LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Minutes of meeting held on the 20th December, 1944.

1. The Honourable D. W. Roberts and Doctor the Honourable J. E. Hamilton, after taking the prescribed oath, assumed their seats at the Council.
2. The minutes of the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 2nd of December, 1943. were confirmed.
3. His Excellency the Governor delivered to the Council the following message :

"Honourable Members,

"We are met today to consider certain business, chief of which is the Budget for 1945. "The preparation of the Estimates has been more than ever difficult this year owing to the "absolute impossibility of forecasting the future. August is the usual month in which the "Estimates are considered and this year that month witnessed a surge of optimism, since then "considerably abated, so that we must plan for yet another year of war and that quite possibly "still in Europe.

"During these war years, as you know, the finances of the country have shown a deficit due chiefly to our war expenditure, which tabulated is as follows :-

1940	23,839
1941	18,639
1942	32,124
1943	29,560
1944	22,630 (revised estimate).

"The Estimates for 1945, based on the presumption of the continuance of the war and without any clear knowledge of imperial policy as regards demobilisation amount to £19,900. Thus for seven years a total of £158,678 will have been used on Extraordinary Expenditure over which we have had practically no control.

"But during those years the actual and estimated figures for Revenue and Expenditure have been :-

Year.	Revenue. £	Expenditure. £	Deficit. £
1939	54,589	70,759	16,170
1940	65,142	83,647	18,505
1941	69,988	73,089	3,101
1942	89,780	98,609	8,829
1943	91,099	96,500	5,401
1944 (revised estimate)	161,051	167,667	6,616

"which, totalled, amount to a gross deficit of some £49,700 or £7,100 per annum up to the end of this year. However, as I have told you at each Budget Session I am very hopeful of at least adjusting the deficit by financial arrangements. And I should like to remind you that in the 1942 November Session I said "One may assume that at least a further two years, that is to say until December 31st, 1945, will elapse before a return to peace conditions can reasonably be expected, and averaging our expenditure at £25,000 a year we shall have faced a total war expenditure of some £150,000 to £160,000".

"You will no doubt wonder how the revised revenue and expenditure for 1944 have soared to such heights. The former received quite unexpected sums through the Post Office and from the insurance of the Town Hall. These receipts were counterbalanced by corresponding expenditure in investments which were £45,000 placed in a Revenue Suspense Investment Account and £18,000 in a Town Hall Fire Account. There may be adjustments to be made with the Imperial Authorities of which I have today no knowledge. But on the presumption that the whole of that money is ours the deficit of £49,000 mentioned above will have changed into a profit of approximately £13,000. One must bear in mind however that the Town Hall and its various offices have got to be replaced as soon as possible. If these have to be paid out of General Revenue, a deficit is certain; but we quite fairly can ask for assistance in this matter.

"The estimated Revenue for 1944 was £70,943 and deducting the £45,000 and £19,630 (actual Insurance receipts) mentioned by me just now is expected to amount to £96,808. The excess is due almost entirely to the unprecedented sale of stamps and unexpected customs dues.

"During this year, after the adjustments for investments have been made, there is an over-expenditure on the estimates of some £14,000. This amount is explained by £2,000 over-expenditure in the Post Office which by way of return netted £66,500 - a good investment; it also includes the purchase, totalling approximately £9,000 of certain stores which unexpectedly became available and were bought on the advice of London. The shortage of material in the years immediately following the war will undoubtedly prove the wisdom of this deal; and of course the stores are today an asset probably in excess of the cost. War Expenditure during 1944 has included bills from 1943 for equipment both for the Defence Force and the Air Raids Precautions".

"Such is the foundation on which to base the Estimates for the coming year. Taking Revenue first, I anticipate receipts to total £76,692 which is more by £6,000 than the anticipated 1944 return. The £6,000 is in the Post Office figures, all others remaining, save for a few small alterations, as they were for last year.

"Expenditure for which I am asking your approval amounts to £97,572. This is £6,623 more than last year due chiefly to Educational, Medical, improvements to the Hospital and a new service - Meteorological. With these I shall deal as they appear in their order in my survey of the various departments.

"I. PENSIONS. There is no need for comment but I should like to draw your attention to Appendix IV which shows the gradual working of the Provident Fund as it is reflected in the cost of pensions. One can indeed say that apart from small contributions to officers seconded from the Unified Services the annual requirements will be stabilized in and around the present figure.

"II. THE GOVERNOR & III. COLONIAL SECRETARY require, I think, no comment nor for that matter IV. TREASURY & CUSTOMS. I should very much like to take the opportunity to draw your attention to the work done in the Treasury by the senior officers who have done remarkably well without the guidance of substantive heads, in which good work they have been assisted loyally and ably by their juniors. It may be invidious on my part to have named this department, for my remarks apply to all; but I mention this one in particular because of the fact of its most essential importance and the uniqueness of having carried on for more than a year without a head.

"V. AUDIT & VI. POST OFFICE remain more or less the same as for last year whilst an increase of £300 in the ELECTRICAL & TELEGRAPHS to be found in item 5 is an anticipated greater cost of fuel oil.

"HARBOUR, LEGAL AFFAIRS & POLICE & PRISONS are in accord with the expenditure for previous years. I think you will note that the office of Tugmaster and Government Pilot is abolished. This probably will be only a temporary measure. At present there is no licenced pilot in the Colony so that actually one cannot under the Ordinance be appointed. If a licence or licenses are granted the question of remuneration will be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the law after reference to the Secretary of State.

"The contract with Mr. B. A. Cathie, as Legal Adviser, ended a short while ago and I have asked for no substitute. As you know this officer came here especially to revise the laws of the country. To a very large extent he did so, but a number of important amendments and details had been referred, and until these were answered progress was not practicable. The main part of the work is done - but it will require further editing after the replies to our questions have been received. There will arise the question of the cost of printing and publishing, which will amount to no small figure. There is bound to be considerable delay before we see the fruits of Mr. Cathie's work, which cannot possibly be visible so long as the war lasts and with the rush of post war arrears of publishing the new volume will probably not make its appearance for some considerable time.

"Under head XI. MEDICAL there is an increase of £850 over the approved estimate for 1944 which, under Personal Emoluments, includes the Medical Officer at Darwin. You will find in the footnotes a further explanation of this but I should like to draw attention to items 14 and 15, Medical Treatment Overseas and Transport of Medical Cases. The former represents the cost of a scheme under which serious tubercular and other cases not susceptible to treatment here are sent to Montevideo. This is a temporary measure pending the provision of adequate facilities in the Colony for which from time to time funds have been provided but which the war has inevitably delayed. The provision of £150 for the transport of medical cases must be regarded as a token figure as it is the present intention of Government to pay in future the transport costs of sick people and expectant mothers from the farms as from the 1st of January next. The service will be given to all persons in the Camp regardless of whether the farms in question are contributors under the medical scheme or not. It will, of course, be understood that Government will meet the cost of passages only on the issue of a medical certificate by a Government Medical Officer, or in cases where this is not practicable, on the advice of the Senior Medical Officer. The scheme is, of course, experimental and may, if abused, have to be abandoned. I hope you will regard this as a big step forward but I must strike a note of caution because at the present moment we are more or less without the necessary shipping facilities.

