem necessary; and where the Collector shall require invoices or certificates of origin, or both to be produced for any goods imported or exported, he may require such invoices or certificates of origin or both, to be submitted in duplicate, and may retain the duplicates, or, if such invoices or certificates of origin, or both, are not submitted in duplicate, he may retain the originals.

Translation.

213. Where any document required for the purposes of the customs laws contains any words not in the English language, the person required to produce such document shall produce therewith a correct translation thereof in English.

Samples.

214. Any Officer may on the entry of any goods, or at any time afterwards, take samples of such goods for such purpose as the Collector may deem necessary, and such samples shall be disposed of and accounted for in such manner as the Collector may direct.

215. The unloading, loading and removal of goods and bringing them to the proper place for examination and weighing, putting them into scales, opening, unpacking, repacking, bulking, sorting, lotting, marking and numbering, where such operations respectively are necessary or permitted, and removing to and placing them in the proper place of deposit until delivered or put on board an exporting aircraft or ship, shall be performed by or at the expense of the owner of such goods; and the owner shall unpack, sort, pile or otherwise prepare any goods either before or after entry thereof in such manner as the proper Officer shall require to enable him to examine or take account of the same.

Goods to be handled by owner.

216. The Collector may direct what goods may be skipped in a customs area or warehouse, or bulked, sorted, lotted, packed and repacked there, in the manner thereof, and direct in what manner and subject to what conditions the owner of any goods may take samples thereof; provided that no goods may in any such building or place be repacked into packages of a size in which the same are prohibited to be imported or exported, unless express provision therefor is made by law.

Samples for owner.

217. If any goods shall be lost or destroyed by unavoidable accident before the same have been delivered out of the care of any Officer, either on board an aircraft or ship, or in removing, loading, unloading, or receiving into a customs area or warehouse, or in the customs area or warehouse, or in course of delivery therefrom, the Collector, if satisfied that such goods have not been and will not be consumed in the Colony, may remit or return the duties due or paid thereon, and any goods which may be abandoned by the owner thereof as not worth the duty while in the charge of any Officer may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Collector shall direct, at the cost and charges of such owner, and the Collector may thereupon remit or return the duties due or paid thereon.

Remission of duty on goods lost, etc.

218. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any goods after being duly put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores have, either before or after exportation, been destroyed by accident on board such aircraft or ship, any drawback or allowance payable on the goods shall be payable in the same manner as if the goods had been actually exported or used as stores.

Drawbacks on goods lost.

219. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any goods after being duly put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores have been materially damaged on board such aircraft or ship, any drawback or allowance payable in respect of the goods shall, if they are with the consent of the Collector discharged in the Colony and abandoned to the Government, be payable as if the goods had been actually exported or used as stores.

Drawback on goods abandoned.

220. The Collector may modify the form of declaration required under section 41 in such manner as he may think necessary for adapting it to the provisions of sections 218 and 219.

Modification of declaration.

221. Whenever any person shall make application to any Officer to transact any business on behalf of any other person, such Officer may require the person so applying to produce a written authority from the person on whose behalf such application is made, and in default of the production of such authority may refuse to transact such business; and any document required by the customs laws to be signed by any particular person, if signed by any person authorised as aforesaid on behalf of the person required to sign the same, shall be deemed for all purposes to be signed by the person required to sign the same; provided that the Collector may in his discretion refuse to allow any such application as aforesaid.

Authority to be produced by person acting for another.

222. Where any document or declaration is required by the customs laws to be signed in the presence of the Collector, or any Witnessing of signatures.

particular Officer, if such document or declaration is signed in the presence of a witness whose signature is known to and who is approved by the Collector or the Officer who receives the same, then in such case such document or declaration shall be as valid as if it had been signed in the presence of the Collector or the Officer in whose presence it is required to be signed.

Master to attend
before Collector
if so required.

223. Where under the customs laws the master or agent of any aircraft or ship is required to answer questions put to him by the Collector or any Officer, and such aircraft or ship shall be within the Colony or the waters thereof, and shall not have left her final position, anchorage or berth preparatory to leaving the Colony, it shall be lawful for the Collector or such Officer to require the master to attend before him at the office of the Collector or such Officer, and in such case the requirements of the customs laws shall not be deemed to have been fulfilled unless the master shall so attend when so required; provided that it shall be lawful for the master, with the consent of the Collector or such Officer, to depute a senior officer of such aircraft or ship to attend for the purpose of answering such questions, and in such case, any reply to any question put to such senior officer by the Collector or such Officer as aforesaid shall for the purposes of section 196 be deemed to have been made by the person required to answer such questions.

Time of importation,
etc. defined.

224. (1) If for any purpose of the customs laws it becomes necessary to determine the precise time at which an importation of any goods shall be deemed to have had effect, such time shall be deemed to be the time at which the aircraft or ship importing such goods actually landed in the Colony or came within the waters thereof.

(2) If any question arises upon the arrival of any aircraft or ship at any port or place in the Colony in respect of any charge or allowance for such aircraft or ship, exclusive of cargo, the time of such arrival shall be deemed to be the time at which such aircraft or ship shall first be boarded by any person in the employment of the Government at such port or place.

(3) The time of exportation of any goods shall be deemed to be the time when the same are put on board the exporting aircraft or ship, except in the case of goods prohibited to be exported, with reference to which the time of exportation shall be deemed to be the actual time at which the aircraft or ship departed from its final position, anchorage or berth within the Colony or the waters thereof.

Special packages deemed separate articles.

225. All packages and coverings in which goods are imported or exported and which in the opinion of the Collector :—

- (a) are not the usual or proper packages or coverings for such goods, or
- (b) are designed for separate use, other than as packages or coverings for the same or similar goods, subsequent to importation or exportation, as the case may be,

shall for all purposes of the customs laws be deemed to be separate articles, except in cases where a contrary provision shall be made.

Power of arrest.

226. In addition to any other power of arrest or detention conferred by the customs laws, any Officer may arrest and detain any person whom he finds committing an offence against the customs laws, and take him before a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

Arrest after escape.

227. If any person liable to arrest under the customs laws escapes from any Officer attempting to arrest him, or if any Officer is for any reason whatever unable or fails to arrest any such person, such person may afterwards be arrested and detained by any Officer at any place in the Colony within seven years from the time such offence was committed, and dealt with as aforesaid, as if he had been arrested at the time of committing such offence.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

228. Subject to the express provisions of the customs laws, any offences under the customs laws may be prosecuted, and any penalty of forfeiture imposed by the customs laws may be sued for, prosecuted and recovered summarily, and all rents, charges, expenses and duties, and all other sums of money whatsoever payable under the customs laws may be recovered and enforced in a summary manner before a Magistrate in the manner prescribed by the Summary Jurisdiction Ordinance 1902, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will permit, on the complaint of any Officer.

Prosecutions for customs offences.

229. Proceedings under the customs laws may be commenced at any time within seven years after the date of the offence.

Proceedings to be taken within seven years.

230. Where any Court has imposed a penalty for any offence against the customs laws, and such penalty is not paid, the Court may order the defendant who is convicted of such offence, in default of payment of the penalty adjudged to be paid, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six months, where the penalty does not exceed one hundred pounds, or twelve months where the penalty exceeds one hundred pounds.

Alternative prison sentence.

231. Where a penalty of one hundred pounds or upwards has been incurred under the customs laws and the defendant has previously been convicted for an offence against the customs laws, or has previously incurred a pecuniary penalty or forfeiture under the customs laws which has been enforced in any Court, the Court may, if it thinks fit, in lieu of ordering payment of a pecuniary penalty order the defendant to be imprisoned with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one year.

Imprisonment for second offence.

232. The fact that any duties of customs have been secured by bond or otherwise shall not be pleaded or made use of in answer to or in stay of any proceeding under the customs laws.

Limitations as to pleading.

233. Every offence under the customs laws shall be deemed to have been committed and every cause of complaint to have arisen either in the place in which it actually was committed or arose, or in any place on land where the offender or person prosecuted may be or be brought.

Place of offence.

234. An officer may prosecute and conduct any information or other proceeding under the customs laws in respect of any offence or penalty.

Officer may prosecute.

235. In all proceedings under the customs laws the same rules as to costs shall be observed as in proceedings between private persons.

Costs.

236. (1) No claim or appearance shall be entered to any information filed or exhibited for the forfeiture of any animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods seized for any cause of forfeiture in any Court unless such claim or appearance be made by or in the real name of the owner thereof, describing his place of residence and occupation; and if such claimant shall reside in the Colony, oath shall be made by him before the Court before which such information shall be exhibited, that the said animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods were his property at the time of seizure; but if such person shall reside outside of the Colony, then oath shall be made by the attorney by whom such claim or appearance shall be entered that he has full authority from such claimant to make or enter the same, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the same were at the time of seizure the bona fide property of the claimant; and on failure of making such proof of ownership such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall be condemned, as if no claim or appearance had been made; and if such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall at the time of the seizure thereof be the bona fide property of any number of owners exceeding five, it shall not be necessary for more than two of them to enter such claim or appearance on the part of themselves and their co-owners, or to make such oath as aforesaid; and if any such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall at the time of seizure be the property of a company, such claim and appearance shall be entered and oath made by the secretary or a director of such company.

(2) For the purpose of this section a company means a limited company registered in the Colony under the provisions of the Companies Ordinance, 1898, or a limited company registered in the United Kingdom but operating in the Colony, but does not include any company or association of persons calling themselves a company not so registered.

Certificate of probable cause of seizure.

237. In case any information or suit shall be commenced or brought to trial on account of the seizure of any animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods, or pursuant to any act done by any Officer in the execution or intended execution of his duty under the customs laws, and such information or suit be dismissed, and it shall appear to the Court before whom the same shall have been tried that there was probable cause for such seizure or act, the Judge or Magistrate, as the case may be, shall certify on the record that there was such probable cause, and in such case the person who made such seizure or performed such act shall not be liable to any action, indictment or other suit or prosecution on account of such seizure or act; and a copy of such certificate, verified by the signature of the Officer of the Court, shall at the request of the Officer concerned be given to him, and the same shall for all purposes be sufficient evidence of such certificate; and in case any action, indictment or other suit or prosecution shall be commenced and brought to trial against any person on account of any seizure or act as aforesaid (whether any information be brought to trial in respect of the same or not, or having been brought to trial, the Judge or Magistrate shall not have certified that there was a probable cause for such seizure or act), wherein a verdict shall be given against the defendant, if the Court shall be satisfied that there was a probable cause for such seizure or act, then the plaintiff shall recover any things seized or the value thereof without costs of suit, but no conviction shall be recorded against the defendant.

PROOFS IN PROCEEDINGS.

Onus of proof on defendant in certain cases.

238. (1) In any prosecution under the customs laws, the proof that the proper duties have been paid in respect of any goods, or that the same have been lawfully imported or exported, or lawfully put into or out of any aircraft or ship, or lawfully transferred from one aircraft or ship to another aircraft or ship shall lie on the defendant.

(2) The averment that the Collector has elected that any particular penalty should be sued for or recovered, or that any goods thrown overboard, staved or destroyed were thrown overboard, staved or destroyed to prevent seizure, or that any person is an Officer, or that any person was employed for the prevention of smuggling, or that the offence was committed, or that any act was done within the limits of any port, or in the waters of the Colony, or over the Colony, or, where the offence is committed in any port or place in the Colony, the naming of such port or place in any information or proceedings, shall be deemed sufficient unless the defendant in any such case shall prove the contrary.

239. If upon any trial a question shall arise whether any person is an Officer, his own evidence thereof shall be deemed sufficient, and every such Officer shall be deemed a competent witness upon the trial of any suit or information on account of any seizure or penalty, notwithstanding such Officer may be entitled to any reward upon the conviction of the party charged in such suit or information.

Evidence of Officers.

240. (1) In all cases where any penalty the amount of which is to be determined by the value of any goods is sued for under the customs laws, such value shall, as regards proceedings in any Court, be estimated and taken according to the rate and price for which goods of the like kind but of the best quality upon which the duties of importation shall have been paid were sold at or about the time of the offence, or according to the rate and price for which the like kind of goods were sold in bond at or about the time of the offence, with the duties due thereon added to such rate or price in bond;

Valuation of goods for penalty.

(2) A certificate under the hand of the Collector of the value of such goods shall be accepted by the Court as prima facie evidence of the value thereof.

241. In case any book or document required by the customs laws be required to be used as evidence in any Court as to the transactions to which it refers, copies thereof certified by an Officer shall be admissible for that purpose, without production of the original; and certificates and copies of official documents purporting to be certified under the hand and seal or stamp of office of any of the principal officers of Customs and Excise in the United Kingdom, or of any Comptroller of colonial revenue in any British possession, or of any British Consul or Vice-Consul in a foreign country, shall be received as prima facie evidence.

Copies of documents valid.

242. If upon the trial of any issue touching any seizure, penalty or forfeiture, or other proceedings under the customs laws or incident thereto, it may be necessary to give proof of any order issued by the Governor, Collector, or any person in the employment of the Government, the order, or any letter or instructions referring thereto, shall be admitted and taken as sufficient evidence of such order if any such document purports to be signed by any such functionary, or shall appear to have been officially printed or issued, unless the contrary be proved.

Proof of order of Governor, etc.

243. Condemnation by any Court under the customs laws may be proved in any Court, or before any competent tribunal, by the production of a certificate of such condemnation purporting to be signed by the Officer of such Court.

Certificate of condemnation.

MISCELLANEOUS AND REPEAL.

244. Where in any Order-in-Council made applicable to the Colony in accordance with the provisions of the Air Navigation Acts 1920 and 1936, or any amending Act, or in any regulations made under any such Order-in-Council, any provision shall be made contrary to the customs laws, such provisions shall have effect to the exclusion of the corresponding provision contained in the said laws.

Effect of Air Navigation Orders in Council.

245. The Governor in Executive Council may make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of the customs laws, and may, in such regulations, prescribe fees, rents or charges to be paid in respect of any matter therein referred to; and all such regulations shall be published in the Gazette.

Regulations.

246. Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and any regulations made thereunder, the Collector may from time to time prescribe forms required to be used for the purposes of the customs laws.

Forms.

A Bill

To make provision for the preparation and publication of a Revised Edition of the Laws of the Colony.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Revised Edition of the Laws Ordinance, 1943. Short Title.

2. In this Ordinance— Definition.

“revised edition of Ordinances” means the revised edition of the Ordinances of the Colony to be prepared under the authority of this Ordinance.

“revised edition of subsidiary legislation” means the revised edition of proclamations, rules, regulations, bye-laws, and other forms of subsidiary legislation of the Colony to be prepared under the authority of this Ordinance.

“Commissioner” means the person or persons appointed under section 3 of this Ordinance.

3. (1) Bernard Austin Cathie, Barrister-at-Law, Legal Adviser of the Colony, is hereby appointed Commissioner who shall prepare a revised edition of the Ordinances and a revised edition of subsidiary legislation of the Colony in force on the 30th day of June, 1944 or such later date as the Governor may fix by notification in the Gazette. Appointment of Commissioner.

(2) In case the Commissioner shall from any cause be unable fully to discharge his commission under this Ordinance, the Governor may appoint some other fit and proper person or persons to be Commissioner or Commissioners in his stead.

(3) If in such case more Commissioners than one be appointed, the term “Commissioner” shall apply to such Commissioners.

4. In the preparation of the revised edition of Ordinances the Commissioner shall have the following powers— Power of Commissioner.

(1) To omit—

- (a) all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances which have been expressly and specifically repealed or which have expired, or have become spent or have had their effect.
- (b) all repealing enactments contained in Ordinances and also all tables and lists of repealed enactments, whether contained in Schedules or otherwise.
- (c) all preambles to Ordinances where such omissions can in the opinion of the Commissioner conveniently be made.
- (d) all enactments prescribing the date when an Ordinance or part of an Ordinance is to come into operation, where such omission can in the opinion of the Commissioner conveniently be made.
- (e) all amending Ordinances or parts thereof where the amendments effected thereby have been embodied by the Commissioner in the Ordinance to which they relate.

(f) all enacting clauses.

(2) To consolidate into one Ordinance any two or more Ordinances in pari materia, making the alterations thereby rendered necessary and affixing such date thereto as may seem most convenient.

(3) To alter the order of sections in any Ordinances and in all cases where it may be necessary to do so to renumber the sections.

(4) To alter the form or arrangement of any section by transferring words, by combining it in whole or in part with another section or other sections or by dividing it into two or more subsections.

(5) To transfer any enactment contained in an Ordinance from such Ordinance to any other Ordinance to which that enactment more properly belongs.

(6) To divide Ordinances into parts or divisions.

(7) To add a short title to any Ordinance which may require it or to alter the short title of any Ordinance.

(8) To supply or alter marginal notes.

(9) To correct grammatical, typographical, and similar errors in the existing copies of Ordinances, and for that purpose to make verbal additions, omissions, or alterations not affecting the meaning of any Ordinance.

(10) To make such adaptations of or amendments in any laws as may appear to be necessary or proper as a consequence of the establishment of the Irish Free State.

(11) To make such formal alterations as to names, localities, offices and otherwise as may be necessary to bring any Ordinance into conformity with the circumstances of the Colony.

(12) To do all things relating to form and method which may be necessary for the perfecting of the revised edition.

Omission of certain Ordinances from the revised edition.

5. (1) The Commissioner shall omit from the revised edition of Ordinances the Ordinances specified in the First Schedule to this Ordinance :

Provided always that, anything in this Ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding, the said Ordinances shall remain in force until the same shall have been expressly repealed or shall have expired or become spent or had their effect.

(2) At any time before the revised edition of Ordinances is approved in pursuance of section 8, the Governor may by proclamation make any addition to or variation in the First Schedule.

6. (1) The powers conferred upon the Commissioner by section 4 shall not be taken to imply any power in him to make any alteration or amendment in the matter or substance of any Ordinance.

Mode of dealing with alteration in substance.

(2) In every case where any such alterations or amendments are in the opinion of the Commissioner desirable he shall draft a bill setting forth such alteration or amendments, and such bill shall, subject to the sanction of the Governor in Council, be submitted to the Legislative Council and be dealt with in the ordinary way.

(3) In any case where an Ordinance, whether consolidated or not, requires such considerable alterations and amendments as to involve its entire recasting, the Commissioners shall draft a Bill accordingly, and any such Bill shall, subject to the sanction of the Governor in Council, be submitted to the Legislative Council and be dealt with in the ordinary way.

7. (1) Where in any Ordinance reference is made to any map, chart, or plan annexed to that Ordinance it shall be lawful for the Commissioner to omit from the revised edition of Ordinances that map, chart, or plan.

Maps, charts and plans to be omitted from the revised edition.

(2) Upon the Governor approving the revised edition of Ordinances in pursuance of section 8, the Governor shall cause a duly authenticated copy of any map, chart, or plan omitted by the Commissioner in pursuance of this section to be deposited in the office of the Registrar General and that deposited copy shall be open during the regular hours of opening of the said office to the inspection of any member of the public without fee, and any member of the public shall be entitled to receive an accurate copy of any such map, chart, or plan upon the payment of such sum not exceeding five shillings as may be prescribed by the Governor. Any map, chart, or plan so deposited shall have the force of law as if it were included in the revised edition of Ordinances.

8. (1) Upon the passing of a resolution of the Legislative Council authorizing him so to do, the Governor may, by proclamation, order that the revised edition of Ordinances shall come into force on such date as he may think fit.

Bringing of revised edition of Ordinances into force.

(2) From the date named in the said proclamation the revised edition of Ordinances shall be deemed to be and shall be without any question whatsoever in all Courts of Justice and for all purposes whatsoever the sole and only proper Statute Book of the Colony in respect of Ordinances in force on the 30th day of June, 1944 or such later date as may have been fixed by the Governor in pursuance of Section 3.