"I do not wish to anticipate the method by which in future years sufficient revenue can be collected but there is no doubt that in the future there must be an increase in the cost to Government of Medical Services. Private practice is unlikely to be set up and with the modern tendency to make preventive measures the dominant feature in matters of health it is obvious that Government will in the future have to meet high costs. No one will cavil at this, nor will there be any criticism of expenditure under Head XII. EDUCATION provided the latter shows results.

"I am asking you for an increase of over £2,000 under Education, £1,300 of which is for personal emoluments. There has been very great difficulty in obtaining medical and educational officers. We managed, as you know, to get a doctor and we hope to replace our present two Assistant Mistresses during 1945. If we succeed in doing this, there will be an overlap which accounts for the £1,000 instead of £700 which might have been expected. Similarly we hope to get a relief master to help us out while the Superintendent and his Assistants are on leave.

"Provision is made for the new Supervisor of Camp Education, the extra travelling teachers who have recently been engaged and the new teacher for broadcasting. It is hoped that these several appointments will make an advance in Camp education. The educational broadcasts are, of course, only experimental. First reports indicate that listeners throughout the islands are giving the scheme that support which is essential for its ultimate success, but that considerable improvement is still necessary on the technical side. So far as Government is concerned endeavours will be made to improve the transmission. Whether, however, a larger supply of receiving sets and parts for sale in the Colony can be arranged at present is very doubtful. Meanwhile the experiment is providing very useful information and a good many children are being helped. I think you will agree that it is well worth going on with. At the same time, I think you will agree that the subsidizing of teachers at San Carlos and Teal Inlet may prove of great value and form a base upon which to plan in the future.

"The increase under Other Charges for Education is just over £900 and can be accounted for chiefly by the extra cost of materials and the two extra scholarships. The first two scholars will have completed the term of the scholarship in 1945.

"I think members will be interested to have some figures of the apparent result of doubling the rate of boarding grants for children from the Camp. Last year you voted £400 and the following table shows the number of children who have taken advantage of the scheme during the last five years :-

1940	23
1941	26
1942	Evacuated.
1943	11 (shortage of accommodation)
1944	32

"but these figures are not of much value as the comparison is for only one year of the scheme.

"Under head XIV. NATURALIST there is a reduction of £242 which you voted last year for "a fishery experiment. This has been discontinued because it was proving uneconomic with the limited facilities available in wartime. It may, however, be possible to revive the experiment on a different basis if financial assistance can be obtained.

"I am asking for a further vote of £100 for trout ova. It has been proved beyond doubt that Brook Trout can live here. Brown Trout are inclined to be cannibals and are therefore not desirable immigrants, while Rainbow Trout have twice been killed en masse in flood waters, the actual cause of death not being known. The 1945 introduction will be of Brook Trout only and is to be earmarked for distribution outside the Stanley area. The present Brook Trout are already sizeable but not sufficiently numerous as yet to allow of their being fished.

"Head XVI. AGRICULTURE. During the past few months this Department has again been the subject of a certain amount of criticism, particularly from the farmers. I have never understood this. As I pointed out last year, the necessity for an Agricultural Department is obvious: the question as to whether so small a Colony can afford the upkeep of such a Department is quite another matter. At present we certainly can and shall be able to do so for some years to come but an Agricultural Department is not one of stagnation. It is one of progress, not only of local but of international value and therefore normally will tend to cost more and more for experiments and research. It is to be regarded as one of the great State Departments such as Medical and Educational intended for the immediate benefit and general future welfare of society. You have heard only the other day that His Majesty made the following statement in his speech to Parliament :-

"There will also be presented to you legislation making provision for assistance towards the development of the Colonial Empire both by prolonging the period covered by the Colonies Development and Welfare Act, 1940, and by substantially increasing the provision of funds authorised to be made under that Act".

"This indicates a road along which we might proceed in the future. I do not wish to continue to parry criticism that has never been fully formulated. The amount asked for next year is £9,003 which is a gross figure. The nett estimated expenditure on agriculture is actually only £5,029.

"I should like to call attention to a new item which is temporarily under this Head of Expenditure. The item is £50 for a young Junior Meteorological Observer. He is included under Agriculture because until recently Meteorology had its principal work linked with Agriculture. Today it has become a science which is indispensable to flying. The Falkland Islands will, of course, have its own inter-insular air service and that, apart from any international requirements, alone makes the maintenance of a Meteorological Station or Stations inevitable. I think it only right that we should provide an opportunity for young Falkland Islanders to enter more or less as Apprentices into what will probably become a great international service. For the moment such a service has not been defined but there is no doubt that there must be either an international or Imperial one. The Falkland Islands are of extreme value and at the present moment the observations made here are considered to be of the utmost importance in South Africa as well as in South America. You will find included under Public Works Extraordinary the sum of £600 for the erection of a small Meteorological Station, that is, the building. I am in communication with the Admiralty on this subject, in which I am personally very much interested. I should greatly like to see a Falkland Islands international Meteorological Station manned exclusively by Falkland Islanders. Weather is the general topic of our conversation. No one can deny that we are weather-minded and I should like to take this opportunity of thanking publicly the following voluntary observers, who, as part of their contribution to the war effort, have undertaken this responsible work :- Mr. A. G. Barton, Mr. J. Peck-Betts, Mr. W. B. Myles, Mrs. E. S. Smith, the late Mrs. G. M. Goddard, Mrs. B. Elliot, Mr. K. V. Lellman, Mrs. J. Hansen, Mr. & Mrs. J. Ferguson and Mr. W. J. Lewis.

"Head XVII. MISCELLANEOUS shows an increase of approximately £3,000 of which half is a token provision for investment in a Suspense Account of monies received from the sale of Dependencies Stamps and the other half is the anticipated increase in passages. You will observe, too, that there is an item of £230 classified as Town Hall Fire. This represents chiefly the cost of the replacement of safes and other equipment.

"Heads XVIII. & XIX. PUBLIC WORKS do not call for any comment.

"Head XX. PUBLIC WORKS EXTRAORDINARY. I am asking for £3,000, £1,250 of which is for a new dental block and maids quarters at the hospital. The present maids' quarters are in a sorry condition, which should be remedied at once. This entails the re-arrangement of the dentistry. Provision is also made for the reconditioning and extension of the jetty at Fox Bay. It is proposed to undertake this necessary work in conjunction with Messrs. Packe Brothers.

"Head XXI. As Members are aware, it is impossible to estimate the requirements for 1945 and the amount for which I am asking covers a very rough guess.

"Of the Bills which are laid before you five are Bills of Consolidation and require no explanation. They are already the law. You might, therefore, perhaps think it unnecessary to worry but, as an example, take the Control and Licensing of Dogs Bill. Five former Ordinances are repealed and consolidated. The same number are repealed under the Consolidated Dangerous Drugs Bill. I am presenting an enabling Bill to control fishing in anticipation of the possibility of these waters being used under the post-war world food production scheme. There is also a law to control the importation of plants which has long been required and at the request of the farmers there is an amendment of the Livestock Ordinance. There is also a modernization of the Cinematograph Exhibitions Control and three formal Bills, one of which concerns the revision of the Laws, the second amends the Probate Law and the third is the supplementary Appropriation Ordinance, 1943.

"That, Gentlemen, is the business before us. May God bless our deliberations".

Report on Education in the Colony for the year 1943.

PART I.

Preface.

1. The population of the Falkland Islands is all-British and numbers about 2,500, and educational provision is correspondingly limited. About half the people live in the one town of Stanley, the rest being scattered either in small settlements or isolated shepherds' houses over an area about the size of Yorkshire. The whole country outside Stanley is called the "Camp". Education in Stanley is compulsory between the ages of five and fourteen, but this cannot be enforced in the "Camp".

2. The Educational facilities fall into three groups :

- (a) Schools in Stanley.
- (b) Schools at Darwin and North Arm controlled by the Falkland Islands Company.
- (c) Tuition by itinerant teachers in the "Camp".

Stanley.

3. A Government School is maintained from Public Funds. The curriculum and time table are much the same as in an English primary school, and in addition there is a full time Continuation Class which provides a two-year course of further education. A scheme of boarding allowances, to assist "Camp" parents to send their children to Stanley for schooling, has been in operation for many years. Until the evacuation of the Stanley children in 1942 there was also a Convent School, taught by Roman Catholic Sisters; but this school was closed during the evacuation, and has not yet been re-opened.

Darwin and North Arm.

4. The Falkland Islands Company maintains a school at each of these two settlements for the children of its employees. They are not assisted or inspected by the Government.

The "Camp".

5. The Government provides a number of itinerant teachers on the East and West Falklands. These teachers travel from house to house, mainly on horseback but in some cases by boat; they usually stay a fortnight at each house. The houses are often isolated, and the teacher usually has to travel for several hours before reaching the next place where there are children to be taught. Each teacher has a "beat" which he covers as a rule about four times a year. At the conclusion of his stay at each place, he sends a report to Stanley, giving a detailed account of work done, a list of books or material wanted, and so on. The Superintendent of Education makes tours of inspection during the school summer holidays, normally visiting every child under tuition once every two years.

6. The Falkland Islands Company also maintains three itinerant teachers for work on its extensive farms on the East Falkland; as with the Company's schools at Darwin and North Arm, their work is not subject to Government inspection.

PART II.

Administration and Staffing.

7. The authorised establishment of the Education Department for 1943 was as follows :

Superintendent of Education & Headmaster, Govt. School	}	Holders of University Degrees or Board of Education Teachers' Certificates.
Assistant Master
Assistant Mistress
Infant Mistress
Second Assistant Master	}	Uncertificated with experience in United Kingdom.
Five Assistant Teachers		Locally Trained.
One Temporary Teacher
One Travelling Teacher		Certificated by Board of Education.
Four Travelling Teachers		Locally Trained.
One Clerk.

8. At the beginning of the year, owing to the resignation of one of the travelling teachers in December 1942, one of the five travelling teachers' posts mentioned in paragraph 7 was vacant. It was not possible to find a suitable man either locally or in the United Kingdom to fill this post; so although the Travelling Teachers had hitherto always been men, it was eventually decided to appoint, as an experiment, two young women to divide this teachers' beat between them. Further reference to these appointments is made in paragraphs 20 and 21.

9. In August the Superintendent of Education and Headmaster of the Government School, Mr. T. D. Evans, went to England on leave, his duties being carried out during his absence by Mr. H. L. Baker, the Senior Assistant Master.

10. The staffing of the Government School was adequate until towards the end of the year, by which time the number of children in the Infants' Department had increased so much that it was putting a severe strain on the three teachers employed there. Education in the "Camp" was still handicapped throughout the year by the difficulty of obtaining sufficient suitable teachers, and by the consequent size of their beats.

Finance.

12. The expenditure under Head XII Education of the annual estimates of expenditure was £3997 : 16 : 5 as compared with £3266 : 3 : 9 in 1942. The revenue collected in 1943 amounted to £203 : 11 : 5 as against £22 : 9 : 10 in 1942. Details of expenditure and revenue in 1943 are as follows :

EXPENDITURE	£	s.	d.	REVENUE	£	s.	d.
1. Personal Emoluments	3215	12	5	1. School Fees	173	10	11

Government School.

13. In an attempt to make up for some of the schooling lost during the unsettled evacuation year, the school hours were increased from four and a half to five hours per day, and the school year was planned to start a month earlier than usual, on January 4th, and to continue until Thursday December 23rd, with only two short holidays, each of a week's duration, during that time. The early start was however offset to some extent by an unexpected break during the winter, when an epidemic of influenza in the town first caused a large number of absences from school, and finally necessitated the complete closure of the school for a fortnight.

14. Some difficulty was experienced over accommodation during the year. For the first month part of the school was still occupied by military forces, and the Continuation Class met in the Public Library, as at the end of 1942. The Infants' Department remained throughout the year in the Gymnasium of St. Mary's School, which had been fitted up for this purpose at the end of 1942; but with a large number of new entrants during the year, even this additional accommodation became overcrowded by the end of the year.

15. The curriculum of the school was in most points similar to that followed in previous years. Some of the work (especially the art and craft work) was hampered by war-time difficulties in obtaining materials. The cookery classes for senior girls had to be abandoned completely, as the domestic science centre had been taken over by the naval authorities. Less sports were played than in most years, because exceptionally heavy demands on the town's playing fields caused them to become unfit for use earlier in the winter than is usual. Physical training in the Stanley Gymnasium was also curtailed to some extent, as the use of the building for other purposes rendered it frequently unsuitable for the children's exercises. As far as possible, these difficulties over sports and physical training were overcome by the use of the school playground; but as the playground is of concrete, and is separated from the street by only a low paling fence, some of its limitations are obvious. A new course in Nature Study was begun throughout the school, the course including both a general study of natural science and a more detailed study of the Falkland Islands flora and fauna. The senior boys' courses in woodwork and gardening were continued, and in addition classes in agricultural science were organised for the same boys, the lessons being conducted by officers of the Agricultural Department.

16. All pupils were medically and dentally examined during the year. The small number who required further medical attention visited the hospital in their leisure hours, but arrangements were made for the larger number who needed dental treatment to go to the dental clinic during school hours.

17. The annual open day and exhibition of work was held in December and as usual attracted a considerable number of parents and friends of the children. Particular interest was shown in the large display of excellent needlework done by the girls; some pencil and pastel drawings and models of war-ships made by the senior boys also received high praise.