9. All proclamations, rules, regulations, byelaws, and other forms of subsidiary legislation made under any law included in the revised edition of Ordinances, and in force at the date when that revised edition comes into force, shall continue in force until otherwise provided; and any reference in any such proclamation, rule, regulation, byelaw, or other form of subsidiary legislation, to the law under which it is made, or to any part thereof, or to any other enactment, shall, where necessary and practicable, be construed as a reference to the corresponding provision in the revised edition of Ordinances.

Saving of existing subsidiary legislation.

10. In the preparation of the revised edition of subsidiary legislation, the Commissioner shall have the like powers to do all things as are conferred upon him by this Ordinance in respect of the revised edition of Ordinances.

Subsidiary legislation.

11. (1) The Commissioner shall omit from the revised edition of subsidiary legislation, all subsidiary legislation enacted under the Ordinances mentioned in the First Schedule to this Ordinance, and the subsidiary legislation mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Ordinance:

Omission of certain subsidiary legislation from the revised edition.

M.P. 102/43.

13th October. 1943.

The text of Command Paper, No. 6463, as follows, issued by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, is published for general information.

THE AFRICA STAR AND THE 1939-43 STAR. THE CLASPS TO THE TWO STARS, THE DESPATCHES EMBLEM, WOUND STRIPES AND CHEVRONS FOR WAR SERVICE.

The Committee on the grant of Honours, Decorations and Medals, in time of war, and a special Committee formed therefrom have had under consideration proposals and directions by the Prime Minister, First Lord of the Treasury and Minister of Defence relative to recommendations for the institution of awards for service during hostilities. Certain of the Reports by the Committees have been submitted by the Prime Minister to the King and His Majesty has graciously approved the recommendations summarised in the following memorandum.

THE AFRICA STAR AND THE 1939-43 STAR.
CLASPS TO THE TWO STARS.

1. In commemoration of the expulsion of the enemy from North Africa and to recognise services rendered in operations during the first four years of the war, The King has approved the institution of two awards for the Armed Forces and the Merchant Navy, to be known as the Africa Star and the 1939-43 Star. No individual will qualify for both. Consideration of the manufacture and issue of the Stars themselves will be postponed until after the war. The ribbons are to be made now, and will be issued when supplies are ready.

THE AFRICA STAR.

2. The Africa Star will be granted for service in North Africa from the date of the entry of Italy into the war on the 10th June, 1940, up to the date of the cessation of operations against the enemy in North Africa on the 12th May, 1943, inclusive. The ribbon is pale buff in colour, with a central vertical red stripe and two other narrower stripes, one dark blue and the other light blue. The background is intended as a symbol of the desert, the central red stripe stands for the Armies, the dark blue stripe for the Naval Forces and the Merchant Navy, and the light blue stripe for the Air Forces. The ribbon is to be worn with the dark blue stripe furthest from the left shoulder.

(a) Army. — The qualification is entry, as part of the establishment, into an operational command in North Africa. The individual should have been taken on the strength of a unit or formation. The whole of the area between the Canal and the Straits of Gibraltar is included. Service in operations in Abyssinia, Somaliland and Eritrea, and also in Malta, is a qualification. Service in West Africa is excluded.

(b) Air Force. — The qualification is landing in the area of an Army operational command as defined above, including Malta. Casual journeys and inspections, other than those specially approved, are excluded. In addition, service in the air over any of the Army operational commands in North Africa as defined above, or over enemy-occupied territory in North Africa, is a qualification, provided that the individual is not eligible for the 1939-43 Star mentioned below.

(c) Navy. — In the Navy the Africa Star will be awarded only for service on shore or in harbour in the same areas and between the same dates as the Army, and provided that the individual is not eligible for the 1939-43 Star mentioned below.

(d) Merchant Navy. — In the Merchant Navy the Africa Star will be awarded for service on shore or in harbour under the same conditions as the Royal Navy.

CLASPS TO THE AFRICA STAR.

3. (a) Army. — A silver emblem in the form of an arabic "8" or "1" will be worn on the ribbon in service dress denoting the award of one of these Clasps in the Army. The awards will be restricted to service in the Eighth and First Armies respectively in the period from the 23rd October, 1942.

inclusive, the date of the battle of el Alamein, up to the date of the cessation of operations against the enemy in North Africa on the 12th May, 1943. Only one Clasp will be granted to any individual.

(b) Air Force. - A Clasp, denoted by the standard silver rose emblem on the ribbon, will be awarded to air crew and non-air crew personnel of the Royal Air Force under the command of the A.O.C., Western Desert, or the Air Commander, North-West African Forces, and to air crew personnel under the command of the A.O.C., Malta, or of other A.O.s.C., who operated in support of the Eighth Army or First Army or in the cutting of Rommel's or Von Arnim's communications, or in the defence of Malta, during the period from the 23rd October, 1942, to the date of the cessation of hostilities in North Africa on the 12th May, 1943. (Royal Air Force personnel eligible for the 1939-43 Star, which in the Air Force will have priority of award over the Africa Star, will be granted a Clasp to the 1939-43 Star for the service referred to in this paragraph. This rose emblem also will be of the standard silver pattern.)

(c) Navy. - As has been stated above, the Africa Star will only be awarded in the Navy for service on shore or in harbour. There will be no awards of a Clasp to the Africa Star in the Navy except for personnel, if any, who served as part of the Eighth or First Armies. For these the time limits will be as for the Army, and an "8" or a "1" emblem will be issued.

(Officers and Ratings of certain units, for instance inshore squadrons and some of the escorting vessels serving off the coast of North Africa, and of submarines and other craft specifically engaged in cutting Rommel's or von Arnim's communications, from the 23rd October, 1942, to the cessation of hostilities in North Africa on the 12th May, 1943, will be awarded a Clasp to the 1939-43 Star referred to below. The rose emblem will be of the standard silver pattern.)

(d) Merchant Navy. - (As in the Royal Navy, the Clasp to the 1939-43 Star will be awarded in the Merchant Navy to the personnel of vessels which worked inshore during the North African Campaign between the 23rd October, 1942, and the 12th May, 1943.)

THE 1939-43 STAR.

4. The 1939-43 Star will be granted for service in operations during the period from the 3rd September, 1939, to the 31st December, 1943. The ribbon is dark blue, red and light blue in three equal vertical stripes. The dark blue stripe is intended to mark the service of the Naval Forces and the Merchant Navy, the red stripe that of the Armies, and the light blue stripe that of the Air Forces. The ribbon is to be worn with the dark blue stripe furthest from the left shoulder.

(a) Navy. - The qualification is six months' service afloat in areas of active operations during the period from the 3rd September, 1939, to the 31st December, 1943, inclusive. Service after the 31st December, 1943, will not be reckoned.

These areas are :-

(i) From the 3rd September, 1939, the Atlantic Ocean, including Home Waters, and the North Sea; the Baltic; the Arctic Ocean between Greenland and longitude 70°E. and that part of the Indian Ocean lying South of 15°S. and West of 55°E.

(ii) From the 1st June, 1940, as (i) with the addition of the Pacific Ocean and the rest of the Indian Ocean.

(iii) From the 10th June, 1940, anywhere at sea.

Naval personnel, not eligible by length of service afloat, who served in operations and Commando Raids accepted as qualifying Army personnel for the 1939-43 Star, will be held to qualify.

Officers and Men of the Fleet Air Arm, who are not qualified by sea service, may be considered for qualification under similar rules to the R.A.F.

(b) Army. - The Army qualification will be six months in an operational command during the period the 3rd September, 1939, to the 31st December, 1943. As, however, there have been campaigns that have not covered six months, certain exceptions will be made. Where troops have been evacuated, e.g., from Dunkirk, Norway, &c., they will be eligible for the 1939-43 Star although their service in operations may have been less than six months, and specified Commando Raids will be similarly treated. The list of such exceptions is under consideration. India will not be regarded as an operational command except for the purpose of operations on the Burma and North-West frontiers. Service on passage to an operational command through dangerous waters will count towards the six months' qualifying period.

(c) Air Force. - The 1939-43 Star will be awarded to all air crews who have taken part in operations against the enemy, subject to the completion of two months in an operational unit. In addition, non-crew personnel serving in the area of an Army operational command will qualify, six months' service in the area of the operational command being the qualification, and special exception being made for those evacuated, e.g., from Dunkirk, Norway, &c., as for the Army above.

(d) Merchant Navy. - The Merchant Navy will be awarded the 1939-43 Star under the same conditions as the Royal Navy, except that six months' service at sea will qualify, provided that at least one voyage had been made through one of the specified areas of active operations. Service in the landings on or after the 8th November, 1942, on the coast of Morocco, will be a qualification.

(e) General. - Operational service for a lesser period than six and two months respectively, but brought to an end by death, wounds or other disability due to service will qualify. The grant for service in operations, of an Honour, Decoration or Mention in Despatches would in the armed forces or the Merchant Navy be a qualification for the award of the Star.

CLASP TO THE 1939-43 STAR.

5. This Clasp will be denoted by a silver rose emblem, of the standard pattern, and will be confined to the Navy, the Air Force and the Merchant Navy, for North African service. The conditions will be as stated in brackets under heading 3, "Clasps to the Africa Star" above, sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d).

ALLIED NATIONALS IN THE BRITISH FORCES.

6. Allied nationals serving as members of the British Forces (other than those enlisted or commissioned therein by virtue of their membership of Allied Forces) will be eligible for the Stars as members of such Forces, provided their services do not qualify them for similar awards from their own Governments.

THE DOMINIONS, INDIA, BURMA AND THE COLONIAL EMPIRE.

7. The above arrangements will also apply to the Forces and Merchant Navies of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Burma and the Colonial Empire.

THE DESPATCHES EMBLEM, WOUND STRIPES AND CHEVRONS FOR WAR SERVICE.

8. His Majesty has also approved an Emblem to denote Mentions in Despatches and has authorised the institution of Wound Stripes and Chevrons for war service. These will be issued as soon as they are ready, but production may take some months.

MENTIONS IN DESPATCHES.

9. The Despatches Emblem is to be granted only for Mentions in Despatches awarded for service in the present war. One such Emblem only will be worn in respect of any number of Mentions in Despatches. The Emblem is in bronze of a new pattern in the form of an oak leaf and is to be worn on the coat immediately after all Medal ribbons. It has been designed by Mr. Percy Metcalfe, C.V.O. It is not intended to be worn during the war on the ribbon of any Medal or Star but is to be attached directly to the coat in the position in which a single ribbon would be worn or in the position in which a ribbon would be placed immediately after those already worn. The stalk would be worn furthest from the shoulder.

WOUND STRIPES AND CHEVRONS FOR WAR SERVICE.

10. The Wound Stripes and Chevrons will be awarded not only in the Navy, the Army, including the Home Guard, the Air Force, the Merchant Navy and the Fishing Fleet serving at sea, Civil Air Transport and the Coast Guard, but also to N.A.A.F.I. employees in respect of service with the Forces at sea or overseas. They will also be awarded in specified Civil Defence Services, the Fire Guard, the Police and the National Fire Service, to Nurses in hospitals under the control of Government Departments or Local Authorities or in the recognised Voluntary Hospitals, and, in addition, to Lighthouse and Lightvessel keepers serving under the three general Lighthouse Authorities.

WOUND STRIPES.

11. The Wound Stripes, denoting wounds sustained in the present war, will be of narrow gold braid and one and a half inches in length. They are to be worn vertically on the left forearm. One is to be worn in respect of each occasion on which the individual is wounded. The Wound Stripe will, in the Civil Defence Services, be awarded only in respect of wounds or injuries due to enemy action, sustained on duty, and involving not less than seven consecutive days' incapacity. A Wound Stripe in red has also been approved. This is to denote wounds of previous wars, and one such stripe only will be worn in respect of any number of wounds so sustained. It will be worn to the rear of the First gold Wound Stripe.

CHEVRONS FOR WAR SERVICE.

12. The Chevrons for war service are of one pattern and will be in red, the arms being three-quarters of an inch in length. The Chevrons are to be worn in uniform on the right forearm. If uniform has not been issued they will be worn on the armlet or on the coat. One Chevron is to be granted for each completed year of service in the present war. A recipient will become eligible for the first Chevron at the end of his first completed year of war service, and so on. Special regulations will be required in connection with part-time service.

CIVIL DEFENCE SERVICES. NURSING SERVICES.

13. The following Civil Defence Services will be eligible for the Wound Stripe and Chevrons: Ambulance Service (including Casualty Service), Decontamination Service, First Aid Service, Messenger Service, Report and Control Service, Rescue Service, the Warden Service (including Shelter Wardens), the Nursing Service for Public Air Raid Shelters and the Civil Defence Reserve. There will also be included the Royal Observer Corps, and the Port of London Authority River Emergency Service. Civil Servants, forming Departmental Civil Defence organizations will be included, if properly enrolled. Enrolled or registered Fire Guards performing duties under the Local Authorities, or at business, or Government premises, and Nurses in Hospitals for which Government Departments or Local Authorities are responsible, or in the recognised Voluntary Hospitals, will also be eligible, in addition to the Civil Nursing Reserve.

No. 56. M.P. 97/41. 19th November, 1943.

[L.S.]

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 1 of 1943.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,
Governor.

6th December, 1943.

An Ordinance

To consolidate and extend the law relating to Customs.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows :—

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Customs Ordinance, 1943, and shall come into force on a day to be specified by the Governor by Proclamation in the Gazette.

Short Title and operation.

2. In this Ordinance and in any other Ordinance relating to the Customs, unless the context otherwise requires —

Definitions.

“Agent”, in relation to the master or owner of an aircraft or ship, includes any person who notifies the Collector in writing that he intends to act as the agent, and who or on whose behalf any person authorized by him signs any document required or permitted by the customs laws to be signed by an agent; provided that the owner of any aircraft or ship, if resident or represented in the colony, shall be deemed to be the agent of the master for all the purposes of the customs laws, if no such agent be appointed;

“Aircraft” includes balloons, kites, gliders, airships, and flying machines;

“Approved place of unloading” and “approved place of loading” mean respectively any quay, jetty, wharf or other place, including any part of an aerodrome, appointed by the Governor by notice in the Gazette to be a place where coastwise or imported goods or goods about to be carried coastwise or exported may be unloaded or loaded;

“Boarding station” means any station or place appointed by the Governor by notice in the Gazette to be a station or place for aircraft or ships arriving at or departing from any port or place to bring to for the boarding or setting down of Officers;

"British Empire" means the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Dominions, India, Burma, the territories administered by His Majesty's Governments in the Dominions under Mandate or otherwise, the British Colonies, the British Protectorates and Protected States and the Mandated Territories of Tanganyika, the Cameroons under British Mandate and Togoland under British Mandate;

"Burden" means net registered tonnage, or tonnage calculated in the manner prescribed by law for ascertaining net registered tonnage;

"Carriage" includes every description of conveyance for the transport by land of human beings or property;

"Collector" means the Collector of Customs and includes any Deputy Collector.

"Customs Area" means any place appointed to be a customs area by the Collector by notice in writing under his hand;

"Customs laws" includes this Ordinance and any legislative enactment relating to the customs, and any proclamation, rule, regulation, resolution or Order in Council made under the authority of any law relating to the customs;

"Drawback" means a refund of all or part of any duty of customs authorized by law in respect of goods exported or used in any particular manner;

"Duty" includes any tax or surtax imposed by the customs laws;

"Entered" in relation to goods imported, warehoused, put on board an aircraft or ship as stores or exported means the acceptance and signature by the proper Officer of an entry, specification, or shipping bill, and declaration signed by the importer or exporter on the prescribed form in the prescribed manner, together with the payment to the proper Officer by the importer or exporter of all rents and charges due to the Government in respect of the goods, and in the case of dutiable goods (except on the entry for warehousing of imported goods), the payment by the importer or exporter to the proper Officer of the full duties due thereon, or else, where permitted, the deposit of a sum of money or giving of security for the duties, as provided by law, or, in the case of goods for which security by bond is required on the exportation, putting on board an aircraft or ship as stores or removal of such goods, the giving of such security;

"Export" with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means to take or cause to be taken out of the Colony or the waters thereof;

"Exporter" includes any person by whom any goods (including goods transferred from an importing aircraft or ship) are exported from the Colony or supplied for use as aircraft's or ship's stores in accordance with section 148, and also the owner, or any person acting on his behalf, and any person who for customs purposes signs any document relating to goods exported or intended for exportation or supplied or intended for supply as aircraft's or ship's stores as aforesaid;

"Goods" includes all kinds of goods, wares, merchandise and live-stock;

Officers to have powers of members of the Police Force.

3. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the customs laws all Officers shall have the same powers, authorities and privileges as are given by law to members of the Police Force.

What shall be deemed acts of Collector etc.

4. Every act, matter or thing required by the customs laws to be done or performed by, with, to or before the Collector, if done or performed by, with, to or before any Officer appointed by the Collector for such purpose, shall be deemed to be done or performed by, with, to or before the Collector; and every person employed on any duty or service relating to the customs by the orders or with the concurrence of the Collector (whether previously or subsequently expressed) shall be deemed to be the Officer for that duty or service; and every act required by law at any time to be done by, with, to or before any particular Officer nominated for such purpose, if done by, with, to or before any person appointed by the Collector to act for such particular Officer, shall be deemed to be done by, with, to or before such particular Officer; and every act required by law to be done at any particular place within any port, if done at any place within such port appointed by the Collector for such purpose, shall be deemed to be done at the particular place so required by law.

DUTIES, PROHIBITIONS, DRAWBACKS AND REFUNDS OF DUTY.

Customs Duties.

5. It shall be lawful for the Legislature from time to time to impose import or export duties of customs upon any goods whatsoever which may be imported into or exported from the Colony, and to revoke, reduce, increase or alter any such duties, and to provide for the importation or exportation of any goods without payment of customs duty thereon. Provided that all duties of customs and all exemptions from duties of customs which are by law in force at the commencement of this Ordinance shall continue in force until revoked, reduced, increased or altered in the manner provided in this Ordinance.

Governor in Executive Council may remit duties.

6. It shall be competent for the Governor in Executive Council, upon application by the importer or exporter, to remit or refund in whole or in part any customs duty whenever he shall deem it expedient so to do.

British Preferential & General Tariffs.

7. Any order or resolution made or passed in accordance with section 5, may impose different rates of import duty upon goods which are shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been (1) consigned from a part of the British Empire and (2) either (a) to be the produce of the British Empire or (b) to have been manufactured in the British Empire (such duties to be distinguished in the order or resolution as duties imposed under the British Preferential Tariff), and upon goods not shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been so consigned and produced or manufactured (such duties to be distinguished as duties imposed under the General Tariff).

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding section, no goods shall be admitted under the British Preferential Tariff unless the importer shall comply with regulations which the Governor in Executive Council is hereby authorised to make in relation thereto.

Regulations.

9. All goods deposited in any warehouse without payment of duty on the first importation thereof, or which may be imported or exported, and shall not have been entered for use within the Colony, or for exportation, as the case may be, shall, upon being entered for use within the Colony, or for exportation, as the case may be, be subject to such duties as may be due and payable on the like sort of goods under the customs laws in force at the time when the same are entered, save in cases where special provision shall be made to the contrary.

Time of entry to govern duty payable.

10. (1) Where by entry, bond, removal of goods, or otherwise, any obligation has been incurred for the payment of duties of customs, such obligation shall be deemed to be an obligation to pay all duties of customs which may become legally payable, or which are made payable or recoverable under the customs laws, and to pay the same as the same become payable.

Effect of obligation to pay debts.