18. At the prize-giving ceremony at the end of the year His Excellency the Governor presented the prizes and addressed the gathering on the educational policy of the Colony. The display usually given by the children at the ceremony was cancelled this year, as it was felt that the lengthy preparations needed for a display which became each year more elaborate interfered too much with the work being done in the school in view of the leeway which still had to be made up after the evacuation.

19. An Old Pupils' Association was formed during the year. Membership is open not only to ex-pupils of the Government School but also to those who have been educated in the "Camp" by the Government Travelling Teachers. By its provision of a varied programme of social and cultural activities, including talks, cinema shows, dances and whist drives, the Association has made a valuable contribution to the life of the town.

The "Camp"

20. During 1943 two travelling teachers were employed on the East Falkland, teaching between them 33 children in 11 different places. On the West Falkland the replacement of one male teacher by two young women raised the number of teachers employed there to four; these four teachers had under their tuition a total of 51 children in 20 different places.

21. The experiment of appointing two young women as teachers in the place of one man proved highly successful. In the first place, doubling the number of teachers on that beat meant that the teachers' visits to each house were more frequent, and the children's education naturally benefited; in the second place, while the women maintained as good discipline as the men with the older children, they were in most respects more suitable as teachers for the younger children; and in the third place, women "fit in" better in many ways in the houses where they stay. The success of the experiment in this case does not however mean that women would necessarily be preferable to men as travelling teachers in all cases, as conditions vary greatly in different parts of the "Camp".

22. In addition to being taught by the Travelling Teachers during their periodical visits, the children living in San Carlos settlement and at a shepherd's house nearby were taught very capably for two hours a day throughout the year by Mrs. V. Bonner, wife of the manager of San Carlos Station. The Government paid a subsidy in respect of this work.

23. As in previous years, the short time at the teachers' disposal during their stay at each house obliged them to concentrate most of their attention on arithmetic and the various branches of English, but a little work in history, geography and drawing was done by some children. The "Camp" library continued in circulation; the use made of it by the different children varied considerably, but some children gained a great deal of benefit from it.

24. The boarding allowances granted by the Government for "Camp" children coming in to school in Stanley remained at the same rate as in previous years; in 1943, however, only eleven children, or less than half the number for 1941, took advantage of the grants. This low figure is probably to be attributed mainly to the break caused by the evacuation in 1942, and to greatly increased difficulties in finding homes for the "Camp" children in Stanley in 1943.

25. The Superintendent of Education planned his annual tour in the "Camp" for the early part of the year, but pressure of other work prevented him from carrying it out.

26. Further details of education in the "Camp" together with recommendations for improving it, can be found in the Educational Survey of the Colony submitted by the Superintendent of Education in 1943.

Government Scholarships to Montevideo.

27. Details of the Government's scheme for granting scholarships to enable Falkland Islands children to go to the British School in Montevideo can be found in the Report on Education in the Colony for 1942.

28. The first two pupils to be granted scholarships, both girls, proceeded to Montevideo in March.

29. The two girls settled down in their new surroundings remarkably quickly. They made a good impression in the school by their ability in their school work and by their general conduct. Besides making good progress in their school work during the year, they also found time out of school hours to take part in a variety of activities, such as the Girl Guides, which contributed to a noticeable broadening of their outlook and increase in their self-confidence.

30. The two girls were very well looked after in every way while they were in Montevideo, and a great deal of the credit for the success of the scheme is due to the staff of the British School and of the girls' boarding-house, who took a keen personal interest in the girls' welfare and who spared no pains to make their stay in Montevideo both profitable and enjoyable.

31. In November an examination was held in English, Mathematics, and General Intelligence for all candidates for the two scholarships for 1944. After considering the results of this examination, and the school record, general ability and character of the candidates, the Scholarship Selection Committee awarded one scholarship to a girl and one to a boy.

Evening Classes.

32. The presence in Stanley of comparatively large contingents of armed forces from overseas made possible the organisation of winter evening classes on a scale previously unknown in the Colony.

33. The classes, organised by the Army Education Officer and the Superintendent of Education jointly, were open to civilians and members of armed forces alike. Some of the classes were held in the Government School, others in Army huts. No fees were charged for any of the classes.

34. The subjects studied included English Literature, History, Modern Languages, Mathematics, and scientific and commercial subjects; languages and commercial subjects were the most popular.

35. Out of a total of about two hundred enrolments for the various classes several dozen were from civilians. Not all the students who enrolled for classes attended them, however, and there was a marked tendency in most classes for the number of students to diminish for some time, until a certain level was reached at which attendances remained more or less steady.

36. The classes, intended only for the winter and early spring, stopped when the summer came.

Apology.

37. An apology is offered for the late presentation of this report; mail delays made it impossible to complete certain of the tables until towards the end of the year.

H. L. BAKER,

Superintendent of Education.

No. 19. M.P. 114/44. 30th May, 1945.

The following notice issued by the Ministry of War transport in the United Kingdom is published for general information :—

"Shipping companies both here and overseas are receiving many applications for the reservation of passages on ocean liners. In order to remove any misconception which might arise from the registration by the Shipping Companies of these applications, the Ministry of War Transport wishes to emphasise that until some considerable time after the war with Japan, the present severe shortage of passenger accommodation, except for high priority passengers, is likely to continue on all ocean routes. This shortage is caused by the heavy demands on shipping for the conveyance of troops and others directly connected with the war effort. All ships with passenger accommodation will remain under the control of the governments concerned in accordance with the Agreement (Agreement on Principles having reference to the continuance of co-ordinated control of Merchant Shipping, issued as a White Paper on 26th September, 1944) recently reached between the main maritime Allies in London, and it will be necessary to continue for some time the present priority arrangements for ocean travel."

No. 32. M.P. 35/45. 28th August, 1945.

His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information, of the following telegrams exchanged on the occasion of Victory over Japan.

*From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to

"Following is the text of message from His Majesty the King to all His Navies, Armies and Air Forces throughout the Empire, begins :-

"The surrender of Japan has brought to a victorious end a war which has engaged our full fighting strength all over the world. I send my heartfelt congratulations to the men and women of my Navies, Armies and Air Forces throughout the British Commonwealth and Empire.

"Through long years of grim struggle with your enemies in the West and in the East your unflinching resolution and indomitable courage in the face of manifold adversities have earned you the eternal gratitude of your countrymen.

"Many of your comrades have fallen in the fighting. With you I grieve for their loss, for the suffering wounded and for the sorrow of the bereaved. With you I look forward to the homecoming of those who have had to endure captivity.

"By God's mercy, the forces of evil have been overthrown. But many tasks remain to be accomplished if the full blessings of peace are to be restored to a suffering world.

"It is the duty of each one of us to ensure that your comrades have not died in vain and that your own hard won achievements are not lost to the causes of freedom, in which you undertook them. On behalf of all my people I thank you. God Bless you all."

GEORGE R. I. Ends.