(2) When any duty has been short levied or erroneously refunded, the person who should have paid the amount short levied, or to whom the refund has erroneously been made, shall pay the amount short levied, or repay the amount erroneously refunded, on demand being made by the Collector.

11. Where any goods, being of a class or description liable to any import duty of customs, are re-imported into and entered for use within the Colony after exportation therefrom, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector that any duty of customs chargeable in respect of the goods prior to their exportation was duly paid, either prior to exportation or at any subsequent time, and either that no drawback of any such duty was allowed on exportation, or that any drawback so allowed has been repaid to the Collector, then -

Duty on goods re-imported.

- (a) if it is further shown as aforesaid that the goods have not been subjected to any process abroad, the goods shall be exempt from any such duty when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation, unless the rate of duty of customs chargeable on goods of the same class or description at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation shall exceed the rate paid on the said goods on first importation and entry, in which case such goods shall be chargeable with duty at a rate equal to the difference between the rate at which the duty previously paid was calculated and the rate in force at the date when such goods are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation;
- (b) if the goods at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation are of a class or description liable to an import duty ad valorem, and it is further shown as aforesaid that the goods have been subjected to a process of repair, renovation or improvement abroad, but that their form or character has not been changed, such goods shall be chargeable with duty as if the amount of the increase in the value of the goods attributable to the process were the whole value thereof, and, where any sum has been contracted to be paid for the execution of the process, the sum shall be prima facie evidence of that amount, but without prejudice to the powers of the Collector under the customs laws as to the ascertainment of the value of the goods for the purpose of assessing duty thereon ad valorem.

Provided that if the rate of duty of customs chargeable on the goods of the same class or description at the time when the same are entered for use within the Colony after re-importation shall exceed the rate paid on the said goods on first importation and entry, then in such case, in addition to the ad valorem duty chargeable hereunder according to the amount of the increase in the value of the goods attributable to the process, such goods shall be chargeable with additional customs duty calculated in the manner set out in paragraph (a) of this section, as if such goods had not been subjected to any process of repair, renovation or improvement abroad.

In case of dispute, importer to deposit the duty demanded.

12. (1) If any dispute shall arise as to the proper rate or amount of duty payable on any goods imported into or exported from the Colony, the importer, consignee, or exporter, or his agent, shall deposit in the hands of the Collector the duty demanded by him, which shall be deemed and taken to be the proper duty payable, unless proceedings shall be commenced by the importer or exporter of such goods, within three months after such deposit, against the Collector, to ascertain whether any and what duty is payable on such goods; and on payment of such deposit, and on the passing of a proper entry or shipping bill for such goods by the importer, exporter, consignee, or agent, the Collector shall cause delivery or permit shipment thereof, as the case may be.

(2) All such deposits shall be paid by the Collector to the Treasurer, and, in case no such proceedings shall be brought within the time limited for that purpose, such deposit shall be retained and applied to the use of the Colony in the same manner as if it had been originally paid and received as the duty due on such goods; and in case of such proceedings, if it shall be determined that the duty so deposited was not the proper duty, but that a less duty was payable, the difference between the deposit and the duty found to be due, or the whole deposit, as the case may require, shall be returned to such importer or exporter.

(3) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained in this section, it shall be lawful for the importer, after having made the deposit as aforesaid, to request the Governor in Executive Council to decide the dispute on such terms and conditions as the Governor in Executive Council shall deem equitable, in which event the decision of the Governor in Executive Council shall have effect and be final.

Value.

13. (1) For the purpose of any enactment for the time being in force whereunder a duty of customs is chargeable on goods by reference to their value, the value of any imported goods shall be taken to be the price which they would fetch on a sale in the open market in the Colony at the time of importation.

(2) For the purpose of computing the price aforesaid it shall be assumed -

- (a) that the goods to be valued are to be delivered to the buyer at the port or place of importation, freight, insurance, commission and all other costs, charges and expenses incidental to the making of the contract of sale and the delivery of the goods at that port or place (except any duties of customs payable in the Colony and buying commission not exceeding five per centum of the total value which is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector to have been paid to an agent) having been paid by the seller; and
- (b) that in converting the selling price of the said goods from foreign currency to sterling, the rate of exchange is the selling rate for sight drafts at the principal port of the Colony first quoted on or after the date of importation; and

- (c) that any portion of any charge for primage which is refundable on the performance by the buyer of any specified conditions is not paid by the buyer, whether the buyer intends to fulfil such conditions or not; and
- (d) that the price is the sole consideration for the sale of the said goods; and
- (e) that neither the seller nor any person associated in business with him has any interest, direct or indirect, in the subsequent re-sale or disposal of the said goods; and
- (f) that there has not been and will not be any commercial relationship between the seller and the buyer, whether created by contract or otherwise, other than that created by the sale of the said goods.

(3) For the purposes of this section two persons shall be deemed to be associated in business with one another if, whether directly or indirectly, either of them has any interest in the business or property of the other, or both have a common interest in any business or property, or some third person has any interest in the business or property of both of them.

(4) The value of any exported goods for the purpose of assessing duty ad-valorem shall be determined in accordance with regulations which the Governor in Executive Council is hereby authorised to make in relation thereto.

14. If any article is enumerated in the tariff or can reasonably be classified under two or more names, headings or descriptions, and there is a difference of duty, the highest duty provided shall be charged and collected thereon.

Duty payable on classification at highest rate.

15. Goods containing any article liable to duty as a part or ingredient thereof shall be liable to duty at the rate payable on such part or ingredient, and any goods composed of more than one article liable to duty shall be liable to duty at the rate payable on the article charged with the highest rate of duty: Provided that the highest rate shall not be exacted in cases where the Collector in his discretion decides that the goods contain only a negligible proportion of the article liable to the highest rate. Provided also that in no case shall any less duty be charged on any such goods than the duty due thereon when considered as a whole without regard to their contents.

Duty on composite goods.

16. If any article subject to the payment of specific duty is imported in any package intended for sale, or of a kind usually sold with the goods when the same are sold retail, and marked or labelled, or commonly sold, as containing, or commonly reputed to contain, a specific quantity of such article, then such package shall be deemed to contain not less than such specific quantity.

Duty chargeable on reputed quantity.

17. If any article subject to the payment of duty according to the weight thereof is imported in any package intended for sale, or of a kind usually sold with the goods when the same are sold retail, and such package is not marked or labelled, or is not in the opinion of the Collector commonly sold as containing, or commonly reputed to contain, a specific quantity of such article, and the importer is not able to satisfy the Collector as to the correct nett weight, the duty thereon shall be calculated according to the gross weight of such package and its contents.

On gross weight in certain cases.

18. It shall be lawful for the Governor by notice in the Gazette to specify, in gallons and fractions of a gallon, standard capacities for packages containing goods liable to duties according to the liquid measurement thereof, in all cases where, in his absolute discretion, he shall consider that such packages, being of sizes within limits to be specified in the notice, are reputed to be, or are sold as packages of standard sizes, whether or not any statement of the actual contents is contained on any label or other attachment to or part of such package, and thereupon all packages having capacities within the limits specified in any notice shall be deemed to contain the standard capacity in the notice in each case.

Governor may fix standard contents for packages containing liquids.

Duties, etc. to be proportionate to quantity or value.

19. All duties, rates, charges and drawbacks imposed and allowed according to any specified quantity, or any specified value, or any particular description of package, shall be deemed to apply in the same proportion to any greater or less quantity or value or any other description of package, and shall be paid and received in any currency being legal tender in the Colony, and according to the weights and measures established by the laws of the Colony.

Abatement of duty.

20. No claim for any abatement of duty in respect of any goods imported into the Colony shall be allowed on account of damage, unless such claim shall be made on the first examination thereof, nor unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that such damage was sustained before the delivery thereof out of the care of the Collector.

Derelict, etc. goods liable to full duty unless damaged.

21. All goods derelict, jetsam, flotsam and wreck brought or coming into the Colony, and all droits of Admiralty sold in the Colony, shall at all times be subject to the same duty as goods of the like kind on importation into the Colony are subject, unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector that such goods are damaged.

Damage to be assessed by Collector.

22. Subject to the provisions of sections 20, 23 and 24, the damage sustained by any goods shall be assessed by the Collector, who shall allow abatement of the duty in proportion to such damage.

No abatement on certain goods.

23. No claim for abatement of duty on account of damage shall be allowed in respect of tobacco, cigars, cigarillos, cigarettes, wine or spirits.

Qualification as to abatement.

24. No claim for abatement of duty on account of damage shall be allowed in respect of imported goods (not being goods derelict, jetsam, flotsam, or wreck brought or coming into the Colony, or droits of Admiralty sold in the Colony) except on proof to the satisfaction of the Collector that the carrier or insurer of the goods has made an allowance to the importer in respect of the damage. In any such case the abatement shall not exceed such proportion of the duty as the amount of the allowance made bears to the value of the goods undamaged, calculated in accordance with section 13.

Limitations as to wine and beer.

25. No liquor containing more than forty-two per centum of proof spirit shall be deemed wine; and no liquor containing more than twenty per centum of proof spirit shall be deemed beer, ale, stout or porter. All liquor containing more than forty-two per centum of proof spirit, and all liquor, other than wine, containing more than twenty per centum of proof spirit, shall be deemed spirits.

Strength of spirits.

26. (1) In ascertaining the strength of any spirits, any obscuration shall be determined and allowed for.

(2) The certificate of the Collector of Customs as to the strength of any liquid containing alcohol shall be prima facie evidence of the strength thereof.

Goods used contrary to purpose for which imported.

27. If any goods which are ordinarily liable to duty at a given rate are allowed by law to be, and are in fact, entered at a lower rate of duty, or free of duty, on any special conditions, or for use for some special purpose, or because they are the property of or intended for use by some particular person or functionary, and if such conditions are not observed, and the goods are at any time within two years of the date of importation thereof used for any other than the specified purpose, or, being goods entered as aforesaid because they are the property of or intended for use by some particular person or functionary, are sold or transferred to any other person, such goods, unless the full duties thereon shall have been paid, shall be forfeited and the importer and any person who shall be knowingly concerned in the use of such goods contrary to such conditions, or for some purpose other than that specified or in any way contrary to this section, shall each incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

28. The importer of any such goods as aforesaid shall, on demand, produce them to any Officer, or otherwise account for them to the satisfaction of the Collector, within such period of two years aforesaid, and if he shall fail to produce such goods, or otherwise account for the same as aforesaid, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for not producing goods.

29. The provisions of sections 27 and 28 shall not apply to goods imported by or for use of the Government, and sold or transferred by Government order.

Saving as to goods of Government.

30. The Collector may give permission to any person to import any goods without payment of duty thereon, upon being satisfied that such goods are so imported for temporary use only. Such permission shall be subject to the provisions of section 32 and to the following conditions :

Goods imported for temporary use.

- (a) that such goods shall be exported within three months of the date of such permission, and
- (b) that the person to whom such permission is given shall deposit in the hands of the Collector the amount of the duty on such goods, or else give security therefor, at the election of the Collector.

31. If any goods imported under the provisions of section 30 are not exported within three months of the date of the said permission, the deposit in the hands of the Collector shall be forfeited, or, if security has been given as aforesaid, then the importer shall pay to the Collector the full duties on such goods. If such goods are exported as aforesaid, such deposit shall be refunded, or the security cancelled. Provided that the Collector may, in his discretion, and on provision of additional security where he so requires, allow any additional period where he is satisfied that the articles are the bona fide property or bona fide in the use of any person on a temporary visit to the Colony.

Disposal of deposit.

32. The Governor in Executive Council may by notice in the Gazette declare that any goods named by him shall not be imported under the provisions of section 30 and may also declare that any goods which are permitted to be brought in under the said section shall be subject to such proportion of the duty thereon as he shall specify in such notice.

Certain goods may be excepted.

33. (1) Where any new import duty of customs is imposed, or where any import duty of customs is increased, and any goods in respect of which the duty is payable are delivered on or after the day on which the new or increased duty takes effect in pursuance of a contract made before that day, the seller of the goods may, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, recover, as an addition to the contract price, a sum equal to any amount paid by him in respect of the goods on account of the new duty or increase of duty, as the case may be.

Contract prices of imported goods may be adjusted to meet change in duty.

(2) Where any import duty of customs is repealed or decreased, and any goods affected by the duty are delivered on or after the day on which the duty ceases or the decrease in the duty takes effect in pursuance of a contract made before that day, the purchaser of the goods, in the absence of agreement to the contrary may,

if the seller of the goods has had, in respect of those goods, the benefit of the repeal or decrease of the duty, deduct from the contract price a sum equal to the amount of the duty or decrease of duty, as the case may be.

(3) Where any addition to or reduction from the contract price may be made under this section on account of any new or repealed duty, such sum as may be agreed upon, or, in default of agreement, determined by the Collector as representing, in the case of a new duty, any new expenses incurred, and, in the case of a repealed duty, any expenses saved, may be included in the addition to or deduction from the contract price, and may be recovered or deducted accordingly.

Governor may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation.

34. It shall be lawful for the Governor from time to time by proclamation to prohibit the importation, carriage coastwise or exportation of any goods whatsoever, and any such proclamation may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation until the renovation thereof, or during such period as may be specified therein, and may either absolutely prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation, or may prohibit importation, carriage coastwise or exportation except on compliance with any conditions which may be specified in the proclamation, or importation from or exportation to any particular place named in the proclamation.

Goods prohibited to be imported.

35. Until revoked by proclamation under section 34 the importation of the following goods is prohibited :—

- (a) All goods which if sold would be liable to forfeiture under the Merchandise Marks Ordinance, 1889, and all goods of foreign manufacture bearing any name or trade mark being or purporting to be the name or trade mark of any manufacturer, dealer or trader in the British Empire, unless such name or trade mark is accompanied by a definite indication of the country in which the goods were made or produced.
- (b) All goods of a kind prohibited to be imported into the United Kingdom by order made under the Anthrax Prevention Act, 1919.
- (c) Arms and ammunition, except with the written permission of the Colonial Secretary.
- (d) Clocks and watches or any other article of metal impressed with any mark or stamp representing or in imitation of any legal British Empire assay mark, or stamp, or purporting by any mark or appearance to be of the manufacture of any part of the British Empire, such clocks, watches or other articles not being of the manufacture of such part of the British Empire.
- (e) Coin — viz.:- base or counterfeit coin of any country.
- (f) Coin, imitation and foreign, of a kind which is prohibited by law to be imported into the United Kingdom.
- (g) Coin, silver of the realm, or any money purporting to be such, not being of the established standard in weight and fineness.
- (h) Extracts, essences or other concentrations of tobacco, or any admixture of the same, tobacco stalks and tobacco-stalk flour, except under such conditions as the Collector may with the approval of the Governor either generally or in any particular case allow.
- (i) Fictitious stamps as defined in section 2 of the Post Office (Amendment) Ordinance, 1930, and any die, plate, instrument or materials capable of making any such stamps.
- (j) Indecent or obscene prints, paintings, photographs, books, cards, lithographic or other engravings, or any other indecent or obscene articles.

- (k) Mechanical games or devices set in operation wholly or partly by the insertion of a coin or coins, and so constructed as to return to the person inserting the coin or coins, in certain circumstances, a coin or coins of greater total value than that of the coin or coins inserted.
- (l) Spirits (not being cordials or perfumed or medicinal spirits), and wine, unless specifically reported as such, and unless in aircraft, or in ships of thirty tons burden at least, and in casks or other vessels capable of containing liquids, each of such casks or other vessels being of the size or content of nine gallons at the least, or unless in glass or stone bottles, properly packed in cases, or in demijohns, each case or demijohn containing not less than one gallon.
- (m) Saccharin, except with the written permission of the Senior Medical Officer.
- (n) Tobacco, cigars, cigarillos and cigarettes, unless specifically reported as such and unless in aircraft, or in ships of thirty tons burden at least, and unless in whole and complete packages, each containing not less than twenty pounds net weight of tobacco, cigars, cigarillos or cigarettes.

36. It shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the importation of spirits, wines, tobacco, cigars, cigarillos and cigarettes in smaller ships and in smaller quantities than are prescribed in section 35 or any proclamation made thereunder under such conditions and subject to such regulations as he may prescribe, and subject to such additional duties (if any) as may be fixed by the Legislature.

Saving as to spirits and tobacco.

37. Goods imported in transit or as bona fide stores of any aircraft or ship shall not be deemed to be goods prohibited to be imported or exported unless such goods –

Saving as to transit goods and stores.

- (a) being in transit, are of a description included in paragraphs (a), (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (i), (j), (l), (n) of section 35, or
- (b) being the bona fide stores of any aircraft or ship, are of a description included in paragraphs (a), (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (i) or (j) of section 35, or
- (c) are expressly prohibited to be imported in transit or as aircraft's or ship's stores, in any proclamation made under the customs laws, or in any Ordinance prohibiting the importation of any goods.

38. The provisions of sections 34 to 37 shall be additional to the provisions of section 134 of this Ordinance, and to any provisions of any other Ordinance prohibiting the importation, carriage coast-wise or exportation of any goods.

Prohibitions elsewhere provided.

39. (1) It shall be lawful for the Governor in Executive Council from time to time by regulation to direct on what goods a drawback of the whole or any part of the duties paid on the importation thereof may be granted, and the conditions under which such drawbacks shall be allowed.

Governor in Executive Council may direct granting of drawbacks.

(2) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained in this section, all drawbacks payable under any former Ordinance shall be paid or allowed under this Ordinance until cancelled by direction of the Governor in Executive Council under this section.

40. Every sum of money which shall be due upon any debenture, certificate or other instrument for the payment of money out of the duties of customs shall be paid by the Treasurer on the proper debenture certified by the Collector.

Certification of debenture.

Declaration by owners of goods exported on drawback.

41. The owner of any goods on which drawback is claimed shall make and subscribe a declaration on the debenture that the conditions under which drawback is allowed have been fulfilled, and, in the case of goods exported or put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores, that such goods have been actually exported or put on board for use as stores, as the case may be, and have not been returned and are not intended to be returned to the Colony, and that such owner at the time of entry of such goods was, and continues to be entitled to the drawback thereon.

Evidence of disposal of goods.

42. The Collector may require the owner to produce satisfactory evidence of the landing or disposal of any goods before certifying any debenture.

Time limit for debenture payment.

43. No debenture for any drawback shall be paid after the expiration of one year from the date of entry of any goods for drawback, or, in the case of goods exported or put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores, from the date of putting the same on board the exporting or using aircraft or ship.

Refund of duties paid in error.

44. The Treasurer shall return any money which shall have been overpaid as duties of customs at any time within two years after such overpayment, on the proper document for such overpayment being certified by the Collector.

ARRIVAL AND REPORT OF AIRCRAFT AND SHIPS, LANDING OF PASSENGERS AND UNLOADING, REMOVAL AND DELIVERY OF GOODS.

Procedure on arrival.

45. If any aircraft or ship arriving in the Colony or the waters thereof (a) shall not come to some port therein, or such other place as may be allowed by the Collector in any special circumstances, without touching at any other place in the Colony, or (b), on arriving at any such port or place, shall not come as quickly up to the proper place of mooring or unloading as the nature of the port or place will admit, without touching at any other place, or (c), in proceeding to such proper place, shall not bring to at the station appointed by the Governor by notice in the Gazette for the boarding of aircraft or ships, or (d), after arriving at such proper place shall depart therefrom except directly to some other place of mooring or unloading approved of by the proper Officer, or, with the authority of the proper Officer, directly to some other port or to some place allowed by the Collector in any special circumstances as aforesaid in the Colony, or directly on any flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony in accordance with the provisions of the customs laws, or, (e), after departing as aforesaid on any flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony shall bring to within the Colony or the waters thereof, unless in accordance with the customs laws, or with the permission of the proper Officer, or for some cause which the master shall explain to the satisfaction of the Collector, then in every such case the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Collector may direct mooring and discharge.

46. The Collector may, subject to any other authority provided by law, direct at what particular part of any port or other place aircraft or ships shall moor or shall discharge their cargo.

Officer may board aircraft or ship.

47. Any Officer on duty may board any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, and stay on board for any period, and shall have free access to every part, with power to secure any part by such means as he shall consider necessary, and to examine any goods, and to require any goods to be unloaded, and removed for examination, or for the security thereof, or to unload and remove such goods at the expense of the master or owner, or the agent of either, and to examine any goods in course of being unloaded or removed, or when unloaded or removed, and to lock up, seal, mark or otherwise secure any goods on board such aircraft or ship.

Officer may open if access not free.

48. If any Officer acting under the provisions of section 47 shall find that there be not free access to any place or to any box or chest, or if the keys of any such place, box or chest, if locked, be withheld, such Officer may open any such place, box or chest in any manner; and if any goods be found concealed on board, they shall be forfeited.

49. If the Officer shall place any lock, mark or seal upon any goods on board an aircraft or ship, or upon any place or package in which the same may be, and such lock, mark or seal be wilfully opened, altered or broken before due delivery of such goods, or within the Colony or the waters thereof, except with the authority of the proper Officer, or if any of such goods be secretly conveyed away, or if any goods, place or package, after having been secured by the Officer, be opened within the Colony or the waters thereof, except with the authority of the proper Officer, or if the Officer shall require any goods to be unloaded and removed for examination or for the security thereof, and such goods shall not be unloaded and removed forthwith as required by the Officer, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for interfering with seal, etc.

50. If any Officer shall board any aircraft or ship and find any goods thereon, and, after leaving such aircraft or ship, such Officer, or any other Officer, shall board such aircraft or ship, and such or any part of such goods shall no longer be on board, and the master is unable to give a due account of the lawful discharging of the same, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Goods unlawfully discharged.

51. If any Officer shall be informed or have reason to suppose that any person on an aircraft or ship, or any person who shall have landed from an aircraft or ship, or any person who the Officer may suspect has received any goods from any such person, is carrying or has any uncustomed or prohibited goods about his person, such Officer may search such person; and if any such person shall, upon being questioned by any Officer whether he has any goods obtained outside the Colony about his person, or in his possession, or in his baggage, refuse to answer or deny having the same, and any such goods shall be discovered to be or to have been upon his person, or in his possession, or in his baggage, such goods shall be forfeited. No Officer shall be liable to any prosecution or action at law on account of any search made in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Search of persons.

52. Before any person shall be searched he may require to be taken with all reasonable despatch before a Magistrate, or the Collector or other superior Officer, who shall, if he see no reasonable cause for search, discharge such person, but if otherwise, direct that he be searched.

Certain officers may not search without special authority.

53. A female shall not be searched except by a female.

Search of female.

54. If upon boarding any ship any Officer shall find any goods of which the master shall not be able to give a satisfactory account, and if such Officer shall suspect that such goods are being or have been or are intended to be dealt with in any way contrary to the customs laws, he may arrest and detain such master, and take him before a Magistrate, and if such master shall fail to satisfy the Magistrate that such goods had not been, were not being, and were not intended to be dealt with contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited, and the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Control of small craft.

55. The Governor in Executive Council may from time to time make general regulations in respect of ships not exceeding one hundred tons burden prescribing, with reference to the tonnage, build or general description of such ships, the limits within which the same may be used or employed, the mode of navigation, the manner in which such ships shall be so used or employed, and such other terms, particulars, conditions and restrictions as the Governor in Executive Council may think fit, and also from time to time to revoke, alter or vary such regulations.

General regulations for small craft.

Penalty for infringement of regulations re small craft.

56. Every ship which shall be used or employed contrary to any regulations made under section 55 shall be forfeited unless the same shall have been specially licensed by the Collector to be so used or employed, as next hereinafter provided.

Licences for small craft.

57.. The Collector may, if he thinks fit, grant licences in respect of any ships not exceeding one hundred tons burden upon such terms and conditions, and subject to such restrictions and stipulations as in such licences mentioned, notwithstanding any general regulations made as aforesaid, whether the said regulations shall be revoked or not; and if any ship so licensed shall not comply with the conditions imposed by or expressed in any such licence, or if such ship shall be found without having such licence on board, such ship shall be forfeited. The Collector may revoke, alter or vary any licence granted as aforesaid.

Accommodation of Officer.

58. If the master of any ship on board of which any Officer is stationed shall neglect or refuse to provide every such Officer with proper and sufficient food and suitable bedding accommodation under the deck, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Report.

59. The master of every aircraft or ship, whether laden or in ballast, or his agent, shall (except as otherwise provided in any regulations made under this Ordinance) within twenty-four hours after arrival from any place outside the Colony at any port, or at any place specially allowed by the Collector, make report of such aircraft or ship, and its stores and cargo, to the Collector on the prescribed form in the prescribed manner, and giving the prescribed particulars.

Certain goods to be separately reported.

60. Every report required by section 59 shall show separately any goods which are to be transferred to another aircraft or ship for re-exportation, and shall state whether there be any goods which are to remain on board for exportation in the same aircraft or ship; and such report shall, except where otherwise specially allowed by the Collector, give a particular account of all goods remaining on board for exportation, and shall be made before bulk be broken.

Certain goods to be reported before breaking bulk.

61. The master of any aircraft or ship shall make report of any packages or parcels for which no bill of lading has been issued, before bulk be broken, unless the Collector shall otherwise allow.

Penalty for not making due report.

62. If the master of any aircraft or ship, or his agent, shall fail to make due report, or if any of the particulars contained in such report be false, such master, or his agent, shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and all goods not duly reported shall be forfeited, unless the omission is explained to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Penalty for not accounting for package reported.

63. If any package or parcel reported (except as remaining on board as stores or for re-exportation or, with the permission of the Collector, for direct transfer to another aircraft or ship for use as stores or for re-exportation) shall not be duly unloaded, removed and deposited in a customs area or other place approved by the Collector, and shall not be duly entered and cleared therefrom in accordance with the customs laws, or else shall not be produced to the proper Officer for deposit or be deposited in the King's warehouse in accordance with the provisions of section 82, the master or his agent shall pay the duty thereon, and, in addition, a penalty of five pounds in respect of each such package or parcel, unless he shall explain the failure to unload, remove and deposit or produce such package or parcel as aforesaid to the satisfaction of the Collector.

64. No goods may be imported as aircraft's or ships' stores except such as are required for consumption or use by or for the aircraft or ship, its officers, crew and passengers, and any goods not so required (other than the bona fide baggage of passengers) shall for all purposes be deemed to be the cargo of such aircraft or ship.

What is cargo.

65. The master or agent shall (a) answer immediately all such questions relating to the aircraft or ship, its cargo, stores, baggage, crew, passengers and flight or voyage as shall be put to him by the proper Officer and (b) produce all such books and documents in his custody or control relating to the aircraft or ship, its cargo, stores, baggage, crew, passengers and flight or voyage as the proper Officer may require and (c) before any person (unless permitted by the proper Officer) disembarks, deliver to the Officer who boards such aircraft or ship on arrival at any port or place a list containing the names of each passenger on board such aircraft or ship, and also, if required by such Officer the names of the master, and of each officer and member of the crew; and if such list be not correct and complete, unless the inaccuracy or omission is explained to the satisfaction of the Collector, or if he shall not observe any of the provisions of this section, the master or his agent shall in respect of every such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Master to answer questions.

66. If after arrival within the Colony or the waters thereof bulk shall be broken contrary to section 60 or section 61, or any alteration made in the stowage of the cargo of any aircraft or ship so as to facilitate the unloading of any part of such cargo before such aircraft or ship shall have arrived at her proper place of unloading, or, not being an aircraft or ship specially allowed so to do, before report of such aircraft or ship shall have been made as hereinbefore provided, or if at any time after arrival as aforesaid any goods be staved, destroyed or thrown overboard, or any package be opened without the knowledge and consent of the proper Officer, in every such case the master or his agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, unless cause be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Penalty for wrongly breaking bulk.

67. The master of every aircraft or ship or his agent shall, if required, deliver to the Collector at the time of making report the clearance of such aircraft or ship, if any, from the port or ports from which such aircraft or ship shall have arrived.

Master to deliver previous clearance.

68. The master of every vessel arriving from any port out of the Colony at any port of the Colony other than Stanley, for the purpose of landing or receiving cargo, shall, upon being admitted to entry inwards, pay to the Officer at such port a duty of one shilling per ton on the registered tonnage of such vessel: Provided that no vessel shall be liable to a payment of a larger amount than ten pounds in respect of the aforesaid duty on each entry, and no vessel shall be suffered to clear out until the said duty has been paid, and the same and other duties collected by such Officer, shall be transmitted with all convenient speed by such Officer to the Treasurer at Stanley. All vessels liable to the payment of tonnage duties shall be liable to the same only for the first two voyages after the first day of January in any one year, and after payment of tonnage duties on such two voyages, shall be exempt from any further duties during the remainder of such year.

Tonnage dues.

69. Any Officer may seize any aircraft or ship found abandoned within the Colony or the waters thereof, and such aircraft or ship shall be forfeited, unless the owner shall claim the same within one month of the date of seizure, and satisfy the Collector that the requirements of the customs laws have been complied with.

Ship abandoned may be seized.

70. All inward cargo, shall be examined and cleared by the proper Officer in Stanley or, in the case of goods consigned to the Dependencies, by the proper Officer in the Dependency concerned, before delivery. The Collector shall, however, in circumstances which, in his opinion, so merit, have power to authorise the landing (subject to the approval of the Director of Agriculture) of livestock, agricultural materials and agricultural machinery at ports or places other than Stanley, without prior examination by the Customs Authorities in Stanley.

Unloading, entry, removal and delivery of goods.

71. Save in accordance with any regulation made under this Ordinance, or with the written permission of the Collector -

- (a) No goods shall be unloaded from any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony unless authority for unloading the same has been given by the proper Officer.
- (b) No goods shall be unloaded from any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony, except at an approved place of unloading or sufferance wharf approved for the purpose and all goods when so unloaded, and all goods which shall have been put into a vessel to be landed shall immediately upon being unloaded or landed be conveyed in the care of the proper Officer into the customs area, or to a King's warehouse if the Collector shall so require.
- (c) No goods shall be removed from any part of the customs area or from the King's warehouse into which the same shall have been conveyed unless such goods shall have first been duly reported and entered, and authority for the removal or delivery of the same has been given by the proper Officer.
- (d) Goods entered to be warehoused shall be removed by the importer by such ways, in such manner and within such time as the proper Officer shall direct to the warehouse for which the same are entered, and delivered into the care of the Officer in charge of the warehouse; provided that, if the Collector shall so require, the importer shall first enter into a bond for the due warehousing of such goods.

As to goods other than cargo.

72. The provisions of section 71 shall apply to the cargo of the aircraft or ship only. No goods whatsoever other than cargo, duly reported as such, shall be taken out of any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony or delivered to any person aboard such aircraft or ship other than for the consumption or use of the crew or passengers thereof except under such conditions (which conditions may vary the procedure as to reporting the aircraft or ship as required by this Ordinance) as may be prescribed in any regulations made under this Ordinance or directed by the Collector in any particular case. The term "goods" in the expression "no goods whatsoever" shall include passengers' baggage, stores, and any goods which may be taken on board any aircraft or ship arriving from any place outside the Colony while such aircraft or ship is within the Colony or the waters thereof.

Forfeiture.

73. If any goods shall be unloaded, removed or dealt with contrary to the provisions of section 71 or section 72, or to the terms and conditions contained in any written permission given by the Collector, they shall be forfeited.

Delivery of bullion and coin.

74. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the delivery to the importer of any bullion or coin under the authority of the proper Officer without entry thereof, but if such importer shall not within forty-eight hours after the same shall have been removed from the importing aircraft or ship deliver to the proper Officer a full and true account thereof, including its weight and value, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Entry in absence of documents.

75. If the importer of any goods shall not be able to furnish full particulars of such goods for want of any documents or information concerning them (other than documents or information relating to the origin of such goods required by regulations made under section 8) he shall make and subscribe a declaration in the prescribed form to that effect before the Collector or proper Officer, and the Collector shall thereupon permit the importer to examine and enter the said goods, notwithstanding that there shall not be satisfactory documentary evidence regarding the same, and may allow delivery of the said goods, provided that the Collector is satisfied that the description of the goods for tariff and statistical purposes is correct and also, in the case of goods liable to duty ad valorem, that the value declared on the entry is approximately correct and in the case of goods liable to duty according to the weight or measurement thereof, that the weight or measurement declared on the entry is correct.

76. In the case of goods liable to duty ad valorem the entry made in accordance with section 75 shall be deemed provisional. The amount estimated as the duty for the purpose of making such provisional entry shall be held on deposit; and the importer shall also deposit with the Collector, in addition to the amount deposited as the estimated duty on the said goods, such sum as the Collector may require, not being less than one-half of the amount deposited as the estimated duty.

Entry provisional.

77. The sum deposited as the estimated duty as aforesaid shall be brought to account as duty, and the additional sum deposited shall be forfeited, unless the importer shall within three months, or such further period as the Collector may in any special circumstances allow, produce to the Collector satisfactory evidence of the value, and make final entry of such goods, in which case so much of the sums deposited as shall be necessary shall be brought to account as duty and the balance returned to the person who deposited the same.

Disposal of deposit.

78. The Collector may retain such samples of the goods entered under section 75 for such period up to the final entry of such goods as he shall require, and the proper Officer shall make inventory of the said goods.

Samples to be retained.

79. If the importer, having made a declaration in accordance with section 75, shall not make entry as therein provided, or if the Collector is not satisfied as aforesaid (in which case any entry which shall have been made shall be ipso facto void), the Collector shall cause the goods referred to in such declaration to be deposited in a King's warehouse and dealt with as provided in section 83.

Goods not entered after declaration.

80. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, if the Collector is satisfied, whether before or after the warehousing under section 79 of any goods liable to duty ad valorem, that it is impossible for the importer to obtain satisfactory documentary evidence of the value of such goods, or if in any case the documentary evidence relating to such goods, though not complete, is in the opinion of the Collector sufficient to enable a reliable estimate of the value to be made, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit such goods to be entered according to a value which two Officers to be appointed by the Collector for the purpose are satisfied is, as nearly as may be estimated, and not less than, the correct value of such goods.

Power to waive production of documents.

81. Where the Collector permits any goods to be entered in the absence of any document under the provisions of section 80, it shall be lawful for him to require the person entering the goods to deposit with him such additional sum as he shall require, not exceeding one-half of the duty paid upon such goods. Any sum so deposited shall be forfeited unless the person entering the goods shall produce the required document within three months of the date of entry, or unless he shall explain his failure to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Deposit in certain cases.

Goods not entered or delivered to be deposited in King's Warehouse.

82. If any goods imported in any aircraft or ship shall remain on board such aircraft or ship, or having been unloaded, shall not be entered and also delivered from the customs area within ten days from the date of importation, or such further period as the Collector may in any special circumstances allow, then such goods shall be deposited in such King's warehouse as the Collector shall direct by the agent of such aircraft or ship, or by the Collector, if there be no agent, or if the agent shall not act forthwith as herein required. Such goods shall be subject to rent and other charges as if they were goods warehoused in a King's warehouse in pursuance of an entry for warehousing.

Goods warehoused may be sold.

83. (1) Where under the provisions of this Ordinance any goods are required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and such goods are of a perishable nature, then it shall be lawful for the Collector, notwithstanding such provisions, to sell the same forthwith by public auction; and if such goods, though not perishable, are of a kind not permitted, by any other provision of law, to be deposited in a King's warehouse, it shall be lawful for the Collector, notwithstanding such provisions, to sell the same by public auction after fourteen days' notice by publication in the Gazette.

(2) Where any goods are deposited in a King's warehouse under the provisions of this Ordinance, and the same are not entered for warehousing or delivery from such King's warehouse within three months after such deposit, or within such further period as the Collector may direct, and all charges for removal, freight, and rent, and all other expenses incurred in respect thereof, duly paid, such goods may be sold by public auction after one month's notice being given by publication in the Gazette.

(3) In all cases where goods are sold under the provisions of this section, the proceeds shall be applied first in discharge of duties (if any), of the expenses of removal and sale, and of rent and charges due to the Government, and then of freight and other charges; and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the goods on his application for the same, if such application be made within two years from the time of the sale of such goods, but otherwise shall be paid into the general revenue of the Colony.

Goods not sold on being offered for sale.

84. If any goods on being offered for sale as aforesaid cannot be sold for a sum to pay all duties, expenses, rent and charges, the same may be destroyed, or otherwise disposed of as the Governor may direct.

Goods warehoused may be examined.

85. It shall be lawful for the Collector to cause any goods required to be removed under this Ordinance to a King's warehouse to be opened for examination by any Officer, as often as may be required, at the expense of the owner of such goods.

Goods may be entered by shipowner.

86. Where the owner of any goods imported in any ship into the Colony fails to make entry thereof, or having made entry, fails to land the same or to take delivery thereof by the times severally hereinafter mentioned, the shipowner or master or the agent of either, may make entry of the said goods at the times, in the manner, and subject to the conditions following, that is to say :—

- (a) If a time for the delivery of the goods is expressed in the charter party, bill of lading or agreement, then at any time after the time so expressed; and
- (b) If no time for delivery of the goods is expressed in the charter party, bill of lading or agreement, then at any time after the expiration of seventy-two hours, exclusive of a Sunday or public holiday, after the report of the ship :

Provided that if at any time before the goods are landed or unshipped, the owner of the goods is ready and offers to land or take delivery of the same, he shall be allowed to do so, and his entry shall, in such case, be preferred to any entry which may have been made by the shipowner or master, or the agent of either.

87. The periods of time mentioned in sections 82 and 86 shall be computed from the time at which the aircraft or ship and goods shall have been released from any quarantine to which they may have been subjected.

Computation of time.

88. On the arrival of any vessel from any port out of the Colony at any port in the Colony it shall be lawful for the Collector to send one or more Officers on board of such vessel to remain on board at the discretion of the Collector till all goods are landed from such vessel, and the duties (if any), shall have been paid or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, and there shall be paid for the services of every Officer so proceeding or remaining on board, as aforesaid, by the master or consignee of such vessel to the Treasurer for the purposes of general revenue, the sum of ten shillings for every day or part of a day during which such Officer shall be so employed.

Officer may remain on board at discretion of Collector: charge for Officers' services.

89. No person whether a passenger or not, shall disembark or go ashore from, or go on board any aircraft or ship that shall have arrived within the Colony or the waters thereof, save at such times, by such means, and by such ways as may be prescribed in any regulations made under this Ordinance, or otherwise as the Collector may allow.

Restrictions as to passengers and other persons.

WAREHOUSED GOODS AND GOODS DEPOSITED IN A CUSTOMS AREA.

90. It shall be lawful for the Governor from time to time by notice in the Gazette to declare what kind of goods, shall or may be warehoused upon first importation, without payment of duty thereon; and any such goods, while in any warehouse, and all goods whatsoever while in any customs area, shall be subject to such regulations as may be made under this Ordinance, and, in the case of goods deposited in a King's warehouse or customs area in the occupation or use of the Government, to the payment by the owner of such goods, at the prescribed times, of such rent and other charges as the Governor shall from time to time direct by notice in the Gazette; and if at any time any such rent or other charges shall not be paid to the Collector when due and payable on any goods in any such King's warehouse or customs area, such goods may, without prejudice to any other lawful method of recovery, be sold, or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied, as if they were goods which might be sold, or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of sections 117 and 118.