"Final victory over forces of aggression has been achieved. It is a source of great pride to me that one of my first tasks in office should be to send you such a message. It is little more than 3 months since Colonel Stanley sent to all Colonial territories a message telling them of the surrender of Germany. We all knew then that the capitulation of Japan was only a matter of time and that the tribulation of those territories which had been over run or ravaged by a barbarous aggressor were drawing to an end, but little did any of us think the end was so near. Let us thank God in all humility that the task has been so quickly completed; that this horrible slaughter and destruction are now ended and that the efforts of mankind can once more be devoted to the happiness of mankind. To all of you I send congratulations on the occasion of victory and warmest thanks of His Majesty's Government and of the people of Great Britain for the loyal and generous part that all the varied communities of the British Colonial Empire have played in achieving it. Your contribution has been a noble and valuable one, and has shown itself in material and varied forms: in service in the armed forces and Merchant Navy and in the Civil Defence; in helping to produce vital materials of war; in maintenance of essential services in your own land; in gifts and loans of money you have made for furtherance of the war; and in voluntary welfare work and hospitality for His Majesty's forces. The Chief of Staffs of the three fighting services have asked me specially to associate them with this message of thanks."

"Let us hope, pray and work together to build from desolation of war a new and prosperous era of peace and goodwill among nations."

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 15th August, 1945.

"I should be grateful if you would submit to His Majesty on my behalf and that of all those of his subjects in the Falkland Islands and their Dependencies our humble duty and an expression of our pride in and deep thanksgiving for the glorious and final victory which God has given to his arms."

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor, 22nd August, 1945.

"I have laid your telegram before the King who desires me to convey to you and his subjects in the Falkland Islands and Dependencies an expression of his sincere appreciation of the message of loyalty on the occasion of the capitulation of Japan."

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 15th August, 1945.

"I should be grateful if you would convey to the Prime Minister on behalf of this Colony and of those now serving their country in the Antarctic our heartfelt congratulations on the glorious and final victory which under God's guidance has been given to the United Nations and our gratitude for the magnificent leadership given to the whole Empire throughout the war by His Majesty's Government."

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor, 23rd August, 1945.

"The message contained in your telegram on the occasion of the capitulation of Japan has been delivered to the Prime Minister who has asked me to convey to you and all concerned an expression of his thanks for the message."

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 15th August, 1945.

"On this glorious occasion I send you on behalf of all the Colonists of the Falkland Islands and those who are wintering in the Antarctic our most cordial greetings. This has been a day of great joy here, of pride in the achievements of the Colonial Empire, and of humble gratitude to God."

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor, 21st August, 1945.

"I very much appreciate your good wishes on the capitulation of Japan which I heartily reciprocate."

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to His Excellency the Governor, 16th August, 1945.

"Grateful if, as soon as possible, you will pass following message to all ranks of armed forces of Falkland Islands, begins:—

"The capitulation of Japan has a significance which goes far beyond the defeat of our far Eastern enemy. After 6 years of conflict in which forces drawn from all parts of the British Commonwealth and Empire have been engaged, victorious peace has now crowned our exertions."

"To those serving in the armed forces of the Falkland Islands I send this message of admiration and gratitude for their contribution to the common victory."

"Although peace has now come, to ensure its maintenance there are important tasks ahead. I am confident that in execution of those tasks, discipline and sense of duty and high purpose shown in this war will once again be made manifest and that under God's providence those who have served in the armed forces will play their part in building a better world."

From His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, 22nd August, 1945.

"The Falkland Islands Defence Force gratefully appreciate the kindly view which you have taken of the comparatively small services they have been able to render towards the final victory."

From His Excellency the Governor to the Naval Officer-in-Charge, Falkland Islands, 15th August, 1945.

"I should be grateful if you would convey to the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic, on my behalf and that of all the people in the Colony and its Dependencies, our expression of our deep gratitude for the magnificent part played by the Royal Navy in this great and final victory. We in these remote Islands are particularly conscious of what we owe to the Navy and especially to the Officers and Men of the South Atlantic Division. For nearly six long years you have protected us, maintained our food supplies and kept us in communication with the world. This is a service we shall not forget and a debt which we can never repay."

"Would you please also convey the sense of this message to the Officers and Men under your command and wish them from me a speedy return to their homes and families."

From the Naval Officer-in-Charge, Falkland Islands, to His Excellency the Governor, 17th August, 1945.

"I had great pleasure in communicating your kind message of appreciation not only to the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic, but also to the Officers and Men under my command. I have received a reply to your message from the Commander-in-Chief which I am attaching."

"During the past six years when so great a burden has been borne by the naval and mercantile services, it has been a great help to realize that we have been supported in our vital task by the prayers and help of our kinsmen ashore and that those of us who have been exiled from our friends and families at home have received such kindness and hospitality wherever the lot of war may have cast us."

From the Commander-in-Chief, South Atlantic, to His Excellency the Governor, 17th August, 1945.

"We thank you most sincerely for your kind message. The vital importance of the distant outpost of our Empire in your Islands is ever in our minds and we are deeply appreciative of your steadfastness and help in the long struggle from which, by God's Grace, we have emerged victorious."

Report on Education in the Colony for the year 1944.

PART I.

Preface.

1. The population of the Falkland Islands is almost entirely British. It totals only about 2,400, and educational provision is correspondingly limited. About half the people live in the one town of Stanley, the rest being scattered either in small settlements or isolated shepherds' houses over an area about the size of Yorkshire. The whole country outside Stanley is called the "Camp". Education in Stanley is compulsory between the ages of five and fourteen, but this cannot be enforced in the "Camp".

2. The Educational facilities fall into three groups :

- (a) Schools in Stanley.
- (c) Tuition by itinerant teachers in the rest of the Camp.

Stanley.

3. A Government School is maintained from Public Funds. The curriculum and time-table are much the same as in an English primary school, and in addition there is a full-time Continuation Class which provides a two-year course of further education beyond Standard 6. A scheme of boarding allowances, to assist Camp parents to send their children to Stanley for schooling, has been in operation for many years. Until the evacuation of the Stanley children in 1942 there was also a Convent School, taught by Roman Catholic Sisters; but this school was closed during the evacuation, and has not yet been re-opened.

Settlement Schools.

4. There are not many settlements with enough children to justify the establishment of schools there. At San Carlos and Teal Inlet, however, small schools are now conducted by part-time teachers; the Government assists these schools financially, and supervises the work done in them. The Falkland Islands Company also maintains two part-time schools, one at Darwin and the other at North Arm, for the children of its employees; these schools are not assisted or inspected by the Government.

Tuition in the rest of the Camp.

5. The Government provides a number of itinerant teachers on the East and West Falklands. These teachers travel from house to house, mainly on horseback but sometimes by boat, and teach the children in their homes; they usually stay a fortnight or a month at each house. The houses are often isolated, and the teacher usually has to travel for several hours before reaching the next place where there are children to be taught. Each teacher has a "beat" which he covers as a rule about four times a year. At the conclusion of his stay at each place, he sends in a report (formerly to the Superintendent of Education in Stanley, now to the Supervisor of Camp Education), giving a detailed account of work done, progress made by the children, and so on. It has been customary for the Superintendent of Education to make tours of inspection during the school summer holidays, normally visiting every child under tuition once every two years.