Warehouse.

91. No compensation shall be payable by Government to any importer, owner or consignee of any goods deposited in a King's warehouse or in a customs area in the occupation or use of Government, save when loss or damage occurs as the direct result of the wilful act or negligence of Government or of an Officer.

Compensation for damage to goods deposited in King's Warehouse.

92. Where under the customs laws any goods are or may be required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and for any reason the Collector may in his discretion decide that it is undesirable or inconvenient to deposit such goods in a King's warehouse, such goods shall for all purposes be deemed to be deposited in a King's warehouse as from the time that the same are required to be deposited in a King's warehouse, and shall also be chargeable with such expenses for securing, watching and guarding, and of removing the same from the original to some other place or deposit (if the Collector shall so require) as the Collector shall deem reasonable, and neither the Collector nor any Officer shall be liable to make good any damage which such goods may sustain by reason or during the time of their being so deposited and dealt with as aforesaid.

Goods deemed to be in King's Warehouse.

Private warehouses
and customs areas.

93. No building or place may be used as a private warehouse, or, save with the written permission of the Collector, as a customs area, until a bond, in such sum as may from time to time in each case be required by the Collector, is given by the warehouse-keeper, or by the owner or occupier of the customs area, as the case may be, with one or more sufficient sureties, conditioned on due payment of all duties and the due observation of the provisions of the customs laws.

Hulk warehouse.

94. In all cases where it may be expedient to constitute a hulk a warehouse such hulk shall be fitted with a secure store room, and the key of such store room shall be in the custody of an Officer, who shall keep a correct account of all dutiable goods removed from the importing vessel and placed therein, but no goods shall be kept on board any such hulk for a longer period than seven days, unless by special permission in writing of the Collector, and any such goods received on board any hulk without being placed in such secure store room as aforesaid, shall be liable to forfeiture; and the owner of such hulk shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for each offence. The removal of any such goods to and from such hulk shall be carried out in the presence of one or more Officers, and there shall be paid by the owner of such hulk the sum of ten shillings per day for the services of each Officer so employed and the Collector may send one or more Officers on board such hulk there to remain during the time any dutiable goods shall be on board and the owner of such hulk shall pay for the service of each Officer at the above mentioned rate.

Officers not liable for wrong delivery.

95. No action shall be brought against the Government or any of its Officers for loss or damage sustained by goods while in any private warehouse or private customs area or hulk warehouse or for any wrong or improper delivery of goods therefrom.

Warehouse-keeper,
etc. not to enter warehouse without permission.

96. The owner or occupier of any customs area or a warehouse-keeper shall not by himself or by any person in his employ open or gain access to any building in a customs area or transit shed or private warehouse except in the presence or with the knowledge and consent of an Officer acting in the execution of his duty.

Owner of warehouse,
etc. to provide facilities.

97. The owner of any private warehouse or customs area shall provide such office accommodation and weights, scales, measures and other facilities for examining and taking an account of goods and for securing the same as the Collector may require.

Revocation of order
approving warehouse.

98. On the revocation of the appointment of any private warehouse, the duties on all the goods warehoused therein shall be paid or the goods shall be exported or removed to another warehouse within such time, not less than three months, as the Collector may direct. Notice in writing of such revocation addressed to the warehouse-keeper of the private warehouse, and left thereat, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons interested in the goods.

Disposal of goods on revocation.

99. If any goods shall not be duly exported or removed in conformity with section 98 such goods shall be taken to a King's warehouse by an Officer, and may be sold, or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied as if they were goods which might be sold or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of section 83.

Procedure as to warehousing.

100. Upon the delivery of any goods entered to be warehoused into the care of the Officer in charge of any warehouse, such Officer shall, subject to any other direction of the Collector, whether account has been taken of such goods on the quay or elsewhere, or not, take a particular account of such goods, and shall enter in a book prepared for that purpose the name of the importing aircraft or ship, and of the person in whose name such goods are entered, the number of packages, the mark and number of each package, and the description of the goods; and when the same shall have been deposited in the warehouse, with the authority of such Officer, he shall certify at the foot of the account that the entry and warehousing of the goods is complete, and such goods shall from that time be considered goods duly warehoused.

101. All goods warehoused shall be deposited in the packages in which they are imported, except such goods as are permitted to be skipped on the quay, or bulked, sorted, lotted, packed or repacked in the warehouse, in which case they shall be deposited in the packages in which they are contained when the account thereof is taken by the proper Officer on the completion of such operation.

Goods to be warehoused in packages in which imported.

102. If in the case of goods warehoused in a private warehouse any alteration shall afterwards be made in the goods or packages so deposited, or in the packing thereof in the warehouse, or in the marks or numbers of such packages, or if the same shall be removed from the part of the warehouse in which they were deposited, without the presence and sanction of the proper Officer, except for delivery after they have been duly entered, and under the authority of the proper Officer, such goods shall be forfeited.

Penalty for interfering with storage of goods in a private warehouse.

103. The Collector may direct in what different parts or divisions of any warehouse or customs area and in what manner any goods shall be deposited therein, and if any goods are deposited contrary to such directions, the occupier of such warehouse or customs area shall in respect of every package so deposited incur a penalty of five pounds, together with a further penalty of one pound for each day during which any such package shall remain so deposited.

Collector may direct stowing of goods.

104. If the occupier of any warehouse or customs area or any part thereof shall neglect the goods deposited therein so that easy access may be had to every package and parcel thereof, he shall, for every such neglect, incur a penalty of five pounds, together with a further penalty of one pound for each day during which such neglect continues.

Penalty for neglect to stow goods properly.

105. If the occupier of any warehouse or customs area, or any part thereof, shall not produce to any Officer, on his request, any goods deposited in such warehouse or customs area, or any part thereof, which shall not have been duly entered and delivered therefrom, such occupier shall, for every such neglect, incur a penalty of five pounds in respect of every package or parcel not so produced, and shall pay the duties due thereon.

Warehoused goods to produced to Officer.

106. If any goods entered to be warehoused shall not be duly warehoused by the importer in pursuance of such entry, or if any goods whatsoever, being duly warehoused or deposited in a customs area, shall be in any way concealed in or removed from the warehouse or customs area, or abstracted from any package, or transferred from one package to another, or otherwise, for the purpose of illegal mixing, removal, or concealment, they shall be forfeited.

Penalty for not warehousing etc.

107. If any person shall clandestinely open any warehouse or transit shed or, except in the presence of the proper Officer acting in the execution of his duty, gain access to the goods therein, he shall for every such offence, incur a penalty of one hundred pounds; and if any person shall enter any warehouse or any part of a customs area when forbidden by any Officer, or refuse to leave any warehouse or any part of a customs area when requested to do so by any Officer, he shall incur a penalty of ten pounds.

Penalty for illegally opening warehouse or customs area.

108. If any goods required to be previously entered shall be taken out of any warehouse or customs area without being duly entered (except as permitted by the customs laws), the warehouse-keeper or the occupier of any part of a customs area where such goods shall have been deposited shall forthwith pay the duties due upon such goods; and every person taking out any goods from any warehouse or customs area, without the same having been duly entered (except as aforesaid), or who shall aid, assist, or be concerned therein, and every person who shall destroy or embezzle any goods duly warehoused or deposited in a customs area shall be guilty of an offence, and shall, on conviction, on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two years; but if such person shall be an Officer not acting in the due execution of his duty, and shall be prosecuted to conviction by the importer, consignee, or owner of such goods, no duty shall be payable for or in respect of such goods, and the damage occasioned by such destruction or embezzlement shall, with the sanction of the Governor in Executive Council, be repaid or made good to such importer, consignee, or owner by the Treasurer.

Penalty for embezzling warehoused goods etc.

Collector may do reasonable acts to warehoused goods.

109. The Collector shall have power at the expense of the owner of goods warehoused in a King's warehouse, or deposited in a customs area in the occupation or use of the Government, to do all such reasonable acts as may by him respectively be deemed necessary for the proper custody and preservation of such goods, and shall have a lien on the said goods for expenses so incurred; but no such acts shall be done until the expiration of twenty-four hours after the owner of such goods has been notified that such acts are required, unless the Collector shall in his discretion decide that immediate action is necessary for the proper custody or preservation of the goods as aforesaid.

Owner to pay cost of action taken under section 109.

110. The importer or owner of any such goods shall pay any expenses incurred in respect thereof under section 109 at such times and in such manner as the Collector shall either generally or in any particular case direct, and if any such expenses be not paid in accordance herewith, such goods may be sold or otherwise dealt with, and any proceeds applied as if they were goods which might be sold or otherwise dealt with under the provisions of section 118.

Removal of warehoused goods to another warehouse.

111. The removal of warehoused goods from a warehouse to any other warehouse shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance and to such other conditions as the Collector may direct.

Procedure on delivery.

112. On the delivery of any goods for removal as aforesaid, an account containing the particulars thereof shall be transmitted by the proper Officer of the port or place of removal to the proper Officer of the port or place of destination, and the person requiring the removal thereof shall enter into a bond, with such security or securities as the Collector shall require, in a sum equal at least to the duty chargeable on such goods, for the due arrival and re-warehousing thereof at the port or place of destination within such time as the proper Officer may direct; and such bond shall not be discharged unless such goods shall have been produced to the proper Officer and duly re-warehoused at the port or place of destination within the time directed by the proper Officer as aforesaid, or unless the full duties of customs shall have been paid thereon as provided in section 114, or unless such goods shall have been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, nor until the full duties due upon any deficiency of such goods not so accounted for shall have been paid.

Goods removed subject to warehouse regulations.

113. Upon the arrival of such goods at the port or place of destination, they shall be entered and warehoused, as nearly as may be subject to the laws, rules and regulations, which apply to the entry and warehousing of goods on first importation.

May be entered for use in the Colony or exportation.

114. If, upon the arrival of goods so removed as aforesaid at the port or place of destination, the parties shall be desirous forthwith to export the same, or to pay duty thereon for use within the Colony, without actually lodging the same in the warehouse for which they have been entered and examined to be re-warehoused, the Officer at such port or place may permit the same to be entered and delivered for home use, or, after all the formalities of entering and examining such goods for re-warehousing have been duly performed, to be entered and loaded for exportation, as if such goods had been actually lodged in such warehouse.

115. If any goods taken from a warehouse for removal or for exportation or use as aircraft's or ships' stores shall be removed or put on board an aircraft or ship, except with the authority or under the care of the proper Officer, and in accordance with any regulations made under this Ordinance, and in such manner, by such persons and within such time, and by such roads or ways, as such Officer shall permit or direct, such goods shall be forfeited; and if any such goods shall be illegally removed or carried away prior to being put on board the exporting or removing aircraft, ship or carriage, or from any exporting or removing aircraft, ship or carriage, in or on which the same shall have been put, the bond given in respect thereof shall be forfeited, and may forthwith be put in suit for the penalty thereof, although the time prescribed in such bond for putting the goods on board the exporting aircraft or ship, or re-warehousing such goods at the place of destination, shall not have expired; and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Removal, etc. to be subject to certain conditions.

116. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may, if in his discretion he shall decide that such action is advisable, remove goods at the cost of Government from one King's warehouse to another in any manner he may deem reasonable.

Collector may remove goods warehoused in King's warehouse.

117. All warehoused goods shall be entered and delivered either for use within the Colony, or as aircraft's or ships' stores, or for exportation not later than two years after the day on which the same were warehoused, or within such further period and in such cases as the Collector shall direct unless the owner of such goods shall be desirous of re-warehousing the same, in which case the same shall be examined by the proper Officer, and the duties due upon any deficiency or difference between the quantity ascertained on importation and the quantity found to exist on such examination, together with the necessary expenses attendant thereon, and any charges incurred in respect of the said goods, shall, subject to such allowances as are by law permitted in respect thereof, be paid to the Collector; and the quantity so found shall be re-warehoused in the name of the then owner in the same manner as on first importation; Provided that if the owner shall, with the concurrence of the warehouse-keeper, desire to re-warehouse the same according to the account taken at the importation thereof, without re-examination, such re-examination may be dispensed with, the Officer being satisfied that the same are still in the warehouse, and that there is no reason to suspect that there is any undue deficiency; but the warehouse-keeper shall be liable to make good the duty on any deficiency not allowed by law which may be discovered in the goods at the time of delivery thereof, or any earlier time.

Re-warehousing.

118. If any warehoused goods shall not be duly entered for use within the Colony, or as aircraft's or ships' stores, or exported or re-warehoused, and the duties ascertained to be due on the deficiencies as aforesaid and any charges and expenses shall not be paid at the expiration of two years from the previous entry and warehousing thereof or within such further period as shall be directed as aforesaid the same shall, after one month's notice by advertisement in the Gazette, with all convenient speed be sold by public auction, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied to payment of the duties, expenses of the sale, and of any rent and charges due to the Government, then in discharge of any lien for freight and other charges, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of such goods on his application for the same within two years from the time of sale, but otherwise shall be paid into the general revenue of the Colony;

Disposal of goods not re-warehoused.

and if such goods, on being so offered for sale, cannot be sold for a sum to pay all duties, expenses, rent and charges due to the Government, then the same may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Governor may direct; and the duties due upon any deficiency in any warehoused goods not allowed by law shall be forthwith paid by the warehouse-keeper.

Freight on goods
warehoused.

119. Any Officer having the custody of any goods which shall have come into his hands under this Ordinance shall refuse delivery thereof from a King's warehouse or other place of deposit until proof be given to his satisfaction that the freight due on such goods has been paid; provided that this section shall not apply to goods which shall have been warehoused in pursuance of an entry for warehousing.

Warehouse goods entered or sold must be removed within 14 days.

120. If any goods shall remain in any warehouse for a period of fourteen days after being entered for use within the Colony, or after being sold by public auction under the customs laws, they shall be forfeited and disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct, unless the failure to remove the same shall be explained to the satisfaction of the Collector.

Delivery in special circumstances.

121. The Collector may permit any goods to be taken out of any warehouse or customs area without payment of duty for such purpose and for such period as to him may appear expedient, and in such quantities, and under such regulations and restrictions, and with such security by bond for the due return thereof, or the payment of the duties due thereon, as he may direct or require; and if any such goods shall be dealt with in any way contrary to the terms of such permission or to such regulations or restrictions, the same shall be forfeited.

Stores.

122. The Collector may permit warehoused goods to be delivered as stores for a ship of not less than thirty tons burden, or an aircraft, in accordance with section 148; and if any goods taken from a warehouse for use as stores shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered, or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector, or shall be dealt with in any way contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited.

Duty to be paid according to original account.

123. The duties to be paid when warehoused goods are entered for use within the Colony shall not be less in amount than would have been payable according to the value or quantity thereof at the time of importation except as to the following goods, namely, tobacco in leaf, oil in casks, wine in casks, malt liquor in casks, and spirits in casks, the duties whereon, when cleared from the warehouse for use within the Colony, shall be chargeable upon the quantity of such goods ascertained by weight, measure, or strength at the time of actual delivery thereof, unless there is reasonable ground to suppose that any portion of any deficiency has been caused by illegal abstraction.

Goods entered for
from import duty.

124. Subject to the observance by the exporter of all the provisions of the customs laws and of the conditions of any bond, no import duty shall be charged in respect of any goods entered under bond for the due exportation and landing thereof in a place outside the Colony, or for use as aircraft's or ships' stores in accordance with section 148, and delivered from any warehouse or customs area, unless the Collector has reasonable grounds to suppose that any deficiency in any such goods, or any part thereof, has arisen from illegal abstraction, in which case duty shall be paid on such deficiency by the owner of such goods.

LOADING AND EXPORTATION OF GOODS.

Entry Outwards.

125. The master of every ship, in which any goods are to be exported, or his agent, shall, before any goods be taken on board, deliver to the proper Officer at the port at which such ship shall have first arrived an entry outwards of such ship, verified by his signature, in the prescribed form, and containing the several particulars indicated in or required thereby, and in such entry outwards the master or his agent shall declare that no imported goods are left on board such ship other than such goods and stores as shall be specified in the entry outwards.

126. The master of every ship to which provisions of section 125 apply shall if required obtain from the proper Officer a certificate of rummage in the prescribed form. If he desires to obtain such certificate before the whole of the inward cargo of the ship has been discharged, he shall remove and stow the inward cargo remaining on board such ship in such manner as such Officer shall direct in order to enable him to rummage the ship, and after the ship has been rummaged, shall stow the inward cargo remaining on board separately and keep it separate to the satisfaction of the proper Officer from any coastwise or any outward cargo that may subsequently be put into such ship.

Rummage certificate may be granted before completion of discharge.

127. Before any aircraft or ship required to report at any port in the Colony shall depart therefrom to load cargo at another port or place in the Colony, the master or his agent shall, in respect of each port or place at which he desires to load cargo, obtain from the proper Officer a loading licence in duplicate in the prescribed form, and containing the prescribed particulars, and signed by such Officer, and, before leaving the port at which such licence is issued, shall enter on both copies of the licence particulars of the cargo and of any stores loaded or remaining on board from the inward voyage at such port.

Loading Licence.

128. After the loading of any goods under the authority of a loading licence shall have been completed, the master shall proceed with such aircraft or ship forthwith to an approved port, where all the provisions of the customs laws shall be complied with, as nearly as may be, as if such goods had been loaded at such port, unless the proper Officer shall otherwise direct.

Procedure after loading under loading licence.

129. When loading has been completed at any port or place for which a loading licence has been issued, before the aircraft or ship departs from such port or place, the master or his agent shall enter on both copies of the licence particulars of the cargo loaded and of any stores taken on board at such port or place, showing the number of packages loaded and the quantity and description of the goods, and shall sign the same and deliver one copy to the proper Officer at the port of loading before leaving the port, or, if the goods have been loaded at a place other than a port, then at such place and to such person as shall be named in the licence; and the master or his agent shall deliver the remaining copy of the licence together with the content required to be delivered to the proper Officer in accordance with section 151.

Completion and delivery of licence after loading.

130. If any goods shall be taken on board any aircraft or ship at any port or place contrary to the provisions of sections 125 to 129, or if any of the requirements of the said sections 125 to 129 shall not be observed, the master of such aircraft or ship or his agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for breach of sections 125 to 129.

131. Nothing contained in sections 125 to 129 shall be deemed to authorise the loading of goods except from an approved place of loading, unless specially allowed by the Collector under section 137.

Limitation of authority granted as aforesaid.

132. The Governor may by notice to the Collector in writing under his hand direct that any or all of the provisions of sections 125 to 130 shall not apply to aircraft, either generally, or in any particular case, during any period specified in the notice.

Non application to aircraft.

133. On arrival at any port or place in the Colony of any ship, about to deliver cargo at more than one port or place in the Restrictions as to carriage coastwise.

Colony, or having on board any goods duly reported for exportation in the same ship, it shall be lawful, subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, or to such conditions as the Collector may deem necessary to allow the entry outwards of such ship, and to permit the loading of goods for exportation in such ship or for carriage coastwise as provided in section 161, before the whole of the goods imported in such ship shall have been discharged therefrom, the complete separation of such goods from the inward cargo and from any cargo remaining on board for exportation being effected to the satisfaction of the proper Officer.

Restriction on exportation of certain goods.

134. No person shall export or attempt to export any warehoused goods, or goods liable to duties of customs transferred from an importing aircraft or ship, or goods entitled to drawback on exportation (not being wines, spirits, tobacco, cigars, cigarillos or cigarettes), nor shall enter or attempt to enter any such goods for exportation in any ship of less burden than five tons.

Penalty.

135. Any person who shall export or enter or attempt to export or enter, any goods contrary to section 134 or place any goods on board a ship of less size than is thereby permitted for exportation shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds, and such goods shall be forfeited.

General provisions as to loading and exportation of goods.

136. Except as provided in section 137, no goods shall be put on board any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, or be put into any vessel to be water-borne, or be water-borne, to be put on board any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores from any port or place in the Colony without the authority of the proper Officer, nor before any due entry outwards of the exporting aircraft or ship, if the same is by law required to be entered outwards, nor before such goods are duly entered, and no goods having been put into any vessel to be waterborne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, shall be put on board the exporting aircraft or ship outside the limits of any port; and it shall be lawful for any Officer to open and examine all goods put on board any aircraft or ship or brought to any place in the Colony to be put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or for use as stores.

Collector may relax conditions of shipment.

137. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 136, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit any goods to be put on board any aircraft or ship under such conditions as he may either generally or in any particular case direct, and in like manner the Collector may direct what goods need not be entered by the exporter until after the departure of any aircraft or ship, but if any such goods must be entered within twenty-four hours of such departure, unless the Collector shall otherwise allow; provided that where any goods are permitted to be entered after being put on board, the Collector may in such case require the agent of the master or owner of the aircraft or ship to give security for the payment of any export duties of customs on any goods liable thereto under such conditions, and subject to such charges to be paid to the agent by the exporter of any such goods, as the Governor in Executive Council may prescribe.

Vessels loading goods into ship to proceed direct.

138. Any goods which have been put into any vessel to be water-borne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores shall be taken directly and without delay to the aircraft or ship in which the same are to be exported or used as stores, and put on board forthwith.

Permission required to discharge goods loaded.

139. No goods having been put on board any aircraft or ship in accordance with section 150, or for exportation, or as stores, shall be discharged in any part of the Colony without the written permission of the proper Officer, and except in accordance with such conditions as the Collector shall impose.

Forfeiture on breach of sections 136 to 139.

140. If any person shall put or attempt to put any goods on board any aircraft or ship or discharge, or attempt to discharge, or deal with any goods in any way contrary to the provisions of sections 136 to 139 such goods shall be forfeited.

141. If any Officer shall place any lock, mark or seal upon any goods or stores taken on board any aircraft or ship in the Colony, and such lock, mark or seal be wilfully opened, altered or broken, or if such goods or stores be secretly conveyed away either while such aircraft or ship remains in the Colony, or on her passage from one port or place in the Colony to another before the final departure of such aircraft or ship on a flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony, the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and such goods or stores shall be forfeited.

Penalty for interfering with goods secured by Officer.

142. If any person shall put on board any aircraft or ship, or put off or put into any vessel to be water-borne to any aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores, or bring to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or any place whatever in the Colony for exportation or use as stores, or export any goods prohibited to be exported, or any goods the exportation of which is restricted, contrary to such restriction, or attempt to perform or be knowingly concerned in the performance of any of the aforesaid acts, he shall (except as otherwise provided in section 135) incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector; and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Penalty for attempting to ship prohibited goods.

143. Before any warehoused goods, or goods entitled to any drawback on being put on board an aircraft or ship for use as stores or for exportation, or goods exportable only under particular rules, regulations or restrictions, or goods liable to duties of customs intended for transfer from an importing to an exporting aircraft or ship shall be permitted to be entered for use as stores, or for exportation or for transfer as aforesaid, the exporter shall give such security by bond as the Collector may require that such goods shall be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered and shall be used as stores (if so entered) or else exported to and discharged at the place for which they are entered within such time as the Collector may deem reasonable, or be otherwise accounted for to his satisfaction.

Bond to be given in certain cases.

144. If any goods for which bond is required under section 143, or any goods liable to export duties of customs be put on board any aircraft or ship, or brought to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or other place to be put on board an aircraft or ship and shall on examination by the proper Officer be found not to agree with the entered particulars thereof, or being goods on which drawback shall be claimed or allowed shall be found to be goods not entitled to drawback, all such goods shall be forfeited; and the exporter of such goods shall in every such case incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the amount of the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Offences relating to bonded goods.

145. If any goods for which bond is required under section 143, after being entered and put on board an aircraft or ship, shall be used otherwise than as stores (if so entered) or shall not be duly exported to and discharged at the declared destination (such goods not having been discharged in the Colony with the permission of the proper Officer as provided in section 139 or otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Collector) the same shall be forfeited; and the master of the aircraft or ship in which such goods shall have been put shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for not exporting.

146. If any person who shall have entered any goods for which bond is required under section 143 shall fail, in case such goods or any of them shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same shall have been entered, to attend the proper Officer within twenty-four hours of the time of clearance of the aircraft or ship, or such further period as the Collector may allow, and notify such Officer of the short loading of such goods, and re-warehouse or re-enter for exportation or use as stores in some other aircraft or ship within such period of twenty-four hours any such goods which shall have been removed from a warehouse for exportation or use as stores, any such goods entered as aforesaid shall be forfeited.

Exporter to notify short loading of non-bonded goods.

147. If any exporter who shall have entered any goods, not being goods for which bond is required, for exportation in any aircraft or ship shall fail, in case such goods or any of them shall not be duly put on board the aircraft or ship for which the same are entered, to attend the proper Officer within twenty-four hours after the departure of such aircraft or ship, or such period as the Collector may allow and notify such Officer of the short loading of such goods, he shall incur a penalty of five pounds.

Collector may allow shipment of stores.

148. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the customs laws, and subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, the Collector may, upon due request being made, permit the master of any aircraft or ship departing from any port in the Colony upon a flight or voyage to any place outside the Colony to take on board stores (not being goods prohibited to be exported) for the use of such aircraft or ship, and of the master, crew and passengers, upon payment of any export duty leviable on the like kind of goods exported, and upon such other terms and conditions as the Collector may direct, and in such quantities as the Collector in his discretion shall deem reasonable; and every such request shall be made on the prescribed form and contain the particulars required thereby or indicated therein, and shall be signed by the master or his agent; and no stores shall be put on board for the use of any aircraft or ship, nor shall any articles taken on board any aircraft or ship be deemed to be stores, except such as shall be or have been put on board such aircraft or ship in accordance with the provisions hereof.

Drawback and trans-shipment of goods.

149. The provisions of the customs laws with reference to the exportation of warehoused goods, so far as they are applicable, shall be deemed to apply to and include goods liable to duties of customs transferred from an importing to an exporting aircraft or ship, and goods exported on drawback.

Loading of goods other than cargo or stores.

150. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of the customs laws, and subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance, it shall be lawful for the Collector to permit the loading of passengers' baggage, and also to permit any person to take on board any aircraft or ship any goods for sale or delivery to the passengers, officers, or crew of such aircraft or ship, or for such other purpose as the Collector shall allow, under such conditions as he may either generally or in any particular case direct; but if any goods, not being part of the cargo or authorised stores of any aircraft or ship, shall be taken on board any aircraft or ship which is about to proceed to any place outside the Colony or which has any goods remaining on board thereof from a voyage from a place outside the Colony, or if any attempt shall be made to put any such goods on board any such aircraft or ship without the permission of or contrary to any conditions directed as aforesaid by the Collector, or otherwise contrary to the customs laws, the same shall be forfeited.

DEPARTURE AND CLEARANCE OF AIRCRAFT AND SHIPS.

Clearance of aircraft or ships

151. The master of every aircraft or ship shall immediately before leaving the Colony on any flight or voyage to any place outside the Colony attend before the proper Officer, and shall answer all such questions as shall be demanded of him by such Officer concerning the aircraft or ship, the cargo, the stores, the baggage, the officers, crew and passengers and the flight or voyage, and shall deliver to and sign in the presence of the proper Officer an account of all cargo and stores on board such ship within the Colony, as well as of any cargo and stores which shall have been brought to the Colony in such ship, and shall have remained on board for exportation or for use as stores; and such account shall be in the prescribed form and shall contain the names of all passengers, and of the master, officers and crew of such ship, and, when signed by the proper Officer, shall be the clearance and authority for the departure of such ship from the Colony.

152. If any such aircraft or ship shall depart from the Colony to any place outside the Colony without the delivery of such content in accordance with section 151 or if any ship as aforesaid shall so depart without authority having been granted under section 151 the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, and if any of the particulars contained in any such content or account as aforesaid be false, or if any of the required particulars be omitted therefrom and such omission be not explained to the satisfaction of the Collector, the master or agent shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Penalty for not clearing.

153. If any ship shall depart in ballast from the Colony to any place outside the Colony, not having any goods on board except stores duly shipped as such, nor any goods reported inwards for exportation in such ship, the Collector shall, on the application of the master or his agent, clear such ship in ballast; and the master of such ship or his agent shall comply with the customs laws as if such ship had cargo on board except that the words "in ballast" shall be written on the prescribed forms in the places which are provided for particulars of cargo.

Clearance in ballast.

154. For the purposes of section 153, ships having only passengers with their bona fide baggage on board, in addition to stores as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be in ballast.

Ships with passengers and baggage deemed in ballast.

155. Any Officer may go on board any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, and demand the clearance of such ship, and if the master shall not produce the same, or if the master of any aircraft or ship whatsoever which may be boarded as aforesaid by an Officer shall not answer or shall not truly answer such questions concerning the aircraft or ship, the cargo, stores, baggage, officers, crew, passengers and intended flight or voyage as may be demanded of him, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Clearance etc. to be produced to Officer on demand.

156. If there be any goods or stores on board any aircraft or ship which may have been boarded by an Officer within the Colony or the waters thereof not contained in the content or account required to be signed as the clearance of such aircraft or ship (if any) such goods or stores shall be forfeited, and the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or of treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Goods not contained in account forfeited.

157. If any Officer having boarded any aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof after clearance, shall discover that any goods which were loaded within the Colony on board thereof as stores or for exportation or which at the time of clearance remained on board from the inward voyage, be no longer on board such aircraft or ship (unless the same shall have been discharged in the Colony, with the permission of the proper Officer, as provided in section 139 or, being stores remaining on board from the inward voyage, shall in the opinion of the proper Officer not exceed the quantity which might fairly have been consumed, having regard to the period which such aircraft or ship shall have been within the Colony or the waters thereof), the master shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds for every package or parcel of such goods not on board, or a penalty of treble the value of such goods, at the election of the Collector.

Penalty for failure to produce goods.

Deficiency in stores,
etc.

158. If any aircraft or ship, having departed from the Colony on a flight or voyage to a place outside the Colony and having returned within the Colony or the waters thereof, is boarded by an Officer, and if such Officer shall discover any deficiency in the stores of such aircraft or ship which in his opinion shall be in excess of the quantity which might fairly have been consumed, having regard to the period which has elapsed between the departure of such aircraft or ship and the discovery of the deficiency, the master shall pay the duties on such deficiency at the rate chargeable on similar goods imported, and in addition shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Officers to be set down
by departing aircraft
or ship, etc.

159. If any aircraft or ship departing from the Colony shall not bring to at the proper boarding station for setting down Officers, or for any other purpose required by the customs laws, or shall depart on a flight or voyage with any Officer on board without the assent of such Officer, the master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

COASTING TRADE.

Definition.

160. Except as provided in section 161, all trade by sea or by air from any one part of the Colony to any other part thereof shall be deemed to be coasting trade, and all aircraft and ships while employed therein shall be deemed to be coasting aircraft and coasting ships, and if any doubt shall at any time arise as to what, or to or from what parts of the Colony shall be deemed a passage by sea, the Governor may determine and direct in what cases the trade by water from one port or place in the Colony to another of the same shall or shall not be deemed a trade by sea within the meaning of the customs laws.

Exception in regard to aircraft and ships from places outside the Colony.

161. Notwithstanding any provisions in the customs laws to the contrary, it shall be lawful for the proper Officer, on the arrival from a place outside the Colony of any aircraft or ship having on board cargo intended to be delivered at more than one port or place in the Colony, to permit such aircraft or ship to convey goods from any port at which such aircraft or ship shall partially discharge her cargo to any other port or place in the Colony for delivery there, upon the complete separation of such goods from the inward cargo still on board being effected to the satisfaction of the proper Officer, but such conveyance of goods from one port or place to another shall not constitute the aircraft or ship a coasting aircraft or coasting ship within the meaning of the customs laws. The loading, unloading and conveyance of goods under this section shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance and to such conditions as the Collector may impose, and if any goods shall be loaded, unloaded, conveyed or dealt with contrary to such regulations or conditions, the goods shall be forfeited, and the master of the aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

ship.

162. No ship shall trade coastwise within the Colony unless she is provided with a licence in the prescribed form to be issued by the Collector, which licence shall expire on the thirty-first day of December in each year. Every ship trading contrary to this section shall be forfeited, and the master of the ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Coasting aircraft or ship to take only
coastwise cargo.

163. No goods shall be carried in any coasting aircraft or ship except such as shall be loaded to be carried coastwise at some port or place in the Colony.

Offences.

164. If any coasting aircraft or ship shall deviate from its flight or voyage, unless forced by unavoidable circumstances, whereof the proof shall lie on the master of such aircraft or ship, or if the master of any coasting aircraft or ship which shall have deviated from its flight or voyage, or shall have taken on board any wrecked or other goods or discharged any goods in the course of a flight or voyage from one part of the Colony to another shall not enter an account of the circumstances and of any goods so taken on board or discharged in the cargo book hereinafter referred to, and proceed forthwith direct to the nearest port in the Colony, and declare and explain the same to the satisfaction of the proper Officer, and deliver all goods so taken on board into his care, such master shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

165. Tobacco, cigars, cigarillos, cigarettes, wines and spirits shall not be put on board any aircraft or ship for carriage coastwise except at an approved place of loading or sufferance wharf and in the presence or with the authority of an Officer, and if any such goods shall be put on board contrary hereto, or if any attempt is made so to put them, such goods shall be forfeited.

Special conditions as to certain goods.

166. If any goods shall be discharged from any aircraft or ship arriving coastwise, or from any vessel into which the same shall have been put to be landed, or be put on board or be put into any vessel to be water-borne, or be water-borne to be put on board any aircraft or ship for carriage coastwise on Sundays or public holidays, or except between half past seven in the morning and half past four in the afternoon on any other day, save with the written permission of the Collector, the same shall be forfeited, and the master of the aircraft, ship or vessel shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds, and the aircraft, ship or vessel may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Coastwise cargo not to be put on board on Sunday, etc.

167. If any person shall put on board any coasting aircraft or ship, or put off, or put into any vessel to be put on board any coasting aircraft or ship, or bring to any aerodrome, customs area, quay, wharf or any place whatever in the Colony for carriage coastwise or carry coastwise any goods prohibited to be carried coastwise, or any goods the carriage of which is restricted contrary to such restriction, or attempt to perform, or be knowingly concerned in the performance of any of the aforesaid acts, he shall incur a penalty of two hundred pounds, and all such goods shall be forfeited.

Prohibited goods.

168. The master of every coasting aircraft or ship shall keep, or cause to be kept, a cargo book, stating the name of the aircraft or ship, the master, and the port to which the aircraft or ship belongs, and of the port or place to which it is bound on each flight or voyage, and, unless the Collector otherwise directs, shall at every port or place of loading, enter in such book the name of such port or place, and an account of all goods there taken on board such aircraft or ship, stating the descriptions of the packages, and the quantities and descriptions of any goods stowed loose, and the names of the respective consignors and consignees, and shall at every port or place of discharge of such goods note the respective days on which the same, or any of them, are delivered out of such aircraft or ship, and the respective times of departure from every port or place of loading and of arrival at every port or place of discharge.

Master to keep cargo book.

169. The master of every coasting aircraft or ship shall, on demand, produce the cargo book for the inspection of any Officer, who shall be at liberty to make any note or remark therein; and if upon examination any package entered in the cargo book as containing imported goods shall be found not to contain such goods, such package with its contents shall be forfeited; or if any package shall be found to contain imported goods not entered in such book, such goods shall be forfeited.

Master to produce cargo book on demand.

170. If such master shall fail correctly to keep or cause to be correctly kept such cargo book, or to produce the same, or if at any time there be found on board such aircraft or ship any goods not entered in such book as loaded, or any goods noted as delivered, or if any goods entered as loaded and not noted as delivered be not on board, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Penalty for failure to keep cargo book correctly.

Governor may impose special conditions.

171. Notwithstanding any other provisions contained in this Ordinance, it shall be lawful for the Governor, by notice in the Gazette, to require the masters or agents of all or any coasting aircraft or ship or ships to deliver to the Collector, prior to the departure from any port or place of such aircraft or ship or ships, an account of all cargo and stores taken on board, in such manner as may be specified in the said notice; and if any coasting aircraft or ship shall depart contrary to the provisions of any such notice the master and owner shall each incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Form of cargo book.

172. The cargo book shall be in the prescribed form, and shall contain such particulars in addition to, or in lieu of the particulars required by sections 168 to 171 as the form prescribed as aforesaid shall indicate or require; and if such cargo book is not in the form prescribed as aforesaid, the master of the aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of ten pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Coastwise passengers, etc.

173. The carriage of passengers, officers and crew coastwise, whether in a coasting aircraft or ship or not, shall be subject to any regulations made under this Ordinance.

Master to deliver cargo book to Officer before departure.

174. Before any coasting aircraft or ship shall depart from her port or place of loading, her cargo book containing the several particulars required by this Ordinance, and signed by the master shall be delivered to the proper Officer, who shall return it dated and signed by him, and such cargo book shall be the clearance of the aircraft or ship for the voyage; and if the master shall fail to deliver such cargo book he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

Procedure where no Officer is stationed.

175. Any coasting aircraft or ship taking cargo on board at a place where no Officer is stationed to be carried coastwise may depart from such place without delivering such cargo book, on condition that the master of the aircraft or ship shall produce the cargo book to the proper Officer at the first place where an Officer is stationed at which such aircraft or ship arrives after loading, and the Officer shall thereupon sign such book, if satisfied as to its correctness.

Master to deliver cargo book on arrival.

176. Immediately after the arrival of any coasting aircraft or ship at her port or place of discharge and before any goods be unloaded, the cargo book with the name of the place or wharf where the cargo is to be discharged noted thereon shall be delivered to the proper Officer, who shall note thereon the date of delivery; provided that a coasting aircraft or ship having cargo duly loaded to be carried coastwise may discharge at a place where no Officer is stationed without delivering the cargo book as herein required, on condition that the cargo book, containing an account of the cargo so discharged is produced to the proper Officer at the first place where an Officer is stationed at which the aircraft or ship arrives after discharging; and if any goods are unloaded or if any goods are loaded on board any aircraft or ship and carried coastwise, or be brought to any port or place in the Colony for that purpose, contrary to the customs laws, such goods shall be forfeited.

Collector may vary procedure.

177. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may permit the loading and clearance and the entry and unloading of any coasting aircraft or ship and goods under such conditions as he may direct.

Cargo book, etc. to be delivered to Officer on demand.

178. Any Officer may go on board any coasting aircraft or ship in any port or place in the Colony or on any coasting ship at any period of her voyage, and search such aircraft or ship and examine all goods on board, and all goods then being loaded or unloaded, and demand all books or documents which ought to be on board such aircraft or ship, and may require all or any such books or documents to be brought to him for inspection, and the master shall answer all such questions concerning the aircraft or ship and its cargo, officers, crew, passengers and the flight or voyage as may be put to him by such Officer; and if the master shall refuse to produce such books and documents on demand, or to bring the same to such Officer when required, he shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds, and the aircraft or ship may be seized by any Officer and detained until such penalty is paid.