6. The Falkland Islands Company also maintains a few travelling teachers (varying from two to four during 1944) for work on its extensive farms on the East Falkland; as with the Company's schools at Darwin and North Arm, the work of these teachers is not subject to Government inspection, nor is any financial assistance given by the Government.

7. Two important developments in the Government's system of Camp education were made during 1944. One was the appointment of a full-time Supervisor of Camp Education, who travels round the Camp, supervising and organising the educational work done there; he does not visit the parts of the Camp where the educational facilities are provided by the Falkland Islands Company. The second development, of an experimental nature, was the institution of daily educational broadcasts to the children in the Camp. Further details of these two developments will be found in paragraphs 35 and 36 of this report.

PART II.

Administration and Staffing.

8. The authorised establishment of the Education Department at the beginning of 1944 was as follows :

Superintendent of Education & Headmaster, Govt. School	}	Holders of University Degrees or Board of Education Teachers' Certificates.
Assistant Master
Two Assistant Mistresses (one for infants, one for seniors).
Second Assistant Master	}	Uncertificated with experience in United Kingdom.
Three Assistant Teachers		Locally Trained.
One Temporary Teacher
Two Pupil Teachers.
One Travelling Teacher		Certificated by Board of Education.
Five Travelling Teachers		Locally Trained.
One Clerk.
One School Caretaker.

9. A good many changes in staff occurred during the year. The first loss came in February, when the Superintendent of Education, Mr. T. D. Evans, was transferred to another Colony; his place was taken by Mr. H. L. Baker, Assistant Master in the Government School.

10. The post of Assistant Master was now vacant. In view of the difficulty of obtaining male teachers from the United Kingdom, an attempt was made to fill the post locally; two successive temporary appointments were however not entirely successful, and at the end of the year the adequate filling of the post still remained one of the major difficulties of the school.

11. Early in the year it was decided not to appoint just yet the two pupil teachers provided for in the Estimates. Instead, another temporary teacher was appointed to assist in the Infants' Department, where an unusually large influx of new entrants during 1943 had made the task of the three teachers already there very difficult.

12. In August the Second Assistant Master, Mr. D. J. Draycott, completed very satisfactorily his three-year term in the Government school, and was appointed to the newly-created post of Supervisor of Camp Education. His place in the school was taken by Mr. F. T. Lellman, a locally-trained man with nine years' experience as a Travelling Teacher.

13. At the end of the year, the two Assistant Mistresses, Miss P. F. Ryder and Miss H. Brown, also completed three-year terms of valuable service in the Colony, and returned to the United Kingdom.

14. During the year, one of the male Travelling Teachers was granted leave of absence to serve in the Royal Navy for the duration of the war, while two others, Mr. R. Rice and Mr. F. T. Lellman, who wished for a more settled life than that of the Travelling Teacher, were transferred to other work in the Education Department. Mr. Lellman's appointment to the post of Second Assistant Master in the Government School has already been mentioned in paragraph 12. Mr. R. Rice, the only certificated Travelling Teacher, had originally been engaged in the United Kingdom as a Travelling Teacher, for three years, but had served for four; after a period of work in the Government School, he was put in charge of the educational broadcasts to the Camp begun in the latter part of the year. This loss of three Travelling Teachers from the Camp was balanced by the appointment, in the course of the year, of three new ones (one man and two women); and in addition a teacher-storekeeper was engaged for Teal Inlet Settlement by the manager of the station, with the help of a Government subsidy (see paragraph 32).

15. Apart from the difficulty over an Assistant Master, the staffing of the Government School for the year was adequate. The staff dealing particularly with Camp education was considerably improved during the year by the additional appointments made (a Supervisor of Camp Education, a teacher for educational broadcasts, and one extra teacher in the Camp); at the end of the year, however, there still remained room for further improvement (see paragraphs 29 and 30).

Government School.

18. The Government School opened early in February and closed just before Christmas, as usual. The normal week's holiday at the end of June was however increased to a fortnight, on account of work being done in the school in connection with the installation of a new heating system. The week's holiday at the end of September was observed as usual. The extra half-hour added to the daily timetable in 1943 (making the length of the school day five hours in all) was retained as a permanent change designed to help in the gradual raising of the educational standard of the school.

19. As the accommodation available in the Government School itself was barely sufficient for the classes from Standard 1 upwards, the infant classes continued to meet, as in 1943, in buildings formerly used as part of St. Mary's School; one additional room in these buildings was rented in 1944, to provide accommodation for a larger number of children, and to afford more scope for indoor activity.

20. In June a new heating system was installed in the main building of the school to replace the old one, which had been in the school for many years and was no longer efficient. The new system made a marked difference to the warmth and comfort of the classrooms. The hot water water pipes were also made to pass through the cloak-rooms, between the rows of coat-pegs, thus giving better drying facilities than had previously existed. It was not possible to connect the Continuation Class room (in a separate building) with this new heating system, but an improvement was made there too by installing a second slow combustion stove in the room.

21. The curriculum of the school was in most points similar to that followed in previous years. Some of the work was hampered by war-time difficulties in obtaining materials. The course in nature study begun in 1943, and the senior boys' courses in woodwork, gardening and agricultural science were continued during the year, and as usual particular attention was paid to handwork throughout the school. As the domestic science centre was still occupied by naval personnel, it was again not possible to hold the former cookery classes for the senior girls; in the place of these classes, some of the senior girls took lessons in shorthand and typing, while others devoted the extra time to art classes. The physical training work of the school suffered a set-back early in the year, when first of all difficulties over lighting and ventilation in the Public Gymnasium hampered the classes, and then the destruction of the Town Hall by fire, and the consequent use of the Gymnasium for other purposes, made it an unsuitable place for the children's physical training classes; but the situation improved when the Falkland Islands Defence Force came to the rescue, and generously lent its Drill Hall for these classes. With the town's playing fields in better condition this year, out-of-door sports fared better; and besides the regular games in sports periods, a number of games were organised, at the children's request, out of school hours—some between teams from the school, and some against outside teams. Parties at the end of each term were a much-enjoyed feature of the life of the Infants' Department. In connection with their work in civics, the pupils of the Continuation Class had an excellent opportunity of studying at first hand some of the proceedings they had been learning about, when a public enquiry was held into the fire which destroyed the Town Hall; the children took it in turns to attend the sessions of the Court, and to report the proceedings to the rest of the class. A practical task carried out by the children in connection with their work in hygiene was a survey of the distribution of the house-fly in the town. In carrying out its varied curriculum, the school was greatly assisted by a number of helpers from outside the Education Department—officers of several Government Departments, officers and men of the Naval Meteorological Office, and men of the military forces stationed in the Colony; and warm thanks are due to them for their generous assistance.

22. A scheme put forward by the Imperial Institute for correspondence between school-children here and in the United Kingdom (part of a wider Empire Correspondence Scheme) was received enthusiastically by the pupils of the school; altogether 66 children submitted their names as wishing to take part in the scheme.