179. It shall be lawful for the Collector, subject to such conditions as he may require to be observed, to permit the master of any aircraft or ship bringing any goods coastwise to an approved port to enter such aircraft or ship and goods or any of them outwards for exportation without first discharging the same.

Coasting aircraft or ship may be entered outward in certain cases.

PREVENTION OF SMUGGLING.

180. If any aircraft or ship shall be found or discovered to have been within the waters of the Colony, or within or over the Colony, which has any secret or disguised place adapted for concealing goods, or any device adapted for running goods, or which has on board or in any manner attached thereto, or which has had on board or in any manner attached thereto, or which is conveying or has conveyed in any manner any goods imported contrary to the customs laws, or from which any part of the contents of such aircraft or ship shall have been thrown overboard to prevent seizure, or on board which any goods shall have been staved or destroyed to prevent seizure, then in every such case every person who shall be found or discovered to have been on board any such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and all such goods shall be forfeited; provided that no person shall be liable to conviction under this section unless there shall be reasonable cause to believe that such person was concerned in or privy to the illegal act or thing proved to have been committed.

Penalty on persons found on board smuggling ships.

181. Every ship of less than 250 tons burden on board which, or in respect of which, any offence against section 180 shall be committed shall be forfeited.

Smuggling ships under 250 tons forfeited.

182. (1) With regard to aircraft or any ship of or exceeding two hundred and fifty tons burden, on board or in respect of which any offence against section 180 shall be committed, such aircraft or ship shall not be forfeited for such offence, but the following provisions shall apply :-

Penalty on smuggling aircraft and ships of 250 tons or more.

- (a) The Collector shall have power, subject to appeal to the Governor, to fine any such aircraft or ship in any sum not exceeding fifty pounds, in any case where in his opinion a responsible Officer (as hereinafter defined) of such aircraft or ship is implicated either actually or by neglect;
- (b) For the purpose of enforcing such fine, the Collector shall have power to require the deposit in his hands, at the port where such aircraft or ship shall be, of such sum, not exceeding fifty pounds, as he may think right, pending the ultimate decision, and in default of payment of such deposit the Collector shall have power to withhold clearance and to detain the said aircraft or ship;
- (c) If in any case the Collector shall consider that the fine of fifty pounds aforesaid will not be an adequate penalty against any such aircraft or ship for the offence committed thereon, it shall be lawful for him to take proceedings for condemnation of the said aircraft or ship in a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds at the discretion of the Court. And for this purpose the Collector may, as to any aircraft or ship referred to in this section, require the deposit in his hands as aforesaid of a sum not exceeding five hundred pounds, to abide the decision of the Court, and in default of payment of such deposit the Collector may withhold clearance and detain such aircraft or ship;

- (d) No claim shall be made against the Collector for damages in respect of the payment of any deposit, or for the detention of any aircraft or ship under this section.

(2) The expression "responsible Officer" in this section shall include the master, mates and engineers of any ship, and in the case of a ship carrying a passenger certificate, the purser or chief steward, and where the ship is manned by Asiatic seamen, the serang or other leading Asiatic Officer, and, in the case of an aircraft, the pilot, navigator, chief steward or chief engineer. The expression "neglect" in this section shall include cases where goods unowned by any of the crew are discovered in a place or places in which they could not reasonably have been put or remained if the responsible officer or officers having supervision of such place or places had exercised proper care at the time of loading of the aircraft or ship or subsequently.

Ship forfeited for offence during chase.

183. If any ship within the waters of the Colony, shall not bring to upon the proper signal made by any vessel or boat in His Majesty's service or in the service of the customs, whereupon chase shall be given, and any person on board such ship shall during chase or before such ship shall bring to, or upon bringing to throw overboard any part of her contents, or shall stave or destroy any part thereof to prevent seizure, such ship shall be forfeited.

Penalty for not bringing to.

184. If any aircraft or ship liable to seizure or examination under the customs laws shall not bring to when required so to do and so remain for such period as the boarding Officer shall require, the master of such aircraft or ship shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Offences by smugglers, etc. against Officers.

185. (1) If any person shall maliciously shoot at any aircraft or ship in the service of the customs, or shall maliciously shoot at, maim or wound any Officer in the execution of his office or duty, or with violence commit any of the offences mentioned in sub-section (4) of this section, every person so offending, and every person aiding, abetting or assisting therein shall, upon conviction on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be adjudged guilty of felony, and shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding fifteen years.

(2) If any person engaged, or who shall have been engaged, in the commission of any offence against the customs laws, be armed with firearms or other offensive weapons, or, whether so armed or not, be disguised in any way, or being so armed or disguised shall be found with any goods liable to forfeiture under the customs laws, he shall, on conviction on an information laid against him in the Supreme Court, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three years.

(3) If any person shall by any means procure or hire, or shall depute or authorize any other person to procure or hire any person to assist in any evasion of the customs laws, he shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding twelve months.

(4) If any person shall stave, break, or destroy any goods to prevent seizure thereof by an Officer or other person authorized to seize the same, or shall rescue, or stave, break or destroy to prevent the securing thereof any goods seized by an Officer or other person authorized to seize the same, or rescue any person apprehended for any offence punishable by a pecuniary penalty or imprisonment under the customs laws, or prevent the apprehension of any such person, or obstruct any Officer going, remaining or returning from on board an aircraft or ship within the Colony or the waters thereof, or in searching an aircraft or ship, or in searching a person liable to be searched under the customs laws, or in seizing any goods liable to forfeiture, or otherwise acting in the execution of his duty, or attempt or endeavour to commit, or aid, abet or assist in the commission of any of the offences mentioned in this subsection, he shall for each such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

(5) If any person, not being an Officer, takes or assumes the name, designation, appearance or character of an Officer for the purpose of thereby obtaining admission into any aircraft or ship, house or other place, or of doing or procuring to be done any act which he would not be entitled to do or procure to be done of his own authority, or for any other unlawful purpose, he shall in addition to any other punishment to which he may be liable for the offence, be liable, on conviction, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three months.

(6) In this section "violence" means any criminal force or harm to any person, or any criminal mischief to any property, or any threat or offer of such force, harm or mischief, or the carrying or use of deadly, dangerous or offensive weapons in such manner as that terror is likely to be caused to any person, or such conduct as is likely to cause in any person a reasonable apprehension of criminal force, harm or mischief to them or to their property.

186. (1) No person shall make or cause to be made, or aid, or assist in making any signal in or on board or from any aircraft or ship, or on or from any part of the Colony, for the purpose of giving notice to any person on board any smuggling aircraft or ship, whether any person so on board of such aircraft or ship be or be not within distance to notice any such signal; and if any person shall make or cause to be made, or aid or assist in making any such signal, he shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding twelve months.

Penalty for signalling to smuggling aircraft or ship.

(2) If any person be charged with having made or caused to be made, or with aiding or assisting in making any such signal as aforesaid, the burden of proof that such signal so charged as having been made with intent and for the purpose of giving such notice as aforesaid was not made with such intent and for such purpose shall be upon the defendant against whom such charge is made.

(3) Any person whatsoever may prevent any signal being made as aforesaid, and may go upon any lands for that purpose, without being liable to any indictment, suit or action for the same.

(4) For the purposes of this section any ship to which a signal is made as aforesaid, and which changes its course, or, if at anchor, weighs anchor, or from which any signal is made, following any signal made from an aircraft or ship or any part of the Colony as aforesaid, shall, for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a smuggling ship, unless the contrary be proved.

187. Every person who shall cut away, cast adrift, remove, alter, deface, sink or destroy, or in any other way injure or conceal any aircraft, ship, buoy, anchor, chain, rope or mark in the charge of or used by any person for the prevention of smuggling, or in or for use of the service of the customs, shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Penalty for interfering with customs gear.

188. If any person, not being an Officer, shall intermeddle with or take up any spirits or any goods prohibited to be imported or exported, being in packages found floating upon or sunk into the sea, such spirits or goods prohibited to be imported or exported shall be forfeited, and every such person shall incur a penalty of twenty pounds.

Intermeddling with goods found floating.

Writs of assistance.

189. All writs of assistance issued from the Supreme Court (which is hereby authorized and required to grant such writs upon application by the Collector) shall continue in force during the reign for which they were granted and for six months afterwards; and any Officer having such writ of assistance may, by day or by night, enter into and search any house, shop, cellar, warehouse, room or other place, and in case of resistance break open doors, chests, trunks, and other packages, and seize and bring away any uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating thereto, and put and secure the same in a King's warehouse.

Search warrant.

190. If any Officer shall have reasonable cause to suspect that any uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating to uncustomed or prohibited goods, are harboured, kept or concealed in any house or other place in the Colony, and it shall be made to appear by information on oath before the Magistrate or Justice of the Peace in the Colony, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Justice of the Peace by special warrant under his hand to authorize such Officer to enter and search such house or other place, by day or by night, and to seize and carry away any such uncustomed or prohibited goods, or any books or documents relating to uncustomed or prohibited goods, as may be found therein; and it shall be lawful for such Officer, in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other impediment or obstruction to such entry, search or seizure as aforesaid.

Officer may stop carriage.

191. Any Officer may upon reasonable suspicion stop and examine any carriage to ascertain whether any uncustomed or prohibited goods are contained therein; and, if none shall be found, the Officer shall not on account of such stoppage and examination be liable to any prosecution or action at law; and any person driving or conducting such carriage refusing to stop or allow such examination when required by any Officer shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Officer may patrol freely, etc.

192. Any Officer, when on duty, and having the authority of the Collector, may patrol upon and pass freely either on foot or otherwise along and over and enter any part of the Colony other than a dwelling house or other building and any such Officer so proceeding shall not be liable to any indictment, action or suit for so doing.

Officer may moor patrol craft.

193. The Officer in charge of any aircraft or ship employed for the prevention of smuggling may land or haul any such aircraft or ship upon any part of the Colony which shall be deemed most convenient for that purpose, and moor any such aircraft or ship on any part of the Colony, and continue such aircraft or ship so moored as aforesaid for such time as he shall deem necessary and proper; and such Officer shall not be liable to any indictment, action or suit for so doing.

GENERAL.

General Penalty.

194. Save as otherwise provided in section 195 any person who shall be convicted of any offence against the customs laws for which no specific penalty is provided shall incur a penalty of fifty pounds.

Penalty in cases of forfeiture.

195. Where any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods become liable to forfeiture under the customs laws, any person who shall be knowingly concerned in the act or omission which renders the same liable to forfeiture shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance, and shall incur the penalty provided by this Ordinance in respect of such offence, or, where no such penalty is provided, shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of any goods seized, at the election of the Collector; and any such person may be arrested and detained by any Officer, and taken before a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law. Provided that no person shall be arrested whilst actually on board any aircraft or ship in the service of a foreign state or country.

196. If any person shall in any matter relating to the customs, or under the control or management of the Collector, make and subscribe, or cause to be made and subscribed, any false declaration, or make or sign, or cause to be made or signed any declaration, certificate or other instrument, required to be verified by signature only, the same being false in any particular, or if any person shall make or sign any declaration made for the consideration of the Collector on any application presented to him, the same being untrue in any particular, or if any person required by the customs laws to answer questions put to him by an Officer shall refuse to answer such questions, or if any person shall answer untruly any questions put to him by any Officer acting in the execution of his duty, or if any person shall counterfeit, falsify or wilfully use when counterfeited or falsified any document required by the customs laws, or by or under the directions of the Collector, or any instrument used in the transaction of any business or matter relating to the customs, or shall alter any document or instrument after the same has been officially issued, or counterfeit the seal, signature, initials or other mark of or used by any Officer for the verification of any such document or instrument, or for the security of goods, or any other purpose in the conduct of business relating to the customs or under the control or management of the Collector, or shall on any document or instrument required for the purpose of the customs laws counterfeit or imitate the seal, signature, initials or other mark of or made use of by any other person whatsoever, whether with or without the consent of such person, every person so offending shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds.

Penalty for false declaration, etc.

197. Every person who shall import or bring or be concerned in importing or bringing into the Colony any prohibited goods, or any goods the importation of which is restricted, contrary to such prohibition or restriction, whether the same be unloaded or not, or shall unload, or assist or be otherwise concerned in unloading any goods which are prohibited, or any goods which are restricted and imported contrary to such restriction, or shall knowingly permit or suffer, or cause or procure to be harboured, kept or concealed, any prohibited, restricted or uncustomed goods, or shall knowingly acquire possession of or be in any way knowingly concerned in carrying, removing, depositing, concealing, or in any manner dealing with any goods with intent to defraud His Majesty of any duties due thereon, or to evade any prohibition or restriction of or applicable to such goods or shall be in any way knowingly concerned in any fraudulent evasion or attempt at evasion of any import or export duties of customs, or of the laws and restrictions of the customs relating to the importation, unloading, warehousing, delivery, removal, loading and exportation of goods, shall for each such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of the goods, at the election of the Collector; and all goods in respect of which any such offence shall be committed shall be forfeited.

Penalty for evading customs laws regarding imported or exported goods.

198. If any person shall import or export, or cause to be imported or exported, or attempt to import or export any goods concealed in any way, or packed in any package or parcel (whether there be any other goods in such package or parcel or not) in a manner calculated to deceive the Officers of customs, or any package containing goods not corresponding with the entry thereof, such package and the goods therein shall be forfeited, and such person shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, or treble the value of the goods contained in such package at the election of the Collector.

Penalty in relation to concealed goods, etc.

Power of Collector to purchase goods in certain cases.

199. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 198, if, upon the examination of any imported goods, which are chargeable with duty upon the value thereof, it appears to the Collector that the value of such goods as declared by the importer and according to which duty has been or is sought to be paid is not the true value thereof, it shall be lawful for the Collector to detain the same, in which case he shall give notice in writing to the importer of the detention of such goods, and of the value thereof as estimated by him, either by delivering such notice personally, or by transmitting the same by post to such importer, addressed to him at his place of abode or business, as stated in his entry.

(2) The Collector shall, within fifteen days after the detention of such goods, determine either that the goods are or may be correctly entered according to the value declared by the importer and permit the same to be delivered, or to retain the same for the public use of the Colony, in which latter case he shall cause the value at which the goods were declared by the importer, together with an addition of ten per centum, and the duties already paid to be paid to the importer in full satisfaction for such goods; or he may permit such person, on his application for that purpose, to enter the goods according to such value and on such terms as he may direct.

(3) Such goods, if retained shall be disposed of for the benefit of the Colony, and if the proceeds arising therefrom, in case of sale, exceed the sums so paid, and all charges incurred by the Colony, such surplus shall be disposed of as the Governor may direct.

Officer taking unauthorised fees, etc.

200. If any Officer shall accept any fee, perquisite or reward, whether pecuniary or otherwise, directly or indirectly from any person on account of anything done or to be done by him, or omitted to be done by him, or in any way relating to his said office or employment, except such as he shall receive with the approval of the Governor or Collector, such Officer so offending shall, on proof thereof to the satisfaction of the Governor, be dismissed from his office: and if any person shall give, offer or promise to give any such fee, perquisite or reward, such person shall for every such offence incur a penalty of one hundred pounds.

Collusive seizure, bribery, etc.

201. If any Officer shall make any collusive seizure, or deliver up, or make any agreement to deliver up or not to seize any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods liable to forfeiture, or shall take any bribe, gratuity, recompense or reward for the neglect or non-performance of his duty, or conspire or connive with any person to commit an offence against the customs laws for the purpose of seizing any aircraft, ship, carriage or goods, and obtaining any reward for such seizure or otherwise, every such Officer shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds, and be rendered incapable of holding any office under the Government of the Colony, and every person who shall give or offer, or promise to give or procure to be given, any bribe, recompense or reward to, or shall make any collusive agreement with any such Officer to induce him in any way to neglect his duty, or to do, conceal or connive at any act whereby any provisions of the customs laws may be evaded, shall incur a penalty of five hundred pounds.

Offering goods for sale under pretence that they are smuggled.

202. If any person shall offer for sale any goods under pretence that the same are prohibited, or have been unloaded and removed without payment of duties, all such goods (although not liable to any duties, or prohibited) shall be forfeited.

General provision as to forfeiture.

203. Subject to the provisions of section 182, all aircraft, ships and carriages, together with all animals and things made use of in the importation, attempted importation, landing, removal, conveyance, exportation or attempted exportation of any uncustomed, prohibited or restricted goods, or any goods liable to forfeiture under the customs laws shall be forfeited; and all aircraft, ships, carriages and goods together with all animals and things liable to forfeiture, and all persons liable to be detained for any offence under the customs laws or under any Ordinance whereby Officers are authorized to make seizures or detentions, shall or may be seized or detained in any place either upon land or water, by any person duly employed for the prevention of smuggling, or by any person having authority from the Collector to seize or detain the same, and all aircraft, ships, carriages and goods, together with all animals and things so seized shall forthwith be delivered into the care of the Collector; and the forfeiture of any aircraft, ship, carriage, animal or thing shall be deemed to include the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof, and the forfeiture of any goods shall be deemed to include the package in which the same are found and all the contents thereof.

204. (1) Whenever any seizure shall be made, unless in the possession of or in the presence of the offender, master or owner, as forfeited under the customs laws, or under any Ordinance by which Officers are empowered to make seizures, the seizing Officer shall give notice in writing of such seizure and of the grounds thereof to the master or owner of the aircraft, ship, carriage, goods, animals or things seized, if known, either by delivering the same to him personally, or by letter addressed to him, and transmitted by post to, or delivered at, his usual place of abode or business, if known, and all seizures made under the customs laws or under any Ordinance by which Officers are empowered to make seizures shall be deemed and taken to be condemned, and may be sold or otherwise disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct, unless the person from whom such seizure shall have been made, or the master or owner thereof, or some person authorized by him shall within one calendar month from the day of seizure give notice in writing to the Collector that he claims the same, whereupon proceedings shall be taken for the forfeiture and condemnation thereof; provided that if animals or perishable goods are seized, they may by direction of the Collector be sold forthwith by public auction, and the proceeds thereof retained to abide the result of any claim that may legally be made in respect thereof.

Procedure on seizure.

(2) Where proceedings are taken as aforesaid for forfeiture and condemnation, the Magistrate may order delivery of such aircraft, ship, carriage, goods, animals or things seized to the claimant, on security being given for the payment to the Collector of the value thereof in case of condemnation.

205. All seizures whatsoever which shall have been made and condemned under the customs laws, or any other Ordinance by which seizures are authorized to be made by Officers, shall be disposed of in such manner as the Governor may direct.

Disposal of seizure.

206. Where a penalty is prescribed for the commission of an offence under this Ordinance, such offence shall be punishable by a penalty not exceeding the penalty so prescribed; provided that where by reason of the commission of any offence the payment of any customs duty has or might have been evaded, the penalty imposed shall, unless the Court for special reasons thinks fit to order otherwise, and without prejudice to the power of the Court to impose a greater penalty, be not less than treble the amount of duty payable.

Limit of penalty.

207. When any seizure shall have been made, or any fine or penalty incurred or inflicted, or any person committed to prison for any offence against the customs laws, the Governor may direct restoration of such seizure, whether condemnation shall have taken place or not, or waive or compound proceedings, or mitigate or remit such fine or penalty, or release such person from confinement, either before or after conviction, on any terms and conditions, as he shall see fit.

Governor may restore seizure, etc.

Collector may mitigate penalty.

208. Subject to the approval of the Governor (which approval may be signified by general directions to the Collector), and notwithstanding anything contained in section 206, the Collector may mitigate or remit any penalty, or restore anything seized under the customs laws, at any time prior to the commencement of proceedings in any Court, against any person for an offence against the customs laws, or for the condemnation of any seizure.

Rewards.

209. The Collector may, with the approval of the Governor, reward any person who informs him of any offence against the customs laws or assists in the recovery of any fine or penalty.