23. All pupils were medically examined during the year, but it was not practicable this year to carry out a thorough dental examination, as the dentist was kept too busy attending not only to the civilian population but also to the military and naval forces stationed here.

24. In the course of the year the school received three visits from His Excellency the Governor, one on the occasion of the Open Day and Show of Work, another in connection with St. George's Day, and the third on Trafalgar Day. On the two last-mentioned occasions, he addressed the senior pupils, and granted the school a holiday for the rest of the day; he also granted a half-holiday in honour of the liberation of Paris, when the news of this event came through. The keen personal interest taken by His Excellency in the school and all its activities is much appreciated by the children and the staff.

25. The annual Open Day and Show of Work, held in December, again attracted a large number of parents and friends of the children. There was a good display of needlework, wordwork and handwork of various sorts, but it was the excellent work in art (including pencil and Indian ink drawings, pastels, and paintings in water colours and powder colours) that attracted most attention.

26. At the prize-giving ceremony at the end of the year His Excellency the Governor presented the prizes and addressed the large gathering of children and their parents and friends on the educational needs of the Colony.

27. The Old Pupils' Association formed in 1943 continued to thrive; throughout the winter it provided its members with a varied programme of social and cultural activities, including talks, cinema shows, dances and whist drives; many of its meetings were held in the school.

The Camp.

28. In the absence on leave of the Superintendent of Education Mr. H. L. Baker, the Officer in Charge of the Education Department, made a tour of the Camp in the school summer holidays. Thanks to the ready help generously given at every stage by the station managers and the children's parents, it was possible for him, in the short time available, to visit almost all the children being taught by Government Travelling Teachers on both the East and the West Falklands. The general impression gained from the tour was that the parents' interest in their children's education had increased encouragingly in the last few years, but that the existing educational facilities needed a great deal of improvement. To improve Camp education became accordingly one of the chief aims of the Education Department's work for the year.

29. Staffing was seen to be one of the difficulties to be faced. One of the chief disadvantages of the system of travelling teachers here is that if the teacher's beat is large, his visits to each place are infrequent, and the parents often lack either the time or the ability to give the children the help they need with their homework in the long intervals between the teacher's visits; it was therefore the policy of the Education Department during the year to reduce the sizes of the teacher's beats as much as possible.

On the West Falklands, at the beginning of 1944, there were four Travelling Teachers, teaching altogether 49 children in 18 different places; 6 more children, in 4 new places, were to begin school work as soon as a Travelling Teacher could visit them. The teachers' beats were not all equal in size; two were satisfactory, one was already too large, and the fourth threatened to become too large very soon. A slight regrouping of the beats was carried out to reduce the size of the largest one, but the most satisfactory solution of the difficulty appeared to be to appoint two extra teachers and so to reduce the size of the beats to an average of 3 or 4 places each. The attempt to carry out this plan was however only partly successful; besides the teacher who took the place of the one who was granted leave of absence to join the Navy, one extra teacher was engaged, thus allowing one of the two large beats to be split up; but by the end of the year the Department was still unable to find a teacher to split up the other large beat, so that, although in fact various factors had in the meantime reduced the size of the beat, the position there was still not entirely satisfactory.

On the East Falkland, at the beginning of 1944, there were two Travelling Teachers (Mr. Rice and Mr. Lellman), teaching between them 30 children in 10 different places; the children living in San Carlos Settlement and at a shepherd's house nearby were taught not only by the Travelling Teacher, but also for two hours a day, in the teacher's absence, by Mrs. V. Bonner, wife of the manager of San Carlos Station. When Mr. Rice left the Camp, the work on the East Falkland was carried on by Mr. Lellman and Mrs. Bonner until a new teacher was appointed (the number of places to be visited by the Travelling Teacher having in the meantime been reduced by two). Although it was not possible to replace Mr. Lellman by another Travelling Teacher when he was transferred to the Government School, a resident teacher-storekeeper for Teal Inlet Settlement was engaged shortly afterwards by the manager of the station (see paragraph 32); and as the number of places needing to be visited by the Travelling Teacher had by now shrunk to 5, the number of teachers on the East Falkland could be considered satisfactory.

30. The tour mentioned in paragraph 28 revealed that most of the Travelling Teachers (though not all) were carrying out their duties conscientiously, and were achieving good results. Some, however, were hampered in their work by the fact that their own education had not gone much beyond the stage their more advanced pupils had reached; and some had had little or no training as teachers. Efforts were made during the year to improve this state of affairs. When teachers visited Stanley on local leave during the winter, their leave was extended to allow them to be given help with their private studies and a period of training in the Government School (particularly in infant work). Of the new Travelling Teachers appointed during the year, two had already had experience (and in one case some training) as teachers; the third Travelling Teacher, and the resident teacher engaged for Teal Inlet, were given short courses of training in Stanley before they began their work in the Camp. The training carried out in 1944 represents however only a small beginning of the large task of raising the standard of the Camp teachers.

31. The small part-time school at San Carlos carried on its work in 1944 on the same lines as in the past few years, Mrs. Bonner teaching for two hours a day in the Travelling Teacher's absence, and the station receiving a subsidy in respect of her work. The school meets in her house, in a room that has been specially set aside and fitted up for the purpose. Mrs. Bonner has herself gone to considerable trouble in equipping the room properly, and great credit is due to her for the capable way in which the school is managed. The success of the school is evident from the good progress made by its pupils.

32. The school at Teal Inlet, to which some reference has already been made, is a new development. As there seemed likely to be a fairly large number of children in Teal Inlet Settlement for some time, an arrangement was made with Mr. A. G. Barton, the manager of Teal Inlet Station, for the appointment of a resident teacher-storekeeper there. It was agreed that this teacher-storekeeper should be employed and paid by the station, and that the Government should pay the station a subsidy in respect of his services as a teacher; his teaching hours would be 4½ hours a day for five days a week and 43 weeks a year (that is, nearly the same hours as in the Government School in Stanley), and in educational matters he would act under the guidance and supervision of the appropriate officers of the Education Department. The man appointed to this position was Mr. O. McPhee, a former Government Travelling Teacher; he began his work at Teal Inlet early in October, after a short period of training in Stanley. The school meets in a building that was used as a school many years ago, and was later converted into a small two-roomed cottage; it has now been altered again to make a comfortable schoolroom with a small porch. Outside, Mr. McPhee is making the school attractive with gardens and stone paths. Mr. McPhee is conscientious in his work and popular with the children and parents, and he enters fully into the life of the settlement; altogether he is making a great success of the work at Teal Inlet. From the beginning, Mr. Barton has in many ways given very generous assistance with the scheme.

33. The range of subjects taught in the Camp was considerably broadened during 1944. The Travelling Teachers still give most of their time to arithmetic and the various branches of English, but the increasing frequency of their visits to each place (due to the reduction in size of their beats), and the provision of a better supply of text books, made it possible for them to give more attention to other subjects. History, geography and handwork (including drawing, knitting, weaving, cardboard modelling and toy-making) became general throughout the Camp; most teachers also gave some scripture teaching, and some took work in hygiene and nature study. In cases where the teachers did not feel competent to teach certain subjects, the gaps were often filled in by the educational broadcasts. In the schools at San Carlos and Teal Inlet, the curriculum included most of the work done in an ordinary junior school.

34. Better supplies of text-books, exercise-books and other school materials were sent to the Camp during 1944; shortages of certain articles in Stanley, however, hindered this work to some extent, and the position will not be entirely satisfactory until considerable fresh supplies can be obtained from the United Kingdom – a slow process in war-time, when firms cannot always supply all that is ordered.

35. One of the most important developments in Camp education during the year was the appointment of a full-time Supervisor of Camp Education. Even with the help of the Travelling Teachers' fortnightly reports, and periodical tours made in the Camp, it was not possible for the Superintendent of Education in Stanley to supervise the work in the Camp as effectively as was desirable, or to give promptly all the help the teachers required; and it was felt that a person was needed who could give his undivided attention to this work, and who would spend most of his time actually in the Camp. Accordingly, on the conclusion of his contract as Second Assistant Master in the Government School in Stanley, Mr. D. J. Draycott was appointed as Supervisor of Camp Education. After a short time spent in studying infant work in Stanley, he began his work in the Camp in September. His duties are to travel round the Camp, organising and supervising the teachers' work there and helping them in their difficulties. His appointment is proving of great value in the attempt to improve Camp education.

36. A scheme of educational broadcasts to the Camp was started, as an experiment, in the latter part of 1944. The two chief aims of the scheme were to encourage and help the children with their homework in the intervals between the teachers' visits, and to supplement the teachers' work by talks on a wide range of topics. Information about school broadcasting was sought from New Zealand and the Central Council for School Broadcasting in England. Mr. R. Rice, a Government Travelling Teacher until the beginning of 1944, made a tour of the West Falkland to explain and discuss the scheme with parents, and further publicity was given in the local newspaper and in the weekly news broadcasts to the Camp.

The educational broadcasts began in October, on a frequency of 83 metres. They were given for an hour each afternoon, the hour's work being divided into four short lessons, separated from each other by musical interludes. A quarter of the total time was allotted to reading for infants and juniors, as that was a branch of work in which the children greatly needed help in the teacher's absence; the other work done included mental arithmetic, English, history, geography, nature study and general science, hygiene and scripture; the week ended with "question time," when listeners' questions on any topic were answered. The method of presenting the subject-matter was varied as much as the limited resources of so small a place permitted. The main speaker for the broadcasts was Mr. Rice; but the scripture talks were given by the Reverend W. F. McWhan (the Non-conformist minister in Stanley), and other speakers took part from time to time; the participation of children from the Government School in some of the broadcasts was particularly appreciated. In connection with some of the lessons, exercises to be done by the children as "homework" were set, the work being either corrected by the Travelling Teacher or sent in to Stanley for Mr. Rice to see. Summaries (in some cases full scripts) of the broadcast talks were sent out to all the Camp teachers.

At the end of the year, after three months' trial, it was clear that the scheme was meeting with success: it is true that for various reasons (atmospheric conditions, difficulties of transmission, the number of families with no wireless sets, poor sets, or sets without the necessary 83-metre band, etc.) the number of children who could hear the broadcasts clearly and regularly was less than had been expected – rather less than half the total number of children in the Camp; but the broadcasts were so much appreciated by those who could hear them well (and it was by no means only children that listened and enjoyed them!) that the scheme was decided to be well worth continuing. Plans were accordingly made to carry on with the work in 1945, and to do everything possible to overcome the technical difficulties which were preventing the broadcasts from being heard more widely. The enthusiastic assistance given by the Supervisor of the Electrical and Telegraphs Department in carrying out this scheme is greatly appreciated.

37. At the beginning of 1944 the boarding allowances granted by the Government for Camp children coming in to school in Stanley were raised from £1 to £2 a month. With this additional encouragement, and with the return to more normal conditions in Stanley, the total number of children from the Camp who attended school in Stanley during the year rose to 31; of these 23 attended for periods of more than three months, and 16 for periods of more than six months.

38. To sum up, one may say that the year 1944 was one of marked progress in Camp education, but that further improvement is still needed; efforts to bring about the desired improvement are being continued.

Government Scholarships to Montevideo.

39. In 1944 there were four scholarship pupils from the Falkland Islands at the British School in Montevideo; the two girls who in 1943 were the first holders of the scholarships returned there for their second year, and the girl and the boy who were awarded scholarships at the end of 1943 went there for the first time.

40. The pupils again spent a happy year in Montevideo, being well looked after in every way by the staffs of the British School and of their boarding-house. In their school work all the pupils made good progress; one of the two new scholarship holders (the girl) did particularly well, and won a Form Prize at the end of the year. In sports too the scholarship pupils were well to the fore; two of the girls played hockey in the School First XI, while the boy, besides boxing in the school team, played football on occasions for the School First XI, and won a prize at the School's annual athletic sports contest. The pupils also took part with enthusiasm in various out-of-school activities, such as the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts. The broadening of outlook and increase in self-confidence brought about by these varied activities and by new experiences are not the least valuable of the benefits given to the children by the scholarships.

41. In November an examination was held in English, Mathematics and General Intelligence for all candidates for the two scholarships for 1945. Stanley was the main examination centre, but one candidate sat the examination at Port Howard, on the West Falkland. After considering the results of this examination, and the school record, general ability and character of the candidates, the Scholarship Selection Committee again awarded one scholarship to a girl and one to a boy. Upon the boy's parents declining the scholarship, however, the funds thus made available were used to enable another boy, who had also done very well in the scholarship examination, to go to Montevideo in the place of the original scholarship winner.

42. An anonymous donor has generously offered three prizes (to be known as Falkland Prizes) to be awarded annually in connection with the scholarship examination, to children who are either unsuccessful candidates for the scholarships, or who win scholarships but do not accept the financial assistance offered by them; one at least of these prizes each year is to be given to a child from the Camp. The first award of these Falklands Prizes was made in 1944.

Evening Classes.

43. Evening classes, similar to those held in 1943, were again organised by the Army Education Officer and the Superintendent of Education jointly, for civilians and members of the armed forces alike. Some of the classes were held in the Government School, some at the Army Camp. No fees were charged for any of the classes.

44. As the military garrison, which had provided the chief support for the classes in 1943, was much smaller in 1944, the classes in 1944 were not on as large a scale as in 1943. The subjects studied included Spanish (two classes), Mathematics, Engineering, Shorthand and Art. Attendances at the classes, though naturally smaller than in 1943, were also more regular. The classes, intended only for the winter and early spring, stopped before the beginning of summer.

School Certificate Examination.

45. Arrangements were made for a boy who had been studying here under private tutors to sit the Cambridge School Certificate Examination in Stanley in December 1944; this is the first time the examination has been held in the Colony. News has since been received that the candidate was successful.