Documents. Form of

210. Every document submitted to the Collector or his Officers for the purposes of the customs laws shall be in such form as may be prescribed, if any, and shall contain the particulars required by such form or indicated therein.

Documents, Production of

211. (1) The importer, exporter or any person concerned in the importation or exportation of any goods shall, on the request of any Officer made at any time within three years of the date of importation or exportation, as the case may be, or of the date of delivery to the proper Officer of an entry for such goods, if the same have been entered, produce, for the inspection of such Officer the invoices, books of account and any other documents of whatever nature relating to such goods which the Officer shall require, and shall answer such questions and make and subscribe such declarations regarding the weight, measure, strength, value, cost, selling price, origin and destination of such goods, and the name of the place whence or where any imported goods were consigned or transferred from one aircraft or ship to another, as shall be put to him by the Officer, and shall produce such evidence as the Officer may consider necessary in support of any information so furnished; and if the importer or exporter or other person concerned as aforesaid shall neglect or refuse to carry out any of the provisions of this section, he shall incur a penalty of one hundred pounds, and the Collector may, on such neglect or refusal, refuse entry or delivery or prevent shipment of the goods, or may allow entry, delivery or shipment of the goods upon such terms and conditions, and upon deposit of such sum, pending the production of the proper documents and declarations, as he shall see fit to impose or require.

(2) The deposit made in accordance with sub-section (1) of this section shall be forfeited unless within three months of the time of deposit or such further period as the Collector may allow the person making the deposit shall produce the required documents or declarations to the Collector.

Copies of documents
to be submitted.

212. Where any person is required to submit any report, entry, declaration or other form for the purpose of the customs laws, the Collector may require such person to submit as many copies thereof as he may deem necessary; and where the Collector shall require invoices or certificates of origin, or both to be produced for any goods imported or exported, he may require such invoices or certificates of origin or both, to be submitted in duplicate, and may retain the duplicates, or, if such invoices or certificates of origin, or both, are not submitted in duplicate, he may retain the originals.

Translation.

213. Where any document required for the purposes of the customs laws contains any words not in the English language, the person required to produce such document shall produce therewith a correct translation thereof in English.

Samples.

214. Any Officer may on the entry of any goods, or at any time afterwards, take samples of such goods for such purpose as the Collector may deem necessary, and such samples shall be disposed of and accounted for in such manner as the Collector may direct.

215. The unloading, loading and removal of goods and bringing them to the proper place for examination and weighing, putting them into scales, opening, unpacking, repacking, bulking, sorting, lotting, marking and numbering, where such operations respectively are necessary or permitted, and removing to and placing them in the proper place of deposit until delivered or put on board an exporting aircraft or ship, shall be performed by or at the expense of the owner of such goods; and the owner shall unpack, sort, pile or otherwise prepare any goods either before or after entry thereof in such manner as the proper Officer shall require to enable him to examine or take account of the same. Goods to be handled by owner.
216. The Collector may direct what goods may be skipped in a customs area or warehouse, or bulked, sorted, lotted, packed and repacked there, in the manner thereof, and direct in what manner and subject to what conditions the owner of any goods may take samples thereof; provided that no goods may in any such building or place be repacked into packages of a size in which the same are prohibited to be imported or exported, unless express provision therefor is made by law. Samples for owner.
217. If any goods shall be lost or destroyed by unavoidable accident before the same have been delivered out of the care of any Officer, either on board an aircraft or ship, or in removing, loading, unloading, or receiving into a customs area or warehouse, or in the customs area or warehouse, or in course of delivery therefrom, the Collector, if satisfied that such goods have not been and will not be consumed in the Colony, may remit or return the duties due or paid thereon, and any goods which may be abandoned by the owner thereof as not worth the duty while in the charge of any Officer may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Collector shall direct, at the cost and charges of such owner, and the Collector may thereupon remit or return the duties due or paid thereon. Remission of duty on goods lost, etc.
218. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any goods after being duly put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores have, either before or after exportation, been destroyed by accident on board such aircraft or ship, any drawback or allowance payable on the goods shall be payable in the same manner as if the goods had been actually exported or used as stores. Drawbacks on goods lost.
219. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any goods after being duly put on board an aircraft or ship for exportation or use as stores have been materially damaged on board such aircraft or ship, any drawback or allowance payable in respect of the goods shall, if they are with the consent of the Collector discharged in the Colony and abandoned to the Government, be payable as if the goods had been actually exported or used as stores. Drawback on goods abandoned.
220. The Collector may modify the form of declaration required under section 41 in such manner as he may think necessary for adapting it to the provisions of sections 218 and 219. Modification of declaration.
221. Whenever any person shall make application to any Officer to transact any business on behalf of any other person, such Officer may require the person so applying to produce a written authority from the person on whose behalf such application is made, and in default of the production of such authority may refuse to transact such business; and any document required by the customs laws to be signed by any particular person, if signed by any person authorised as aforesaid on behalf of the person required to sign the same, shall be deemed for all purposes to be signed by the person required to sign the same; provided that the Collector may in his discretion refuse to allow any such application as aforesaid. Authority to be produced by person acting for another.
222. Where any document or declaration is required by the customs laws to be signed in the presence of the Collector, or any Witnessing of signatures.

particular Officer, if such document or declaration is signed in the presence of a witness whose signature is known to and who is approved by the Collector or the Officer who receives the same, then in such case such document or declaration shall be as valid as if it had been signed in the presence of the Collector or the Officer in whose presence it is required to be signed.

Master to attend
if so required.

223. Where under the customs laws the master or agent of any aircraft or ship is required to answer questions put to him by the Collector or any Officer, and such aircraft or ship shall be within the Colony or the waters thereof, and shall not have left her final position, anchorage or berth preparatory to leaving the Colony, it shall be lawful for the Collector or such Officer to require the master to attend before him at the office of the Collector or such Officer, and in such case the requirements of the customs laws shall not be deemed to have been fulfilled unless the master shall so attend when so required; provided that it shall be lawful for the master, with the consent of the Collector or such Officer, to depute a senior officer of such aircraft or ship to attend for the purpose of answering such questions, and in such case, any reply to any question put to such senior officer by the Collector or such Officer as aforesaid shall for the purposes of section 196 be deemed to have been made by the person required to answer such questions.

Time of importation,
etc. defined.

224. (1) If for any purpose of the customs laws it becomes necessary to determine the precise time at which an importation of any goods shall be deemed to have had effect, such time shall be deemed to be the time at which the aircraft or ship importing such goods actually landed in the Colony or came within the waters thereof.

(2) If any question arises upon the arrival of any aircraft or ship at any port or place in the Colony in respect of any charge or allowance for such aircraft or ship, exclusive of cargo, the time of such arrival shall be deemed to be the time at which such aircraft or ship shall first be boarded by any person in the employment of the Government at such port or place.

(3) The time of exportation of any goods shall be deemed to be the time when the same are put on board the exporting aircraft or ship, except in the case of goods prohibited to be exported, with reference to which the time of exportation shall be deemed to be the actual time at which the aircraft or ship departed from its final position, anchorage or berth within the Colony or the waters thereof.

Special packages deemed separate
articles.

225. All packages and coverings in which goods are imported or exported and which in the opinion of the Collector :—

- (a) are not the usual or proper packages or coverings for such goods, or
- (b) are designed for separate use, other than as packages or coverings for the same or similar goods, subsequent to importation or exportation, as the case may be,

shall for all purposes of the customs laws be deemed to be separate articles, except in cases where a contrary provision shall be made.

Power of arrest.

226. In addition to any other power of arrest or detention conferred by the customs laws, any Officer may arrest and detain any person whom he finds committing an offence against the customs laws, and take him before a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

Arrest after escape.

227. If any person liable to arrest under the customs laws escapes from any Officer attempting to arrest him, or if any Officer is for any reason whatever unable or fails to arrest any such person, such person may afterwards be arrested and detained by any Officer at any place in the Colony within seven years from the time such offence was committed, and dealt with as aforesaid, as if he had been arrested at the time of committing such offence.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

228. Subject to the express provisions of the customs laws, any offences under the customs laws may be prosecuted, and any penalty of forfeiture imposed by the customs laws may be sued for, prosecuted and recovered summarily, and all rents, charges, expenses and duties, and all other sums of money whatsoever payable under the customs laws may be recovered and enforced in a summary manner before a Magistrate in the manner prescribed by the Summary Jurisdiction Ordinance 1902, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will permit, on the complaint of any Officer.

Prosecutions for customs offences.

229. Proceedings under the customs laws may be commenced at any time within seven years after the date of the offence.

Proceedings to be taken within seven years.

230. Where any Court has imposed a penalty for any offence against the customs laws, and such penalty is not paid, the Court may order the defendant who is convicted of such offence, in default of payment of the penalty adjudged to be paid, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six months, where the penalty does not exceed one hundred pounds, or twelve months where the penalty exceeds one hundred pounds.

Alternative prison sentence.

231. Where a penalty of one hundred pounds or upwards has been incurred under the customs laws and the defendant has previously been convicted for an offence against the customs laws, or has previously incurred a pecuniary penalty or forfeiture under the customs laws which has been enforced in any Court, the Court may, if it thinks fit, in lieu of ordering payment of a pecuniary penalty order the defendant to be imprisoned with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one year.

Imprisonment for second offence.

232. The fact that any duties of customs have been secured by bond or otherwise shall not be pleaded or made use of in answer to or in stay of any proceeding under the customs laws.

Limitations as to pleading.

233. Every offence under the customs laws shall be deemed to have been committed and every cause of complaint to have arisen either in the place in which it actually was committed or arose, or in any place on land where the offender or person prosecuted may be or be brought.

Place of offence.

234. An officer may prosecute and conduct any information or other proceeding under the customs laws in respect of any offence or penalty.

Officer may prosecute.

235. In all proceedings under the customs laws the same rules as to costs shall be observed as in proceedings between private persons.

Costs.

236. (1) No claim or appearance shall be entered to any information filed or exhibited for the forfeiture of any animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods seized for any cause of forfeiture in any Court unless such claim or appearance be made by or in the real name of the owner thereof, describing his place of residence and occupation; and if such claimant shall reside in the Colony, oath shall be made by him before the Court before which such information shall be exhibited, that the said animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods were his property at the time of seizure; but if such person shall reside outside of the Colony, then oath shall be made by the attorney by whom such claim or appearance shall be entered that he has full authority from such claimant to make or enter the same, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the same were at the time of seizure the bona fide property of the claimant; and on failure of making such proof of ownership such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall be condemned, as if no claim or appearance had been made; and if such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall at the time of the seizure thereof be the bona fide property of any number of owners exceeding five, it shall not be necessary for more than two of them to enter such claim or appearance on the part of themselves and their co-owners, or to make such oath as aforesaid; and if any such animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods shall at the time of seizure be the property of a company, such claim and appearance shall be entered and oath made by the secretary or a director of such company.

(2) For the purpose of this section a company means a limited company registered in the Colony under the provisions of the Companies Ordinance, 1898, or a limited company registered in the United Kingdom but operating in the Colony, but does not include any company or association of persons calling themselves a company not so registered.

Certificate of probable cause of seizure.

237. In case any information or suit shall be commenced or brought to trial on account of the seizure of any animal, carriage, aircraft, ship or goods, or pursuant to any act done by any Officer in the execution or intended execution of his duty under the customs laws, and such information or suit be dismissed, and it shall appear to the Court before whom the same shall have been tried that there was probable cause for such seizure or act, the Judge or Magistrate, as the case may be, shall certify on the record that there was such probable cause, and in such case the person who made such seizure or performed such act shall not be liable to any action, indictment or other suit or prosecution on account of such seizure or act; and a copy of such certificate, verified by the signature of the Officer of the Court, shall at the request of the Officer concerned be given to him, and the same shall for all purposes be sufficient evidence of such certificate; and in case any action, indictment or other suit or prosecution shall be commenced and brought to trial against any person on account of any seizure or act as aforesaid (whether any information be brought to trial in respect of the same or not, or having been brought to trial, the Judge or Magistrate shall not have certified that there was a probable cause for such seizure or act), wherein a verdict shall be given against the defendant, if the Court shall be satisfied that there was a probable cause for such seizure or act, then the plaintiff shall recover any things seized or the value thereof without costs of suit, but no conviction shall be recorded against the defendant.

PROOFS IN PROCEEDINGS.

Onus of proof on defendant in certain cases.

238. (1) In any prosecution under the customs laws, the proof that the proper duties have been paid in respect of any goods, or that the same have been lawfully imported or exported, or lawfully put into or out of any aircraft or ship, or lawfully transferred from one aircraft or ship to another aircraft or ship shall lie on the defendant.

(2) The averment that the Collector has elected that any particular penalty should be sued for or recovered, or that any goods thrown overboard, staved or destroyed were thrown overboard, staved or destroyed to prevent seizure, or that any person is an Officer, or that any person was employed for the prevention of smuggling, or that the offence was committed, or that any act was done within the limits of any port, or in the waters of the Colony, or over the Colony, or, where the offence is committed in any port or place in the Colony, the naming of such port or place in any information or proceedings, shall be deemed sufficient unless the defendant in any such case shall prove the contrary.

239. If upon any trial a question shall arise whether any person is an Officer, his own evidence thereof shall be deemed sufficient, and every such Officer shall be deemed a competent witness upon the trial of any suit or information on account of any seizure or penalty, notwithstanding such Officer may be entitled to any reward upon the conviction of the party charged in such suit or information.

Evidence of Officers.

240. (1) In all cases where any penalty the amount of which is to be determined by the value of any goods is sued for under the customs laws, such value shall, as regards proceedings in any Court, be estimated and taken according to the rate and price for which goods of the like kind but of the best quality upon which the duties of importation shall have been paid were sold at or about the time of the offence, or according to the rate and price for which the like kind of goods were sold in bond at or about the time of the offence, with the duties due thereon added to such rate or price in bond;

Valuation of goods for penalty.

(2) A certificate under the hand of the Collector of the value of such goods shall be accepted by the Court as prima facie evidence of the value thereof.

241. In case any book or document required by the customs laws be required to be used as evidence in any Court as to the transactions to which it refers, copies thereof certified by an Officer shall be admissible for that purpose, without production of the original; and certificates and copies of official documents purporting to be certified under the hand and seal or stamp of office of any of the principal officers of Customs and Excise in the United Kingdom, or of any Comptroller of colonial revenue in any British possession, or of any British Consul or Vice-Consul in a foreign country, shall be received as prima facie evidence.

Copies of documents valid.

242. If upon the trial of any issue touching any seizure, penalty or forfeiture, or other proceedings under the customs laws or incident thereto, it may be necessary to give proof of any order issued by the Governor, Collector, or any person in the employment of the Government, the order, or any letter or instructions referring thereto, shall be admitted and taken as sufficient evidence of such order if any such document purports to be signed by any such functionary, or shall appear to have been officially printed or issued, unless the contrary be proved.

Proof of order of Governor, etc.

243. Condemnation by any Court under the customs laws may be proved in any Court, or before any competent tribunal, by the production of a certificate of such condemnation purporting to be signed by the Officer of such Court.

Certificate of condemnation.

MISCELLANEOUS AND REPEAL.

244. Where in any Order-in-Council made applicable to the Colony in accordance with the provisions of the Air Navigation Acts 1920 and 1936, or any amending Act, or in any regulations made under any such Order-in-Council, any provision shall be made contrary to the customs laws, such provisions shall have effect to the exclusion of the corresponding provision contained in the said laws.

Effect of Air Navigation Orders in Council.

245. The Governor in Executive Council may make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of the customs laws, and may, in such regulations, prescribe fees, rents or charges to be paid in respect of any matter therein referred to; and all such regulations shall be published in the Gazette.

Regulations.

246. Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and any regulations made thereunder, the Collector may from time to time prescribe forms required to be used for the purposes of the customs laws.

Forms.

Application of section 14 of Copyright Act, 1911.

247. For the purpose of the application of section 14 of the (Imperial) Copyright Act 1911, to the importation into this Colony of works made out of the Colony :

- (a) The Treasurer and Collector of Customs shall perform the duties and may exercise the powers thereby imposed on or given to the Commissioners of Customs and Excise of the United Kingdom.
- (b) Regulations made by the Treasurer and Collector of Customs under that section shall require the approval of the Governor in Council.
- (c) Regulations made under that section may provide that notices given to the Commissioners of Customs and Excise of the United Kingdom, if communicated by them to the Treasurer and Collector of Customs, shall be deemed to have been given by the owner of the Copyright to the Treasurer and Collector of Customs.

Discretionary power to Collector in special circumstances.

248. The Collector may permit the entry, unloading, removal and loading of goods, and the report and clearance of aircraft and ships, in such form and manner as he may direct to meet the exigencies of any case to which the customs laws may not be conveniently applicable.

Existing Officers confirmed.

249. All Collectors and officers of Customs at present holding office shall continue to hold such offices as if appointed hereunder.

Existing warehouses, etc. to continue.

250. All ports, warehouses, sufferance wharves and boarding stations, approved as such at the commencement of this Ordinance, shall continue to be ports, warehouses, sufferance wharves and boarding stations, and all legal quays shall be deemed to be approved places of loading and unloading until the appointment thereof is revoked or varied under this Ordinance.

All "Officers" are excise officers.

251. All Officers are hereby constituted Excise Officers.

Repeal of Ordinance No. 6 of 1903, No. 3 of 1918, No. 2 of 1927, No. 10 of 1928, No. 4 of 1933, No. 11 of 1934.

252. The Customs Ordinance 1903, the Copyright Act, 1911, Ordinance, 1918, the Customs (Amendment) (Coasting Trade) Ordinance 1927, the Customs (Amendment) Ordinance 1928, the Customs (Amendment) Ordinance 1933 and the Importation of Textiles (Quotas) Ordinance 1934 are hereby repealed.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 2nd day of December, 1943.

L. W. ALDRIDGE,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

Assented to by the Governor and given under the Public Seal of the Colony this 6th day of December, 1943.

KENNETH BRADLEY,
Colonial Secretary.

[L.S.]

FALKLAND ISLANDS.

Ordinance No. 2 of 1943.

I ASSENT,

A. W. CARDINALL,

Governor.

6th December, 1943.

An Ordinance

To make provision for the raising and collection of Import and Export Duties.

BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of the Falkland Islands, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :-

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Tariff Ordinance 1943, and shall come into force on a day to be specified by the Governor by Proclamation in the Gazette.

Short Title and commencement.

2. From and after the coming into operation of this Ordinance there shall be raised, levied, collected and paid unto His Majesty, his heirs and successors, for the use of this Colony, upon goods imported into this Colony, except as hereinafter exempted, the several duties of Customs as the same are respectively inserted, described and set forth in the first Schedule hereto.

Import Duties.

3. The goods enumerated in the Second Schedule hereto shall and may be imported free of duty.

Exemptions.

4. Goods exempted from duty as being imported for the use of His Majesty's Army, Air Force or Navy, or for any purpose for which such goods may be imported free of duty, and any other goods the property of the Crown, shall, in the case of disposal other than in the manner laid down in Schedule 2 hereto, become liable to and be charged with the same duties payable on the like goods on their importation for other purposes; and if such duties be not paid such goods shall be forfeited, and may be seized and dealt with accordingly.

Subsequent sale of goods exempt from duty.

5. From and after the coming into operation of this Ordinance there shall be raised, levied, collected and paid, unto His Majesty, his heirs and successors, for the use of this Colony, upon the several kinds of produce mentioned in the Third Schedule hereto which shall have been raised in this Colony, and which shall be shipped for places beyond the limits of this Colony, the several duties of Customs as the same are respectively inserted, described and set forth in the said Schedule.
